CORRESPONDENCE WITH THE DEPARTMENT

1. Complaints and inquiries.—All complaints in regard to mail should be addressed to the postmaster and, whenever possible, they should be accompanied with the envelope or wrapper of the piece of mail to which the complaint refers. An early report should be made relative to lost or missing mail of any description. The postmaster will forward the complaint to the proper officer of the department. Complaints in general affecting the service should likewise be made to the postmaster, but when that course is manifestly improper under the circumstances, they should be addressed to the department. In replying to an official communication from the department, reference should be made to the initials or numbers indicated on the letter. More than one subject should not be treated in the same letter, and the communication should bear the address of the officer in charge of the bureau to which the business belongs, as follows:
2. The Chief Clerk, Post Office Department.—Relative to the Official Postal Guide and monthly supplements; Postal Laws and Regulations—other than construction, application, and enforcement—Postal Bulletin; special forms; appointments in the Post Office Department; advertising; general information, and miscellaneous correspondence.
3. The Solicitor, Post Office Department.—Relative to claims for credit for stamps, stamp stock, and Government funds lost by fire, burglary, or other unavoidable casualty, or lost in transit, or funds lost by bank failure, and claims for damage to persons or property by or through the operation of the Postal Service; the construction of postal laws and regulations and legal opinions as to their application and enforcement; fraud orders and their proper execution; applications for pardon by postal offenders; legal examination of bonds pledged to secure postal savings deposits; cases involving compromise and remission of fines, penalties, or forfeitures; rulings as to the delivery of mail the ownership of which is in dispute; as to the mailability of firearms; of alleged indecent, obscene, scurrilous, disloyal, and defamatory matter; matter relating to lotteries, endless-chain enterprises, and other schemes; cases arising from the application of the private express statutes; the defense of cases in the Federal courts against the United States arising out of the transportation of the mails; proceedings before the Interstate Commerce Commission for determination of the basis of railroad-mail pay and in other matters of petition by the Postmaster General to the Commission; hearings before the department on orders changing mode of transporting periodical mail matter and review by court of such order.
4. The Chief Inspector.—Relative to loss, rifling, theft, wrong delivery, tampering, and interception of mail, including foreign mail (see p. 113); mailing of intoxicants, poisons, firearms, explosives, etc.; mailing of obscene and scurrilous matter; lotteries and schemes to defraud (see p. 115); violation of the private express statutes; claims for rewards; complaints of the mailing of letters of extortion; and other complaints alleging criminal offenses against the Postal Service. In complaints of tampering, rifling, or wrong delivery of mail, the envelope or wrapper should be furnished if available.

DOMESTIC MAIL MATTER

CLASSIFICATION AND RATES OF POSTAGE

1. Domestic mail matter includes matter deposited in the mails for local delivery, or for transmission from one place to another within the United States, or to or from or between the possessions of the United States. and is divided into four classes:

First, written matter, matter sealed against inspection, postal cards, and private mailing cards.

Second, periodical publications.

Third, merchandise, printed matter, and other mailable matter not in first and second classes, not exceeding 8 ounces in weight.

Fourth (parcel post), merchandise, printed matter, and other mailable matter nct in first and second classes, exceeding 8 ounces in weight.

2. What is included in terms "United States" and "Possessions of United States."—Hawaii and Alaska are included in the term "United States." Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands of the United States, the Philippine Archipelago, Guam, Tutuila and Manua and other islands of the Samoan group east of longitude 171° west of Greenwich, and the Canal Zone are included in the term "Possessions of the United States." The term "Canal Zone" includes all the territory purchased from the Republic of Panama, embracing the "Canal Zone" proper and the islands in the Bay of Panama named Perico, Naos, Culebra, and Flamenco.

NOTE.—The value of the stamps used to pay postage on matter mailed in the Philippine Islands to the United States is expressed in centavos, the value of a stamp of the denomination of 2 centavos being equivalent to 1 cent. The metric system of weights is used in weighing such matter.

3. Domestic rates and conditions apply to mail matter addressed to officers or members of the crews of vessels of war of the United States, United States Naval Station, Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, and to matter sent to places where the United States mail service is in operation.

4. Prepayment of postage on domestic matter at time of mailing, by stamps affixed, is required. By special permission, however, postage may be paid in money on matter of the first, second, third, and fourth classes when mailed in the quantities prescribed by article 68, page 26. Postmasters are not required to affix stamps to mail. When stamps are so affixed to mail that one overlies another, concealing part of its surface, the stamp thus covered is not taken into account in prepayment. (See Art. 120, p. 33.)

Business reply cards and letters in business reply envelopes or under business reply labels may be mailed without prepayment of postage, the regular postage plus an additional charge of 1 cent to be collected on delivery of the cards and envelopes, under the provisions of section 510, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.

5. Letters of soldiers, sailors, and marines may be transmitted in the mails, without prepayment of postage, under the provisions of paragraphs 1 and 2, section 515, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.

6. Two classes of matter in one parcel.—Matter of a higher class inclosed with matter of a lower class subjects the whole to the higher rate. Persons knowingly concealing or inclosing matter of a higher class in that of a lower class, for the purpose of evading payment of the proper postage, are liable to a fine of not more than $100. (Sec. 582, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

FIRST-CLASS MATTER

(See par. 1, p. 34. Government monopoly)

7. Includes written matter, namely: Letters, postal cards, post cards (private mailing cards), business reply cards and letters under cover of business reply envelopes or labels, and all matter wholly or partly in writing, whether sealed or unsealed, except manuscript copy accompanying proof sheets or corrected proof sheets of the same and the writing authorized by law to be placed upon matter of other classes. (Secs. 552, 568, and 574, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.) Matter sealed or otherwise closed against inspection is also of the first class. (Secs. 505 and 581, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

NOTE.—Typewriting and carbon and letterpress copies thereof are the equivalent of handwriting and are classed as such in all cases.

8. List of articles included in first-class matter:

(a) Assessment notices (printed) with amount due written therein.
Albums (autograph) containing written matter.

(b) Bills or statements of account produced by any photographic or mechanical process unless presented in quantities of 20 or more identical copies.

(b) Blank books with written entries; bank checks filled out in writing, either canceled or uncanceled.
Blank forms, filled out in writing.

(c) Cards or letters (printed) bearing a written date, where the date is not the date of the card, but gives information as to when the sender will call, or deliver something otherwise referred to, or is the date when something will occur or is acknowledged to have been received, date of birth, etc

Cards or coupons (printed) which by having a signature attached are converted into personal communications such as receipts, orders for articles furnished by addressee, etc. (This does not apply to Christmas or similar greeting cards.)

Cards (visiting) bearing written name—except single cards inclosed with third or fourth class matter and bearing the name of the sender.

Certificates, checks, receipts, etc., filled out in writing.

Communications entirely in print—with exception of name of sender—sent in identical terms by many persons to the same address.

Copy (manuscript or typewritten) unaccompanied with proof sheets thereof.

(f) Folders made of stiff paper, and those having many folds or pages, the entire inner surface of which can not be examined except at the imminent risk of breaking the seal, are subject to the first-class rate of postage. No assurance of the postmaster at the office of mailing will prevent the collection of the higher rate of postage at the post office of delivery if the entire inner surface can not be easily examined without danger of breaking the seal.

(h) Handwritten or typewritten matter and letter-press or manifold (carbon) copies thereof.

(i) Imitations or reproductions of handwritten or typewritten matter not mailed at the post-office window or other depository designated by the postmaster in a minimum number of twenty identical unsealed copies. (See art. 30, p. 13.)

(l) Letters (irrespective of whether they are old or have previously passed through the mails) sent singly or in bulk, except when mailed under the conditions prescribed in paragraph 2, section 1710, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, or when remailed in bulk unopened to the same addressee, in which case the bulk parcels are mailable at the fourth-class rates of postage.

(p) Price lists (printed) containing written figures changing individual items.

(s) Sealed matter of any class, or matter so wrapped as not to be easily examined, except third or fourth-class matter put up as prescribed in article 57, page 18, and seeds and other articles that may be inclosed in sealed transparent envelopes under paragraph 5, section 581, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.

Stenographic or shorthand notes.

(t) Typewritten matter, original letter-press and manifold copies thereof.

(u) Unsealed written communications.

9. Rates of postage on first-class matter.—(a) On letters and other matter, wholly or partly in writing, except the writing specially authorized to be placed upon matter of other classes, and on matter sealed or otherwise closed against inspection—3 cents an ounce or fraction thereof, when addressed for other than local delivery.

(b) On postal cards—1 cent each, the price for which they are sold. (See arts. 18 to 21, p. 12.)

(c) On private mailing cards (post cards) conforming to the requirements for such cards—1 cent each. (See arts. 12 to 17, pp. 11 and 12.)

(d) On "drop letters" and other first-class matter, 2 cents an ounce or fraction thereof when mailed for local delivery at post offices having city or village letter-carrier service, or at any post office for local delivery to patrons thereof on a rural or star route therefrom, or by patrons on a rural or star route for local delivery at the post office or on another rural or star route therefrom; and 1 cent for each ounce or fraction thereof when mailed at offices where letter-carrier service is not established, provided the addressees are not served by rural or star route carriers.

(f) On business reply cards and on letters in business reply envelopes, 1 cent in addition to the regular postage.

(g) Letters received by a postmaster, under cover (through the mails), with postage prepaid on the bulk package at the letter rate, can not be distributed for local delivery or transmission in the mails unless each letter is prepaid at the regular first-class rate. (Par. 4, sec. 509, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

(h) A letter which, after a proper effort has been made to deliver it, is returned to the sender, may not be remailed without a new prepayment of postage, and it should be inclosed in a new envelope to secure prompt transmission.

10. The limit of weight of first-class matter is the same as for fourth-class matter. (See art. 49, p. 17; secs. 577 and 578, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

Air Mail

11. The domestic rates of postage on matter carried by airplane, including transportation to and from the air mail routes, are as follows:

	Per ounce (cents)
United States, from one post office to another on mainland, and also from one post office to another in Hawaiian Islands (but not between mainland and those islands)	6

United States (mainland) to or from—	Per half ounce (cents)
Hawaii	20
Guam	40
Philippine Islands	50
Puerto Rico, Virgin Islands of United States, United States Naval Station, Guantanamo Bay (Cuba)	10
United States (mainland) to Canal Zone	15

	Per half ounce (cents)
Puerto Rico, Virgin Islands of United States, United States Naval Station, Guantanamo Bay (Cuba)—
To Canal Zone	15
To or from Hawaii	30
To or from Guam	50
To or from Philippine Islands	60
Puerto Rico to or from—
Virgin Islands of United States	10
United States Naval Station, Guantanamo Bay (Cuba)	10
Virgin Islands of United States to or from United States Naval Station, Guantanamo Bay (Cuba)	10
Hawaii to or from—
Guam	20
Philippine Islands	30
Hawaii to Canal Zone	35
Guam—
To or from Philippine Islands	10
To Canal Zone	55

The foregoing air-mail rates include all transportation by air mail available in the United States, including Hawaii; also in the Philippine Islands. Official matter in penalty or franked envelopes may not be sent free by air mail, but is chargeable with postage at the air-mail rates, except in the case of urgent official communications of the Postal Service only, when their prompt dispatch is desirable.

The postage on all air mail should be fully prepaid in order to expedite its handling, and postmasters shall make every effort to have patrons prepay the full amount of such matter. Nevertheless, short-paid mail intended to be carried by airplane shall, if it bears at least one full rate according to destination as shown in the above table, be rated with the deficiency and dispatched as intended by the sender, the amount due to be collected upon delivery of the matter.

Any mailable matter, except that liable to damage from freezing, may be sent by air mail at the above rates of postage, including sealed parcels not exceeding 70 pounds in weight and not exceeding 100 inches in length and girth combined. This includes harmless live animals (par. 3, sec. 594, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932), queen bees, and cut flowers. Day-old chicks, day-old ducks, etc., and honey bees are prohibited.

Special air-mail stamps are issued for the payment of postage on air mail, but ordinary stamps may be used. Government stamped 6-cent air-mail envelopes are also issued. A 16-cent special-delivery air-mail stamp is available for use on letters not exceeding 1 ounce in weight intended to be sent by air mail and given special delivery at the office of address.

The use of air-mail stamps on other than air mail is not permissible.

Air mail should be conspicuously endorsed in the space immediately below the stamps, above the address "Via Air Mail." Articles for dispatch over the trans-Pacific route destined to the Philippine Islands and points beyond should bear the blue label "Par Avion—By Air Mail," which may be secured without expense at post offices. When it is desired that matter in the domestic mails otherwise carried by airplane shall be transported across the Pacific Ocean by steamer the matter should be endorsed "Via Air Mail except over the Pacific." Embossed stamped envelopes of various sizes for air-mail use are on sale at post offices. Letters bearing 16-cent special-delivery air-mail stamps, as well as other air mail sent special delivery, should be conspicuously endorsed "Special Delivery—Air Mail," the mere fact that the matter may bear air-mail and special-delivery stamps not being sufficient.

In order to obtain the fullest measure of service for the postage paid at the air-mail rate, air mail should be sent special delivery. Matter sent by airplane reaches the office of address sooner than if sent by train, but when it gets there after the last regular carrier trip of the day of its arrival, delivery is not made until the following business day, unless sent special delivery and the fee therefor paid in addition to the air-mail postage.

The public may use for air-mail letters envelopes of the distinctive designs illustrated and described herein. Such envelopes must be white, except when it is necessary to use envelopes of extra strength, in which case envelopes of light tints of manila or kraft may be used.

The outstanding feature of design A is a border of alternating blue and red parallelograms with intervening white spaces, producing a distinguishing blue, white, and red border not exceeding $\frac{5}{32}$ of an inch in width extending around the edges of both the address side and the back of the envelope. The words "Via Air Mail" must appear boldly as shown in the illustration. The border of this envelope facilitates its identification as air mail even when in a package or distributing case with other mail, thus securing the prompt and special attention to which such letters are entitled.

The conspicuous feature of design B consists of the blue, red, and white stripes. The stripes must not exceed approximately $\frac{1}{4}$ inch in width and should extend entirely across the length of the envelope. The blue stripe must be not less than $1\frac{1}{8}$ inches below the top of the envelope, in order that clear space may be left for the necessary postage stamps and postmark. The white space between the blue and red stripes should be approximately $\frac{1}{4}$ inch in width, so that the three stripes will not cover more than approximately $\frac{3}{4}$ of an inch in all.

Designs A and B apply particularly to printed envelopes. When ordinary envelopes are used to enclose airmail, the mailer may identify the matter for transmission by airplane by placing horizontally across the envelopes two blue lines approximately $\frac{1}{4}$ inch apart, the upper line to be not less than $1\frac{1}{8}$ inches below the top of the envelope. In such case the words "Via Air Mail" should be plainly and boldly written, hand-stamped, or printed in the upper right portion of the envelope, preferably between the two lines. Similar lines may also be placed vertically across the envelope not less than 3½ inches from the right end. Such lines may also be placed on the backs of envelopes used for air mail. See design C.

The lines above-mentioned may be placed on the envelopes with an ordinary blue pencil or, if desired, printed thereon in blue ink. Care must be exercised to see that the lines are uniformly placed and that they do not cover the address or return card.

Any person may have his envelopes for air-mail use printed in the foregoing manner.

Such envelopes of special design may be used for air mail only. Their use for mail which is not intended to be carried by airplane is not permissible.

All air mail should bear the sender's return card, which should appear in the upper left corner of the address side. Mail for dispatch by airplane will be accepted for registration upon payment of the prescribed registry fee in addition to the air-mail postage. Insured and c. o. d. parcels, including sealed parcels, may also be sent via air mail when the prescribed fees for such service are paid in addition to the air-mail postage.

Special air-mail stamps may be used to pay the fees on all matter sent special delivery, insured, or c. o. d. via airplane. However, the 16-cent special-delivery air-mail stamp, designed and intended primarily for use on letters not exceeding 1 ounce in weight, should not be used in payment of additional charges applicable to air mail, such as registry or c. o. d. fees, or for postage in addition to that chargeable for the initial rate of 1 ounce.

Envelopes of this design approved by P. O. D. for exclusive use in Air Mail

Smith, Doe, Jones & Co.,

Illinois.

Matter sent by air mail may be forwarded to the addressee by the same means when delivery of the matter will be expedited if carried by airplane, provided the air-mail rate to the new address is no higher than that originally applicable. No additional charge for postage will be made for such forwarding, regardless of the number of the air-mail routes over which the mail may be carried. For instance, an air-mail letter prepaid 6 cents originally sent from New York to Chicago may be forwarded by air mail to San Francisco without additional charge; but it could not be forwarded to Hawaii by trans-Pacific air mail without additional charge. Letters sent as ordinary mail may be forwarded by air mail upon prepayment of the difference between the postage originally paid thereon and the air-mail rate.

Undeliverable air mail will not be returned to the sender via airplane, but will be returned in the regular mails

Air-mail cards.—Cards intended to be sent by air mail should bear on the address side one of the distinctive designs (preferably Form "A") approved for air-mail envelopes.

Post Cards (Private Mailing Cards)

12. Transmissible, when and where.—Post cards manufactured by private persons, consisting of an unfolded piece of cardboard in quality and weight substantially like the Government postal card, not exceeding in size approximately $3\frac{9}{16}$ by $5\frac{9}{16}$ inches, nor less than $2\frac{3}{4}$ by 4 inches, bearing either written or printed messages, are transmissible without cover in the domestic mails at the postage rate of 1 cent each. (Secs. 507 and 508, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

13. Advertisements and illustrations may appear on the back of the card and on the left half of the face. The right half of the face must be reserved for the address, postage stamps, postmark, etc.

14. Nonconforming cards, rate.—Cards bearing the words "Post Card" or "Private Mailing Card" which do not conform to the foregoing conditions are chargeable with 3 cents postage each except when they exceed 1 ounce in weight, in which case the letter rate of 3 cents for each ounce or fraction of an ounce applies.

15. Under cover, rate.—Cards mailed under cover of sealed envelopes (transparent or otherwise) are chargeable with postage at the first-class rate; if inclosed in unsealed envelopes, they are subject to postage at the first-class rate if wholly or partly in writing, or the third-class rate if entirely in print—the postage to be placed on the envelopes. Stamps affixed to matter inclosed in envelopes are not recognized in payment of postage thereon.

16. Double or reply post cards each portion of which conforms in size, quality, etc., to the foregoing conditions, when sent for bona fide reply purposes, are subject to 1 cent postage, to be prepaid on the initial portion. The reply half, when detached and mailed, is also subject to 1 cent postage. The postage on the reply half need not be affixed thereto until it is detached from the initial half and mailed for return. The conditions pertaining to double postal cards, set forth in article 21, p. 12, are also applicable to double post cards. Such cards must be so prepared that the address on the reply portion is on the inside when the double card is mailed. When both the original mailing address of the double card and the address on the reply portion are exposed it causes confusion in the mails, and therefore such folded cards are not mailable unless inclosed in envelopes or wrappers.

Double or reply post cards must be folded before mailing, but it is not necessary to fasten the two portions together. When desired by the mailer, plain stickers or seals may be used to fasten the edges, provided they are so affixed that the inner folds of the cards can be readily examined. It is not permissible to use metal clips for this purpose. Inclosures are prohibited.

When the reply portion is used primarily to cover up the message on the initial portion, double cards are subject to the letter rate. In the case of dunning cards the edges should be fastened together.

17. Folded advertising cards, and other matter entirely in print, arranged with a detachable part for use as a post card, are mailable as third-class matter provided the initial portion is not designated as a post card and is not within the size prescribed for such cards; provided further, they are so folded that the address on the reply card is on the inside when originally mailed.

Postal Cards

18. Postal cards are furnished at the postage value represented by the stamp impressed thereon; single postal cards for domestic correspondence at 1 cent each, and reply (double) postal cards at 2 cents each. (Sec. 506, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

19. Additions.—Government postal cards may bear written, printed, or other additions as follows:

(a) Addresses on postal cards may be either written, printed, or affixed thereto.

(b) Advertisements, illustrations, or writing may appear on the back of the card and on the left third of the face.

(c) The face of the card may be divided by a vertical line placed approximately one-third of the distance from the left end of the card; the space to the left of the line to be used for the message, but the space to the right for the address only.

(d) Unauthorized additions to a postal card will subject it, when mailed, to postage at the letter rate, if wholly or partly in writing, or at the rate for the added matter, if it bears no writing.

20. International postal cards.—The United States international single and reply postal cards should be used for correspondence with foreign countries (See Part II).

21. Reply or double postal cards.—Either half of a domestic reply postal card may be used separately. Such postal cards should be folded before mailing, and the initial half should be detached when the reply half is mailed for return. If the initial half of a double postal card be not detached when the reply half is mailed for return, the card is subject to postage according to the character of the message. The inclosure in a double postal card of unauthorized matter annuls its privileges as a postal card. When the reply portion is used primarily to cover up the message on the initial portion, double cards are subject to the letter rate.

Business Reply Cards and Envelopes

22. Business reply cards and envelopes, or labels, bearing the printed name and address of the distributor and the prescribed indicia, including the number of the special permit, may be distributed, and returned through the mails under the provisions of section 510, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, without prepayment of postage, the regular postage plus one cent additional on each business reply card or letter under cover of a business reply envelope or label, to be collected on delivery. They may be prepared by the distributor for return via air mail, the regular air-mail rate plus 1 cent additional to be collected upon delivery. The prescribed form of reply card or envelope which includes the amount of postage to be collected should be used.

SECOND-CLASS MATTER

23. Second-class matter includes newspapers and periodicals bearing notice of entry as second-class matter. No limit of weight is prescribed. (Secs. 519 to 560, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

24. The rate of postage on newspapers and periodical publications of the second class, when sent unsealed by the public, that is, by others than the publisher or a news agent, is 1 cent for each 2 ounces or fraction thereof or the fourth-class rate, whichever is lower, such postage being computed on each separately addressed copy or package of unaddressed copies. (Sec. 545, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

25. Additions to second-class matter.—(a) On the wrapper, or the matter itself, there may be written or printed: (1) The name and address of the sender, preceded by the word "from"; (2) the name and address of the person to whom sent; (3) the words "sample copy" or "marked copy," or both, as the case may be.

(b) On the matter itself the sender may place all that is permitted on the wrapper; correct typographical errors in the text; designate by marks, not by words, a word or passage in the text to which it is desired to call attention.

Other writing will subject the package to the first-class rate.

(c) Communications prepaid at the first-class rate may be attached to second-class matter under the conditions set forth in article 56, page 18.

26. Application for entry of a publication as second-class matter or registry as a news agent should be made through the postmaster to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Classification, on payment of the application fee prescribed by sec. 528, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.

27. Periodical publications not desired may be refused and not removed from the post office, or they may be returned to the postmaster indorsed "Refused." The Post Office Department does not determine questions regarding the liability of a subscriber for the subscription price of a publication.

A subscriber to a publication should promptly notify the publisher of any change in his address. (Sec. 812, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

THIRD-CLASS MATTER

28. Third-class matter embraces circulars, books (including catalogues) having, including the covers, 24 pages or more, and other printed matter on paper not having the nature of an actual personal correspondence (except newspapers and periodicals admitted to the second class), proofsheets, corrected proofsheets, and manuscript copy, accompanying the same, matter in point print or raised characters used by the blind, drawings, merchandise, seeds, bulbs, cuttings, roots, scions, and plants, and all other mailable matter not embraced in the first and second classes, when sent in packages weighing up to and including 8 ounces. The same matter when sent in parcels exceeding 8 ounces in weight is embraced in fourth-class or parcel-post mail. (Secs. 561, 564, 566, and 569, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

29. Circulars.—A circular is a printed letter sent in identical terms to several persons. It may bear a written, typewritten, or hand-stamped date, name and address of person addressed and of the sender, and corrections of mere typographical errors. When a name (except that of the addressee or sender), date (other than that of the circular), or anything else is handwritten or typewritten in the body of a circular for any other reason than to correct a genuine typographical error, the circular is subject to postage at the first-class (letter) rate, whether sealed or unsealed. (Sec. 563, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

30. Reproductions or imitations of handwriting and typewriting obtained by means of the printing press, mimeograph, multigraph, or similar mechanical process will be treated as third or fourth class matter, provided they are mailed at the post-office window or other depository designated by the postmaster in a minimum number of 20 identical unsealed copies either separately or in a bulk package; provided further, such reproductions or imitations of handwriting or typewriting clearly recognizable as such and which are not in the form of circular letters but bound in pamphlet or book form will also be treated as third or fourth class matter regardless of the number of copies mailed. When not mailed in accordance with these conditions, they will be subject to the first-class rate. (Sec. 565, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

31. Matter for the blind.—Letters and reading matter for the blind, including sound reproduction records, and reproducers therefor, are transmissible in the mails under certain conditions at special rates, as set forth in sections 566, 624, 625, 626, and 627, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.

32. The rate of postage on third-class matter is 1½ cents for each 2 ounces or fraction thereof, up to and including 8 ounces, except that the rate on books (including catalogues) having 24 pages or more (at least 22 of which must be printed), seeds, cuttings, bulbs, roots, scions, and plants, not exceeding 8 ounces in weight, is 1 cent for each two ounces or fraction thereof, on each individually addressed piece or package. The 1-cent rate does not apply to blank books or to those mainly blank. (Sec. 561, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

Books consisting wholly of reading matter and containing no advertising matter, other than incidental announcements of books, may be mailed at 1½ cents a pound.

Bulk lots of identical pieces of third-class matter may be mailed under permit under the provisions of section 562, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, in quantities of not less than 20 pounds or 200 pieces, at the rate of 8 cents a pound or fraction thereof for books, catalogues, seeds, plants, etc., and 12 cents a pound or fraction thereof for all other third-class matter, provided, that in no case shall the postage be less than 1 cent apiece. The postage must be prepaid in money without stamps affixed, or with precanceled stamps, or the matter inclosed in Government precanceled stamped envelopes. Persons desiring this privilege should make application to the postmaster according to the method under which they desire to mail the matter, unless they already hold permits for the particular method desired. The postmaster, unless otherwise instructed, will then transmit the application to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Classification, and await the receipt of a permit or permits and instructions as to procedure.

33. The limit of weight of third-class matter is 8 ounces. Parcels of printed matter, merchandise, etc., weighing more than 8 ounces which do not exceed the limit of weight or size for fourth-class matter come within that class and are mailable at the parcel-post rates. (Secs. 561 and 577, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

34. Additions to third-class matter.—(a) On the wrapper, envelope, or the tag or label attached thereto, or upon the matter itself, in addition to the name and address of the addressee, there may be written or printed the name, occupation, and residence, or business address of the sender, preceded by the word "from." There may also be placed on the wrapper, envelope, tag, or label, either written or otherwise, the inscription "Do not open until Christmas," or words to that effect, and any printed matter mailable as third-class, but there must be left on the right portion of the address side 3½ inches space for a legible address, postmark, and the necessary postage stamps, and any words necessary for forwarding or return, etc. (Secs. 568 and 585, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

The words "Please send out," or "Post up," or other similar directions or requests, not a part of the address, nor necessary to effect delivery, may not be written upon the wrapper of third-class matter or upon the matter itself without subjecting it to postage at the letter rate.

(b) On the matter itself the sender may place all that is permitted on the wrapper, and may make marks other than by written or printed words to call attention to any word or passage in the text, and may correct any typographical errors. There may also be written or printed upon any photograph, or other matter of the third class, a simple manuscript dedication or inscription not in the nature of personal correspondence. Such words as "Dear Sir," "My dear friend," "Yours truly," "Sincerely yours," "Merry Christmas," "Happy New Year," and "With best wishes," written upon third-class matter, are permissible inscriptions. A serial number written or impressed upon third-class matter does not affect its classification.

(c) Written designation of contents, such as "Printed matter," "Photo," is permissible upon the wrapper of third-class matter.

35. The additions permissible on fourth-class matter are also permissible on third-class mail. (See arts. 52 and 54, p. 17.)

36. Hand-stamped imprints on third-class matter will not affect its classification except when the added matter is in itself personal or converts the original matter into a personal communication; in the latter case, however, the mailing at one time at the post office window or other depository designated by the postmaster of not less than 20 identical, unsealed copies will be sufficient evidence of impersonal character to entitle such matter to the third-class rate. (Sec. 568, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

37. Corrections in proof sheets include the alteration of the text and insertion of new matter, as well as the correction of typographical and other errors; include also marginal instructions to the printer necessary to the correction of the matter or its proper appearance in print. Part of an article may be entirely rewritten if that be necessary for correction. Corrections should be upon the margin of or attached to the proof sheets. Manuscript of one article can not be inclosed with proof or corrected proof-sheets of another except at the first-class rate.

38. Permissible inclosures.—There may be inclosed with books (including catalogues) of 24 pages or more, mailed at the special rate of 1 cent for each 2 ounces or fraction thereof, a single reply envelope or post card or both, an order form, and a single loose printed circular not larger than a page of the book or catalogue, provided only such matter appears on the envelope, post card, order form, or circular, as obviously relates exclusively to the book or catalogue. The printed circular may be in the form of a circular letter, provided it merely calls attention to the book or catalogue but none of the loose inclosures may contain extraneous matter in the nature of a general sales talk, or matter going into detail or quoting at length what the book or catalogue itself sets forth, or contain new or additional offers not shown in the book or catalogue. The inclosure of other printed matter or the attaching to a book or catalogue of samples of cloth or other merchandise subjects the package to the regular third-class rate of 1½ cents for each 2 ounces or fraction thereof.

39. A communication may be attached to and mailed with third-class matter under the conditions set forth in articles 55 and 56, p. 18.

FOURTH-CLASS MATTER (DOMESTIC PARCEL POST)

40. Fourth-class matter embraces that known as domestic parcel-post mail exceeding 8 ounces in weight and includes merchandise, farm and factory products, seeds, cuttings, bulbs, roots, scions, and plants, books (including catalogues), circulars and other printed matter, and all other mailable matter not embraced in the first and second classes. (Sec. 569, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

41. Extent and usefulness of parcel post.—The domestic parcel post offers a convenient, quick, and efficient means of transporting mailable parcels to any post office in the United States or its possessions. The service reaches more places than any other transportation agency. It brings producers and consumers into closer contact, thus opening the way to reducing the cost of living and is therefore especially advantageous for shipments of farm products. Low postage rates, based on the service rendered, are provided. The rates to near-by zones or for matter mailed on rural routes, are particularly advantageous. Parcels may be insured against loss and may be sent C. O. D.

42. Rates of postage on fourth-class matter—to be fully prepaid—are by the pound, according to distance or zone, a fraction of a pound being computed as a full pound.

These rates are shown in the tables printed on pages 15 and 16 of this Guide, and the following subparagraphs (a), (b), and (c).

NOTE.—The rate for the first pound in each zone is shown in the table; the rates on additional pounds are: Local zone, 1 cent for each 2 pounds; first and second zones, 1.1 cents, each pound; third zone, 2 cents; fourth zone, 3.5 cents; fifth zone, 5.3 cents; sixth zone, 7 cents; seventh zone, 9 cents; eighth zone, 11 cents; a fraction of a cent in the total amount of postage on any parcel being counted as a full cent.

The rates of postage on individually addressed catalogues and similar printed advertising matter in bound form, consisting of 24 or more pages and not exceeding 10 pounds in weight, shall be as follows:

Zones

Rates	Local	1st	2d	3d	4th	5th	6th	7th	8th
First pound	4¢	4¢	4¢	5¢	6¢	7¢	8¢	9¢	10¢
Each additional pound	½¢	1¢	1¢	2¢	3¢	4¢	5¢	6¢	7¢

The foregoing rates, embodied in section 571½, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, as set forth in Order No. 13098, dated June 29, 1939, apply only to the matter referred to when in bound form consisting of 24 or more pages and not exceeding 10 pounds in weight, each piece being individually addressed. These rates do not apply to bulk parcels containing a number of pieces sent to one address, nor to packages weighing 8 ounces or less, that is, third-class matter.

It will be permissible to include with catalogues and other printed advertising matter mailed at these rates the usual loose inclosures, such as order forms, reply envelopes, loose circulars, etc., provided such inclosures are incidental.

Matter mailed at these rates should be clearly endorsed "Sec. 571½, P. L. & R." in order to distinguish the same from other fourth-class mail and prevent rating such matter with deficient postage at the regular fourth-class rate.

EXCEPTIONS

(a) In the first or second zone, where the distance by the shortest regular practicable mail route is 300 miles or more, the rate is 9 cents for the first pound and 2 cents for each additional pound.

(b) On parcels collected on rural routes the postage is 2 cents less per parcel than shown in the table when for local delivery and 3 cents less per parcel when for other than local delivery, provided they are indorsed by the mailer "Mailed on rural route" to show that they are not subject to the additional charge.

* (c) Parcels weighing less than 10 pounds measuring over 84 inches, but not more than 100 inches in length and girth combined, are subject to a minimum charge equal to that for a 10-pound parcel for the zone to which addressed.

NOTE 2.—The local rate applies to parcels mailed:

(1) At any post office for local delivery at such office.

(2) At any city letter-carrier office, or at any point within its delivery limits, for delivery by carriers from that office.

(3) At any post office from which a rural route starts, for delivery on such route, or when mailed at any point on a rural route for delivery at any other point thereon, or at the office from which the route starts, or for delivery on any other rural route starting from the same office.

43. Books consisting wholly of reading matter and containing no advertising matter other than incidental announcements of books, may be mailed at 1½ cent, a pound. Library books consisting wholly of reading matter and containing no advertising other than incidental announcements of books, when sent by authorized public libraries, organizations, or associations not organized for profit (see sec. 572, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932), as a service to other libraries, or as a loan to readers, or when returned by the latter libraries or readers, are subject to the special rate of 3 cents for the first pound or fraction thereof and 1 cent for each additional pound or fraction thereof, when addressed to any point within the first, second, or third zone, or within the State in which mailed.

44. Zones and unit numbers.—For parcel post purposes the United States is divided into units of area 30 minutes square, which form the basis of eight postal zones. The number of the unit in which each office is located (a branch office or station being in the same unit as the main office) is shown after the name of the office in the State list of this Guide, except those in Alaska, Canal Zone, Guam, and the Samoan Islands, concerning which see article 45, p. 16. Additions and changes in unit numbers appear in the monthly supplements to the Postal Guide.

How to ascertain parcel-post zone locations of post offices.—First, refer to the State List of Post Offices of this Guide, for the name of the post office to which the parcel is to be mailed. At the right of the name is given the number of the parcel-post unit in which such post office is located.

Second, find this number (or the group including it) in the zone key for the post office from which the parcel is to be mailed. The figure in the column opposite the line containing the number is the parcel-post zone between the two offices.

Zone keys for the proper unit number are furnished each post office and they must be used to ascertain parcel-post zones before determining rates by weight.

Copies of zone keys may be obtained by addressing the Fourth Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Building Operations and Supplies, Equipment and Supplies Branch.

45. Alaska, Hawaiian, and Philippine Islands, etc.—The eighth zone rate applies (1) between the United States and the Hawaiian Islands; (2) between any two points in Alaska and between any point in Alaska and any other point in the United States; (3) between the United States and the Canal Zone; (4) between the United States and the Philippine Islands; (5) to, from, or between Guam, Tutuila, and Manua and other islands of the Samoan group east of longitude 171° west of Greenwich, and the United States and its other possessions; (6) between the United States and its naval vessels stationed in foreign waters and other places where the United States mail service is in operation.

46. Firearms capable of being concealed on the person are unmailable.—(See sec. 607, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

Mailable firearms may be sent to the Philippine Islands only when the sender exhibits to the postmaster at the mailing office a copy of the authority issued to the addressee by the Philippine Government to import and deal in firearms. All parcels must be addressed to the Chief of Constabulary, Manila, P. I., the name and address of the person or firm for whom intended to appear less conspicuously in the lower left corner of the address side of the wrapper or label of the parcel.

Mailable firearms may be sent to Guam only when the sender exhibits to the postmaster at the mailing office a copy of the authority issued to the addressee by the Naval government of Guam to import the firearms. All parcels must be addressed to the Chief of Police, Guam, M. I., the name and address of the person for whom intended to appear less conspicuously in the lower left corner of the address side of the wrapper or label of the parcel.

47. The rate of postage on gold coin, gold bullion, and gold dust offered for mailing between any two points in Alaska, or between any point in Alaska and any point in the United States or its possessions, is 2 cents an ounce or fraction thereof, regardless of distance. Such gold coin, gold bullion, or gold dust must be inclosed in sealed packages not exceeding 50 pounds in weight and sent by registered mail.

48. Special handling.—On payment of a special handling postage charge of 10 cents for parcels weighing not more than 2 pounds; 15 cents for parcels weighing more than 2 pounds, but not exceeding 10 pounds, and 20 cents for parcels weighing more than 10 pounds, in addition to the ordinary postage, fourth-class parcels indorsed "Special handling," preferably in the space immediately below the postage stamps and above the address, or which bear the special handling postage stamp provided for such purpose, will receive the most expeditious handling and transportation practicable. This special-handling postage charge applies to all parcels containing day-old chicks, ducklings, turkeys, etc., or baby alligators, which, because of their character, must be given special attention in handling, transportation, and delivery, as well as to other parcels which the sender indicates shall be so treated. The special-handling charge does not include special delivery.

The special delivery fees, in addition to the regular postage, are as follows: For letters and packages of first-class mail not exceeding 2 pounds in weight, 10 cents; on packages of such matter exceeding 2 pounds, but weighing not more than 10 pounds, 20 cents; and on packages exceeding 10 pounds, 25 cents. Mail, other than that of the first class will be given the most expeditious handling and transportation practicable and in addition receive immediate delivery at the office of address upon prepayment of a special delivery fee of 15 cents for parcels weighing not more than 2 pounds, 25 cents for parcels exceeding 2 pounds, but not weighing more than 10 pounds, and 35 cents for parcels exceeding 10 pounds in weight.

49. The limit of weight of fourth-class matter is 70 pounds for all zones. (Parcels must exceed 8 ounces; those weighing 8 ounces or less are embraced in the third class—see art. 28, p. 13.) The 70-pound limit applies to parcels for Manila, Baguio, Iloilo, Cebu, Zamboanga, and Davao, Philippine Islands, but parcels for other places in those islands may not exceed 20 pounds. (Secs. 569, 577, 578, 590, and 597, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.) All shipments of merchandise by one sender to one addressee on the same day where a star route haul is involved are limited to 200 pounds, but this does not apply to perishable matter. (Sec. 586, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

50. Limit of size.—Parcel-post matter may not exceed 100 inches in length and girth combined. In measuring a parcel the greatest distance in a straight line between the ends (but not around the parcel) is taken as its length, while the distance around the parcel at its thickest part is taken as its girth. For example, a parcel 43 inches long, 14 inches wide, and 12 inches high measures 95 inches in length and girth combined. (Sec. 570, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

Two or more pieces or packages of fourth-class matter shall, in order to be mailable as a single parcel, be of approximately the same size or shape or constitute parts of one article, and be securely tied, wrapped, or otherwise firmly fastened together.

51. Name and address of sender.—A parcel of fourth-class matter may not be accepted for mailing unless it bears the name and address of the sender, which should be preceded by the word "From." (Par. 4, sec. 585 Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

52. Additions to fourth-class mail.—There may be placed on fourth-class matter, or on the wrapper or cover, tag or label, any marks, numbers, names, or letters for purposes of description. There may be written on the blank leaves or cover of any book a simple manuscript dedication or inscription not in the nature of personal correspondence. Space sufficient for a legible address, postmark, the necessary postage stamps, and any words necessary for forwarding or return, must be left on the address side of parcels. See article 121, page 33. Inscriptions, such as "Merry Christmas," "With best wishes," "Do not open until Christmas," or words to that effect, may be written on fourth-class mail, or on a card inclosed therewith. (Sec, 574, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

53. Public library books, otherwise mailable as parcel post matter, may bear thereon or therein in writing, or by means of hand stamp, the shelf number, date of donation or acquisition (or both), or any mark of designation which may be reasonably construed as an "inscription" within the meaning of the law (sec. 568, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932) in a limited sense of a permanent library record, placed thereon by the librarian and in that connection only.

54. Inclosures.—There may be inclosed with fourth-class matter a written or printed invoice or bill showing the name and address of the sender and of the addressee; the names and quantities of articles inclosed, together with inscriptions indicating "for purpose of description," the price, style, stock number, size, and quality of the articles; the order or file number, date of order, and date and manner of shipment; and the initials or name of the salesman, or of the persons by whom the articles were packed or checked. The words "No charge," "Charge $____," or "Charge," being equivalent to a price, are permissible.

Invoices may not bear written indorsements showing the amounts remitted by the customers when they differ from those representing the value of the articles shipped with such invoices, nor show the amounts due from or to the customer.

Orders from customers are permissible inclosures under the provisions of section 574, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, in parcels containing merchandise to which they relate, when all reference to items which are not inclosed in the parcel are obliterated or crossed out. Indications may be made by means of a hand stamp covering the items as entered on the customer's order, provided 20 or more identical copies of such hand-stamped imprints are mailed at one time. Explanations and references with respect to articles ordered but not included in the parcels are not permissible unless printed or hand stamped, 20 or more identical hand-stamped imprints being mailed at one time in the latter case.

Senders of parcels mailed at the fourth-class rates of postage may inclose invoices bearing no unauthorized additions in unsealed envelopes attached to the outside of the parcels which they are to accompany, provided the envelopes are plainly marked, preferably in printing, "Invoice Inside," or words to that effect, and provided the names and addresses of both the senders and addressees are in all cases placed on the wrappers of the parcels, regardless of whether such names and addresses are also placed on the envelopes containing the invoices. If it is desired to seal the envelopes, this may be done, provided the parcels bear the required indicia authorizing opening for postal inspection, or such indicia may be placed on the envelopes.

55. Communications attached to parcels.—When it is desired to send a letter or other communication with a parcel on which postage at the fourth-class rate has been fully prepaid, the letter may be placed in an envelope fully prepaid at the first-class rate and addressed to correspond with the address on the parcel and then be tied to or otherwise securely attached to the outside of the parcel in such manner as to prevent its separation therefrom and not to interfere with the address on the parcel. The stamps to cover the postage on the parcel must be affixed to the wrapper of the parcel, and those to pay the postage on the letter must be affixed to the envelope of the letter. Parcels to which such letters are attached are treated as fourth-class matter. (Sec. 583, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.) When attaching letters to parcels, the following instructions should be observed:

(a) Any strong envelope which can be securely attached to the outside of the parcel in such manner as will prevent its separation therefrom and not interfere with the address on the parcel may be used. A tag envelope fastened with strong twine will serve this purpose. The envelope should always be placed under the twine with which the parcel is tied in order to prevent its becoming torn from the parcel while in transit. The envelope must be addressed to correspond with the address on the parcel, so that in case of their becoming separated while in transit both may be delivered.

(b) When two classes of matter are mailed together under this regulation in combination containers having two inseparable portions or compartments, it is desirable that the sender's and addressee's names and addresses appear on both portions, but if the sender so desires, the matter will be accepted with such names and addresses appearing on one portion only. This does not apply when the letter is merely pasted or glued to the address side of a parcel. In such case the sender's name and address may appear on one portion and the addressee's on the other, but it is desirable that the senders place their return card on both portions in order to facilitate identification of the matter in case the parcel and letter become separated in transit.

(c) Only one special-delivery fee is required on such parcels when sent as special-delivery matter. The stamps for the fee should be affixed to the parcels.

(d) The stamps affixed to the envelopes are canceled in the same manner as the stamps on the parcel are canceled. As the regulation provides that the parcel and communication attached thereto shall in all cases be treated as fourth-class mail, persons authorized to use precanceled stamps may affix such stamps to the envelope in prepayment of postage on the communication when such stamps are used on the parcel. The regulations applicable to postmarking first-class matter do not apply to communications attached to parcels of fourth-class matter under the provisions of section 583, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932. Two classes of matter may be mailed together in accordance with these provisions without stamps affixed and the postage thereon paid in money under section 579, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932. (See art. 68, p. 26.)

(e) Third-class matter fully prepaid at the third-class rate of postage may be attached to or mailed with matter of the second or fourth class fully prepaid at the rate applicable to matter of the respective class, in the manner and under the conditions set forth above.

In all cases the envelope or portion of the container containing the third-class matter must be prominently indorsed "THIRD CLASS," and such envelope or portion of the container must be left unsealed.

56. Letters attached to second and third class mail.—Communications fully prepaid at the first-class rate may be attached to packages of second-class matter prepaid at the rates set forth in article 24, page 12, or at publishers' second-class rates provided in the latter case a notice of entry as second-class matter is placed in the upper right corner of the address side of the packages, and to third-class matter fully prepaid at the third-class rate, in the manner and under the conditions set forth in the preceding article. Packages of second or third class matter to which such communications are attached shall, in all cases, be treated as second or third class mail.

57. (a) Sealed parcels of fourth-class matter may be mailed at the fourth-class rates of postage provided the parcels are labeled in printing to show the nature of contents as, for example "MERCHANDISE—FOURTH-CLASS MAIL," together with the inscription "Postmaster: This parcel may be opened for postal inspection if necessary," and the name and address of the manufacturer, producer, or sender. Such name and address may be written or handstamped when printing is not practicable.

Merchandise, books, seeds, and other articles, except circulars and miscellaneous printed matter, which when sent in parcels weighing 8 ounces or less are embraced in mail of the third class, may also be sealed and mailed at the third-class rates of postage, provided the parcels are appropriately labeled as indicated in preceding paragraph.

The indicia showing the nature of contents and the inscription that the parcels may be opened for postal inspection, must be printed so that the labels will be uniform and legible, thus facilitating the identification of the sealed parcels. Hand stamping, typewriting, or writing the name and address of the sender is permissible, although it is preferred that they be printed.

(b) Proprietary articles of merchandise, such as harmless medicinal preparations, soaps, tobacco, food products, and other articles of merchandise which are put up in fixed quantities, in original sealed packages, by the manufacturer or dealer so as to allow examination of the packages in their simplest mercantile form and labeled in printing so as to show the nature of contents, quantity, and name of manufacturer, or dealer, are mailable at the fourth-class rates of postage. In order to be so mailed the parcels must in fact possess the characteristics of proprietary articles of merchandise and to this end it is important that they be prominently labeled in printing in the manner in which well-known articles distributed widely throughout the country are labeled, a trade-mark, brand, illustration of the article, or other distinguishing matter usually appearing on the label. If such sealed packages are inclosed in an outer wrapper or container, such wrapper or container must not be sealed unless it is also labeled in printing in the manner indicated.

(c) Sealed packages of third-class matter, except circulars and other miscellaneous printed matter, may also be mailed at the third-class rates of postage under the conditions prescribed in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this article.

58. Meats and meat-food products.—Before meat or meat-food products of cattle, sheep, swine, goats, or horses may be accepted for mailing from one State or Territory to another State or Territory, the certificate of inspection or exemption required by section 592, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, must be filed with the postmaster. Such certificate must be prepared by the sender. Forms 3583B and 3583F are available for this purpose. Such certificates are not required for intrastate shipments.

59. Game.—Parcels containing the dead bodies of any wild animals or birds, or parts thereof, including furs, skins, plumage, etc., or the eggs of any such birds, may be admitted to the mails only when plainly and clearly marked or labeled on the outside thereof with the names and addresses of the shipper and consignee (addressee), and with an accurate statement showing by number and kind the contents thereof. The dead bodies, or parts thereof, of any wild animals or birds, or the eggs of any such birds, which have been killed or taken or are offered for shipment contrary to any law of the United States or of any State, Territory, District of Columbia, or foreign country or State, Province, or other subdivision thereof, are unmailable, persons sending such articles and the addressees knowingly receiving them in violation of the law being liable to a fine of not more than $1,000, and imprisonment of not more than 6 months, or both. (Sec. 593, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

60. Furs shipped out of Alaska by mail.—It will be the duty of each postmaster in Alaska to furnish report blanks to persons who present furs for mailing and to see that no furs are sent through his office to outside points until the shipper has filled out the blank and signed the certificate as to the correctness of the report, and the postmaster has placed his signature under the words "Transmitted to the Alaska Game Commission, Juneau, Alaska." No unprimed skin should be accepted; and if a shipment contains beaver or marten skins, the statement shall show the serial number of the Alaska Game Commission's seal attached to each skin. The postmaster will then dispatch the shipment of furs as addressed without examining the contents for the purpose of verifying the shipper's report and will mail the report under cover of an official penalty envelope addressed "Alaska Game Commission, Juneau, Alaska."

Each package in which game animals, game birds, land fur-bearing animals, or parts thereof are transported shall have clearly and conspicuously marked on the outside thereof the names and addresses of the consignor and consignee, an accurate statement of the number of each kind of game animals, game birds, land fur-bearing animals, or parts thereof contained therein; and if the package contains skins of beavers or marten, the serial numbers of the commission's seal attached thereto shall also be similarly marked on the package.

Postmasters should not permit their supplies of the report form to become exhausted, but in due time should make requisitions upon the Alaska Game Commission, for specific quantities.

The foregoing does not in any way relieve postmasters from exercising every possible precaution to prevent the acceptance for mailing of furs, the shipment of which is prohibited by law.

61. Gold and silver shipped by mail to places outside of Alaska.—Postmasters when accepting gold and silver for shipment by mail under Treasury Department regulations to any place outside of Alaska will request the sender to state the weight, value, and description of the gold or silver mailed by him. If he is not willing to furnish this information, the postmaster should estimate the value from the weight and from such knowledge of the contents as he may rightfully obtain. The data will be recorded in a book kept for that purpose, and at the end of each month the total will be entered on a blank form (furnished for that purpose) and mailed under cover of a penalty envelope to the collector of customs at Juneau, Alaska. If there are no transactions during the month, no report is necessary.

Postmasters will explain to senders of gold and silver that this information is desired by the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce of the United States Department of Commerce, for the sole purpose of enabling the Government to compile complete figures showing the gold and silver products of the United States and its territories; that the information obtained will be treated as confidential by the Department of Commerce, and that the name of the sender need not necessarily appear on the blank; that although the furnishing of the information desired will be a voluntary act on the part of the sender, it is hoped that the efforts of the Government to obtain this information will not be thwarted by the refusal of anyone to furnish the data requested.

No mail matter should be refused by the postmaster simply because the sender may decline to furnish the information.

An additional supply of blanks may be secured from the collector of customs, Juneau, Alaska.

62. (a) Nursery stock, including all field-grown florists' stock, trees, shrubs, vines, cuttings, grafts, scions, buds, fruit pits and other seeds of fruit and ornamental trees or shrubs, and other plants and plant products for propagation, except field, vegetable, and flower seeds, bedding plants, and other herbaceous plants, bulbs, and roots, may be admitted to the mails only when accompanied with a certificate from a State or Government inspector to the effect that the nursery or premises from which such stock is shipped has been inspected within a year and found free from injurious insects and plant diseases, and the parcel containing such stock is plainly marked to show the nature of the contents and the name and address of the sender. (Sec. 595, Postal Laws and Regulations,1932.)

(b) Terminal inspection is required of plants and plant products addressed to Arizona, Arkansas, California, District of Columbia, Florida, Hawaii, Idaho, Louisiana, Mississippi, Montana, Oklahoma, Oregon, Puerto Rico, Utah, and Washington. All parcels addressed to the States named must be plainly marked on the outside to show the exact nature of their contents. Section 596, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, prescribes three methods of handling such parcels, as follows:

1. As provided in paragraphs 3, 4, 5 and 6 of section 596, the parcels shall, upon payment of postage therefor, be forwarded by the postmaster at the post office of their destination to the proper State official at the nearest place where plant inspection is maintained, where, after inspection and passing and the payment of return postage there for, they shall be returned to the post office of address and delivered to the addressee.

2. Or, as provided in paragraph 7, section 596, if the addressee so desires, he may have the parcels addressed to himself in care of a State plant inspector arranging with the inspector to forward the parcels, after inspection and passing, to the addressee upon payment of the forwarding postage therefor which shall be furnished to the inspector by the addressee.

3. Or, as also provided in paragraph 7, section 596, the addressee may have the sender place a pledge to pay the forwarding postage on the parcels, addressed in care of a plant inspector, in which case they shall, after inspection and passing, be forwarded rated with the forwarding postage, such postage to be collected from the addressee upon delivery of the parcels.

In addition to the above-described methods of handling, arrangements have also been made whereby the shipper may at his own instance address the parcels to the addressee in care of a State plant inspector at an established terminal inspection point. When so addressed at the instance of the mailer he shall place on the parcels immediately below the return address his pledge guaranteeing payment of forwarding postage, such postage to be collected upon delivery to the addressee as provided by paragraph 4, section 769. Parcels so sent shall be labeled as follows:

"Shipped for (or on a/c)
W. H. Jones,
Garfield, Utah.
From:
John Doe Nurseries,
Shenandoah, Iowa.
Forwarding Postage Guaranteed. To:
Contents: W. H. Jones,
---------- c/o State Plant Inspector,
---------- Salt Lake City, Utah."

When forwarding parcels under the latter arrangement, the inspector shall first cross out "c/o State Plant Inspector," and the name of the post office at the point of inspection appearing in the original address, and insert the name of the post office to which the parcels are to be forwarded. After endorsing the parcels to show that the contents have been inspected and passed, the inspector will return them to the postmaster who will rate the same with the necessary forwarding postage and dispatch them to the office of ultimate address, the additional postage to be collected from the addressee upon delivery to him.

It is essential in following this arrangement that the shippers have their parcels directed to the State inspector at an inspection point located to the best advantage with respect to the post office of final address, thus facilitating onward dispatch and delivery.

Following is a list of the States and Territories operating under the terminal plant inspection laws, the plants and plant products which when sent to these States or Territories are subject to inspection, and the names of places located in each where inspection is maintained.

ARIZONA

Plants and plant products subject to inspection—

All florists' stock, trees, shrubs, vines, cuttings, grafts, scions, buds, fruit pits and other seeds of fruit and ornamental trees or shrubs, and other plants and plant products for propagation, except vegetable and flower seeds.

Pursuant to the Act of June 4, 1936, and Order No. 9620 of October 15, 1936, amending section 596, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, the following States have also established quarantines prohibiting or regulating the entry into these States of certain plants and plant material, known to be hosts of insects or plant diseases:

State	Dates of notices relating thereto
Arkansas	May 6, 1938; May 31, 1938. (P. 43, June, 1938, Supplement to Postal Guide.)
California	April 6, 1937.
Florida	November 7, 1938.
Mississippi	April 7, 1937.
Montana	April 8, 1937.
Oregon	June 23, 1937; March 2, 1938; August 1, 1938; January 9, 1939; February 13, 1939.

(c) Plant quarantines applying to the continental United States.—When the United States Department of Agriculture, under authority of the plant quarantine act, quarantines any State or area on account of a plant disease or insect infestation, the mailing of plants or plant products from such State or area is subject to the restrictions imposed by such order. See paragraph 1, section 595, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932. A summary of the quarantines relating to mail shipments follows:

Black-stem rust.— Quarantine No. 38 (revised), with regulations revised, effective September 1, 1937: Prohibits, except as provided in the rules and regulations supplemental thereto, the interstate movement of barberry and Mahonia or Mahoberberis (commonly known as hollygrape, holly barberries, or Oregon grape), from any part of the continental United States into any of the "protected" States, namely, Colorado, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, North Dakota, Ohio, Pennsylvania, South Dakota, Virginia, West Virginia, Wisconsin, and Wyoming, or from any one of these States to another protected State, except that no restrictions are placed by these regulations on the interstate movement of Japanese barberry (Berberis thunbergii) nor of cuttings (without roots) of Mahonia for ornamental use.

Gypsy-moth and brown-tail moth.—Quarantine No. 45 (revised), with regulations revised effective September 29, 1938: Prohibits, except as provided in the rules and regulations supplemental thereto, the movement interstate to any point outside the regulated area, or from points in the generally infested area to points in the lightly infested area, of (1) coniferous trees, such as spruce, fir, hemlock, pine, juniper (cedar), and arborvitæ (white cedar), without roots, known and described as "Christmas trees," and parts thereof, and evergreen decorative plants, such as boxwood, holly, and laurel and their parts; (2) forest-plant products, including logs, tanbark, posts, poles, car stakes, railroad ties, cordwood, empty cable reels, and lumber; (3) trees, shrubs, vines, and all plants having persistent woody stems, and parts of such plants, excepting seeds and fruit; and (4) stone and quarry products. The quarantine covers Rhode Island and parts of the States of Connecticut, Maine, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, and Vermont.

Japanese beetle.—Quarantine No. 48 (revised) with regulations revised effective February 20, 1939: Prohibits, except as provided in the rules and regulations supplemental thereto, the interstate movement from the regulated areas, of fruits and vegetables; nursery, ornamental, and greenhouse stock and all other plants, plant roots, cut flowers, or other portions of plants; and sand, soil, earth, peat, compost, and manure. The regulated areas are comprised of the District of Columbia and the entire States of Connecticut, Delaware, Massachusetts, New Jersey, and Rhode Island, and parts of the States of Maine, Maryland, New Hampshire, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Vermont, Virginia, and West Virginia.

Pink bollworm.—Quarantine No. 52 (revised), with regulations revised, effective March 15, 1939: Prohibits, except as provided in the regulations supplemental thereto, the interstate movement from the regulated areas of

(1) cotton, wild cotton, including all parts of either cotton or wild-cotton plants; seed cotton, cotton lint, linters, and all other forms of unmanufactured cotton fiber; gin waste, cottonseed, cottonseed hulls, cottonseed cake and meal; (2) bagging and other containers and wrappers of cotton and cotton products; and (3) farm products, farm household goods, farm equipment, and, if contaminated with cotton, any other articles. The regulated areas are comprised of parts of the States of Arizona, New Mexico, and Texas.

Thurberia weevil.—Quarantine No. 61 (revised), with regulations amended effective October 22, 1936: Prohibits the interstate movement of Thurberia (wild cotton), including all parts of the plant, from any point in Arizona, and prohibits, except as provided in the rules and regulations supplemental thereto, the interstate movement from the regulated area of Arizona of (1) cotton, including all parts of the plant, seed cotton, cotton lint, linters, and all other forms of unmanufactured cotton lint, gin waste, cottonseed, cottonseed hulls, and cottonseed cake and meal; (2) bagging and other containers and wrappers of cotton and cotton products; (3) hay and other farm products; and (4) farm household goods, farm equipment, and, if contaminated with cotton, any other articles.

White-pine blister rust.—Quarantine No. 63, with regulations revised, effective July 1, 1938: Prohibits, except as provided in the rules and regulations supplemental thereto, the interstate movement from every State in the continental United States and the District of Columbia of 5-leafed pines (Pinus) or currant and gooseberry plants (Ribes and Grossularia), including cultivated or wild or ornamental sorts.

Mexican fruit worm.—Quarantine No. 64, with regulations revised effective October 15, 1937: Prohibits, except as provided in the rules and regulations supplemental thereto, the interstate movement from the regulated area of Texas of fruits of all varieties.

Woodgate rust.—Quarantine No. 65, with regulations amended effective April 1, 1929: Prohibits the interstate movement from the regulated area in the State of New York of trees, branches, limbs, or twigs of Scotch pine (Pinus sylvestris), Canary Island pine (P. canariensis), Slash pine (P. caribæa), Japanese red pine (P. densiflora), Corsican pine (P. nigra poiretiana), Stone pine (P. pinea), Western yellow pine (P. ponderosa), Monterey pine (P. radiata), Loblolly pine (P. tæda), or Jersey pine (P. virginiana), or of any variety thereof, or of any species or variety of hard pine hereafter found to be susceptible to the Woodgate rust.

Dutch elm disease.—Quarantine No. 71, with regulations amended effective November 9, 1937: Prohibits the interstate movement from the regulated areas in Connecticut, New Jersey, and New York, of elm plants or parts including all species of the genus Ulmus, irrespective of whether nursery, forest, or privately grown, including (1) trees, plants, leaves, twigs, branches, bark, roots, trunks, cuttings, and scions of such plants; (2) logs or cordwood of such plants; and (3) lumber, crates, boxes, barrels, packing cases, and other containers manufactured in whole or in part from such plants, unless the wood is entirely free from bark.

White-fringed beetle.—Quarantine No. 72, effective January 15, 1939: Prohibits, except as provided in the regulations supplemental thereto, the interstate movement from regulated areas in Alabama, Florida, Louisiana, and Mississippi, of (1) nursery stock or any other plants or plant products; (2) soil, independent of, or used in connection with, nursery stock, plants, or plant products; and (3) other articles capable of carrying the white-fringed beetle as specifically named in said regulations or in administrative instructions.

(d) Plant quarantines applying to Hawaii and Puerto Rico.—Federal plant quarantines prohibit the shipment by mail or otherwise from Hawaii and Puerto Rico of the following plants and plant products into or through any other State, Territory, or District of the United States: Sugarcane, or cuttings or parts thereof, or sugarcane leaves (Quarantine No. 16, Revised), except that bagasse may be shipped under permit and, in the case of mail shipments, when accompanied by certificates issued for the shipment by Federal plant quarantine inspectors, or by special green and yellow mailing tags, furnished by the United States Department of Agriculture, Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine, and bearing the address of one of the following stations of that Bureau: Washington, D. C., San Francisco, Calif., and Seattle, Wash.; sweetpotatoes (Quarantine No. 30, Revised); banana plants or portions thereof (except the fruit) (Quarantine No. 32); seed cotton, cottonseed, and cottonseed hulls (Quarantine No. 47); and sand (other than clean ocean sand), soil, or earth around the roots of plants (Quarantine No. 60).

Fruits and vegetables in the natural or raw state are prohibited shipment from Hawaii and Puerto Rico into or through any other State, Territory, or District of the United States except that certificates may be issued by Federal plant quarantine inspectors for the shipment from Hawaii of bananas of the noncooking type, pineapples, taro, coconuts, lily roots, ginger roots (and certain others on special determination in each case) (Quarantine No. 13); and for shipment from Puerto Rico of grapefruit, oranges, and other citrus fruits, pineapples, bananas, plantains, avocados, dasheens, onions (and certain others on special determination in each case) (Quarantine No. 58). The regulations do not, however, apply to the shipment of coconuts either in, or free from, the husk when shipped from Puerto Rico, or to the shipment of coconuts from Hawaii either in, or free from, the husk when shipped through the mails without wrapping or packing as individual parcels. Federal permits are required for the shipment from Hawaii and Puerto Rico of cotton, cotton-mill waste, cottonseed cake, meal, and other cottonseed products, other than oil, except that samples of raw or unmanufactured ginned cotton, including cotton-mill waste, and samples of cottonseed cake and meal may be forwarded by parcel post when the parcels are securely wrapped to prevent leakage and are conspicuously addressed to the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine at Washington, D. C., San Francisco, Calif., or Seattle, Wash., with the name and address of the ultimate addressee indicated in the lower left corner. Upon arrival of such parcels at the designated offices of the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine they will be examined and disinfected, and forwarded to the ultimate addressee under the original postage (Quarantine No. 47).

(e) Plant material from the Philippine Islands, Guam, Tutuila, Manua, the Canal Zone, and the Virgin Islands of the United States moving to the continental United States, Hawaii, and Puerto Rico is subject to the plant quarantines that affect the importation of plant material from foreign countries. (See Part II.)

Shipments of plant material to the Philippine Islands from the United States are subject to certain restrictions and prohibitions. Postmasters having patrons who desire to mail such articles to the Philippines may obtain information with respect to these restrictions and prohibitions by addressing the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Classification.

63. Place of mailing.—Parcels of fourth-class matter must be mailed at a post office, branch post office, named, numbered, or lettered station, or delivered to a rural or other carrier duly authorized to receive such matter. Fourth class matter can not be mailed at railway post office cars. (See sec. 715, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

64. Customs declaration tags (Form 2966) must accompany parcels exceeding 8 ounces in weight containing merchandise addressed for delivery in the Canal Zone, but are not required for parcels containing catalogues, reviews, and miscellaneous printed matter without commercial value. Parcels addressed to officers and the enlisted personnel of the marine detachment, American Legation, Peiping, China, must have custom declaration form no. 2966 attached.

65. Certificates of origin must accompany shipments of merchandise valued at over $10 when mailed in the United States or its possessions, addressed for delivery in the Philippine Islands. Shipments valued at $10 or less need not be accompanied with a Certificate of Origin. (For information regarding the shipment of parcels from the Philippines, see Part II.)

66. Sender's receipt or certificate of mailing.—Upon request and payment of 1 cent for each piece of ordinary mail of any class, the sender will be furnished a receipt or Certificate of Mailing. This fee carries with it no insurance or indemnity and no return receipt is obtained from the addressee.

PROVISIONS APPLICABLE TO THE SEVERAL CLASSES OF MAIL MATTER

67. Directions for transmission, etc.—Directions for transmission, delivery, forwarding, or return of mail matter are deemed part of address. (Sec. 585, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

MAILING OF FIRST, THIRD, AND FOURTH CLASS MATTER AND CERTAIN SECOND-CLASS MATTER WITHOUT STAMPS AFFIXED UNDER PERMIT

68. Upon application to the postmaster at the office of mailing, permits may, under the provisions of section 579, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, be issued to persons or concerns for mailing first, second, third, and fourth class matter without stamps affixed, the postage being paid thereon in money, provided the mailings are presented in accordance with the conditions under which such mailings are accepted.

Application fee for nonmetered matter.—Each application to mail nonmetered matter must be accompanied with a fee of $10 as prescribed by paragraph 3 (a), section 579, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, and be sent by the postmaster to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Classification, endorsed to show that the fee has been paid. The $10 fee should not be sent with the application but the instructions in paragraph 3 (c) and (d), section 579, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, should be followed. No part of this fee may be applied as postage.

Nonmetered first-class matter may not be accepted until authority to do so shall first have been obtained in each instance from the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Classification. Only such second-class matter may be accepted under the provisions of section 579, as is chargeable with the transient second-class rate of postage (see section 545) or the special rates prescribed by paragraphs 9 and 10, section 543, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.

Metered matter.—Persons or firms desiring permits for mailing metered matter should apply to the postmaster. All applications must specify the name and model of the device, be accompanied with an envelope bearing a specimen of the indicia, and be sent by the postmaster to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Classification. Applicants desiring to present mailings immediately after making application may do so pending the submission of the application to the Department.

Metered first and fourth class matter and third class matter (except that mailed in bulk under section 562), may be presented in any quantity and need not be identical as to contents or weight. Metered second-class matter must be presented in quantities of not less than 300 identical pieces.

Nonmetered first-class matter must be presented in quantities of not less than 300 pieces identical as to weight. Nonmetered second and third class matter (except third-class matter mailed in bulk under sec. 562) must be presented in quantities of not less than 300 identical pieces and nonmetered fourth-class matter in quantities of not less than 250 identical pieces, except when specially authorized.

Bulk lots of third-class matter, consisting of not less than either 20 pounds or 200 identical pieces, may be mailed at pound rates prescribed in section 561, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, under permit without postage stamps affixed under the provisions of section 562, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, either as metered or nonmetered matter or with precanceled stamps affixed as set forth below.

The attention of patrons who frequently mail large quantities of matter of the classes named should be invited to the advantages of the metered and nonmetered methods of prepaying postage. If the patrons do not desire to avail themselves of such privilege, the use of precanceled stamps should be suggested. (See following article.)

PRECANCELED POSTAGE STAMPS

69. Precanceled postage stamps may be used only by the persons or concerns who have been given a permit to use them. Precanceled stamps above the 6-cent denomination may be used only when overprinted (or hand-stamped) by the permit holders with their initials and the abbreviations of the month and year. Such stamps are good for the payment of postage on matter of the third and fourth classes and second-class matter mailed at the rates mentioned in the preceding article, on post cards, and, when specially authorized in each case, on letters and other first-class matter, presented at the office where precanceled. No fee is required to accompany applications to use precanceled postage stamps on any class of matter. Persons holding permits to use precanceled stamps need not obtain an additional permit to mail third-class matter in bulk under section 562, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932. For information in regard to the obtaining of such permit and the conditions governing the use of precanceled postage stamps, address the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Classification. (See also art. 32, p. 13.)

70. Method of precanceling.—Special hand stamps for precanceling stamps will be furnished postmasters in cases where small quantities of such stamps are used. Where large quantities are used an electroplate for precanceling the stamps may be obtained by making requisition on the Fourth Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Building Operations and Supplies, the requisition therefor to state the approximate number of sheets used during a year. The question of obtaining an allowance to cover the expense of having the precanceling done by a printing establishment with an electroplate should be taken up with the First Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Post Office Service.

71. Use of precanceled stamps not permissible on containers designed for reuse.—Precanceled stamps may not be used for the payment of postage on motion-picture films or other articles, such as laundry, eggs, etc., which are inclosed in boxes, bags, cases, or other containers specially designed to be reused for mailing purposes. Postage on such matter must be paid by means of uncanceled stamps, such stamps to be canceled or defaced in the regular manner at the time the matter is presented for mailing.

72. Misuse to be reported.—Postmasters shall carefully observe the use of precanceled stamps and promptly report to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Classification, any irregularity in connection with the use of such stamps coming to their attention, whether occurring at their offices or elsewhere. Postmasters are enjoined from selling or otherwise furnishing precanceled stamps to stamp collectors or to other persons or concerns not authorized to use such stamps.

73. Government stamped envelopes may be precanceled by the mailer and used in mailing first, second, third, or fourth class matter under the provisions of section 580, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, by persons and concerns who have been given a permit therefor. Government postal cards may oe precanceled under the same provisions.

Application for such privilege should be submitted to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Classification, accompanied with an envelope or postal card bearing an impression of the device to be used for precanceling them.

Government stamped envelopes are furnished precanceled for use by persons who have obtained the necessary permit therefor in mailing third-class matter in bulk under section 562, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932. (See art. 32, p. 13.) No fee is required to accompany applications to use precanceled Government stamped envelopes.

WEIGHING SECOND-CLASS MATTER IN SACKS

74. Allowance for tare and weight of mail sacks.—Except as instructed in the following paragraph, postmasters handling second-class mail matter from publishers and news agents and permit mailings under sections 562 and 579, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, shall, in weighing such matter in bulk in mail sacks, for the purpose of determining the amount of postage to be collected, deduct from the gross weight 3 pounds 7 ounces for the weight of each sack of the No. 1 size, regardless of style; 2 pounds 6 ounces for each sack of the No. 2 size, and 1 pound 12 ounces for each sack of the No. 3 size, regardless of style.

When by reason of the accumulation of dirt on the sacks or for any other reason the weights set forth above do not apply to the sacks issued in a particular case and the use of such weights would result in either overcharge or undercharge of postage on mailings of second-class matter, such weights should not be used, but the sacks should be weighed in bulk at the time they are issued in order to obtain an average weight per sack, which average weight should be used as the tare weight in computing the weights of mailings of second-class matter in lieu of the weights given above.

LIMIT OF WEIGHT IN MAILS

75. For limit of weight of mail matter see sections 569, 577, 578, 590, 591, 597, and 618, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.

POSTAGE DUE

76. Collection of postage due at office of address.—When a piece of mail reaches the office of address without postage having been fully prepaid, the required amount of postage due shall be collected of the addressee on delivery. Postmasters can not lawfully accept postage stamps in payment of postage remaining due on mail matter. The amount due shall invariably be paid in cash. (Secs. 504, 513, 763, and 765 to 768; also 2315, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

NOTE.—Postmasters are specially instructed to exercise great care in rating due postage on all short-paid first-class matter mailed at their offices. A decided down weight is required to subject matter to an additional rate of postage.

Letters and other first-class matter reaching the office of address partly prepaid but short paid more than one rate—3 cents—are chargeable with an additional charge of 1 cent for each ounce. That is, if a letter is short paid only 3 cents, that amount will be collected as postage due upon delivery, but if a letter or other first-class matter is short paid more than 3 cents, then the deficient postage and an additional charge of 1 cent for each ounce or fraction thereof based on the short-paid weight shall be collected on delivery. This does not apply to parcels obviously intended to be sent as fourth-class matter but which are found to be subject to the first-class rate because they are sealed against inspection or contain incidental unpermissible written inclosures. Deficient postage at the rate of 3 cents for each ounce only should be collected on such parcels.

77. Unpaid matter, the sender of which is unknown, deposited in a post office, addressed for local delivery is subject when delivered to the addressee to due postage at the single rate, plus the additional charge of 1 cent for each unpaid ounce. For treatment of such matter at letter-carrier post offices, see paragraph 7, section 723, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.

78. Letters returned from the Division of Dead Letters and Dead Parcel Post—Postage due on.—The attention of postmasters is directed to section 825 and section 826 of the Postal Laws and Regulations providing a fee of 5 cents be collected for returning letters from the Division of Dead Letters or the various branches.

79. Facsimile copies of typewriting produced by a mechanical process, such as the printing press, mimeograph, multigraph, etc., and matter bearing hand-stamped imprints, which reach the office of address with postage fully prepaid at the third or fourth-class rate, shall be assumed to have been mailed under the provisions of section 565, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, and be delivered to the addressees without additional postage. (See art. 30, p. 12.)

80. Refund of excess postage. (See sec. 584, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

FREE MATTER

81. For regulations relating to franked and official matter, including the use of penalty envelopes, see sections 608 to 623, inclusive, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.

82. Places to which penalty and franked matter is transmissible.—Any article entitled to transmission free of postage in the domestic mails of the United States, either in a "penalty" envelope or under a duly authorized "frank," shall be entitled likewise to transmission in the mails free of postage between places in any possession of the United States, from one to another of such possessions, from the United States to such possessions, and from such possessions to the United States; also from the United States to Canada, Chile, Colombia, Costa Rica, Cuba, Dominican Republic, Ecuador, Guatemala, Haiti, Honduras (Republic of), Mexico, Newfoundland (including Labrador), Nicaragua, Panama, Paraguay, Peru, Salvador (El), Uruguay, and Venezuela.

Official matter may not be sent free by air mail but is chargeable with postage at the air-mail rates, except in the case of urgent official communications of the Postal Service only, when their prompt dispatch is desirable. (See par. 3, sec. 511, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

83. Copyright.—Matter for copyright deposited with a postmaster for transmission to the Register of Copyrights, Washington, D. C., will be accepted for mailing free of postage; and when requested a receipt therefor will be given on a form furnished by the sender. Such matter, however, may not be sent by registered mail without prepayment of the registry fee. (Sec. 623, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

84. For other free matter, see sections 620 to 625, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.

85. Penalty envelopes must be used for official matter.—Postmasters are directed not to use postage stamps or stamped paper of any kind for their official correspondence. Letters upon the official business of the Post Office Department are entitled to pass through the mails free of charge in penalty envelopes, and if registration is required, they are entitled to be registered without cost to the postmaster. (See secs. 615 and 1211, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

UNMAILABLE MATTER

86. Definition.—Unmailable domestic matter—that is, matter which is not admissible to the United States mails for dispatch or delivery in the United States or in any of its possessions—includes:

87. Address defective.—All matter illegibly, incorrectly, or insufficiently addressed.

88. Postage not prepaid.—First-class matter not prepaid one full rate—3 cents—and all other matter not fully prepaid, except business reply cards and letters in business reply envelopes mailed under the provisions of section 510, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, and hotel and steamship keys under paragraph 3, section 561.

89. Overweight and oversize.—All matter exceeding the limit of weight or size prescribed by law.

90. Game killed or offered for mailing in violation of law. (See art. 59, p. 19.)

91. Meat and meat-food products of cattle, sheep, swine, goats, and horses, presented without the required certificate of inspection or exemption. (See art. 58, p. 19.)

92. Plants and plant products not accompanied with certificate required or sent in violation of State laws. (See art. 62, p. 19.)

93. Poisons, liquors, live animals, fowls, etc.—All matter harmful in its nature, as poisons; explosive or corrosive articles; matches; live animals, fowls, insects, and reptiles (except as provided in secs. 588 and 594, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932); any articles exhaling a bad odor; and intoxicating liquors. The postal laws provide a severe penalty for the mailing of harmful articles and intoxicating liquors (see sec. 588, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932), and packages containing such matter shall be held awaiting instructions from the post-office inspector in charge of the division in which the office of mailing is located, who should be notified (see list of inspectors on p. 3).

94. Tinsel, glass.—Post cards and postal cards, bearing particles of glass, metal, mica, sand, tinsel, or other similar substances, are unmailable, except when inclosed in envelopes tightly sealed to prevent the escape of such particles, or when treated in such manner as will prevent the objectionable substance from being rubbed off.

95. Obscene and indecent.—All obscene, lewd, or lascivious matter, and every article or thing intended, designed, or adapted for any indecent or immoral purpose, or for the prevention of conception or procuring abortion, or matter of a character tending to incite arson, murder, or assassination.

96. Dunning postal cards.—In view of complaints received by the Department respecting the use of postal cards importuning the payment of debts, the attention of all postmasters and others is called to the provisions of Section 599, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932 (sec. 212, Criminal Code, March 4, 1909; 18 U. S. Code 335).

All matter otherwise mailable by law, upon the envelope or outside cover or wrapper of which or any postal card upon which, any delineations, epithets, terms, or language of an indecent, lewd, lascivious, obscene, libelous, scurrilous, defamatory, or threatening character, or calculated by the terms or manner or style of display and obviously intended to reflect injuriously upon the character or conduct of another, may be written or printed or otherwise impressed or apparent, are hereby declared nonmailable matter, and shall not be conveyed in the mails nor delivered from any post office nor by any letter carrier, and shall be withdrawn from the mails under such regulations as the Postmaster General shall prescribe. Whoever shall knowingly deposit or cause to be deposited, for mailing or delivery, anything declared by this section to be nonmailable matter, or shall knowingly take the same or cause the same to be taken from the mails for the purpose of circulating or disposing of or aiding in the circulation or disposition of the same, shall be fined not more than five thousand dollars, or imprisoned not more than five years, or both.

The Department has ruled that the clause of this section prohibiting delineations, epithets, terms, or language * * * calculated by the terms of manner or style of display and obviously intended to reflect injuriously upon the character or conduct of another, covers and makes unmailable cards by which it appears that the addressee is being dunned to effect payment of an account in such manner as to reflect upon the debtor for his failure to pay. This does not include cards that bear respectful requests for the settlement of accounts, or that give notice when an account, paper, assessment, taxes, gas bills, etc., will be due, and such cards are regarded as mailable. The provisions of this section against matter of a "threatening character" is held by the Department to cover and make unmailable cards that threaten the bringing of suits or legal proceedings if debts, accounts, etc., are not paid. This does not include cards that bear notice of assessments of fraternal and other societies which contain a respectful reference to the rules of such order or society that failure to pay such assessment will cause the member to be suspended or that his certificate will become void, if the assessment referred to does not appear to be past due.

Postmasters are expected to exercise vigilance in the enforcement of this regulation. If there is doubt as to whether a card should be excluded it should be forwarded to the Solicitor of the Post Office Department for a decision. It should be carefully noted that this regulation has no reference to matter that is under cover.

97. Libelous or obscene matter on envelopes, post cards, etc.—Section 599, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, declares unmailable all matter upon the envelope or outside cover or wrapper of which, or any postal card upon which, any delineations, epithets, terms, or language of an indecent, lewd, lascivious, obscene, libelous, scurrilous, defamatory, or threatening character, or calculated by the terms or manner or style of display and obviously intended to reflect injuriously upon the character or conduct of another, may be written or printed or otherwise impressed or apparent. Such matter should be withdrawn from the mails and treated in accordance with section 725, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932. If there is doubt as to whether a card or other matter is sufficiently objectionable as to warrant its exclusion, it should be forwarded to the Solicitor of the Post Office Department for a ruling. Postmasters are directed to exercise all possible vigilance in the enforcement of this regulation.

98. Lottery and fraud.—All matter concerning any lottery, so-called gift concert, or other enterprise of chance, or concerning schemes devised for the purpose of obtaining money or property under false pretenses.

99. Firearms.—Pistols, revolvers, and other firearms capable of being concealed on the person, with certain exceptions. (See sec. 607, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

PREPARATION, WRAPPING AND PACKING OF MAIL MATTER

(For packing of international mail see International Postal Service.)

100. For manner of preparing and wrapping mail matter see sections 560–594, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.

101. Envelopes or wrappers of weak or unsubstantial paper should not be used. Mail is handled often and subjected to pressure and friction in the mail bags, and frequently is delivered from moving trains; hence, if not inclosed in strong envelopes or wrappers, it may be damaged. It is recommended that stamped envelopes, on sale at all post offices, be used when practicable.

Envelopes, cards, folders, etc., should be of standard sizes. Those less than 2¾ inches by 4 inches or larger than 4 inches by 9 inches can not be conveniently handled and are, therefore, highly objectionable.

The use of metal clips for fastening pamphlets, folders, etc., is not permissible. For two or more pieces or packages of fourth-class matter fastened together, see Art. 50, p. 17.

102. Examination.—Second, third, and fourth class matter must be so wrapped, enveloped, or packed, that the contents may be examined easily by postal officials. When not so wrapped or packed the matter is not acceptable for mailing, and when bearing or containing writing not authorized by law, the matter will be treated as of the first class. (See "Sealed Parcels of Fourth-class Matter", art. 57, p. 18.)

103. Nailed boxes.—Parcel-post mail may be inclosed in boxes to which the lids are nailed or screwed, provided the lids can be readily removed with a chisel or screw driver for examination of contents.

104. Containers and packing.—All matter must be securely packed and wrapped or packed in a strong container so as to bear transmission without breaking or injuring the mail bags, their contents, or the persons handling them. Many articles are damaged in the mails because they are not properly packed to withstand the necessary handling.

Containers previously used for shipping high explosives having a liquid ingredient (such as dynamite) must not be used for shipments of any article by parcel post. Containers which have been used for the shipment of other high explosives must have all marks removed before being used for shipment of articles by parcel post.

Parcels improperly or insufficiently wrapped or packed will not be acceptable for transmission in the mails.

Accepting employees may be held financially responsible for any loss occasioned by their failure to see that articles accepted by them are not properly packed for handling in the mails.

Umbrellas, canes, golf sticks, and similar articles must be reinforced by strips of wood sufficiently strong to prevent breakage in the handling and transportation.

Hats must be packed in strong boxes of double-faced corrugated fiberboard of adequate size; if in ordinary pasteboard hat boxes, they must be securely crated.

Shoes must be packed in containers sufficiently strong to protect them from damage and render it reasonably sure that the parcels will reach destination in good condition. The ordinary shoe boxes of the better quality will be acceptable for this purpose when wrapped with tough paper and securely tied with strong twine. Shoes also may be wrapped in tough paper and the parcel tied with strong twine without being placed in a box or container of any kind.

Cut flowers and candies must be enclosed in strong containers securely fastened.

Mailable hides and pelts, that is, hides and pelts that have been thoroughly dried or cured and have no offensive odor, must be securely wrapped to prevent the escape of grease.

Books must have the edges well protected with stiff material and packed in a wooden or solid fiberboard or strong double-faced corrugated fiberboard box double lined with the same material.

105. Harmful articles not absolutely excluded from the mails, but which, from their form or nature, might, unless properly secured, destroy, deface, or otherwise damage the contents of the mail bag, or harm the person of anyone engaged in the Postal Service, may be transmitted in the mails only when packed in accordance with the postal regulations.

Pyroxylin plastics (celluloid, fiberloid, pyralin, viscoloid, zylonite, etc.) in sheets, rolls, or tubes must be packed in strong spark-proof wooden boxes and to each parcel must be attached the diamond-shaped yellow caution label described in section 588, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.

As an exception to the above, pyroxylin sheets in packages not exceeding one-half inch in thickness may be packed in containers made of two thicknesses of strong double-faced corrugated fiberboard and small quantities may be shipped in strong strawboard tubes lined with single-faced corrugated pasteboard.

Stove castings, plowshares, and pieces of machinery which have sharp points, edges, or corners must be protected with excelsior or similar material and be wrapped in burlap cloth, or tough paper, or be boxed. Such pieces that are clean and have no sharp points, edges, or corners which may damage other mail may be transmitted in the mails without wrapping, boxing, or crating.

Sharp-pointed or sharp-edged instruments or tools must have their points and edges protected so that they cannot cut through their covering, and must be thoroughly wrapped.

Powders and all pulverized dry substances must be so wrapped that none of the contents of the package will sift out.

Pastes, salves, etc., not easily liquefiable must be enclosed in watertight containers and placed in strong boxes and securely wrapped and tied.

106. Liquids.—Admissible liquids and oils in packages not exceeding the limit of weight of fourth-class matter will be accepted for mailing when intended for delivery at the office of mailing or on a rural route starting therefrom when enclosed in securely closed containers, provided it is not necessary to transport them over steam or electric railways.

Admissible liquids and oils, pastes, salves, or other articles easily liquefiable shall be accepted for mailing, regardless of distance, when they conform to the following conditions:

When in strong glass bottles holding 4 ounces or less, the total quantity sent in one parcel shall not exceed 24 ounces liquid measure. Each bottle shall be wrapped in paper or other absorbent substance and then all placed in a box made of cardboard or other suitable material and packed in a container made of double-faced corrugated pasteboard of good quality (or material of equal strength). The corners of the container shall fit tightly and be reinforced with tape, so as to prevent the escape of any liquid if the inside container should be broken, and the whole parcel shall be securely wrapped with strong paper and tied with twine. Such parcels shall be endorsed "Fragile—Liquid" and be dispatched inside of mail bags. Single bottles of liquid holding 4 ounces or less may also be packed as prescribed in the following paragraphs:

When in glass bottles holding more than 4 and not more than 16 ounces, the bottle shall be very strong and shall be enclosed in a block or tube of metal, wood, papier mâché, or similar material, and there shall be provided between the bottle and the block or tube a cushion of cotton, felt, or other absorbent. The block or tube, if of wood or papier mâché, shall be of sufficient strength to afford proper protection to contents and withstand handling in the mails, and shall be rendered watertight by an application on the inside of paraffin or other suitable substance and shall be closed by a screw-top cover with sufficient screw threads to require at least one and one-half complete turns before it will come off. The cover shall be provided with a washer, so that no liquid could escape if the bottle should be broken. Such bottles may also be packed in strong and tight receptacles of wood, metal, or waterproof corrugated pasteboard if surrounded with bran, sawdust, or other absorbent material in sufficient quantity to absorb all the liquid if the bottle should be broken. Parcels prepared in this manner shall be endorsed "Fragile—Liquid", and be dispatched inside of mail bags.

Mailable liquids, in quantities of more than 16 ounces, when in securely sealed glass bottles, shall be accepted for mailing when packed in strong boxes and surrounded with sawdust or other suitable substance to protect the contents from breakage. All such packages shall be marked "Fragile—Liquid. This Side Up", or with similar inscription, and be transported outside of mail bags.

Mailable liquids in securely closed (hermetically sealed or screw-top) metal containers when in quantities of less than 1 gallon and suitably boxed for shipment inside of mail bags shall be accepted for mailing, but when in friction-top cans the tops shall be securely soldered on or so fastened by effective indentations at not less than six places to prevent the tops from coming off or the cans be surrounded with sawdust, bran, or other suitable absorbent material in sufficient quantity to absorb all the liquid if the top of the can should come off. Such parcels shall be marked "Fragile—Liquid."

Mailable liquids in tightly closed metal containers in quantities of 1 gallon or more shall be accepted for mailing when suitably boxed or crated to be dispatched outside of mail bags and labeled "Fragile—Liquid. This Side Up", but when in extra strong metal containers such as heavy milk cans the boxing or crating may be omitted.

107. Fragile articles.—Articles easily broken must be securely packed in wooden or solid fiberboard or strong double-faced corrugated fiberboard boxes with ample cushioning material of excelsior, crushed paper, or the like, completely surrounding each article to prevent damage. All such parcels must be labeled "Fragile." Among such articles are amber, china, cigars, clocks, crockery, delicate mechanisms, dolls, drawings, fans, flowers, fountain pens, instruments of precision, jewelry, maps, millinery, musical instruments, paintings, pipes, plaster of paris articles, phonograph records, photographic and sensitive paper, pottery, porcelain, plumes, radios, toys of fragile nature, watches, and wax articles.

Spectacles, eyeglasses, fountain pens, and watches must be completely surrounded with cushioning material enclosed in a strong rigid box such as a strong double-faced corrugated fiberboard box. When an inside container is used and space permits, soft cushioning material must be placed next to the article.

Musical instruments must be well cushioned in wooden or solid fiberboard or double-faced corrugated fiberboard boxes. When rigid individual containers or cases are used, the instruments must first be cushioned in these separate containers when possible, before being packed in the outside container.

Pictures, drawings, paintings, and maps, when framed with glass fronts, must be protected on both sides with stout material, preferably boards, and enclosed in a wooden or solid fiberboard or a strong double-faced corrugated fiberboard box with cushioning material, such as excelsior, between the reinforced picture and the outside container. When unframed and flat, cushioning material is not required, but they must be protected by strong stiffening material, preferably a board, which should project beyond all sides of the article itself. When rolled, they must be enclosed in a strong mailing tube or carefully rolled around a strong smooth stick of greater length than the article itself and well wrapped.

Cigars must be in good shipping condition and packed in a manner to prevent damage by shock or jar.

Parcels containing nonfragile articles shall not be marked "Fragile."

Eggs shall be accepted for mailing when packed in crates, boxes, baskets, or other suitable containers, so constructed as properly to protect the contents. Such packages to be transported outside of mail bags. All parcels containing eggs shall be plainly marked "Eggs." When necessary, they should be marked "This side up." Considering the nature of eggs and in order to secure their safe transmission in the mails, they should be packed in separate containers without other merchandise.

Eggs for hatching shall be accepted for mailing, when each egg is wrapped separately and surrounded with excelsior, wood-wool, or other suitable material and packed in a basket, preferably with a handle, or other suitable container. Such parcels shall be labeled "Eggs for hatching," "Keep from heat and cold," "Please handle with care," or other suitable words, and shall be handled outside of mail sacks.

108. Perishable articles.—Postmasters and other employees shall endorse all parcels containing perishable articles with the word "perishable" on the wrapper directly above the name of the addressee. Articles likely to spoil within the time reasonably required for transportation and delivery shall not be accepted for mailing.

Butter, lard, and perishable articles, such as fish, fresh meats, dressed fowls, vegetables, fruits, berries, and articles of a similar nature which decay quickly, shall be accepted for mailing to any office which in the ordinary course of mail they can reach without spoiling, when inclosed in crates, boxes, baskets, or other suitable containers, so constructed as properly to protect the contents and prevent the escape of anything therefrom. If necessary for safe shipment, such parcels shall be transported outside of mail bags. Berries, fruits, and vegetables shall not be accepted for mailing unless they are in good dry shipping condition.

109. Parcel post mail—care in handling.—Postmasters, clerks, carriers, railway postal clerks, and all employees of the service are hereby warned that they will be held to strict account for damage to the mails for which they are responsible.

Clerks assigned to duty at the windows should be required to familiarize themselves with sections 587 to 594 of the Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, providing for the proper packing of mail matter, and instructed to accept for mailing only such parcels as are prepared in conformity therewith.

Bulky packages which can be transported in mail bags must be hand packed.

Packages which can not be safely handled in bags must be handled outside.

Heavy packages, such as castings, pieces of machinery, etc., must not be placed in bags with other mail matter which they are likely to damage on account of their weight.

Articles of a perishable nature must not be accepted unless they are in such condition at the time of mailing as reasonably to assure their arrival at destination, and delivery in good order; this is obligatory in order to protect other mail matter and save loss to the owner.

Parcel post packages liable to damage must not be thrown from moving trains, and must not be sent by postmasters to trains which do not stop at their stations.

All parcels must be promptly handled and dispatched, and special care must be used to prevent delay to perishable articles.

Whenever, in addition to the ordinary postage there shall be affixed to any parcel of mail matter of the fourth-class the proper postage with the words "Special handling" written or printed upon the wrapper, such parcel shall receive such expeditious handling, and transportation as is practicable.

Parcel post mail must not be thrown from cars, wagons, or trucks, but must be lifted therefrom, and it must be lifted into such vehicles.

Parcel post mail must not be thrown down chutes, embankments, etc., but must be carried on trucks or otherwise from place to place. It must be piled in cars and wagons with care and so that fragile parcels will not be underneath other mail and must not be sat or stood upon.

Officers and employees are expected to pay particular attention to the way mail is handled and promptly report violations of these instructions. Employees under the jurisdiction of the postmaster who fail to use due care in the handling of parcel post mail should be disciplined by him, and his action made known to the other employees through an official bulletin notice. Mail messengers and contractors and their employees, including employees of railroad companies, must handle mail with proper care. Dereliction on the part of an employee not under the direct supervision of the postmaster should be reported to the proper bureau of the Department.

WINDOW ENVELOPES

110. "Window" envelopes, to be mailable, must be so prepared that the "window" or transparent panel in the front through which the address on the inclosure is disclosed, will be parallel with the length of the envelope. The "window" shall not occupy any space within 1⅛ inches from the top, nor three-eighths of an inch from the bottom or ends of the envelope, and when covered shall be as transparent and free from glaze as possible. Colored windows are not permissible.

Such envelopes shall bear the card of the sender; that is, the name and address of the sender, which shall be placed in the upper left corner of the address side. The return card of the sender, to be complete as to the address, must show not only his name and the name of the post office and State, but when the post office is one having letter-carrier service must also show a street address or number of post-office box rented by him. The mere name of a building will not suffice for a street address. Although it is preferred that the return card include the sender's name, the latter may be omitted from ordinary mail bearing the sender's post-office box number and post-office address, or, in case the sender is the sole occupant of a building, the street and number of such building, with post office and State, will suffice. Also where the sender is the sole occupant of a particular room, the designation of the room, with the street and number of the building, post office and State, may be used.

No printing of advertising or of sentences or words of any kind within three-eighths of an inch of the "window" of window envelopes used for mailing purposes is permissible, nor on any part of such envelopes where it will interfere with a distinct postmark, rating indorsements, forwarding address, etc., but a plain, narrow border not exceeding approximately five thirty-seconds of an inch in width around the window is permissible. When desired, such a border, not exceeding approximately five thirty-seconds of an inch in width, may also be placed around the outer edges of envelopes. Request for Form 3547 should not be printed within three-eighths of an inch of the window unless it can not be avoided because of insufficient space.

The stationery used in "window" envelopes, or at least the portion upon which the exposed address appears, must be white, or, if colored, of a very light tint or shade. The use of dark-colored window envelopes or dark inclosures in such envelopes is not permissible. Nothing but the name and address of the addressee should appear on that part of the inclosure visible through the "window." Windows for any other purpose, including windows intended to disclose illustrations, are not permissible. The inclosures must be so folded that they will not shift around in the envelopes, obscuring the address in whole or in part. The address must be written clearly and boldly, preferably in typewriting, or with ink of a dense black or other strongly contrasting color. Changes in address must not be made on the "window" but on the opaque portion of the envelope. "Window" envelopes not conforming to the foregoing are unmailable.

ADDRESSING MAIL MATTER

111. Exercise care.—Because of carelessness in addressing and preparing matter for mailing, or failure of sender to place his name and address on it, millions of letters and other pieces of mail which can not be delivered or returned to the sender are each year sent to the Division of Dead Letters or a branch thereof. This seriously impairs the efficiency of the Postal Service and causes much additional expense. The practice of some business concerns of omitting street numbers, etc., from their stationery and advertisements results in increasing the volume of insufficiently addressed mail. The department urgently requests the public to exercise the greatest possible care to see that mail is sufficiently and correctly addressed, in order to secure its prompt and certain delivery, thereby relieving the Postal Service of much unnecessary expense and increasing its efficiency. A fee of five cents is charged for the return of undeliverable letters to senders from the Division of Dead Letters or the branches thereof, but letters bearing the card address of the sender are returned without additional charge from the post offices addressed.

112. Write plainly the name of the person addressed, street and number, number of rural route, or post-office box, and the name of the post office and State in full. When the name of the State is abbreviated, frequently Va. and Pa., Md. and Ind., Colo. and Calif., Miss. and Minn., and others are confused and mail missent, as in many instances post-office names are repeated in several different States.

113. Mail addressed to "Boxholder" may be accepted under the conditions prescribed by paragraph 6, section 585, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932. The number of boxes served by rural and star-route carriers from each office having rural or star-route delivery service and the number of post-office boxes at other than city letter carrier offices are shown in the list of Post Offices by States and Counties (County List) in this Guide.

114. Do not abbreviate or use lead pencil.

115. The words "general delivery" should not be used as a part of the address when delivery by city, village, or rural carrier can be effected, but only in cases where the addressee has no permanent address and it is known that he calls at the general delivery for his mail.

116. The words "personal" or "Deliver to addressee only" do not affect the delivery of ordinary mail, except as provided under "miscellaneous rules of delivery," beginning on page 43.

117. Directions for transmittal, delivery, forwarding, or return of mail are deemed part of address.

118. "In care of ——."—Mail addressed to one person in care of another will be delivered to the first of the two persons named who may call for it, or to the address of the person in whose care it is directed, in the absence of other instructions from the addressee.

119. Fictitious addresses.—Ordinary mail addressed to fictitious names of persons or firms, or to no particular person, will not be delivered unless directed to be delivered at a designated place, as a post-office box, street and number, or in the care of a person or firm receiving mail at the post office of address.

120. Postage stamps should be securely affixed to the upper right corner of the address side, care being taken that one does not overlap another. (See art. 4, p. 7.)

121. Space must be left on the address side of all mail sufficient for a legible address and for all directions permissible thereon, for postage stamps, postmarking, rating, and any words necessary for forwarding or return. Not less than 3½ inches of clear space should be left for such purposes at the right end of the address side of all envelopes, folders, or wrappers of mail matter, but a plain narrow border not exceeding approximately five thirty-seconds of an inch in width may be placed around the outer edges thereof. Envelopes, window and ordinary, and folders and wrappers should not be made of such dark colored stationery or bear on the address side so much printed matter in addition to the address as to contravene the foregoing provisions. It is preferable that all envelopes be made of white paper; when paper of any other color is used for envelopes, wrappers, or folders, it should be of very light tints of pink, yellow, robin's-egg blue, manila, etc.

When address labels or tags are used, the lower or right portion should be reserved for the name and address of the addressee, the sender's return card to be placed less prominently in the upper left corner and not on the back. The use of address labels or tags having the sender's name and address conspicuously printed or written in the lower portion frequently results in the matter being returned to the sender instead of being transmitted to the addressee.

122. Avoid delay by depositing mail early and continuously throughout the day, thus insuring prompt dispatch. Much mail is deposited just at the close of the business day, and frequently such congestion follows that all of it can not be distributed in time to be given the first dispatch.

RETURN CARDS

123. The sender's name and complete address must be placed on all fourth-class or parcel-post mail, on all "window" envelopes, on matter bearing the sender's pledge to pay return postage if undeliverable, on third and fourth-class matter bearing request for notice on Form 3547, and on all registered mail and should be placed on all other mail, in the upper left corner of the envelope or wrapper and not on the back. This will secure the return of first-class mail when undelivered, and of mail of other classes under certain conditions. (See "Undeliverable matter, page 45.")

124. A definite return address is required. The placing of two or more post-office addresses in the return card is not permissible; neither is it permissible to use a so-called "uniform" return request that the matter, if undeliverable, be returned to the "office of mailing," but the sender should place on his envelopes a definite (single) post-office address. If the office is one having letter-carrier service, the sender should give his street address or post-office box number.

125. Time specified.—A return request should not specify a number of days fewer than three nor more than thirty. If the sender does not specify the number of days within which such mail shall be delivered, it will be returned as provided in section 805, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.

126. Hotel envelopes.—If the sender of a letter mailed in the envelope of a hotel desires to have the letter returned if not delivered, he should add to the hotel card a request to that effect, as unclaimed letters bearing the card of a hotel, club, school, college or other public institution, which has evidently been printed upon the envelopes to serve as an advertisement, will not be returned unless the sender so requests.

DELIVERY OF MAIL

METHODS—TRANSIENTS—BOX RENTERS

1. Sections 776-797, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, contain the general rules governing the delivery of ordinary mail.

Government monopoly.—The Post Office Department has an absolute monopoly over the transportation and delivery of letters and packets of letters by regular trips or at stated periods on all post routes, and such matter may not be transported and delivered on a contract or piecework basis without violating the law unless enclosed in government-stamped envelopes as prescribed in the Postal Laws and Regulations. "Post routes" include any letter-carrier route in a city, and all public roads and highways while kept up and maintained as such. The term "letter" includes matter which conveys information between the writer and the recipient upon which the recipient relies, acts, or refrains from acting, such as gas, electric, water, and tax bills or other statements of accounts, orders for merchandise, etc. The Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, sections 1710 to 1725, inclusive, should be consulted for information in this respect. If in doubt whether matter comes within the classification of letters or whether it may be lawfully transported and delivered other than by the Post Office Department unless postage is affixed, samples should be submitted to the postmaster for advice. If necessary, the postmaster will refer the matter to the Solicitor for the Post Office Department for a ruling. Violations of the Private Express Statutes should be reported to the Chief Post Office Inspector.

2. Methods.—Four methods are used for the delivery of mail: (1) The general delivery; (2) through post-office boxes; (3) by carriers in cities and villages where delivery service is in operation; (4) by rural and star route carriers.

3. General delivery.—The general delivery of post offices having carrier-delivery service is intended only for the use of transients and those patrons who are not permanently located or who cannot, for good and sufficient reasons satisfactory to the postmaster, receive mail by carrier or through a post-office box. The use of the general delivery should be discouraged if it is possible to receive mail otherwise, but if a patron insists on receiving his or her mail through the general delivery the request must be complied with. Persons intending to remain for 30 days or more in a city having carrier service should file their names and street addresses at the post office so that their mail may be delivered by carrier unless lock-box service is desired or general-delivery service insisted upon. Persons applying for mail at the general-delivery window, if unknown, may be required to prove identity, and residents of cities having carrier service who call at the general delivery may be required to furnish a statement as to names and addresses and reasons for calling at the post office for mail instead of receiving it by carrier. (See sec. 779, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

4. Post-office boxes are provided for the convenience of the public in the delivery of mail. Box rents must be paid quarterly in advance. The use of a box is restricted to one individual, family, firm, or corporation. The renter of a box may have delivered through it mail for his family, guests, transient boarders, employees who are members of his household, and, for a period not to exceed 30 days, mail of a person addressed in his care. A box rented by a firm may be used for the delivery of its mail, and by the consent of each member of the firm, the individual mail of each, of his household, and of the firm's office employees. A box rented by a corporation, association, or society may be used for the delivery of mail addressed to it and its officials. Boxes rented by schools, colleges, or public institutions, if consistent with the rules and usage thereof, may be used for the delivery of mail addressed to officers, students, employees, and inmates. Mail delivered to post-office boxes shall not be withdrawn and subsequently delivered by carrier, as placing in the box constitutes delivery.

CITY DELIVERY SERVICE

5. Section 782, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, which governs the delivery of mail at city delivery offices is amplified by the instructions below.

6. Requirements for establishment.—City delivery service may be established at any city having adjusted postal receipts of at least $10,000 for the preceding fiscal year and having a population of 2,500 or more residing within territory possessing good continuous sidewalks, paved streets, house numbers, street lights and signs, and mail receptacles or door slots. The territory must also be 50 percent improved with houses.

7. Receptacles.—Patrons of the city or village delivery service must provide mail receptacles. The receptacle may be either a suitable box or a slot cut in the front door. If slots are provided they must be 8 by 1½ inches in size and placed not less than 30 inches from the finished floor line. Postmasters must not commence the delivery of mail to any residence where this requirement has not been met. Business houses will not be required to provide receptacles if they are open and someone is on hand to receive mail when the carrier calls. In such cases postmasters should request the owners or managers of the business houses to designate a location near the street entrance at which delivery may be made.

8. Delivery of mail to office buildings.—Carriers are not required to deliver mail to offices located above the first floor of buildings not equipped with elevators. In such cases, receptacles should be provided on the first floor. Where office buildings are equipped with elevators, the carriers may make delivery to the individual offices provided the doors are equipped with door slots, the clear rectangular opening in the outside slot plate to be 1½ inches wide and 7 inches in length. The slot shall have a spring flap, hinged at the top, if placed horizontally, and hinged on the side away from the hinge edge of the door, if placed vertically. When the hinged flap is pushed back it shall not obstruct the 1½ by 7-inch opening in the slot plate. The size of chute shall conform to the slot-plate opening. When a hooded plate is used inside to provide greater privacy, the bottom line of the hooded portion shall be not more than three-quarters of an inch below the bottom line of the slot in the outside plate, if placed horizontally, or more than three-quarters of an inch beyond the side line of the slot in the outside plate nearest the hinge edge of door, if placed vertically. The hood at its greatest projection shall be not less than 2$\frac{1}{16}$ inches beyond the inside face of the door. Copies of these regulations, which were printed in the Postal Bulletin of December 19, 1930, under the caption "Mail Door Slots—Office Buildings", may be secured upon application to the Bureau of the First Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Post Office Service. These slots should be placed not less than 30 inches from the finished floor line.

9. Apartment-house mail receptacles.—Approved apartment-house mail receptacles, one for each apartment, conforming to the apartment-house mail receptacle regulations pamphlet and amendments should be provided in apartment houses, family hotels and flats containing three or more apartments except where the management has arranged that mail for the tenants be delivered at the office or desk for distribution by its employees. Directory boards, showing the names of all persons receiving mail, should be provided in apartment houses where there are 25 or more receptacles. Copies of the apartment-house mail receptacle regulations pamphlet and amendments may be secured upon application to the First Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Post Office Service.

10. Mail chutes.—Mailing chutes and receiving boxes may be placed, subject to the approval of the postmaster, in public buildings, railroad stations, hotels and business or office buildings of not less than four stories in height and apartment houses comprising not less than 40 residential apartments. These mail chutes must conform to the requirements outlined in the mail-chute regulations, copies of which may be secured upon application to the First Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Post Office Service.

11. Heavy or bulky packages of mail of any class shall be delivered as addressed if facilities are available.

12. Parcel-post delivery.—Parcels must not be left on porches, steps or elsewhere unprotected (except upon written order of patron), but must be delivered in person to addressee, his representative or agent.

13. Second attempt.—If an ordinary parcel fails of delivery on the carrier's first attempt (he having rung the bell or knocked at the door and waited long enough to be convinced that no one is at home), a notice, Form 1513-A, should be left, the parcel returned to the post office, and a second attempt made to effect delivery on the next trip. See art. 66, p. 41, as to ordinary perishable parcels.

14. Parcel-post mail for patrons residing within the city delivery limits who receive mail through rented boxes will be delivered to a designated street address by carrier upon written request.

15. Parcel-post deliveries to stores, factories, etc.—Carriers should not be required to walk back 150 and 200 feet through crowded aisle ways of stores nor should they be required to make deliveries to concerns whose offices are located on the second floor. In all such instances postmasters should endeavor to secure the cooperation of the management of such stores and factories to the extent that they will designate a location near the street entrance at which delivery may be made.

16. Carrier mail called for at post office.—Postmasters are not required to withdraw mail in the course of delivery by carrier in order to deliver it to callers. This does not apply to holidays on which carrier deliveries are suspended. (Mail is considered to be in course of delivery as soon as it has been distributed to the carriers.)

17. Time cards.—The time of reporting, leaving, returning, and ending for each trip must be accurately recorded by the regular carriers on time-card Form 3900-E, and by the substitutes on card Form 3902-E. The entries on these cards must be made at the beginning and end of each trip, and not be deferred until the close of the day.

18. Registered, insured, C. O. D., and special delivery articles must be delivered to the addressee or his authorized agent in person, without regard to the floor on which his office or apartment is located. (See sec. 1090, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.) However, postmasters should make every effort to obviate the necessity of city carriers going above the first floor in apartment houses. Where available, the telephone or speaking tube should be used, the carrier to call such patrons before distributing his ordinary mail to the receptacles. When such equipment is not available, or where preferable, cooperation of patrons or management of apartment houses should be obtained to the end that someone, such as the janitor or telephone operator, be designated to receive mail of this character on the first floor for all patrons residing in apartment houses. In such cases it will be necessary to obtain the written order of each patron.

19. Mail of these classes must also be delivered to the addressee or his agent when the house to which it is addressed is located within a reasonable distance, not more than 2 or 3 blocks, from the carrier's line of travel. It should also be delivered to a residence located on the rear of a lot even if there is a building erected on the front.

20. City delivery limits must not be extended by postmasters without specific authority from the Department. (See sec. 903, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.) Such authority will be given when the territory to which it is proposed to extend service is provided with improved streets, good continuous sidewalks, street lights and street signs, and when the houses are numbered and provided with mail receptacles, or slots in the front doors, for the receipt of mail. The territory should be not less than 50 percent improved with houses. When two or more building lots constitute the grounds of one residence the plot may be regarded as improved. It is preferable that the new territory be contiguous, but this is not an absolute requirement. Walks of any material, including gravel and cinders, that render them passable throughout the year, are acceptable. When new territory is ready for service postmasters should immediately report to the department with a detailed statement of conditions and should not wait for patrons to submit a petition for such service.

21. When recommending an extension of service the postmaster must certify that each of the foregoing requirements is met, and must show clearly the relation of the extension to the adjacent territory being served, the number of deliveries to be made daily, whether foot or mounted, the population within the proposed extension, the number of stops, the distance the carrier will travel, the time required to serve the new territory, and whether the extension can be made with present carrier force without additional expense. A sketch or map should be submitted showing each street involved.

In connection with all requests for the extension of city delivery postmasters shall, either in person or through competent supervisors, make careful survey of the territory in question, and, in the event it meets the requirements, recommend the extension. If in doubt postmasters should submit to the department a detailed statement of conditions and request advice.

22. Service to patrons located outside city delivery limits may be given by having them erect boxes on the carrier's line of travel for delivery of their mail. Special delivery, insured, c. o. d., and registered mail as indicated in paragraph 19, p. 35, should be delivered to out-of-bound box patrons, provided this can be done without the expenditure of too much additional time.

VILLAGE DELIVERY SERVICE

(See secs. 949 to 963, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932)

23. Requirements for establishment.—Village delivery service may be established at any village or town having adjusted postal receipts of at least $5,000 for the preceding fiscal year and having a population of 1,500 or more residing in territory possessing the requisite civic improvements. The civic improvements required are the same as those outlined in paragraph 6 for city delivery service.

24. Extensions and changes.—Postmasters must closely supervise the operation of the village delivery service. At any time when the delivery limits can properly be extended to accommodate additional patrons in territory where the necessary civic improvements, such as sidewalks, street signs, house numbers and private mail receptacles have been provided, or when any other change can be made to advantage, the matter should be taken up with the First Assistant, Division of Post Office Service, with a definite recommendation in the premises. (See par. 21, above.)

25. Receptacles.—The requirements are the same as set forth in paragraph 7, p. 34.

26. Service to patrons located outside village delivery limits may be given by having them erect boxes on the carrier's line of travel for delivery of their mail. This permission should be held within reasonable bounds, of course, and is intended to give service to patrons who are located two or three blocks outside of the village delivery limits and who can not receive delivery by rural carrier.

27. Supervision of carriers.—Village carriers are under the control of the postmaster and must obey his orders, based on the Postal Laws and Regulations, regarding the discharge of their duties. He must carefully supervise their work and see that they cover their routes expeditiously and render efficient service. Derelictions or misconduct of any kind must be promptly reported to the First Assistant, Division of Post Office Service.

28. Annual inspections.—Village delivery routes shall be inspected annually as provided in the pamphlet entitled "Supervision of city delivery service," and reports submitted in either April or October.

29. Change of carriers.—All village carriers are classified civil service employees, and changes in their status must be made in accordance with civil service laws, rules, and regulations. Forms 1531 and 1532 must be used when changes occur. It should be noted that Form 1531 must be forwarded to the district civil service manager for his approval and transmission to the department. This form must be used in all cases where recommendation is made for a new employee, whether a regular, a temporary, or a substitute carrier. Females are not appointed to the position of village carrier. Vouchers must be made out and credit claimed on the quarterly statement in accordance with appointments authorized by the department.

30. Work of carriers.—The work of village carriers shall be restricted to the collection and delivery of mail, and duties incident thereto in the post office. They must not be required or permitted to do any general utility work of a clerical nature in the post office, that is, work not directly connected with their duties as carriers.

31. Care in handling mail.—Mail matter intrusted to carriers must not be exhibited to persons other than those addressed, except on the order of the postmaster or some one authorized to act for him. Letters collected, or letters for delivery, must not be carried by carriers in their pockets or clothing. Carriers must not throw away or improperly dispose of mail matter, however trifling or unimportant it may appear to them.

32. Conduct of carriers.—In the performance of their duties carriers must be civil, prompt, and obliging. They must attend quietly and diligently to their duties, must not loiter or stop to converse on their routes, and must refrain from loud talking, profane language, and smoking in the office and on their routes. They must not borrow money or contract debts which they have no reasonable prospect of being able to pay, and are expected to settle their just debts. They must not enter any house while on their trips, except in the discharge of their official duties, and must not deviate from their respective routes. Carriers must refrain from improper conduct of any character under penalty of appropriate punishment, or separation from the service. (See sec. 929, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

33. Loitering in post office.—Carriers must not report prior to schedule time for the first trip of the day, must not remain at their desks or in the workroom of the office when not on duty, and must not remain in the post office after completing the last trip of the day.

34. Hours of service.—Regular village-delivery carriers ordinarily should not be required to work more than eight hours a day, and their routes should be laid out and schedules arranged to provide full eight hours service on normal days. However, they shall be required to continue on duty each day until their work is completed.

Where two or more regular carriers are employed their routes should be adjusted so as to equalize the work as nearly as possible. For this purpose, or to improve the service, postmasters may make necessary adjustments within the authorized delivery limits.

35. Overtime.—Overtime can not be paid village delivery carriers except for services rendered on the last three Saturdays in the calendar year where the exigencies of the service require such payment in lieu of the granting of compensatory time, and then not more than eight hours' overtime can be paid for overtime services rendered on any one of these three days.

36. Time cards.—The time of reporting, leaving, returning, and ending for each trip must be accurately recorded by the regular carriers on time-card Form 3900–E, and by the substitutes on card Form 3902–E. The entries on these cards must be made at the beginning and end of each trip, and not be deferred until the close of the day. However, should postmasters so desire time record Form 3988 may be used for recording carrier time in lieu of the time-cards mentioned above, suitable alterations to be made thereon for proper entry.

37. Salary and promotions.—The salaries of village carriers are fixed by law, the entrance rate being $1,150 per annum. At the beginning of the first quarter after a year's satisfactory service, the salary is increased to $1,250 per annum, and after two years to $1,350, which is the maximum. Thirty days before the end of each quarter postmasters shall submit on Form 1530 in triplicate, recommendations regarding increases for village carriers who may be entitled to promotion. If, for any reason, however, an increase in salary should not be granted, a report of the facts shall be transmitted to the First Assistant, Division of Post Office Service, on Form 1534.

38. Leave.—The instructions on pages 94, 95 and 96 concerning vacation, military leave, sick leave, and leave without pay for post-office employees apply equally to village carriers.

For instructions covering leave with pay for National Guard duty, see paragraph 97, page 96.

39. Employment of substitute village carriers.—At offices where Village Delivery Service is in operation there shall be one regular substitute village carrier, who shall be selected from a civil-service register. When vacancies occur in regular village carrier positions the substitutes must be advanced in order of their standing by promotion. In the absence of a regular village carrier the substitute should be employed in his stead. If a substitute is not available, selection of one must be made from the eligible register. If no one can be secured from the register, any capable person between the ages of 18 and 45 may be employed. In either case recommendation for appointment of the person selected as temporary substitute must be forwarded on Form 1531, in triplicate, to the department through the office of the district civil-service manager. (See par. 75, p. 91.)

40. Payment of substitute village carriers.—Advance allowances must be secured for the employment of substitutes at the rate of 50 cents per hour incident to vacancies, absence without pay, sick leave, or annual leave.

All allowances will be granted on the 96½ per cent basis, except in the event a temporary substitute village carrier is employed, who should be paid at the 100 per cent rate, and at the close of each quarter report should be made of all payments on Form 1909, care being exercised to see that payments are reported under the proper headings. All excess expenditures shown on this report as being chargeable to the 3½ per cent retirement deduction will be certified to the comptroller so that proper credit may be allowed.

41. Rate of pay.—Compensation for substitute service will be made at the rate of 50 cents per hour for the actual number of hours of service performed. (See par. 54, p. 87, under the caption "Compensation and Employment of Substitutes.")

42. Deductions for the retirement fund.—Regular village carriers and classified civil service substitute village carriers must be paid 96½ per cent of their full salaries in accordance with "United States Post Office Department Salary Tables, 1926." Persons serving as temporary substitute village carriers must be paid 100 per cent of their earned compensation.

43. Payments, vouchers, and claims for credit.—Village carriers should be paid semimonthly—that is at the middle and close of each month. Receipts should be taken semimonthly from each regular carrier on Form 1591–b and from each substitute village carrier on Form 1593–b. The left-hand or record portion of Form 1591–b and 1593–b will be permanently preserved among the records of the post office. At second-class offices the voucher for the quarter's salary should be detached and forwarded, together with quarterly summary, Form 1858, by the postmaster with his quarterly postal account to the Comptroller of the Post Office Department. At third class offices the voucher for the quarterly salary should also be detached and forwarded together with the summary, Form 1858, by the postmaster with his quarterly account, Form 1545–A, to the Central Accounting Postmaster.

44. Utilization of services of rural carriers.—At offices where rural delivery is in operation, postmasters may utilize the services of rural carriers in the delivery of parcel-post packages addressed to patrons of village delivery. Rural carriers, however, must not be required to deviate from their official line of travel to make extra trips or to enter buildings to make deliveries, and they must not allow the mail in their care and custody to be out of their sight nor at a greater distance than 50 yards. This additional service must not be allowed to cause any difference in the schedule fixed for the service of rural routes.

Any person residing on a rural route, outside of city or village delivery limits, may avail himself of the service of the rural carrier by complying with the requirement as to boxes. (See sec. 965, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

45. Auxiliary expenditure.—No expenditure shall be made in connection with village delivery service unless specifically authorized by the department. If an auxiliary allowance is needed, the necessity therefor must be reported to the First Assistant, Division of Post Office Service.

46. Uniform.—Village carriers are required to wear while on duty a uniform the same as that prescribed for city carriers as described in section 920 of the Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.

SPECIAL DELIVERY SERVICE

47. Sections 1075 to 1103, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, govern special-delivery mail. (See also secs. 719 and 761.) Instructions herein contained, relative to "messengers," shall apply to classified substitutes when they are assigned to deliver special-delivery articles. (Also see the instructions in the pamphlet entitled, "Supervision of City Delivery Service," under the heading "Special Delivery Service.")

48. Special-delivery service is the prompt handling, transportation, and delivery of mail by messenger during prescribed hours to points within a radius of 1 mile of any post office or delivery station or branch of such office, and within the city or village delivery limits of offices having delivery service where such limits extend in excess of 1 mile from the post office, station, or branch, and by rural carrier to patrons of rural service who reside more than 1 mile from the post office, station, or branch, but within one-half mile of the rural route. All special delivery mail must be handled and transported in the same manner and with the same expedition as first-class mail.

The law enjoins upon postmasters the duty of routing and delivering special-delivery mail promptly on receipt. It is the purpose of the department to make this service what its name implies—a real special-delivery service—and to this end the cooperation of every postmaster and post-office employee is essential.

Outlying delivery.—In the evening hours at offices where telephone service is authorized, when special-delivery mail is received addressed to outlying sections of the special-delivery limits, if the addressee may be reached by telephone, inquiry may be made whether the delivery of the article is desired that evening or whether it may be deferred until the first special delivery the following morning. Tests have shown that in about 75 per cent of such cases the addressee prefers delivery the following morning. This obviates the necessity of sending messengers on long runs in outlying sections after dark.

Special-delivery mail, which does not bear an address within the special-delivery limits, for patrons of city and village-delivery services who reside outside of the special-delivery limits but have boxes located on the streets within the carrier delivery limits, shall be delivered at their residences.

Late-hour deliveries.—Special-delivery mail which can be delivered by 11 o'clock should be sent out by messengers and arrangements should be made for the delivery of important mail after that hour if it arrives in the office before that hour and the addressee has indicated that its delivery is desired.

Special-delivery mail shall be delivered at all offices, except those having City Delivery Service, from 7 a. m. to 7 p. m. and after the arrival of the last mail, provided this is not later than 9 p. m. This means that all such mail received up to the usual closing time of the post office shall be delivered, and likewise mail received between the usual closing hour and 9 p. m. shall also be delivered and not held over for delivery the next day. If a mail or mails arrive between 9 p. m. on Saturday and 6 p. m. Sunday, special-delivery mail shall be delivered on Sunday. At third- and fourth-class post offices special delivery mail shall be delivered on Sunday if the office is open to the public on that day. (See par. 5, sec. 436 and sec. 1087, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

Furthermore, upon the receipt in post offices of mail intended for special-delivery service, either letters or parcels, it must be segregated from all other mail and quick delivery made by special-delivery messengers.

All special-delivery mail, either letters or parcels, shall be specially delivered to all patrons who reside within a distance of 1 mile from the post office.

All special-delivery mail, addressed to patrons of the Rural Delivery Service received at post offices after the departure of the rural carriers and who reside more than 1 mile from the post office, should not be held for delivery until the next day if it is possible to notify such patron by telephone or otherwise, without expense to the Department, of the receipt of special-delivery mail, so that the addressee may be given an opportunity to call at the post office for the special-delivery matter.

Civilian Conservation Corps camps.—Mail messengers of such camps should be required to sign for special-delivery mail in bulk when it is delivered to them on post office premises. Mail messengers for such camps are not entitled to special-delivery fees for specials signed for by them.

49. Classified substitutes instead of special-delivery messengers to effect delivery where practicable.—At city and village delivery offices, where practicable, the delivery of special-delivery matter should be effected by substitute carriers and clerks instead of by special-delivery messengers. When carriers or clerks effect the delivery of special-delivery matter, they shall be paid the fees fixed by law, provided delivery is made by them during periods when they are not being paid for the rendition of auxiliary or substitute service. While preference should be given to substitute carriers in effecting the delivery of special-delivery matter, especially those who have provided themselves with uniforms, it is contemplated and expected that such special-delivery work will be assigned to substitute clerks as will equalize, as far as practicable, the earnings of both substitute carriers and substitute clerks.

These instructions should not be construed as authority for summarily discharging special-delivery messengers now employed who have invested in vehicles and purchased uniforms, but occurring vacancies should not be filled if substitute clerks and carriers are available for that service. Postmasters are not permitted to arrange with telegraph companies or other message-carrying organizations or with employees thereof for delivery of special-delivery mail. However, the Department will interpose no objections to the employment as a special-delivery messenger of the same person who delivers messages or telegrams for telegraph companies or other message-carrying organizations, provided the messenger is employed during certain periods of the day when needed to deliver only specials; that the messenger is personally paid all fees; that he is not wearing the uniform of the message-carrying organization by whom he is also employed part time, and that he will be identified as a special-delivery messenger by wearing a special-delivery badge.

50. All special-delivery letters and special-delivery parcels shall be specially delivered by messengers except in cases where equally efficient and expeditious service can be rendered by the regular letter carriers. At offices where it has been the practice to deliver special-delivery parcels as ordinary parcel-post mail by means of the regular parcel-post trucks, arrangements must be made for special delivery by messengers with small trucks or motor cycles with side cars.

Special-delivery articles must be so assigned that there will be no undue delay in delivery after the messenger leaves the office. In no case, except in outlying suburban sections of large cities, should more than one hour and a half elapse between the time of arrival of special-delivery matter in a post office and delivery to the addressee. All complaints of delay in the delivery of specials must be promptly and thoroughly investigated and all necessary corrective measures applied. Particular attention must be given to complaints of delay to perishable parcels such as flowers, etc.

At third and fourth class post offices, arrangements must be made for the employment of messengers when necessary to insure the prompt delivery of all special-delivery articles received, in accordance with the regulations.

When a special-delivery article addressed to a patron residing outside the special-delivery limits is received the postmaster should endeavor to communicate with the addressee as promptly as possible by telephone or otherwise but without expense to the department, in order that such article may be called for.

Postmasters and other employees shall endorse every special-delivery article with the words "SPECIAL DELIVERY" on the envelope or wrapper directly above the name of the addressee, except in the case of ordinary sized long and short envelopes bearing the distinctive special-delivery stamp. (See par. 4, sec. 1075, of the Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, as amended.)

51. Uniforms and badges for messengers.—See section 1099, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932. At offices where the special-delivery messengers are now wearing uniforms not conforming to the regulations, the department will not insist upon their securing new uniforms to comply with the regulations until such time as the uniforms they now have need replacement.

52. Special-delivery rates.—(The statute enacted May 29, 1928.) (Sec. 1077, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

First-class mail.—In addition to the regular postage:

10 cents on first-class mail weighing not more than 2 pounds.

20 cents on first-class mail weighing more than 2 pounds but not exceeding 10 pounds.

25 cents on first-class mail weighing more than 10 pounds.

All classes of mail except first class.—In addition to the regular postage, and including special handling:

15 cents on matter weighing not more than 2 pounds.

25 cents on matter weighing more than 2 pounds but not more than 10 pounds.

35 cents on matter weighing more than 10 pounds.

53. Special delivery without special handling.—The law makes no provision for special-delivery service without special-handling service. Special-delivery service necessarily carries with it special-handling service.

54. Special handling rates without special delivery (par. 5, sec. 571, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932).—(On matter of the fourth class only), in addition to the regular postage, as follows:

10 cents on parcels weighing not more than 2 pounds.

15 cents on parcels weighing more than 2 pounds but not more than 10 pounds.

20 cents on parcels weighing more than 10 pounds.

55. Special delivery and special handling defined.—In explanation of the advantages offered by the special delivery and special handling services, it should be stated that the volume of the parcel post is such that parcels and other bulky mail must be consolidated at offices of origin where the quantity necessitates it and at points where mails are transferred between railways, into carloads which are dispatched at stated hours each day less frequently than first-class mail is dispatched.

The affixing of special delivery postage at the required rate to matter of the second, third, or fourth class gives such matter precedence over bulk mail and entitles it to prompt distribution, dispatch, and transportation the same as first-class mail, also immediate delivery at the office of destination.

The affixing of special handling postage at the required rate to matter of the fourth class entitles it to prompt distribution, dispatch, and the most expeditious handling and transportation practicable, but not to immediate delivery at the office of destination.

For example: An ordinary parcel from Washington to points in Florida is dispatched at 10.55 a. m. each day in a storage car, whereas if it bears the required special-delivery rate it will be dispatched and transported on the first train carrying mail of the first class and will be immediately delivered at the office of destination. If the parcel bears the required special-handling rate, it will be dispatched and transported on the first train carrying first-class mail, and will be delivered at the office of destination the same as mail of the first class. Other examples applicable to their offices will occur to postmasters.

When through inadvertence a parcel of fourth-class matter prepared for mailing as special-handling or as special-delivery matter is partly but not fully prepaid, and it is not practicable to collect the deficiency from the sender without delaying the parcel, it should be rated with the amount due and dispatched, the deficiency to be collected upon delivery. In such case, however, the sender should be advised that it is expected that the full postage, together with the proper special-handling or special-delivery charge, will be prepaid on parcels mailed in future.

56. Postmasters should give the widest publicity possible to these features of the special-delivery and special-handling service by the use of the local press, placards, and circular letters to business men and business and civic organizations and clubs, without expense to the department, and through the contact with the public of window clerks and letter carriers.

Special-delivery and special-handling mail other than first class shall be sacked separately from other second, third, and fourth class mails and be given the same dispatch and handling in closed pouch trains as is accorded pouches of letters, and when dispatched on R. P. O. trains will be handled in postal cars as far as practicable. All post offices will make up a direct sack in every case where there are two or more parcels the size of an ordinary shoe box or larger, addressed to the same post office. Where direct sacks of daily papers are made up in a post office or an R. P. O. train and the quantity of special-delivery or special-handling parcels is not sufficient to warrant a direct sack for those offices, the special-delivery and special-handling packages may be included in the direct sacks of daily papers. At the smaller offices where the quantity is insufficient to warrant directs and the character of the parcels is such as not to injure first-class matter, they should be pouched with letter mail. Any residue special-handling and special-delivery mail remaining after all directs have been made must be distributed by States and dispatched under "State" labels in accordance with the standpoint scheme of dispatch for first-class mails, for distribution in R. P. O. trains.

Distinctive special-delivery and special-handling tags will be attached to all sacks containing such mail so that they may be readily recognized and given immediate attention. These tags must be removed when sacks are emptied.

Under no circumstances will special-delivery or special-handling mail be dispatched to Railway Mail Service terminals or to post offices where similar distribution is performed for redistribution, but must be handled, dispatched, and transported the same as first-class mail, and all special-delivery mail must be given special delivery at the office of address.

When it is necessary and proper to handle special-delivery and special-handling mail in baggage or storage cars, it must be piled with the letter mail for unloading and handling to post offices and connecting lines.

This consolidation will permit of a considerable saving in the use of equipment and also in many cases permit of a reduction in the cost of mail transportation where the units of space are based upon the number of sacks carried therein.

57. Upon receipt at office of address all special-delivery mail will be immediately segregated, sent to the special-delivery section, back-stamped, and specially delivered.

On arriving at office of destination special-handling parcels will be delivered as parcel post is ordinarily delivered on the regular scheduled trips, provided that postmasters must deliver on the day of receipt all special-handling parcels received in the office in time to distribute for delivery up to the hour the last foot-carrier delivery begins. In other words, all special-handling parcels received in any office a sufficient length of time prior to the beginning of the last foot-carrier delivery of the day must be delivered on that day the same as the letter mail is delivered and not held over until the next trip of the parcel-post carrier the following morning.

58. Fees to messengers.—The fees payable to messengers are as follows:

9 cents on first-class mail weighing not more than 2 pounds.

10 cents on matter other than first class weighing not more than 2 pounds.

15 cents on matter of any class weighing more than 2 pounds but not in excess of 10 pounds.

20 cents on matter of any class weighing in excess of 10 pounds.

59. Responsibility.—Postmasters will be held responsible for organizing the service as directed in notices appearing in the Postal Guide Supplements of November 1927 (two notices), December, 1927, and March 1928. Postmasters should strive to keep the average period of a "run" within one hour. Frequently it will be much less, and it should not exceed one hour except in unusual conditions.

Messengers must be employed in such numbers and at such times as will insure fulfillment of the contract between the mailer and the Government for the special-delivery service prescribed in the law.

Under the law postmasters are responsible for the delivery of special-delivery mail, but at all first- and second-class post offices special-delivery messengers shall be required to give bond in the sum of $1,000 where their earnings are such as to enable their regular employment at a reasonable compensation. Bond Form 1117 shall be used for this purpose.

60. Supervision.—Postmasters are enjoined to give special attention to effecting the proper organization of the special-delivery service, and either themselves or through the properly designated supervisory officer to see that the organization is maintained. Messengers must be fully instructed in their duties and required to thoroughly familiarize themselves with all regulations and rules governing their work and the handling of special-delivery mail. In order to determine that proper service is given, the work of the messengers should be frequently checked to see whether deliveries are being made as reported. This may be done by specific inquiries as to undelivered mail, by careful scrutiny of the reports of the messengers, and by observation of their work while on duty. If necessary, the foreman of carriers should be used in this work.

61. Hours of delivery.—From 7 a. m. to 11 p. m. at city delivery offices, and from 7 a. m. to 7 p. m. at all other offices, or until after the arrival of the last mail, provided that be not later than 9 p. m. Special-delivery matter of all classes, including registered and insured, will be delivered on Sundays at all post offices of the first and second classes receiving mail on that day, such deliveries to be made immediately after the receipt of each mail, and at other offices if the mail or mails arrive between 9 p. m. on Saturday and 6 p. m. on Sunday, special-delivery mail shall be delivered on Sunday. Special-delivery service will be performed at all offices on holidays.

62. Receipt must be taken from the person to whom any special-delivery article is personally delivered, but when personal delivery cannot be effected and a receipt taken, special-delivery ordinary mail may be placed in the usual mail receptacle, including door slots and apertures under doors as provided in section 1090, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932. A second attempt to effect delivery of special-delivery articles shall be made only in instances when the mail is directed to a former address for which a change of address is found to be on file, and then only when delivery by regular carrier would be less prompt. However, no additional fee is payable because of the necessity in the instances referred to of making a second attempt to effect delivery. Special-delivery articles which for any cause fail of delivery as such shall be returned to the office and disposed of as ordinary mail in accordance with the regulations.

63. Recording.—At city-delivery offices receipt Form 3951 must be used in recording all specials received for delivery.

At offices where the quantity warrants, special-delivery mail shall be routed to messengers and the number of letters and parcels assigned to each messenger shall be charged on special-delivery talley sheet Form 1597, which is also a record of the fees payable.

The messenger will then accurately and legibly fill out the receipt form in accordance with the information called for thereon, including the date, his own number, and the number of pieces of mail. The pieces will be listed on the receipt form in order of delivery. Registered, postage due, insured, and C. O. D. pieces will be indicated by proper notation in the margin opposite the entry, using letter abbreviations as shown on form. The record on Form 3951 will be made in duplicate.

After filling out the receipt form in duplicate the messenger will return it, together with the letters or parcels, to the official or the clerk in charge, who will see that the original and duplicate correspond, and then check the form against the letters or parcels, verify the entries, enter upon the form the section of the city in which the deliveries are to be made and the time of leaving by the messenger, return the original of the form and letters or parcels to the messenger for delivery, and retain the duplicate. The messenger shall not lose this form.

Upon effecting delivery the messenger will obtain the signature of the person to whom delivery is made in the column headed "Signature" after the proper entry, and in the event receipt is not obtained will indicate in that column his disposition of that piece of mail.

Upon his return from each trip each messenger will surrender the original receipt form and all undelivered mail to the official or the clerk in charge, who will check the original of the form against the duplicate held by him, as well as against the undelivered mail returned, to see that all mail given the messenger has been properly disposed of and accounted for, and enter thereon the time of the messenger's return. The matter of checking the work of the messengers must have close attention at all times, and the supervisor responsible for the conduct of the special-delivery service shall know through personal observation that it is being properly conducted. The duplicates of receipt Form 3951 may be disposed of after a period of 30 days, as the original, properly checked, will constitute the permanent record.

At the end of each day, the total number of special-delivery articles delivered, on which each messenger is entitled to compensation, will be totaled on Form 1597 at each rate of compensation, 9, 10, 15, and 20 cents, and this form will be sent direct to the postal cashier or paying officer daily for posting to Form 1594. Form 1597 must be promptly returned to the special-delivery section when it has served its purpose in the postal cashier's office.

All receipt forms for a given date will be filed by sections, the sections representing the separations of the primary distributions of special-delivery mail in the runs. This will render it possible to answer inquiries relative to the delivery of mail upon being furnished the name of the addressee and the street address. However, in assigning mail for delivery the primary divisions must not be followed so closely as to interfere with the most expeditious delivery.

Forms 3951 and 1597 will be obtained by requisition on the Fourth Assistant, Division of Building Operations and Supplies. The utmost care must be exercised to insure absolute accuracy in keeping these records, and the special-delivery section must be so organized that there can be no possibility of falsification or collusion.

At non-city-delivery offices and at city-delivery offices where the quantity of special-delivery matter received for delivery is not sufficient to warrant the maintenance of a messenger force, Form 3953 will be used in recording special-delivery letters or parcels received for delivery at their offices, and Form 3954 in taking receipts upon delivery. The clerk or official in charge will record special-delivery matter, after which such matter, together with proper receipt forms, will be turned over for delivery to the clerk or other person employed as messenger. Such record must be accurate and legible.

Special-delivery articles shall be delivered to the addressee or the person authorized to receive his ordinary mail, except insured, C. O. D., and registered articles, which shall be delivered as prescribed by the regulations.

In cases of failure of delivery, both the article and the receipt form shall be indorsed to show time of attempted delivery and cause of nondelivery. The receipt form will also show the surrender of all specials to the delivery section for delivery by regular carrier.

64. Forwarding.—Special-delivery mail may be forwarded under the same rules as ordinary mail, and when forwarded is entitled to special-delivery service, except as prescribed by section 1092, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.

65. Does not insure safety.—When it is desired to send money or other valuables by special delivery, the matter should also be registered or insured. A special-delivery stamp does not insure safety or personal delivery to the party addressed.

Frequent news notices to this effect should be carried in the local papers, without expense to the department, and it should also be brought to the attention of chambers of commerce, boards of trade, and other business and civic organizations for dissemination among their membership.

66. Perishable matter—when to be specially delivered.—Perishable parcels received in any delivery post office on Saturday, or the day before a holiday, after the hour when parcel-post delivery carriers leave the office, or on Sundays or holidays, the contents of which are of such a perishable nature that they can not be held until Monday morning or the day following a holiday, even though they do not bear special-delivery postage, shall be promptly delivered as special-delivery mail, receipt taken therefor, and the proper special-delivery fee collected from the addressee, if possible, as postage due. Delivery may be made by collectors, where feasible without danger of contents spoiling.

The messenger or other employee making delivery will leave a slip notice, Form 1544, with the addressee explaining the necessity for the additional postage charge, and asking cooperation in having such matter mailed as special delivery in the future. The mailer will also be sent a card notice, Form 1543, to the effect that "As parcel mailed by you to (give name and address of addressee) contained perishable matter and was received (late Saturday, or Sunday, or a holiday, as the case may be) it was necessary to give it special-delivery service to insure delivery before spoiling and to collect the special-delivery charges from the addressee. In the future all perishable matter mailed so as to reach destination late Saturday afternoon, or on a Sunday, or a holiday, should be mailed as special delivery with the special-delivery postage prepaid and affixed."

Special-delivery fees so collected shall be accounted for as postage due, and in the event delivery is made by special-delivery messenger and the fee is collected, he shall be paid for the delivery at the proper rate. If the addressee refuses to pay the special-delivery charge, the parcel will be left and report thereof made by the messenger upon his return to the post office.

Postage-due stamps should not be placed upon the parcel and canceled until after the collection has been effected, the amount simply to be rated up in pencil on the parcel and record thereof made as a charge to be collected by the messenger.

(These instructions also apply to small second and to third and fourth class post offices, where no delivery service or no parcel-post delivery is maintained; all perishable parcels to be promptly delivered when received as above indicated.)

RURAL DELIVERY SERVICE.

67. Mail is delivered by rural carriers to any persons who provide approved boxes and erect them on the line of travel of the carriers in the manner prescribed by the department, except those residing within the city delivery limits of cities where that class of service is in operation, or within the village delivery limits of cities, towns or villages where village delivery service is in operation.

68. Mail addressed to box and route number may be delivered.—Mail other than registered, insured, and C. O. D. matter, for delivery by rural carriers which is addressed merely to the box and route number may be delivered to the owner of the box so long as no improper or unlawful business is conducted in this manner. (See sec. 585, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

69. Delivery of ordinary parcels by rural carriers.—Under the provisions of paragraph 2 of section 1007, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, rural carriers are permitted to deliver outside of the mail boxes maintained by the patrons ordinary parcel-post packages which are too large to be contained in the boxes, provided the addressees have filed with the postmaster written orders for delivery in this manner, with the express proviso that the Department and the carriers are relieved of all responsibility in case of loss or depredation. However, where a patron lives within hailing distance of a route, the carrier shall, before making delivery in this manner, make a reasonable effort to hail the patron so that he may come to the mail box to receive the parcel.

If patrons have not requested by written orders the delivery of large parcel-post packages outside of their boxes, such parcels must not be so delivered but must be handled in the manner prescribed by the regulations mentioned. Parcels are not to be considered as having been delivered into a patron's box unless they are completely contained therein. They must not be left partially protruding from the boxes, unless written orders for outside delivery of ordinary parcels are on file in the post office.

70. Holidays to be observed by rural carriers.—Service is not required on rural delivery routes on New Year's Day, Washington's Birthday, Memorial or Decoration Day (May 30), Fourth of July, Labor Day (the first Monday in September), Armistice Day (November 11), on such day as the President may set apart as Thanksgiving Day, nor on Christmas Day. Columbus Day, Good Friday, or other local or State holidays are not to be observed by rural carriers even if there is reduced or general suspension of business locally or throughout the State on such days.

Rural carriers are not required to report at post offices on Sundays or holidays for any purpose.

71. When holiday falls on Sunday.—When a holiday on which service is not required falls on Sunday the following Monday is observed. Rural carriers are not permitted to substitute any other day. When the holiday falls on a service day for a triweekly route the carrier is not required to serve until the next scheduled service day.

72. Location of the boxes of rural patrons.—It is a requirement of the department that the boxes maintained by patrons of rural routes shall be so placed that they may be conveniently served by the carriers without the need of leaving their conveyances, and that they shall be located on the right-hand side of the road in the direction of travel of the carriers in all cases where the traffic conditions are such that it would be dangerous for the carriers to drive to the left in order to reach the boxes, or their doing so would constitute a violation of the traffic laws and regulations. On new rural routes all boxes shall be located on the right-hand side of the road in the direction of travel of the carrier. Rural carriers have no special rights or privileges in the use of the roads but are amenable to the traffic laws and regulations. The boxes must be placed to conform with the laws of the State or the regulations of the officials having supervision over the highways, and where they will be accessible to the carriers as required by the regulations of the department.

Postmasters shall give special attention to the location of rural mail boxes along hard-surfaced roads, or those on which the traffic is heavy, and for that reason driving to the left is objectionable. In event of the failure of any patrons to change the location of their boxes when called upon to do so, where such change is necessary, full report of the facts shall be submitted to the Second Assistant Postmaster General, such reports to include the names of the patrons and the routes by which they are served.

73. Grouping of mail boxes.—It is very desirable that postmasters and carriers shall endeavor, without incurring expense to the Department, to secure the cooperation of patrons of rural routes with a view to effecting the grouping of boxes wherever possible, especially at or near crossroads or at other places on the routes where a considerable number of individual boxes are located.

A simple and practicable support to be used for the purpose consists of a board erected on posts firmly planted, the height of the shelf upon which the boxes are placed to be about 3½ or 4 feet above the surface of the ground.

74. Rural mail boxes and supports should be painted.—It is the desire of the Department that all rural mail boxes shall be painted white, but it is permissible to use aluminum instead of white paint. It is also desired that the posts or supports of the boxes be painted white but no objection will be made by the Department to the use, in the case of boxes erected along main highways, of the same color scheme as that applied in the painting of guard rails on such highways. While it is not a requirement that mail boxes and their supports shall be painted, it is earnestly hoped that patrons will comply with the request in this regard, which is considered to be to the advantage of the equipment itself, and to add to the appearance of the boxes and the right-of-way along which they are located, and in the interest of the civic pride of the individuals and the community.

In accordance with Section 1059, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, the name of the owner of each box shall be inscribed thereon. It is suggested that the name be inscribed in neat black letters about one inch in height on the side of the box which is visible to the carrier as he approaches it when engaged in serving the route.

MISCELLANEOUS RULES OF DELIVERY

75. Special service for quarterly payment letters from Indian agencies.—Certain letters mailed quarterly by the Osage Indian Agency at Pawhuska, Okla., and the Five Civilized Tribes Indian Agency at Muskogee, Okla., bear the indorsement "Deliver only to addressee, or authorized agent."

Postmasters are instructed to observe this indorsement carefully.

Letters mailed by the Osage Indian Agency, Pawhuska, Okla., bearing the above-mentioned indorsement, must be delivered to the addressee in person, unless he has on file with the postmaster a written order designating some other person to act as his agent and receive this mail, in which case it must be delivered personally to the designated agent. These letters must not be delivered to a post-office box, private mail receptacle, door slot, or rural box. When the addressee receives mail through a post-office box, a notice should be placed in his box requesting that he call at the window for this mail. In case the addressee receives delivery of his mail either by city or rural carrier, a notice should be placed in his mail receptacle requesting him to meet the carrier on his next regular trip or to call at the office for this mail.

76. Special service for letters mailed to beneficiaries of the Veterans Administration.—(See sec. 784, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, as amended). Certain letters mailed by the Division of Disbursements, Treasury Department, and by assistant disbursing officers in its various regional offices, are enclosed in envelopes bearing the following printed endorsement:

"TO THE POSTMASTER:

"The Act of June 3, 1936, provides that postmasters, delivery clerks, letter carriers, and all other postal employees are prohibited from delivering this letter to any person whomsoever, if the addressee has died or removed, or in the case of a widow believed by the postal employee intrusted with the delivery of such mail to have remarried (unless such mail is addressed by the United States in the name which the widow shall have acquired by remarriage); and the postmaster in every such case shall forthwith return such mail with a statement of the reasons for so doing, and if because of death or remarriage, the date thereof, if known.

"IT MUST NOT BE FORWARDED TO ANOTHER POST OFFICE."

Postmasters should issue instructions to insure a strict observance of the above-quoted endorsement.

It will be noted that such letters are not to be delivered in case any of the prohibitive conditions exist, and are not to be forwarded to another post office under any circumstances.

It should be noted also that undeliverable letters bearing the notice are to be returned to the post office from which mailed and not to Washington, D. C., unless mailed at Washington, D. C.

77. Special service for pay checks from finance office, United States Army.—All postmasters are hereby instructed to observe the following printed indorsement upon envelopes mailed from the War Department at Washington:

POSTMASTER:

This letter must not be delivered to any person except the addressee or on his written authority. If addressee is dead, return letter to sender with date of death shown, if known.

78. Special service for checks mailed from United States Marine Corps headquarters.—Postmasters are hereby instructed to observe carefully the indorsement "Deliver to Addressee Only," appearing on penalty envelopes which bear the return card "Navy Department, Headquarters United States Marine Corps, Washington, D. C." Such letters, though not registered mail, will be accorded the same service as paragraph 3 (b), section 1323, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, requires for registered mail.

79. Special service for pay and allotment letters, United States Coast Guard.—All postmasters are hereby instructed to observe the following indorsement printed on letters mailed from the pay and allotment office, United States Coast Guard, Washington, D. C.:

POSTMASTER:

This letter must not be delivered to any person except the addressee or on his or her written authority. If addressee is dead return letter to pay and allotment office, United States Coast Guard, Washington, D. C., with information as to date of death if known.

80. Prisoners' mail.—A letter addressed to a person imprisoned to await trial, under indictment, or pending indictment, should be delivered in accordance with the order of the person addressed. In the absence of an order, the mail may be delivered to the sheriff or officer having charge of the prisoner.

81. Husband or wife.—Neither husband nor wife can control the delivery of mail addressed to the other against the wishes of the one to whom it is addressed. In the absence of instruction to the contrary, the wife's letters will be delivered with the husband's mail unless they are known to live separately.

82. Minors.—The delivery of mail addressed to a minor is subject to the order of the parent or guardian upon whom the minor is dependent. (See sec. 785, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

83. Persons of the same name.—Where two or more persons of the same name receive mail at the same post office, they should, where practicable, adopt some form of address or other means by which their mail may be distinguished.

84. Officials.—Mail addressed to a public official, or to an officer of a corporation, by his title, will be delivered to the person actually holding the office designated in the address, the assumption being that the mail is intended for the officer as such.

85. Wrong delivery.—A person receiving mail not intended for him should return it promptly to the post office for proper disposition. If such mail has been opened by mistake it should be indorsed, "Opened by mistake," with the signature of the person receiving it.

86. Recall by sender.—When the sender of a letter desires to recall it, his application must be submitted to the postmaster at the office of mailing. (See secs. 729 and 730, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

FORWARDING OF MAIL

1. Orders for.—A person desiring to have his mail forwarded should file with the postmaster at the office of address a request signed in writing, giving his present address, the full address to which mail is to be forwarded and specific information as to the time during which the order is to be observed. An unlimited order affecting general-delivery mail at a city-carrier post office expires at the end of 30 days unless renewed. If a person who has filed such an order at a post office returns to the delivery of that office before the expiration of the time indicated in his forwarding order he should immediately have the order canceled.

2. For regulations governing forwarding of mail, including matter forwardable without additional postage charge, see section 769, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, and article 72, page 180, of this Guide.

3. Forwarding matter with postage due stamps affixed.—For information relative to forwarding matter to which postage due stamps have been affixed, see section 773, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.

4. What mail may be forwarded after delivery.—Upon being properly readdressed and deposited in the post office originally addressed, or a street letter box of such office, mail (except pension checks) may be forwarded after delivery. This applies to mail erroneously delivered or addressed; to mail addressed in care of another; and to mail opened inadvertently upon misdelivery. in which case it should be indorsed "Opened by mistake" and signed by the person who opened it.

5. First class.—Only first-class mail may be forwarded from one post office to another without an additional payment of postage. This includes letters and other first-class matter prepaid one full rate (3 cents), postal cards, and post cards (private mailing cards). Official matter may also be forwarded free of postage.

6. Drop letters.—Prepaid 1 cent may be forwarded on payment of 2 cents additional postage. Drop letters prepaid 2 cents addressed for local delivery may be forwarded to another post office rated with postage due to be collected on delivery. (See sec. 514, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, for exception to requirement of prepayment of additional postage.)

7. Other classes.—Mail of the second, third, and fourth classes is subject to postage anew every time it is forwarded, as follows: (a) Second-class matter, at the rates set forth in article 24, page 12; (b) third-class matter, including that originally mailed under section 562, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, 1½ cents for each 2 ounces or fraction thereof except in the case of books (including catalogs) having 24 pages or more, on which the rate is 1 cent for each two ounces or fraction thereof; (c) fourth-class or parcel-post matter, at the pound rates applicable between the forwarding office and the one to which the mail is forwarded, as shown in the table on page 15. Several separately addressed pieces of mail may not be assembled in one bundle by a postmaster and forwarded with postage computed on the bulk weight, even though the individual pieces were all addressed to the same person. Parcels originally sent as special-handling mail are subject to postage anew at the regular rates but not to an additional special-handling charge when forwarded. Perishable fourth-class mail of obvious value may be forwarded to the addressee, and mail of the second, third, and fourth classes which bears a pledge to pay the forwarding postage may be forwarded to the addressee or such other person as the sender may direct, at another post office and the forwarding postage collected on delivery. (See art. 27, p. 46, of this Guide as to form of pledge.) Other mail of these classes may not be forwarded until the necessary postage shall first have been prepaid.

8. Exceptions.—A change of street number to secure delivery at the office of address is not a "forwarding" and does not subject the mail to additional postage.

Patrons of any office, who, on account of a change in the postal service, receive their mail from another post office, may have mail matter of all classes transmitted to that office without additional charge for postage, provided they first file with the postmaster at the former office a request to have their mail so sent. This is not to be construed as "forwarding" within the meaning of the law. Such patrons should advise their correspondents of their change of address.

Mail matter of all classes addressed to persons in the service of the United States (civil, military, or naval) whose change of address is caused by official orders will be transmitted until it reaches the addressee without a new payment of postage. (See par. 10, sec. 769, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

9. Hotels, clubs, etc.—Managers of hotels and officers of clubs, boards of trade, and exchanges, should not hold unclaimed mail addressed to their care longer than ten days, except at the request of the person addressed, and should redirect it for forwarding if the present address is known; otherwise, such mail should be returned to the post office.

10. Unnecessary inscriptions not permitted.—Inscriptions not necessary to proper forwarding subject the matter to new prepayment of postage. This includes advertisements of hotels, clubs, etc., forwarding mail for guests or members.

11. Notice of postage for forwarding mail of the second, third, or fourth class which is not forwardable charged with the postage therefor, to be collected on delivery as provided in paragraphs 2 and 4, section 769, Postal Laws and Regulations, will be sent to a person who has filed a forwarding order for that kind of matter. After such notification the mail may be delivered to the addressee at the office from which the notice was sent, without payment of the forwarding postage, provided he shall first revoke the forwarding order, thus obviating the necessity of sending notices that are inoperative; or if he does not revoke his forwarding order, the matter may be delivered to him on payment of one cent for each notice sent him.

12. Notification to sender of addressee's new address.—In case of the removal, either local or otherwise, of the addressee of ordinary mail of the third or fourth class, the new address of the addressee, if known, shall be furnished to the sender on Form 3547, provided the matter bears a request therefor together with the sender's return card and a guaranty that the postage for such notice will be paid. (See par. 5, sec. 769, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.) Mail bearing this request and guaranty may not be forwarded or returned unless the usual forwarding or return postage is prepaid or the matter also bears a pledge that such postage will be paid on delivery of the matter. But the requested notice on Form 3547 must be furnished regardless of whether the mail is forwarded or returned. However, Form 3547 should not be sent unless the matter bears a specific request for notice on that form; nor should it be sent if the new address of the addressee is unknown.

UNDELIVERABLE MATTER—RETURN OF, ETC.

13. First class.—Letters and other mail of the first class prepaid one full rate (3 cents) and official matter, when undeliverable, will be returned to the sender without additional postage, provided such mail bears the name and address of the sender. Reply (double) postal cards and double post cards with postage prepaid on reply portion will also be returned to the sender without additional postage, when undeliverable, provided they bear the return card of the sender in the upper left corner of the address side of the initial portion. Single postal and post cards deposited for local delivery shall be returned to the sender, without additional postage, when they bear his return card in the upper left corner of the address side; and in the case of double postal or double post cards deposited for local delivery, the return of which is desired when undeliverable, the return card should appear in the upper left corner of the address side of the initial portion. Single postal cards and post cards, and double post cards not having postage prepaid on reply portion, when mailed for other than local delivery, will be returned to the sender only when they bear his return card in the upper left corner of the address side, together with a pledge to pay return postage. Such cards bearing the sender's return card and pledge to pay return postage will be returned charged with postage due at the rate of 1 cent each, to be collected on delivery.

Letters returned from the Division of Dead Letters or the branches thereof because the card address of the sender does not appear on the envelopes will be subject to a charge of 5 cents for such return.

14. Letters bearing return cards.—Letters in the general-delivery boxes must be examined daily in order that the return requests thereon may be complied with. Return requests upon letters properly placed in rented boxes need not be observed. (See sec. 804, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

15. Retention in post office at addressee's request.—Letters bearing return cards must not be held at the addressee's request, at the office of address, beyond the time indicated in the return card, unless properly delivered to a post-office box.

16. Second-class matter mailed by publishers.—For instructions as to treatment of undeliverable copies of second-class matter mailed by publishers, see section 812, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, and the following additional instructions in articles 17 to 26, inclusive.

17. The notice to the publisher on Form 3578 should show plainly and legibly:

(a) The name of post office and State, and postmark of the office sending the notice showing date on which sent,

(b) Name and address of subscriber as it appears on undeliverable copy. If a subscription or "key" number is given, it should also be shown on Form 3578. This information is highly important to the publisher.

(c) Reason why copy is undeliverable. In case of a change of address, local or otherwise, the new address should be given, when known.

(d) The full and correct name of the publication and place where published.

18. The retained copy of Form 3578 should be filed with care among the records of the post office that it may be available for future reference. Only one notice is to be sent with respect to the same change and care must be exercised to see that no duplicate or second notices are sent.

19. Notices to be inclosed in penalty envelopes, when.—When sending at one time 10 or more notices on Form 3578, regarding undeliverable copies of the same publication, the notices shall be inclosed in a penalty envelope addressed to the postmaster in order to save time and labor in handling such notices while in transit and at the office of delivery. This may also be done when sending 10 or more notices regarding undeliverable copies of different publications published at the same place by the same publisher. The notices so sent shall be completely filled in and postmarked with the date of dispatch the same as if they were sent in the mails openly.

20. What undeliverable copies are to be returned.—Only such undeliverable copies of second-class publi- cations are to be returned as are received after five weeks from the date of notice to the publisher on Form 3578. However, if two issues of the publication have not been published during the five weeks following the sending of the notice, only such copies as are received after two issues shall have been published are to be returned under label Form 3579.

21. Disposition of copies received during period of five weeks after notice.—Copies received during the five weeks, or before two issues shall have been published following the sending of the notice, must not be returned to the publisher, but should be disposed of in accordance with the provisions of section 812, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.

22. Disposition in case of change in local address.—In case of a change of local address, the copies received during the period prescribed must be delivered to the subscriber at his new address, if known. Copies received after the expiration of such period should be returned to the publisher.

23. Return label must not be placed over address or other inscriptions.—When pasting or affixing label Form 3579 to an undeliverable copy of a publication or to the wrapper thereof, care should be taken that the name and address of the subscriber, as well as the subscription or "key" number, are not covered or obscured by the label. Light lines only should be drawn through the original address.

24. Label Form 3579 must show PLAINLY the correct name and address of the publication, the amount of postage due on the copy at the third-class rate, the postmark of the office from which returned, and in addition the date when the notice on Form 3578 was sent to the publisher.

25. When undeliverable copies may be sent to branch office.—When the wrapper of a publication bears a request that notice concerning undeliverable copies be sent to a branch office of the publisher instead of to the post office where the publication is entered as second-class matter, such request should be complied with, and any undeliverable copies of the publication properly returnable under the law should likewise be sent to the branch office designated on the wrapper. However, postmasters must not comply with written or other requests from publishers or their agents to send the notice to a branch office, if the wrappers of the publications do not bear such request, but they should send the notices to the post office where the publication is admitted as second-class mail matter. In all cases the undeliverable copies must be sent to the same place to which the notices were sent.

26. Treatment of undeliverable Canadian second-class matter.—Arrangements have been made whereby undeliverable copies of publications entered as second-class matter in this country and undeliverable copies of publications so entered in Canada are to be given the same treatment in both countries. Therefore when newspapers and periodicals mailed by publishers in Canada as second-class matter are undeliverable in this country they are to be treated in the same manner as domestic undeliverable second-class matter. The publishers should be notified on Form 3578 and all undeliverable copies received after the sending of such notice should be treated in the manner prescribed by section 812, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, the copies returned after the prescribed period being subject to postage at the rate of 1½ cents for each 2 ounces or fraction thereof.

27. Undeliverable mail of the third and fourth classes, and that of the second class mailed by the public, which bears the pledge of the sender that postage for its return will be paid, and undeliverable perishable fourth-class mail of obvious value, will be returned to the sender, and the return postage collected on delivery. When other mail of these classes which does not bear a pledge but is of obvious value is undeliverable, the postmaster will notify the sender of that fact, and such matter will be returned to the sender only upon new prepayment of postage. After notification of nondelivery such matter will be held not longer than two weeks, unless the office of mailing be so remote from the office of address that a response could not be received from the sender within that time.

In all cases where the addressee of a parcel of ordinary fourth-class matter actually and unqualifiedly refuses to accept it the parcel should be immediately returned to the sender, provided his pledge to pay return postage appears thereon and there is no request that the parcel be held a specific period of time before being treated as undeliverable. If a specific period of time during which the parcel shall be held before being treated as undeliverable appears thereon, notice shall be immediately sent of the refusal on Form 3540, regardless of whether the parcel bears a pledge to pay return postage.

In the foregoing instance Form 3540 should be indorsed substantially as follows:

"If second attempt to deliver is desired send ------ cents to cover postage at local rate."

In every instance where it is desired that an ordinary parcel which has been refused or is unclaimed be again presented for delivery the parcel is subject to a new prepayment of postage at the local rate. When the sender requests that a second attempt to deliver the parcel be made his request should be accompanied with the required postage; when the addressee asks that the parcel be again presented for delivery his request should be accompanied with the necessary postage.

No particular form of pledge is prescribed, but it must be placed immediately below the sender's return card, which is required in all cases, in the upper left corner of the address side, and so worded as to show clearly that the forwarding or return postage will be paid. The following are suggested as suitable forms of pledges:

POSTMASTER: Return Postage Guaranteed.

POSTMASTER: Forwarding and Return Postage Guaranteed.

POSTMASTER: If undeliverable please return after ------ days. Return Postage Guaranteed.

POSTMASTER: If undeliverable and not forwardable to addressee, please forward to ------ at ------ (giving name and address of person to whom matter is to be delivered) rated with postage due to cover forwarding charge, payment of which on delivery is guaranteed by sender.

When the addressee of a parcel of third or fourth class matter accepts the parcel, opens it and examines the contents, the parcel has been delivered, so far as the Postal Service is concerned, and cannot be returned to the postmaster as "Refused" nor again enter the mails without a new prepayment of postage, even though it bears the pledge of the sender to pay the return postage.

In all cases where undeliverable advertising matter mailed at the third or fourth class rate of postage bears a pledge to pay return postage upon notification of its being undeliverable, no notice should be furnished to the sender, but the matter should be rated with the return postage and returned to the sender, such postage to be collected upon delivery of the matter.

Parcels of fourth-class matter when returned to the sender are chargeable at the pound rates set forth in the table on page 15.

When a parcel bearing the special handling postage charge in addition to the regular postage at the pound rates set forth in the table above referred to reaches the office of final address and can not be delivered, the function of the special handling postage charge ceases, and when such undeliverable parcel is to be returned to the sender or sent to the dead parcel-post branch it is to be treated in the ordinary manner; that is, the parcel is to be accorded the treatment given parcels on which the special handling postage charge is not paid.

For general regulations governing return or other disposition of undeliverable matter of the third and fourth classes, and second-class matter mailed by the public, see section 809, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932. The required postage for the return of such matter must be computed on each separately addressed piece. The matter may not be returned in bulk. (See par. 4, sec. 809, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

28. Failure to redeem pledge.—When the sender refuses to pay the forwarding or return postage in accordance with his pledge, report of all the facts shall be made to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Classification, in the case of ordinary mail, and to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Registered Mails, in the case of insured, C. O. D., and registered matter, but acceptance of further matter bearing such pledge shall not be refused until specific instructions to do so are received.

29. Mail without value.—The senders of ordinary third-class matter that is obviously without value and does not bear the sender's pledge to pay return postage should not be notified of the nondelivery of such matter. (See par. 2, sec. 807, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

30. Matter bearing precanceled stamps.—When mail of the transient second class, or of the third or fourth class, bearing precanceled postage stamps, is returned under the provisions of section 809, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, or remailed, postmasters shall thoroughly deface such stamps with the canceling stamps of their respective offices before its return or remailing. When such matter reaches the office of original mailing for return to the sender, the postmaster at such office shall, if the precanceled stamps have not been defaced by the postmaster at the returning office, deface such stamps with the canceling stamp of his office before delivering the matter to the sender. (See art. 72, p. 27.)

31. Original address not to be defaced on returned matter.—When returning to the sender undeliverable matter, the original address thereon should not be defaced or obscured in such manner as to make it impossible for the sender to read the address and correct his mailing list. Light lines only should be drawn through the original address.

TREATMENT AND DISPOSITION OF UNDELIVERABLE MAIL IN POST OFFICES

(Based on secs. 817 to 824 inclusive, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932)

Undeliverable and unmailable matter of the first class and of domestic origin, shall be sent for final disposition as below specified.

1. Undeliverable and unmailable first-class matter of domestic origin, which is not returned to senders from post offices (except that for which other treatment is provided), shall be forwarded by postmasters and other employees of the Postal Service in the following manner.

(a) Such matter reaching any post office in the Territory of Hawaii shall be forwarded to the post office at Honolulu; in the Virgin Islands of the United States and in Puerto Rico, to the post office at San Juan. Such matter originating in the Philippine Islands shall be forwarded to the post office at Manila.

(b) Such matter of the first class reaching any post office of the first class shall be treated in the dead-letter branch at that office. Such matter of the first class reaching post offices of the second, third, and fourth classes shall be sent to the central-accounting post office. Such matter reaching any post office in the Territory of Alaska shall be sent to the dead-letter branch at the Seattle, Wash., post office.

2. Unclaimed and unmailable special-delivery matter sent to the Division of Dead Letters and Dead Parcel Post or the branches thereof for final disposition, shall be entered alphabetically by name of the addressees and numbered consecutively on Form 1522, in duplicate. No other entries need be made on this form. The special-delivery matter with the original of Form 1522 shall be tied or wrapped separately and included in the regular dispatch of unclaimed or unmailable matter, as the case may be. Copy of the form shall be retained for the files of the dispatching office.

3. Undeliverable letters of foreign origin, other than Canada and Mexico, which do not bear return cards shall be forwarded to the proper exchange office for return to country of origin, as indicated in sections 2227 and 2228 of the Postal Laws and Regulations. Undeliverable letters originating in the Philippines and Canal Zone shall be treated as of foreign origin.

4. Undeliverable letters originating in Canada and Mexico are to be dispatched unopened for final disposition to the nearest dead-letter branch at Boston, Mass.; New York, N. Y.; Chicago, Ill.; San Francisco, Calif.; or Washington, D. C.

5. Undeliverable parcel post including salable samples of merchandise and third-class matter of obvious value shall be sent for final disposition to the dead parcel post branch at the headquarters of the Division of Railway Mail Service in which your office is located. Pittsburgh and Cleveland, although division headquarters of the Railway Mail Service, are not dead parcel post branches. Undeliverable parcels from post offices in Pennsylvania shall be sent to the dead parcel post branch at New York, and those from post offices in Ohio shall be sent to the dead parcel post branch at Cincinnati. (For treatment of undeliverable parcels of foreign origin see Part II.)

6. Backstamping and indorsement of reason for nondelivery.—All mail matter regardless of class, which is undeliverable to the addressee, shall be indorsed to show reason for nondelivery and backstamped to show name of the office making the return and date of return to sender or dispatch to the Division of Dead Letters and Dead Parcel Post, or branch thereof. All undelivered mail matter of foreign origin, including that from Canada and Mexico, shall be indorsed with the reason for nondelivery on the back and not the address side of the envelope or container.

7. Examination of letters for return cards.—All dead letters, and other undeliverable first-class mail, shall be carefully examined before being sent to a dead letter branch in order to make sure that none bears the address of the mailer to whom it can be returned. Examination shall be made of the back as well as the face of the letter as notwithstanding the department's efforts to induce the public to put the return request on the face many persons put it on the back of the envelope, which results in these letters being frequently missent to the dead letter branches.

8. Examination of parcels for pledges of return postage.—Every undeliverable ordinary parcel shall be carefully examined to see whether it bears a pledge of the sender to pay return postage. Reports from dead parcel post branches indicate that some postmasters are not complying with the instructions relative to returning such parcels to the senders return postage collect. In this connection attention is called to paragraph 6, section 1385, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, which provides for the return to senders of all C. O. D. and insured parcels whether or not they bear pledges guaranteeing return postage, except those on which the mailers indorse specific instructions to not return them.

9. Sacking and pouching.—Sacks with locking cord fasteners, instead of pouches, shall be used in dispatching undeliverable parcel post matter and articles found loose in the mails to dead parcel post branches. Undeliverable letters and other matter of the first class shall be dispatched in pouches or in bundles properly wrapped and labeled.

10. Dispatching.—All undeliverable matter shall be dispatched to dead letter and dead parcel post branches by ordinary mail; except that all registered matter, money, and small valuable articles such as jewelry shall be dispatched as registered mail and always under cover of a pouch or jacket.

11. Printed facing slips provided for that purpose shall be used to address all dispatches of undeliverable matter, addressed to the proper dead letter or dead parcel post branch. The white slip is used for unclaimed first-class matter, the pink slip for unmailable matter, and the yellow-colored slip for parcel-post matter. These slips (Forms 1504, 1505, and 1506) will be furnished upon application by the postmaster of your designated supply office. Unmailable matter shall not be mixed with unclaimed matter in making up returns. They shall be made up in separate returns and labeled accordingly as above indicated.

12. Form 1522 must be inclosed with each dispatch of undeliverable matter to dead parcel post branches. This is essential, as this form becomes a permanent record, and if none is received it is necessary for the branch to prepare one in order that the records may be complete. It is also important for the reason that if a list does not accompany a return, the receiving office has no way of knowing whether or not it has received all the parcels originally included in the dispatch.

13. Returns of stamps and money found loose in the mails.—All money and uncanceled postage stamps found loose in the mails shall bedisposed of in accordance with section 822 of the Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, as amended by order No. 4579, dated November 27, 1933. Stamps found loose in the mails shall not be included on the same list with returns of loose money. A separate list of each shall be made on Form 1522.

14. Returns of registered matter shall have inclosed therewith Form 3853 in duplicate, listing contents as prescribed in section 1332, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.

15. Valuable letters.—Mail matter received under registered cover from the Division of Dead Letters and Dead Parcel Post or branches thereof shall be handled as registered matter until finally disposed of, regardless of whether or not the piece of mail matter transmitted was registered when originally deposited in the mails. Postmasters of offices failing to do this will be held personally responsible for losses resulting therefrom.

DISPOSITION OF UNDELIVERABLE MATTER RECEIVED BY DIVISION OF DEAD LETTERS AND DEAD PARCEL POST AND BRANCHES THEREOF

16. Undeliverable parcels from the ordinary mails and articles found unaddressed or loose in the mails will be held in the Division of Dead Letters and Dead Parcel Post, or branches thereof, 60 days awaiting reclamation, when they will be disposed of at public auction. Postal employees shall not submit bids at any auction sale of unclaimed parcel post or perishable matter. Insured and C. O. D. matter will be held six months, except parcels bearing abandonment instructions of mailers, which may be disposed of immediately upon receipt in dead parcel post service, as provided in section 830, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.

OPENING AND RECORDING CONTENTS OF PARCELS

17. All parcels which do not bear the names of both addressees and senders on the wrappers shall be immediately opened and contents examined to see if information may be found to assist in delivery. A brief record of contents shall be made.

Furthermore, many addressed parcels are received which should be opened and carefully examined at once, such as parcels giving evidence of having been damaged or tampered with, or that they contain perishable or prohibited matter, or that might attract rodents or vermin, or prove dangerous or likely to cause damage to other mail matter or to the premises if filed.

Other parcels not above enumerated will no doubt be received from time to time in the various dead parcel-post branches which should be opened and examined at once, and in exercising discretion in this matter postmasters should use good common-sense judgment with view to carrying out the purpose of the regulation as amended that there shall be no waste of labor devoted to opening addressed parcels, but at the same time bearing in mind that nothing in the regulation prohibits the opening and examination of the contents of a parcel if there appears to be a good reason for so doing.

Special handling.—10, 15, and 20 cents.

Postage due.—½, 1, 2, 3, 5, 10, 30, and 50 cents, $1 and $5.

Stamp books.—Containing 24 1-cent; 96 1-cent; 12 2-cent; 24 2-cent; 48 2-cent; 12 3-cent; 24 3-cent; and combination books of 24 each 1-cent and 2-cent stamps.

3. Use of high denominations.—As a measure of economy postmasters and post-office employees are directed to encourage the public to use stamps of the highest denomination suited to the amount of postage required on all mail. For example, a 2-cent stamp instead of two 1-cent stamps should be affixed to letters needing 2 cents postage; and a 10-cent stamp instead of five 2-cent stamps should be attached to parcels requiring 10 cents postage. Cooperation between post-office employees and the public in the sale and use of stamps of the higher denominations will effect a large saving to the Government in the cost of producing, transporting, and canceling them, and will benefit the public in minimizing the number of stamps handled and affixed to mail. This benefit will be especially important to business concerns mailing large quantities of letters and parcels, and postmasters are directed to bring the suggestion particularly to their notice.

4. Stamps in coils.—The department issues postage stamps in coils of 500, 1,000, and 3,000, with coiling charges of 3 cents per coil of 500, 6 cents per coil of 1,000, and 18 cents per coil of 3,000. (Sec. 133, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.) Sidewise coils of 500 are in more general demand. An oversupply of coils containing 1,000 or 3,000 stamps should be avoided. The coils containing 3,000 stamps are designed for special types of stamp-affixing machines and cannot be used in ordinary vending or affixing equipment.

5. Coiled stamps available.—The following denominations of stamps are available in coils:

1-cent, 1½-cent, 2-cent, and 3-cent, in coils of 500 and 1,000, coiled sidewise or endwise, also in coils of 3,000 coiled sidewise.

4-cent, 4½-cent, 5-cent, 6-cent, and 10-cent, in coils of 500 or 1,000, coiled sidewise.

6. Invalid stamps; perforating of stamps for identification.—For regulations governing invalid stamps, the perforating of postage stamps for identification, etc., see section 716, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.

7. Use of ordinary, parcel-post, special-handling and air-mail stamps.—Ordinary postage stamps, including parcel-post and commemorative issues, are valid for postage and for insurance and collect-on-delivery fees on fourth-class mail. Special-handling stamps shall be used only on matter sent as special-handling mail. The regular issue of due stamps and distinctive parcel-post due stamps are valid for the collection of unpaid and short-paid postage on all classes of mail.

The use of air-mail stamps on other than air mail is not permissible, but such stamps may be used not only for the postage on air mail but also to pay the charges for special delivery, registry, insurance, or C. O. D. services on matter which is sent by air mail.

8. Stamps not kept in post-office stock.—Postage stamps, postal cards, and stamped envelopes of varieties for which there is comparatively little public demand are not ordinarily kept on sale in post offices, but postmasters will, upon request, provide themselves with listed varieties not usually carried in stock. Such requests should be made in time to enable postmasters to obtain the supplies upon requisition.

9. Redemption of postage stamps, stamped envelopes, and postal cards.—Adhesive postage stamps held by the public are not redeemed nor exchanged unless stamps of the wrong denomination have been purchased or damaged stamps have been sold, in which cases application for exchange should be made at the post office within 2 business days by the original purchaser. Stamped envelopes spoiled in addressing are redeemable at postage value if presented at the post office in a substantially whole condition, and unmutilated postal cards are redeemable at 75 per cent of face value at any post office regardless of where purchased; provided, that stamped envelopes or postal cards bearing printed addresses or other printed matter shall be redeemable only from the original purchaser or person whose printing appears thereon. When redemption is desired of large quantities of unprinted stamped envelopes or postal cards, postmasters are required to submit the application to the Post Office Department for special ruling. Redemptions are made in postage stamps, stamped envelopes, or postal cards, as preferred by the owner, but not in cash. (See sec. 154, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

10. Good for postage.—All postage stamps, stamped envelopes, and postal cards issued by the United States since 1860 are good for postage in the United States, Guam, Hawaii, Puerto Rico, Tutuila, and the Virgin Islands of the United States, but not in the Canal Zone or the Philippine Islands, except that embossed stamped envelopes, single domestic postal cards, and the reply half of double domestic postal cards of the United States are valid for postage in the Philippine Islands when addressed to the United States. Postage stamps of the Canal Zone and Philippine Islands are not good for postage in the United States, except that embossed stamped envelopes, single postal cards, and the reply half of double postal cards of the Philippine Islands are valid for postage in the United States when addressed to the Philippine Islands.

11. Not good for postage.—Postage-due, special-delivery and special-handling stamps, mutilated or defaced stamps, internal-revenue, migratory-bird, war-savings, and thrift stamps, and stamps cut from embossed stamped envelopes, newspaper wrappers, or postal cards are not good for postage.

12. Remittances.—Postage stamps should not be used in making remittances. Ample registry and money-order facilities are provided for the safe transmission of money by mail.

13. Currency.—Postmasters are not required to accept in payment for postage stamps, etc., any currency which is so mutilated as to be uncurrent or as to render its genuineness doubtful. Postmasters are expected to make change whenever possible. They are not permitted to give credit for postage.

POSTAL CARDS

14. Varieties issued.—The following varieties of postal cards are issued: No. 5 1-cent domestic single, 3 by 5 inches; No. 8 1-cent domestic single, 3¼ by 5½ inches; No. 6 1-cent domestic reply, 3¼ by 5½ inches (each half); No. 7 2-cent foreign single, 3¼ by 5½ inches; "F" 2-cent foreign reply, 3½ by 5½ inches (each half); No. 11 3-cent foreign single, 3¼ by 5½ inches; No. 12 3-cent foreign reply, 3½ by 5½ inches (each half).

15. Sheets of postal cards.—When so desired for printing purposes, postal cards are furnished in sheets as follows:

Designation	Cards per sheet	Width of sheet	Length of sheet	Packed in cases of—
		Cards	Cards
No. 5 1-cent single	20	4	5	5,000
No. 6 1-cent double	20	4	5	5,000
No. 8 1-cent single	40	4	10	10,000

16. Cutting of sheet cards.—To be valid for postage, the sheet cards shall be cut to regulation size stated in par. 14. Requisitions for sheet cards must be drawn for full cases in accordance with stock packing described in the foregoing paragraph and they should be so sold to the public so far as practicable. Postmasters may break cases and sell less than the full quantity to patrons who only purchase sheet cards occasionally. Postal cards cannot be supplied in rolls or strips.

STAMPED ENVELOPES

17. Price list.—A copy of the current price schedule, Form 3200, of stamped envelopes must be kept posted conspicuously in the post office where the public can read it. When additional copies of the price list are needed postmasters at all first and second class post offices, also at third and fourth class post offices in Maryland, Virginia, and West Virginia, will make application to the Fourth Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Building Operations and Supplies, Equipment and Supplies Branch, Washington, D. C. Postmasters at third and fourth class post offices in all other States will apply to the designated supply office for extra copies of Form 3200. The prices include delivery of the envelopes at the purchaser's post office.

18. Sizes most used.—Nos. 5, 8, and 13 envelopes are the sizes in most common use. No. 13 extra quality should be secured if only a single variety is kept for sale in post-office stock.

19. Colors.—Standard-quality and extra-quality envelopes are furnished in white, blue, and amber paper. Unless otherwise requested by postmasters, requisitions are filled with white envelopes.

20. Ungummed envelopes.—Nos. 5, 8, and 13 envelopes are issued with ungummed flaps for mailing of third-class matter when so requested. All 1-cent precanceled envelopes are furnished ungummed.

21. Care in drawing requisitions.—Care should be taken not to draw requisitions for envelopes of an unsalable size, pattern, or denomination. The postmaster will be held responsible for errors of this kind, and credit at postage value only may be allowed by the department in redemption.

PRINTED ("SPECIAL REQUEST") STAMPED ENVELOPES

22. When so ordered in lots of 500 or a multiple of 500 of a given size, quality, and denomination, the Department prints the purchaser's return card on stamped envelopes. The return card consists of a request to return after a given number of days, the name of the purchaser, and his street number, post-office box, or other local address, post office, county, and State. The Department is prohibited by law from printing advertisements on stamped envelopes. The printing of return cards is done on special orders which should be placed at the purchaser's post office. Two kinds of type are used—a large type for short names and a condensed type for long names. Names not exceeding 38 spaces should be printed in one line. The condensed type is used on all extra-quality envelopes unless otherwise requested by the purchaser. The styles of return cards are as follows:

For First-Class Mail—

After 5 days, return to
JOHN DOE,
1234 5th St.,
NEW YORK, N. Y.

For Third-Class Mail—

After 5 days, return to
RICHARD DOE,
678 9th Ave.,
CHICAGO, ILL.
Return Postage Guaranteed

RICHARD DOE,
678 9th Ave.,
CHICAGO, ILL.

23. Value of return cards.—The use of return-card stamped envelopes is of much mutual advantage to the public and to the Postal Service, causing undeliverable letters to be returned to the sender.

24. Local addresses to be included in return cards.—The delivery and redelivery of letters is frequently delayed and often made impossible by the omission of an important part of the address or return card, such as the street number, room number in an office building, or location at street intersections. The great increase of indefinite addressing has become a source of serious embarrassment to the Postal Service and adversely affects the efficiency of service to the public. To facilitate prompt return of undeliverable letters to senders, and as an example to the public with reference to the use of definite locations in return cards and original addresses, paragraph 2, section 144, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, is construed to require a definite local address in return cards printed by the department in accordance with one of the following forms:

(1) Name of street and number.
(2) Post office box or drawer number.
(3) Name of building and room number therein, with or without the street and number of the building (except as to window envelopes, as to which see par. 31, p. 52).
(4) Approximate location with respect to intersecting streets, such as "Northwest corner First and A Sts.," etc.
(5) Rural route number.

The local address must conform to the point of delivery of mail matter for the patron. Two conflicting local addresses may not be used in the same return card, such as street number and post office box number. Requisitions for return-card envelopes omitting the local address from post offices having city or village delivery must be accompanied with a satisfactory explanation showing why one of the above forms of local address can not be furnished.

OFFICE-REQUEST STAMPED ENVELOPES

25. Stamped envelopes, blank return card.—Stamped envelopes with blank return cards, known as "office-request" envelopes, are kept on sale in post offices. The return card includes blank lines on which the user's name and local address or post-office box may be written with pen, and names of post office and State, for example:

---------- ----------

AARON, GA.

For rural delivery patrons:
After ____ days, return to

R. R. No. 1 (or R. R. No.___),
AARON, GA.

Office-request envelopes are furnished in extra-quality paper only. Air mail and window envelopes are not issued in the office-request style.

26. Advantages.—The use of "office-request" stamped envelopes by patrons who purchase envelopes in small quantities should be encouraged by postmasters. When purchasers of these envelopes complete the card by writing their names and local addresses on the blank lines, it provides prompt return of undeliverable letters to the senders, lessens the work of the Division of Dead Letters, and encourages the use of return cards on other mail.

27. Stamped envelopes, unprinted.—Stamped envelopes without individual or blank return cards are kept on sale for purchasers who prefer to print their own return cards in special styles.

28. Newspaper wrappers.—The manufacture of stamped newspaper wrappers has been discontinued.

WINDOW STAMPED ENVELOPES

29. Advantages.—These envelopes are of decided advantage to business houses, as they are ready for use without either stamping or addressing, and thus constitute an important labor-saving device. Letters are thus made ready for mailing earlier and errors of misdirection are minimized. The rules in paragraph 110 page 32, will govern their use.

30. Size and position of window.—The "windows" are $4\frac{15}{16}$ inches long and $1\frac{1}{16}$ inches high. In the No. 5 envelopes the "window" is located about eleven-sixteenths inch from the left edge and seven-sixteenths inch from the bottom; in the No. 13 the window is seven-eighths inch from the left edge and seven-sixteenths inch from the bottom. In the No. 7 the window is about three-fourths inch from the left edge and one-half inch from the bottom; and in the No. 8 the window is about three-fourths inch from the left edge and nine-sixteenths inch from the bottom. The window in the new No. 6 size, designed to fit standardized bank checks, is 1¼ by 4 inches in dimensions, located about three-fourths inch from the bottom and five-eighths inch from the left edge. This information is given so that inquirers may determine whether their inclosures are properly designed to fit the "window." Postmasters should not submit requests for envelopes with windows of different size or in other position than here specified.

RETURN CARD ON WINDOW ENVELOPES

31. Return cards on all window envelopes, including window stamped envelopes, must include the following:

(a) Name of sender or, in lieu thereof, the post office box number, street address or name of building and room number therein; the latter only when the street and number are used as the local address.

(b) Street address, when the post office is one having city delivery service, or number of post office box in lieu thereof. (The mere name of a building will not suffice for the street address, but may be printed in addition to street address.)

(c) Post office and State.

Window envelopes not conforming to the foregoing, as well as to the other requirements prescribed by paragraph 110, page 32, of this Guide, are unmailable.

EXTRA QUALITY STAMPED ENVELOPES

32. Superiority.—Extra-quality envelopes are made from a superior grade of paper suited to fine stationery. Owing to the higher tensile strength, extra-quality envelopes are recommended for heavy and bulky inclosures. Extra-quality envelopes are available in sizes Nos. 5, 7, 8, 9, and 13, and in white, blue, and amber paper.

33. Window sales.—All sales of ordinary stamped envelopes in quantities less than 250 will be made from extra-quality stock. Standard quality envelopes, including window and precanceled, will be sold only in lots of 250 or even multiples thereof.

PRECANCELED STAMPED ENVELOPES

34. Use.—Precanceled envelopes of the 1-cent denomination in sizes Nos. 5, 8, and 13 are issued for the mailing of third-class matter in bulk under the provisions of section 562, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932. Precanceled envelopes should not be sold to patrons who do not hold permits for mailing under this section. Precanceled envelopes are supplied plain or with the return card of the purchaser in both the regular and window pattern. All precanceled envelopes are furnished ungummed.

35. Redemption.—Precanceled envelopes may be redeemed at postage value from authorized users, providing the postmaster is satisfied that no service has been rendered thereon.

AIR MAIL STAMPED ENVELOPES

36. Stamped envelopes of the distinctive pattern approved for use in the air mails and bearing an embossed stamp of special design are issued in sizes Nos. 8 and 13, printed and unprinted.

INTERNATIONAL REPLY COUPONS

37. Use.—International reply coupons are issued for the purpose of sending reply postage to correspondents abroad. The correspondent in a foreign country may exchange each coupon for a stamp or stamps, representing the postage on a single-rate letter originating in that country for abroad. The coupon is exchangeable in any country.

38. Requisitions.—Postmasters at all post offices having calls for international reply coupons will provide sufficient stocks by requisition to meet the public demand. The coupons now issued are of the 9-cent denomination and must be legibly postmarked on the face, in the space provided, when sold.

39. Redemption of foreign coupons.—International reply coupons now issued by foreign postal administrations are redeemable in postage stamps at the rate of 5 cents each, when presented at a post office. To be acceptable for redemption, foreign coupons must bear the postmark of the selling post office. Redeemed coupons shall be immediately postmarked to show the date of exchange.

40. Redemption of United States coupons.—Unused coupons may be redeemed in postage stamps at the rate of 8 cents each for the 9-cent coupon, without regard to the date of purchase, provided they are presented for redemption by the original purchaser.

41. Shipment to Department.—All foreign international reply coupons redeemed during the calendar year shall be forwarded to the Department not later than January 31 of the following year in a shipment separate and distinct from all other stamped paper. A separate letter of transmittal should be submitted under separate cover. Redeemed and unsalable domestic coupons should be forwarded to the Department in the same shipment with adhesive postage stamps. (See par. 90, p. 60.) Failure to transmit redeemed foreign reply coupons promptly at the close of the calendar year may result in disallowance of credit.

REQUISITIONS FOR STAMP STOCK

42. Requisition blanks.—Postage stamps and other stamped paper must be secured by central-accounting and direct-accounting postmasters from the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Stamps, by requisition on the following blank forms:

For ordinary stamps, books of stamps, air mail, special-delivery, special-handling and postage-due stamps, No. 3201.

For stamps in coils, precanceled and commemorative stamps and international reply coupons, No 3201–A.

For unprinted stamped envelopes, and postal cards, No. 3201–B.

For special-request and office-request stamped envelopes, No. 3202.

For precanceled envelopes, special request and unprinted, No. 3202.

43. District postmasters shall obtain supplies of postage stamps in sheets, coils, and books; postal cards and unprinted stamped envelopes, from the central-accounting post office by requisition on Form 017–F. C. with remittance of postal funds in payment. District postmasters will submit requisitions for special-request and office request stamped envelopes, also printed and unprinted precanceled envelopes on Form 3202–d, to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Stamps. Payment of printed envelopes so ordered will be made to the central-accounting postmaster, promptly upon receipt of stock. (See par. 74, p. 58.)

44. Requisitions must not be delayed.—Some postmasters neglect to draw requisition for postage stamps and other stamped paper until their stock is nearly exhausted. Paragraph 2, section 148, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, requires requisitions to be drawn well in advance of the postmaster's needs; and sufficient time should also be allowed to return the requisition for any necessary correction, or for correspondence concerning it. (See par. 62, p. 55.) Requisitions for special-request envelopes must be submitted promptly upon acceptance of the order from the purchaser.

45. Frequent requisitions to be avoided.—Requisitions for commonly used varieties of stamp stock should not be submitted oftener than once each quarter, except in cases of emergency or when the postmaster is unable to give that amount of supplies adequate protection. In general, larger requisitions submitted less frequently facilitate the work of the Department and minimize accounting in post offices, but requisitions must be restricted to such quantities as can be given adequate protection from ioss by fire or theft.

46. Amount of requisitions.—On account of the frequency of post-office burglaries, postmasters should draw requisition about one month in advance of their needs for not exceeding a three months' supply of postage stamps at a time if they can not protect a larger quantity. When larger stocks of postage stamps can be protected, requisitions equivalent to a six months' supply may be drawn. Requisitions for a 6 to 12 months' supply of postal cards, plain stamped envelopes, and office-request envelopes may be submitted if storage space is available. Requisitions shall not be drawn for excessive quantities of commemorative stamps or higher denomination air mail stamps. (See pars. 58 to 61, p. 54.)

47. Indorsement as to protection.—To indicate that special provision is made to safeguard the property of the Government, in accordance with sections 106 and 121, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, postmasters shall indorse the face of all requisitions, "These stamps can be protected." Postmasters who occupy Government buildings shall indorse their requisitions "Federal building."

48. If stamps can not be protected.—If the surplus stamps can not be given reasonable protection, requisitions should be indorsed "See letter," and a statement briefly explaining the conditions should be mailed to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Stamps.

49. Protection of stamps of high denominations.—The attention of postmasters is directed to the necessity of giving the best available protection to postage stamps of high denominations. Where the storage facilities at hand offer different degrees of security, the stamps of higher denominations should be kept in the safest place. This point should be observed particularly by postmasters at offices in Federal buildings where the vaults are provided with safes containing a burglar-proof inner compartment and outer space not so well protected. So far as practicable, all stamps of high denominations should be kept in these burglar-proof compartments.

50. Removal to more secure place than post office.—Postmasters should confer with the local police authorities, acquaint them with the prevalence of burglaries by skilled safe blowers, and request that special watch be kept of the post office at night. If the post office is not sufficiently safe, the funds and money-order blanks, as well as the postage stamps, above one week's average supply, should be removed to a more secure place, in accordance with sections 106 and 121, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932. Immediate action cannot be too strongly urged, because post offices in different parts of the country are being attacked by burglars every night. Postmasters are held personally responsible for the loss of Government stamps and funds which have not been given the best available protection.

51. Post-office safes.—Ordinary iron safes with combination locks are not burglar proof; they are easily opened with explosives. Post-office safes should therefore not be relied upon for protection unless rated by the manufacturer as burglar proof.

52. Storage of cards and envelopes.—Postal cards and stamped envelopes need not be removed to a more secure place than the post office, as they are rarely taken by burglars because of their weight and bulk. They must, however, be kept in locked receptacles or storage rooms accessible only to the postmaster or employee who is responsible for the custody of the stock.

53. Care of stamp books in post offices.—Stamp books should not be stored with stamped envelopes and postal cards, but should be given the same special protection required by section 106, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, to be given adhesive stamps in sheet form.

54. Information on requisition.—The following information must be given on all requisitions for postage stamps, postal cards, plain stamped envelopes, or newspaper wrappers:

(a) Stock on hand of all varieties ordered.

(b) Total sales reported in item 1 of postage-stamp account for previous quarter.

(c) Whether stamps ordered can be protected against burglary.

55. Requisitions must be prepared properly.—The necessity of careful compliance by postmasters with the published instructions in preparing requisitions can not be overemphasized. Failure of postmasters to submit complete and accurately prepared requisitions is a source of added expense in the department and leads to the furnishing of stock for which there is no local demand. Particular care should be given requisitions for printed and unprinted stamped envelopes to see that the value agrees exactly with the items ordered, and to have the quality and kind whether "standard quality", "extra quality", "window", "precanceled", or "air-mail" plainly stated.

56. Treatment of stamp stock ordered or shipped in error at direct and central accounting post offices.—

(a) When a shipment of postage stamps, postal cards, or stamped envelopes is found not to agree with the invoice, as to quantity, denomination, or variety, the postmaster shall make an immediate report thereof to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Stamps, giving the date of invoice and registry or shipping number, the shipment to be held intact with the original wrappings pending the receipt of instructions. Reports of shortages or overages in the packing of stamped envelopes and postal cards must be attested by a witness and accompanied with the end of the envelope box or the postal-card packing slip. (See sec. 150, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

(b) When postage stamps, postal cards, or stamped envelopes of the wrong denomination, size, or kind are received as the result of error in the preparation of the requisition, and the items agree with the invoice, the postmaster shall place the supplies in post-office stock and submit a new requisition for any additional needed stock. If the items so received are considered unsalable, the postmaster shall report the facts to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Stamps, but under no circumstances shall undesired stamp stock be returned to the department for exchange.

(c) If a shipment of postage stamps, postal cards, or stamped envelopes is received for which requisition was not submitted as the result of wrong address or otherwise, the postmaster shall make an immediate report thereof to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Stamps, giving the registry or shipping number, and hold the shipment intact for instructions.

(d) For adjustment of errors in printed envelope orders postmasters will be guided by the instructions in section 145, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.

QUANTITIES OF STAMPED PAPER SUPPLIED

57. Stamped paper is issued by the department to direct and central accounting postmasters in the following minimum quantities or multiples thereof:

Ordinary stamps, 100 of ½, 1, 1½, 2, 3, 4, 4½, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 24, 25, or 30-cent; 50 of 50-cent; 10 of $1, $2, or $5.

Air-mail stamps, 50 of 6, 10, 15, 20, 30, or 50 cent, and 16 cent (special delivery).

Special-delivery stamps, 50 of 10, 15, or 20 cent. Special-handling stamps, 50 of 10, 15, or 20 cent.

Stamp books, 60 of a single variety. (See sec. 61 below.)

Due stamps, 100 of ½, 1, 2, 3, or 5 cent; 50 of 10, 30, 50 cent, $1, or $5.

Postal cards, 500 of either No. 5 or No. 8 domestic single; 250 of No. 6 domestic reply; 100 of either No. 7 and No. 11 foreign single or of "F" and No. 12 foreign reply.

Plain stamped envelopes, 500 of a given size, quality, and denomination.

Special-request or office-request stamped envelopes, 500 of a given size, quality, denomination, and return card.

Postal-savings stamps, 100.

58. Stock packing of adhesive postage stamps.—Requisition should be drawn for stock packages containing 10,000, 50,000, or 200,000 stamps of each denomination, or for multiples of these quantities, provided the stamps will be needed within a reasonable time; that is, 10,000 2-cent rather than 7,000, 50,000 rather than 40,000, 200,000 rather than 150,000. Special-delivery stamps are put up in packages of 5,000, 25,000, and 100,000. For convenience in handling, postage stamps are put up in sealed packages of 10,000 with the margins of the sheets stitched together. The issuing of stamps in this form is of advantage to postmasters as well as to the department. Postmasters whose sales amount within 6 months to 10,000 or more stamps of any denomination should make requisition for stock packages of 10,000 or multiples of 10,000 provided they can be protected. (See pars. 46 to 49, p. 53.)

59. Stock packing of postal cards.—The cut postal cards are issued as follows: Nos. 5 and 8 in packages of 500, 1,000, 2,000, 5,000, or multiples of 5,000; the No. 6 in packages of 250, 500, 2,000, 5,000 or multiples of 5,000; No. 7, No. 11, No. 12, and "F" cards in packages of 100, 250, 500, 1,000, 2,000, 5,000, or multiples of 5,000. The No. 8 1-cent postal cards are banded in fifties; all other cards are banded in twenty-fives. See paragraph 15, page 50, for stock packing of postal cards in sheets.

60. Stock packing of envelopes.—Stamped envelopes are packed in boxes of 250, 500, 1,000, 2,000, and 5,000 of the Nos. 6, 7, 8, and 9 sizes; and in boxes of 500, 1,000, 2,000, 5,000, and 10,000 of the other sizes.

61. Stock packing of stamp books.—Stamp books are issued to postmasters in stock packages containing 30, 540, or 2,160 books.

TIME REQUIRED FOR FILLING REQUISITIONS

62. The time usually required for shipment of stamps, stamp books, and international reply coupons after the postmaster's requisition is received at the Department is five to eight business days; for postal cards or plain stamped envelopes, four to eight days; for special-request and office-request envelopes, ten to twelve days, depending on conditions of manufacture. By adding the length of time required for requisitions to reach the Department and for delivery from the respective distributing agencies, the postmaster can determine about the date shipments should reach him. This schedule is not guaranteed, as conditions are sometimes such that longer time is required to fill requisitions. (See par. 44, p. 53.)

63. When requisitions are not filled.—If stamp stock is not received in due course, an exact copy of the requisition, endorsed across the top "Duplicate" and bearing the date of the original requisition, should be sent to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Stamps.

64. When invoice or stamp stock is not received.—The Third Assistant Postmaster General should be notified of the registry number and point of dispatch when a shipment of stamp stock is received without invoice. If the invoice is received, and not the supplies, the date of invoice should be given. Shipments of plain envelopes and postal cards are sometimes divided and forwarded in separate mails from different distributing agencies. Postmasters should wait a reasonable time before reporting nonreceipt of envelopes and cards still due on a requisition. Small orders of printed stamped envelopes, consisting of two or more wrapped packages, are frequently dispatched on different dates. Postmasters should allow three days for the arrival of the balance of the order before reporting a shortage.

65. Special requisitions.—Requests that shipment of stamp stock be expedited shall not be submitted to the Department except in cases of emergency, which must be satisfactorily explained by the postmaster. Special attention will not be given requisitions that are merely marked "Expedite," "Rush," etc., without a statement showing that the stock is needed for a given date of mailing. Proper compliance by postmasters with the instructions in paragraph 2, section 148, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, will prevent conditions making advance shipments necessary. Telegraphic requisitions, and requests for expediting of commonly used varieties of stamps, cards, and envelopes, are especially objectionable. Postmasters should, however, request that requisitions be expedited and telegraph the Third Assistant Postmaster General if necessary when stamps or other stamp supplies are needed to meet an unexpected demand which could not with reasonable foresight be provided without expediting. The department desires to give good service and provide every reasonable facility to the public for the purchase of stamps and other stamped paper, and to that end postmasters are expected to carry ample stocks and to draw special requisitions upon the department when the circumstances clearly justify it.

When application is received from the public for immediate delivery of stamp stock in quantities which a postmaster is unable to supply, he may purchase temporary supplies from neighboring post offices (par. 7, sec. 148, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, but this method must not be made a practice for the reason that the value of stamp stock purchased for cash can not be included in the post office receipts (sec. 149, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932). Postmasters who sell stamp stock to other postmasters under this authorization must report the sales to the First Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Post Office Service, under the provisions of section 424, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.

66. Care in handling shipments of postage stamps.—Post-office and railway-mail clerks are cautioned to exercise care in handling registered packages and boxes of stamps, postal cards, and stamped envelopes which pass through their hands in transit to postmasters from the department and the several distributing subagencies. The use of fiber shipping boxes for postal cards and stamped envelopes makes it necessary that all employees shall handle these shipments with sufficient care to prevent damage in transit. (See secs. 1270, 1274, and 2093, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

67. Postmasters to sell old stock of stamped paper.—In withdrawing stamps, postal cards and stamped envelopes, from stock for sale to the public, postmasters should select the oldest on hand provided they are in perfect condition. This will lessen the chances for stock to become shopworn and damaged, and tend to keep it fresh. Damaged or soiled stamps or other stamped paper should never be offered for sale. Defectively printed or cut and incompletely perforated sheets of postage stamps shall be withheld from sale and returned to the Department for adjustment. Postal employees shall not appropriate defectively manufactured postage stamps to their own use.

DISTRIBUTION OF STAMPS BY CENTRAL-ACCOUNTING POSTMASTERS

68. Law.—In order to promote economy in the distribution of supplies, and in auditing and accounting, the Postmaster General may designate districts and central offices in such districts through which supplies shall be distributed and accounts audited, but in no case shall the postmaster at the central station be given authority to abolish offices, to change officers or employees in offices included in such district. (Act approved Mar. 3, 1917.)

69. Designation of post offices.—For the purposes of this act post offices shall be designated as "central accounting" offices and as "district" offices. Post offices not included in the central-accounting system shall be known as "direct-accounting" offices. Post offices of the third and fourth classes are district accounting offices, except in Guam. Post offices of the first and second classes are direct or central-accounting.

71. Fixed credits.—Postmasters at post offices desginated as "central-accounting" offices shall allow to postmasters at "district" offices a fixed credit for postage stamps and other stamp stock sufficient to meet the public demand. The fixed credit for postage-stamp stock shall be for a total of $50, or a multiple of $50, and for fourth-class post offices shall be based on a two months' supply according to the average stamp sales. For third-class post offices the fixed credit should approximate a three months' supply based on the average stamp sales. Fixed credits will be adjusted as may be required to conform to increases or decreases in the average amount of district post-office business. Excessive fixed credits will be avoided if ordinary postage stamps of high denominations, only occasionally required, are eliminated and the value applied to larger stocks of commonly used varieties. Application for increase or decrease in fixed credit will be made to the central-accounting postmaster who is authorized to adjust the stamp stock allowance at district post offices to conform to the instructions in this paragraph.

72. Receipts for fixed credits.—District postmasters shall give their central-accounting postmasters a receipt on Form 3367 for postage-stamp stock, issued on fixed credit. The receipt shall be postmarked by the district postmaster.

73. List of fixed credits.—The fixed credits required by paragraphs 71 and 72 shall be listed by the central-accounting postmaster. The list shall show the names of district post offices arranged alphabetically, with the amounts of the fixed credit entered opposite each name, the name of the district postmaster and the date of the fixed credit receipt. The list shall be examined during the month of July of each year to determine if the name of the postmaster listed is the name of the duly authorized person actually serving as postmaster at the time of the examination. If the postmark date of the receipt, form 3367, on file is 4 years or more prior to the date of the examination, a new receipt shall be prepared and sent to the authorized incumbent postmaster for signature and return to the central accounting office for file. The old receipt shall then be plainly stamped, canceled, and returned to the post office concerned. The list shall be corrected whenever a change is made in the name of the postmaster, the amount or date of the fixed credit receipt and shall be totaled to show the amount of fixed credits outstanding, and shall be filed with the fixed credit receipts.

74. Requisitions.—District postmasters shall keep their fixed credit intact at all times either in stamp stock or cash items. The postmaster shall replenish his stamp stock by purchase of the central accounting office, remitting the cash therefor with requisition on Form 017–F.C. Such requisition shall be submitted regularly once each month by postmasters at fourth-class post offices and twice each month by postmasters at third-class post offices. At fourth-class offices the names of which begin with letters from A to L, requisitions should be made between the 5th and 15th of each month, and at fourth-class offices the names of which begin with other letters of the alphabet the requisitions should be made between the 16th and 25th of each month. At all third-class post offices, the first requisition should be sent between the 5th and 15th and the second between the 16th and 25th of the month. In cases of emergency, requisitions may be made at other times and will be filled promptly. Requisitions for special-request envelopes on Form 3202-d shall be sent to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Stamps, promptly upon the acceptance of order from the purchaser. (See secs. 143, 144, 148, and 149, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.) Postmasters at district post offices will obtain needed supplies of 10-cent postal savings stamps from the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Postal Savings, Washington, D. C., requests to be submitted by letter. No special requisition blank is provided for this purpose. See par. 43, page 53.

75. Filing of requisitions.—The requisitions of district postmasters shall be filed as a post office record by central-accounting postmasters, and retained for not less than three years after the issuance of the stock.

76. Count of stamps by central-accounting postmaster.—Stamp stock issued to district postmasters shall be counted by the central-accounting postmaster or by a designated employee of his office, in the presence of a witness, both of whom shall sign the requisition to attest the correctness of the count.

77. Shipment.—The central-accounting postmaster shall ship stamp stock to district postmasters by official registered mail, and shall place the registry numbers of all shipments upon the filed requisitions. Promptly upon receipt of special-request or office-request envelopes at a district post office, the postmaster will make immediate remittance of the value from current postal funds, to the central-accounting postmaster, with letter of transmittal on Form 1208.

78. Invoice.—Shipments of postage stamps, postal cards, and unprinted envelopes shall be accompanied with an invoice, which shall be itemized as to quantities and denominations issued, and shall show the total value of the stamp stock invoiced.

79. Opening of package by district postmaster.—The district postmaster shall open all registered shipments of stamp stock promptly upon receipt from the central-accounting postmaster by cutting the ends of the envelopes or wrappers thereof in the same manner as required in opening registry jackets. Care must be taken to preserve seals intact. This must be done in the presence of a witness who, jointly with the postmaster, will count the contents of the shipment to see that the stock received agrees with the items on the accompanying invoice. The district postmaster and the witness shall sign the invoice with ink and note thereon the registry number and date of receipt. If the stock received conforms to the invoice, the latter shall then be filed as a post-office record by the district postmaster. In case there is a shortage or overage in the shipment, the district postmaster will proceed as directed in paragraph 80 below. See also section 150, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.

80. Discrepancies.—If stamp stock received by a district postmaster is found not to correspond with the invoice, he shall immediately report the facts to the central-accounting postmaster, meantime holding intact the stamp stock and all packing material in which it was received. The central-accounting postmaster shall investigate the report carefully, and shall recall any excess or supply any shortage in the stamp stock issued to the district postmaster. If he can not verify a reported shortage, the central-accounting postmaster shall notify the nearest post-office inspector, and shall request the district postmaster to hold the stamp stock and packing material intact pending investigation by the inspector. Meantime the district postmaster shall draw requisition upon the central-accounting postmaster for a new supply of stamp stock if needed, and his fixed credit may be temporarily increased by the amount of such requisition.

81. Stamp stock redeemed from the public and damaged postage stamps in district offices.—Stamp stock redeemed by district postmasters or damaged in their possession shall be carefully counted and packed in the presence of a disinterested witness and forwarded by registered mail to the central-accounting postmaster with a requisition for the stock to be furnished in exchange on Form 017–F.C. on the back of which in the space provided shall be entered an itemized list of the stock returned for credit. District postmasters shall not forward redeemed and unsalable stamped paper direct to the department for credit.

82. Treatment of damaged postage stamps by central-accounting postmaster.—The central-accounting postmaster shall label and send all stamp stock redeemed from district postmasters, by registered mail, not oftener than once a quarter, to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Stamps, for credit in his account. He shall also include with the shipment any stamp stock redeemed by or damaged in his own post office. The shipment shall be sorted, packed, and listed as directed in paragraphs 90 to 98, page 60, of this Guide.

83. Accounts of central-accounting postmaster.—Postmasters at central-accounting offices shall render to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Stamps, a quarterly stamp account, and to the Comptroller of the Post Office Department a quarterly postal account.

84. Stamps sold to district postmasters excluded from gross receipts of central-accounting postmasters.—Stamp stock issued and sold by central-accounting postmasters to district postmasters shall be reported, and shall not be included in gross receipts for the purpose of fixing salaries of postmasters at central-accounting offices under section 424, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.

85. Stamps damaged in transit.—When a shipment of postage stamps or other stamped paper is damaged in transit to a district post office with loss of contents, the postmaster shall submit a report, upon his oath of office, to his central-accounting postmaster, who will take the necessary action to effect adjustment.

86. Unavoidable losses.—When the postmaster at a district office suffers a loss of stamp stock or funds by fire, burglary, or other unavoidable casualty, which is subject to claim for reimbursement under section 158, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, he shall notify the central-accounting postmaster, who will furnish him with cash or stamp stock equaling the amount of the loss. The district postmaster shall sign an "emergency claim pending receipt" to cover the amount furnished, acknowledging his accountability therefor and agreeing to account for the same in cash or stamps if his claim is disallowed by the Postmaster General. The district postmaster will thus be released from including in his accounts the amount of the loss pending final action on his claim which should be filed with the Solicitor, Post Office Department, promptly.

DIRECTIONS FOR RETURNING POSTAGE-STAMP STOCK FOR CREDIT

87. Undamaged postage-stamp stock held in excess.—Undamaged postage stamps, stamp books, stamped envelopes, postal cards, and newspaper wrappers held in excess of requirements must NOT be returned without first obtaining permission.

88. Stock ordered or shipped in error.—When postage stamps or other stamped paper ordered in error or shipped in error are received at a direct or central accounting post office, the postmaster shall treat the shipment as directed in paragraph 56, page 54, of this Guide. Under no circumstances shall the shipment be returned to the department unless so instructed.

89. Preparation of redemption shipments.—Stamped envelopes, postal cards, and other stamped paper returned to the department must be securely wrapped and sealed, and sent by registered mail, addressed to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Stamps. The postmark of the forwarding office should be legibly stamped on the package. Each shipment must be accompanied with a letter of transmittal (Form 3206) containing a statement showing the number of pieces of each denomination and the value of the stock sent, with the reason for its return. A separate letter of transmittal should not be prepared for the contents of each package in a shipment. The postmaster must certify in his letter that none of the postage stamps has been redeemed from the public, and that all envelopes and postal cards bearing printed return cards or addresses have been redeemed from original purchasers. (Secs. 154 and 155, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.) The stock returned must be counted, prepared purchasers. (Secs. 154 and 155, Postal Laws and Regulations.) The stock returned must be counted, prepared for shipment, and dispatched in the presence of a disinterested witness. Each case of stamped envelopes or postal cards should contain a packer's slip, Form 3208, listing the contents and value thereof. This form may be obtained by requisition on the Fourth Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Building Operations and Supplies. Redeemed and unsalable stamp stock held by district postmasters shall be sent to their central-accounting postmasters, with a requisition for new stock desired in exchange. (Par. 81, p. 59.)

90. Separation of shipments.—In order to facilitate the handling of redeemed stock and the certification of credits, postmasters shall prepare separate shipments and separate letters of transmittal as follows:

(a) For adhesive postage stamps issued in sheets, books, and coils, damaged in post-office stock and United States international reply coupons either damaged in post-office stock or redeemed from the public.

(b) For stamped envelopes and newspaper wrappers redeemed from the public at postage value, and postal cards redeemed from the public at 75 per cent of face value.

(c) For stamped envelopes, newspaper wrappers, and postal cards for which credit at full value is claimed with the reason therefor. In the case of special-request envelopes also give date of invoice.

(d) For international reply coupons issued by foreign governments.

(e) For documentary stamps damaged in post offices.

91. Letter of transmittal.—Use Form 3206. This form will be supplied by requisition on the Fourth Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Building Operations and Supplies. The letter of transmittal must not be included in the shipment but is to be forwarded to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Stamps, under separate cover.

92. Preparation of letter.—The letter of transmittal shall include the name of post office and State, plainly written or typed, date of shipment, registry number, itemized list of stamp stock returned, and signature of post master. To facilitate the writing of credit notices, the name of the postmaster should be typed or printed under his signature. It is not necessary to list separately the different kinds of postage stamps of the same denomination nor the different sizes of stamped envelopes of the same denomination unless full value therefor is claimed.

93. Packages.—Each kind and denomination of stamped envelopes and postal cards must be separated into packages of 25, 50, or 100, and the stamps impressed thereon arranged to uniformly cover one another. When practicable postmasters should retain excess postal cards or envelopes not sufficient to make up a complete package until their next quarterly shipment.

94. Full sheets.—Postmasters should not tear stamps apart, but should, so far as practicable, forward them to the department in full sheets.

95. Mutilated stamps.—More than one-half a stamp must be returned or no credit will be allowed therefor.

96. Treatment of stuck stamps.—Stamps not in original banded packages and broken stamp coils that are stuck together should be separated by soaking in hot water.

97. Treatment of separated stamps.—When stamps are in less than full sheets or in full coils they should be pasted carefully on sheets of paper, 100 stamps to a sheet, in 10 regularly arranged rows of 10 stamps each. Any stamps over the full sheets of 100 should be pasted on a separate sheet of paper in regularly arranged rows of 10 stamps each, or held until a full sheet is obtained for submission with the next regular shipment. More than one denomination should not be pasted on a sheet.

98. Time of shipment.—Shipments should not be made oftener than once a quarter, and no shipment shall be dispatched to reach the department after the 15th of the last month of a quarter, unless the postmaster has been so authorized, so that the credit may be included in the same quarter. Large shipments should be made in cases or boxes, but not in mail pouches or sacks. Those received too late will be credited in the next quarter. Shipment of redeemed and damaged stamped paper should not be made to the department until the redemption value thereof amounts to more than $1.00, except that foreign international reply coupons redeemed from the public shall be submitted at least once a year.

99. (a) Credits.—Central-accounting and direct-accounting postmasters shall not claim credit for the value of postage-stamp stock returned to the department for redemption until authorized to do so. Authorizations of credit will be forwarded to postmasters as soon as practicable after the receipt of shipments.

(b) Fraction of a cent not to be claimed.—In arriving at the value of redemption shipments, fractions of a cent must be dropped, not only in the grand total but in all computations. (See par. 6, sec. 154, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

100. To replace redeemed stamped paper.—Stamped paper will NOT be sent in exchange for that which is forwarded to the department for redemption. If additional stamp stock is desired, requisition must be made on the proper form, in the usual manner.

ADHESIVE (DOCUMENTARY) INTERNAL-REVENUE STAMPS

(Federal Law)

101. "The Commissioner (of Internal Revenue) shall furnish to the Postmaster General without prepayment a suitable quantity of adhesive (internal-revenue) stamps to be distributed to and kept on sale by the various postmasters in the United States in all post offices of the first and second classes and such post offices of the third and fourth classes as are located in county seats. The Postmaster General may require each such postmaster to give additional or increased bond as postmaster for the value of the stamps so furnished, and each such postmaster shall deposit the receipts from the sale of such stamps to the credit of and render accounts to the Postmaster General at such times and in such form as he may by regulations prescribe. The Postmaster General shall at least once monthly transfer all collections from this source to the Treasury as internal-revenue collections." (26 U. S. C. 917a, Supp. VI; act of March 1, 1933, Public No. 389.)

INSTRUCTIONS

102. (a) Post offices authorized and required to sell documentary stamps.—Postmasters at all post offices of the first and second classes and at such post offices of the third and fourth classes as are located in county seats only are authorized by law to sell documentary internal-revenue stamps, and they shall keep a typewritten notice posted in the lobby of the post office advising the public that the stamps may be purchased at the stamp window, and shall keep on hand for sale a suitable quantity of documentary internal-revenue stamps sufficient to meet the demands of the public.

(b) The amount of these stamp sales at post offices shall not be considered as forming any part of "Gross Postal Receipts" under paragraph 424 Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

103. Sale by mail.—Postmasters shall fill any order received by mail for the purchase of such stamps from stamp collectors and taxpayers, provided such order is accompanied with a remittance to cover the value of the stamps ordered plus return postage and registry fee. No stamps shall be sent by ordinary mail even though the purchaser may request it. The filling of any mail order shall be witnessed by two persons. Only cash or money order will be accepted in payment for documentary internal-revenue stamps. Any checks, drafts, or other form of remittance accepted by a postmaster in payment for documentary internal-revenue stamps shall be at the postmaster's personal risk, and no credit will be extended in the accounts of any postmaster for loss due to acceptance of any remittance other than cash or by money order.

104. Advice to public.—Postmasters and postal employees shall not, in their official capacity, attempt to advise or instruct taxpayers or purchasers of adhesive documentary internal-revenue stamps on matters connected with the administration of the internal-revenue laws, but shall limit their activities to selling the stamps to the public at post offices required by law and these instructions to keep them for sale.

105. Redemption or exchange from public prohibited.—Postmasters shall not redeem, repurchase, or exchange any adhesive internal-revenue stamps from any person, firm, company, bank, or corporation. Persons desiring to redeem, sell, or exchange internal-revenue stamps held by them shall be advised to apply to the nearest collector or deputy collector of internal revenue.

106. Fixed credits.—(a) Central-accounting postmasters shall issue to the postmaster at all post offices of the first and second classes and to the postmaster at such post offices of the third and fourth classes as are located in county seats within their respective central-accounting jurisdiction a sufficient supply of adhesive internal-revenue stamps in amounts suitable to the needs of the respective offices in multiples of $10. Fixed credit receipt, Form 3336, in triplicate shall be used for that purpose, the original and duplicates of which shall be signed by the central accounting postmaster and by the postmaster that receives the stamps who shall after signature return the original to the central accounting postmaster and retain and file the duplicate copy. The triplicate copy shall be sent to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Stamps: Provided, That the amount of the fixed credit furnished to any postmaster under authority of this paragraph shall in no case, without special written authorization of the Third Assistant Postmaster General, exceed the following limitations:

First-class post offices with annual postal receipts of $1,000,000 or more, $5,000.
First-class post offices with annual postal receipts of $500,000 or more, but less than $1,000,000, $3,000.
First-class post offices with annual postal receipts of $200,000, but less than $500,000, $1,000.
First-class post offices with annual postal receipts less than $200,000, $500.
Second-class post offices, $300.
Third-class post offices and fourth-class post offices located in county seats, $100.

(b) Central-accounting postmasters may change the fixed credits allowed to other postmasters after such credits have been established within the limits specified herein without prior reference to the Department, when required to adequately serve the public demand for the stamps, but a new receipt on Form 3336 shall be obtained when such increase or decrease is made, and a copy of such new receipt shall forthwith be forwarded to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Stamps, with a statement showing the number and amount of requisitions for documentary stamps for two months preceding the change.

(c) Postmasters shall issue to superintendents and clerks in charge of stations and stamp clerks a sufficient supply of adhesive internal-revenue stamps to meet the public demand and such fixed credits shall be accounted for in the same manner prescribed for postage stamp fixed credits in paragraph 4, section 152, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, Form 3336 in duplicate shall be used for that purpose.

(d) The stamps are for use in payment of taxes on the following instruments only:

1. Issues of bonds or capital stock.
2. Sales or transfers of bonds; also transfers of stock not made through exchanges.
3. Real estate conveyances, deeds, etc.
4. Steamship passage tickets.
5. Foreign insurance policies.

(e) The central-accounting postmaster must establish a fixed credit of at least $10 at every class post office referred to in paragraph 106 (a) of these instructions whether any stamps are sold at such post office or not. He shall not furnish the stamps for resale, to a post office of the third or fourth class not located at the county seat. The law is mandatory in requiring that the stamps shall be available at all classes of post offices referred to. These instructions are mandatory on the central-accounting postmaster to establish the fixed credit, and on the various other postmasters to receive the stamps, advise the public by typewritten notice posted in the lobby that the stamps can be purchased at the stamp window, and to account for the stamps to the department through the central-accounting postmaster on a fixed-credit basis. No diserction is vested in the department or any postmaster as to whether or not the stamps shall be available for sale to the public at the various classes of post offices referred to herein, nor can the Department authorize their sale at a post office of the third or fourth class not located at the county seat. Only the amount of stamps and method of distribution and accounting is discretionary within the limits prescribed.

(f) In the large cities having branches and stations, suitable "fixed credits" shall be issued to superintendents, clerks in charge of stations, and stamp-window clerks when in the judgment of the postmaster it is necessary to issue such fixed credits to meet the public demand. The matter of issuing the credits referred to under (c) of this paragraph is entirely discretionary with the postmaster: Provided, That the stamps must be placed on sale at least at one retail stamp window in every post office required by these instructions to sell them, irrespective of the proximity of any local internal-revenue collector's office. The postmaster shall cause all credits issued under (c) of this paragraph to be inspected at least once monthly and he shall see that the cash received from the sale of the stamps is not allowed to accumulate at branches, stations, or stamp windows. These funds are tax collections. They are not subject to diversion for any purpose and must be promptly disposed of as provided herein in order that there may be no delay in remittances to the central-accounting postmaster and depositing of the money by the central accounting and Washington, D. C., postmaster to the credit of the Postmaster General. Form 3336 shall be used for all fixed credit receipts at branches, stations, and stamp windows. Form 3336 (in duplicate only) shall be supplied to other postmasters, when requested, by the central accounting postmaster.

107. Remittance of cash.—All money received by a postmaster (except at central accounting and the Washington, D. C., post offices) from the sale of documentary internal-revenue stamps shall be remitted to the central accounting postmaster for the purchase of new stock with a requisition Form 017FC at least once each month between the 15th and 25th days of the month and at any other time during the month that the cash on hand received from the sale of the stamps shall amount to $500, or, if the fixed credit is less than $1,000, whenever the cash on hand shall amount to one-third of the fixed credit.

108. Requisitions to the Department for documentary internal-revenue stamps.—The stamps will be furnished to central-accounting post offices, and to the Washington, D. C., post office by the department in the following denominations: 1-cent, 2-cent, 3-cent, 4-cent, 5-cent, 8-cent, 10-cent, 20-cent, 25-cent, 40-cent, 50-cent, 80-cent, $1, $2, $3, $5, $10, $30, $60, $100, $500, and $1,000 on requisition signed by the postmaster. Central-accounting postmasters and the postmaster at Washington, D. C., will use a special requisition blank Form 3337 when requisitioning supplies of these stamps. Under no circumstances shall a requisition for both migratory-bird hunting stamps and documentary internal-revenue stamps be made on the same Form 3337. These forms will be supplied to other post offices by the central-accounting post office. (See par. 106 and 107.)

109. Accounts.—Every central-accounting postmaster and the postmaster at Washington, D.C., shall render a monthly account on Form 3345 to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Stamps, on or before the 10th business day of each calendar month covering all internal-revenue stamp transactions of the preceding month. The account shall be sent by ordinary mail in a "penalty" envelope plainly marked "Documentary Internal Revenue Stamp Account," accompanied by receipts covering deposits made for the total sales reported during the month, and the duplicate invoice Form 3337 signed and dated to show date stamps ordered were received.

110. Change in postmaster.—Upon the death, resignation, removal, or suspension of a postmaster, or whenever a new bond is required, the provisions of sections 243 and 302 to 306, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, are applicable to postmasters who render to the department monthly documentary internal-revenue stamp accounts and to all other postmasters who are accountable for the stamps on a fixed-credit basis. Divided accounts must be submitted by the postmaster who renders accounts to the department for the parts of the month served by each postmaster or acting postmaster or for the parts of the month covered by different bonds accompanied by Form 3235 duly executed by the outgoing and incoming postmaster, and in a similar manner, when a change occurs in the status or bond of a postmaster accountable to the central-accounting postmaster for internal-revenue stamps, a new fixed-credit receipt on Form 3336 must be obtained by the central-accounting postmaster, but the triplicate copy of Form 3336 shall be prepared and forwarded to the Third Assistant Postmaster General only when a new fixed credit is established or where there is a change in the amount of an established fixed credit. The triplicate copies filed in the Department are for statistical purposes only, and are not required where there is a change of postmaster unless the amount is changed also. No periodic accounts or reports of documentary internal-revenue stamp transactions are required to be submitted to the department by any postmaster except at central-accounting offices and the post office at Washington, D. C.

111. (a) Deposits.—All cash received in the central-accounting post office from the sale of documentary internal-revenue stamps and the proceeds of similar sales received from other post offices shall be deposited in the same bank where postal funds are deposited on account of the Post Office Department internal-revenue collections twice monthly in even dollars to the credit of the Postmaster General. The postmaster will prepare and the bank will sign receipts on Treasury Department Form I (revised), Division of Bookkeeping and Warrants, in quadruplicate, on each copy of which shall be plainly stamped or written "P. O. Dept. Internal Revenue Collections." The original certificate will be sent by the bank to the Treasurer of the United States; the quadruplicate retained by the bank and the duplicate and triplicate delivered to the depositing postmaster who will forward the duplicate to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Stamps, with Form 3345 at the close of each month. The triplicate will be retained by the postmaster for four years. Additional receipt forms when required should be requested by letter addressed by the central-accounting postmaster to the Treasury Department, Division of Bookkeeping and Warrants, Washington, D. C.

(b) Washington, D. C.—The postmaster at Washington, D. C., shall in all respects operate as a direct-accounting postmaster and shall deposit documentary internal-revenue funds twice monthly in the Treasury of the United States, to the credit of the Postmaster General on account of the Post Office Department internal-revenue collections. He shall prepare and dispose of Treasury Department Form 1 (revised), Division of Bookkeeping and Warrants, as provided in paragraph 111 (a) hereof.

112. Damaged, spoiled, or unsalable stamps.—(a) Damaged, spoiled, or unsalable documentary internal-revenue stamps in the stock at any post office except Washington, D. C., and the various central-accounting post offices (not purchased, exchanged, or redeemed from any individual, firm, company, or corporation) shall be sent to the respective central-accounting office from which the stamps were originally obtained with request on Form 017-F.C. for an equal value of stamps in the denominations desired in the same manner prescribed for damaged postage stamps at district post offices in paragraph 81, page 59.

(b) Damaged, spoiled, or unsalable documentary internal-revenue stamps in the stock of the central-accounting office (or the Washington, D. C., office) including such stamps received from other offices furnished on fixed credits by the central-accounting office shall be sent to the department for redemption and credit in the manner provided for postage stamps in paragraphs 87–100, pages 59 and 60. Form 3206 plainly stamped documentary internal-revenue stamps shall be used for the letter of transmittal.

113. Unavoidable losses.—When the postmaster, operating on a fixed credit, suffers a loss of stamp stock due to unavoidable casualty, he shall file a claim with the Solicitor, Post Office Department, for credit on account of such loss, and shall immediately notify the central-accounting postmaster the amount of the loss, who shall prepare an emergency claim pending receipt in triplicate Form 3336 for the amount and stating thereon the date and cause of the loss and send the original and duplicate with the amount of stamps reported lost to the postmaster who suffered the loss. The receipt shall be signed in duplicate by the postmaster and the original returned to the central-accounting postmaster. The triplicate signed by the central-accounting postmaster, but not by the receiving postmaster, shall be sent to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Stamps, Washington, D. C.

The central-accounting postmaster shall carry the amount of the loss in items 13 and 14 Form 3345, as stock charged to other postmasters, until notified by the department that the claim has been settled. If the claim is allowed as stamp stock the amount shall be subtracted from items 13 and 14 and credited as "Unavoidable loss, sec. 158, Postal Laws and Regulations" between items 9 and 10 showing post office and date of credit notice Form 3345. If allowed as cash, it shall be credited in item 23, Form 3345. If disallowed, the amount shall be collected in cash from the postmaster involved and treated as cash sales. The original emergency fixed credit receipt shall be canceled and returned to the postmaster who signed it. The duplicate shall be recalled, canceled, and forwarded as a voucher to Form 3345 in all settled claims.

114. All postal laws and regulations relating to the safety of public funds and postage stamps, not inconsistent with any specific provision of these instructions apply to, and are binding upon, all postmasters and employees of the Postal Service in handling, safeguarding, and accounting for adhesive documentary internal-revenue stamps and funds.

NOTE.—Postmasters and postal employees are accountable under their official bonds for all internal-revenue stamps and funds in their custody.

115. Documentary internal-revenue stamps supplied to central-accounting postmasters and to the postmaster at Washington, D. C., shall be accounted for by the Third Assistant Postmaster General to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue. The Third Assistant Postmaster General shall also prepare and render in the name of the Postmaster General a quarterly internal-revenue account to the General Accounting Office.

WAR-SAVINGS STAMP CERTIFICATES

INSTRUCTIONS

116. Payment of.—War-savings certificates and stamps shall not be paid at any post office or at the Post Office Department in Washington, D. C. No war-savings certificates, war-savings stamps, Treasury savings stamps, or thrift stamps, or papers in connection with the redemption of any such securities shall be accepted by a postmaster for transmission to any department as free matter. Any person holding war-savings stamps, war-savings certificates, thrift stamps, or Treasury savings stamps, and who desires to redeem them shall be instructed to mail such securities to the Secretary of the Treasury, Division of Loans and Currency, Washington, D. C., at their own risk and expense. They must not be sent to the Third Assistant Postmaster General.

117. Assistance by postmaster to owners.—Where the holder of any war-saving stamps desires to file an application with the Treasury Department for the payment of such securities, and the maturity value of the securities does not exceed $50, any oath or affidavit required of any person in connection with such application, which under the Treasury Department regulations should be executed before a notary public or other officer authorized by law to administer oaths, may be made in the form of a statement to be signed in the presence of, and attested by, a United States postmaster at first, second, third, and fourth class post offices. At first-class post offices only, in addition to the postmaster, such statements may be executed before and attested by the assistant postmaster, money-order cashier, money-order clerk, postal cashier, and the superintendent of branches and stations. All such statements shall be attested by the signature of the designated officer followed by his official title, and shall bear a clear impression of the postmark of the office. In special cases where it appears necessary or desirable to have postal officials other than those specified herein attest such statements, application for special authority shall be made to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Stamps, in each and every particular case. Such papers, however, shall not be sent to the Post Office Department, and shall not be sent in official franked envelopes. Full postage must be paid.

118. Treasury savings certificates.—Treasury savings certificates shall not be paid at any post office nor accepted by postmasters for transmission to the department for payment as official business. Postmasters shall advise applicants for payment of Treasury savings certificates to send such securities to the Secretary of the Treasury, Division of Loans and Currency, Washington, D. C., which will be at the risk and expense of the applicant. However, the regulations require the postmaster to attest the signature of an applicant for payment of Treasury savings certificates in the demand for payment on the back of such certificates, when so requested by the applicant, and shall make no charge for such service. Persons who allege that Treasury savings certificates owned by them have been lost, stolen, destroyed, or paid to the wrong person shall be advised to write to the Secretary of the Treasury, Division of Loans and Currency, Washington, D. C., not to the Third Assistant Postmaster General.

119. Instructions and accounting.—Any further detailed instructions or information required by a postmaster relative to the securities specified herein and accounting for balances outstanding for such securities issued to and sold through the Postal Service shall be obtained from the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Stamps.

120. Registrations of war-savings stamps.—Postmasters who desire detailed information concerning the registration of war-savings stamps previously authorized, but now discontinued at post offices, are referred to paragraph 123, page 53, of the 1931 Official Postal Guide.

121. Registration cards—IMPORTANT.—All registration cards, Form WS 110, paid and unpaid, have been withdrawn from all post offices of the fourth class and those that were filed in post offices of the first, second, and third classes which were not marked as paid, have been recalled and are now filed in the Treasury Department, Washington, D. C. All registration cards, WS 110, which have been properly marked as paid, at post offices of the first, second, and third classes, have not been recalled and are on file in the respective post offices and shall be carefully kept on file in the post office and safeguarded against destruction by mice, insects, fire, and water. Under no circumstances shall such card records be destroyed nor shall any person, other than authorized employees, be allowed to examine such card records, without specific authority from the department in each individual case.

122. Correspondence.—All necessary official correspondence by postmasters concerning any matter in connection with any of the securities referred to in these instructions shall be addressed to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Stamps, Washington, D. C. Postmasters shall not address communications to the Treasury Department relative to these securities. Postmasters shall not advise individuals to address any inquiry about alleged lost or stolen registered or unregistered war-savings securities to the Post Office Department. The Post Office Department has no records that the post office does not have. All such inquiries by individuals should be addressed by the interested parties direct to the Treasury Department, Division of Loans and Currency, Washington, D. C.

123. Alleged loss of registered war-savings stamps.—Postmasters at the post office of registration shall furnish a copy of any registration data on file to any person who seeks information concerning war-savings stamps registered at a post office, provided the postmaster is satisfied that the person making the inquiry is the registered owner or the legal representative of the registered owner. If there is no record of registration on file in the post office of registration there is no record in the Post Office Department, and it is useless to write the Department for information that is not of record in the Department.

MIGRATORY-BIRD HUNTING STAMPS

124. Law.—(48 Stat. 451 as amended.) Sec. 1. "No person over 16 years of age shall take any migratory waterfowl unless at the time of such taking he carries on his person an unexpired Federal migratory-bird hunting stamp validated by his signature written by himself in ink across the face of the stamp prior to his taking such birds; except that no such stamp shall be required for the taking of migratory waterfowl by Federal or State institutions or official agencies, or for propagation, or by the resident owner, tenant, or share cropper of the property or officially designated agencies of the Department of the Interior for the killing, under such restrictions as the Secretary of the Interior may by regulation prescribe", * * *

Sec. 2 provides that "The stamps required by this Act shall be issued and sold by the Post Office Department under regulations prescribed by the Postmaster General: Provided, That the stamps shall be sold at all post offices of the first and second class and at such others as the Postmaster General shall direct. For each such stamp sold under the provisions of this Act there shall be collected by the Post Office Department the sum of $1. No such stamp shall be valid under any circumstances to authorize the taking of migratory waterfowl except in compliance with Federal and State laws and regulations and then only when the person so taking such waterfowl shall himself have written his signature in ink across the face of the stamp prior to such taking. Each such stamp shall expire and be void after the 30th day of June next succeeding its issuance and all such stamps remaining unsold by the Post Office Department at the expiration of said June 30 shall be destroyed by said Department. No stamp sold under this Act shall be redeemable by said Department in cash or in kind. * * *." (Postmasters and their subordinates are not required to perform any duty under the omitted sections of the Federal Migratory Bird Hunting Stamp Act.)

INSTRUCTIONS

125. Post offices authorized and required to sell the stamps.—All post offices of the first or second class are required by law (without the designation by the Postmaster General) to have the current issue stamps available at one stamp window, at least, open to the public during the established office hours. All post offices of the third or fourth class (after being specially designated by the Postmaster General) are required to have the stamps available to the public in the same manner that is required by law at post offices of the first and second classes.

126. Distribution to central accounting offices.—An initial shipment of each annual series of migratory-bird hunting stamps will be supplied to central-accounting post offices by the Department, without requisition, for sale and for distribution without prior reference to, or further instruction from, the Department on a fixed-credit basis to such other post offices in their respective territories as are required by law and these instructions to sell them to the public.

127. Fixed credits.—(a) A minimum credit of 28 stamps to all offices of the first or second class, which may be increased to a maximum of 14,000 at any first class or to 7,000 at any second-class office upon a personally signed request of the postmaster concerned, but shall not be decreased without prior application to and receipt of instruction from the Department. (See par. 130 (b), p. 66.)

(b) A minimum credit of 14 stamps to all offices of the third or fourth class authorized by the Department to sell the stamps. Such established credits may upon a personally signed request of the postmaster concerned be increased to a maximum of 700 at a third class or 280 at a fourth-class office: Provided, That the fixed credit shall not at any class office exceed the total number of stamps sold at that office during the preceding year plus the minimum authorized for that class office; and provided further, That when a credit of 14 stamps is increased, such increase shall be of such number of stamps as will result in the new credit being some multiple of 28 stamps, but shall not be decreased without prior application to, and receipt of instructions from, the Department.

128. Sales at post offices.—(a) The postmaster shall establish such fixed credits of the stamps at classified stations, branches, and stamp windows as in his judgment may be necessary to meet the public demand for the stamps: Provided, That the stamps must be available at one stamp window, at least, in every post office, classified station, or branch of a post office to which a credit of the stamps has been issued under these instructions. Fixed-credit receipt, Form 3336, in duplicate, shall be used for that purpose. One dollar shall be collected for each stamp sold.

(b) Remittances and stamp supplies.—All cash received from the sale of the stamps at offices operating on a fixed credit must be promptly remitted to the central accounting office that supplied the stamps at least once monthly with a requisition on Form 017–FC for an amount of stamps equal to the cash remitted. This must be done, even though only one stamp has been sold during the entire month, and even though the hunting season is closed and there is no further need for additional stamps to supply the public. Window clerks designated by a postmaster to sell the stamps must be issued a fixed credit separate from all other credits and a separate receipt obtained. A clerk shall not be permitted to purchase the stamps with personal, postal, or other official funds (except migratory-bird hunting stamp funds) for resale to the public. The fixed credits issued to such clerks must be inspected at least once each month to see that cash received from sales of the stamps is properly turned in to repurchase stamps. In no other way can a postmaster escape having to apply to the Department for relief due to discovery of stamps of an expired series in the stamp cabinet of some employee to whom a regular fixed credit was not issued and properly inspected.

(c) Issuance of receipts in lieu of stamps prohibited.—The issuance and delivery by a postmaster or other post-office employee of a receipt or other documentary evidence of payment for a stamp in lieu of actual delivery of a migratory-bird hunting stamp is not authorized by law, or any regulation or instruction of the Department. Postmasters are strictly enjoined not to issue a receipt for a migratory-bird hunting stamp, or to accept money in payment of such stamp unless the stamp is available and actually delivered at the same time payment is received. The postmaster at a post office designated by law or the Postmaster General to sell the stamps is expected to, as nearly as possible, anticipate the demand that the public will make on his office for the stamps, and to have on hand at all times sufficient stamps to supply such demand by frequent (daily if necessary during the open season for shooting migratory water fowl) remittance of cash with requisition on Form 017–FC to the central-accounting postmaster for additional stamps.

(d) Established fixed credits.—Where an existing fixed credit, in the judgment of the postmaster, is insufficient to supply the reasonably expected demand for the stamps during the hunting season, provided the instructions in the last sentence of the preceding paragraph are strictly complied with, the postmaster should apply direct to the central-accounting postmaster for an increase. The application must contain the following information: (a) Amount of the present fixed credit; (b) amount of the new credit requested; (c) dates and amounts of cash remittances to the central-accounting office for migratory-bird hunting stamps from 10 days before to 10 days after the last open hunting season for migratory water fowl in the State.

(e) New fixed credit.—Whenever the postmaster at a post office, not already required by law or designated by the Postmaster General to sell migratory-bird hunting stamps, believes there is a demand for the stamps in his territory, application for an initial supply of the stamps should be made by such postmaster direct to the Third

Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Stamps, Washington, D. C. The application must contain the following information: (a) Reason for believing there is, or will be, a demand for the stamps; (b) estimated number of stamps the public will buy; (c) number of miles, and transportation accessibility to nearest post office already selling the stamps. A postmaster not required by law nor designated by the Department to sell the stamps must not purchase the stamps from other post offices for resale. Any unsold stamps left in the hands of a postmaster, who is not required by law or departmental instructions to sell the stamps, will not be redeemed by the Department.

(f) Damaged, spoiled, or unsalable stamps shall be sent by postmasters to whom fixed credits have been issued to the State central-accounting office with a requisition on Form 017–FC, suitably altered, for salable stamps.

(g) All stamps and remittances of cash must be properly counted, witnessed, and sent by official registered mail, as provided in the Postal Laws and Regulations for postage stamped paper and postal funds.

(h) Advice to the public.—Postmasters shall bear in mind that the law requires the Post Office Department to sell the stamps in unlimited quantities to any and all persons who desire to purchase, at all post offices of the first and second classes and authorizes the Postmaster General to designate other class post offices at which they may be sold, and to account for all funds collected therefor. Postmasters shall not attempt to administer or interpret any part of the law to any person affected thereby, except those portions requiring a postmaster to sell the stamps and to account to the Department for the stamps charged to him and the money collected. Any person seeking information from a postmaster as to the other requirements of the law, or regulations issued thereunder by the Department of the Interior, should be advised to write to the Chief, Bureau of Biological Survey, Department of the Interior, Washington, D. C., or to local game wardens.

(i) The amount of these stamp sales at post offices shall not be considered as forming any part of "Gross postal receipts" under paragraph 424, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.

(j) Redemption or exchange prohibited.—A postmaster and the Department are forbidden by law to redeem from or exchange with any person, firm, corporation, or postmaster not authorized and required to sell them, any migratory-bird hunting stamp, for any purpose whatever, after such stamp has been sold at a post office (see par. 128 (e)).

129. Return of unsold stamps.—Within 5 days after June 30 of each year, unless otherwise instructed by the Department, the postmaster (except at the central-accounting office and Washington, D. C.) shall remit all expired stamps (see Law) and all money on hand received for stamps of the expired issue to the State central-accounting post office. The fixed-credit receipt, Form 3336, shall remain unchanged unless it is desired to increase decrease the amount thereof. The central-accounting office will send to the remitting postmaster sufficient stamps of the new series to balance the remittance of cash and stamps of the expired series, thus maintaining the fixed credit intact. Unless there is a change made in the amount of the fixed credit, it is not necessary to execute new fixed-credit receipts (Form 3336) when expired stamps are retired after June 30 of each year, except when some other eventuality requires a new receipt (unavoidable losses, see par. 132 below).

130. Accounting and procedure at central-accounting offices.—(a) Each annual series of the stamp expires at midnight June 30 next after issuance; and all unissued stamps of that series will be sent by the central-accounting office to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Stamps, by official registered mail, for redemption, as soon as possible after their expiration date.

(b) Fixed credits shall be established by the central-accounting postmasters at all post offices within their respective territories of the first and second classes without further departmental instruction since they are required by law to sell the stamps, and at any other class post office, as designated by the Department. Fixed-credit receipt Form 3336, in triplicate, shall be used for that purpose; the original signed copy must be filed in the central-accounting office; the duplicate signed copy must be filed in the receiving office, and the triplicate copy immediately mailed by the central-accounting office to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Stamps. The central-accounting postmasters shall also establish fixed credits of the stamps at classified stations, branches, and stamp windows attached to the central-accounting office, as provided in paragraph 128, but triplicate copy of these receipts shall not be sent to the Department. (See (a) and (b), par. 127.)

(c) Requisitions.—Additional supplies of the stamps as needed at central-accounting offices shall be obtained by requisition, Form 3337, on the Third Assistant Postmaster General Division of Stamps.

(d) Deposits.—All money received at the central-accounting office for stamps sold and cash from other offices to restore fixed credits in such stamps shall be deposited in the bank in which surplus postal funds are deposited to the credit of the Postmaster General. Treasury Department (Division of Bookkeeping and Warrants) Certificate of Deposit, Form 1, revised, will be used for making the deposits. The deposits shall be made in the bank twice monthly by the central-accounting postmaster. The certificates of deposit shall be prepared in quadruplicate by the central-accounting postmaster, each copy stamped "(3404) Migratory-bird hunting stamps (Special Fund)." After signature, the bank will send the original to the Treasurer of the United States, deliver duplicate and triplicate to the postmaster and retain the quadruplicate. The postmaster shall forward the duplicate to the Department with the quarterly account Form 3334, and retain the triplicate for 4 years. The first certificate of deposit for each annual series of stamps shall be numbered ONE, and each certificate thereafter numbered in sequence until final accounting is completed for that series.

(e) Accounts.—A separate account on Form 3334 for each annual series of migratory-bird hunting stamps shall be submitted to the Department by the central-accounting postmaster for all stamps and funds received from the sale of such stamps coming into his custody, quarterly, accompanied by signed duplicate certificates of deposit, signed duplicate requisitions and invoices of stamps, Form 3337, and canceled duplicate "emergency claim pending" receipts for credits entered on the account for claims allowed until all stamps and cash of each annual series has been finally accounted for.

(f) Spoiled, damaged, or unsalable stamps.—Such stamps shall not be sent from central-accounting offices to the Department for redemption as they accumulate. They shall be held until after June 30 of each year, and sent to the Department with other stamps of the expired series for credit.

131. Unavoidable losses.—Where losses of stamps or cash occur through unavoidable casualty, the postmaster concerned shall make reports and file a claim, as directed in sections 155, 158, 159, and 443, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, and shall also advise the central-accounting postmaster the time and manner of the loss, and the amount of stamps required to restore the fixed credit, which the central-accounting postmaster shall furnish and obtain an emergency claim pending receipt in triplicate, Form 3336 pending final settlement of the claim. If the claim is allowed the original emergency claim pending receipt shall be canceled and returned to the postmaster who signed it. The duplicate shall be obtained from him, canceled and forwarded to the Department as a voucher to the account Form 3334 in which credit is entered. Credit shall be entered in item 7 for stamps lost, and item 22 for cash lost, Form 3334. If disallowed the claim pending receipt shall be canceled, the value collected, and the stamps reported as sales in item 16.

132. Washington, D. C.—The postmaster at Washington, D. C., will be supplied with stamps by the Department. He shall establish "fixed credits" of the stamps and sell them to the public as provided in paragraph 128, p. 65. He shall submit to the Department an account, Form 3334, quarterly, as provided in paragraph 130 (e) p. 66, above, except that all money collected shall be deposited by him in the United States Treasury at Washington, D. C. He shall use Treasury Department (Division of Bookkeeping and Warrants) Certificate of Deposit, Form 1 (revised) as provided in paragraph 130 (d). He shall not send to the Department for redemption any spoiled, damaged, or unsalable stamps as they accumulate, but shall hold them until after June 30 of each year, and send them to the Department with other stamps of the expired series for credit.

POSTAL FUNDS

CARE OF PUBLIC FUNDS AND PROPERTY

1. Must not loan or improperly deposit.—Postmasters shall keep safely, without loaning, using, depositing in an unauthorized bank or exchanging for other funds, all the public money collected by them, or which may come into their possession, until it is ordered by the Postmaster General to be transferred or paid out. The regulations relative to the care of public funds apply to money order and key deposit funds as well as postal funds.

2. Funds and stamps to be kept in secure place.—If the post office is not such a reasonably safe place as to warrant the postmaster in leaving his own funds in it at night, or if the building is unoccupied, all moneys and postage stamps should be removed to a place of greater security. During business hours money and postage stamps should be kept in places inaccessible to the public and concealed from view. When funds or postage stamps are left at night in offices unprovided with iron safes, they must be kept in strong drawers or other fixed receptacles which must be securely fastened with good locks. The doors and windows of the office should be made as secure as possible. Postmasters are specially warned to comply strictly with section 106, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, as otherwise no credit may properly be allowed for money and stamps lost by burglary, fire, or other unavoidable casualty, any failure to observe the regulations being construed as constituting negligence precluding allowance of credit under the provisions of section 158, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932. (See secs. 105 and 106, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

3. Cash funds kept separate.—Postmasters must keep their various cash funds entirely separate from each other. (See sec. 1494, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

4. Cashing Government paper.—Postmasters may cash with postal funds, Government paper of any kind (disbursing postmasters' checks in payment for rural delivery service, pension checks, Post Office Department warrants, etc.), provided they are received from responsible persons whose indorsement thereon the postmaster guarantees and provided such paper will be accepted at par by the depositary postmaster. (See sec. 110, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.) When the payee of a check or warrant is not personally known, he should be required to establish his identity to the satisfaction of the postmaster. It is especially desirable when sufficient funds are available that postmasters shall cash checks on the Treasury issued by disbursing postmasters to postal employees but in no case are postmasters authorized to withhold, for the purpose of making anticipated payments, funds that should be remitted. When these checks are cashed under the conditions mentioned they are to be transmitted in the place of cash with other funds remitted to the depositary. When any Government check is cashed by a postmaster he should require the payee to indorse it and should himself make the following indorsement on the back in order that it may not be negotiated by any other person in case it is lost or stolen:

Pay to the order of----------, Postmaster----------

(Office)

The name of the depositary or central-accounting postmaster should be written as indorsee and the postmaster who cashed the check should sign the indorsement. Postmasters at depositary or central-accounting offices who cash checks with official funds should immediately indorse them to the order of their depositary bank.

5. Coupons of Government bonds.—Under the regulations referred to in paragraph 4 above, postmasters should use postal funds to cash coupons of bonds of the United States, the Federal Farm Mortgage Corporation and the Home Owners Loan Corporation upon presentation at their offices. Postmasters may deposit such coupons in bank to their official credit or may include them in their regular remittances to accounting offices or depositories in settlement of postal balances due. When included in such remittances they should be forwarded by official registered mail. It is not contemplated, however, that postmasters shall take over accumulations of such coupons from banks and other corporations or firms having ample facilities for their collection. Care also must be exercised to avoid the cashing of coupons that are not due.

6. Foreign or mutilated coin.—Postmasters should not accept foreign gold or silver coins as they are not legal tender in the United States; or perforated, mutilated, or abraded coins; or mutilated paper currency; except fractional silver coins, worn by abrasion, which must be received so long as the superscription thereon can be distinguished. (Sec. 139, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

7. Making change.—Postmasters should provide themselves with a sufficient amount of minor coins and bills of small denomination to enable them to make change for purchases of stamped paper. When a postmaster is unable to make change, the purchaser must tender the exact amount of the purchase. (See sec. 139, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

8. When a change of postmasters occurs, the unused advance deposits made by publishers under the provisions of paragraph 4, section 541, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, to cover postage on mailings of publications entered as second-class matter, the unused advance deposits made by permit holders under the conditions governing the acceptance of matter mailed without stamps affixed and under permit as provided by section 579, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, and other deposits to cover postage, and key deposit funds, shall be transferred by the outgoing postmaster to his successor who shall give the former a receipt therefor. Such funds must be held in trust; they are not a part of the regular postal funds. Sections 105 and 106, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, as to care of funds held by postmasters, shall be observed in regard to deposits made to cover postage, etc.

DISBURSEMENT OF POSTAL FUNDS

9. Expenditures by postmaster.—The salary of a postmaster, and such other expenses of the Postal Service authorized by law as may be incurred by him and for which appropriations have been made, may be deducted from the receipts of his office, under the direction of the Postmaster General.

10. Salary payments and transfer of funds at direct accounting offices.—Postmasters must be prepared to pay salaries semimonthly on the 1st and 16th days of the month. Whenever the postal funds at a direct accounting office are not sufficient to make such payments transfers should be made from the money order to the postal account. If the available postal and money order funds combined are insufficient for this purpose application for funds should be made on Form 3011 to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, who will cause an accountable warrant to be issued for the sum needed, Form 3011 is furnished to disbursing postmasters only, and may be obtained upon requisition to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Finance.

11. Payments of salaries and expenses at district offices.—When the receipts of a district office from sources other than the sale of stamps are not sufficient to meet the authorized expenses of the office, the central accounting postmaster, on requisition of the district postmaster, will provide funds sufficient to make up the amount required to pay the expenses. Such requisitions may be made monthly if desired. Cash received from the central accounting postmaster during the quarter should be entered in item 29 of the cashbook and quarterly account. To avoid delay in paying the expenses of his office the district postmaster may withdraw temporarily from the stamp funds an amount which, with receipts from other sources, will be sufficient to pay the expenses. Pending receipt of funds from the central accounting postmaster, a receipt or voucher for the amount withdrawn from the stamp funds must be carried in the stamp account and be withdrawn when the money is replaced.

12. Deceased employees.—For instructions relative to making payments to representatives of deceased employees, in settlement of balances due as salary or otherwise, see section 242, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.

13. Warrant payments.—All payments for carrying the mails on star, steamboat, railroad, electric car, pneumatic tube, and special office routes, and for any temporary service that may be employed in connection with said routes, are made by warrants drawn on the United States Treasury. Postmasters should not pay for such service, and must not expect the department to refund any money they may have erroneously paid for the carriage of the mails. The department can not pay postmasters for carrying the mails, neither can it allow postmasters credit in their quarterly accounts for money paid by them for such service. Payments will be made by warrant on the Treasury direct from the department after the expiration of each month and as soon as accounts can be settled, if required evidence of service has been received. (See sec. 1815, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

DEPOSIT OF SURPLUS POSTAL FUNDS

14. Direct accounting offices.—Postmasters at direct accounting offices will deposit their surplus postal funds on the 1st and 16th days of each month with the postmaster in their State as indicated below:

State or Territory	Depositary, postmaster at—	State or Territory	Depositary, postmaster at—
Alabama	Birmingham.	Nevada	Reno.
Alaska	Seattle, Wash.	New Hampshire	Concord.
Arizona	Phoenix.	New Jersey	Newark.
Arkansas	Little Rock.	New Mexico	Albuquerque.
California	San Francisco.	New York	New York.
Colorado	Denver.	North Carolina	Raleigh.
Connecticut	New Haven.	North Dakota	Fargo.
Delaware	Wilmington.	Ohio	Cincinnati.
Florida	Jacksonville.	Oklahoma	Oklahoma City.
Georgia	Atlanta.	Oregon	Portland.
Guam	Honolulu, Hawaii.	Pennsylvania	Philadelphia.
Hawaii	Honolulu.	Puerto Rico	San Juan.
Idaho	Boise.	Rhode Island	Providence.
Illinois	Chicago.	Samoa	Honolulu, Hawaii.
Indiana	Indianapolis.	South Carolina	Columbia.
Iowa	Des Moines.	South Dakota	Sioux Falls.
Kansas	Topeka.	Tennessee	Nashville.
Kentucky	Louisville.	Texas	Austin.
Louisiana	New Orleans.	Utah	Salt Lake City.
Maine	Portland.	Vermont	Burlington.
Maryland	Baltimore.	Virginia	Richmond.
Massachusetts	Boston.	Virgin Islands, United States	San Juan, P. R.
Michigan	Detroit.	Washington	Seattle.
Minnesota	St. Paul.	West Virginia	Wheeling.
Mississippi	Vicksburg.	Wisconsin	Milwaukee.
Missouri	St. Louis.	Wyoming	Cheyenne.
Montana	Helena.
Nebraska	Omaha.

15. District offices.—Postmasters at third-class offices shall deposit surplus funds with the central accounting office whenever the amount on hand during the quarter equals $100 and postmasters at fourth-class offices whenever the amount on hand equals $50. Postmasters at district offices are permitted to retain such sums as may be required to meet any authorized disbursements of the office, which are due to be made within 15 days, except at the close of each quarter, when the exact amount due to balance the account must be remitted. Remittances of cash shall consist of even dollars only and not include fractions of a dollar except at the end of a quarter. Small coins may be used, if necessary, in making remittances, but should amount to even dollars. When drafts, checks, paid money orders, etc., are used in making remittances the total of the remittance need not necessarily be in even dollars.

Remittances shall not be delayed.

(a) To secure notes of large denominations, or to exchange coin for notes. (Sec. 111, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

(b) Because part of the balance as shown by the cashbook is in the form of paid money orders or negotiable paper.

(c) For the purpose of cashing Government checks anticipated to be presented.

(d) For the purpose of paying money orders, unless the postmaster has justifiable reason to believe that orders will be presented for payment within 15 days in excess of the probable receipts of the office. The probable receipts must be carefully estimated and excessive amounts of funds must not be retained. Postal funds for the payment of money orders may be secured in the manner prescribed by paragraphs 48 and 49 on page 150.

Remittances shall be made by first registered mail after the close of business, unless express instructions have been issued to dispatch registered mail on certain trains to the exclusion of other trains.

While paragraph 52 on page 76 directs third and fourth-class postmasters to render their accounts within three days after the close of the quarter accompanied with sufficient cash items to balance them, if the balance shown by the cashbook is in excess of $50, the remittance should be made on the day following the close of the quarter even though the account may not be ready for dispatch until the third day; otherwise in offices where the volume of money-order business is large, a considerable sum is needlessly exposed to the danger of loss by fire, burglary, or otherwise.

Fourth-class postmasters are permitted to withdraw accrued compensation at any time, but if not withdrawn and so recorded in the cashbook, the balance shown by the cashbook, if in excess of $50 must be considered as surplus and as due to be remitted for deposit.

16. Checks and drafts permitted.—Checks and drafts issued by or drawn on national or State banks, may be used by postmasters to remit their surplus postal funds, provided they can make satisfactory arrangements with their depositaries to receive them at par. Postmasters will be held liable on their official bonds for any losses of Government funds resulting from fault or negligence on their part. (See sec. 110, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.) Checks and drafts should not be sent by registered mail.

17. Postage stamps, foreign and mutilated coins not accepted.—The use of postage stamps, foreign coins or notes and mutilated coins for remitting postal funds is not permitted. (Sec sec. 110, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

18. Temporary deposits in banks.—Any postmaster having public money belonging to the Government at an office within a city or town where there is no Treasurer of the United States, or designated depositary, may deposit the same temporarily, at his own risk and in his official capacity, in any national or State bank in the State in which the said postmaster resides, or in which his office is located, or within a reasonable radius of his post office in an adjacent State, but no authority or permission is or shall be given for the payment to or receipt by a postmaster or any other person, of interest, directly or indirectly, on any deposit made as herein described. Deposits of postal funds by a postmaster should be made in his official capacity and not as personal funds. (See sec. 120, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

19. Deposits for safe-keeping only.—Any postmaster may, at his own risk and expense, place any public funds and property in his custody in any bank located in the town, city, or county in which the postmaster resides, for safe-keeping; that is to say, such funds and property may be kept in a receptacle under the depositing postmaster's exclusive control, and the receptacle placed in a safe deposit vault of such bank, or otherwise intrusted to it for safe-keeping, at the risk and expense of the depositing postmaster. Under no circumstances may such funds or property specially deposited in any bank for safe-keeping be used by the bank or become a part of its assets, or be mingled with its regular deposits. Nothing in this section shall be so construed as to affect the claim of any postmaster to credit or reimbursement on account of loss resulting from burglary, fire, or other unavoidable casualty. (See sec. 121, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

20. Deposits not to be sent to department nor to comptroller.—Postal funds must not be sent to the department, to the comptroller, nor to the General Accounting Office. Neither the Post Office Department, the Comptroller for the Post Office Department, nor the General Accounting Office is a depositary for postal funds, and remittances so sent may be returned at the postmaster's risk of loss. (See sec. 116, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

21. Currency and coin.—Remittances of surplus postal funds when in the form of currency, coin, and coupons from bonds of the United States, the Federal Farm Mortgage Corporation and the Home Owners Loan Corporation, should be sent by official registered mail, addressed to the postmaster designated as the depositary. (See sec. 111, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

22. Preparation of remittances.—For instruction concerning the preparation, witnessing, description, and registration of remittances, see sections 111 and 1215, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.

23. Designation on envelope.—When remitting postal funds to their depositaries postmasters are directed to mark on the envelope inclosing the same "Postal funds" in order to distinguish them from all other funds, and to facilitate the handling of such remittances at the depositary offices.

24. Counterfeit money.—When any notes or coin included in a remittance are returned by the depositary, branded or marked as counterfeit, the postmaster will take credit for only the amount named in the certificate of deposit and immediately make an additional remittance to cover the amount due. No reimbursement will be made to postmasters for losses occasioned by the acceptance of counterfeit money. (See secs. 123 and 139, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

DELIVERY BOXES AND BOX RENT

25. Boxes—How Provided.

(1) In Government buildings by the Treasury Department.

(2) For post offices located in premises leased by the Department, by the terms of a lease executed and signed by the lessors and the Postmaster General, the lessors usually obligate themselves to furnish a complete box equipment and keep it in repair.

(3) At all other post offices the postmasters are required to furnish and keep in repair at their own expense such box equipment as may be necessary to a satisfactory public service, section 482, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.

A postmaster, on taking charge of a post office, is not compelled to buy the retiring postmaster's box equipment; but is required to provide a proper box equipment before taking charge of the office. The retiring postmaster must not remove his boxes until the new postmaster has obtained other boxes. When a postmaster uses his predecessor's box equipment, he is liable for the payment of a reasonable rental therefor from the date upon which he took charge of the post office. When possible, the rent for the use of the equipment should be agreed upon before the office is transferred, so as to avoid controversies.

When boxes are removed during a quarter, and no others substituted in their place, a pro rata amount of the rent paid shall be refunded. When box equipment is changed during a quarter or the equipment is destroyed, boxes bearing the same numbers, if possible, in the new outfit shall be assigned to box holders without payment of additional rental.

26. Box rent rates.—When delivery boxes have been installed in a post office or station thereof, the postmaster must apply to the Department for a schedule of rates. No change in existing rates shall be made without authority from the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Finance.

27. Renting of delivery boxes.—No box at any post office shall be assigned to the use of any person until the rent thereof has been paid for one quarter in advance, for which the postmaster shall give a "receipt." Section 486, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.

Persons desiring post office lockboxes shall make application on Form 1092½, and furnish references. Form 1092 should be used for obtaining reports from the references, and if deemed advisable the assignment of the box may be deferred until satisfactory replies are received. A box shall not be rented to any person whom the postmaster has good reason to believe will use it for the purpose of deception, for immoral or improper purposes, or for the conduct of a fraudulent or lottery business, section 486, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.

Postmasters shall not rent call or lockboxes to minors when notified not to do so by the parents or guardians having the right to control the delivery of the mail to such minors under the provisions of section 785, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932; nor shall they rent boxes to persons declared by a court of competent jurisdiction to be of unsound mind.

28. Boxes rented by Government officials.—Government officials are not permitted to pay in advance for services. Postmasters are, therefore, authorized to furnish post-office boxes to Government officers and collect the rent at the end of the quarter instead of in advance. The officer renting the box should be requested to forward Standard Public Voucher Form No. 1034 promptly at the end of the quarter to his disbursing officer who will issue a check to the postmaster for the amount due. If the check is not received before the quarterly account is rendered a sum sufficient to cover the amount due for the box should be taken out of the advance collections of box rents on hand for the new quarter and when the settlement check is received the proceeds should be placed with the box rents of the current quarter. Quarterly postal accounts must not be delayed pending receipt of box rent checks from disbursing officers.

29. Use of delivery boxes.—The use of a box is restricted to one individual, family, firm, or corporation. An individual renting a box may have placed therein:

(1) Mail addressed to himself.

(2) Mail directed to a visitor temporarily abiding with him.

(3) Mail addressed to his care or the number of his box by persons who wish him to take care of it for them for not more than 30 days.

(4) Mail addressed to members of his family.

(5) Mail addressed to his servants or other employees who abide in his house.

(6) Mail addressed to a relative or other person who permanently abides in his house as do the other members of his family. Boarders and roomers in a family are not members of the family.

The mail of permanent roomers and boarders at a hotel or boarding house must not be placed in the box rented by the proprietor, whether assigned for the use of himself and family only, or for the general use of his hotel or boarding house; but the mail of transient guests, when addressed to the number of the house or the name of the hotel, if not delivered by carrier, should be placed in the box assigned to the use of the hotel or boarding house.

A firm renting a box may have placed therein:

(1) All mail addressed to its name.

(2) Mail addressed to any of its officials and office employees.

(3) By the consent of all the members of a firm any member thereof may have mail addressed to himself or members of his family deposited in the box assigned to its use.

A corporation renting a box or drawer may have placed therein:

(1) Mail addressed to its name.

(2) Mail addressed to any of its officials and office employees.

Mail addressed to students at a college or seminary may be placed in the box rented by the institution if consistent with their rules.

Mail matter addressed to the inmates of any public institution, when such is the rule of the institution, may be deposited in the box rented by it.

A society or association may rent a box but a box so rented is not available for the use of individual members of such society or association other than the officers thereof when addressed by their official title.

A postmaster is not permitted to place bills or circulars in any of the delivery boxes, nor in the pigeonholes of general delivery, until he shall have been paid legal postage thereon.

Mail bearing the required postage addressed without name to the number of a box may be delivered to the renter of the box.

Postmasters shall not disclose the names of box holders to any person other than the clerks of their respective post offices and post-office inspectors.

Postmasters may hand out mail from lockboxes or drawers, and should do so when, upon rare occasions, the renter of a box has forgotten his key, or through no fault of his own he is unable to open his box, provided they are requested or authorized by the renter to do so; but they should not hand out mail to those who have been or may be properly supplied with keys and can open their boxes, and yet habitually call upon the postmaster to deliver it to them.

Box renters are required to exercise care in the use of boxes and keep them locked. Postmasters should refuse to rerent boxes to those who persistently disregard the rules governing their use.

30. Box rents.—All postage, box rent, and other receipts at post offices, shall be accounted for as part of the postal revenues, and each postmaster shall be charged with and held accountable for any part of the same accruing at his office which he has neglected to collect, the same as if he had collected it. Section 245, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.

Each postmaster, without regard to the class to which his post office belongs, the ownership of the boxes used by him, or whether he has served all or only part of a quarter, must account in his postal account to the General Accounting Office, Postal Accounts Division, at the end of each quarter, or upon the date of his retirement from office for the exact amount of the box rents collected by himself only, during the quarter. When different postmasters serve in the same quarter, the division of the box rents, which are a part of the compensation of the office shall be adjusted by the General Accounting Office, and proper credits given each postmaster. Section 427, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.

31. Box-rent account.—Box rents are part of the revenues of post offices and must be accounted for invariably in the regular returns of business, even where the box equipment is owned by the postmasters. Such rentals collected in advance as required during the last few days of a quarter must be carried forward and included with the receipts of the quarter during which the boxes are actually used. The collections must be included with the other postal funds of the quarter and promptly remitted when required by the Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.

32. Schedule.—To provide an equitable rule for the collection of box rents the following schedule, based upon the kind and capacity of boxes and the gross receipts at post offices, has been adopted by the Department in the establishment and maintenance of box delivery service. Postmasters must not increase rates until authorized to do so by the Third Assistant Postmaster General. (See sec. 485, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

No. 4. Capacity 900 cubic inches and less than 3,000 cubic inches.
No. 5. Capacity 3,000 cubic inches and upward.

33. Deposits.—Under section 490, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, postmasters at post offices located in Federal buildings, and in premises leased by the Government where the equipment is furnished by the lessor, and in buildings where lockbox equipment is furnished by the Department, shall collect a deposit of 20 cents for each key issued to a renter of a lockbox or drawer unless otherwise instructed by the Third Assistant Postmaster General.

Postmasters at fourth-class offices and postmasters who furnish their own equipment are not required to collect deposits for delivery box keys.

Each post-office box when installed should be provided with three keys and the records of keys and key deposits in the box and key register are to be maintained on that basis.

34. Keys.

(1) Regular keys are the three furnished with the boxes.

(2) Duplicate keys are those ordered to replace lost keys.

(3) Extra keys are those furnished to box holders upon the execution of Form 1094, which are paid for by the applicants and are not represented by deposits on hand.

35. Orders for keys.

Postmasters at post offices located in Federal buildings should order all duplicate and extra keys direct from Yale and Towne Manufacturing Co., Stamford, Conn., and pay for them out of the key trust funds. Keys broken or worn out will be replaced without charge if sent to the Federal Works Agency, Public Buildings Administration, Federal Warehouse, Washington, D. C.

Postmasters at post offices located in leased quarters should order all duplicate and extra keys from the manufacturer of the locks and pay for them out of the key trust funds. Keys broken or worn out are to be replaced by the lessors.

Postmasters at post offices where boxes have been installed by the Post Office Department should send all requisitions for regular keys, duplicate keys, and extra keys to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Finance. Regular keys needed to fill the complement of three keys for each box will be furnished without charge. List in the requisition the numbers appearing on the back of the barrels of the locks for which keys are desired and submit a single key only to be used as a thickness guide. The keys for boxes furnished by the Department are of different styles and it is important that a sample key be submitted which will be returned with the keys ordered. Only one key is needed as a sample. Requisitions for duplicate and extra keys must be accompanied by a remittance to cover the cost of the keys at 20 cents each. Broken and worn-out keys, if sent to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Finance, will be replaced without charge to the postmaster. When cash is enclosed with a key requisition it must be registered.

Renters of lockboxes and drawers to whom keys are issued shall be required to return them whenever the box or drawer is surrendered.

Postmasters shall not permit renters of lockboxes and drawers to use any keys except those issued through the post office.

Local mechanics are not permitted to manufacture keys for use with delivery boxes in any post office.

When, for any reason, a box outfit or portion thereof is no longer used, a call must be issued immediately by the postmaster to all key holders to present within 60 days all their keys belonging to such equipment during which time he will refund the deposits of all who comply therewith. The amount of all key deposit funds remaining after 60 days must be reported to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Finance, for instructions as to its disposition. A new key and key deposit account must be opened when a new equipment is installed.

Refunds should be made at the rate of 20 cents for each regular key presented, but in no instance shall the amount refunded exceed 60 cents. The amounts paid by box holders at the time of filing their applications for extra keys on Form 1094 are used to purchase the keys and therefore such amounts are not available for refund when the keys are surrendered.

When outstanding keys cannot be recovered from the holders, after they have ceased to use the boxes to which they belong, the locks to such boxes must be changed before the assignment of the boxes to other applicants.

Upon the retirement of a postmaster from office, he must turn over all key funds and records pertaining to keys and deposits to his successor in office, taking receipt therefor. If the funds and records are not received by the incoming postmaster, report should be made by him immediately to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Finance.

Each postmaster is required to keep in the official box and key register, which is furnished by the Department, a record showing the total number of keys furnished with the boxes, and the number of regular and extra keys issued to box holders as well as the amounts of the deposits held for regular keys only.

When at any time key lockboxes are added to an equipment, the postmaster must immediately note in the official box and key register the exact number of such additional boxes and the exact number of keys furnished therewith; and when any portion of an equipment, consisting of key lockboxes, is removed, the postmaster must immediately note in the box and key register the number of such boxes removed, the number of keys which were accounted for, and the amount of deposits on hand representing lost keys which accrued from and during the use of the portion of the boxes removed. This same information should be sent to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Finance.

Key-deposit funds shall be held by a postmaster in trust (not as a part of the regular funds of the office) and shall be transferred to his successor who shall give him a receipt therefor.

CANCELLATION OF STAMPS IN RELATION TO THE COMPENSATION OF FOURTH-CLASS POSTMASTERS

36. When credit for cancellation is not allowed.—Postmasters will not be allowed credit for the cancellation of stamps on matter not actually mailed at their offices, nor for the cancellation of stamps on matter diverted from other post offices, nor for the cancellation of stamps not defaced at the mailing office, nor for the cancellation of special delivery or special handling stamps, nor for the cancellation of ordinary stamps when affixed to mail matter for the purpose of effecting special delivery or "special handling," nor for the cancellation of stamps affixed to cover transportation by air mail over and above the regular domestic rates, nor for the cancellation of the penalty clause on official envelopes. (Secs. 426, 427, 709, and 717, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

37. Third-class mailings.—For instruction in regard to claiming credit for the cancellation of stamps on deposits made to cover postage on mailings of a periodical publication pending application for entry as second-class matter see section 530, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.

38. Boxes at railway stations.—Postmasters may for the convenience of the public erect boxes at railway stations for the reception of mail matter and cancel the stamps on said matter at the stations either personally or by sworn employee. (See sec. 708, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

39. Late mailings.—When any mail matter is received too late to be put in the lock pouch, the postmaster or sworn assistant or clerk may, after postmarking and canceling the same, deliver it in person to the railway postal clerk. (See sec. 746, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

40. Diversion of mail.—Postmasters shall not solicit the mailing of matter at their offices by persons living or doing business within the delivery of another post office nor shall they claim credit for the cancellation of postage stamps on matter diverted from other post offices to their post offices for mailing whether solicited or unsolicited. Postmasters should report to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Finance, all such cases coming to their knowledge. The report should show the amount of postage stamps cancelled on such diverted matter and the names and addresses of the senders thereof. Violation of this regulation will be regarded as cause for removal. See section 709, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.

41. Solicitation.—The penalty for soliciting the diversion of mail matter from an office where it should properly be dispatched to another, for the purpose of increasing the emoluments of the latter office, is a fine of not more than $500 or imprisonment for not more than two years or both. (See sec. 2319, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

42. False returns.—In any case where the Postmaster General shall be satisfied that a postmaster has made a false return of business it shall be within his discretion to withhold commissions on such returns and to allow any compensation that under the circumstances he may deem reasonable. (See sec. 252, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

43. Cooperation of central accounting offices.—It is very important that postmasters at central accounting offices cooperate with the department by reporting to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Finance, all suspected cases of diversion of mail and false returns of cancellations.

44. Faulty cancellation.—Greater care must be exercised by postmasters and postal employees in the cancellation of postage stamps on mail matter for dispatch. The failure to cancel postage stamps properly, whether due to carelessness on the part of the postmaster, or to the use of inferior canceling ink results in serious losses to the Government through the reuse of the stamps. Postage stamps affixed to mail matter or the stamped envelopes in which mail is enclosed must be canceled by the postmaster at the mailing office with black canceling ink furnished by the Department in such way that defacement of the stamps is complete. The postmaster at the office of delivery should cancel with the postmarking stamp of his office all stamps which have escaped cancellation at the office of mailing and should make report on Form 3039 of the receipt of matter bearing uncanceled stamps to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Finance, submitting if possible the envelopes or wrappers. See sections 95, 717, and 718, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.

QUARTERLY NEWSPAPER AND PERIODICAL REPORTS

45. Statements to be sent to Third Assistant, Division of Classification.—Postmasters should not send to the comptroller of the Post Office Department, with their quarterly postal accounts, the statement of postage at the pound rates collected in money on second-class matter mailed by publishers and news agents (Form 3551, presidential, and Form 3551-a, fourth class). These statements, together with the manifold copies of receipts given to publishers and news agents, should be forwarded promptly at the close of the quarter direct to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Classification, in accordance with the provisions of section 254, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.

ACCOUNTS TO BE RENDERED TO THE BUREAU OF ACCOUNTS, POST OFFICE DEPARTMENT

50. Postal accounts first and second class offices.—A quarterly postal account, Form 1550–C in duplicate shall be prepared by each direct accounting postmaster and forwarded with supporting vouchers immediately after the close of the quarters ending March 31, June 30, September 30, and December 31. The abstracts and vouchers pertaining to the City Delivery Service, clerk hire, post office inspectors, etc., shall be tied separately, but included in the same package with the quarterly account and other vouchers. The abstracts and semimonthly pay rolls pertaining to the Rural Delivery and Railway Mail Services shall be forwarded in advance of the postal account, accompanied by a letter of transmittal. The vouchers and schedules should be properly folded and enclosed in the envelope in the order of debits and credits. Use envelope No. 85 wherever possible, otherwise, address label Form 1554 may be used if package is necessary.

Central-accounting postmasters shall forward their quarterly accounts (Form 1550–C) as a whole, including the district-office accounts and vouchers, not later than the 20th of the month, following the close of the quarter. The abstracts and semimonthly pay rolls pertaining to the Rural Delivery and Railway Mail Services shall be forwarded in advance of the postal account, accompanied by a letter of transmittal.

On the 15th day of the month following the close of each quarter, a delinquent report on Form 1227 should be made in duplicate of district postmasters from whom accounts have not been received, one copy to be sent to the Bureau of Accounts, Post Office Department, and the other to the post-office inspector in charge of the division headquarters. Include with this report the summaries, schedules and vouchers pertaining to the third-class Village Delivery Service (A/C 60); third-class City Delivery Service and Vehicle Service (A/C Nos. 56 and 57), and third-class offices occupying Federal buildings (A/C Nos. 90, 91, and 92).

District-office accounts received after the central office account has been rendered should be adjusted, entered on the quarterly summary 1545–C, and promptly forwarded with a letter of transmittal to the Bureau of Accounts, Post Office Department. Retain the quarterly summary for inclusion with the next quarterly postal account.

A monthly report on Form 1550–A (Combined) shall be prepared and forwarded on the first or second business day after the close of each month, or as soon thereafter as the Clerk Hire and City Delivery payments are complete. The receipts and expenditures on this form should be a copy of column B of the Post-office Cash Book and should show all business for the previous month or months. The first month of the quarter will show the business for the first month; the second month of the quarter will show the business for 2 months, and the third month of the quarter will show the business for 3 months. Postmasters who use Form 3961–C/A should forward a carbon copy of the Bookkeeper's daily financial statement for the first day of the month, following the same procedure as noted above. A second submission should be sent not later than the 12th of the month showing the final expenditures for the previous period.

A monthly report on Form 1550–G/B, "Salary payments and Operating Supplies, Government-owned Buildings" to be forwarded when complete, but not later than the 8th of the month.

51. Money order accounts first and second class offices.—(a) A monthly money order account, Form 6011, (in duplicate), accompanied with monthly lists of money orders issued and paid, Forms 6013 and 6014, shall be forwarded with all domestic paid money orders and spoiled forms (immediately after the close of each month), using for that purpose envelope No. 85, or pasting address label Form 1554 on large packages when the inclosures are too bulky for the envelopes. Enter the amount of authorized reserve, funds in transit, orders held as cash, claims pending for loss, etc., in account Nos. 160 to 169. Remit all surplus funds to your designated depository and postmark and sign the account before mailing.

(b) A semimonthly list of international and domestic-international money orders paid, Form 6014, shall be forwarded with the paid orders in a separate envelope, No. 85, marked "INTERNATIONAL," immediately after the close of business on the 15th and last days of each month. The total of the domestic-internationals shall be included in the monthly recapitulation on Form 6011 under the heading "Domestic and domestic international money orders paid," while the total of the internationals shall be recapitulated under "International money orders paid." Postmasters at the largest offices transmit daily, quarter-monthly, or semimonthly lists of domestic paid money orders in accordance with special instructions.

ACCOUNTS TO BE FORWARDED TO CENTRAL ACCOUNTING POSTMASTERS

52. Quarterly accounts third and fourth class district offices.—Each district postmaster is directed to prepare and forward an account within three days after the close of each quarter to his central-accounting postmaster. Use account blank Form 1550–T/c, third class, or 1550–F/c, fourth class.

Each district postmaster authorized to transact money-order business should also inclose in the same envelope a quarterly list of money orders issued, Form 1846, accompanied with the spoiled forms and a remittance letter, Form 1842, with sufficient cash items or paid money orders to balance his account. Form 1846a unruled will be supplied offices using adding machines or typewriters.

SALARY VOUCHERS ON CHANGE OF POSTMASTER, FIRST AND SECOND CLASS OFFICES

53. Whenever a change of postmaster occurs at a first or second class post office, the outgoing postmaster shall render an account for the period served by him, but shall make no salary payments at time of transfer if it occurs between regular pay days. He shall submit disbursement summaries (Forms 1500, 1501-G, 1858, 1906, and other appropriate forms) showing the details of salary payments made on regular pay days prior to time of transfer, but shall not forward with his account the vouchers covering salary payments made by him during the quarter in which the change occurs. He shall note in red ink figures at the top of each individual salary voucher the amount of salary he has actually paid to each employee during the quarter and which was included in the disbursement summaries.

The incoming postmaster at first and second class offices shall render an account for the period served by him and shall claim credit therein for all salary payments made by him to the close of the quarter, including amounts earned during the term of his predecessor, but not paid until the regular pay day following the transfer. He shall also submit with his account the vouchers covering all salary payments during the quarter, and disbursement summaries as indicated above showing in detail all payments made by him. He shall note in red ink figures at the bottom of each individual salary voucher the amount of salary he has actually paid to each employee during the quarter and which was included in the disbursement summaries.

These instructions should also be observed in every case where a final account is required to be rendered although the same postmaster continues in office.

RETIREMENT DEDUCTIONS

54. In order that the individual retirement accounts (Form 2806) of postal employees may be maintained in Washington as required by law, it is necessary that a report of retirement deductions and certain related information be furnished to the Bureau of Accounts, Division of Retirement Records, in accordance with instructions concerning the preparation of this report which will be issued prior to the close of each fiscal year.

A suitable supply of Form 1280 on which annual reports of retirement data are made will be furnished without requisition to each postmaster or other reporting official at the time the instructions are issued by the Bureau of Accounts, Division of Retirement Records.

INSTRUCTIONS TO POSTMASTERS

1. When a postmaster takes possession of the post office under his commission and oath of office, he immediately assumes responsibility for the PROPER HANDLING AND PROTECTION OF GOVERNMENT FUNDS. The Postal Laws and Regulations and Official Postal Guide furnish explicit information as to correct procedure. It is imperative that postmasters familiarize themselves with these prescribed rules, adhere strictly to them, and understand that any disregard thereof or substitution of systems of their own may result in violations of law. Postmasters may save themselves embarrassment and possible serious difficulties by reading, promptly upon assuming office, sections 105 to 130, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, relating to the care of public funds.

2. Care of Public Funds.—Section 105, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, in part, is quoted below:

"Postmasters shall keep safely, without loaning, using, depositing in an unauthorized bank, or exchanging for other funds, all the public money collected by them, or which may come into their possession, until it is ordered by the Postmaster General to be transferred or paid out."

Section 2316, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, prescribes the penalty for violation of the above-quoted section and section 2312 prescribes the punishment for misappropriation of public funds or property. Section 106 describes the manner in which postmasters are expected to protect public funds and property. The use for personal or private purposes for any length of time or in any amount whatsoever of postal funds, money-order funds or any other official funds entrusted to their care, regardless of any intent to return such funds, is embezzlement and punishable by removal from office and possible prosecution.

3. Mixing With Personal Funds Prohibited.—Government funds must not be mixed with personal funds nor deposited in the same account at the bank with the postmaster's personal funds.

4. Credit not to be Extended.—Postmasters must not extend credit for postage under any circumstances. The postal business is a cash business.

5. Failure to Remit Punishable.—Surplus funds must not be allowed to accumulate but should be remitted as provided in Sections 117 and 1507, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932. Postmasters shall deposit surplus funds with the central accounting office whenever the amount on hand during the quarter equals $100 at an office of the third class and $50 at an office of the fourth class. The withholding of such funds in violation of these instructions may result in drastic disciplinary action being taken by the Department. All moneys received from the sale of postage-stamp stock shall be remitted to the central accounting office for the purchase of new stock as provided in Section 152, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.

6. C. O. D. Remittances.—Attention is particularly directed to the instructions in the Official Postal Guide concerning the issuance of money orders upon collection of charges on C. O. D. parcels the same day, if practicable, but under no circumstances later than the following business day. The withholding of C. O. D. funds in violation of these instructions may be considered as embezzlement and result in removal from office and possible prosecution.

7. Cashing Personal Checks Prohibited—IOU'S.—The cashing of the postmaster's personal check or that of any post office employee or patron with Government funds is strictly prohibited, even though there are sufficient personal funds in the bank to make good the check at the time. Checks of patrons in payment of postage may be accepted entirely at the risk of the postmaster. Any delay in making good such checks when found to be worthless, however, will be considered as embezzlement. The substitution of IOU's or other form of acknowledgment for official funds, regardless of the amount taken, is misappropriation and cause for removal from office and prosecution. (See Sec. 2312, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

8. Withdrawing Compensation in Advance.—The withdrawal of more than actually earned compensation is misappropriation of Government funds. Salaries shall be withdrawn by postmasters at offices of the first, second, and third classes on the 15th and last day of each month unless said days fall on Sundays or legal holidays in which event they may be withdrawn on the next business day. (See Sec. 428, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.) Postmasters at offices of the fourth class may withdraw their compensation at any time during the quarter but shall not withdraw more than their pro rata portion of the quarterly compensation. (See Sec. 427, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

9. Estimating Cancelations Prohibited.—At post offices of the fourth class, the record showing the total amount of stamps canceled on which the postmaster's compensation is based, as provided by Section 426, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, must be made in the postmaster's account book each day before closing the office. Cancelations should be COUNTED and recorded immediately as made during the day on some permanent record and not haphazardly on memorandum slips which are sometimes lost. UNDER NO CIRCUMSTANCES ARE CANCELATIONS TO BE ESTIMATED OR FALSIFIED. Section 2319, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, prescribes the penalty for fraudulent increase of cancelations.

10. Fraudulent Increase of Cancelations.—Postmasters must not increase their personal mail or advertising for the purpose of increasing their compensation or accept mailings at less than the regular rate of postage, and they must not claim cancelations on mail diverted from other offices. A postmaster must not use the mails, or solicit others to use the mails, for the purpose of increasing his compensation, to any greater extent than it would be used if he was not postmaster. Postmasters will be summarily removed for fraudulent increase of cancelations, required to pay back the amount thus illegally obtained, and may be subject to prosecution.

11. Clerk Hire Payments.—Section 2313, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, provides punishment for payment to any employee of a sum less than that provided by law and requiring such employee to receipt or give voucher for an amount greater than that actually paid to and received by him. The law will not permit a postmaster to employ clerks for a sum aggregating less than the amount allowed and then have relatives or other persons receipt for the remainder without performing service commensurate with the amounts so received.

12. Official Communications.—It is extremely important that all official communications be answered at the earliest date possible. Failure to do so obstructs orderly business of the Department and is evidence of lack of interest and cause for removal. (See Sec. 440, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

If the Postal Laws and Regulations, Official Postal Guide and Monthly Supplements, and the daily Postal Bulletins are not understood, postmasters at offices of the first class should write the Department and postmasters at offices of other classes should communicate with the Inspector in Charge of the division in which the office is located. Postmasters at district offices should correspond with their central accounting postmaster in connection with matters relating to their accounts.

13. Official Duties.—Postmasters at offices of the first, second and third classes must devote not less than 8 hours during the business portion of the day to the business of their offices. (See Sec. 445, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.) The fact that postmasters are available this number of hours is not sufficient but they should actually perform duties appropriate to their positions. They should not engage in any business or activity which in any way interferes with the proper discharge of their duties as postmasters and must not engage in any business which involves soliciting or canvassing. They are responsible for proper organization of their offices, for proper and efficient conduct of the employees and for courteous and efficient postal service to their patrons. Their attitude toward the public should be helpful and inquiries regarding postal matters given prompt attention. Personal supervision of each section of the post office should be of such character as will assure the full respect and loyalty of the employees and the confidence of the public.

Postmasters will be held personally responsible for unnecessary expenditures in the service, whether they are for excess regular employees, excess auxiliary service, or extravagance in the use of supplies or equipment. In the very large offices where immediate supervision cannot always be given by the postmaster he will be responsible for the organization essential to fixing the individual responsibility for any unnecessary expenditure.

Detailed instructions concerning all the duties and methods of supervision by postmasters are not practicable herein but good postal service and adequate protection of the revenues require that postmasters personally perform such duties as are outlined.

At offices where the salary of the postmaster is $5,000 or more, the postmaster shall personally direct the handling of departmental correspondence. Bonds and personnel and efficiency records shall be kept under his supervision. He should confer with the principal supervisors daily in order that he may be kept advised as to the condition of the office, personally analyze and sign all requests for allowances, direct proper methods of auditing to insure individual responsibility, see that a check of all accounts, the main stamp stock, and all credits is made at least once a month, direct investigation of all complaints, arrange for all serious irregularities to be brought to his attention, and approve all changes in the schedules of the employees.

At offices where the salary of the postmaster is $3,500 or more but less than $5,000 the postmaster shall have custody of the bonds (except those of rural carriers), personnel and efficiency records of all employees, personally open and answer all departmental correspondence, direct the opening and handling of all other official correspondence, see that credits and financial assignments are arranged so as to establish individual responsibility, direct a check of all accounts, the main stamp stock, and all credits at least once a month, analyze and make all requests for allowances, and he shall personally direct the handling of complaints.

At offices of the first class where the salary of the postmaster is less than $3,500 the postmaster shall have custody of the bonds (except those of rural carriers), personnel and efficiency records of all employees, personally handle complaints and official correspondence, open all incoming official mail and sign all outgoing letters, personally analyze and make all requests for allowances, see that credits and financial assignments are arranged so as to place individual responsibility, and personally check the accounts, the main stamp stock, and all credits at least once a month.

Postmasters at offices of the second class shall have custody of the bonds (except those of rural carriers), personnel and efficiency records of all employees, open all incoming official mail, handle complaints and official correspondence, sign all outgoing letters, make daily examination of the money-order and postal-savings accounts, personally keep the postal-account book, have personal custody and care of the main stamp stock, keep record of credits, make bank deposits, prepare and sign all official checks, see that credits and financial assignments are arranged so as to place individual responsibility, and personally check such credits at least once a month.

At offices of the third class postmasters shall have personal custody and care of the stamp stock and all funds, personally keep and render all accounts and be familiar with and able to perform all the work of the office, including the distribution of mail.

At fourth-class offices where the annual compensation is from $500 to $1,100 the postmaster is required to devote from 5 to 8 hours personal attention daily to the duties of the office depending on its size, and at offices where the compensation is less than $500 the postmaster is required to devote from 1 to 4 hours personal attention daily to his official duties.

The hours of service of postmasters at third- and fourth-class offices should be during the usual business hours of the day and when the principal mail is received and dispatched. Postmasters at these offices should personally make a daily check of the finances of the office and see that all financial records are completed each day.

In order that the Department may not be annoyed unnecessarily it is desired that postmasters comply with section 56, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, which provides that employees of the Postal Service pay their just debts promptly.

BONDS

1. Acting postmasters.—In accordance with the act approved June 25, 1938, acting postmasters are appointed by the Postmaster General. Each acting postmaster so appointed will be required to furnish immediately to the department a bond effective from the date he assumes charge of the office. The General Accounting Office will not allow an acting postmaster salary or compensation until notified that the bond has been received and accepted by the department.

BONDS OF ASSISTANT POSTMASTERS, CASHIERS, AND OTHER EMPLOYEES AT PRESIDENTIAL OFFICES

2. Central-accounting postmasters will handle correspondence relative to bonds of assistant postmasters at third-class offices. Bonds of assistant postmasters, cashiers, and all other employees, at first and second class offices are to be kept on file at the office where such employees are performing service.

3. The attention of postmasters is directed to the following:

The law requires that assistant postmasters and cashiers at first, second, and third class offices, or any other employee when deemed necessary for better protection of the interest of the Government, shall be bonded. (Sec. 472, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

Whenever an assistant postmaster, cashier, or other employee required to furnish a bond, is appointed, the postmaster must secure a blank bond from his central-accounting office (Form 1117 and 1170 to cover assistant disbursing officers), and such bond, after being properly executed, shall be made a part of the files of the office in such a manner as will permit of ready access by inspectors and other authorized agents of the Department, but no employee shall have access to his own bond. Failure on the part of the postmaster to have the required bonds on file will be regarded as a serious irregularity.

The bond may be either personal or corporate surety. A list of surety companies acceptable on bonds is given in subsequent paragraph 7.

4. Properly bonded substitute post-office employees who are promoted to regular positions not involving additional financial responsibility are not required to furnish new bonds.

5. Bonds executed for employees in post offices are simply additional security and do not in anywise affect the liability of postmasters upon their official bonds. It is, however, to the personal interest of postmasters to see that employees are bonded under a sufficient penalty to protect the Government against loss; otherwise the postmaster and his surety are liable for the entire amount of any defalcations of employees.

Before approving a bond of an employee, the postmaster should see that it has been executed in accordance with instructions printed thereon, and that the attorney or agent is empowered by the company to execute bonds. If a postmaster is in doubt as to whether an agent or attorney is authorized to do business for a certain company, he should communicate direct with such company before any bonds are approved by him. After approval, the name of the surety company and amount of the bond will be entered on the employee's roster card. Bonds will be filed in alphabetical order, in a place safe from destruction by fire and protected from molestation or unauthorized access.

If corporate surety is furnished by an employee, the agent or representative signing for the company must affix an impression of the seal of the company, and exhibit his authority to act on behalf of such company to the limit of the penalty of the bond in question. (See secs. 66, 69, 71, 446, 472, and 473 of the Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

6. It is the duty of every postmaster to see that renewal premiums on bonds are paid promptly, and arrangements made with the bonding companies to have all renewal premiums fall due either on January 1, or July 1, of each year, except that where postmasters have previously fixed a given date for renewals, it need not be changed.

The following schedule is intended merely as a guide in fixing the amount of bond which should be furnished. Considerable latitude is permitted a postmaster in determining the amount of bond required. The postmaster is on the ground, has a knowledge of an employee's financial responsibility, and is therefore the best judge as to the amount of bond necessary to protect the Government against loss. If at any time the financial responsibility of an employee is increased, a new bond commensurate with his increased responsibility should be required. In order to obviate the possibility of error and prevent any question as to the liability of a bonding company, only one bond for the full penalty should continue in force. Old bonds must not be returned to the bonding company, but must be retained in a safe place in the office, as collection thereon may be made at any future date should it subsequently be ascertained that an employee's defalcations were committed during the period the old bond continued in force.

The bond of an assistant postmaster must be fixed in an amount not less than 25 per cent of the bond of the postmaster.

POST-OFFICE EMPLOYEES

AUTHORITY FOR ESTIMATES OF, AND QUARTERLY REPORTS OF EXPENDITURES FOR CLERICAL, CARRIER, AND OTHER SERVICES

1. Substitute, auxiliary, and overtime estimates.—Postmasters of first- and second-class offices and village delivery offices obtain authority for expenditures under these headings by submitting to the First Assistant Postmaster General estimates carefully prepared on forms furnished by the Department (Form 1529 for first-class offices and Form 1529–A for all second-class offices and all third-class city and village carrier offices). These forms are mailed to postmasters during the second month of each quarter with instructions relative to their completion and return to the Department. Postmasters should carefully read and follow the instructions in the general letter with which these forms are transmitted as well as the instructions on the reverse side of the form.

2. Authorized expenditures.—Postmasters may expend money for substitute clerk, carrier, or laborer hire when necessary without obtaining in advance specific authority from the Department, as follows:

For substitutes for postmasters, clerks, carriers, and laborers absent with pay on civil-service duty or in attendance as witnesses for the Government before a United States court or on military leave, the amounts so expended to be reported to the First Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Post Office Service, promptly at the end of each quarter on Form 1525 for clerk, laborer, and carrier hire at first-class offices, and Form 1909 for clerk and carrier hire at second-class offices and third-class city and village delivery offices, in order that allowances to cover such expenditures may be certified to the General Accounting Office. In rendering accounts to the Bureau of Accounts these payments must be reported on Form 1592 for substitute clerks and laborers and Form 1593 for substitute carriers, and the individual payments listed on Form 1500 (for clerks and laborers) and Form 1501 (for carriers), "Abstract of payments." (As to procedure to obtain military leave, see p. 96.) In emergencies, overtime may be used without advance authority in order to avoid delays to mail, but in such cases an immediate report of the amount used and the reason therefor must be submitted to the Department.

3. Unauthorized expenditures.—Great care should be exercised not to make any expenditure incident to conditions other than those above described, without obtaining specific authority in advance, because credit for such unauthorized expenditure will not be allowed by the General Accounting Office. In cases of actual emergency, allowances may be requested by telegraph. An emergency is an unforeseen condition calling for immediate action, and postmasters should be very careful to use the telegraph only in real emergencies, using the mail if at all possible. (See article 11, p. 83 and article 17, p. 121.)

4. Expenditures to be charged to proper allowance.—It should be borne in mind that allowances for clerical and laborer service, city delivery service, and village delivery service are granted from separate appropriations, and each allowance authorized must be used only for the purposes for which it is granted. Also, allowances granted for vacation, absence without pay, vacancies, sick leave, or overtime under any of these headings must be used for that purpose only.

5. Vouchers and abstracts.—Receipts of assistant postmasters and other supervisory employees, regular clerks, and laborers must be taken on Form 1590; receipts of regular city carriers on Form 1591; receipts of substitute clerks and laborers on Form 1592; and receipts of substitute city carriers on Form 1593. Receipts of regular village delivery carriers, Form 1591–B. Receipts of substitute village delivery carriers, Form 1593–B. Each individual payment must be carefully listed on Form 1500 for clerical and laborer employees (except at offices where the salary of the postmaster is $5,000 or more abstract Form 1623 shall be used for laborers), and Form 1501 for carrier employees, abstracts of payments. Great care should be exercised to show each expenditure under the proper heading on Forms 1500 and1501. When it is necessary to submit amended vouchers to the General Accounting Office a corrected abstract of payments or a specific statement showing the kind of service performed must accompany the voucher in order that the expenditure may be charged to the proper appropriation. The explicit instructions for claiming credit contained in every allowance letter must be strictly followed.

6. Salaries.—Regular classified employees must be paid at the annual rate fixed by law. If an employee is present and available, covers his tour of duty, and performs the services required of him, he must be paid for a full day even though he may have been engaged less than 8 hours a day on his work.

7. Salary receipts.—Receipts for payments of salary to post-office employees must not be taken before the payments are actually made. The pay rolls or other receipt forms must be fully made out in ink before they are signed, and the exact amount paid to each employee must be entered thereon. This applies to semimonthly rolls as well as to quarterly vouchers submitted to the Comptroller.

8. Pay tables.—The United States Post Office Department Pay Tables show the correct salary payment, and deductions for absence without pay to be made at 96½ per cent for the 28-day, 29-day, 30-day, and 31-day months. These tables may be obtained from the Fourth Assistant, Division of Building Operations and Supplies, Equipment and Supplies Branch, upon requisition and must be used in computing estimates and reporting expenditures to the department and to the Comptroller General.

9. Retirement deductions.—Deductions of 3½ per cent should be made for the retirement fund from the compensation of all classified employees as provided by the act of July 3, 1926. No deductions, however, should be made for overtime service or on the 10 per cent extra compensation for night work. Compute the deduction at the close of the fiscal year, or the termination of an employee's incumbency if sooner separated from the service, and enter on the "Time record," Forms 1590, 1591, 1591a, 1591b, 1592, 1593, or 1593a, 1593b, and the "Retirement Record Card," standard Form 1056. Use the yearly total of "Salary less 3½ per cent retirement deduction" and the "Retirement deduction equivalent" table for arriving at the correct deduction. Additional copies of the table may be obtained from the Fourth Assistant Postmaster General, Equipment and Supplies Branch.

10. Absent part of a day.—Absence without pay of regular clerks, carriers, and laborers for part of a day shall be recorded in hours and fractions thereof, an hour being equivalent to one-eighth of a day. At the end of the pay period the recorded absences shall be added and deduction made for the nearest whole number of hours, 30 minutes or more being regarded as one hour and less than 30 minutes being ignored. Employees should not be excused for fractions of an hour unless absolutely necessary.

11. Lapsed salaries.—Postmasters are forbidden to use lapsed salaries for the employment of substitutes. In all cases where employees are absent without pay or vacancies exist, and substitute service is necessary, postmasters must secure an allowance from the Bureau of the First Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Post Office Service, for the employment of substitutes. When vacancies exist or employees are absent without pay, substitute service should be avoided if possible. Furthermore, if such absences or vacancies occur during a light period, or when there has been a material reduction in business, and the work can be performed by the remaining force without delay to the mails, postmasters and supervisors should see that substitutes are not used until such time as the increase in business may warrant it.

12. Quarterly report of expenditures.—On July 1, October 1, January 1, and April 1 of each year, postmasters of all first-class offices should forward to the Division of Post Office Service a report on Form 1525 of expenditures during the preceding three months for clerical, laborer and carrier substitute, auxiliary and overtime service. A similar report on Form 1909 should be made by postmasters of all second-class offices and all third-class city and village carrier-offices. These reports should always include the expenditures indicated for the entire quarter, even though a change of postmasters occurred during that period, and must agree in every respect with the account as rendered to the Comptroller. Care should be taken to include under each heading only the amount that properly belongs there. Proper forms for the submission of these reports are transmitted to postmasters near the close of the third month of each quarter.

EMPLOYEES' HOURS OF SERVICE

13. Hours of service.—In arranging schedules, postmasters must give first consideration to the needs of the service and not the convenience of employees. See secs. 435, 437, 464, and 465, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, as to post office hours, and 707 as to dispatching of mails.) The hours during which clerks in post offices are required to be on duty are regulated by the postmasters in whose offices they are employed; but the working schedules of regular employees in offices of the first and second classes must provide for 8 hours of service within a period of 10 consecutive hours, with a recess or "swing" period of at least one-half hour for rest or lunch. The time of reporting, leaving for lunch, returning, and ending the day's work should be accurately recorded by the clerks in the time register or punched on the time clock. The punching of the time clock or entries in the register must be made in person by the clerks and at the time of reporting, leaving, returning, or ending their tours of duties, and not be deferred until the close of the day.

14. Service on days other than Sundays, holidays, and Saturdays.—Special clerks, clerks, and laborers in first- and second- class offices, and carriers in the city delivery service shall not be required to work more than 8 hours a day except in cases of emergency when the needs of the service so require and it is not practicable to employ substitutes. The 8 hours of service shall not extend over a longer period than 10 consecutive hours, and the schedules of duty of the employees shall be regulated accordingly. (Act of February 28, 1925.) The 8 hours of required service do not, in the case of supervisors, have to be performed within a period of 10 hours, although the Department prefers that if practicable their schedules shall be so arranged. (See instructions regarding overtime for service rendered by clerks in excess of 8 hours, and compensatory time for service rendered by foremen, assistant postmasters, and supervisors other than foremen in excess of 8 hours.)

15. Sunday and holiday service.—(See secs. 436 and 437, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, relative to observance of Sundays and holidays.) Sunday and holiday employment should be restricted to absolutely essential work. Postmasters at first- and second-class offices should assign as few employees as possible for Sunday and holiday duty. Such assignments should be arranged as far as practicable either in 4- or 8-hour tours, thus avoiding major fractions of a day and should be governed largely by the volume of mail to be handled and the hours of dispatches. Essential Sunday and holiday work should be performed by regular employees (and not substitutes) if the greater portion of the compensatory time so earned can be granted without employing substitutes for the absent employees.

Compensatory time shall be granted for necessary service performed on Sundays and holidays by foremen, special clerks, clerks, watchmen, messengers, or laborers, and city carriers within the period prescribed by law. (See secs. 464 and 924, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.) Relative to compensatory time for Sunday and holiday service rendered by assistant postmasters and supervisors other than foremen, see "Compensatory Time—Assistant Postmasters and Supervisors Other Than Foremen" and concerning compensatory time for Sunday and holiday service rendered by foremen, see "Compensatory Time—Foremen."

SATURDAY SERVICE—FORTY-HOUR-WEEK LAW

16. Forty-hour-week law.—See sections 465, 925, and 959, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, as amended.

17. The act providing for the 40-hour week shall be referred to in orders and correspondence as "The 40-hour-week law."

18. The law is mandatory and must be enforced at all first and second class post offices, and at third-class post offices having city or village delivery service in so far as the carriers are concerned. Assistant postmasters at first and second class post offices are included in the term "supervisory employees." Postmasters, rural carriers, watchmen, and messengers are not included within the provisions of the act, nor are substitute employees, regardless of the number of hours they may be employed daily. While postmasters are not covered in the 40-hour-week law, nevertheless they may take time off on Saturday afternoons, provided no additional expense will result from such absence.

19. Purpose of the law.—Postmasters must keep in mind that the intent of this law is to grant a shorter work week to employees and provide a 5-day week insofar as it may be practicable, with a full day off on Saturday or some other day within the next succeeding 5 working days.

20. The service day will be the basis for granting time off on Saturday under the 40-hour-week law. The service day will also be the basis under which compensatory time for service performed on Saturday will be granted. A service day is defined as an employee's 8-hour tour of duty. When a service day extends over two calendar days, the day's work will be charged to the day in which the larger portion of the tour falls. When a service day is divided equally on the midnight hour, it will be charged to the day in which the service day begins.

21. Service not to be impaired.—The department does not contemplate that the 40-hour-week law shall result in any curtailment of existing service, but all surplus time of employees should be taken up.

22. Replacement for compensatory time.—In view of the limitation placed upon the number of substitutes which may be employed it will be necessary in all cases where the absence of employees on compensatory time necessitates replacement and such replacement can be arranged on an 8-in-10 hour schedule it should be by additional regular employees. In this connection the Department is of the opinion that in many instances clerks will not need to be replaced hour for hour, as it is obvious that many duties, such as the keeping of records, may be eliminated on Saturdays. The same conditions will apply to laborers. The employment of janitors, cleaners, telephone operators, and elevator conductors paid from the appropriations of the First Assistant Postmaster General must be restricted to the absolute minimum on Saturdays and compensatory time granted for all service performed.

23. Postmasters are granted discretionary authority where there is a total or partial suspension of general business in their communities on Saturday afternoon and the requirements and demands of the patrons are reduced, to also reduce all window, collection, delivery, and other services of the post office to an extent commensurate with the reduction of general business. Judicious use of this discretionary authority should obviate the necessity for correspondence with the department concerning changes postmasters desire to make in the present service, as the changes necessary to comply with these instructions can be made without departmental approval.

24. Replacement for carriers.—In order that no delay may be experienced in the delivery of mail by carriers it may be necessary to replace carriers approximately hour for hour, but not more than one additional regular carrier should be appointed for each 10 regular carriers.

25. Observance of some day other than Saturday as shorter work day.—Where it is the custom in any community to observe some day other than Saturday as a short work day, the necessary service should be maintained in the post office on Saturday and compensatory time for work performed on Saturday should be given as far as practicable on the day that is observed locally as a short work day.

26. Compensatory time must be given to an employee on one day and not distributed among two or more workdays next succeeding Saturday. If only a part-day is to be given it should be given at the beginning or the ending of the employee's service day. An employee should be notified as soon as practicable of the day on which compensatory time is to be allowed, and whenever practicable it should be given on the same day each week.

27. Work performed on Saturday in excess of eight hours, except in the case of supervisory employees, village carriers, cleaners, janitors, telephone operators, and elevator conductors paid from the appropriations of the First Assistant Postmaster General, shall be paid for as overtime. Over 8 hours compensatory time for work performed on Saturday is not permissible. Inasmuch as there is no provision for paying overtime to supervisory employees, village carriers, cleaners, janitors, telephone operators, and elevator conductors paid from the appropriations of the First Assistant Postmaster General, they should not be permitted to work more than 8 hours on Saturday.

28. Saturday holidays.—When a holiday falls on a Saturday, regular employees should be excused from service as far as practicable. Those who perform service on such a day shall be granted compensatory time for Saturday on one working day within the five next succeeding. They will not be granted compensatory time for the holiday.

29. Village carriers at second-class post offices are not required to work on any holidays except Christmas and there is no provision of law granting compensatory time for service performed on that day.

Village carriers at third-class post offices may be required to work not more than one hour on Sundays and holidays. See sec. 958, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932. However, village carriers should not be required to report on Sundays if it is at all practicable to render service without their assistance.

If village carriers at second- or third-class post offices are required to perform service on a Christmas day which falls on a Saturday, compensatory time must be granted them for the first eight hours of service performed on that Saturday. See sec. 959, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.

30. Compensatory time for Sunday and holiday service.—The law granting compensatory time for Sunday and holiday service is not changed or affected by the 40-hour-week law. The service day will also be used as a basis in granting compensatory time for Sunday and holiday service. (See article 15, page 83.)

31. Compensatory time combined.—Where it is practicable and desirable, postmasters may grant the combined compensatory time for Sunday, holiday, and Saturday service in one period in any instance where an employee has such compensatory time due him, keeping in mind that compensatory time for Saturday service must be granted on one of the five working days next succeeding the Saturday and for Sunday service on one day within six days next succeeding the Sunday, and on one day within 30 days next succeeding the holiday. On a day when Saturday compensatory time is given, the number of hours of compensatory time plus the hours of service performed must not exceed 8 hours. For example: If an employee has 5 hours of compensatory time due him, he must not be worked more than 3 hours on the day compensatory time is granted, and his schedule, including 5 hours compensatory time and 3 hours work, must not exceed 8 within 10 hours.

32. Overtime pay.—Postmasters should not request allowances to pay employees overtime for the first 8 hours of service on Saturdays in lieu of granting them compensatory time, except that if the exigencies of the service require it, payments at the overtime rate to all employees named in the law will be authorized in lieu of compensatory time for service performed on the last three Saturdays of the calendar year. Supervisors will not be entitled to pay for more than 8 hours' overtime for any one Saturday and service performed by them in excess of 8 hours, on the last three Saturdays in the calendar year, will be credited to accumulated overtime made on other days and compensatory time may be given for such service within the following 180 days. Supervisors may not elect to take compensatory time within 180 days in lieu of overtime pay for overtime of 8 hours or less on any one of the last three Saturdays of the year. If such compensatory time is not taken on one of the 5 working days following the Saturday, the law requires that overtime pay be allowed. Village carriers will not be entitled to pay for more than 8 hours' overtime for any one of the last three Saturdays of the calendar year. Cleaners, janitors, telephone operators, and elevator conductors who perform service on the last three Saturdays of the calendar year cannot be paid overtime, but must be granted compensatory time within 30 days next succeeding.

33. Schedules.—The arrangement of schedules and the granting of compensatory time is the duty of the postmaster. He must, of course, comply with the law and in accordance therewith arrange working schedules and allow compensatory time on such days and periods as best suit the needs of the service.

34. Absence on Saturday.—Absences on Saturday will not be charged against annual leave or sick leave. Any employee scheduled to a Saturday tour of duty and who fails to report and has not been excused will have deducted from his salary an amount equivalent to the number of hours he is scheduled to work. Employees who report for duty on Saturday and afterward are granted leave for any reason will be given compensatory time for the service performed on Saturday. Employees will be paid for Saturdays, Sundays, or holidays immediately preceding or immediately following a period of absence without pay whenever possible or the needs of the service permit whether or not scheduled to work on such days. They will not, however, be paid for Saturdays, Sundays or holidays occurring within a period of absence without pay.

OVERTIME

35. Overtime.—The provisions of law relating to the payment of overtime do not apply to substitutes, as they are paid by the hour for the time actually employed.

36. Overtime—Village delivery carriers.—Overtime can not be paid village delivery carriers except for services rendered on the last three Saturdays in the calendar year where the exigencies of the service require such payment in lieu of the granting of compensatory time, and then not more than eight hours' overtime can be paid for overtime services rendered on any one of the last three Saturdays in the calendar year.

37. Overtime for special clerks, clerks, and laborers in first and second class offices, and carriers in the City Delivery Service.—(See pars. 2, secs. 464 and 924, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.) Overtime must be paid for all necessary authorized service rendered in excess of 8 hours. These employees are not entitled to pay for overtime unless they actually perform service in excess of 8 hours on any one day, regardless of the period covered by the service performed. Schedules should be so arranged that each employee will have an intermission of not less than 30 minutes for lunch or rest, this period being exclusive of his 8 hours of service, and when it is necessary to have a clerk scheduled for early and late service on account of the arrangement of train schedules he should be given a swing between his morning and afternoon tours, provided his 8 hours of service shall still be within a period of 10 consecutive hours.

38. Overtime for foremen.—Foremen may be paid overtime only for services rendered, not in excess of eight hours, on the last three Saturdays in the calendar year and for services, not in excess of 8 hours, on the last three Sundays in the calendar year, and on Christmas, if the exigencies of the service require such action in lieu of the granting of compensatory time. (See "Compensatory Time" relative to granting compensatory time for overtime for which payment cannot be made.)

39. Overtime for assistant postmasters and supervisors other than foremen.—Overtime may be paid assistant postmasters and supervisors other than foremen only for services rendered (up to a maximum of eight hours) on the last three Saturdays in the calendar year and then only if the exigencies of the service require such payment in lieu of the granting of compensatory time. (See Compensatory time relative to granting compensatory time for overtime for which payment can not be made.)

40. Overtime—When to be used.—Overtime, either clerical, city carrier, or laborer, shall be used to a reasonable extent, where necessary, to insure the prompt delivery or dispatch of first-class matter, daily newspapers, parcels, and other matter having a time value. Except in emergencies overtime should not be used to care for absence of regular employees on leave with or without pay.

41. Overtime.—No retirement deductions shall be made from pay for overtime service rendered.

42. Overtime, computation of.—Overtime shall be computed on the basis of annual salary in accordance with the salary tables issued by the Comptroller. Divide the annual salary by 306, (the number of working days in the year less all Sundays and legal holidays enumerated in the Postal Laws and Regulations), and the quotient thus obtained shall be the daily compensation which, divided by eight hours, will give the hourly compensation for such overtime service. Enter in each employee's time record (Form 1590 or 1591) the exact length of overtime, in hours and minutes, served daily. At the end of each half month find, by adding such entries, the total time served during that period, and pay for the nearest number of whole hours of such total time, counting a fraction of an hour amounting to 30 minutes or more as one hour and ignoring 29 minutes or less.

43. Overtime, report of.—Overtime must be reported at the end of each quarter to the department, Division of Post Office Service, on Form 1525 for clerical, laborer, and city carrier service at first-class offices, and on Form 1909 at second-class offices. Payments for such service must be reported to the Comptroller on the voucher of Form 1590 for special clerks, regular clerks, watchmen, messengers, and laborers, and Form 1591 for city letter carriers. The number of days and eighths of days made during each month of the quarter must be entered in the overtime column on the voucher.

COMPENSATORY TIME

44. Compensatory time—Substitutes.—The provisions of law relating to the granting of compensatory time do not apply to substitutes as they are paid by the hour for the time actually employed.

45. Compensatory time for Sunday and holiday service.—Compensatory time shall be granted to foremen, special clerks, clerks, watchmen, messengers, laborers, and city letter carriers for all service performed by them on Sundays and legal holidays enumerated in section 437, as provided by sections 464 and 924, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932. If the exigencies of the service require it, payments may be made as overtime for service rendered on the last three Sundays in the calendar year or on Christmas Day in lieu of granting compensatory time. In the event any of the above holidays falls on a Sunday, this rule shall apply on the following day. Compensatory time in excess of eight hours shall not be granted to the employees referred to even though more than eight hours of service is performed on a particular Sunday or holiday. Care should, therefore, be exercised to the end that employees are not required to work more than eight hours on such days.

Any employee scheduled to a Sunday or a holiday tour of duty, and who fails to report and has not been excused, will have deducted from his salary an amount equivalent to the number of hours he is scheduled to work. (Comp. Gen., September 8 and November 6, 1923, February 8, 1924.)

46. Compensatory time—Saturday service.—See instructions under "Saturday service—Forty-hour-week law."

47. Compensatory time, village carriers, can be granted only for service rendered on Saturday and cannot exceed 8 hours.

48. Compensatory time. Assistant postmasters and supervisors other than foremen, at first- and second-class post offices, may be granted compensatory time for services necessarily performed on Sundays and holidays and for all overtime service, including Saturday service, in excess of 8 hours (8 hours compensatory time to be granted within 5 working days next succeeding the Saturday on which the service was performed) at such times as in the opinion of the postmaster their services may best be spared, without added cost to the service, within a period of 180 days. Where it is shown to the department that earned compensatory time could not be taken within the prescribed period, due to prolonged illness during which annual and allowable sick leave was exhausted, the limitation will be waived. Accrued compensatory time may be allowed within the 180-day period for any number of hours, but compensatory time shall not be granted on more than 2 consecutive days, except in cases of prolonged illness as above referred to.

49. Compensatory time—Foremen.—Except in so far as compensatory time is involved for Sunday and holiday service, foremen shall be granted compensatory time for all overtime on the same basis as assistant postmasters and supervisors.

50. Compensatory time, record of.—An accurate, permanent record must be kept in the post office of all overtime, Sunday, or holiday service performed by supervisors and employees, also a record of compensatory time granted, showing dates and number of hours. Supervisors who are exempted from the requirement of using time recorders, where furnished, may, if they so desire in order to maintain an accurate record of their time, make use of the time recorder.

NIGHT WORK

51. Additional pay for night work.—(See secs. 466 and 926, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.) An act of Congress of May 24, 1928, provides a differential in pay for night work in the Postal Service as follows:

That after July 1, 1928, supervisory employees, special clerks, clerks, substitute clerks, watchmen, messengers, laborers, and employees of the motor-vehicle service, in first and second class post offices; carriers and substitute carriers in the City Delivery Service; and railway postal clerks, substitute railway postal clerks, and laborers in the Railway Mail Service, who are required to perform night work shall be paid extra for such work at the rate of 10 per centum of their hourly pay per hour: Provided, That night work is defined as any work done between the hours of 6 o'clock postmeridian and 6 o'clock antemeridian.

52. Basis of computation.—In a decision dated June 8, 1928, the Comptroller General has ruled as follows:

(a) The hourly pay for night work performed by post office employees during their regular tours of duty shall be computed on the basis of 365 days per year, and 366 days per leap year, in accordance with the act of March 4, 1911, which provides that annual salaries shall be divided into 12 equal installments, one of which shall be the pay for each calendar month, and that in making payment for a fractional part of any calendar month there shall be paid such proportion of one of such installments as the number of days in the fractional part of that month bears to the actual number of days in that month, the hourly rate of pay being determined by dividing the daily rate of pay by 8, and the 10 per cent extra for night service shall be computed on such hourly rate.

(b) The hourly pay for overtime service performed by post office employees which is computed on the basis of 306 days per year, the daily rate of pay to be determined by dividing the annual salary by 306, and the hourly rate of pay by dividing the daily rate by 8, shall be used as the basis of computing the 10 per cent additional pay for overtime service by post office employees between the hours of 6 p. m. and 6 a. m.

(c) The 10 per cent additional pay for night service will be computed upon the entire salary or compensation of employees, or the 100 per cent basis, and not upon the 96½ per cent of such salary or compensation remaining after deducting the 3½ per cent for the retirement fund. Furthermore, as this additional pay for night service is in the nature of a bonus, and does not constitute a part of the basic salary, pay, or compensation, it is not subject to the deduction of 3½ per cent for the retirement fund.

Payment for all necessary and authorized night service rendered by employees (other than special-delivery messengers and cleaners or janitors receiving less than $720 per annum who are not included within the provisions of the law relating to night work) is mandatory.

Supervisors, including assistant postmasters, shall receive additional pay for night work performed during their regular 8-hour tours of duty. However, as payment for overtime rendered by supervisors may be made only under the conditions specified in paragraphs 38 and 39, p. 85, payment of the 10 per cent night differential for service in excess of eight hours can be made only when overtime is payable under the law.

Employees absent on vacation or for any reason, regularly assigned in whole or in part to night tours will receive no additional pay for night service during such absence.

An absolutely accurate time record must be maintained of all service authorized and performed by all post-office employees, including temporary substitutes, between the hours of 6 p. m. and 6 a. m., even though it be for only fractional parts of an hour. The time used in each post office, whether standard or daylight saving, will be observed. Care must be exercised in computing the 10 per cent additional pay for night service performed during regular tours of duty, or as overtime, with respect to those employees entitled to payment for overtime service.

At the end of each pay period the actual time of night service performed by each employee will be totaled, and where there is a fractional part of an hour amounting to 30 minutes or more, 1 hour will be added, and where the fraction is 29 minutes or less it will be dropped.

Additional compensation earned by regular employees during their regular 8-hour tours on account of night service between 6 p. m. and 6 a. m. will be entered in the proper place on the salary vouchers and paid such employees the same as their regular salaries without further authorization or allowance. Do not include this in estimates, Forms 1529 and 1529–A, nor in expenditure reports, Forms 1525 and 1909.

Night service should be restricted to the minimum necessary to insure the prompt and efficient handling of first-class matter, daily papers, and other important mails, and provide proper and necessary window service.

No retirement deductions shall be made on the 10 per cent extra compensation paid employees for night work.

53. Night service.—Postmasters shall not inaugurate any "night service" at post offices or stations where such service will involve any additional expense for clerk hire, or for fuel or light, without first submitting the matter for consideration by the First Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Post Office Service.

COMPENSATION AND EMPLOYMENT OF SUBSTITUTES

54. Rate of pay.—Classified and temporary substitute clerks at first and second class post offices and classified and temporary substitute carriers in the city delivery service shall be paid at the rate of 65 cents per hour; classified and temporary substitute laborers in first and second class post offices at the rate of 55 cents per hour; and classified and temporary substitute village carriers at the rate of 50 cents per hour.

55. Night differential.—Classified and temporary substitute clerks and laborers in first and second class post offices and classified and temporary substitute carriers in the city delivery service (but not classified or temporary substitute village carriers) shall be paid 10 per cent additional for night work performed between the hours of 6 p. m. and 6 a. m.

56. Compensatory time and overtime.—The provisions of the laws regarding compensatory time and overtime do not apply to classified or temporary substitutes.

57. Computing time.—Enter on each substitute's pay roll (Forms 1592, 1593, or 1593–B) the exact length of time, in hours and minutes, during which he actually serves every day, whether Sunday, holiday, or working day. At the end of each half month find, by adding such entries, his total time of service during that period, and pay him for the nearest whole number of hours, counting a fraction of an hour amounting to 30 minutes or more as 1 hour and ignoring a fraction amounting to less than 30 minutes. Thus, for 29 hours and 30 minutes, pay for 30 hours; for 29 hours and 29 minutes, pay for 29 hours. Substitute clerks should not be employed for fractions of hours unless absolutely necessary. A specific allowance to cover such service must be secured in advance.

SUBSTITUTES FOR POSTMASTERS AND ASSISTANT POSTMASTERS AT FIRST AND SECOND CLASS POST OFFICES

58. A substitute for a postmaster while absent with pay must be paid at the rate of 65 cents an hour out of the appropriation for clerk hire. Postmasters must secure a specific allowance in advance of expenditures for that purpose.

(a) A substitute for a postmaster or assistant postmaster who is absent without pay can not be paid from the lapsed salary of the postmaster or assistant postmaster, such salary reverting to the department. If absolutely necessary under the provisions of paragraph 2, page 73, at offices of the first and second classes substitute clerks may be employed at the rate of 65 cents per hour, not exceeding 8 hours daily, in place of a postmaster or assistant postmaster absent without pay.

All expenditures for substitute service covered in the two preceding paragraphs must be reported on Form 1525 or 1909 at the end of the quarter. Payments for that purpose must be entered in the same space for temporary clerk hire on Form 1500.

PROMOTIONS, REDUCTIONS, TRANSFERS, AND EXCHANGES

59. Recommendations for promotions.—Automatic promotions are made only at the beginning of a fiscal quarter (Jan. 1, Apr. 1, July 1, and Oct. 1). Thirty days before the end of each quarter recommendations shall be submitted for the promotion of every clerk and carrier who, at the end of the quarter, will have completed a year's satisfactory service in any of the grades from $1,700 to $2,000.

To be eligible for promotion to the next higher grade, an employee must attain for the year under consideration at least the total rating for his grade shown in the following table and must not have accumulated during the same period more net demerits than are indicated therein.

Grade 1 to grade 2—rating of 80 percent.....400 net demerits.
Grade 2 to grade 3—rating of 80 percent.....350 net demerits.
Grade 3 to grade 4—rating of 85 percent.....300 net demerits.
Grade 4 to grade 5—rating of 90 percent.....300 net demerits.

Recommendations covering all automatic promotions should be submitted on form 1530, in triplicate, and should indicate the efficiency rating and the number of net demerits assessed during the year preceding the date of promotion.

60. Recommendations for withholding promotions.—Thirty days before the end of each quarter, recommendations shall be submitted for the withholding of promotions of every clerk and carrier who, at the end of the quarter, will have completed a year's service in any of the grades from $1,700 to $2,000, inclusive, but whose services were not satisfactory.

These recommendations should be submitted on form 1534, in duplicate, accompanied by a copy of form 3990 and with a statement in explanation of the employee's unsatisfactory rating and the various factors involved. Where the withholding of promotion is recommended on the ground that the employee was assessed an excessive number of demerits, a statement should be submitted setting forth the offenses and the number of demerits assessed.

Attention is called to the fact that when promotion is withheld because of a low efficiency rating or an excessive number of demerits, the employees cannot be promoted the following quarter but will be eligible for promotion at the beginning of the second quarter thereafter, or of any subsequent quarter, on evidence that his record has been satisfactory during the intervening period, and provided he attains the required rating and does not accumulate for each quarter involved more than one-fourth of the net demerits in the schedule governing promotions. Where promotion has been withheld for a period of one year, a formal report should be submitted to the Department on Form 1534, in duplicate, showing the employee's efficiency rating and the number of net demerits with an appropriate explanation thereof.

61. Promotion of laborers and others to clerk or city letter carrier.—Classified watchmen, classified messengers (does not include special delivery messengers or mail messengers) and classified laborers in post offices, classified laborers in the Railway Mail Service, classified employees of the Motor Vehicle Service, and classified employees of the Custodial Service may be promoted to clerk at first- and second-class post offices or carriers in the City Delivery Service at $1,700 a year after 3 years' satisfactory classified service upon passing an appropriate noncompetitive examination.

This rule is applied only in exceptional cases where it is shown that the employees by reason of their education, training, experience, and faithful service should be given an opportunity to take an examination which will qualify them to become regular clerks (or carriers).

As the employees must qualify in a noncompetitive examination when presenting a case to the Department, the postmaster should submit Form 375 properly executed. Furthermore, those employees who desire transfer to the clerical force must qualify on the city delivery scheme. In such cases, Form 3989 should also be submitted to the Department showing the result of the case examination.

An employee who qualifies may be immediately transferred to the position of substitute clerk or substitute carrier at the foot of the roll, if there is a vacancy in the quota of substitutes, or be retained in his present position until all the substitute clerks (or substitute carriers) who were on the rolls at the time he qualified have been advanced or otherwise eliminated. The employee should then be transferred to the position of senior substitute in order that he may acquire some experience in the work of clerk (or carrier) before being advanced to a regular position.

62. When absent without pay.—The automatic promotion of employees, excepting those drawing disability compensation from the United States Employees' Compensation Commission, will be deferred for absence without pay in the following manner: When absent for 90 days or more during the year following his appointment or his last promotion, he should not be recommended for further promotion until the completion of another quarter's service: 180 days or more, 2 more quarters' service; 270 days or more, 3 more quarters' service. Where an employee's promotion is deferred, that fact should be reported on form 1534, in duplicate.

63. When reduced.—When, because of his rating, or accumulated net demerits, or for any other reason, an employee shall have been reduced in salary, he may be restored to his former grade or advanced to an intermediate grade at the beginning of any quarter following the reduction, provided he attains the required rating in the meantime and does not accumulate for each month involved more than one-twelfth of the net demerits in the schedule governing promotions. Recommendations for restorations in salary should be submitted on form 1530 in triplicate.

Where an employee is reduced and not restored in salary after having been reduced for a period of one year, a report should be submitted to the Department on Form 1534, in duplicate, accompanied by a copy of Form 3990 and with a statement in explanation of the employee's unsatisfactory rating and the various factors involved. Where the employee has an excessive number of demerits, a statement should be submitted setting forth the offenses and the number of demerits assessed.

64. Promotion after restoration.—The Comptroller General has ruled that an employee who has been reduced in grade and has been restored thereto is eligible for automatic promotion at the beginning of the quarter following the completion of one year of continuous satisfactory service performed since the termination of the period of unsatisfactory service which caused the reduction. The date of reduction or restoration is of no consequence. When recommending promotion in such cases, it will be necessary for postmasters to state the date the unsatisfactory service terminated and that he has performed continuous satisfactory service since that date.

65. Seeking outside influence is forbidden.—No recommendation for the promotion of any employee in the classified service shall be considered, except it be made by the officer or officers under whose supervision or control such employee is serving; and such recommendation by any other person with the knowledge and consent of the employee shall be sufficient cause for debarring him from the promotion proposed, and a repetition of the offense shall be sufficient cause for removing him from the service.

66. Seniority.—(a) Seniority will commence with the date of appointment to a substitute or regular position in the post-office service and will not be affected by amount of substitute service performed, or other conditions except as herein stated. In case of employees appointed from a civil service register on the same date the one with the highest examination rating shall be senior. Appointment as a temporary employee is not to be recognized in this connection.

(b) When an employee is transferred at his own request from one post office to another or from another branch or department, he commences a new period of seniority in the office to which he is transferred.

(c) Upon reinstatement in a post office or transfer into a post office from some other branch of the Postal Service or executive civil service (positions under paragraph (d) excepted) a new period of seniority commences, unless the employee so reinstated resigned from the post office service because of personal illness (and at the time of resignation gave illness as his reason), was retired on account of physical disability, or was found to have been unjustly removed from that service. Claim for seniority on account of previous service will be allowed only where the employee makes formal request for reinstatement within six months from the date of regaining his health. This amended rule became effective January 1, 1935.

(d) A city letter carrier, village carrier, postmaster, rural carrier, clerk in the Motor Vehicle Service, or clerk in the custodial service transferred to the clerical force at the same post office or a clerk transferred to the carrier force, shall be regarded as a junior employee of the branch of the service to which he transfers for the first 5 years in the new position; and thereafter his seniority shall be reckoned from the date of his appointment or reinstatement in or transfer at, the office to which employed. A city letter carrier who is transferred to clerk and placed on probation in a supervisory capacity is not required to commence a new period of seniority.

In the case of an inter-office transfer between a clerk, a city or village carrier, rural carrier, clerk in the Motor Vehicle Service, or clerk in the custodial service, retransferring to his former status, he will be given credit for the service rendered on the roll on which his name originally appeared. For example, an employee was appointed a clerk in 1920, transferred to city carrier in 1930, and retransferred to clerk in 1932. Inasmuch as the employee had 10 years of service as clerk (1920–1930) his seniority will be antedated 10 years and fixed at 1922. After 5 years of service from the date of retransfer he will then be given credit for all of his service and his seniority will commence from 1920.

(e) Postmasters should not reorganize details and tours merely to conform with seniority readjustments. Existing arrangements of details and tours predicated on the understanding of policy before the issuance of the orders of November 15, 1926, and December 20, 1930, generally speaking, should continue until such time as new reassignments made necessary by vacancies or the interest of the service require. Then in making such assignments consideration will be given to the seniority status of the employees under the policy above outlined.

67. Time credits on transfers.—An employee transferred from clerk to carrier, or vice versa, or from one office to another, should in determining salary in the automatic grades, receive full credit for his service before the transfer.

68. Transfer and mutua exchange.—Recommendations for the transfer of a clerk to the carrier force, city, village or rural, and the reverse should include a statement as to whether each applicant is physically able and otherwise qualified to perform the duties of the position to which he is to be assigned. Recommendations for transfers and mutual exchanges should be submitted to the First Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Post Office Service, on the proper form in quadruplicate, accompanied by the written application of each employee affected. For mutual exchanges use Form 1533 in quadruplicate; for transfer from the clerical to the carrier force and for transfer from the carrier to the clerical force use Form 1532 (in quadruplicate). In cases of mutual exchanges, it should be understood that the employees concerned need not be assigned to the actual position occupied by the employees with whom they exchange. The employees should be assigned where their services can be used to the best advantage, proper consideration being given to seniority. (See par. 88, p. 93.)

It must be distinctly understood by the employees concerned that upon formal approval of the proposed change of positions, the Department will not rescind its action at the request of either of the employees concerned but only on request of both, provided such action is agreeable to the postmaster or postmasters involved.

69. Transfer of regular to substitute.—The ruling of the Civil Service Commission regarding transfers between the substitute clerk and substitute carrier force is as follows:

> Transfers (of regular employees) to the substitute force of a post office * * * may be made to any position on the substitute list. A substitute transferred from one post office to another shall go to the foot of the substitute list.

However, an employee transferring from one post office to another must have served the probationary period of 1,224 hours of substitute service or the equivalent in regular service before being eligible for transfer.

70. Transfer of substitutes.—

> The transfer of a substitute within a post office from the clerk to the carrier substitute force, or vice versa, may not be made except to the foot of the substitute roll: Provided, That a mutual exchange of positions between a substitute clerk and a substitute carrier may be made, but not to any higher position on the substitute roll than that to which each would have been entitled if his original appointment had been to the roll to which transferred: And provided further, That when a substitute is transferred from the clerk to the carrier roll, or vice versa, and afterwards retransferred to the roll upon which his name originally appeared, then his name shall be entered upon such roll in the order of his original appointment.

Attention is, however, called to the fact that a further restriction on mutual exchanges between substitutes has been enforced, so that an employee will not be assigned to a higher place on the substitute roll than that occupied by the substitute with whom he exchanges places.

71. Transfers of substitutes—Forms to use.—Transfers from substitute clerk to substitute carrier, or vice versa, and the mutual exchange of positions between these employees, should be reported on Form 1533, in quadruplicate, accompanied by the written request of each for such transfer or exchange.

72. Unlawful to give consideration for an exchange of position.—Employees of post offices are warned that it is unlawful to give or receive payment, directly or indirectly, to effect an exchange of positions in the same or different post offices, or any place in the public service, the offense being punishable by fine and imprisonment in accordance with the provisions of section 112 of the Penal Code, which reads:

> Whoever, being elected or appointed a Member of or Delegate to Congress, or a Resident Commissioner shall, after his election or appointment and either before or after he has qualified, and during his continuance in office, or being an officer or agent of the United States, shall directly or indirectly take, receive, or agree to receive, from any person, any money, property, or other valuable consideration whatever, for procuring, or aiding to procure, any contract, appointive office, or place, from the United States or from any officer or department thereof, for any person whatever, or for giving any such contract, appointive office, or place to any person whomsoever; or whoever, directly or indirectly, shall offer, or agree to give, or shall give, or bestow, any money, property, or other valuable consideration whatever, for the procuring, or aiding to procure, any such contract, appointive office, or place, shall be fined not more than ten thousand dollars and imprisoned not more than two years; and shall, moreover, be disqualified from holding any office of honor, profit, or trust under the Government of the United States. Any such contract or agreement may, at the option of the President, be declared void.

73. Appointment of substitutes.—An act of Congress approved June 4, 1936, provides that the ratio of * * * classified substitute post-office clerks, classified substitute city letter carriers, classified substitute village letter carriers, classified substitute laborers, watchmen, and messengers * * * to regular post-office clerks, city letter carriers, village letter carriers, laborers, watchmen, and messengers * * * shall be not more than one classified substitute to six regular employees, or fraction thereof, respectively, except that in offices having fewer than six regular employees there may be one substitute clerk and one substitute carrier.

All classified substitute positions in post offices of the first- and second-classes and city and village carrier positions in third-class offices having city and village delivery service, when not filled by reinstatement or transfer, shall be filled by selection from the register of eligibles established as the result of a civil-service examination by the district civil-service manager.

The postmaster shall make his selection from the three eligibles standing highest on the register. If the postmaster passes over the name of an eligible having military preference and selects a nonveteran, he must state his reasons for doing so in writing.

The nomination of a person selected as a substitute shall be submitted on Form 1531, in triplicate, through the office of the district civil-service manager.

Insofar as practicable, the auxiliary work, both clerk and carrier, should be pooled and divided equally among the classified substitutes.

Postmasters are expected to organize their post offices with a view to having the limited number of classified substitutes as shown perform the necessary substitute service. However, it is realized that for seasonable vacation and holiday periods and other emergencies it may be necessary to use temporary substitutes under the provisions of civil-service rule VIII. When necessary to employ temporary substitutes, the selection therefor must be made from civil service registers, if a register is available, and forwarded through the district civil-service manager. If no eligibles are available, the postmaster may nominate any one of the following for temporary appointment pending the establishment of an eligible register:

A. A person eligible for reinstatement. The district manager will furnish information about the reinstatement status of an applicant upon request.

B. A person who has competed in an examination held for filling the position in question, the register not yet having been established. If necessary, the district manager will furnish postmasters, upon request, names of persons who competed in the examination.

C. A suitable person who has filed application for a pending examination the closing date of which has been reached. If a sufficient number of applicants' names are not known to the local secretary or the postmaster, additional names will be furnished by the district manager upon request. If the closing date has not yet been reached, the postmaster may nominate any qualified person with the understanding that the person selected will immediately file application with the district manager prior to the closing date for receipt of applications.

D. A person who has not less than 90 days' service in a post-office clerk or carrier position and has previously qualified in a clerk-carrier examination. Preferably such person should be able to meet the age and physical requirements, including weight.

Note.—Age, height, and weight requirements are waived for persons granted preference because of military or naval service, except that they must not have reached the retirement age of 65 years.

E. Any suitable person who can meet the age and physical requirements, including height, and who will file application with the district manager for the next clerk-carrier examination when announced, provided no examination has been announced for filling the vacancy.

F. With the exception of persons with a reinstatement status, temporary appointment of persons who do not meet the requirements for entrance to the examination will not be approved unless the postmaster certifies to the district manager that suitable persons within the prescribed requirements are not available for appointment.

It must be understood that temporary substitutes cannot be used for any reason if regular classified substitutes are available.

If temporary help is used for an emergency, a brief statement should be made on the form outlining the reasons therefor. If the appointment of a temporary substitute is made for an indefinite period, a letter should accompany the forms defining in detail why the service cannot be maintained with the authorized quota of substitutes.

In making all appointments postmasters must see that the persons selected meet the citizenship requirements prescribed by law or the rules of the Civil Service Commission.

74. Separation of substitutes.—The separation of substitutes for whatever cause should be reported promptly to the department on Form 1535, in triplicate. Where employees are separated by resignation, the written resignations should accompany the forms. The separation of temporary substitutes should be reported on Forms 1535, in triplicate, through the office of the civil service district manager.

75. Civil-service examination; preparation of applicants.—Under Executive order dated October 13, 1905, no Government employee shall be concerned in any manner in the instruction of applicants for examination before the Civil Service Commission, under penalty of dismissal from the service.

76. Probationary appointments of post-office employees.—The civil service act provides that there shall be a period of probation before any absolute appointment, and civil service Rule VII fixes the probationary period at six months.

77. Probationary period.—The period of probation affords an opportunity to determine the probationer's real worth to the public service. With this in mind greater emphasis should be placed on the period of probation and probationers should be carefully instructed and given full opportunity to develop their talents.

The character of service rendered by the probationer and his loyalty should be carefully observed, as the postmaster must be the final judge of the qualifications of the person who is to be permanently employed. No probationary appointment should be allowed to become permanent unless the character of service and the conduct of the probationer have been entirely satisfactory.

Civil Service Rule VII, as amended by the Executive Order of June 24, 1938, provides that the probationary period of persons appointed on and after February 1, 1939, shall be 1 year instead of 6 months, as heretofore.

The probationary period of 1 year for persons appointed in the post office service on or after February 1, 1939, shall, therefore, begin with the date of appointment as regular or classified substitute and terminate with 12 months of regular service or 2,448 hours of actual service as substitute. Two hundred and four hours of substitute service is considered the equivalent of 1 calendar month of regular service. Service rendered either as substitute clerk, substitute city or village carrier, service as special delivery messenger and substitute post office laborer will be credited as probationary service. An efficiency record of each probationer shall be maintained.

Probationary employees, including substitutes, should be rated at least six times during the probationary period, on the same factors and in the same manner as regular employees, the first rating to be at the expiration of 204 hours of service; the second rating at the expiration of 612 hours· the third rating at the expiration of 1,020 hours; the fourth rating at the end of 1,428 hours; the fifth rating at the end of 1,836 hours; and the sixth rating at the end of 2,244 hours. The probationer should be advised immediately if he is failing in any essential qualification. The last rating should be made sufficiently in advance of the close of the probationary period to enable proper action to be taken in those cases where the termination of the services of the employee is contemplated. Probationary employees should not be given absolute appointment without authority from the Department unless during the probationary period an efficiency rating of 80 percent or more is attained, and provided further, that not more than 500 net demerits have accumulated during the period.

The probationary period for employees appointed prior to February 1, 1939, is, as heretofore, 6 months of regular service, or 1,224 hours of substitute service.

Upon satisfactory completion of probation a report is to be submitted to the Department on Forms 1835, in triplicate, showing the exact date upon which probation was completed.

78. After full and fair trial, during this period, the conduct, capacity, and efficiency of the probationer be not satisfactory to the appointing officer, the probationer shall be so notified in writing with a full statement of reasons, and this notice shall terminate his services. In the case of a regular employee his separation should be reported on Form 1532, in triplicate, accompanied by a copy of the letter terminating his services, and in the case of a substitute, Form 1535, in triplicate, should be submitted, accompanied by a copy of the letter terminating his service.

(a) Reports of the completion of probationary periods are to be submitted on Form 1835, in triplicate.

79. Dual employment.—When required by the needs of the service, substitute clerks may be employed as substitute city letter carriers and substitute carriers may be employed as substitute clerks without authority from the Department, but care should be exercised to pay the employee from the proper allowance for services rendered. However, such employment should not be to the detriment of either group of substitutes. Both substitute clerks and substitute city letter carriers may be employed to deliver special-delivery matter. These forms of services are not dual employment according to the accepted meaning of the term.

In the interest of good service postmasters may employ mail messengers and postal employees in a dual capacity, or assign extra duties to such mail messengers and postal employees, provided that the compensation paid to such mail messenger or postal employee for services performed does not exceed $2,000 in any 1 fiscal year. Postal employees at offices of all classes may enter into contracts for the performance of mail messenger service, provided the total amount paid under such contract shall not exceed $300 in any 1 fiscal year, except that special delivery messengers may receive in excess of $300 for mail messenger service in any 1 fiscal year and provided further that the total amount paid to any employee for such dual service in any 1 fiscal year shall not exceed $2,000. However, in such cases, postmasters shall not employ a person in a dual capacity wlihout first presenting the matter to the Department in detail and receiving approval therefor.

APPOINTMENTS TO POSITIONS IN POST OFFICES

80. Changes may be recommended.—When a vacancy occurs in the post-office force, whether caused by death, an employee's separation from the service, promotion, or reduction, changes may be recommended as follows:

81. Vacancies in positions above the highest grade of clerks.—When a vacancy occurs in a position above the highest automatic grade of clerks (that is, a position paying more than $2,100 a year), the postmaster may recommend the promotion to such position of an employee occupying any other position above the highest grade of clerks (that is, the $2,100 grade), or the promotion of a clerk or city letter carrier of the highest grade in the office concerned. Such changes should be submitted on Form 1532 (in triplicate), accompanied by letter setting forth the qualifications of the employee recommended, and cannot take effect prior to the date they are approved by the Department. (For promotion to special clerk see "Special Clerks" below.)

(a) If the person selected has not had prior supervisory experience, the postmaster should recommend that the employee be assigned to his new duties without change in designation or salary for a probationary period of 90 days and upon receipt of the Department's approval the employee should be so assigned.

(b) If a city letter carrier is selected, he must be transferred to the position of clerk before he can be assigned to his new duties, as there is no authority of law for assigning carriers to clerical duties or vice versa.

82. Vacancies in the position of assistant postmaster.—A vacancy in the position of assistant postmaster, if not filled by reinstatement or transfer, may be filled by the promotion of any regular employee in the office, by the promotion of the senior substitute, or by selection from an eligible register established for the purpose. The person selected must be bonded in accordance with the instructions on pages 79 to 81. Before a postmaster's recommendation for filling the position will be approved, he must state that a properly executed bond is on file in his office. Such appointment or promotion can not take effect prior to the date it is approved by the department.

83. Vacancies in clerk and carrier force.—A vacancy in the clerical or carrier force when not filled by transfer or reinstatement shall be filled by the advancement of the senior substitute clerk to a clerical vacancy and the senior substitute carrier to a carrier vacancy.

(a) Substitute clerks in first and second class post offices and substitute letter carriers in the City Delivery Service when appointed regular clerks or carriers shall have credit for actual time served as a classified substitute and special delivery messenger on a basis of one year for each three hundred and six days of eight hours served as substitute, and appointed to the grade to which such clerk or carrier would have progressed had his original appointment as substitute been to grade 1. Any fractional part of a year's substitute service will be included with his service as a regular clerk or carrier in the City Delivery Service in determining eligibility for promotion to the next higher grade. For example, a substitute advanced to regular on April 1, 1937, with 3,672 hours of substitute service shall be assigned to the $1,800 grade and will be eligible for advancement to the $1,900 grade October 1, 1937. Appointments should be reported on Form 1532, in triplicate, and cannot take effect prior to date of approval by the Department.

(b) Immediately upon the occurrence of a vacancy the postmaster shall report the separation on Form 1532, in triplicate, and state whether the separation was with or without delinquency. When the separation is by resignation, the written resignation should be forwarded to the Department.

84. Vacancies in post office laborer force.—A vacancy in the laborer force when not filled by transfer or reinstatement shall be filled by the advancement of the senior substitute laborer who shall be assigned to the $1,500 grade if he has performed less than 2,448 hours of substitute laborer service. In the event he has performed 2,448 hours or more substitute laborer service he shall be assigned to the $1,600 grade. Laborers in the $1,500 grade are eligible for advancement to the $1,600 grade at the beginning of the quarter after 1 year of satisfactory service. Laborers are not entitled to a fractional part of a year's service in determining their eligibility for promotion from $1,500 to $1,600 a year. Recommendations for promotion should be submitted on Form 1530, in triplicate, 30 days' before the end of the quarter.

85. Between the date when the vacancy occurs and the date of the department's approval of a successor, the postmaster should submit an estimate to the department of the minimum amount required for the employment of a substitute incident to the vacancy In the event he finds it absolutely necessary to employ eight or more hours of substitute service daily on account of such vacancy, a recommendation for the filling of the place should be submitted as promptly as possible. On the other hand, if it is found possible to maintain satisfactory service with less than eight hours of substitute assistance incident to a vacancy, the postmaster should so advise the department and recommend that the position be held open until such time as the work increases sufficiently to necessitate the employment of a substitute a full eight hours daily on account of the vacancy.

86. Printers and mechanics are no longer appointed as such, but when needed clerks with such qualifications are appointed.

87. Forms to be used.—Form 1530, in triplicate, will be used in recommending the promotion of all employees in the automatic grades, and for the promotion of clerks to and in the grade of special clerk.

Form 1531 will be used in recommending the appointment of substitute clerks, substitute carriers, substitute laborers, and substitute village carriers from civil service registers. This form must be submitted in triplicate through the district civil service manager for his indorsement.

Form 1532, in triplicate, will be used to report the separation of employees from the service and to make recommendations to fill such vacancies. This form will also be used in recommending mutual exchanges in positions between employees, two sets of forms to be used in such cases.

Form 1533, in triplicate, will be used in recommending transfers and reductions in salary.

Form 1533–A, in quadruplicate, will be used in recommending promotions and changes in designation of supervisory employees.

Form 1534, in duplicate, will be used in submitting recommendations for withholding the promotion of employees in the automatic grades.

Form 1535, in triplicate, will be used in reporting the separation from the service of temporary substitute employees. These forms should be forwarded to the district civil service manager for recording and transmission to the department. Form 1535, in triplicate, will also be used in reporting the separation from the service of classified or regular substitute employees. In the latter instance the forms should be forwarded direct to the department.

Form 1835, in triplicate, will be used in reporting termination of probationary period of post-office employees.

88. Assignments.—All newly appointed clerks are first to be assigned to the Division of Mails, and the assignments from the Mailing Division to what may be considered as preferred clerical positions should be based on seniority and fitness for the positions. At post offices where night work is required postmasters are instructed upon the appointment of a substitute to the position of regular clerk, to assign such clerk to a night tour until by reason of seniority he becomes eligible for a vacancy occurring on a preferred tour.

89. Names of employees.—In submitting reports on forms mentioned in preceding paragraphs, the names of employees concerned must be given thereon exactly as they appear on the eligible register. If the postmaster knows that a name as it appears on the eligible register is not correct, the matter should be taken up with the eligible and the district manager for the purpose of correcting it. The first full name and the middle initial or initials should be given.

SPECIAL CLERKS

90. Special clerks are assigned only at offices of the first class, where there are 10 or more clerical employees, including the assistant postmaster and the supervisors. Promotions to and in the grade of special clerk are made only at the beginning of a fiscal quarter. As such promotions are not automatic, but are dependent upon administrative discretion and cannot be made retroactive, postmasters should submit their recommendations about 30 days prior to the beginning of the quarter.

The act approved February 28, 1925, provides that in all special clerk promotions, the senior competent clerk shall have preference. This can not be construed to mean that the most competent clerk shall be promoted, but that consideration must be given to any senior clerk having the requisite efficiency rating. In determining the seniority, postmasters must be governed by the instructions contained in paragraph 66, page 89. Manifestly, when senior clerks are not recommended, the justification therefor must be clear, having in mind the requirements of the law that the senior competent clerk shall have preference.

The requirements for promotion for the first grade of special clerk are, a total efficiency rating of not less than 95 percent and not more than 200 net demerits acquired during the year preceding promotion (see par. 37, p. 6, of the pamphlet entitled, "Postal Service Rating System").

In selecting clerks for advancement to fill vacancies in the quota of special clerks, first consideration must be given to the clerk whose name heads the seniority list. If he does not meet the requirements as to efficiency rating, the next clerk on the list should be considered, and so on down the list until the name of a clerk is reached who does meet the requirements.

Promotion to the $2,300 special clerk grade is not to be considered as automatic after one year's satisfactory service in the first grade of special clerk. The requirements for promotion to the $2,300 grade are, at least one year's satisfactory service in the first grade of special clerk, a total efficiency rating of 95 percent or more, and not more than 200 demerits acquired during the preceding year.

All recommendations must be submitted on Form 1530, in triplicate, accompanied by a statement setting forth the efficiency rating of each employee, the number of net demerits imposed during the year, and his outstanding qualifications. There must also be submitted a list showing the names of all fifth-grade clerks senior to those recommended in the order of their seniority, the age of each, date of appointment, total efficiency rating, and the number of net demerits acquired during the preceding year. The names of the clerks recommended must appear in their proper seniority order on this list.

Special clerks are allotted with respect to the gross receipts of the office and the number of regular clerical employees, including the assistant postmaster and the supervisory officers.

At offices where the gross receipts are $10,000,000 per annum and upward, 1 special clerk in every 5 clerical employees; where the gross receipts are from $4,000,000 to $10,000,000 per annum, 1 special clerk in each 6 clerical employees; where the gross receipts are from $1,000,000 to $4,000,000 per annum, 1 special clerk in each 7 clerical employees; where the gross receipts are from $500,000 to $1,000,000 per annum, 1 special clerk in each 8 clerical employees; and where the gross receipts are below $500,000 per annum, 1 special clerk in each 10 clerical employees.

Special clerks may be appointed in addition to the regular quota and may be made without strict regard to the seniority rule to fill the following assignments:

1. Stenographer acting as secretary to the postmaster at offices having $250,000 or more gross receipts.
2. Clerk assigned as bookkeeper at first-class post offices organized in accordance with the instructions for the conduct of financial operations and outline of duties of auditor, bookkeeper and station examiner and having receipts of $400,000 but less than $1,000,000.
3. Clerk in station where the salary of the superintendent is $2,500 or more a year, without foreman or assistant superintendent, who acts during the absence of the superintendent.
4. Clerk regularly assigned to assist a foreman directly in charge of 20 or more employees and who acts in his absence. This position does not apply to cases where a clerk occasionally acts in the capacity of foreman.
5. Clerk engaged in holding case examinations and instructing employees in their duties. Applies only at offices having 150 clerks or more.
6. Wholesale stamp clerk at offices having $500,000 or more gross receipts.

7. Clerk in charge of appointments and personnel record unit without a senior employee in charge. Applies only at offices having 150 employees or more.

8. Translator in charge of exchange work in International Money Order Exchange offices.

9. Draftsman.

The position of special clerk was created as an incentive to industry, efficiency, and the acquisition of a thorough knowledge of the Postal Service and its requirements. Therefore, employees who have been advanced to special clerk must maintain the requirements of the position or be reduced to a position commensurate with their worth.

With reference to special clerks outside the quota, attention is called to the fact that assignments to preferred tours should be made in accordance with seniority and fitness. Assignments should not be made for the purpose of establishing eligibility for advancement to special clerk outside the quota.

Furthermore, special clerks outside the quota are not to be transferred or shifted to other assignments or duties without specific authority from the Department.

TRANSFERS FROM OTHER SERVICES AND REINSTATEMENTS

91. The civil service rules provide that a person separated without delinquency or misconduct from a competitive position, or from a position which he entered by transfer or promotion from a competitive position, or to accept another appointment in the executive civil service, may be reinstated upon certificate of the United States Civil Service Commission subject to the following limitations:

(a) Upon requisition for reinstatement by the appointing office having a vacancy to fill, made within 1 year of separation if the period of service was less than 2 years; within 2 years if the period of service was 2 years or more but less than 3 years; within 3 years if the period of service was 3 years or more but less than 4 years; within 4 years if the period of service was 4 years or more but less than 5 years; and without time limit if the period of service was 5 years or more; Provided, That the applicant is otherwise eligible under the conditions of the Executive Order of June 2, 1920.

(b) A former classified employee entitled to military preference in appointment may be reinstated without time limit.

(c) A former classified employee retired upon annuity under the Civil Service Retirement Act by reason of total disability who is eligible for reinstatement by reason of recovery and termination of annuity, shall be eligible for reinstatement subject to the conditions and limitations of the civil service rules.

(d) No person may be reinstated to a position in the classified service who did not have a classified status at the time of separation, or eligibility for such status through examination.

(e) No person may be reinstated to a position in the classified service without passing an appropriate noncompetitive examination testing fully his present fitness for the position when the Commission shall so require.

The Executive Order of June 2, 1920, referred to in the clause (a) provides that recommendation for the reinstatement of former employees will not be approved for the purpose of conferring upon such employees the benefits of the retirement act.

Recommendations for the reinstatement of former employees who are within 10 years of the age making them eligible for retirement must be accompanied by a full statement of the facts in each case, indicating that such reinstatement will be in the interest of the public service, in addition to satisfactory evidence as to physical fitness to perform the duties of the position to which reinstatement is recommended.

Recommendations for reinstatement must be made by letter prior to the expiration of the period of eligibility accompanied by a physician's certificate, Form 2413, stating the applicant's physical condition and whether in the judgment of the physician he is fully able to perform his official duties, a statement as to the number of members of family in the service, and a fingerprint chart, Form 2390. In every case where the applicant resigned because of ill health, the physician must state the illness that necessitated separation and whether recovery has been complete. An applicant for reinstatement claiming eligibility by reason of military service must furnish with his application a certified copy or a photostat of his honorable discharge. If the person recommended for reinstatement has been out of the service for more than 5 years, Form 375 should accompany the recommendation.

Applicants for reinstatement should be cautioned to use great care and to give their correct date of birth on the various forms in order to avoid delay and difficulty in effecting their reinstatement.

There are certain civil service requirements and formalities to be observed in cases involving transfers from other services as well as reinstatements, requiring considerable time. Recommendations for such changes should, therefore, be submitted to the Department as far as possible in advance of the date on which it is desired that they shall become effective in order that the matter may be taken up with the other bureaus concerned and with the United States Civil Service Commission. Whatever the exigencies of the service may be, an applicant for transfer to the post office service or reinstatement therein must not be employed prior to receipt of specific authorization by the Department.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE FOR EMPLOYEES IN FIRST AND SECOND CLASS OFFICES

92. Vacation.—Post-office employees are entitled to 15 days' vacation with pay, exclusive of Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays, during each fiscal year, such leave to be granted at the rate of 1¼ days for each month of service. An employee appointed to the service after the beginning of the fiscal year is entitled to vacation for the number of months remaining in the fiscal year at the rate of 1¼ days for each month of service, which may be granted at any time between date of appointment and close of that fiscal year. An employee appointed at any time between the first and sixteenth, inclusive, of the month is allowed one day and two hours' vacation. Each succeeding fiscal year thereafter, 15 days may be granted. For example, an employee appointed November 1, may be allowed 10 days' vacation at any time between that date and the following June 30. After July 1, he may be allowed his 15 days for that fiscal year at any time during the year. When the conditions of the service will permit, postmasters should arrange to give vacations at times most desired by the employees— otherwise when their services may best be spared from their official duties. Annual leave is granted in minimum units of one hour.

Vacations for supervisors accumulates from July 1, 1932, while vacations for other employees, excepting substitutes, accumulates from April 1, 1933.

The purpose of vacation is for recreation and rest, and it is in the interest of the employee and the service that he take his vacation each year. Employees under the jurisdiction of the Bureau of the First Assistant Postmaster General who are entitled to annual leave will be permitted to forego taking leave one year in order to accumulate thirty days for the purpose of taking an extended trip. The practice of permitting annual leave to accumulate from year to year without regard to time limit will not be permitted.

93. Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays occurring during vacation.—Postmasters are not authorized to require employees to return to work on Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays during their vacations and should not endeavor to assign vacations so as to exclude Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays, but should give as many of their employees as possible the full benefit of the act of Congress providing that Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays shall not be included in leave of absence with pay. The privilege of taking vacations that include holidays should be given to different employees in rotation so as to avoid any complaint of injustice.

94. Sick leave with pay.—Post-office employees shall be granted sick leave with pay at the rate of ten days a year, exclusive of Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays, to be accumulative without regard to time limit, but no sick leave with pay in excess of six months shall be granted in any one fiscal year.

An employee appointed to the service after the beginning of the fiscal year is entitled to sick leave for the number of months remaining in the fiscal year at the rate of six hours and forty minutes for each month of service, which may be granted at any time between the date of appointment and the close of the fiscal year. An employee appointed at any time between the first and sixteenth, inclusive, of the month, shall be allowed six hours and forty minutes sick leave for that month.

The Comptroller General of the United States has held that an employee who is absent from duty in a nonpay status on July 1 may not be granted sick leave with pay for that fiscal year unless he returns to duty and is placed in a pay status during that fiscal year. Sick leave shall be granted only upon satisfactory evidence of illness in accordance with section 44 of the Postal Laws and Regulations. Sick leave is granted in minimum units of 1 hour.

Under the act of February 28, 1925, as amended by the act approved May 17, 1928, as interpreted, any sick leave accruing since July 1, 1922, shall be credited to employees. The word "cumulative" means that a Postal Service employee's unused sick leave may accumulate for four years, or six years, or any number of years. As an illustration, if an employee has not had any sick leave during the years 1933, 1934, and 1935, in 1936 he would have 40 days' cumulative sick leave to his credit, and in the fiscal year 1937, 50 days.

The law provides, "Sick leave shall be granted only upon satisfactory evidence of illness." This language is very plain. It is evident that the only purpose is to provide against loss of pay where an employee is compelled to be absent from his official duties by reason of genuine illness.

As a general policy the certificate of a physician will not be required, unless, in certain specific cases, such certificate is deemed to be desirable to protect the interests of the service. If, however, the employee is attended by a physician during the period of his incapacity, the certificate of the attending physician should be furnished.

Postmasters and all supervisory officers are therefore put on definite notice that this matter must be given more than perfunctory or routine attention. Sick leave must be confined to actual sickness or disability where it would be unreasonable to ask the employee to work. Consideration should also be given to all the circumstances connected with the absence, together with the past sick leave record of the employee in determining the merits of these cases.

Sick leave is to be granted in all cases where an employee is physically incapacitated for the proper performance of his duties. Applications for sick leave should be filed by employees on form 3956 promptly on return to duty. It is unnecessary to forward to the Department applications for sick leave unless there is doubt as to whether the leave should be granted, in which case a full statement of the facts should be submitted.

Substitute and temporary employees are not entitled to sick leave with pay.

95. Leave without pay.—In accordance with the act approved July 28, 1916 (appropriation act, fiscal year 1917), the services of postal employees cannot be discontinued for absence on account of illness for a period less than one year. Postmasters may, without specific approval from the Department, upon written application from an employee accompanied by proper physician's certificate, grant leave without pay on account of personal illness of the employee concerned in one month periods for a total of not to exceed one year's continuous absence. An employee who has been absent from duty for three months or longer should not be permitted to return to duty unless he produces a physician's certificate to the effect that he is restored to health and is able to perform the duties to which he is assigned. When an employee has been continuously absent for three months or longer his return to duty for a period of less than 30 days will not be considered as breaking the period of his continuous absence. At the expiration of one year's continuous absence the employee should be dropped without prejudice and a report of his separation forwarded on Form 1532 (in triplicate). However, an employee who has been absent for one year on account of illness and has as much as five years of service to his credit should not be separated until he has been given an opportunity to retire under section 6 of the act of May 29, 1930. (See sec. 458, par. 4, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

Postmasters may also grant employees leave without pay on account of the serious illness of some member of their families and for urgent business or personal reasons, not to exceed 30 days in the case of any employee during any fiscal year. Applications for leave in excess of this amount should be referred to the department with a full statement of the facts and recommendations. Under no circumstances may an employee be allowed to start on his leave until formal approval has been received from the Department.

96. Saturdays, Sundays or holidays at beginning or end of period of leave without pay.—Post-office employees will be paid for Saturdays, Sundays, or holidays immediately preceding or immediately following a period of absence without pay whenever possible or the needs of the service permit, whether or not scheduled to work on such days. They will not, however, be paid for Saturdays, Sundays, or holidays occurring within a period of absence without pay.

97. Service in Federally Recognized Military Units.—The Department believes that the National Guard, Officers' Reserve Corps, Naval Reserve, and Marine Reserve Corps should be encouraged in every way and that it is feasible for postmasters to arrange the duties of employees so that leave of absence to perform military and naval duty may be granted without detriment to the service. In instances where a large number of employees of a post office are called out to perform military or naval duty and their absence would seriously embarrass the Postal Service it is believed that upon proper presentation by the postmaster, commanding officers will relieve from duty those postal employees whose services are imperative to carry on the work in the post office. However, all employees summoned for military or naval duty must be allowed leave with pay as prescribed by law in addition to their military or naval pay when called out under orders issued by the War Department or Navy Department. Substitutes are not entitled to military leave with pay.

National Guard (applies only in case of service in a Federalized unit).—Section 80 of the National Defense Act of June 3, 1916, reading in part as follows:

All officers and employees of the United States and of the District of Columbia who shall be members of the National Guard shall be entitled to leave of absence from their respective duties, without loss of pay, time, or efficiency rating, on all days during which they shall be engaged in field or coast-defense training ordered or authorized under the provisions of this act.

Officers Reserve.—The act making appropriation for the support of the Army for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1918, and for other purposes, approved May 12, 1917, reading in part as follows:

That all officers and employees of the United States or of the District of Columbia who shall be members of the Officers Reserve Corps shall be entitled to leave of absence from their respective duties, without loss of pay, time, or efficiency rating, on all days during which they shall be ordered to duty with troops or at field exercises, or for instructions, for periods not to exceed 15 days in any 1 calendar year.

Naval Reserve and Marine Reserve.—The Naval Reserve Act of February 28, 1925, reading in part as follows:

All officers and employees of the United States or of the District of Columbia, who are members of the Naval Reserve (also Marine Corps Reserve) shall be entitled to leave of absence from their respective duties, without loss of pay, time, or efficiency rating, on all days during which they are employed, under orders, on training duty for periods not to exceed 15 days in any one calendar year.

Form 3957–A "Certificate of Military Service," revised as of December 1938, should be furnished employees in duplicate going on military or naval duty. This form is to be filled out in duplicate after the service is performed, and signed by the commanding officer of the unit to which they are attached. It should then be submitted to the postmaster, together with a copy of the military or naval orders covering the service performed. The postmaster should sign the forms (in duplicate) and forward both copies to the Department, together with a copy of the military or naval orders. If it is found that the military or naval service was performed in accordance with the provisions of law, postmasters may pay the employee for the period of his absence upon receipt from the Department of the approved copy of Form 3957–A, such leave to be in addition to annual vacation to which postal employees are entitled each fiscal year. (See article 2, page 82, for instructions relative to expenditures incident to military leave).

EFFICIENCY AND DISCIPLINE OF POST-OFFICE EMPLOYEES IN FIRST AND SECOND CLASS OFFICES

98. Record of efficiency.—The attention of postmasters at first- and second-class and third-class city or village delivery offices is directed to the pamphlet entitled "Postal Service Rating System." Failure to observe such instructions will be noted as an irregularity against the record of the postmaster.

99. Case examinations.—Clerks, including special clerks, past 60 years of age or who have been in the service 30 years shall be exempt from case examination. However, any distributor regardless of age or length of service who permits himself to become inefficient in the performance of his duties shall be required to again qualify by passing a satisfactory scheme examination.

Clerks in the Registry Section will qualify on either the outgoing or city scheme, their assignment to govern the examination given. Nondistributing employees whose services are not required or utilized in a distributing capacity at seasonal or peak periods of the day, month, or year, shall not be required to qualify or pass examination on any scheme. However, where the services of such employees are utilized and where it is practicable to use their services in distribution work during seasonal or peak periods of the day, month, or year, they shall be required to qualify on the city primary or a part of the city-delivery scheme.

Clerks not called upon to perform any distribution except during the Christmas period should be given a simple primary scheme of distribution, such as furnished temporaries for study incident to handling the Christmas mails, in order that they may efficiently perform the distribution required of them during the Christmas period. They should be furnished with such primary scheme in November and be required to qualify thereon about December

1 of each year. These employees should be relieved of any other scheme requirements during the remainder of the year. Substitute clerks should be given credit and paid for the time devoted to taking case examinations.

100. Removals and reductions.—In the event that an employee has been guilty of a criminal act, or any act of such a serious nature as to render immediate suspension imperative, he may be suspended from duty without pay pending final action in the case. Authority for such suspensions must be requested by telegram, to be followed promptly by a letter stating the facts in detail. (See secs. 457 and 930, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

(a) When a clerk or carrier is guilty of serious misconduct or his low efficiency rating of an excessive number of demerits requires it, he may be reduced in salary one or more grades.

(b) Reductions or removals may be made only after written charges have been preferred in accordance with the requirements of section 6 of the act approved August 24, 1912 (see sec. 43, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932), which reads:

SEC. 6. That no person in the classified civil service of the United States shall be removed therefrom except for such cause as will promote the efficiency of said service and for reasons given in writing, and the person whose removal is sought shall have notice of the same and of any charges preferred against him, and be furnished with a copy thereof, and also be allowed a reasonable time for personally answering the same in writing; and affidavits in support thereof; but no examination of witnesses nor any trial or hearing shall be required except in the discretion of the officer making the removal; and copies of charges, notice of hearing, answer, reasons for removal, and of the order of removal shall be made a part of the records of the proper department or office, as shall also the reasons for reduction in rank or compensation; and copies of the same shall be furnished to the person affected upon request, and the Civil Service Commission also shall, upon request, be furnished copies of the same: Provided, however, That membership in any society, association, club, or other form of organization of postal employees not affiliated with any outside organization imposing an obligation or duty upon them to engage in any strike, or proposing to assist them in any strike, against the United States, having for its objects, among other things, improvements in the condition of labor of its members, including hours of labor and compensation therefor and leave of absence, by any person or groups of persons in said Postal Service, or the presenting by any such person or groups of persons of any grievance or grievances to the Congress or any Member thereof shall not constitute or be cause for reduction in rank or compensation or removal of such person or groups of persons from said service. The right of persons employed in the civil service of the United States, either individually or collectively, to petition Congress, or any Member thereof, or to furnish information to either House of Congress, or to any committee or Member thereof, shall not be denied or interfered with.

(c) The attention of postmasters and paying officers is called to an act of Congress, approved by the President, February 24, 1931, which provides that there shall be no withholding or confiscation of the earned pay, salary, or emolument of any civil employee of the United States removed for cause: Provided, That if at the time of such removal any such employee is indebted to the United States any salary, pay, or emolument accruing to such employee coming within the provisions of this act shall be applied in whole or in part to the satisfaction of any claim or indebtedness due to the United States.

101. Employees' Debts.—Postmasters will handle all preliminary correspondence in regard to indebtedness on the part of assistant postmasters, clerks, carriers, village delivery carriers, and laborers. When the first complaint of failure to meet obligations is received, the employee should be sent for and interviewed. If it is found that the complaint is due to misunderstanding or that the claim is justly disputed and that further complaints are not likely to be received, no further action need be taken. If it is found that the employee is in financial difficulties and not able to meet his current obligations, he should be made to understand that this condition reflects not only upon him personally, but upon all other employees of the office and on the service generally.

The employee should be required to submit a detailed signed list of all outstanding indebtedness, as well as a signed statement listing his living expenses and a statement of his earnings, any other source of income, and the earnings of any members of his family. The postmaster should then arrange with the employee what may be considered a reasonable amount to be paid each pay day. The employee should be required to sign a statement to the effect that he will pay the amount agreed upon regularly, and will not incur any avoidable debts without notifying the postmaster until the outstanding obligations have been paid. After the agreement has been made the postmaster must see that the employee keeps his promise by having him exhibit receipts each pay day. If the employee does not cooperate or fails to keep his agreement, steps should be taken toward disciplinary action, charges being preferred in accordance with section 43 of the Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932. It is to be understood that postmasters will not coerce employees into paying unjust debts. Complaints are continually being made by companies furnishing uniforms, that letters sent by them to postmasters in regard to indebtedness, are not answered and it is imperative that such complaints be given prompt attention.

102. Checks in funds.—Employees are prohibited from substituting due bills and personal checks for postal funds. Such substitutions and the conversion of postal funds to personal use constitute embezzlement, and may be considered cause not only for removal but for criminal prosecution.

103. Solicitation.—Employees shall not solicit from patrons of the service, for themselves or for any organization with which they are affiliated, in person or through others, contributions of money or anything else of value; neither shall they issue addresses, complimentary tickets, prints, publications, or any substitute therefor, intended or calculated to induce the public to make them gifts or presents; distribute, offer for sale, or collect the proceeds of the sale of tickets for theaters, concerts, balls, fairs, picnics, excursions, or places of amusements or entertainments of any kind; nor issue for profit souvenirs of postal handbooks to secure the patronage of the public, except in accordance with provisions of section 56, paragraph 2, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.

RETIREMENT

104. Retirement (See sec. 41 Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932).—Inquiries relative to retirement of classified civil-service employees in post offices should be referred to the First Assistant, Division of Post Office Service.

Inquiries relative to service credit, retirement deductions, redeposits, etc., should be referred to the Comptroller, Post Office Department, Division of Retirement Records.

INJURED EMPLOYEES

105. The United States Employees' Compensation Commission, Washington, D. C., is charged with the handling of all claims for compensation by employees injured in the line of duty under the act of September 7, 1916, and subsequent acts covering amendments thereto. Therefore all requests for information and communications of any kind relative to this matter should be addressed to that commission. It is not necessary that an employee be classified or be paid on a salary basis to be entitled to receive compensation for injury received in line of duty. Each case is determined on its merits. Therefore postmasters and their supervisors must not inform employees who are injured in the line of duty that such employees can not receive the benefits of the compensation act but must forward their claims to the commission for adjudication.

On March 20, 1920, the Comptroller of the Treasury rendered a decision in which he stated that "an employee who is injured in the performance of his duties and is paid compensation under the act of September 7, 1916, continues to be an employee of the United States." Such employee is not to be separated from the service, but is to be continued on the rolls of the office without pay until the Employees' Compensation Commission discontinues his compensation on account of injury unless the retirement age is reached while he is receiving compensation. When retirement age is reached he must be retired regardless of the fact that he is being compensated by the commission. When compensation is discontinued by the commission and the employee is not able to return to duty but has sufficient service to his credit to entitle him to retirement he should not be separated from the service until he has been given an opportunity to retire in accordance with the act of May 29, 1930.

TUBERCULAR EMPLOYEES

106. In accordance with the Executive order of February 28, 1906, persons who are tubercular to such an extent as to constitute a menace to the health of their associates and the public are not to be employed in Government offices and workshops. If any postmaster has an employee in his office who is believed to be tubercular, he is to report the matter to the department at once and arrangements will be made to have the person so affected examined by an officer of the Public Health and Marine Hospital Service to ascertain whether his condition is such that his employment is dangerous. If this is found to be true, he may be granted leave without pay to the extent of one year, as provided in paragraph 95, page 95. (See sec. 982, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, as to granting leave without pay to rural carriers.) He is not to be reassigned to duty until he can present a certificate from the Public Health Service or a public hospital that his condition is not longer active and his employment will not jeopardize the health of others.

GOVERNMENT EMPLOYEES GUILTY OF EXTORTION

107. Punishment for.—

* * * Every officer, clerk, agent, or employee of the United States, and every person representing himself to be or assuming to act as such officer, clerk, agent, or employee, who is guilty of extortion under color of his office clerkship, agency, or employment, and every person who shall attempt any act which if performed would make him guilty of such extortion, shall be punished by a fine of not more than five hundred dollars or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, except those officers or agents of the United States otherwise differently and specially provided for in the subsequent sections of this chapter. (Act of Congress approved June 28, 1906.)

COMPENSATION OF NOTARIES PUBLIC WHO ARE GOVERNMENT EMPLOYEES

108. Notarial service during office hours.—No officer, clerk, or employee in the Executive service of the Government, who is also a notary public, shall charge or receive any compensation whatever for performing any notarial act for an officer, clerk, or employee of the Government in his official capacity, or for any person when, in the case of such person, the act is performed during the hours of such notary's service to the Government. Disobedience of this order shall be ground for immediate dismissal from the service. The order does not apply to oaths of disinterestedness or other oaths required to be made by law, provided that the work in connection therewith is not performed during office hours. (See secs. 31-33 and 444, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

THIRD-CLASS OFFICES

109. Office hours.—Post offices shall be open for business week days during the hours when the principal business houses are open. Any question of deviation from this rule should be directed to the First Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Post Office Service. See paragraphs 1 and 4, section 435, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.

110. Saturday afternoon—Suspension of service.—Service should not be curtailed on Saturday afternoon, or on any other day of the week, at third-class post offices unless there is a total suspension of business in the community. In such cases, the instructions in paragraph 3, page 119, of the POSTAL GUIDE, and paragraph 1, section 435, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, should be observed, and the First Assistant Postmaster General advised before making any curtailment of service.

111. Forty-hour week law.—The Forty-Hour Week Law does not apply to third class post offices except those having city or village delivery service, and then only in so far as the carriers are concerned. See Page 83 for detailed instructions relative to application of the law.

112. Sunday and holiday service.—See paragraphs 4 and 5, section 436 and section 437, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.

113. Window service.—Window service should not be discontinued at any time during the regular daily office hours without specific authority from the First Assistant Postmaster General, except as provided in paragraph 6, section 435, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, and paragraph 3, page 119, of the POSTAL GUIDE.

114. Assistant postmasters.—It is required that an assistant postmaster of legal age be designated at every third-class office. A clerk may be so designated, or, if preferred, some other reliable person, including a member of the postmaster's family, may be named to serve without compensation. See paragraph 3, section 446, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932. These appointments need not be reported to the First Assistant Postmaster General. However, where a third-class office has a money-order credit the designation of an assistant postmaster or clerk who will perform the duties of the postmaster in his absence, shall be reported to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Money Orders, as provided in section 419, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.

115. Bonds.—The assistant postmaster must give bond to the United States in an amount not less than 25 per cent of the bond of the postmaster. Every clerk required to handle money, stamps, registered mail or other valuable matter shall give bond to the United States in an amount not less than $1,000.00. Clerks of third-class offices who do not handle such valuable matter may be required to give bond to the postmaster if he so desires. See section 473, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932. Bonds of assistant postmasters and clerks shall be approved by the postmaster and filed in the post office. They should not be referred to the Department for approval.

116. General instructions.—Other instructions relating to the operation of post offices and the handling of mails, printed elsewhere in the POSTAL GUIDE, should be carefully observed.

117. Special Delivery Service.—Special-delivery mail shall be delivered promptly upon receipt to points within a radius of 1 mile of the post office. If delivery cannot be effected, a notice on form 3955 shall be placed in the mail receptacle or pushed under the door. For more detailed information, see pages 38 to 42 of the POSTAL GUIDE and sections 1075 to 1103, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.

RURAL CARRIERS

ANNUAL LEAVE AND COMPUTATION OF PAY

1. Leave with pay.—Rural carriers shall be granted 15 days' leave of absence with pay, exclusive of Sundays and holidays, the 15 days' leave to be credited at the rate of 1¼ days for each month of actual service. Rural carriers in the service on the first day of July of any year may be granted 15 days' annual leave at any time during the fiscal year when their services can be spared. Carriers entering the service after the first day of July are entitled to leave of absence at the rate of 1¼ days for each month of actual service.

An employee separated from the service before the close of the fiscal year will not be required to refund for vacation already allowed, but an employee leaving the service during a fiscal year, other than by retirement, should be granted only the annual leave actually earned at the rate of 1¼ days for each month of service from the beginning of the fiscal year to the date of separation, 1932.

While annual leave was by law made cumulative, effective from July 1, 1932, the estimates for the maintenance of the rural delivery service are based on the assumption that carriers will take an average of 15 days' annual leave during the fiscal year and if this average were greatly exceeded in any year by reason of the taking of accumulated leave the appropriation would be insufficient for that year. Furthermore, the purpose of annual leave is to allow recreation and rest, and it is in the interest of the employee and of the service that annual leave be taken each year. However, rural carriers will be allowed, without obtaining special permission from the Department, to carry forward annual leave from one year to another, and to take all annual leave to their credit during such subsequent year, provided that the accumulated leave together with the leave which accrues for that year does not exceed a total of 30 days.

2. Leave with pay on triweekly routes.—When a regular carrier for a triweekly route is absent, the service days and the next intervening working days must be charged against his absence and the substitute allowed 2 days' pay for each day he performs complete service, except that he shall not be paid for more than 15 days for 8 days' service.

If a carrier for one triweekly route takes his full 15 days' leave in one period he will be charged with 15 days and the substitute paid accordingly.

NOTE.—In any such case, the 15 days are not to be construed as consisting only of service days, but both service days and intervening days, exclusive of Sundays and holidays.

3. The selection of substitute rural carriers.—Provision should be made for the selection and designation of a substitute carrier for each rural route, the route to which he is assigned to be definitely stated, but if found necessary or desirable one substitute may be assigned to more than one, but not to more than three routes from the same office. A substitute may serve a route other than the one to which he is assigned if the substitute for the route is not available when his services are needed. If a substitute is assigned to more than one route he may, if found necessary or desirable, be dropped as substitute for one and retained for the other of the routes and the selection and appointment of a new substitute should be made for the route thus left without a substitute. Substitutes are appointed upon selection by the regular carrier and approval of the postmaster as to character and fitness, and their names are to be submitted to the Second Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Rural Mails, so that their appointment may be ordered.

In event of a substitute's becoming unavailable by reason of a change of residence or for other cause, the facts should be reported to the department promptly with recommendation for the appointment of another suitable person as substitute. In case of the resignation of a substitute, the resignation should be submitted with recommendation of the carrier, and approval of the postmaster, for the appointment of a successor.

A suitable person not less than 18 years of age may be selected as a substitute rural carrier, but retired employees are not eligible to serve as substitute rural carriers.

4. Bonds, in the sum of $500 with acceptable sureties, shall be executed on Form 4076 by regular, auxiliary, temporary and substitute rural carriers, upon being appointed, and when executed shall be forwarded to the Department.

5. Name of regular carrier to be included in proper column in semimonthly certificate of service performed by substitute carrier.—In the preparation of certificates on Form 4253 of the service performed by substitute rural carriers, the names of the regular carriers for whom service was performed must be written in the appropriate column. In the absence of the postmaster the assistant postmaster may certify to regular, temporary, auxiliary, or substitute rural carriers' certificates, giving names and titles. Example:

John W. Smith, Postmaster,
By William L. Jones, Assistant Postmaster

SICK LEAVE

6. Sick leave with pay.—Rural carriers shall be granted sick leave with pay at the rate of 10 days a year, exclusive of Sundays and holidays, to be cumulative, without regard to time limit, but no sick leave with pay in excess of 6 months shall be granted during any 1 fiscal year. Sick leave shall be granted only upon satisfactory evidence of illness in accordance with section 44, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.

Under the act of February 28, 1925, as amended by the act approved May 17, 1928, as interpreted, any sick leave accruing since July 1, 1922, shall be credited to employees. Under the wording of the law a Postal Service employee's unused sick leave may accumulate for 4 years, or 6 years, or any number of years.

The law provides, "Sick leave shall be granted only upon satisfactory evidence of illness." This language is very plain. It is evident that the only purpose is to provide against loss of pay where an employee is compelled to be absent from his official duties by reason of genuine illness. Sick leave must be confined to actual sickness or disability where it would be unreasonable to ask the employee to work.

As a general policy the certificate of a physician will not be required, unless, in certain specific cases, such certificate is deemed to be desirable to protect the interest of the service. If, however, the employee is attended by a physician during the period of his incapacity, the certificate of the attending physician should be furnished.

Sick leave is to be granted in all cases where an employee is physically incapacitated for the proper performance of his duties, regardless of whether the disability is due to accident or illness or whether the disability is incurred in the line of duty.

7. Basis of pay for part of a month.—Regular or temporary carriers appointed to or separated from the service during a month will be paid for each day's service, including intervening Sundays and holidays, performed by them, on the basis of one twenty-eighth, one twenty-ninth, one-thirtieth, or one thirty-first of the month's compensation, according to the number of days in the particular month in which service is rendered.

DEDUCTIONS FROM REGULAR OR TEMPORARY CARRIERS' PAY

8. Failures of service.—It being the intention of the department that prompt and regular service shall be afforded rural patrons, nothing but explanations deemed reasonable are to be accepted as justifying failures to make deductions from the salaries and equipment allowance of rural carriers for trips, or portions of the required service, not actually performed. Rural carriers unable by reason of road or weather conditions to perform service fully without assistance shall employ at their own expense their substitutes or other suitable persons to assist them, to the end that complete service, or as nearly complete as may be practicable, shall be provided.

Postmasters at certifying offices shall include on their certificates to postmasters at paying offices full explanations of failures of the carriers from their respective offices to serve their routes in their entirety, whether the omission of service is of an entire trip or of entire trips, or only of portions of the routes, and only when there are sound reasons for such action shall recommendation be made for payment for service not rendered. Paying postmasters shall not make full payments to rural carriers for incomplete service unless satisfied from the reports received from the certifying postmasters that every reasonable effort was made, and suitable equipment and help provided, to serve the routes completely.

It is not to be considered that a carrier who presents himself at the post office during or following a period of bad or stormy weather, or when the roads are in bad condition, without bringing with him such equipment as he ordinarily uses, or would be suitable for such an occasion, has put forth such effort as to entitle him to pay for service not actually performed.

Upon reaching an obstructed point, a stream which is unfordable or a bridge which can not be crossed, the carrier should make such deviation from the official line of travel as to avoid the obstruction. If this is not possible he must return immediately to the post office and start out on the return portion of the route. Whenever, after leaving the post office, the carrier finds that he can not reach his route, he must travel any available roads, although they may be covered by another carrier, and make every reasonable endeavor to serve the patrons. The excuse that the roads are slippery or only difficult to travel will not be considered. Each carrier must so far as is reasonably practicable be equipped to perform complete and uninterrupted service under adverse weather or road conditions.

9. Full reports of failures to be made by certifying postmasters.—Certifying postmasters will be careful to include in their semimonthly certificates of service performed each month a complete statement of each and every failure of the carriers to serve their routes, whether the failures are complete or partial, the numbers of the routes, the dates of the failures, the miles of service omitted; the causes of the failures and of the condition of roads and weather at the time to be explicitly given.

10. Paying postmasters will compute the amount of salary and equipment maintenance earned by rural carriers.—Paying postmasters will compute the amount of salary, equipment allowance, and locked pouch allowance, if any, earned by regular, temporary, or substitute rural carriers and the amount of the deduction, if any, to be made from salary, equipment allowance, and locked pouch allowance, and will mail his check on the Treasurer of the United States in payment of the full amount due each carrier.

11. Postmasters can not be paid for service on rural routes.—The Comptroller General has ruled that a postmaster may not serve as substitute or temporary rural carrier and be paid for such service. (8 Comp. Gen. 578.)

12. Remissions.—Applications for the remission in whole or in part of an amount deducted from the salary of a rural carrier, on account either of a complete or of a partial failure of service, shall be submitted to the paying postmaster, who has full jurisdiction in the matter.

13. Leave without pay.—Leave of absence without pay for not exceeding 30 days may be granted rural carriers by postmasters without making a report thereof to the department. When a rural carrier desires leave of absence without pay in excess of 30 days, application for such extended leave should be presented to the department, with a statement of the reasons why such leave is needed or desired and the name of the temporary carrier to be employed. Certificates in favor of a temporary or a substitute carrier serving a route in place of a regular carrier shall be prepared on Form 4253 and sent to the paying postmaster.

14. Suitable equipment.—Carriers are required to furnish and maintain at their own expense all necessary vehicle equipment for the prompt handling of the mail.

Where automobiles may be used practically throughout the year it is not required that carriers shall own or regularly maintain horses, or horse-drawn equipment, for use in the service of their routes during unusual road or weather conditions, but it is necessary that they arrange to provide and to use such available means as may be requisite to cover their routes on any schedule days when for any reason the use of motor vehicles is not practicable, and that they employ, at their own expense, such substitute or auxiliary service as may be needful to effect complete delivery.

It is not contemplated ordinarily that rural carriers when in the performance of service on their routes shall be accompanied by other persons to serve as drivers or in any other capacity. When the employment of assistance is essential to the rendering of full service, it is assumed that as a rule it will not be advisable that the assistant accompany a carrier, but rather that he shall serve a different part of the route from that covered by the regular carrier and in doing so will use a separate conveyance. In emergencies, or when unusual conditions of road or weather prevail, there would be no objection on the part of the department to the person employed by the rural carrier to assist him, accompanying the regular carrier, if by such an arrangement the work of the regular carrier could be facilitated and more nearly complete service could be rendered. The name of the person who assists the carrier shall be entered on the trip report (Form 4240) in the column headed "Remarks" and opposite the proper date line. (See sec. 995 Postal Laws and Regulations, 1992.)

Payment to carriers for service not performed will not be authorized when its omission is due to a failure on their part to use equipment suited to conditions existing on their routes at the time.

15. Utilization of services of rural carriers.—Rural carriers may properly be called upon to perform service in the delivery of parcel-post packages addressed to patrons of Village Delivery or City Delivery Service, and to relay bundles of mail to be deposited in collection boxes or other suitable places for subsequent delivery, but certain conditions must be observed. Postmasters shall not hold rural carriers beyond their schedule time of departure, nor require them to deviate from the official line of travel, nor to perform any duties in the matter of delivering parcel-post packages or relaying mail for subsequent delivery by city or village carriers, that will interfere with the due performance of their duties as rural carriers.

Rural carriers shall not be required to accept relay mail in amounts in excess of the reasonable capacity of their conveyances after making provision for the loading of the mails for the rural routes, or to make any additional trips or travel. When it is found practicable for rural carriers to relay mail to city or village carriers, or to deliver parcel-post packages in villages or cities, they must not leave their conveyances out of their sight or at a greater distance than 50 yards, and must not enter buildings. (See sec. 979 Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

DEVIATIONS

16. Carriers are required to serve their routes in accordance with the official descriptions, as ordered by the department, except that in cases of emergency it is expected and required that the carriers shall make deviations and use such roads as may be available and will enable them to serve the greatest possible number of their patrons. When the deviation involves but slight additional travel and is likely to be of short duration, it is not necessary that any report shall be made to the department. On the other hand, if the change from the established route is of considerable extent, or likely to be necessary for a period of about two months, immediate report should be made to the department, with a statement as to the portion of the route involved, the additional travel required (the latter being accurately given), the time the change became effective, and the probable date of the resumption of the official route.

When it is essential that carriers make detours and they are thereby required to travel materially greater distances, a compensation allowance may be made by the department, from a date not earlier than the 1st of the month in which accurate information concerning the matter is received.

17. Roads.—Postmasters are expected to take up with road officials and patrons interested all cases brought to their attention by the carriers where repairs or more extended improvement of roads included in rural delivery routes are needed. In event of their failure to secure cooperation, and the roads becoming practically impassable, report of the facts should be made to the department, with recommendation for suitable readjustment of the routes with a view of withdrawing service from the neglected roads. Carriers should bring to the attention of their postmasters all instances where work on the roads is needed in the interest of regular and efficient service. (See sec. 994, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

18. Trip reports of rural carrier.—Correct entries must be made each day on Form 4240 by all rural carriers in the service. False entries on a trip report will be considered sufficient cause for removal of the carrier.

Form 4240 clearly shows the data which rural carriers are required to keep on their trip reports. (See sec. 1000 Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

Rural carriers are required to count all mail delivered and collected on their routes during the first 15 days in the month of May in each year. On all triweekly routes the number of pieces of mail delivered and collected shall be counted each schedule day. Appropriate entries shall be made on Form 4240 and a record retained in the files of the post office. (See sec. 1035 Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

During the periods that the count of mail is made, record is also to be made of the number of applications for money orders received, the value of stamps on mail collected by the carriers and the value of postage stamps and other stamped paper sold by the carriers.

On routes served six times a week count of mail need not be made, except during the first 15 days of May, but on tri-weekly routes the count of mail must be made each schedule day throughout the year.

19. When temporary carriers are absent for brief periods.—Whenever it becomes necessary for a temporary carrier to be absent for a few days, and for a substitute to be employed in his stead such substitute shall be paid by such temporary carrier for each day's service on the basis of one twenty-eighth, one twenty-ninth, one-thirtieth, or one thirty-first of the month's compensation allowed the temporary carrier, according to the number of days in the particular month in which the absence occurs.

CERTIFICATES

20. Certificates to be prepared and mailed promptly.—Certificates shall be made to the postmasters at the paying offices 3 working days in advance of the 15th and the last day of each month, based on the service performed to that time, and that which will very probably be rendered by the carriers on the remaining 3 days. The names of the persons who actually performed the service during the periods covered shall be clearly shown on the certificates, which shall be signed by the carriers as well as by the postmasters. Form 4252 shall be used for regular rural carriers when there has been no partial or complete failure of service and no absence of a carrier to be reported. Form 4251 shall be used for any regular carrier who on any day during the pay period has failed to perform complete service or who has been absent at any time during the pay period. Form 4253 shall at all times be used for substitute, temporary, and auxiliary rural carriers.

Certificates in favor of substitute carriers serving in place of regular carriers on annual or sick leave, or absent on leave without pay, whether one or more days, must be submitted promptly by certifying postmasters to the paying postmasters.

Requisition on his designated supply office for Forms 4251, 4252, and 4253 on which to make semimonthly certificates of service performed should be made by a postmaster for a sufficient number for use during 3 months.

21. Retirement.—See section 41, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.

Retention.—See paragraph 20, section 41, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.

Reemployment.—See paragraph 2 (c), section 41, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.

MAIL BOXES FOR USE ON RURAL ROUTES

26. The Postmaster General has approved for use on rural routes two types of mail boxes. The box of the No. 1 size is 18½ inches long, 6¼ inches wide, and 7½ inches high. The box of the No. 2 size is 23 3/16 inches long, 11 inches wide, and 13⅜ inches high. It is required that new patrons of the rural delivery service and those patrons of existing routes who find it necessary to replace their mail boxes shall provide mail boxes of one of the two approved types, which are constructed by authorized manufacturers in accordance with specifications prepared by the Department. (See sec. 1058, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

27. Concerns authorized to manufacture and sell mail boxes for use on rural routes.—The following list shows the manufacturers of mail boxes whose samples have been approved and the respective shipping points.

Sears, Roebuck & Co., Chicago, Ill	Any mail-order branch of company.
Superior Sheet Metal Works Co., 3201 Roosevelt Avenue, Indianapolis, Ind	Indianapolis, Ind.
The Deshler Mail Box Co., Deshler, Ohio	Deshler, Ohio.

28. Inspection of boxes.—The boxes produced by the authorized manufacturers will be inspected from time to time by representatives of the department, and no boxes will be accepted that do not conform with the specifications as to material, mode of construction, workmanship, and finish.

29. No special designs of posts or supports.—The department has not adopted or approved any special designs of posts or supports. The use of effigies as supports, or of supports intended to represent figures or mechanical objects is prohibited. The posts or other supports on which rural mail boxes are erected shall be of neat design, may be of wood, metal, or concrete, of suitable strength and dimensions; may be either round or square plain or ornamental, with or without fixed or movable arm; and shall be painted white. (Sec. 1061 Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

30. Agents to promote sales.—Authorized manufaeturers are not prohibited from employing agents throughout the country to promote the sale of their boxes. But, regardless of any contracts or arrangements between manufacturers and agents, patrons may purchase boxes direct from manufacturers, patrons paying cost of transportation.

PUBLIC ROADS AND POSTAL SERVICE THEREON

31. In cases where local authorities discontinue or permit the fencing up of a road in use as a post route so as to prevent performance of Postal Service, the discontinuance of such service is the department's only alternative, and for any increase of distance or additional expense caused by the action of the local authorities in discontinuing or changing a road in use as a post route no additional pay can be allowed the contractor or subcontractor for service on the route. Mail carriers have no authority to trespass upon private property, and the postal laws give them no special rights or privileges as to the use of public roads. The law prohibits any willful interference with the performance of Postal Service, but such prohibition does not authorize mail carriers to disregard State law or municipal ordinances in relation to the use of public roads, nor authorize them willfully to interfere with the rightful use of public roads by other parties. There is no provision of law exempting mail carriers from the payment of toll or ferriage, and toll-gate keepers and ferrymen can rightfully refuse passage or ferriage to a mail carrier who refuses to pay the legal rate of toll or ferriage, but upon the tender of the lawful fee therefor a mail carrier must be promptly granted passage or ferriage, and a refusal thereof in order to enforce payment of an indebtedness previously incurred, or for any other reason (except it be that ferriage be impossible or dangerous to life), would constitute a willful obstruction of the mail, as prohibited by law.

STAR-ROUTE SERVICE

32. Schedules.—Service on star routes must be performed on all schedule days regardless of holidays, except that where a star route is dependent upon a rural route for its mail supply service need not be performed on holidays when the rural carrier is not required to perform service; with the further exception of those star routes the contracts for which specifically provide that service need not be performed on holidays unless otherwise ordered by the department. The contractor agrees in his contract that deduction shall be made from his pay for all required service not performed.

Postmasters should advise the chief clerk, Railway Mail Service, of their district whenever a change of schedule on a star route is necessary or advisable, in order that proper action may be taken to have mails received and dispatched in such manner as will render the most expeditious service to the patrons dependent upon the route for their mail supply, but changes of schedule entirely in the interests of the contractor should not be recommended.

The regulations require that monthly trip reports (Form 5400) of service on star routes shall be forwarded by the first mail after the close of each month direct to the Post Office Department by the postmasters at all scheduled points. Trip reports should not be enclosed in envelopes. Attention is called to sections 1854, 1855, and 1856, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.

Contractors and carriers on star routes are not prohibited from transporting, outside of the mail, packages of merchandise, etc., even though such packages may be mailable, but if such packages are presented as mail with stamps affixed, they must then be transported as mail matter, and the contractor or carrier can not make any charge therefor.

33. Interference with mail boxes on star routes to be reported.—Cases of depredations on or interference with mail boxes or the contents thereof on star routes shall be promptly reported by the postmaster to the post-office inspector in charge of the division where such depredations occur.

COLLECTION AND DELIVERY OF MAIL ON STAR ROUTES

34. On star routes where box delivery is required, persons may have such service from the post office to which their mail is addressed (which shall be one or both of the two post offices on the route on either side of and next to the box), but postmasters must not send mail matter for box delivery by carriers upon a verbal request; a written request for such delivery must be filed in the post office and mail must not be given a carrier under any circumstances, for delivery outside of the regular lock pouch, before it has reached the post office to which it is addressed. No mail matter so delivered to a carrier shall be carried past another post office before being deposited into a mail box, but when a carrier travels a different road on the return trip from that used on the outward trip, a postmaster may place in the pouch mail addressed to patrons of his office who reside along the road traveled by the carrier on the return trip, such mail to be taken from the pouch by another postmaster, who shall hand it to the carrier for delivery.

Any person living on or near a star route—where the contract calls for box delivery and collection service—and not within the corporate limits of any town, nor within 80 rods of any post office, who desires his mail deposited at a given point on the line of the route by the carrier, must provide and erect a suitable box which will properly protect the mail or provide a sack or satchel with suitable post or crane so erected that the carrier may deliver and collect mail without dismounting from his vehicle.

Persons residing on roads traveled by both rural delivery and star-route carriers may qualify as patrons of either or both routes.

GENERAL SUPPLIES

1. Manner and time of ordering.—Postmasters and other requisitioning officers must carefully read and follow instructions concerning the ordering of general supplies published in the List of Postal Supplies and the List of Motor Vehicle Items.

Postmasters at offices of the first and second classes will submit requisitions in duplicate every three months for sufficient postal supplies (using Forms 1580 and 1580-F) and motor vehicle supplies (using Forms 4500 and 4500-F) to last that length of time, during the months indicated below:

JANUARY, APRIL, JULY, AND OCTOBER

Alabama.	California.	District of Columbia	Idaho.	Kansas.
Alaska.	Colorado.	Florida.	Illinois.	Kentucky.
Arizona.	Connecticut.	Georgia.	Indiana	Louisiana.
Arkansas.	Delaware.	Hawaii, Territory of.	Iowa.

Railway Mail Service.—First, Second, Third, Fourth, and Fifth Divisions.
Post Office Inspectors in charge.—Atlanta, Boston, Chattanooga, Chicago, and Cincinnati Divisions.

Railway Mail Service.—Eleventh, Twelfth, Thirteenth, Fourteenth, and Fifteenth Divisions.
Post Office Inspectors in charge.—St. Louis, St. Paul, San Francisco, Seattle, and Washington Divisions.

Postmasters at offices of the third and fourth classes will order general stock supplies from their designated supply office in accordance with instructions issued by the department, and during the period designated by the supply office (third-class post offices using Forms 1580B and 1580BF and fourth-class post offices using Form 1580A), with the exception of offices of the third and fourth classes in the States listed below, which offices will submit requisitions once each year to the Fourth Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Building Operations and Supplies, Equipment and Supplies Branch, during the months indicated, for sufficient supplies to meet their anticipated needs for a period of one year.

Maryland	July.
Virginia	August.
West Virginia	October.

2. Record to be kept.—Postmasters at offices of the first and second classes must keep a complete record on Form 1586 of all supplies furnished, set aside suitable place for keeping the stock, and assign an employee to be charged with custody thereof and maintenance of prescribed record.

3. Complete requisitions before submitting to department.—It is important that each requisition be properly filled in to include particulars and information called for on the requisition form, and that postmarking stamp be clearly impressed in the space provided. Postmasters must not, when submitting requisitions on regular forms, supplement them with letters requesting supplies which should have been included in the requisition proper

OFFICIAL AND REGISTRY ENVELOPES

4. Time for submitting requisitions.—Postmasters at offices of the first and second classes should order official and registry envelopes on Form 1579, in duplicate (at least three months in advance of their actual need), from the Fourth Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Building Operations and Supplies, Equipment and Supplies Branch. Postmasters at offices of the third class (using Form 1579, in duplicate) and fourth class (using Form 1580-A) will order official and registry envelopes from their supply office in accordance with instructions issued by the department and during the period designated by the supply office. Further instructions will be found in the List of Postal Supplies.

Designated Supply Offices for Postal Supplies, Including Official and Registry Envelopes

Postmasters at all offices of the third and fourth classes within the States enumerated below will be careful to see that their requisitions for ordinary postal supplies, including official envelopes, are prepared on the proper blanks and forwarded to their designated supply office. The use of letterheads, reference slips, and miscellaneous small pieces of paper should be avoided. The information called for under the several headings appearing on the requisition forms should invariably be given, thus materially assisting the supply offices in the review thereof and expediting the assembly and shipment of the supplies ordered.

REPAIRS TO OFFICE APPLIANCES

5. Allowance to be based on competitive bids.—Requests for allowances for the repair of time recorders, trucks, baskets, etc., except numbering machines, must be accompanied with competitive proposals on Standard Form 33 from not less than three individuals or firms doing repair work. When time recorders are to be repaired their serial numbers must be given.

6. Repairs to typewriters and adding machines.—Repairs to typewriters should be made under competitive bids (using Standard Form 33).

When a typewriter or adding machine is in need of repairs, the postmaster shall secure bids and transmit them to the bureau of the Fourth Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Building Operations and Supplies, Equipment and Supplies Branch, for approval before the contract is made, except in cases of extreme emergency which will definitely result in expensive delays to office procedure, in which case the bids may be accepted and the work performed. In such cases the bids must be submitted, for an authorization, with a statement describing the emergency in detail. Exchanging of platens or cylinders for typewriters will not be considered "emergency repairs." When typewriters or adding machines are to be repaired their serial numbers must be given.

The Department is now in a position to furnish platens for use on Underwood, Royal, and L. C. Smith typewriters and requests therefor should be made upon the Equipment and Supplies Branch. Bids for the repair of adding machines and typewriters should not include the furnishing of RIBBONS, as they are furnished by the Department.

Should the local service station of an adding-machine company present to an office a repaired Government-owned machine, properly crated, for return to the office from which received, the postmaster is authorized to accept and forward it by registered mail to destination under penalty label. The same course should be pursued transmitting relief machines furnished for use pending the repair of Government-owned machines; also empty shipping boxes which may be presented by the local service station for shipment to any post office.

Postal employees must clean and oil adding machines and typewriters operated by them and place new ribbons thereon without expense to the department.

Adding machines and typewriters should be covered when not in use. Drop-center typewriter desks are not considered as sufficient covering for typewriters. Request should be made on the bureau of the Fourth Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Building Operations and Supplies, Equipment and Supplies Branch, for covers when needed.

When necessary to send typewriters and adding machines to another city for repairs, shipment must be made by registered mail in the care of the postmaster. Machines must be returned in the same manner.

7. Repairs to numbering machines.—Expenditures for the local repair of numbering machines must not be made, except upon previous instructions from the department. When a machine becomes unfit for further use, it should be forwarded by mail to the Fourth Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Building Operations and Supplies, Equipment and Supplies Branch, with a letter of transmittal explaining the reason for its return. Care should be exercised to the end that numbering machines are kept clean and are not subjected to rough or careless usage. Machines can be cleaned by the use of gasoline.

8. Authority for purchases in open market, or obligations for repairing office equipment.—Authority must be obtained from the Fourth Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Building Operations and Supplies, Equipment and Supplies Branch, before making purchases of miscellaneous supplies in the open market, or assuming obligations for repairing office equipment, except in cases of extreme emergency, or when delay will seriously interfere with the proper conduct of the Postal Service. In such cases, bids must be obtained on Standard Form 33, and the contract may be let to the lowest bidder meeting specifications. The bids must then be submitted to the Fourth Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Building Operations and Supplies, Equipment and Supplies Branch, with a letter outlining the emergency in detail, and authority obtained for payment before vouchers for expenditures made are included with quarterly accounts; otherwise credit will be disallowed.

9. Canceling machines.—Local repairs to canceling machines must not be made except in case of extreme emergency where delay would result in expensive delay in dispatching mails, in which case bids must be secured on Standard Form 33. The bids must be submitted to the Fourth Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Building Operations and Supplies, Equipment and Supplies Branch, with request for an allowance. Such request must include a statement describing the emergency in detail. Postmasters are expected to keep an adequate supply of spare parts on hand for replacements. All parts should be requested on Form 4635, giving part number description as shown in the instruction book furnished with each machine. All correspondence in regard to canceling machines should be addressed to the Fourth Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Building Operations and Supplies, Equipment and Supplies Branch. Worn or damaged parts removed from canceling machines must be returned to the Fourth Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Building Operations and Supplies, Manufacturing and Repairs Branch.

10. Repairs to electric motors.—Motors for canceling machines are carried in stock for immediate shipment and local repairs should not be made. Spare motors are furnished to post offices of the first class and each office of this class should keep a spare motor on hand for use in emergency, or in larger offices a sufficient supply of spare motors to care for replacements. Spare motors are not furnished to post offices of the second class, as machines used in such offices can be operated by hand, and must be so operated if the motor breaks down. Authorizations for emergency repairs to canceling machine motors will not be granted unless previous authority is obtained. Requests for new motors or for authorizations for repairs to canceling machines should be made to the Fourth Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Building Operations and Supplies, Equipment and Supplies Branch. In case of extreme emergency request may be made by telegraph.

Before having repairs made to motors operating mechanical equipment other than canceling machines postmasters should secure authority from the Fourth Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Building Operations and Supplies, Equipment and Supplies Branch, except in cases of extreme emergency or when delay will seriously interfere with the proper conduct of the Postal Service, in which case repairs may be made without previous authorization.

11. Switches for canceling machines.—Switches for canceling machines are carried in stock and the postmaster is expected to keep an adequate supply on hand, and to make replacements without cost to the department. Expenditures for the local purchase of switches or repairs to same will not be considered as emergency expenditures. Requests for switches should be made on form 4635. If the wiring is in such condition as to need repairs, the matter should be reported to the Fourth Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Building Operations and Supplies, Equipment and Supplies Branch, for instructions.

12. Oil for canceling machines and automatic scales.—Postmasters at offices where Government-owned motor vehicle service is in operation will secure from their garages sufficient light (S. A. E. 20) motor vehicle lubricating oil to provide for their needs in connection with canceling machines and automatic scales, provided this grade of oil is secured for the operation of the motor vehicle service.

It is essential that light machine oil (S. A. E. 20) be used in canceling machines, and if this grade of oil is not provided for the motor vehicle service, postmasters at offices with Government-owned motor vehicle service should secure the proper oil from the supply points listed below.

Postmasters at offices where canceling machines and automatic scales are in use and where there is no motor vehicle service will forward requisition and containers to the office indicated below, at all of which offices a stock of light (S. A. E. 20) oil is maintained. Postmasters at these offices will furnish the oil requisitioned.

Only light grade (S. A. E. 20) oil should be used in canceling machines, and if heavier oil is furnished upon requisition, or if the oil does not appear to be new and clean, the postmaster receiving same should communicate with the Fourth Assistant Postmaster General, Equipment and Supplies Branch.

Containers are supplied in 1-quart (for scales only), ½-gallon (for hand-power canceling machines), 1-gallon, and 5-gallon sizes for electric canceling machines. Please be governed accordingly. Containers must be preserved and returned with the request for a new supply of oil.

13. Defects in equipment.—Postmasters are instructed to notify the Fourth Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Building Operations and Supplies, Equipment and Supplies Branch, in all cases where breakages occur or weak parts develop in new equipment installed in their offices, in order that the matter may be taken up with the contractor. No repairs should be undertaken by postmasters without instructions from the department.

REQUEST FOR SCALE EQUIPMENT

14. Scale equipment.—All requests for scales should be made by letter, stating the necessity for additional equipment of this character.

Request for new scales to replace defective equipment should be accompanied with a statement of explanation, giving item number, capacity and make of defective scale for which replacement is desired.

Instructions covering disposition of old, inaccurate, and damaged scales will be furnished upon request to the Fourth Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Building Operations and Supplies, Equipment and Supplies Branch.

Scales are not furnished for use of rural carriers. Parcels offered rural carriers for dispatch should be handled in accordance with section 1018, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.

REQUEST FOR PARCEL POST ZONE KEY

Any postmaster not having a zone key of the unit in which his post office is located will immediately request same from the Fourth Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Building Operations and Supplies, Equipment and Supplies Branch, giving the unit number of his post office. This request should be made by letter.

SUPPLIES FOR DUPLICATING MACHINES, TYPEWRITERS, ETC.

15. Requisitions to show make, etc., of machine.—When ordering supplies for adding, canceling, duplicating, and typewriting machines, postmasters and other requisitioning officers must state the make, serial and model number of the machine for which supplies are desired.

POSTMARKING EQUIPMENT

16. All postmarking equipment must be ordered on Forms 1567 and 1567–I direct from the Fourth Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Building Operations and Supplies, Equipment and Supplies Branch. (See List of Postal Supplies.)

Numbered and contract stations are supplied with a uniform rubber dating stamp, which must be used for all purposes, including money order, registry, and parcel-post business.

Newly established offices, stations, etc., will be furnished with necessary postmarking equipment without requisition being made therefor.

17. Excess rubber stock stamps.—Those in serviceable condition should be sent to the Fourth Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Building Operations and Supplies, Equipment and Supplies Branch, by ordinary mail for reissue.

Unserviceable composition stamps (Item 681) should be returned to the Fourth Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Building Operations and Supplies, Manufacturing and Repairs Branch, Fifth and W Streets NE., Washington, D. C.

FACING SLIPS

18. Manner of ordering printed slips.—The Fourth Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Building Operations and Supplies, Equipment and Supplies Branch, will honor requisitions for printed facing slips when made for sufficient quantities and titles to meet demands for a period of SIX MONTHS, by offices of the first and second classes on Form 1581, and by railway postal clerks (through their chief clerks or division superintendents) on Form 5364. Requests should be made for not less than 1,000 slips of any one title, and when more than 1,000 are desired, order in multiples of 1,000. Requisitions should be submitted 60 days in advance of the time supply on hand will become exhausted. Shipments will be made direct from the plant of the printer. Postmasters should address inquiries to the Fourth Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Building Operations and Supplies, Equipment and Supplies Branch. Do not correspond with the printer.

Slips for use at offices of the third and fourth classes and for railway postal clerks may be obtained, at the expense of the purchaser, at the rate of 13 cents for 500 in lots of 500 to a form, or 22 cents per 1,000, in lots of 1,000 or more to a form, from the Business Supply Co., Coatsburg, Ill., to whom all correspondence should be addressed. Do not order less than 500 slips of any one form. Cost of slips and transportation charges must be paid in advance by requisitioning officials.

19. Printed slips for publishers.—Where separations of mail matter are made by the publishers at their offices, postmasters should furnish to such publishers, without expense, the necessary printed facing slips. These slips are printed on blue, manila or pink paper only and should be ordered by the postmaster on requisition Form 1581.

20. Plain slips.—Plain facing slips are furnished to all post offices, as well as division superintendents of the Railway Mail Service, on requisition therefor.

PRINTED STRIP LABELS

21. Strip labels.—The department furnishes printed strip labels to post offices of the first and second classes, and officials of the Railway Mail Service, to be used for labeling mail pouches and sacks. They will be printed with five titles on a strip so that they may be cut or torn off for use as needed. Each label will then be $3\frac{3}{16}$ by $\frac{15}{16}$ inch in size, and will therefore fit into the label holder of a sack or pouch without folding.

Postmasters should make requisition on the Fourth Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Building Operations and Supplies, Equipment and Supplies Branch, for these labels on Form 1578 and should be governed by the instructions printed on the reverse side of that form. Railway Mail Service officials should make requisition for them on Form 5051 to the General Superintendent, Railway Mail Service. Not less than 300 labels of any one title should be ordered.

All postmasters at offices of the first and second classes will include their requests for labels for shipping empty mail bags and pouches to depository, other offices, or repair shop in their regular strip label requisitions on Form 1578 referred to in the preceding paragraph. Post offices of the third and fourth classes will obtain their supply of these labels from their supply office at the same time that they requisition other stock supplies.

REQUISITIONS FOR MONEY-ORDER FORMS

22. Time to submit requisitions for money-order forms.—Requisitions for blank money-order forms should be submitted on card Form 6053 to the Fourth Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Building Operations and Supplies, Equipment and Supplies Branch, at least 60 days in advance of the time the supply on hand will become exhausted. This is important.

RURAL CARRIERS' DESKS

23. Postmasters must not permit surplus rural carriers' desks to remain on hand not in use. When, by reason of the revision of the service or from any other cause, such furniture is withdrawn from active service, prompt report should be submitted to the Fourth Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Building Operations and Supplies, Equipment and Supplies Branch, showing—

1. How many desks are on hand not in use,
2. The number of pigeonholes in each desk,
3. Whether the desks are in suitable condition for transfer for use elsewhere, and
4. Whether the furniture is the property of the lessor or the Post Office Department.

MAINTENANCE OF CARRIERS' SATCHELS

24. When rural, village, or city carriers' satchels, shoulder straps or tie straps become worn, ripped, or otherwise in need of repair, they should be forwarded by mail to the Fourth Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Building Operations and Supplies, Manufacturing and Repairs Branch. If replacement of any of the defective equipment is desired, a request for same should be addressed to the Fourth Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Building Operations and Supplies, Equipment and Supplies Branch, stating the quantity and item numbers desired as shown in the List of Postal Supplies.

The accumulation of old satchels and straps in quantities is to be avoided, and as fast as they accumulate they should be forwarded in accordance with the above instructions.

Extra satchels should not be retained for use during the holiday period only. The Department will loan offices needing extra satchels during that period upon request 45 days in advance of the time required.

STREET LETTER-BOX EQUIPMENT

25. Maintenance of street letter-box equipment.—In connection with the maintenance of street letter-box equipment, postmasters at offices where city or village delivery service is in operation are cautioned that no expense must be incurred prior to specific authorization by the department, except in cases of emergency where a receptacle at an important location is demolished by accident which necessitates replacement without delay. It is necessary to obtain competitive bids for the painting, erection, removal, relocation, or repair of letter boxes and posts, other than at offices where the mechanical force of the office performs such work, such proposals to be transmitted to the Fourth Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Building Operations and Supplies, Equipment and Supplies Branch, before having the work done.

26. Letter boxes.—The willful injury or destruction of any letter box or other receptacle authorized by the Postmaster General for the receipt or delivery of mail matter, or the willful theft, destruction, or defacement of any matter contained in such box or receptacle, is a penal offense, for which the offender is liable to a fine of not more than $1,000, or imprisonment for not more than three years.

27. Damage to street letter-box equipment.—In all cases of damage to letter-box equipment, due to accident or otherwise, postmasters should report promptly to the Fourth Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Building Operations and Supplies, Equipment and Supplies Branch, and make collections from the persons responsible, according to the following rates. Collection should also be made to cover any expense incurred in the replacement and erection of serviceable equipment in place of that which has been damaged.

Old style No. 1 letter boxes, equipped for padlocks	each	$6.00
Old style No. 2 letter boxes, equipped for padlocks	do	7.00
New style No. 1 letter boxes, with inside locks	do	4.00
New style No. 2 letter boxes, with inside locks	do	6.00
Long steel letter-box posts	do	2.80
Concrete posts	do	2.00
Pedestal post and anchors	do	8.80
Pedestal posts without anchors	do	6.30
Package boxes	do	13.52
Combination letter and package boxes	do	13.95
Storage boxes No. 1, 49½ by 20 by 21½ inches	do	14.00
Storage boxes No. 2, 54 by 25 by 27 inches	do	19.00
Large collection boxes	do	18.60

All amounts must be accounted for to the Comptroller in the first quarterly statement submitted, showing such collections. However, if damaged equipment can be repaired for less than the cost of new equipment, only the actual cost for repairs should be charged to the person responsible.

Postmasters are directed to have periodical inspection of street letter-box equipment made, and when it is in need of painting or repairs, the matter should be taken up with the Fourth Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Building Operations and Supplies, Equipment and Supplies Branch.

28. Locks and keys for street letter-box equipment.—All locks and keys for use with street letter-box equipment are supplied by the Fourth Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Building Operations and Supplies, Manufacturing and Repairs Branch. When bill of lading showing shipment of boxes is received, the postmaster should make application for the necessary locks and keys, stating the number of each required, and whether inside locks (arrow) or padlocks should be furnished.

MAIL BAGS AND MAIL-POUCH LOCKS

29. Disposition of surplus serviceable mail bags.—All surplus mail bags which are serviceable shall be promptly disposed of in accordance with the provisions of section 1874, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.

30. Disposition of surplus serviceable mail-pouch locks.—All surplus mail-pouch locks which are serviceable shall be promptly disposed of in accordance with the provisions of section 1885, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.

31. Disposition of defective mail bags.—All defective mail bags shall be promptly disposed of in accordance with the provisions of section 1873, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.

32. Disposition of defective mail-pouch locks.—All defective mail-pouch locks shall be promptly disposed of in accordance with the provisions of section 1884, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.

33. Care in examining, packing, and labeling serviceable and defective mail bags.—In preparing serviceable and defective mail bags for shipment, railway postal clerks, postmasters, and others shall carefully examine each mail bag to see that no mail matter is left therein. Mail bags, whether serviceable or defective, shall be carefully separated and packed according to style and size and in full bundles in all cases where it is practicable to do so.

34. Defective and serviceable mail bags must not be packed in the same bundle.—All bundles of both defective and serviceable mail bags shall be labeled in accordance with the provisions of sections 1873 and 1874, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932. Labels to be obtained from the Fourth Assistant Postmaster General.

35. Proper packing for serviceable and defective mail bags.

No. 1 sacks, 20 to the bundle, the twentieth used as a packer.
No. 2 sacks, 20 to the bundle, the twentieth used as a packer.
No. 3 or 4 sacks, 15 to the bundle, the fifteenth used as a packer.
No. 2 pouches, 20 to the bundle, packed in a No. 1 sack.
No. 3 pouches, 20 to the bundle, packed in a No. 1 sack.
Air-mail pouch (converted from No. 3 sacks and pouches), 25 to the bundle, packed in a No. 1 sack.
Catcher pouches, 15 to the bundle, packed in a No. 1 sack.
Lock container pouches, 20 to the bundle, packed in a No. 1 sack.

NOTE.—All rotary, brass locks, and all ordinary pouch locks should be shipped by ordinary mail. When shipped in quantities, rotary locks should be packed 100 in a lock container pouch and ordinary locks should be packed 400 in a lock container pouch.

36. Mail sacks issued to publishers, news agents, and others by postmasters.—Mail sacks shall be issued to publishers, news agents, and others by postmasters in accordance with the provisions of section 1866 Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932. The publisher, news agent, or other party to whom sacks are loaned should be required to bind himself, in the usual manner, to pay into the post office the sum of $1.05 for each No. 1 sack, 80 cents for each No. 2 sack, 36 cents for each No. 3 and No. 4 sack lost while in his custody.

37. Records of sacks loaned.—A supply of Forms 026-3970 and 3971 will be furnished to postmasters, upon application to the Fourth Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Building Operations and Supplies, for the purpose of keeping a record of sacks loaned. Receipts should be taken in triplicate for money received by postmasters for the loss of mail sacks the original of which is to be delivered to the payer, the duplicate to be retained by the postmaster, and the triplicate to be forwarded to the Fourth Assistant Postmaster General for proper action. The amount is to be deposited with other Government funds and a suitable entry made in the postmaster's quarterly account to cover the transaction.

TRANSPORTATION AND DRAYAGE OF POSTAL SUPPLIES AND EQUIPMENT INCLUDING FURNITURE AND OPERATING SUPPLIES, EXCEPT FUEL, FOR FEDERAL BUILDINGS UNDER THE JURISDICTION OF THE POST OFFICE DEPARTMENT

ORDER NO. 5442. MAY 17, 1934.

In order to compiy with the requirements of General Accounting Office General Regulations No. 69, Order No. 8445, which appears on page 91 of the July, 1933, issue of the Official Postal Guide, is hereby amended to read as follows:

The following instructions will be observed by employees of the department, postmasters, and all postal employees in the handling of transportation and drayage of postal supplies and equipment of all kinds, including furniture and operating supplies, except fuel, for Federal buildings under the jurisdiction of the Post Office Department. Postmasters, postal employees, and postal contractors failing to comply with these instructions will be held personally responsible and shall pay the cost involved on account of excess charges for transportation, demurrage, and storage. Existing conflicting instructions are hereby revoked.

SHIPMENTS BY MAIL

1. Shipments of postal supplies and equipment, including furniture and operating supplies, except fuel, for Federal buildings under the jurisdiction of the Post Office Department, shall be made, whenever possible, by mail.

2. The weight of parcels shipped by mail (except in special cases where special instructions are issued) shall not exceed the maximum parcel-post weight limit.

3. The number of parcels shipped by mail from a given office on a given date shall not be limited, unless the exigencies of the service demand such limitations.

4. Penalty labels or tags shall be securely attached to all parcels shipped by mail. A separate label in addition to the regular pouch label shall be placed inside of every pouch in the shipment.

5. Valuable shipments shall be registered.

SHIPMENTS BY FREIGHT, EXPRESS, STEAMBOAT, AND MOTOR TRANSPORTATION LINES

6. Shipments of postal supplies and equipment, including furniture and operating supplies, except fuel, for Federal buildings under the jurisdiction of the Post Office Department, by freight, express, steamboat, and motor transportation lines shall be handled identically the same as commercial shipments, with the exception that Post Office Department bills of lading shall be used, and no payment of transportation charges will be made at the time of shipment or at the time of delivery, as is the practice in the case of shipments under commercial bills of lading. A Post Office Department bill of lading will be accepted by the delivering carrier in lieu of cash for transportation charges.

7. Employees of the department and Postal Service located in Washington who are furnished with blank bills of lading by the traffic manager, which are not overprinted for issuing officers, are hereby designated to act as issuing officers.

8. Postmasters and employees of the Postal Service who are not located in Washington and are furnished blank bills of lading by the traffic manager are hereby designated to act as issuing officers and as such will be personally responsible for furnishing the information required by the bill of lading. A record should be kept of the bills of lading used, date, to whom sent, and, if to a contractor, the requisition or order number. A monthly report must be submitted to the traffic manager, Division of Traffic, Post Office Department, Washington, D. C., as to the bills of lading used.

9. The Consolidated Freight Classification, a copy of which may be seen in any freight office, must be consulted in making all shipments under Post Office Department bills of lading to the end that the shipment may be so described and packed as to secure the lowest possible rate.

10. Every article included in a shipment, particularly a carload shipment, must be noted on the bill of lading, and only one bill of lading shall be used for a carload shipment. A bill of lading must be used for each carload shipment.

Post Office Department Bills of Lading

11. All shipments of postal supplies and equipment, including furniture and operating supplies, except fuel, for Federal buildings under the jurisdiction of the Post Office Department, other than mail shipments, shall be made under Post Office Department bills of lading, serial D Forms 1058, 1058a, and 1059 (approved by the Comptroller General in General Regulations No. 69).

12. A permanent record showing the number of each bill of lading issued and all of the information called for in paragraph 14 will be kept by postmasters.

13. A supply of Post Office Department bills of lading serially numbered, in pad form, is furnished all post offices making distribution and shipment of postal supplies and equipment. A set consists of one original and three copies made by using carbon paper as follows:

(a) "Original" (Form 1058) to be mailed immediately at the time of shipment to the consignee.

(b) "Shipping order" (Form 1059) to be delivered to the agent of the initial carrier.

(c) "Memorandum" (Form 1058a) to be forwarded to the traffic manager, Division of Traffic, Post Office Department, Washington, D. C., as soon as practicable after the shipment has been made.

(d) "Memorandum" (Form 1058a) to be retained in the files of consignor or shipper.

14. Every Post Office Department bill of lading shall contain the information suggested by the following:

Less-than-carload shipments.—Consignor; name of transportation company; point of origin and destination; consignee; route on "via" line when it is furnished; marks, number of packages, how packed, contents by its commercial name regardless of the name by which it is known in the service. The date of shipment is below the body and should be filled in when it is signed by the agent.

Carload shipments (in addition to the above).—Routing, which must be secured from the Division of Traffic; complete information in spaces provided for car record; seal record when Post Office Department seals are used; in case the consignment is automobiles, the blocking when it is done by carrier or shipper. The spaces provided for record for carload shipments must not be used for less than carload shipments.

15. Issuing officers must give on the face of the bill of lading such information as is required, except the "Certificate of issuing officer" will not be used unless a purchase is involved.

16. Erasures, interlineations, or alterations in Post Office Department bills of lading must be authenticated and explained by the employee making same and must show on all copies.

17. The original and memorandum copies of each Post Office Department bill of lading used for making a ship ment must be dated and signed by the agent of the transportation company accepting the shipment. The shipper must sign and date the shipping order.

18. One bill of lading will be used for each and every carload shipment. Less-than-carload shipments for any office or consignee must be consolidated so as to make but one shipment per day to that office or consignee.

19. Form 1062, extra or continue sheets will be furnished by the Division of Traffic, Post Office Department, upon request. In the absence of this form blank sheets of paper may be used which must be of the same size as the bill of lading and securely attached to the parts thereof. Extra sheets should show the number of the bill of lading to which they are attached.

20. Bills of lading improperly issued or spoiled will be mailed to the traffic manager, Division of Traffic, Post Office Department, Washington, D. C., after all copies have been marked "Void."

21. Upon receipt of the "Original" bill of lading, Form 1058, by the consignee, it must be carefully preserved until the shipment arrives, when it should be duly accomplished in the space provided therefor, after which it will be delivered to the agent of the transportation company. It is of the utmost importance that any loss or damage apparent upon receipt of the shipment shall be noted in the proper space on the reverse side of the bill of lading.

22. Upon the arrival of a shipment prior to the receipt of the "Original" bill of lading, the shipment may be secured from the agent of the transportation company by the use of a temporary receipt, Form 1060. See paragraphs 38, 39, and 40 as to the use of Form 1060.

23. The loss by the transportation company of an "Original" accomplished bill of lading will be immediately reported to the traffic manager, Division of Traffic, Post Office Department, Washington, D. C., with all details and such correspondence as may relate thereto with a request for a certificate in lieu of a lost bill of lading. Certificates in lieu of lost bills of lading will be issued by the traffic manager of the department upon request.

24. Duplicate bills of lading will not be issued.

25. Employees of the Postal Service who are authorized to make a purchase in case of an emergency by use of the telegraph or telephone which may result in a shipment being made under a commercial bill of lading must preserve the commercial bill of lading until the consignment arrives, and if the charges are payable by the department, a Post Office Department bill of lading should be substituted, accomplished and with the commercial bill of lading securely attached thereto surrendered to the agent of the carrier. The memorandum copy of the bill of lading used should be forwarded to the traffic manager, Division of Traffic, Post Office Department, Washington, D. C. This paragraph is only for emergency cases to avoid any delay in the handling of the mails.

Carload Shipments

26. Routing must be secured, prior to making a carload shipment, from the traffic manager, Division of Traffic, Post Office Department, Washington, D. C., which must be entered on the bill of lading on the line beginning "Via", quoting the routing number.

27. Advantage must be taken (especially carload shipments under Post Office Department bills of lading) of land-grant railroads and lines equalizing rates therewith. Postmasters and others concerned will familiarize themselves with this feature, obtaining from the traffic manager, Division of Traffic, Post Office Department, Washington, D. C., any information desired, particularly routing instructions on carload shipments.

28. The consignor, prior to the loading of a freight car, will carefully examine the interior of same for nails, screws, and other projections likely to damage the proposed shipment; removing said projections or refusing to make shipment in the car if, in his opinion, the contents would be materially damaged.

29. The seal record of cars containing carload shipments shall be preserved. A record shall also be kept showing the condition upon arrival of locks used on cars in connection with carload shipments. In case of loss or damage note the seal or lock record on the bill of lading before it is surrendered to the carrier.

Packing

30. Packing must conform in all respects to the requirements of the "Consolidated freight classification."

31. Competitive bids for packing will be secured and an award made to the lowest bidder, but the award must be approved by the department prior to service, except in an emergency.

32. The cost of packing may be stated on dray ticket, Form 713, and when the drayage is performed by the same party that does the packing, both drayage and packing may be on the same ticket but stated separately. In securing and stating this service, be sure to observe the instructions on the reverse of Form 1526-P, or reissues thereof.

Drayage

33. All drayage of outgoing or incoming postal equipment, material and supplies, including furniture and operating supplies, except fuel for Federal buildings under the jurisdiction of the Post Office Department, will be by Government-owned motor trucks where Government motor vehicles are available for performing this service without interfering with the handling of the mail; otherwise all local draying will be secured by competitive bids, as required by instructions on the reverse of Form 1526-P and Postmaster General's Orders No. 4263, September 21, 1933, and No. 5144, March 16, 1934, such bids to be submitted to the Post Office Department, Division of Traffic, for approval. Bids for drayage of fuel for Federal buildings should be forwarded to Maintenance Branch, Division of Building Operations and Supplies. At offices where commercial draymen are employed bids must be secured annually, not later than June of each year for the following fiscal year, submitting the same for approval. Postmasters may pay drayage from the postal funds without formal authority from the department, using dray ticket Form 713, or reissue thereof, which should be attached to Form 1526-P.

34. Other employees of the Postal Service may secure a statement of the drayage service performed on Form 713 or reissue thereof, which should show the local address of the drayman and that payment has not been received. The dray ticket should be endorsed by the receiving officer showing service, attached to standard voucher Form No. 1034, which must show all the information required thereon, and forwarded to the traffic manager, Division of Traffic, Post Office Department, Washington, D. C. Payment for this service will be made by warrant by the department after the bill has been audited by the General Accounting Officer.

35. Freight and express charges must not be included with drayage.

36. Employees of the Postal Service must maintain a permanent record of all bills of lading handled, drayage, and packing performed for their respective offices.

Demurrage and Storage

37. Shipments must be removed from the cars or warehouses of the transportation company immediately upon arrival. In case the bill of lading covering the shipment has not been received use temporary receipt Form 1060. (See par. No. 38.) The consignee in all cases will be held personally responsible for all demurrage or storage permitted to accrue on shipments moving under Post Office Department bills of lading.

38. Temporary receipt Form 1060 must be used by postmasters and postal employees to secure shipments that arrive prior to receipt of the original copy of the bill of lading, in order to prevent the accumulation of demurrage or storage charges. A few copies of this form should be kept on hand at all times.

39. Transportation charges can not be paid on the temporary receipt Form 1060. When this form is issued immediate steps must be taken to secure the original copy of the bill of lading, and in case it is not received within a few days a request should be made on the traffic manager for a certificate in lieu of lost bill of lading.

40. The original bill of lading when received following the delivery to the agent of the transportation company of the certificate in lieu of the lost bill of lading, must be accomplished and returned to the traffic manager, Division of Traffic, Post Office Department, Washington, D. C. The traffic manager will follow every case of a temporary receipt for final settlement.

Loss or Damage to Shipments

41. In case a shipment is not delivered within 60 days after the date of the bill of lading, advise the traffic manager, Division of Traffic, Post Office Department, Washington, D. C. Loss or damage to shipments will be called to the attention of the agent for the transportation company. Concealed loss or damage becoming apparent only after shipments have left the possession of the transportation company must be called to the attention of the agent of the company as soon as discovered and an opportunity to investigate afforded.

42. Indorsement must be made in all cases on the reverse side of the Post Office Department bill of lading, in the space provided, showing any loss or damage to the shipment, and a detailed statement made to the traffic manager, Division of Traffic, Post Office Department, Washington, D. C.

43. A report will be made promptly to the traffic manager, Division of Traffic, Post Office Department, Washington, D. C., of any repairs necessary on account of damage to shipment while in transit, but no repairs requiring an expenditure will be made without authority from the administrative bureau of the department, except in case of an emergency, when necessary repairs may be made and a full report submitted to the department for an authorization.

Transportation Charges

44. No transportation charges will be paid by postmasters or postal employees from their postal funds or from their personal funds on equipment and supplies, whether large or small shipments, received or forwarded under Post Office Department bills of lading. Payment for all such shipments will be made by the Post Office Department upon presentation by the transportation company of the "Original" Post Office Department bill of lading properly accomplished, showing receipt of consignment with the required voucher properly prepared.

45. Likewise, no transportation charges will be paid on shipments received under commercial bill of lading with charges collect. Postal contractors, on orders placed by the department for shipments to postmasters, f. o. b. factory or other point of distribution, are invariably furnished the necessary Post Office Department bills of lading; occasionally, however, shipments are made by contractors under commercial bills of lading, in which case no charges will be paid, but the shipment will be secured from the transportation company by substitution of Post Office Department bill of lading, as directed in paragraph 25.

46. Orders placed by postmasters as a result of purchases authorized by the department from sources of supply involving transportation by freight, express, steamboat, or motor transportation line shall when the charges are payable by the department be accompanied by Post Office Department bills of lading sufficient to cover transportation.

47. This, however, is not to be construed as prohibiting the placing of orders by telephone or telegraph by postmasters for emergency purchase involving immediate shipment by freight, express, steamboat, or motor transportation line, and where it is impossible for a Post Office Department bill of lading to reach the source of supply in time for shipment. Shipment in this case will be made under commercial bill of lading, and upon receipt, Post Office Department bill of lading will be substituted as directed in paragraph 25, otherwise, should there be no blank Post Office Department bills of lading on file in the post office, transportation charges will be paid by postmasters from the postal funds. Receipted bill for transportation charges will be forwarded immediately to the traffic manager, Division of Traffic, Post Office Department, Washington, D. C., with full explanation of the emergency, when Post Office Department bill of lading will be furnished to be used in lieu of the commercial bill of lading as directed in paragraph 25.

48. Correspondence relating to freight, express, or motor transportation of equipment, material, and supplies, except fuel, including bids for drayage and crating, must be addressed to the traffic manager, division of Traffic, Post Office Department, Washington, D. C.

49. Routing orders and other shipping instructions as may be issued and transmitted by the traffic manager of the department must be carefully observed.

Drayage by Government-Owned Vehicles

50. In rendering reports for the draying of equipment and supplies by Government-owned vehicles, postmasters must show date of service, number of the bill of lading, weight of the consignment, and the estimated cost of the service rendered.

51. Postmasters located at offices not on a railroad or served by a boat or steamship line, or when the name of the post office is different from the name of the railroad station, should in every case advise the department as to the name of the railroad station, dock, or landing in corresponding relative to shipments to be made by freight or express.

Post Offices at Prepay or Nonagency Stations

52. Shipments for the Postal Service when consigned by freight to post offices at prepay or nonagency stations will be made under a Post Office Department bill of lading with all transportation charges waybilled as collect and instructions to unload at such station. A lookout must be kept for shipments, and they should be promptly removed upon arrival.

53. The bill of lading should be accomplished and surrendered to the agent upon request. In case a request is not made for the bill of lading, accomplish and return it to the traffic manager, Division of Traffic, Post Office Department, Washington, D. C.

54. If a request is made by an agent after the bill of lading has been forwarded to the traffic manager, forward all papers in connection therewith to the traffic manager, with a request that the bill of lading be supplied.

1. Drayage—Settlement of charges.—The attention of postmasters is directed to the provisions of paragraphs 33 to 36, inclusive, of Postmaster General's Order No. 5442, appearing above.

The authority granted for payment of drayage charges, without formal authorization, applies only to Post Office Department shipments. Such shipments are covered by Post Office Department bills of lading bearing the prefix letter D, or they are purchased on Post Office Department orders drawn on an f. o. b. destination basis.

In no other instance should postmasters pay drayage charges without formal authorization.

Reference to the Post Office Department purchase order, by letter prefix and number, should be shown on Dray Ticket Form 713, in lieu of the bill of lading reference, where the shipment is purchased f. o. b. destination.

Observance of these instructions will prevent suspensions in postmasters' accounts because of the payment of drayage charges which should have been paid by the vendor or are properly chargeable to some other department of the Government.

2. Free pick-up and delivery service on less-than-carload freight; allowances in lieu thereof.—There has recently been made effective at a number of agency freight stations, a free "Pick-up and delivery service" on less-than-carload freight.

Postmasters, or officials and employees assigned by the postmaster to receive or send less-than-carload shipments of freight, should consult their local freight agent and request that such shipments, moving on Post Office Department bills of lading, be accorded this free service wherever it is available and desired.

In lieu of free "Pick-up or delivery service" an allowance of 5 cents per 100 pounds will be made where the drayage is performed by Post Office Department motor vehicles.

Drayage service, in lieu of "Free service", should be performed by Post Office Department motor vehicles only in those instances where the cost will be less than 5 cents per 100 pounds.

All Post Office Department bills of lading must show whether "Pick-up service" or "Delivery service" was or was not performed by the Government as distinguished from service performed by the railroad company. This is not being done in the case of most shipments and unnecessary delay in the settlement of carriers' vouchers for freight charges and additional correspondence result.

There are clauses included in the bills of lading, at the lower left corner, pertaining to "Pick-up service" and at the lower right corner, in the "Consignee's certificate of delivery", pertaining to "Delivery service." These clauses must be executed so as to show the type of service accorded the shipment.

The Department prefers that allowances granted by carriers in lieu of performing "Pick-up service" or "Delivery service" be shown as a credit on the voucher rendered the Department for the freight charges. This information should be given to the agents of the various carriers that make allowances directly to the consignor or consignee. However, any allowances granted by the carriers directly to the consignor or consignee should be forwarded to the Division of Traffic, Post Office Department, Washington, D. C., for collection and deposit, with complete reference, including bill of lading number, to the shipment covered by such allowance.

PUBLICATIONS FOR SALE

Official Postal Guide is published in two volumes.

Part I (published biennially in July) contains postal information of interest to the public and instructions to postal employees concerning domestic mail matter and the international money-order business; lists of post offices arranged by States, alphabetically, and by counties; also a list classified as to salaries of postmasters, and a list of post offices discontinued during the previous 3 years.

Part II (published annually in July) contains postal information of interest to the public and instructions to postal employees concerning the International Postal Service.

Supplements (published monthly for 23 months beginning with the August number following each biennial edition) contain miscellaneous instructions and orders regarding the Postal Service, and changes in the service published for the purpose of keeping Parts I and II corrected up to date. The Supplements contain the amendments to the Postal Laws and Regulations issued during the period covered by each Supplement. The amendments are also published annually in sets.

Subscription prices:

Part I, cloth bound (1939 edition)	$1.25
Part II, paper bound (1939 edition)	.35
Monthly supplements (23 numbers, August 1939 to June 1941, incl.)	1.75

Postal Laws and Regulations, contains the acts of Congress and regulations of the Department for the government of the Post Office Department and the Postal Service. Price, $1.50 a copy. Those interested in securing the annual sets of amendments thereto should send their names and addresses to the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, who will advise them as the sets are published and also the price thereof.

Postal Bulletin, issued daily except Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays, contains current orders, instructions, and information relating to the Postal Service. Price, $2 a year.

OFFICIAL POSTAL MAPS

Map Orders.—An order for postal maps must be accompanied by a money order and addressed to the "Disbursing Clerk, Post Office Department, Washington, D. C." Postage stamps cannot be accepted in payment for maps.

Post Route Maps.—Maps of the States, territories, and island possessions listed below, prepared primarily for use of the postal service, are available to the public at the prices indicated. The maps listed at 60 cents each are single-sheet maps; those priced $1.20 are 2-sheet maps. New editions of each map are published at intervals of 16 to 18 months.

Each of these maps shows all post offices within the state, territory, or possession, indicates how each office is supplied with mail, and gives the intermediate distances on mail routes. County boundaries are accurately delineated and each county is named. The principal drainage features are shown but contours are omitted. These maps show no highways and only the railroads that carry mail.

Note.—Rural delivery routes are not indicated on these post route maps but are shown in detail on county or local maps, described on the following page.

Rural delivery maps.—Maps of every rural delivery route in the United States and Hawaii are available. Copies, however, are made only as ordered. Note: Post offices having rural delivery service are shown in the County List in this GUIDE by the letter R following the name of the office.

County maps.—Road maps, showing all the rural delivery service in each county, are available for more than 1,555 counties throughout the United States. A list giving the names of the counties, by States, for which county maps have been prepared may be obtained without cost by making application to the Disbursing Clerk, Post Office Department.

Each county map shows all post offices within the county and all roads, houses, schools, and churches known at the time the map was originally drawn and also the principal drainage features. The roads used by rural carriers are plainly indicated and when changes are made in the routes traveled, the original maps are corrected to show the new service.

Either of two types of copies of county maps can be supplied. Blue-line prints (blue lines on white background) are made from negatives on file and these prints are furnished unless up-to-date maps are requested. When up-to-date maps are requested, blueprints (white lines on blue background) are made from the corrected original drawings.

The standard price of rural delivery county maps, either blue-line prints or blueprints, is 50 cents per copy.

Local maps.—All rural delivery routes emanating from post offices not located in the counties for which county maps have been prepared are shown on local maps. A separate map is available for each of these post offices.

Local maps are available only as blueprints made from the original drawings that are kept up to date.

The standard price of local maps is 25 cents per copy.

NOTE.—Both county and local maps are not available for the same area.

Map scales.—Both county and local maps—with a few exceptions—are drawn to the scale of either 1:62,500 or 1:63,360 (1 inch equals 1 mile).

Map orders.—Payment for postal maps must be made in advance by money order addressed to the Disbursing Clerk, Post Office Department, Washington, D. C. Note: Postage stamps are not accepted in payment for maps.

AIR MAIL SERVICE

1. Transcontinental air mail service operates between Boston and Seattle, New York and San Francisco, New York and Los Angeles, Miami, Florida, and Charleston, S. C., via Atlanta to Los Angeles. These services operate on such frequency and flying time as to result in substantial saving in time. Connecting service completes an air mail system which greatly expedites delivery to practically all post offices.

2. Postage rates—Domestic.—See article 11, page 8, of this Guide.

3. Foreign.—See Part II.

4. Registered, insured and c. o. d.—Registered, insured and c. o. d. mail will be accepted for dispatch by airplane service. See pages 169 and 190 of this Guide.

5. Special delivery.—The use of a special-delivery stamp in addition to air mail postage will provide prompt delivery at office of address and is recommended to expedite delivery in cases where arrival is scheduled for Saturday, Sunday, holiday, or week days after last delivery by mail carrier. A combined special-delivery-air-mail stamp is also available.

6. All mail intended for dispatch by airplane should preferably be deposited in a post office or station thereof, or in such special letter boxes as are provided for the posting of airplane mail.

7. Any mailable matter except that liable to damage from freezing will be carried by airplane, including parcels, not exceeding 70 pounds in weight and not exceeding 100 inches in length and girth combined, with postage at the regular air mail rate. The prohibition against matter liable to freeze does not include cut flowers, queen bees, or those harmless live animals enumerated in paragraph 3, section 594, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, as amended June 17, 1935.

8. Only mail bearing postage at the air mail rates will be dispatched over air mail routes. If postage is deficient, one full rate provides dispatch to destination; deficiency to be collected on delivery. If less than one full rate be paid, postmasters at offices of mailing should inform sender, if return address be given or if sender is otherwise known, so as little delay in dispatch as possible will result. Although it is prescribed that all matter to be sent by air mail, regardless of the kind of envelope or wrapper used, shall be endorsed "Via Air Mail," in some instances letters, etc., prepaid at the air mail rate and intended for such dispatch, are not so endorsed. Notwithstanding this fact, such matter, if noted, should receive air mail treatment.

9. All post offices, railway post offices, and terminal railway post offices shall make separate packages of air mail whenever there are five or more pieces of such mail for dispatch, and where less than five pieces are involved shall close them out on top of the No. 1 or working package for connecting lines or offices. Separate packages of air mail shall be plainly and distinctly labeled so such matter may be readily noticed and given proper handling and dispatch.

10. All postal employees who dispatch mails shall keep informed as to air mail routes established, the schedules on such routes, and the schedules of connections to and from such routes, so the mail may be given the most expeditious dispatch at all times.

11. Postmasters at offices located on air mail routes will make up and dispatch air mail in accordance with special instructions given them and the general instructions contained herein.

12. Postmasters at post offices on air mail routes will arrange, on instructions from the department, for the transportation of mails between post office and flying field and will designate the point on the field where mail will be received from and delivered to contractor or his representative.

13. Postmasters at all post offices will keep on display in the lobby a current map of the air mail services of the United States.

MISCELLANEOUS RULES OF SERVICE

1. Mails arriving after business hours.—Postmasters of offices of the third and fourth classes are not required by the regulations to assort and deliver on the same evening mail that arrives after the close of local business hours; but there is nothing to prohibit their doing so, in case the public convenience requires such service. Special-delivery mail, however, shall be handled according to section 1087, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.

2. Delayed mail.—It is desired to lay the greatest stress on the importance of eliminating all delays in dispatch and delivery by the closest attention on the part of postmasters and other supervisors with a view to assuring steady and continuous flow of mail in and out of the post office. Authorizations for additional help necessary to accomplish this will be forthcoming upon request and proof of the need therefor. There is no excuse for delayed mails except in an emergency, and an emergency is construed to be something unforeseen which is so sudden and of such proportions as to be impossible of handling without additional help.

TRANS-PACIFIC ROUTE

LATIN AMERICA

If it is actually impossible to prevent delayed mails, then all first and second class postmasters are requested to report to the First Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Post Office Service, as of 4 o'clock in the afternoon of each and every day when such delays occur:

(a) The approximate number of pieces of first-class mail and daily newspapers not delivered on the first carrier delivery after receipt. All such mail received after the last carrier delivery on Saturday and in time for delivery on the first carrier delivery on Monday is delayed unless delivered on the first trip.

(b) The approximate number of other newspapers which have remained in the office as long as 12 hours, as well as any other second-class mail which has been delayed to the same extent, each to be reported separately in the same letter.

(c) Third-class mail matter which has remained in the office as long as 12 hours, as well as fourth-class mail delayed the same length of time, is each to be reported separately in the same letter.

It should not be stated in these reports simply that the different classes of mail have been delayed, but the amount of mail of each class, and the extent of the delay should be stated, the reasons therefor given in detail, the approximate time when delivery will be effected, and the remedy applied to correct the condition and prevent a recurrence should be outlined, so that the department will know exactly what the situation is and be able to issue any instructions necessary. If these instructions are not perfectly understood, the department will gladly make further explanations upon request; no qualifications are to be made without authority from the department.

This matter will be pursued aggressively by the department, and postmasters are requested to give personal attention to the subject to see that it is intelligently supervised and that accurate and complete information is submitted in each instance.

3. Suspension of business in certain cases—Local and State holidays.—Whenever there is a total suspension of business in a State, city, or town, or whenever there is a substantial suspension of business so that the requirements and demands upon the Postal Service on the part of the patrons are very materially reduced, a postmaster may curtail and reduce the service of the office to an extent reasonably commensurate with such suspension of general business; provided always that the Postal Service at all places shall be adequate to meet the reasonable requirements of the public on such days. The post office should not be closed. The release of employees from work resulting from such curtailment of the Postal Service on such days should be distributed as equitably as practicable among them, because compensatiory time may not be granted to those who of necessity cannot be released from duty in such cases. (See instructions contained in par. 70, p. 42, and par. 32, p. 103, of this edition of the Postal Guide.)

This order is not intended as adopting or sanctioning the observance of State holidays, as such, because the department has no legal power to do that; but is intended rather to allow postmasters discretionary authority to reduce postal service to the extent of the public requirements on such days, and other days when general business is suspended.

Postmasters should at all times carefully exercise their discretion as to the day on which the permission given in this order may reasonably apply, always considering the service needs of each particular office.

A record should be kept of the extent of the curtailment of the service on all such days to the end that the department and the public may have such information available.

A close observance of this order will eliminate much unnecessary correspondence and expense on the part of postmasters and department.

In all cases where a postmaster is in doubt as to the extent to which service may be curtailed, he should bring the matter to the attention of the department and request full information and instructions as to the observance of this order.

Additional expense must not be incurred to grant time off to employees on State and local holidays. Employees scheduled for compensatory time on a State and local holiday will have that compensatory time charged to them on those days, even though other employees may be excused without a charge to compensatory time.

The provisions of the above order can not, however, be applied on account of the death of a postmaster or any postal employee. Post offices may not be closed in such cases to permit the attendance of fellow postal employees at the funeral of one of their members. Such number of employees may, however, be excused to attend these funerals as can be conveniently spared without impairment of service.

4. Armistice Day.—In arranging for service on Armistice Day, which is designated as a holiday, insofar as service conditions will permit postmasters shall not require war veterans to perform service on that day.

5. Local daylight saving laws.—Inasmuch as it is impracticable for the department to issue uniform and positive instructions on account of the varying conditions in different sections of the country, this matter will be left to the discretion of the postmasters, as they have full knowledge of local conditions.

Schedules of employees must be arranged and maintained so as to insure the most expeditious dispatch and delivery of the mails, and, when necessary to attain this end, the schedules for distributing clerks, carriers, and collectors should be based on mail train schedules.

Postmasters will be held responsible for the prompt handling of the mails, and any changes of schedule deemed expedient to conform to the provisions of local or State laws regarding daylight saving may be inaugurated, provided such changes comply with the law governing hours of service of post office employees and will not cause delay to mails or impair the service.

6. Information concerning mail matter.—(See sec. 702, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, as amended.) Postmasters and others in the Postal Service shall not give to unauthorized persons information concerning mail matter. They shall furnish such information to post-office inspectors and may furnish it also to the sender, the addressee, or the authorized representative of either, when satisfactory identification has been established and the request is limited to information proper for the applicant to receive. Postmasters may give to officers of the law, upon proper identification, to aid in the apprehension of fugitives from justice, information regarding the addresses, return cards, or postmarks on mail matter, but shall not withhold such mail from the addressees or delay its delivery. If the information so given to such officers relates to a violation of the postal laws, the postmaster shall report his action immediately to the inspector in charge of the division in which his office is located.

(See sec. 489, prohibiting the disclosure of names of boxholders; sec. 1404, of information concerning money orders; sec. 1625, of information relative to postal-savings accounts; and sec. 2061, of information regarding mail passing through hands of railway postal clerks; and sec. 1002, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, prohibiting rural carriers from furnishing information.)

(See sec. 703, which prohibits access to mail matter in post offices by any persons except employees of the Postal Service; also sec. 2303, which requires information concerning postal law violations to be reported to the inspector in charge.)

7. Postmasters or postal employees summoned as witness.—(See sec. 702, par. 9, and sec. 29, par. 5, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.) A postmaster or other postal employee summoned as a witness shall obey the summons and go into court, but shall refuse to testify in regard to mail matter, money orders, or postal savings accounts, at the same time calling attention to the sections of the Postal Laws and Regulations above referred to. He shall then testify if so directed by the court.

8. Furnishing of copies of papers in files of department, post-office records or copies thereof, and copies of official bonds.—Copies of papers in the files of the department, or records in post offices, or copies thereof will not be furnished on the application of individuals, except in the discretion of the department in cases where a suit has been commenced and is pending involving the substance of the paper, document, or record itself, and then only upon the proper subpœna duces tecum issued by a court of record. But in no case shall copies be furnished of the official bonds of officers connected with the service, except under suits relating to said bonds or the execution thereof, or criminal prosecutions thereunder. (See sec. 702, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

9. Furnishing information to representatives of other departments or governments.—Section 489 and paragraph 1 of section 702, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, are not intended to prevent the furnishing of information for official use by a representative of another executive department or by a foreign government's recognized representative in the United States, and postmasters may, when it is practicable, furnish addresses or information concerning ordinary mail matter upon the official request of such a representative and presentation of proper credentials, provided the labor involved is not such as to interfere with postal business. In any instance where a postmaster is in doubt as to the expediency of complying with such a request he should write to the First Assistant for instructions, except in cases involving registered, insured, or C. O. D. mail, when the question should be submitted to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Registered Mails.

10. Addresses for telegrams.—Postmasters will comply as far as practicable with requests for street addresses to enable the messengers of telegraph companies to deliver messages, provided such requests are not made in instances where the address sought is obtainable from street or telephone directories or other public sources of information. The company's indorsement upon the envelope "All available directories searched" or similar indorsement will justify the postmaster in undertaking to supply the address unless he has reason to believe this privilege is being abused, in which case he should report the facts to the department for submission to the telegraph company concerned.

11. Letters of inquiry or request.—(See sec. 702, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.) Postmasters shall acknowledge the receipt of letters of inquiry or request addressed to them in their official capacity, using the penalty envelope when postage is not furnished, and if the information requested is such as it would be improper or impracticable to give, the reason for declining to do so shall be stated. (See sec. 1218, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, relative to furnishing receipts showing to whom, when, and where registered matter is delivered.)

12. Telephoned inquiries.—In answering telephoned inquiries concerning mail matter postmasters should be careful not to give information to any person whose voice is not recognized as that of some one authorized to receive such information.

13. Information regarding number of rural routes and rural boxes served and number of post-office boxes in use at non-city-delivery offices.—(See sec. 702, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.) Postmasters shall furnish, upon request, information as to the number of rural routes at their offices and the number of boxes served by each carrier; and, at offices not having city carrier service, the number of post-office boxes in use at their offices, after satisfying themselves that such information is not to be used for any improper or unlawful purpose. (See sec. 585, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

14. Lists of names of patrons and addresses of former patrons.—(See sec. 702, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.) Postmasters and others in the Postal Service shall not furnish lists of names of patrons receiving mail at their offices, and except as provided in paragraph 3 of the above section and in accordance with the provisions of sec. 1218, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, shall not give information as to the post-office addresses of former patrons. There is no objection if a postmaster desires to furnish directional information. He is not permitted under the regulations to furnish the location or address of any patron, as the matter of address is the personal business of the patron, and is furnished to the post office for the purpose of delivering his mail. (Form 08 may be used in acknowledging inquiries as to the post-office addresses of former patrons.)

15. Official indorsements or testimonials.—No postmaster or other postal officer or employee in his official capacity shall, without special authority from the Postmaster General, give any indorsement to a private enterprise or business institution, and no postmaster shall give official indorsements of patrons of his office, or testimonials, or guaranties as to their honesty, reliability, etc.

16. Mailing lists.—(See sec. 702, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.) (a) Mailing lists described in paragraphs (b), (c), and (d) shall be corrected but not compiled. The object of correcting mailing lists is to lessen the time involved in handling misdirected business and circular mail. The department does not discriminate between long and short mailing lists.

(b) Mailing lists used officially by Members of Congress and Federal departments and bureaus shall be corrected free of charge. Federal departments and bureaus sending lists to postmasters for correction should be requested to submit them on cards of approximately the dimensions of the United States postal card, one name to a card. Where rural routes have been consolidated or changed to another post office, mailing lists submitted by an individual or concern shall be corrected without charge if the list contains only names of persons residing on the route or routes involved. Separate lists must be submitted for each route.

(c) Mailing lists submitted by State departments, municipalities, religious, fraternal, and recognized charitable organizations, and mailing lists used by the concerns submitting them for correction for the solicitation of business in connection with sales work, shall be corrected as frequently as requested at the expense of the owners including return postage.

(d) Postmasters are given considerable latitude in order to prevent abuses of mailing-list correction service. In all cases of doubt as to the genuineness of a list from an unknown out-of-town firm or individual, or doubt as to the purpose for which it is used, communication should be had with the postmaster of the firm's or individual's home town or city to determine their standing and responsibility, as well as the purpose for which the list is to be used.

(e) See sections 1218, 1322, and 1386, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, concerning registered and insured matter.

(f) Except as provided in subparagraph (b), a minimum charge of 25 cents, payable in advance by cash or money order, shall be made at all first and second class post offices and at third class offices having city or village delivery service for the correction of any mailing list bearing less than 25 names, and for any list of 25 names or more a charge of 1 cent for each name submitted (likewise payable in advance) shall be made, plus the postage for the return of such list. Postmasters at third and fourth class post offices not having city or village delivery service shall make no charge for the correction of mailing lists consisting of less than 25 names. A charge of 1 cent a name may be made for the correction of lists containing 25 names or more. Furthermore, all lists submitted, whether for correction of address or elimination of duplicates, are to be considered mailing lists. At first and second class offices the amount received for mailing-list corrections shall be accounted for in the quarterly reports to the Comptroller under the heading "Miscellaneous receipts." At third and fourth class post offices, postmasters shall make no accounting of the money but the proceeds should be paid to the employee performing the work.

(g) Corrections shall consist of crossing off the names of persons to whom mail cannot be delivered or forwarded, the correction of incorrect street names, the correction of incorrect local street, rural, or post-office box numbers, the correction of initials where apparently there has been a bona fide intention to write a name known to the owner of the list, and the indication of the head of the family, if known, when two or more names are shown for the same address. These lists are to be submitted by mail only and are not to be accepted by postmasters in any other manner except in cases of local firms having large mailing lists for correction. When a list of names is submitted in card form, and two or more names are shown for the same address, the card showing the name of the head of the family shall be endorsed "Head." If more than one family resides at the same address, the head of each family shall be shown by endorsing the cards involved. "Head 1", and "Head 2", and the cards containing the names of members of each family shall be endorsed "1" and "2", respectively. The same general procedure shall be followed when mailing lists are submitted in sheet form. The new addresses of persons who have removed to the delivery of other post offices shall be furnished when reliable permanent forwarding orders are on file. New names shall not be added to a list.

(h) To facilitate the work, owners of lists should be requested to submit them in card form, approximately the size and quality of the ordinary postal card, one name to a card, with the owner's name stamped or printed in the upper left corner, the cards then to be distributed, the same as mail, to the carriers, who will promptly correct and return them to the clerk having the work in charge. Any corrections not made by carriers will be made in the directory section, if possible. After all corrections are made, the cards will be reassembled, checked as to number (to see that no card has been lost or misplaced) and promptly returned to the owner. Close supervision should be given to the work, which will be under the jurisdiction of the superintendent of mails, or, at the smaller offices where the position of superintendent of mails has not been authorized and at third and fourth class post offices, the postmaster or assistant postmaster, to see that the corrections are promptly and properly made, that no card is lost, and that they are returned to the owner without delay.

(i) When a correct address can not be given, the reason therefor, such as "Removed, left no address," "Deceased," etc., should be shown on the card.

(j) When a list is submitted in sheet form, instead of on cards, the list will be corrected from the directories only, and not verified by the carriers, and the owner will be so advised.

(k) Upon receipt of quantity mailings (10 or more pieces) apparently identical as to contents, lacking specific street addresses, from the same firm or individual, postmasters at city delivery offices should promptly advise the sender that if he will forward his mailing list, in card form, accompanied by cash or money order to cover the charges for correction service (as outlined in paragraph (g)) it will be corrected by supplying all addresses as far as possible and the mail on hand will be supplied with addresses and delivered. It should be explained to the mailer such procedure is in the interest of both himself and the department, and that it will result not only in delivery of this mail but of other mailings from the same list and that unless such plan is followed the mail will be returned or otherwise disposed of in accordance with the regulations, as it is not entitled to directory service.

17. Telegraphic expense.—All telegrams from first- and second-class post offices on official business relating to the field service shall be prepaid and vouchers covering such messages, accompanied by copies of all telegrams, shall be submitted to the First Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Post Office Service, with request for an allowance.

The foregoing does not refer to telegrams relating strictly to the Railway Mail Service from points where there is no representative of that service. Such telegrams, when sent from a post office of any class to the Superintendent or Chief Clerk, Railway Mail Service, should be sent "collect" at the Government rate, and when sent to points where there is no Railway Mail Service representative they should be prepaid at the Government rate and a receipted copy of the message for use as a voucher sent to the Division Superintendent, Railway Mail Service, with request for reimbursement. Payment for improper or unnecessary telegrams sent by postmasters will not be approved by the Railway Mail Service.

Official telegrams shall be sent only in case of great emergency, when the matter at hand can not be handled by letter, owing to lapse of time.

The fewest possible number of words should be used in telegrams, and when sent late in the day "Night message" should be indorsed thereon.

18. Recruits for Army, Navy, and Marine Corps.—Postmasters are directed to aid recruiting officers of the United States Army and Navy so far as possible by displaying recruiting posters in conspicuous places in post office lobbies and by distributing to young men who may be interested in the subject any printed matter relative to enlistment in the Army, Navy, or Marine Corps that is sent to them for that purpose from the War and Navy Departments. (See secs. 46 and 434, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

19. Agents for publications.—Postmasters of all classes and employees at post offices of the third and fourth classes who accept subscriptions for newspapers and periodicals during their hours of service to the Government, must not permit this business to interfere with the proper performance of their official duties, and must not retain commissions thereon unless they have agreements to that effect with the publishers. No postmaster or employee may undertake or agree to act as agent for one publication to the exclusion of others. (As to classified clerks and carriers, see secs. 56 and 929, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

20. Sale of postmarking supplies.—Postmasters are directed to forward to the Fourth Assistant Postmaster General, Equipment and Supplies Branch, all circulars and communications received by them from firms or corporations advertising the sale of postmarking supplies.

21. Advertising on postmarking stamps forbidden.—Postmarking dies shall not be used for advertising purposes.

22. Dispatch of fictitiously addressed mail.—Although fictitiously addressed mail is undeliverable under section 775, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, such mail should not be withheld from dispatch if otherwise mailable and properly prepaid.

23. Mutilations of mail by canceling machines.—Postmasters should issue necessary instructions to their employees enjoining care in postmarking mail by canceling machines. Letters containing bulky inclosures should not be run through the canceling machine, but instead, should be hand stamped.

24. Changes in names or boundaries of counties.—When a post office is changed from one county to another by reason of change of county boundaries, the creation of a new county, or the change of the site of the office, the postmaster should promptly notify the Fourth Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Topography.

25. Mails for Alaska.—All mails for Alaska are dispatched from Seattle, Wash. During the season of navigation all classes of mail are dispatched. During the winter season (from about October 1 to May 1) on account of the difficulty of transportation, the dispatch of mail for Alaska, except for offices on the southern coast and those supplied by railroads, is limited, preference being given, first, to letters in their usual and ordinary form, postal cards, and packages of seeds not exceeding 1 pound per package; second, to single newspapers and magazines, addressed to public libraries, newspaper publishers, and to individuals. Books, catalogues, newspapers, and periodicals sent to dealers for purposes of trade or otherwise, and merchandise (parcel-post matter), except packages of seeds not exceeding 1 pound per package, can not be forwarded to interior offices during the winter season. But, as an exception to the foregoing, when the weight limit of mail for dispatch will permit, articles of merchandise, not exceeding a few ounces each, which the proper officers of the service have reason to believe contain articles of urgent necessity, such as eyeglasses, medicines, etc., for individual use, but not intended primarily for trade, may be inclosed in the mails for dispatch. Offices in Alaska to which only a limited amount of mail may be sent in winter are designated "R" in the State list of post offices.

In this connection postmasters and employees are informed that the affixing of special-handling stamps to the mail matter excluded under the above instructions will not entitle it to preferred treatment, and if such matter with special-handling stamps affixed is offered for mailing it should not be accepted for dispatch during the closed season.

26. United States possessions and overseas territory, dispatch of mails for.—Mails for the Philippine Islands, Hawaii, Samoa, and Guam are dispatched from Pacific coast ports at the first available opportunity to secure the earliest arrival at destination. Mails for Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands of the United States are dispatched by steamer from New York, N. Y., and by airplane from Miami, Fla. Mails for the Canal Zone are dispatched from New York, N. Y., New Orleans, La., and Havana, Cuba (via Jacksonville and Key West, Fla.), and by air from Miami, Fla., and Brownsville, Tex.

27. Posting letters at railway post offices.—The privilege of posting letters in mail cars and in letter boxes at railroad stations from which collections are made by railway postal clerks is intended only as an accommodation to travelers and to permit the mailing of a few late letters which can not be deposited in post offices in time for their intended dispatch. Second, third, and fourth class matter and matter to be registered is not mailable at mail cars.

28. Pensioners' oaths.—Fourth-class postmasters and rural carriers are required to administer oaths to pensioners and witnesses in the execution of pension vouchers, and have authority to receive from the pensioner for each voucher a sum not exceeding 25 cents. Rural carriers are not required to deviate from their routes to execute vouchers. (See sec. 444, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

DUTIES OF POSTMASTERS AS TO REPORTING ARRIVALS AND DEPARTURES OF MAIL, ETC.

29. Use correct route numbers and termini.—All communications to the department relative to mail routes should embrace the correct number and terminal points of such routes.

30. Postmasters at terminal offices and at other intermediate schedule points are directed to exercise especial care in making out monthly reports of performance of service or registers of arrivals and departures of mails at their respective offices, to avoid the use of the route number given in the general advertisements, usually issued in October of one year for service from July 1 of the next year, when referring to service contracted for under a previous advertisement.

31. Blank Form 5400 (Monthly report of the performance of star route service) should never be used for reporting service to post offices not regularly established on a mail route and known as "special offices."

32. In forwarding monthly reports or registers of complaints on rural routes, postmasters should be careful to address the Second Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Rural Mails. Arrivals and departures of mails on star routes (except those in Alaska), address the Second Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Railway Mail Service. For steam and electric railroad routes, mail messenger routes, steamboat and Alaska star routes, address the Second Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Railway Adjustments. For screen-wagon routes, address the Fourth Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Motor Vehicle Service.

EMPLOYMENT OF TEMPORARY MAIL CARRIERS

33. Postmasters should not employ any person to act in place of the regular mail carrier without first receiving authority from the department to employ such temporary carrier, unless such employment is clearly justified by that section of the Postal Laws and Regulations which relates to temporary service under the class of service which it is proposed to replace. (Railroad service, sec. 1749; electric car service, sec. 1766; mail messenger service, sec. 1775 and 1777; star and steamboat service, sec. 1849.)

LOSS, RIFLING, DAMAGE, OR OTHER MISTREATMENT OF MAIL MATTER

In order to detect and correct errors and irregularities in the handling of the mails, postmasters and all postal employees are directed to familiarize themselves with and strictly observe the provisions of sections 813, 814, 815, and 2234, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932. Failure to comply with these regulations and the following instructions seriously hampers the department in fixing responsibility.

34. Loss, rifling, damage, or other mistreatment of mail matter.—Sections 813, 814, 815, and 2234, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, provide that postmasters and other postal officers shall report in the manner outlined every complaint made to them, or instances which come to their knowledge, of the loss, rifling, damage, or other mistreatment of mail matter by postal employees or others. (For losses by burglary, fire, etc., see sec. 443, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932. For instructions regarding lost warrants or drafts, see sec. 239, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

35. Loss of or damage to ordinary mail.—While there is no provision for the payment of indemnity for the loss of or damage to mail not insured or registered, except that made for foreign ordinary parcels dispatched under the terms of the Pan American Parcel Post Convention or the Parcel Post Agreement of the Americas and Spain, employees should not refrain from using Form 1516, or discourage the filing of Form 1510 by a patron simply because of that fact.

However, postmasters and employees must guard against the improper use of Form 1510. It must not be executed for the obvious purpose of ascertaining whether an ordinary piece of mail, parcel, letter, etc., has been delivered. Form 1510 shall not be executed unless the sender has received information that the addressee has not received the article after a reasonable time has elapsed from the date of mailing.

REWARDS FOR THE ARREST OF MAIL ROBBERS, ETC.

36. Rewards will be paid for the detection, arrest, and conviction of post-office burglars, robbers, and highway mail robbers in accordance with the following order of the Postmaster General.

ORDER NO. 9273. JULY 25, 1936.

On and after July 1, 1936, unless otherwise ordered, the Post Office Department will pay the following rewards providing Congress makes available the necessary appropriation:

(1) Not exceeding two thousand dollars for the arrest and conviction of any offender on the charge of assaulting any person having lawful charge, control, or custody of any mail, or money or other property of the United States, with intent to rob, steal, or purloin such mail, or money or other property of the United States, or any part thereof, or on the charge of robbing any such person of any such mail, or money or other property of the United States, if in effecting or attempting to effect such robbery, he shall wound the person having custody of the mail, or money or other property of the United States, or put his life in jeopardy by the use of a dangerous weapon.

(2) Not exceeding two thousand dollars for the arrest and conviction of any offender on the charge of mailing or causing to be mailed any bomb, infernal machine, or mechanical, chemical, or other device or composition which may ignite or explode, with the design, intent, or purpose to kill or in anywise hurt, harm, or injure another, or damage, deface, or otherwise injure the mails or other property.

(3) Not exceeding one thousand dollars for the arrest and conviction of any offender on the charge of assaulting any person having lawful charge, control, or custody of any mail, or money or other property of the United States with intent to rob, steal, or purloin such mail, or money or other property of the United States, or any part thereof, or of robbing such person of such mail, or money or other property of the United States, or any part thereof, where the assault does not include the wounding of the person having custody of the mail, or money or other property of the United States, or the putting of his life in jeopardy by the use of a dangerous weapon.

(4) Not exceeding two hundred dollars for the arrest and conviction of any person on the charge of breaking into or attempting to break into a post office, or any building used in whole or in part as a post office, with intent to commit in such post office, or part of said building used as a post office, any larceny or other depredation. A post office station will be regarded as coming within the meaning of the term post office as used in this section.

(5) Not exceeding two hundred dollars for the arrest and conviction of any person on the charge of stealing mail or any valuable thing contained therein, or money or other property of the United States, while being conveyed over any post route, or while in the custody of any mail messenger, or being conveyed to or from any railroad depot or of robbing or stealing from the mail while it remains at any railroad depot awaiting transfer.

(6) Not exceeding two hundred dollars for the arrest and conviction of any person on the charge of stealing mail or any valuable thing contained therein, or money or other property of the United States, from or out of any mail, post office, or station thereof, or from any person properly having custody of any mail, money or property as aforesaid, or of larceny from any letter box, street letter box, or other receptacle established, approved, or designated by the Postmaster General for the receipt of mail on any rural delivery route, star route, or other mail route, or from a box rented in a post office, or from any public receptacle or other authorized depository for mail.

(7) Not exceeding two hundred dollars for the arrest and conviction of any mail carrier on any mail messenger route or star route on the charge of embezzling or stealing mail or any valuable thing contained therein.

(8) Not exceeding two hundred dollars for the arrest and conviction of any person on the charge of mailing or causing to be mailed any bomb, infernal machine, or mechanical, chemical, or other device or composition which may ignite or explode, and which may kill or in anywise hurt, harm, or injure another, or damage, deface, or otherwise injure the mails or other property.

(9) For the arrest and conviction of any person as accessory to any of the offenses above mentioned, or for receiving or having unlawful possession of any mail, money, or property stolen from a post office or from a station of a post office, or otherwise, as provided in this Notice of Reward, the same reward will be paid as for the arrest and conviction of the principal offender.

(10) When an offender is killed in the act of committing any of the crimes enumerated herein, or in resisting lawful arrest, the same reward may be paid as though he had been tried and convicted.

(11) When a person has been convicted of committing any offense enumerated herein a reward may be paid, even though such person when arrested was charged with committing an offense not so enumerated.

(12) The reward that may be allowed under the offers made in the preceding paragraphs will be determined according to the circumstances surrounding the particular case and on the basis of the services personally rendered by each claimant. In deciding what amount should be paid, the importance and value of the service rendered, the character of the person arrested and convicted, the risks or hazards involved, the time consumed, the expenses incurred and the efforts put forth, will govern. Maximum rewards will be paid only when the services performed were of maximum value.

(13) Separate applications should be made in writing to the Chief Post Office Inspector, Washington, D. C., by each person who claims a reward. Applications for reward should state the name of the offender, and the date and nature of the offense.

(14) Payment for services meriting a reward will be made, subject to the necessary appropriation, as aforesaid, upon presention of satisfactory documentary evidence and after appropriate investigation. A claim will not be considered unless presented within three months from the date of conviction of an offender, or within three months from the date of his death, if he was killed in the act of committing a crime, or in resisting lawful arrest.

(15) In order that all claimants for reward in any case may have an opportunity to present their claims, the Department will not take final action until the time limit specified in the preceding paragraph has expired and the claims have been investigated.

(16) The Post Office Department reserves the right to reject a claim when the circumstances in the case do not justify the payment of a reward or when, in its opinion, there has been collusion, or when improper methods have been used to effect an arrest or to secure a conviction and it also reserves the right to allow only one reward where several persons have been convicted of the same offense, or when one person has been convicted of several offenses, unless the circumstances, in its judgment, entitle the claimant to a reward for each conviction.

(17) All previous offers of reward are hereby rescinded except as they may apply to cases in which arrests were made prior to July 1, 1936.

DAMAGE TO PERSONS OR PRIVATE PROPERTY

37. Cooperation of postmasters in handling claims.—In order that the department may be promptly and fully informed regarding injuries to persons or damages to private property, by or through the operation of the Post Office Department in any branch of its service, it is desired that all postmasters, in person or through a competent representative, obtain at the earliest possible moment after the occurrence of the accident within their jurisdiction full information as to the facts, the responsibility, and the character and extent of the damage sustained. It is particularly desirable that the most complete inspections and reports possible be made of personal injury cases and of accidents causing extensive property damage. In these two types of cases, the report of the postal employee immediately involved in the accident should be supplemented by written statements or affidavits, if obtainable, from the parties injured or whose property was damaged, and also from such witnesses as can be located.

In the case of accidents resulting in trivial damage to private property, the report of the postal employee involved should be supplemented by a written statement or affidavit from the party whose property was damaged, and also from such witnesses as can be located; but unless there is some aggravating circumstance or special reason for the action, it will not be necessary to have a personal examination made of the property or personally interview the private party, unless and until a claim is filed for redress. With respect to injuries to persons or damage to property resulting from the operation of Government-owned motor trucks, postmasters will use standard prescribed forms in obtaining reports from the truck operators, as well as from witnesses.

Postmasters can assist the department materially by having a competent mechanic in the motor vehicle service, or some other qualified employee, carefully check the bills submitted by claimants for damages to property with a view of determining their accuracy. Special care should be exercised in determining whether all of the items included in the claim are for repairs actually necessitated as a result of damage caused by the particular accident. In no instance should an item be approved where it appears that it was merely in replacement of a worn part as distinguished from a part that was rendered unserviceable as a result of the accident.

The laws under which the department will consider claims for personal injuries or damage to private property and will require reimbursement on account of damage to Government property are embodied in sections 58 and 59 of the Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.

USE OF THE MAILS FOR FRAUDULENT PURPOSES AND THE TRANSMISSION OF PROHIBITED MATTER

38. Fraudulent schemes and prohibited matter.—Complaints relative to the alleged use of the mails for fraudulent purposes and the mailing of intoxicants, poisons, firearms, explosives, and of obscene and scurrilous matter should be addressed to the post-office inspector in charge of the division in which the office of mailing is located. (See list of inspectors in charge on p. 3.)

When a postmaster receives a complaint concerning a scheme to defraud, the complainant should be requested to prepare a detailed statement of the facts, and attach thereto all correspondence, advertising literature, etc., which he possesses, accompanied with the envelopes in which such evidence was transmitted through the mails, marked with the initials of the addressee for identification. The statement and evidence should then be forwarded to the inspector in charge of the division in which the scheme was operated. The sole purpose of investigating cases concerning alleged fraudulent use of the mails is to determine whether criminal prosecutions should be instituted or fraud orders issued, or both. The Department does not act as an intermediary in the settlement of the transactions involved in cases of this character and postmasters must not communicate with those against whom complaint is made for the purpose of having such transactions adjusted.

LOTTERY SCHEMES, ENDLESS CHAIN ENTERPRISES, ETC.

39. The attention of postmasters and railway postal clerks is directed to section 601 of the Postal Laws and Regulations, by the provisions of which newspapers or other publications of any kind, circulars and pamphlets, containing advertisements of lotteries, gift enterprises or similar schemes offering prizes dependent in whole or in part upon lot or chance, or lists of the prizes awarded in pursuance of such schemes, and all other matter relating to them, are declared to be unmailable. The terms "lottery, gift enterprise, or similar scheme offering prizes dependent in whole or in part upon lot or chance," as used in that section, include "guessing" or "estimating" contests for prizes, as well as drawings and raffles of every kind, whether general or local, whether for private gain or in aid of charitable, educational, or religious objects, and whether the consideration for chances be money or other thing of value. Enterprises in which prizes are distributed among purchasers of merchandise in stated amounts, or among subscribers for publications, or for shares of corporate stock, through the medium of drawings or guessing contests, are lotteries within the meaning of that section. Publications, circulars, cards, or pamphlets containing advertisements of such enterprises, or notices or other information of any kind relating to them. should be withdrawn from the mails and treated in accordance with sections 725, 756, and 774 of the Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.

"Endless chain" enterprises designed for the sale or disposition of merchandise or other things of value through the circulation or distribution of "coupons," "tickets," "certificates," "introductions," and the like, are held to embrace the elements of a lottery, and also to be fraudulent. Matter of every kind relating to such enterprises should be excluded or withdrawn from the mails, and treated in accordance with sections 725, 756, and 774 of the Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.

Where there is doubt whether the scheme advertised or referred to is a lottery, or similar enterprise, as defined by section 601, the matter in question should be submitted to the Solicitor for the Post Office Department for advice as to its admissibility. Communications to postmasters from the Solicitor, embracing opinions or rulings in respect of matter so submitted, are to be regarded as records of the post office and retained among its official files for purposes of reference. The substance only of such communications should be conveyed to interested persons and in no case should exact copies be supplied to them; the ruling or opinion being intended for the guidance of the postmaster, and not for the use of those interested in the enterprise passed upon.

The Post Office Department is endeavoring to enforce the antilottery statutes strictly and with thoroughness. Postmasters, railway postal clerks, and all other officers and employees charged with the handling of mail matter are therefore expected to examine such matter, especially publications, with the greatest care consistent with prompt transmission and delivery, and to withdraw or exclude all such as is ascertained to relate to lotteries or like enterprises. Many postmasters have been found negligent in this regard.

"SPANISH SWINDLE"

40. The attention of postmasters is directed to the scheme operated by swindlers from various towns and cities in Spain who write to persons in the United States to induce them through offer of a reward to come to Spain with a sum of money to be used in securing the release of certain papers which can be negotiated for a large fortune, usually between $300,000 and $400,000, that is held in this country. The scheme has also been operated from Mexico and South America. If the recipient of the letter complies with instructions to cable the swindler, who represents he is in prison for bankruptcy, he receives specific instructions for making the trip to Spain, Mexico or South America, as the case may be, and if he goes as directed he is relieved of his funds, by trick or otherwise, after his arrival.

As the operators of this scheme are located in foreign countries and as they require their victims to communicate with them only by cable, there is no action that can be taken under the postal laws to prevent the swindle being carried out. Everything practicable has been done, however, to have foreign authorities apprehend and punish operators of the scheme.

It is desired that the above information be communicated to the public through the medium of the press if it is possible to do so without cost; or, if this can not be done, that such other steps be taken to disseminate the information as may be practicable without incurring expense.

POSTAL SAVINGS SYSTEM

1. Purpose.—The Postal Savings System was established by act of Congress approved June 25, 1910, to provide facilities for the deposit of savings at interest with the security of the United States Government for repayment on demand.

2. Depository offices.—Post offices, branches, and stations designated as postal-savings depositories are indicated by a small circle (°) in the State list in the Postal Guide, and changes in depository offices appear in the monthly supplements. Postmasters at depository offices shall post conspicuously one or more placards (PS 75) calling the attention of the public to the postal-savings service, and shall keep on hand for judicious distribution a supply of the leaflets, PS 4 (Information About the United States Postal Savings System), commensurate with the needs of the office. When a placard becomes soiled it shall be replaced.

3. Who may open accounts.—Accounts may be opened and deposits made by any competent person of the age of 10 years or over in his or her own name, without regard to the residence of the depositor. Except as provided in article 20, deposits shall be accepted only in the names of individuals and no account will be opened in the name of any corporation, association, society, firm, or partnership, or in the name of any person as an officer or member thereof; neither shall an account be opened in the names of two or more persons jointly, or in the name of one or more persons in trust for or on behalf of another person or persons. The account of a married person is free from any control or interference by the husband or wife.

4. One person, one account.—A person may open a postal savings account at any depository post office, but no person may at the same time have more than one postal savings account either at the same office or at different offices.

5. Acceptance of commercial paper discretionary.—The acceptance of personal checks of depositors, cashier's checks, bank drafts, or other commercial paper is not required and, accordingly, acceptance is at the risk of the postmaster, who will be held liable on his official bond for any loss to the department which may result from such paper being dishonored. When, as a personal accommodation to depositors, commercial paper is accepted, postal-savings certificates shall not be given in exchange until the postmaster has definite knowledge that the check or draft has cleared. No funds are available to pay collection charges on checks or drafts accepted as postal-savings deposits, and where the charges cannot be avoided they should be paid in advance by the depositors. (See sec. 1603, par. 6, and sec. 1409, par. 2, Postal Laws and Regulations (1932) concerning the acceptance of Government paper.)

Postmasters are not authorized to cash commercial paper or Government checks from postal-savings funds, except as provided in section 1626, paragraph 2, Postal Laws and Regulations (1932).

6. How deposits are made.—To open an account, the intending depositor should apply in person at his local post office. If, because of infirmity or other good and sufficient reason, he is unable to appear in person, application to open an account may be made through a representative. Any person residing in a community served by a post office not designated as a postal-savings depository may apply through his local postmaster to open an account by mail at a depository post office. After an account has been opened, deposits may be made by the depositor in person, through a representative, by money order payable to the depository postmaster, or by registered mail. Deposits must not be sent by ordinary mail. When deposits from patrons of an outlying office reach such proportions as to indicate a growing interest in postal savings in that community, the postmaster at the depository office shall notify the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Postal Savings, in order that, if the interests of the depositors and the community will be better served thereby, consideration may be given to the designation of the outlying office as a depository.

7. Postal-savings certificates.—Deposits are evidenced by postal-savings certificates issued in fixed denominations of $1, $2, $5, $10, $20, $50, $100, $200, and $500, each bearing the name of the depositor, the number of his account, the date of issue, the name of the depository office, and the date on which interest begins. Postal-savings certificates are not transferable or negotiable.

8. Minimum deposit: Maximum balance.—No account shall be opened for less than $1, nor shall fractions of a dollar be accepted for deposit. (See article 13 relative to postal-savings cards and stamps.) No person is permitted to have a balance to his credit of more than $2,500, exclusive of accumulated interest.

9. Records of accounts.—The following instructions are to be observed in the preparation and maintenance of individual records of accounts on Form PS 600:

(a) In opening an account the postmaster shall carefully and legibly fill in all the information, except the depositor's signature.

(b) When a person usually signs by initials only, his full given name shall be written at the top of the application form and he should sign the application twice, first using his full given name and then signing by initials in the manner in which he wishes his certificates issued.

(c) A married woman shall sign her own given name and not that of her husband.

(d) If an applicant signs by mark or in characters not used in the English language, his signature shall be attested by a disinterested witness. If the office is equipped to do so, an impression of his fingerprints shall be taken under the heading "Additional Identification Data."

(e) The serial number and amount of each certificate issued and the date of the transaction shall be entered in the columns provided therefor, using a separate line for each certificate. In line with the last entry, the balance to the credit of the depositor shall be shown. If a certificate issued in lieu of one surrendered for payment of interest or part payment of principal correctly shows the first day of the month in which it was issued as the "Date when interest begins", this date, together with the symbol "IP", shall be written in the "Remarks" column.

(f) When certificates are surrendered, the date and total amount of the transaction and the new balance shall be entered on the next unused line. This date and the respective amount of interest paid, if any, shall be entered in line with the serial number of each certificate involved.

(g) A continuation card (PS 600–A) has been provided for use when all the spaces on a depositor's card (PS 600) have been filled. The cards should be pinned or stapled together.

(h) The "Remarks" column is for notations, such as "reissued", "lost", "IP", etc.

(i) When all of the certificates, together with the interest due, have been paid, the latest card should be marked "Account closed" and the entire record placed in a separate file with the other closed accounts.

10. Accurate posting of depositors' cards.—Postmasters must maintain an accurate record of the certificates held by each depositor. Depositors' cards, form PS 600, which have been withdrawn in the course of a day's transactions shall not be returned to the files until the issues, payments, and extensions recorded thereon have been verified. This verification shall be effected by adding, preferably by means of an adding machine, the following items:

(1) the issues recorded for the day;
(2) the payments recorded for the day;
(3) the balances to the credit of depositors prior to the entry of the day's business; and
(4) the balances to the credit of depositors after entry of the day's business.

The total of the issues, item (1), shall be checked against the issues as recorded in abstract A, form PS 705. The total of the payments, item (2), shall be checked against the payments as recorded in abstract B, form PS 706. (At third- and fourth-class offices the abstracts of issues and of payments are in the daily summary, Form PS 708 T/F.) If there are no compensating errors, the mathematical accuracy of the extensions on the cards is proved if the sum of the totals of items (1) and (3) equals the sum of the totals of items (2) and (4). Extreme care must be exercised to see that the right card is used for recording each transaction.

11. Loss of certificate.—If a postal-savings certificate is lost, stolen, destroyed, or improperly withheld, the depositor may obtain a duplicate, through the depository postmaster, by applying on Form PS 607 (Depositor's Application for New Postal Savings Certificate).

12. Postmasters not to hold certificates for depositors.—Postmasters are not permitted to receive issued postal-savings certificates for safe-keeping.

13. Postal-savings cards and stamps.—Amounts less than $1 may be saved by purchasing postal-savings stamps. A savings card, furnished free, with postal-savings stamps affixed will be accepted as a deposit either in opening an account or in adding to an existing account, or it may be redeemed in cash. Postal-savings stamps are not valid for postage, and postmasters shall not give them in exchange for postage stamps nor give postage stamps in exchange for postal-savings stamps.

14. How to dispose of postal-savings funds.—Where a local bank has qualified as a postal-savings depositary, the postmaster shall deposit therein his surplus postal-savings receipts daily, being careful not to exceed the amount the bank is qualified to receive. See section 1613, paragraph 3, Postal Laws and Regulations (1932).

Where no local bank has qualified as a postal-savings depositary, or, if qualified, has no margin for further deposits, but where there is a Federal Reserve bank, branch Federal Reserve bank, or general depositary for public funds, the postmaster shall deposit his surplus postal-savings receipts in such bank in the general account of the Treasurer of the United States to the credit of the "Board of Trustees, Postal Savings System, on account of returnable deposits (symbol 42001)." See section 1614, paragraph 9, Postal Laws and Regulations (1932).

In towns where there is no postal-savings depositary bank, no Federal Reserve bank, branch Federal Reserve bank, or general depositary for public funds, the postmaster shall remit his surplus receipts daily to his designated central postal-savings depositary; and if one or more local banks have been designated limited depositaries for public funds by the Secretary of the Treasury, the postmaster shall deposit his surplus postal-savings receipts temporarily in such bank, as provided in section 120, Postal Laws and Regulations (1932), and remit by official check, avoiding, so far as practicable, the purchase of bank drafts and cashier's checks.

Where no bank has been designated as a depositary for public funds, the postmaster may remit in one of the following ways: (1) by establishing a temporary checking account with a local bank as provided in section 120, Postal Laws and Regulations (1932); (2) by obtaining a bank draft or cashier's check; or (3) by sending funds by registered mail. With the first and second methods, a bank which is a member of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation should be used. Central depositaries should inform the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Postal Savings, if unable to negotiate without expense checks or drafts received as remittances or if unable to obtain immediate credit therefor.

When a draft drawn on a bank in the town where the central depositary is located is accepted as a deposit, collection charges which might be involved if it were deposited in the postmaster's official checking account may probably be avoided by sending the draft itself as part of the day's remittance to the central depositary.

15. Central postal-savings depositary post offices.—For list of central depositaries of postal-savings funds see articles 8 of the section entitled "United States Savings Bonds." The same offices operate as central depositaries for both postal-savings and savings-bond funds, except that there are no postal-savings depositaries in Guam or Samoa and the central postal-savings depositaries for Alaska are Cordova and Juneau.

16. Dating certificates, and interest procedure.—When a postal-savings certificate is issued for cash or the equivalent thereof, including such items as redeposited interest due on surrendered certificates, or postal-saving stamps, the "Date when interest begins" to be entered on the certificate is always the first day of the month next following the date of issue; for example, if a certificate is issued for cash on any day in the month of February 1939, including the first day of that month, the "Date when interest begins" for that certificate is March 1, 1939.

When a postal-savings certificate is issued in part payment of another certificate or to replace one surrendered for the purpose of collecting interest due thereon, the new certificate shall likewise show as the "Date when interest begins" the first day of the next succeeding month unless the surrendered certificate has earned at least 1 years' interest and the surrender is made in the first month of a quarter of the interest year.

Complete instructions concerning the computation, payment, and recording of interest, and the taking of receipts therefor are published in the leaflet, PS 100. This leaflet and the quarterly interest tables (Form PS 100–A), which tables are better adapted to postal-savings work in post offices than those in Form PS 100, should be kept available for ready reference.

17. Interest not compounded.—Compound interest is not allowed on an outstanding certificate, but a depositor may withdraw interest accrued and make a new deposit. Interest will continue to accrue on a postal-savings certificate so long as it remains outstanding, certificates being valid until paid without limitation as to time.

18. Withdrawals paid on demand.—A depositor may at any time withdraw all or any part of the deposits to his credit, with any interest payable thereon.

When a depositor desires to withdraw the amount represented by a certificate, he shall present the certificate to the depository postmaster and be identified. After the postmaster has inserted the amount of interest due, if any, in the receipt form on the certificate (see the leaflet, PS 100), the depositor shall indorse the certificate and surrender it; whereupon the postmaster shall pay the amount of the certificate and the computed amount of interest.

Certificates when paid, either in full or in part, or when surrendered for payment of only the interest due shall be stamped on the face with a special "Paid" date stamp furnished for the purpose. The stamp shall be maintained in good working order, and the imprint shall clearly show the month, day, and year of payment. If the date of payment is not legible, the certificate shall be stamped again on the back in such manner that the date can be read.

19. Identification of the depositor.—Unless personally known to the postmaster or clerk, the depositor shall be required to answer satisfactorily the test questions shown on the application to open the account before either the principal or interest on certificates is paid. Where finger impressions are on file a careful comparison must be made before payment is made. Postmasters and clerks are held responsible in the event of wrong payment if the regulations are not followed in the matter of identification.

20. Deposits of bankrupt funds.—Section 3 of the amendment of March 3, 1933, to the Bankruptcy Act reads as follows:

In all bankruptcy proceedings the officers and agents in charge of the bankrupt funds are authorized to deposit the same without limit as to amount in the postal-savings depositories at the prescribed interest rate in all cases where local banks are unable or unwilling to give the required security. Such deposit or any portion thereof may be withdrawn as required in the bankruptcy proceedings.

When an officer or agent in charge of bankrupt funds applies at a depositary post office to open a postal-savings account, the postmaster shall require evidence that (a) the funds involved are entitled to consideration under the above quoted amendment to the Bankruptcy Act, that (b) the officer or agent has been duly appointed, and that (c) local banks are unable or unwilling to give the required security. If satisfied, the postmaster shall accept the deposit, issue certificates in the name and title of the officer or agent, together with the name of the bankrupt corporation, association, or individual, and deliver the certificates to such officer or agent, except that, if the deposit is by commercial check or draft, delivery shall be withheld until collection has been made. If the postmaster is in doubt, he shall refer all the papers in the case to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Postal Savings, and await instructions.

Bankruptcy deposits may be made in any amount of even dollars, and when payment is demanded the certificates shall be indorsed by the officer or agent (or his successor, whose appointment must be evidenced by a decree of court) and, in addition, may be countersigned by another individual in his representative court capacity if such be the requirement of the referee having jurisdiction over the funds in question. As the amount involved is invariably large, the officer or agent should be requested to give advance notice of contemplated withdrawals so that the postmaster will have time to requisition the necessary amount from the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Postal Savings.

21. Death or legal disability of a depositor.—Payment of the amount on deposit to the credit of a deceased, insane, or otherwise legally incompetent depositor shall be made only after receipt of specific authority from the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Postal Savings.

If a legal representative of the estate is appointed by a court of competent jurisdiction, the certificate of appointment (or a copy of the letters testamentary, of administration, or of guardianship), duly certified so as to show the appointment to be in full force and effect, should be forwarded to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Postal Savings. If the administration of the estate has been completed and the appointee discharged, or other judicial action is taken in lieu of administration, a certified copy of the decree of final distribution or the particular decree issued, together with a completed form PS 114 signed by the applicant, should be submitted for examination and additional instructions.

If the depositor died intestate and no legal representative of the estate is appointed by a court of competent jurisdiction, and if the amount on deposit is such that not more than $500 remains after allowing for the expenses of the funeral and last illness (except where the laws of the State in which the money is deposited provide otherwise) one of the next of kin or other person claiming to be entitled to payment may apply on Form PS 114. If the funeral expenses or other claims for which, under the laws of the State in which the money is deposited, the estate is liable have not been paid, the undertaker or other preferred creditor may apply on Form PS 115. Instructions in regard to their execution are printed on the forms. (The instructions on Form PS 114 were amended in September 1938 so that, when the amount of an account does not exceed $25, the receipted bill for funeral expense is not required and the application may be executed before a postmaster, whose certification in lieu of that of a notary public will be accepted.) Requisitions for the forms shall be addressed to the Fourth Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Building Operations and Supplies, Equipment and Supplies Branch. If the amount on deposit is greater than as indicated above, administration under the laws of the State in which the money is deposited will be required, unless the laws of the State provide otherwise.

22. How to obtain funds.—Postmasters who have been authorized to draw checks on local postal-savings depositary banks should check on such banks when funds are needed for postal-savings purposes following the provisions of section 1616, paragraph 5, Postal Laws and Regulations (1932).

Postmasters who have not been authorized to check on postal-savings depositary banks (which includes all postmasters within continental United States) shall obtain funds to meet withdrawals by the use of drafts (Form PS 316) drawn on their respective central postal-savings depositary postmasters, following the instructions in paragraphs 9 to 11, section 1616, Postal Laws and Regulations (1932). However, for convenience and to avoid the too frequent use of drafts, postmasters at first- and second-class post offices are authorized and directed, when postal-savings funds are not available, to use money-order funds, so far as practicable, to pay postal-savings certificates and interest. As used in this connection, the term "money-order funds" means any authorized money-order reserve, the proceeds of money-order sales, and funds obtained by check drawn on an authorized money-order credit with the Treasurer of the United States. The amount of money-order funds which may be used during any month for postal-savings purposes is not limited to the authorized money-order reserve.

When money-order funds are borrowed to meet postal-savings needs, a memorandum slip (Form PS 622–A) shall be placed with the money-order account—in the cash drawer—so that the amount of borrowed funds will be represented at all times by one or more memorandum slips.

The total amount of funds borrowed during any day, at offices other than those operating under the two-division plan, shall be debited to item 9 in the cash account of the postal-savings daily summary (Form PS 708). In the money-order account, the amount of the memorandum slip or slips (Form PS 622–A) shall be counted as cash on hand at the close of the day, and shall be recorded in A/C No. 164 of the money-order cash book. At offices which operate under the two-division plan the amount borrowed during any day shall be debited in the cashier's daily postal-savings financial statement (Form PS 630–A). It shall also be credited in the daily money-order financial statement (Form 6745–C).

Borrowed money-order funds shall be repaid from current postal-savings receipts as soon as available; that is, if a postmaster has borrowed money-order funds to pay postal-savings certificates and subsequently issues postal-savings certificates, he shall reimburse the money-order account, in whole or in part, from the postal-savings funds so obtained, and he shall make no remittance or deposit of postal-savings funds unless the amount thereof on hand is greater than the amount owed the money-order account.

At offices other than those operating under the two-division plan, repayments to the money-order account shall be credited to item 19 in the postal-savings daily summary (Form PS 708). At offices operating under the two-division plan, such repayments shall be credited on the cashier's daily financial statement (Form PS 630–A) in the column to the right of A/C No. 307 (A/C No. 309 in older editions of the form). It shall also be entered on the money-order cashier's daily financial statement (Form 6745–C) in the column to the left of A/C No. 89, and carried to the debit of the cash account on the blank line immediately above the total.

When funds are borrowed for postal-savings purposes they must always be completely repaid not later than the end of the same month. If the postal-savings receipts during the remainder of the month are not sufficient to complete the reimbursement, the postmaster, except at Washington, D. C., or at a central postal-savings depositary office, shall draw a postal-savings draft on the last day of the month for the exact amount still owed. The postmaster at Washington, D. C., or at a central postal-savings depositary post office shall obtain funds for reimbursement purposes from the Third Assistant Postmaster General, as provided in Section 1616, Paragraph 9 (b), Postal Laws and Regulations, (1932) as amended.

The draft drawn to reimburse the money-order account shall be disposed of as surplus money-order funds. If it is to be included in a remittance to a money-order depositary office, it should be endorsed on the back, "Pay to the order of the postmaster at ----------"; but if it is to be deposited in a local general depositary bank, endorsement on the back by signature alone will suffice. In the event the depositary post office is unable to negotiate the draft conveniently, or if the depositary bank is unwilling to accept it, the draft should be sent to the postmaster on whom it is drawn to be exchanged for cash or other negotiable instrument with which to make the remittance or deposit. However, postal-savings drafts are negotiable and are generally accepted at depositary post offices and banks.

Whether a draft drawn at the close of the month is itself remitted or deposited, or first exchanged for cash or other negotiable paper, the amount thereof shall be included under A/C Nos. 160 and 168 of the monthly money-order account, Form 6011. Similar entries shall be made if, after cash has been received in exchange for the draft, it becomes necessary immediately to use the funds to pay money orders or again to borrow them to pay postal-savings certificates—thus making it impracticable to remit or deposit the funds, as planned.

Strict observance of the above instructions will eliminate the necessity for any entry in the monthly money-order account, Form 6011. Postmasters shall not record such borrowings or repayments on the postal-savings account current, Form PS 704, except that a postal-savings draft drawn for reimbursement purposes shall be included in the amount stated in item 4 of that report. If necessary, to meet the particular needs of an office, whether to pay postal-savings certificates or to reimburse the money-order account, more than one postal-savings draft may be drawn during any month.

At third- and fourth-class post offices, where money-order funds are immediately taken into the postal account, a postal-savings draft should be drawn whenever additional funds are needed to pay postal-savings certificates or interest. The draft may be cashed from funds in the postal account, as provided in section 1616, paragraph 10, Postal Laws and Regulations (1932), in which case the draft should be included in the next remittance of postal funds. At offices where the cashing of several postal-savings drafts out of postal funds on the same day would be necessary, instead of drawing such drafts a temporary memorandum slip for each transaction shall be placed with the postal funds and a single postal-savings draft substituted at the close of the day to cover the total amount involved.

23. Procedure at offices having depositary stations and branches.—Post offices with depositary stations and branches shall observe the requirements of section 1622, Postal Laws and Regulations (1932). Each branch and station shall submit to the postmaster a daily report on Form PS 621. A post card "No Business" report (Form PS 621–B) is available, and postmasters may authorize its use in lieu of Form PS 621 at branches and stations when no business is transacted. The postal-savings business at the main office also shall be reported daily on Form PS 621, and the business for the entire postal district shall be summarized and recorded in the postmaster's daily summary (Form PS 708), except that in the case of two-division offices the summary of each day's business shall be reported daily by the money-order cashier on Form PS 630–A and finally recorded by the bookkeeper on Form PS 630 C/A. At offices operating under the modified two-division plan the recordings in the daily summary shall be reported daily to the bookkeeper, or employee who acts in that capacity, by means of Form PS 630. The daily summary shall be kept at each station and branch, except that at offices operating under the two-division plan the postmaster may authorize the retention of duplicate copies of Form PS 621 as a permanent record in lieu of Form PS 708. Furthermore, at offices operating under the two-division plan postmasters may, in their discretion, use the daily summary at the main office as a permanent record of the business transacted there exclusive of that transacted at branches and stations.

In connection with the summarization of each day's business for the entire postal district, it is necessary to add like items on each day's reports. This may be done by running adding machine tapes, or, if desired, the amounts on each accounting unit's report may be copied to Form PS 601 and the columns added. With either procedure a notation shall be made on each report (Form PS 621) to show the date as of which it was summarized with the main office business.

Ordinarily not more than one book of blank certificates of any series shall be furnished at one time to a branch or station unless the issues in a month of any series usually exceed one book, in which event the postmaster is authorized to furnish an additional book or books, as needed.

24. Supplies.—Postmasters shall submit requisitions for postal-savings stamps to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Stamps; for postal-savings certificates, to the Fourth Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Building Operations and Supplies, Equipment and Supplies Branch. Non-accountable supplies shall be ordered in accordance with existing instructions; that is, requisitions of first and second class offices shall be submitted to the Fourth Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Building Operations and Supplies, Equipment and Supplies Branch, and requisitions of third and fourth class offices shall be submitted to their respective designated supply offices.

25. Safeguards.—Postmasters are held accountable for all certificates and savings stamps sent them, and such stock should be given the same protection as is required for postage stamps and stamped paper.

Ordinarily not more than one book of blank certificates of any series should be furnished at one time to the postal-savings clerk for use at the window unless the issues in a week of any series usually exceed one book, in which event the postmaster is authorized to furnish an additional book or books as needed. The postmaster should retain certificates not in use at the window in his personal custody or designate some official or clerk, other than the clerk on the window, who shall be responsible for safeguarding the stock. Neither certificates nor savings stamps should be loaned or sold by one postmaster to another.

Paid certificates shall not remain in the custody of the postal-savings-window clerk. They shall be delivered daily to the postmaster or the designated officer or clerk, who shall maintain a methodical inventory of, and be responsible for, the vouchers delivered to him and who shall be charged with the duty of preparing the monthly reports. At offices where the certificates are sent to the bookkeeper with the daily statement of postal-savings transactions, the bookkeeper shall retain the certificates until the end of the month if he prepares the monthly reports, if not, he shall transmit them daily to the officer or clerk charged with that duty, after having stamped the back of each certificate with the special bookkeeper's stamp, as an indication that payment of the certificate has been credited in his records. The stamp will be furnished by the Fourth Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Building Operations and Supplies, Equipment and Supplies Branch, on requisition.

Postmasters are cautioned that, where the organization of the office permits, neither the postal-savings-window clerk nor any officer or clerk who conducts transactions at the postal-savings window shall prepare or participate in the preparation of the monthly reports.

If after a new certificate has been issued to replace one lost the depositor reports that he has found the old certificate, he shall be instructed to surrender the old certificate. The clerk to whom the certificate is surrendered shall write the word "canceled" across its face and deliver it promptly to the administrative or supervisory officer, who, after recording on the certificate the date on which it was received by him, shall transmit it promptly to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Postal Savings, with a statement of the facts.

UNITED STATES SAVINGS BONDS

1. Regulations.—See Treasury Department Circulars Nos. 596 and 530, Second Revision, also paragraphs 8 to 28, section 157, as amended, Postal Laws and Regulations (1932), for regulations and important information about United States savings bonds.

2. Denominations.—Nontransferable United States savings bonds may be purchased through the Postal Service in denominations of $25, $50, $100, $500, and $1,000 maturity value, and in registered form only. They are sold at offices of the first, second, and third classes, and at selected offices of the fourth class. The selling price of the bonds is $18.75, $37.50, $75, $375, and $750, respectively, for the five denominations.

3. Sale of bonds.—Beginning with series D (1939), the bonds for third- and fourth-class offices are bound in book form with a cover page of instructions. Books of the three lower denominations have five bonds each; those of the two higher denominations, one bond each. Only single bonds, without cover pages of instructions, are furnished for use at first- and second-class offices. These bonds are unbound, except that each duplicate stub is stapled to the corresponding original stub.

The following instructions as to the issue of the new bonds, which have been prepared by the Treasury Department, should be kept available for reference:

At the time of issue (sale) of each bond, the postmaster or other authorized issuing agent will:

Require an application in writing. Form 920 should be used.

Determine from the application the correct name and full address to be inscribed on the face of the bond. If the bond is to be inscribed in the from "A or B," or the form "A, payable on death to B," both names and the corresponding addresses must be determined. In all cases the exact spelling must be verified, by consultation with the purchaser if necessary.

Determine that the requested inscription is in an authorized form as shown on the application form or authorized by Treasury Department Circulars No. 596 and No. 530, Second Revision. If not in such a form, the purchaser should be advised to amend his application to show an authorized form.

Enter on the face of the bond and on the original and duplicate stubs—

(a) Full name of owner (an initial may be used for a middle name or, if the person is better known by his middle name, an initial may be used for the first name) with the prefix Mrs. or Miss, in cases of women. Any appropriate title may be used, such as Dr., Capt., etc. If more than one name is to appear the full name of each should be entered. If a married woman her own given name and not that of her husband should be used.

(b) The full address (street and number, if any, city or town, and state) of the owner, and that of the co-owner or beneficiary, if any, under the corresponding name.

(c) The month and year the bond is sold, and the month and year the bond is due for payment (exactly 10 years from month of sale), in the spaces provided in the upper right-hand corner panel of the bond, and corresponding spaces on the stubs.

(d) An imprint of the money order stamp, bearing current date, in each of the circles provided therefor.

Sign the original stub and add official title. If the bond is issued through a post office the signature should be in the name and title of the postmaster, acting postmaster, or inspector in charge, and, if not issued by such official personally, should be followed by the autograph initials of the clerk acting for the official.

Compare bond (also original and duplicate stubs if not completed at one operation as provided below) with original application to insure correct inscription, if necessary checking with the purchaser; and verify all other details. Deliver bond to the purchaser upon payment of the issue price, first detaching the original stub which will be forwarded in accordance with instructions. The duplicate stub will be retained by the issuing agent as his record.

IMPORTANT.—It is desirable that the typewriter be used where possible in completing the bonds and the original stubs, and preferably the duplicate stubs. Otherwise pen and ink should be used, taking care that all names and addresses are clearly legible, and that they are exactly the same on the bond and on the two stubs. The new form of bond lends itself to the use of the typewriter, and the bond and both stubs may be inscribed with the name and address of the owner, and the issue date and due date added, by one operation through the use of carbon paper, in which case the stubs must first be detached.

No erasures or corrections on the face of a bond are permitted. and if an error is made the bond should be treated as a spoiled bond. See paragraphs 13 and 15, section 157, as amended, Postal Laws and Regulations (1932).

4. The acceptance of checks in payment.—Postmasters may accept, in payment of United States savings bonds, Government paper not more than 1 full fiscal year old from responsible persons whose endorsement thereon the postmaster is willing to guarantee, and the bonds may be issued and delivered to the purchaser immediately.

The acceptance of a personal check, cashier's check, bank draft, or other commercial paper is at the risk of the postmaster. When such paper is accepted, the purchaser should be given a receipt. He shall be requested to state whether he will call for the bonds or whether they shall be mailed to him, and a notation as to the manner of delivery and date thereof shall be placed on the receipt. Sufficient time shall be allowed to insure receipt of notice in the event the check or draft fails to clear. No funds are available to pay collection charges on checks or drafts accepted in payment of savings bonds, and where the charges cannot be avoided they should be paid in advance by the purchaser.

At offices other than those operating under the two-division plan, the receipt (Form 929–S) shall be prepared in duplicate. At two-division offices a triplicate receipt (Form 929) will be required. Before being given to the window clerks, the receipt forms shall be numbered, in duplicate or triplicate according to the needs of the office, and window clerks shall be required to account for each number. Postmasters may arrange to have the window clerk retain a copy of the receipt, in which case an additional copy will be required.

The bond shall be issued by the window clerk immediately, or at the earliest opportunity, and shall be delivered, with the duplicate receipt attached, and the duplicates of spoiled receipts, at the close of the day to the money order cashier, bookkeeper, or other supervisor designated to hold the bonds pending delivery to the purchaser.

The check or draft, or the proceeds thereof, shall be included in the next regular deposit or remittance of savings-bond funds. At offices operating under the two-division plan, the triplicate receipt shall be attached to the check or draft and delivered with the day's receipts to the remittance unit or employee who prepares the deposit or remittance; and no check or draft other than a Government check shall be accepted by the remittance unit or such employee for deposit or remittance as savings-bond funds unless a copy of the receipt is attached. After being initialed by the remittance unit clerk or other such employee, the triplicate receipt shall be delivered to the money-order cashier, bookkeeper, or other supervisor responsible for holding the bonds pending delivery.

If the check is for a less amount than the value of the bond purchased, the difference shall be paid in cash when the check is accepted, and the receipt form shall be modified accordingly. No check for an amount in excess of the value of the bond purchased should ordinarily be accepted, but if, as a matter of accommodation, a postmaster accepts a check for an excess amount, the difference between the amount of the check and the value of the bond shall be entered on the receipt, and the amount thereof shall be withdrawn from current savings-bond cash and held in trust to be given to the purchaser when the bond is delivered. Obviously, postmasters at offices where little savings bond business is transacted will not be able to accommodate purchasers in this manner.

After allowing ample time for the check or draft to clear, as shown by the notation on the receipt, the official designated for that purpose shall effect delivery of the bond. If the bond is mailed it shall be sent under official registration. In each instance a notation that delivery has been effected and the date thereof shall be entered on the duplicate receipt. The duplicate receipts shall be retained for 6 months and the triplicate copies may be disposed of when delivery is made. Registered mailings of bonds shall be reported to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Registered Mails, Washington, D. C., in accordance with the instructions on page 20 of the October 1937 Supplement to the Postal Guilde.

Neither the monthly reports on Form 904 nor district-office or station reports on Form 914 shall be delayed pending clearance of checks or drafts. If the check or draft is dishonored, the purchaser shall be notified, the bond treated as spoiled, and the records adjusted to reflect the spoiling of the bond and the elimination of credit for the deposit or remittance. Likewise, adjustment entries shall be made on the account current (Form 904) for the month in which notice of nonclearance is received whenever such notice involves a check or draft previously reported as deposited or remitted.

In the case of mail-order purchases, the receipt forms (No. 929 or 929–S) shall be used and the same procedure observed. The original receipt need not be sent the purchaser unless it is anticipated the collection will be greatly delayed.

5. Safekeeping.—Postmasters generally will assist owners in arranging with Federal Reserve banks for the safekeeping of bonds, but shall not act as safekeeping agents. In this respect, postmasters will be guided by the instructions in Treasury Department Circular No. 530, Second Revision.

6. Payment.—Information and instructions concerning the payment of savings bonds will be found in article VI, pages 3, 4, and 5 of Treasury Department Circular No. 530, Second Revision, and paragraphs 26 and 27, section 157, as amended, Postal Laws and Regulations (1932).

Any postmaster may certify to the request for payment, on the back of a savings bond, provided he is positive that the person presenting the bond is the person whose name is inscribed on the face of the bond and there is no evidence of erasure or alteration on the face of the bond. If there is any evidence of erasure or alteration on the face of the bond, postmasters should make a note of the name and address appearing on the bond, the serial number, and the dates of issue and maturity, and promptly furnish this information to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Postal Savings, with request for instructions.

The request for payment must be signed in the presence of, and be certified by, one of the following officers:

(1) At any post office of any class: The postmaster, acting postmaster, or inspector in charge; or

(2) At any post office of the first class (main office): The assistant postmaster, superintendent of mails, the postal cashier, superintendent of money orders, money-order cashier, assistant cashier, bookkeeper, or foreman, or clerk temporarily in charge of the office (cashiers shall not sign as superintendent or assistant superintendent of finance); or

(3) At any post office of the second or third class: The assistant postmaster or, if there is none, the clerk temporarily in charge of the office in the absence of the postmaster; or

(4) At any classified branch or station: The superintendent, assistant superintendent, assistant cashier, bookkeeper, or foreman, or, in the absence of all such officials, the clerk temporarily in charge of the branch or station.

If any of the above-designated post-office officials other than a postmaster, acting postmaster, or inspector in charge of an office certifies to a request for payment, he should certify in the name of the postmaster, acting postmaster, or inspector in charge, followed by his own signature and official title, as, for example, "John Doe, postmaster, by Richard Roe, postal cashier." In the case of a clerk in charge of an office, branch, or station, the official title should be followed by the name of such office, branch, or station, as, for example, "John Doe, postmaster, by Richard Roe, clerk in charge, Main Street Station." The certification of any post-office official must be authenticated by a legible imprint of a dating stamp of his post office.

Certifying officers should require positive identification of the person executing the request for payment as the person whose name appears on the face of the bond as owner, or the person entitled to payment under the Treasury Department's regulations (Circular No. 530, Second Revision), and will be held fully responsible therefor.

No officer of the Postal Service is authorized to certify to the request for payment of a United States savings bond owned by himself.

United States savings bonds shall not be transmitted for payment to the Treasury Department or to a Federal Reserve bank as official matter, but shall be sent at the expense and risk of owners.

7. Disposition of receipts.—Postmasters should observe the provisions of paragraphs 18 and 19, section 157, as amended, of the Postal Laws and Regulations (1932), in disposing of savings-bond funds.

Where there is a Federal Reserve bank, branch Federal Reserve bank, or general depositary for public funds, the postmaster shall deposit his savings-bond receipts in such bank in the general account of the Treasurer of the United States to the credit of the Postmaster General, United States savings bond account, symbol 42008. The symbol number 42008 applies to deposits of the proceeds of bonds of series D, 1939; postmasters will be advised as to the symbol number for any later series or for any subsequent year.

Where there is no Federal Reserve bank, branch Federal Reserve bank, or general depositary for public funds, the postmaster, whether direct or district accounting, shall remit his savings-bond receipts promptly to his designated central savings-bond depositary; and if one or more local banks have been designated limited depositaries for public funds by the Secretary of the Treasury, the postmaster shall deposit his savings-bond receipts temporarily in such bank, as provided in section 120, Postal Laws and Regulations (1932), and remit by official check, avoiding, so far as possible, the purchase of bank drafts and cashier's checks.

Where no bank has been designated as a depositary for public funds, the postmaster may remit in one of the following ways: (1) By establishing a temporary checking account with a local bank as provided in section 120, Postal Laws and Regulations (1932); (2) by obtaining a bank draft or cashier's check; or (3) by sending funds by registered mail. With the first and second methods, a bank which is a member of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation should be used. Central depositaries should inform the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Postal Savings, if unable to negotiate without expense checks or drafts received as remittances or if unable to obtain immediate credit therefor.

When a draft drawn on a bank in the town where the central depositary is located is accepted in payment of savings bonds, collection charges which might be involved if it were deposited in the postmaster's official checking account may probably be avoided by sending the draft itself as part of the day's remittance to the central depositary.

Deposits or remittances of the proceeds of the sale of bonds shall be credited in the monthly savings-bond account, Form 904, for the month in which the bonds were sold, and postmasters shall indicate on each remittance letter, Form 914, or certificate of deposit, Form 5560, by the notation "For credit in ———", the month in which the credit will be applied. So far as possible, funds received from other postmasters shall be charged on the central depositary postmaster's report (Form 904) for the month indicated on the remittance letter, and the deposit of the funds with the Treasurer of the United States shall be credited on the same report.

8. List of central savings-bond depositary post offices.—These offices operate as central depositaries for savings-bond funds and, in addition, act in a central-accounting capacity for savings-bond post offices of the third- and fourth-class. The same offices operate as central depositaries for postal-savings funds, except that there are no postal-savings depositaries in Guam or Samoa, and the central postal-savings depositaries for Alaska are Cordova and Juneau.

9. Stock.—To obtain an additional supply of bonds, postmasters of the first and second classes will submit requisitions to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Postal Savings, using Form 911 for the purpose. Postmasters at third and fourth class offices will submit requisitions for bonds to their respective central savings-bond accounting postmasters.

Postmasters will be held accountable for all savings bonds sent them. Not more than a week's supply of blank bonds of each denomination shall be furnished the window clerk at any one time. The postmaster shall retain in his personal custody the supply of bonds not in use at the window or shall designate some officer or clerk, other than the clerk engaged in window work, who shall be responsible for the safeguarding of the bonds.

Postmasters will be held accountable for all savings bonds sent them. Not more than one book of blank bonds of each denomination shall be furnished the window clerk at any one time except where the sales in the week usually exceed one book. In such cases the postmaster may on his own responsibility furnish the window clerk with a supply of bonds sufficient to take care of a week's sales. The postmaster shall retain in his personal custody the supply of bonds not in use at the window or shall designate some officer or clerk, other than the clerk engaged in window work, who shall be responsible for the safeguarding of the bonds.

10. District post offices, branches, and stations.—Central savings-bond accounting postmasters shall see that postmasters at third-class offices and the selected fourth-class offices have on hand for sale bonds of each denomination, and that they are furnished with stock in the amounts warranted by previous sales. Ordinarily, however, not more than one book of bonds of each denomination shall be supplied to any district office at one time. Such shipments of bonds shall be accompanied by an invoice (Form 912) which shall be prepared in triplicate. One copy shall be retained by the central accounting postmaster. The postmaster to whom the stock is shipped, upon receipt thereof, shall carefully check the bonds with the invoice, sign the original invoice, and return it to the central accounting postmaster. The receipted invoice shall be suitably filed by the central accounting postmaster who will record remittances and the date and serial number of the original registration stubs received from the district postmaster until all the bonds represented by the serial numbers on the invoice have been accounted for. The same procedure shall be followed by postmasters in shipping bonds to branches and stations and in recording remittances received, shipments of bond stock to branches and stations being limited ordinarily to a month's supply.

11. Office records.—District-accounting postmasters, branches, and stations, in addition to the duplicate stubs of sold, spoiled, or damaged bonds, shall retain permanently, or until otherwise authorized, all duplicate copies of remittance letters, Form 914. Properly prepared, the copies of remittance letters, in conjunction with the duplicate stubs, will constitute a complete record of all savings-bond transactions, from which monthly reports on Form 904 may be prepared.

Direct-accounting postmasters shall record on the retained copy of each remittance letter the serial numbers of all bonds sold and covered by the remittance. The copies of remittance letters must be retained until their destruction is authorized. Offices depositing direct with Federal Reserve banks, branch Federal Reserve banks, or general depositories for Government moneys, shall maintain records similar to those outlined above.

At central-accounting offices and offices with branches and stations, the remittance letters received will aid in the preparation of the daily report from the money-order cashier to the bookkeeper or other officer acting in his stead.

12. Spoiled and damaged United States savings bonds.—Any bonds which may be spoiled or damaged before or in the process of issue shall be canceled by writing the word "Spoiled" or "Damaged" and the name of the post office across the face of the bond and the original registration stub. District postmasters shall immediately forward spoiled or damaged bonds and the corresponding original registration stubs to the central accounting postmaster for credit. Direct accounting postmasters shall forward spoiled or damaged bonds and original stubs with monthly reports to the Department. A suitable notation shall be made on the duplicate stub of the spoiled or damaged bond showing the disposition made of the bond and original stub.

13. Reports.—Direct-accounting and central depository postmasters shall prepare and forward to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Postal Savings, a weekly report of savings bonds sold (Form 937) in which the name and address of each purchaser, the number of bonds of each denomination purchased, and the total value thereof at sale price, shall be given. There shall be a separate entry for each transaction, and the purchasers' names need not be listed in alphabetical order. This report shall be prepared from the original registration stubs of sold bonds, which should be reviewed for compliance with the regulations governing inscriptions. A brief notation should be inserted immediately below the entry of each questionable inscription indicating what steps have been taken to correct the irregularity. Each postmaster shall include in his report, listed separately, the sale of each accounting unit—branch, station, or district office.

Monthly accounts current and supporting abstracts (Forms 904 and 905) shall be prepared and submitted as provided in paragraphs 22 to 24, section 157, as amended, Postal Laws and Regulations (1932).

14. Losses.—In the event of loss or destruction of United States savings bonds or funds by fire, burglary, or other casualty at a district office, the postmaster shall report the facts to the inspector in charge of the division in which the post office is located in accordance with the provisions of section 443 of the Postal Laws and Regulations (1932). (See also secs. 158 and 159, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.) In addition, district postmasters shall report such losses to their respective central accounting postmasters and request stock in replacement. The district postmaster's application to the central accounting postmaster for credit on account of unavoidably lost, stolen, or destroyed bonds shall be accompanied by a signed certification in duplicate as follows:

I hereby certify that I have made every reasonable effort to recover the above-numbered United States savings bonds without success and that if at any future time any of the above-numbered United States savings bonds are recovered by me, they shall be promptly transmitted to my central accounting postmaster for transmission to the Department without credit. I also certify that none of the above-numbered United States savings bonds have been sold or otherwise issued by me.

(Signed) ----------, District Postmaster.

The above certification of the district postmaster shall be examined by the central accounting postmaster and verified as to correct serial numbers, and the duplicate copy filed as an office record. The central accounting postmaster shall then forward the original copy to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Postal Savings, certify to the correctness of the serial numbers, and request that a caveat be filed against the lost or destroyed bonds and, if warranted, ask that credit be allowed therefor.

The loss or destruction of United States savings bonds or funds at central accounting and direct accounting post offices shall be immediately reported to the inspector in charge as provided in section 443, Postal Laws and Regulations (1932), and in addition thereto a report shall be immediately forwarded to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Postal Savings, giving the serial numbers and denominations of the United States savings bonds lost or destroyed. The report shall show the date and manner of the loss or destruction and contain a certification of the postmaster to the effect that the bonds referred to have not been sold or issued by him and that in case of their recovery at any future time, they will be immediately returned to the Department for appropriate disposition. (See also sections 158 and 159, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.) After receipt of the above information the Department will file a caveat at the Treasury Department against payment of the bonds reported as unavoidably lost or destroyed, and, if warranted, will request that credit be allowed therefor.

ADJUSTED SERVICE BONDS

The attention of all postmasters is directed to the regulations governing adjusted service bonds as set forth in Treasury Department Circular No. 560, revised, copies of which have been furnished.

Veterans who desire to cash their bonds must sign the request for payment on the back of the bonds in the presence of a certifying officer. All postmasters, acting postmasters, and post-office inspectors in charge of post offices, throughout the United States, including Alaska, Guam, Hawaii, Puerto Rico, Samoa, and the Virgin Islands, are authorized to act as certifying officers and may designate any official or regular employee of the post office to act in that capacity. If such designated official or employee certifies to a request for payment, he shall certify in his own name. The signature of the certifying officer must be followed by his official designation; such as, postmaster, assistant postmaster, superintendent of mails, foreman, or designated clerk.

Certifying officers will be held responsible for positive identification of the person requesting payment as the one whose name appears on the face of the bond. If the veteran is personally known to the postmaster or designated employee, witnesses are not necessary. If he is not known, one or two witnesses who know the veteran and who are known to the certifying officer must sign the bond in the space provided, with their addresses, in the presence of the certifying officer. Space is also provided on the bond for taking fingerprint impressions in exceptional cases. All certifications at post offices must bear a legible imprint of the post office dating stamp. The postmarking, M. O. B., or registry stamp may be used for this purpose. No person authorized to certify a request for payment may certify a request signed by himself, either in his own right or any representative capacity.

The owner must sign the request for payment exactly as his name appears on the face of the bond and must write his address on each bond in the space provided. For example, if the name appears on the face of the bond as "George Washington Jones", the signature should read accordingly, and not "G. W. Jones", or "George W. Jones." If, through inadvertence, the signature is given in incorrect form, the correct signature should be obtained just above, or in the immediate vicinity of, the signature which is not acceptable. The new signature may be written through the text of the request for payment if no other space is available. The certifying officer shall certify along the margin of the bond that he witnessed the new signature. The unacceptable signature shall not be erased, lined out, or modified in any way. Signatures must be in ink or indelible pencil. The owner shall not be required to sign the receipt in the lower left corner on the back of the bond.

Adjusted service bonds the request for payment of which has been signed by the registered owner and certified by the postmaster or designated officer or clerk shall be accepted by the postmaster for transmission to the nearest Federal Reserve bank for payment. The owner shall be given an interim receipt on form ASB 1, which shall be prepared in accordance with the instructions on the form. Each bond so accepted shall be canceled by hand punch perforation in the space indicated on the back of the bond. All adjusted service bonds received by postmasters for certification must be sent promptly direct to the nearest Federal Reserve bank, and the shipments must be sent by official registered mail without prepayment of the registry fee and any required postage. Postmasters transmitting bonds need not report to the Department the registry fees and postage, if any, involved, as these items will be reported by the Federal Reserve banks through their local postmasters to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Registered Mails. Bonds sent to Federal Reserve banks for payment shall be described on form ASB 2, the instructions on which shall be carefully observed. Federal Reserve banks will receipt for all bonds received by them and will forward direct to the registered owners checks drawn on the Treasurer of the United States in payment of the bonds transmitted. The twelve Federal Reserve banks which have been authorized to pay adjusted service bonds are located as follows:

Boston, Mass.	Chicago, Ill.
New York, N. Y.	St. Louis, Mo.
Philadelphia, Pa.	Minneapolis, Minn.
Cleveland, Ohio.	Kansas City, Mo.
Richmond, Va.	Dallas, Tex.
Atlanta, Ga.	San Francisco, Calif.

In case of death or incompetence of the registered owner, the person presenting the bond should be instructed to secure information as to the cashing of the bonds from the Treasury Department, Division of Loans and Currency, Washington, D. C. This applies equally to bonds registered in the names of veterans and to those with a guardianship, conservatorship, or other representative capacity, specifically expressed in the inscription of the bond. The functions of postmasters, in such cases, are limited to certifying the requests for payment executed by representatives whose identity and authority have been established, and returning the bonds to such representatives to be forwarded by them to the Treasury Department, Division of Loans and Currency, Washington, D. C.

Bonds may be certified by agencies outside of the postal service (see Treasury Department Circular No. 560, revised). The owner shall transmit such bonds, at his own risk and expense, preferably by registered mail, to the Treasurer of the United States, Washington, D. C., or any Federal Reserve bank. Postage and registry fee (and any required surcharge) will be chargeable on registered mailings of bonds sent by the owners. Postmasters may consider that the estimated cost of duplication of adjusted service bonds will be the same as the cost of duplication of United States savings bonds, as set forth in the notice published on page 45 of the November 1937 Supplement to the Postal Guide, under the caption "Registry Surcharge on United States Savings Bonds." It should be suggested to the holder who sends bonds by registered mail that he pay a registry fee, in addition to the required postage, sufficient to provide indemnity, in case of loss, to cover the full cost of duplicating the bonds.

THE POSTAL MONEY-ORDER SYSTEM

1. Establishment of money-order service.—In 1864 the need for some safe method by which small sums of money could be sent by mail became so pressing that Congress passed the act authorizing a Postal Money-Order System. The postal money-order service thus established was the pioneer in the money-order field in the United States and the remarkable growth and popularity of this postal facility is due to its universality, its nominal cost, and the safety with which funds may be thus transferred.

2. Advantages.—The practice of forwarding currency in ordinary mail is an incitement to theft. In case of any casualty incident to transportation, money may be destroyed or otherwise lost. But a money order, though lost, may be duplicated from the record of its issue. The public therefore should be urged to use the postal money-order system, which offers a safe, cheap, and convenient method of making remittances.

3. Use of money orders in C. O. D. service.—Postal money orders must be used exclusively in remitting sums collected on mail sent C. O. D.

4. Use of money-order, registry, insurance, and C. O. D. services should be encouraged.—It is enjoined upon postmasters and post-office employees to encourage the use of the money-order, registry, insurance, and C. O. D. services. They should recommend to the public that postal money orders be used instead of cash for remittances by mail.

5. Penalty incurred by disparagement of services.—Disregard of these instructions, or any disparagement of the money-order, registry, insurance, or C. O. D. services, whether by making unfavorable comparison with other means of transportation or otherwise, will interfere with the policy of the Department and be deemed sufficient ground for the removal of the offender.

MONEY-ORDER POST OFFICES

6. Classification of money-order offices.—Money-order offices are of two kinds, "Domestic" and "International." In the Territory of Alaska certain post offices are not authorized to transact money-order business. In the "State List" of this edition of the United States Official Postal Guide such offices are indicated by an asterisk, and certain stations which are not authorized to transact money-order business are also indicated by an asterisk following the name of the station. Changes in the status of money-order offices will be announced from time to time in the monthly supplements.

7. Domestic offices.—Domestic offices are authorized to issue money orders payable at offices in the United States and its possessions and at certain offices in the foreign countries with which the United States transacts money-order business on the domestic basis, which are named in Table No. 1, page 153, of this Guide. Domestic offices are likewise authorized to pay money orders issued at money-order offices in the United States and its possessions, and also at offices in the countries transacting business with the United States on the domestic basis and enumerated in Table No. 1. Domestic offices must not issue money orders for payment in, or pay orders drawn by, any country named in Tables Nos. 2, 3, and 4, on pages 153 to 156.

8. International offices.—International offices issue and pay money orders mentioned in the preceding paragraph and in addition issue orders on, and pay orders drawn by, the foreign countries named in Tables Nos. 2 and 3. They also issue orders which are payable in certain countries with which there is no money-order agreement and pay orders issued in those countries, such orders being sent through the intermediary of another country. (See Table No. 4.) A small fee is charged and deducted from the amount of the order by the postal administration performing the intermediary service.

9. Navy money-order offices.—Money-order offices established on vessels of the Navy are listed as branches of the post office at New York, N. Y., and postmasters should address to the postmaster at New York all inquiries they may have to make regarding money orders issued by, or drawn on, these naval offices.

10. Lists of foreign money-order post offices.—Lists of post offices in the several foreign countries with which the United States transacts money-order business on the domestic basis (see Schedule No. 1, p. 151, and Table No. 1, p. 153) and the money-order offices in Mexico will be found in the Register of Money-Order Post Offices.

11. Name and number of post office.—The postmaster receiving this copy of the Guide will be careful to observe whether the name of his office as printed herein is precisely in accordance with the spelling of the name on money-order forms supplied for issue thereat, and on the M. O. B. stamp furnished for his use; also whether the office number as printed herein is the same as the office number printed on the money-order forms. In case the slightest discrepancy in this respect is noted, the postmaster must promptly report the fact to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Money Orders, by letter, to which should be affixed an imprint of his M. O. B. stamp.

12. Destruction of money-order records.—In case of the destruction of his money-order records by fire, burglary, or otherwise, a postmaster should ascertain as soon as possible whether any orders were issued but not dispatched and presumably destroyed. The complete particulars of any such orders should be determined, if necessary by consulting the remitters, and applications for duplicates submitted promptly at the expiration of 36 days from the date of issue. Likewise if C. O. D. mail has been delivered and the funds and tags destroyed before the issue of the money orders therefor, the postmaster should ascertain the particulars thereof, issue the orders, and submit to the Solicitor for the Post Office Department a claim for the sum destroyed. Pending settlement of the claim the postmaster should carry the amount in his money-order records and accounts as cash on hand. If paid money orders are destroyed, an immediate effort should be made to obtain the particulars of them from the separately filed coupons (see sec. 1440, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932) or, through inquiry of patrons if the coupons also have been stolen or destroyed, so that credit may be secured in accordance with the instructions the coupons also have been stolen or destroyed, so that credit may be secured in accordance with the instructions in paragraph 27, page 146.

13. Examination of blank money-order forms.—All money-order forms must be carefully examined immediately upon receipt and any irregularities reported at once to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Money Orders. See section 1424, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932. This is very important as various irregularities may occur in the printing and binding, such as numbers being duplicated, forms omitted or bound out of sequence, or blank forms inserted. The books are not inspected by this Department, but are sent to postmasters direct from the Government Printing Office.

Certificate No. 6293 should be completed when a money-order form is unaccounted for or when it is missing from a book. This certificate is not furnished to postmasters as a stock form, but will be supplied by the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Money Orders, upon request, at which time the number of the order and full particulars concerning the missing form should be given.

ISSUE AND PAYMENT OF DOMESTIC MONEY ORDERS

14. Maximum amount and period of validity.—The maximum amount for which a single money order may be issued is, by law, $100; but there is no restriction as to the number of domestic money orders which may be issued in one day to the same remitter. A money order is valid for payment for a period of one year from the last day of the month of issue.

15. Care necessary in issuing money orders.—A money order will be issued upon application on Form 6001 as prescribed in the Postal Laws and Regulations. Before proceeding to issue the order the postmaster will examine the application to ascertain whether all the necessary particulars appear therein. He should see that the names of the remitter and payee are legibly written, and that the addresses are given in full (showing street and number, if practicable, when the order is issued or payable in a city). He should enter on the application the serial number of the order to be issued, the fee to be charged and an impression of the M. O. B. stamp. The utmost care should be exercised in the issue of money orders to write the particulars clearly and correctly and to make a legible impression of the M. O. B. stamp on both coupon and receipt, as failure to make a clear impression of the stamp, particularly on the receipt of the order, frequently causes serious embarrassment to the purchaser and much unnecessary labor on the part of postal employees. When it is necessary to issue two or more money orders at the same time for the same remitter and in favor of the same payee one application will suffice, provided the serial number of each order is entered thereon.

16. Money orders issued out of numerical sequence.—Great inconvenience and extra labor are imposed upon postal employees, post-office inspectors, and the General Accounting Office when a book of money-order forms is used out of its regular order and when issued orders are not listed serially as numbered. Postmasters are cautioned to use the greatest care that the serial numbers are entered correctly without break in sequence. After finishing a book of forms postmasters quite frequently make the mistake of taking up a book which does not follow immediately the one just completed. This can be avoided if, when several books of forms are received, the first and last serial numbers are entered on the outside of each book and, when a new book is to be used, the number of the first order in that book is examined to see that it is the next number after the last one issued in the book just completed. If, however, money orders have been issued from the wrong book of forms, that book shall be completed before reverting to the one which should have been used, but the error must be reported to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Money Orders, immediately. In making up lists of money orders issued in which the breaks in the series will appear, a blank space shall be left at each point where the natural sequence of numbers is interrupted, in which to write an explanation for the information of the General Accounting Office.

17. Application forms may be furnished business houses.—Postmasters will be permitted to furnish from their own supplies, free of charge, quantities of the regular application form to business men who may desire to have them overprinted at their own expense, or send them unchanged with advertising matter to their customers. If they are to be overprinted, the postmaster may obtain a supply of such forms in sheets each containing 6 applications, by making special requisition on the Fourth Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Building Operations and Supplies, and stating the purpose for which they are required.

18. Funds improperly deposited in rural mail boxes.—Patrons on rural routes must not deposit money in their mail boxes for the purchase of money orders. Application should be made personally to the carrier and a receipt obtained from him at the time, in accordance with section 1525 of the Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932. Patrons who deposit money in mail boxes, instead of paying it to the carrier and obtaining his receipt, do so at their own risk. If, however, money is left in a box for the purchase of an order the carrier should present it to the postmaster with an application on Form 6001, and upon forwarding the remitter's receipt, the postmaster should call the attention of the sender to the provisions of this paragraph, and enclose one or more blank money order applications.

19. Orders for sums collected on C. O. D. parcels.—In the coupon of a money order issued for the purpose of forwarding the amount due the sender of a C. O. D. parcel the name of the addressee of the parcel is entered as that of remitter, his address furnished and the number of the parcel given so that the sender of the parcel may know how to credit the amount of the remittance. Although he is named as remitter, the money order issued for such purpose is not to be delivered to the addressee of the parcel, but is to be mailed in a penalty envelope bearing the name and address of the payee (sender of the parcel) as given on the tag. For further instructions regarding C. O. D. money-order business, see paragraphs 11, 12, and 13 of section 1415, Postal Laws and Regulations, also paragraph 88, page 208 and paragraphs 102 and 103, page 215 of this Guide.

20. Payment.—(a) A money order will be paid to the payee named therein, or his indorsee, or his agent or attorney upon his written order, on due presentation thereof at any time within one year from the last day of the month of its issue. (See paragraph 43, page 149.) A money order drawn in favor of a person residing on a rural route may be paid through the carrier if intrusted to him for collection and accompanied by a written request addressed to the postmaster that payment be so made.

(b) A money order drawn on the main office may be cashed at a branch office or station without any deduction of fee and should be forwarded as cash to the main office with the daily report made on Form 6019. The particulars of such orders, however, should be described on the report, a legible duplicate of which must be kept in the station, so that proper credit may be taken by the postmaster in the case of loss of such orders in transit. A money order drawn on a branch or through error on a station should be treated as though drawn on the main office.

(c) At a post office where more than one clerk is assigned to pay money orders, each should be instructed to place his initials or other identifying mark on the back of the coupon of an order paid to an individual presenting it at the paying window. If payment is made to some one not personally known to the clerk, he should also make notation of the evidence of ownership presented by the holder. This information is important to inspectors assigned to investigate alleged wrong payment of money orders, and aids the Department in considering the evidence to determine whether proper precaution was observed in effecting payment. Business houses or firms which use identifying data such as account numbers, special stamps, etc., should be asked to place these marks on the back of the coupon rather than the order itself, which action will in many cases obviate the necessity of applying for a photostatic copy of the order when correct payment is in question. The stamped signature of the firm must appear on the order itself, to satisfy the requirement of the General Accounting Office that a voucher must be properly signed.

(d) It occasionally happens that when money orders are presented at a small post office the postmaster is without sufficient funds with which to make immediate payment. In such case the postmaster should tell the patron when funds will be available for payment either through postal receipts, the issue of money orders, by application to the central accounting office for the amount needed, or by asking the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Money Orders, for a special check for the amount. See paragraphs 48 and 49, page 150, and section 1428, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932. In this connection postmasters are reminded that any money in the office may be used for the payment of money orders including funds in the fixed credit, the paid money orders to be included in the next remittance to the central accounting office.

(e) If the patron is unwilling to wait until the postmaster obtains the necessary funds he should be asked to name a nearby larger office at which he will present the orders. The postmaster should then deliver to the patron a note addressed to the postmaster at the larger office stating that because of lack of funds the orders could not be paid at the office drawn on without delay and asking that they be cashed at full face value without any deduction for fee. The money orders are not to be considered as paid at the office which advances the money but, after the impression of the M. O. B. stamp is placed on the back, shall be enclosed in a letter addressed to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Money Orders, stating that the orders were cashed because of lack of funds at the office on which drawn and asking to be reimbursed. The Third Assistant Postmaster General will then send the orders to the paying office accompanied by a special check on the Treasurer of the United States for their value with instructions that they be treated as paid and the check sent to the postmaster who cashed the money orders to reimburse him for his outlay. The letter of transmittal shall fully describe each order and a copy shall be retained by the cashing office.

21. Method for filing coupons of paid money orders at large post offices.—At first and second class post offices where orders are not tabulated by the electrical accounting system a very expensive process connected with the transaction of money-order business is the sorting and filing of coupons of paid money orders.

The following method prescribed by paragraph 2, section 1440, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, as amended, is recommended for use at those post offices of the first and second classes which pay enough money orders daily to insure a saving in time by its adoption.

A distributing case, with compartments for each State and several extra to be used as needed for large States or cities may be used for sorting the paid coupons. They are placed each day face downward in the appropriate compartment and allowed to accumulate until the end of the month. At the end of the month the coupons are taken from the case and tied in bundles with appropriate labels showing the States in which the orders were issued, but no attempt is made to further assort the coupons. By this procedure less than 15 minutes are required each day to assort 500 coupons. When it is necessary to search for a record of payment the appropriate State bundle is searched by leafing through for the coupon, as many bundles being searched as months have elapsed since the order was issued. Since it may be necessary to leaf through the entire bundle, more time, of course, is required for searching than under the former system. Experience has shown, however, that this is much more than offset by the time saved in not sorting the coupons. (For the method to be used at district offices see paragraph 47, page 149.)

22. Repayment.—Within one year from the last day of the month of its issue a domestic money order may be repaid at the office of issue to the remitter, payee or endorsee; during that time the remitter may obtain payment at the office on which it is drawn and, subject to the provisions of amended section 1429, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, he may cash it at any other post office. See paragraph 8, section 1433, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932. (For repayment of international money orders, see paragraph 80, page 159.)

23. Stolen money-order forms.—The post-office inspector in charge of the division should be notified by wire in the case of theft of blank money-order forms from a post office. After having once reported them as stolen, postmasters should not use blank money-order forms if they are later recovered, but hold them pending receipt of instructions from an inspector or the Department regarding their disposition. Money orders issued on stolen forms will not be accepted as valid vouchers for disbursements. Every new robbery is printed in bold-faced type in the notice of stolen money-order forms published in the Postal Bulletin and supplements to the Postal Guide, and upon receipt of such notice postmasters are expected to search their files of paid coupons as far back as the date the theft is reported to have occurred. This feature is important, inasmuch as prompt detection of the payment of a stolen order will often result in checking the operations of the forger and lead to his arrest. Postmasters should keep a current record file of such orders for ready reference, and if any of the stolen forms are presented, the postmaster should refuse payment, and wire the post-office inspector in charge of his division. Statements of paid orders should be carefully examined before dispatch to the Department or the central accounting office, and if any order issued on a stolen form is found, whether presented through a bank or otherwise, it should be eliminated from the account and the fact reported immediately by letter to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Money Orders. Failure to comply with these instructions is likely to result in personal loss to postmasters.

24. Inquiry as to payment of a money order.—An inquiry as to payment of a domestic money order (Form 6193) should not be forwarded to the paying office until 15 days after the issue of the order, unless the remitter can exhibit a letter denying receipt of the remittance written after the lapse of ample time for the payee to have received the order, in which case that fact should be indicated on the form before it is forwarded to the paying postmaster. Postmasters should return without action all inquiries on Form 6193 dated within 15 days from the date of issue of the money order which do not contain a statement that the remitter has received word from the payee that the order has not reached him.

25. Date of payment.—The date of payment stamped on a money order is very frequently illegible because of carelessness in making the stamp impression, and at some of the larger offices where perforating machines are used for punching the date, it sometimes happens that the written or stamped date of issue and the amount are partially obliterated because care is not exercised in making the perforations. It is suggested that the order be perforated just below the center, preferably in that portion which contains printed instructions and the seal. Considerable trouble in the handling of the paid orders in the General Accounting Office will be avoided if these instructions are followed.

26. Alleged wrong payment of money orders.—When a postmaster is notified of the wrong payment of a money order at his office, he should promptly report the matter to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Money Orders, and on Form 6065 request a photostatic copy of the paid order for examination by the complainant. If the paying office is of the first or second class, the postmaster should give the date of payment and the "file number" or the sheet, column, and running number of the order in the account in which credit therefor was taken, so that the order may be located in the files of the General Accounting Office. If the paying office is of the third or fourth class, the date on which the paid order was forwarded to the central accounting office should be given. If a photostatic copy of a paid money order is needed for any other purpose the same procedure must be followed.

27. Money order lost after payment.—To obtain proper credit for a domestic money order which has been paid and lost, the paying postmaster should fill out special Form 6551 (certificate for lost or destroyed domestic money order) and forward it in lieu of the paid order. This form is not furnished to postmasters to be placed in stock but may be obtained from the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Money Orders, when needed.

28. Identification.—The person who presents a money order for payment must be identified if unknown to the postmaster. Paying clerks should not accept as conclusive evidence of identity letters, receipted bills, bank deposit books, chauffeur's licenses or temporary driver's permits. Letters, bills and bank books are frequently stolen with the money orders. It is comparatively easy in many States for any person to obtain a driver's permit or chauffeur's license under an assumed name, and postal employees should be especially careful when this type of identification is offered by persons presenting money orders for payment. Thieves even employ photographs, pocket cardcases, and printed business cards bearing fictitious names corresponding with forged orders made out on regular money-order forms stolen from post offices.

In addition to the necessity for identifying the holder, a postmaster should be certain that an endorsed money order bears the genuine signature of the payee, and if the payee's signature is unknown to him he should, if the person presenting the order is a stranger or unreliable, have such endorsement guaranteed by the signature of someone financially responsible.

While responsibilty for the identity of the payee rests upon the paying official and the Department does not undertake to specify what shall be considered sufficient identification, it is expected that in the exercise of reasonable precautions money orders will be paid. In no other way could travelers and the public generally make full use of the postal money-order system, which is designed to afford them a safe and convenient method of sending money by paper which they have a right to expect will be promptly honored upon presentation. For this reason postmasters should encourage the use of Form 6339, not only to aid patrons in obtaining prompt payment of money orders, but to reduce the possibilities for error in the payment of orders presented by strangers at post offices. This form is intended primarily to serve as identification of travelers who wish to buy money orders payable to themselves, but by slightly changing the wording the form may also be used as an aid to the identity of any payee of a money order, particularly those who may receive remittances from their employers at various points where they are unknown. The use of the form is essentially the same in both cases. (See sections 1411 and 1430, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932..)

29. Indorsements.—More than one indorsement on a money order is prohibited by law; but there is no objection to signatures affixed thereto for the purpose of identification or to guarantee the signature of payee or indorsee; and postmasters are encouraged to secure written assurance of this kind when in doubt as to the identity of the applicant for payment. Even if an order bears two or more indorsements it may yet be paid to the first indorsee on due presentation thereof properly receipted by him, provided it is regular in all other respects. The indorsements inconsistent with such payment may be stricken out. The stamp impressions which banks ordinarily place upon orders left with or sent to them for collection are not regarded as indorsements transferring ownership of the orders, or within the meaning of the statute which forbids more than one indorsement.

30. Payments to banks.—When an order purporting to have been properly receipted by the payee, or indorsee, is deposited in a bank for collection, the postmaster at the office drawn upon may effect payment to the bank, provided there be a guaranty on the part of the bank to refund the amount should it later develop that the depositor was not the owner of the order. An order thus paid should bear upon its back the impression of the stamp of the bank.

Money orders sent by banks located in other cities to the postmaster at the office of issue or the office on which drawn may be paid by checks drawn on the Treasurer of the United States and forwarded to the cashing bank by mail, provided the bank by its stamp on the back of each order guarantees all prior indorsements. As such payments are an accommodation to the bank, postage for transporting the check should be furnished by that institution, and if it is not enclosed with the money order the check should be drawn for the face value of the order less the postage. When, however, the bank's collection letter bears an indorsement that the money order represents payment of an obligation of the United States Government and must be paid at par, the check shall be drawn for the full face value of the money order and mailed free of postage in an official penalty envelope. A money order sent by a Government establishment to the office of issue or the office on which drawn shall be paid by a check issued against the postmaster's money-order credit with the Treasurer of the United States, and the check so issued shall be delivered or mailed in a penalty envelope to that particular branch of the Government which forwarded the money order. Should the postmaster at the office on which the order was drawn not have a money-order credit with the Treasurer of the United States, he shall apply to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Money Orders, for a special check for the amount needed.

31. Payable at any money-order office within 30 days after issue.—As a matter of convenience to the traveling public, original domestic money orders issued at and drawn on money-order offices in the continental United States, exclusive of Alaska, are payable on proper presentation at any money-order post office in the continental United States, exclusive of Alaska, within 30 days from date of issue, after which time such orders may be paid only at the offices therein designated.

By the act of Congress approved June 16, 1934, it is provided that for this service another fee shall be charged equal to that paid for the issue of the order. The requirement of the law should be explained to persons presenting money orders for payment at an office other than the one on which drawn and payment made of the face value of the order less the legal fee. The instructions regarding the collection of these fees and the manner of accounting for them heretofore sent to postmasters should be carefully observed. See section 1429, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, as amended.

32. Procedure after payment of order not drawn on the office at which paid.—(a) Immediately after paying a money order drawn upon an office other than his own, the postmaster, as provided in amended section 1429, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, will send to the issuing post office a notice thereof on Form 6126 which shall describe the order by giving its serial number, amount, date of issue, date of payment, and name of issuing office, and the office on which drawn. On the back of the order and of the coupon he will stamp the date on which it was cashed, note the dispatch of Form 6126 to the issuing postmaster, and, pending receipt of reply, carry the order as cash on hand.

(b) The patron shall not be required to pay the fee when there is an error in the office of payment which is clearly chargeable to the issuing postmaster, as, for example, when there is no such office listed in the Guide; when the name of the office consists of two or more words and not all are given; or when the name of the office or the State or both have been altered or are omitted entirely. This does not modify paragraph 5, section 1429, of the Regulations. In such cases the money order shall be paid to the payee for the full amount and sent with Form 6518 to the issuing postmaster, who shall treat it as repaid and issue a new order for the full amount in favor of the paying postmaster. The fee for the new order shall be paid from the personal funds of the issuing employee who made the mistake. In no case may the issuing postmaster substitute Form 6006 for Form 6518, and the paying office shall report to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Money Orders, any refusal of an issuing postmaster to comply with these instructions or any delay in doing so.

(c) When, however, the payee claims that the issuing official has entered the wrong office or State or both and there is actually found to be such an office listed in the Guide, the following procedure is authorized: The paying office shall pay the order, deduct the legal fee (subject to return if the fault is found to be that of the issuing postmaster), and forward Form 6126 to the issuing postmaster with a letter or slip reading as follows:

"The payee of the money order described in the attached Form 6126 claims that the issuing employee has made a mistake in drawing it on the wrong post office; that the remitter intended it should be drawn on this office. If the remitter's application shows that this is true, please complete and forward to me Form 6006 giving this city as the correct paying office. If, on the other hand, the application shows any other place as the paying office, please complete and return to me the reply coupon of the enclosed Form 6126, and the money order will be treated as paid at an office other than that on which drawn and the fee collected from the payee will be retained."

(d) If Form 6006 is received from the issuing office, the paying postmaster shall return the fee to the payee, attach his receipt for it to the back of the paid order, and across the face shall write, "Paying office corrected by Form 6006." If, however, the reply coupon of Form 6126 is returned by the issuing office, the paying postmaster shall treat the order in the manner described in paragraph 35, page 148, of the Guide, and shall retain the fee.

33. Payment of money orders drawn on discontinued or closed offices.—When the office drawn on is a discontinued office or a summer or winter office closed for the season, the money order should be paid, without the exaction of a fee, at the office to which the records have been sent and the order treated at the latter office as if drawn thereon. For the information of the General Accounting Office the following statement should be written across the face of the order so cashed "Paying office discontinued" or "Paying office closed." Money orders drawn on a branch office or rural station and those drawn by error on a station should be treated as though drawn on the main office.

34. Action required of issuing postmaster upon receipt of Form 6126.—The issuing postmaster upon receipt of notice on Form 6126 will immediately examine his records for the purpose of ascertaining whether an application for a duplicate of the order has been certified. If no such application has been received, he will at once fill out, sign, detach, and mail to the office at which the order has been paid, the required acknowledgment of receipt of notice of the payment (reply coupon of Form 6126). He will then file the notice with the application on which the order was issued and, at offices required to keep such a record, he will make a note in his register of orders issued, giving the name of the office at which the order has been paid and the date of its payment.

35. Order stamped and credit taken.—Upon receipt of the reply coupon of Form 6126, containing a statement that no application for a duplicate of the order has been received, the postmaster who cashed the order will stamp it on the face as paid, and take credit in the cash book for payment. The reply coupon is to be attached to and filed with the coupon of the paid order, and across the face of the paid order should be written or stamped the words, "Coupon of Form 6126 on file."

36. Failure to respond to notice that money order has been cashed.—If after the lapse of sufficient time the postmaster sending notice on Form 6126 shall not have received a reply, he will mail to the issuing postmaster another such notice, marking the same "Second notice"; and if after lapse of another such period no response shall have been received, he will report the fact to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Money Orders, giving on Form 6126 a description of the order, with date of payment, and the dates on which the notices were sent.

37. Prevention of double payment.—If upon receipt of notice on Form 6126 of payment of a money order the issuing postmaster finds that he has already certified to an application for a duplicate of the order, he will promptly forward such notice to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Money Orders, with a statement of the date on which such application was certified and forwarded.

38. Treatment of application for duplicate when original has been cashed.—If after receipt of notice that the original has been paid elsewhere, an application for a duplicate order is received by the issuing postmaster from the office on which the original was drawn, he will return the application to the postmaster drawn upon with a statement that the order has been paid, naming place and date. If the circumstances call for investigation, the matter should be referred to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Money Orders.

39. Accounting for amount of cashed order before taking credit.—In rendering accounts the amount of a money order being carried as cash, pending receipt of reply coupon Form 6126 or separate advice Form 6006, must be entered opposite the printed notation: "Suspended M. O. held as cash." A similar entry should be made in the money-order cash book.

40. Money orders not to be cashed after 30 days.—When an order more than 30 days old is presented at other than the office on which drawn or the office of issue, the holder should be advised to send it to the issuing or paying office, with request that it be paid by the issue of another money order for the same amount less fee drawn on the office at which the holder expects to present it.

41. Treatment of money orders issued in or drawn on possessions of the United States.—A money order issued in Alaska, Guam, Hawaii, Puerto Rico, Tutuila (Samoa), or the United States Virgin Islands may be treated as paid only at the office drawn upon or repaid at the office of issue. Exceptions to this rule are allowed for orders issued in Hawaii and Puerto Rico and drawn on offices located in the Territory of issue, which may be paid, within 30 days from the date of issue, at any other post office in the Territory after deduction of the fee.

When a money order issued in any of the above-named possessions of the United States is presented at a post office in the continental United States on which it is not drawn, the owner should be informed that it may be paid only at the office named as the paying office. He should be told that if it is impracticable for him to present the order at that office, he may forward it there by mail, with the request that the postmaster issue a new order for the same amount, less fee, drawn on the post office at which he expects to present it. See section 1436, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932. (Regarding Canal Zone orders see par. 67, page 157.)

42. Erasures and alterations in money orders.—No alteration, change, erasure, or substitution either of words or figures, should be made in the issue of a money order. If, in writing an order, it is blotted, soiled, or disfigured and the mistake is discovered before the remitter leaves the post office, no attempt should be made to change the order in any way, but it should be treated as "not issued" and another one should be written without an additional fee. See sections 1418 and 1419, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.

A money order bearing marks of alteration of date, name, or amount should be paid only at the office on which it is drawn or repaid at the office of issue. Before payment the correct particulars should be obtained from the issuing office by the use of Form 6006.

A money order in which the name of the paying office has been altered should be treated in accordance with paragraph 32 (b), page 137.

DUPLICATE MONEY ORDERS AND WARRANTS

43. Lost orders.—A duplicate of a lost or mutilated order, or of one rendered void by too many indorsements, may be obtained from the department at any time within one year from the last day of the month of issue of the original by applying through any postmaster. However, a duplicate will not be issued in lieu of a lost order prior to the expiration of the thirty-sixth day following the date on which the original was drawn, unless a bond of indemnity is submitted in accordance with the requirements of the following paragraph. A duplicate may be paid only at the office on which the original was drawn or at the office of issue.

44. Bonds of indemnity for the issue of duplicate money orders.—A duplicate money order will be issued without regard to the 36-day period, provided the applicant executes a bond of indemnity on Form 6116. It should be sent to the Department with the application, on which a notation should be made to the effect that it is accompanied by a bond. Postmasters should not exact bonds for the issue of duplicates in any other cases, except when specifically directed to do so by the Department.

45. Application for duplicate—when accepted.—Where bonds of indemnity will not be given, an application for a duplicate of an order alleged to have been lost or destroyed may be accepted by the postmaster at any time from the remitter, payee, or indorsee, but it shall not be certified or forwarded by the issuing postmaster from his office until 36 days after the issue of the original order, the period within which he will in all probability receive notice on Form 6126 if payment of the original has been made at an office other than the one on which drawn. (See sec. 1429, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.) If the money order was sent by ordinary mail and lost in transit, Form 1510 should be completed in accordance with the instructions given in paragraph 1 on the reverse side of the Form 6002. The disposal made of Form 1510 should be noted on the face of the application for a duplicate.

46. Invalid money orders.—Postmasters are cautioned to examine carefully the date of any money order presented for payment to see that not more than 1 year has elapsed since the last day of the month of issue, as credit for payment of an invalid money order will not be allowed by the General Accounting Office. A money order which has become invalid by reason of age can be paid only by means of a post office settlement warrant, application for which should be filed on Form 6003. If the invalid order is in the possession of the applicant, it should be attached to the form and both forwarded directly to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Money Orders. See the instructions on the reverse of Form 6003.

MONEY-ORDER BUSINESS AT DISTRICT OFFICES

47. Instructions to district postmasters.—At district offices cash received for the issue of money orders and fees immediately becomes postal funds which are available for meeting the expenses of the office. All funds on hand may be used to pay money orders. Paid money orders become the same as cash at district offices and are remitted as such to the central accounting postmaster, either as a deposit of surplus funds or in the purchase of needed stamp stock. All paid money orders (except those paid from and retained with the fixed-credit stamp account) should be included in the remittance of surplus funds sent from a district office to its central accounting office. The paid orders forming a part of such remittance must be listed on Form 1841, a copy of which must be retained on file at the remitting office, and a total of the list entered in the proper space on the remittance letter. Postmasters must be careful not to include money orders cashed and held pending replies to Forms 6006 and 6126, as credit can not be taken for such orders until satisfactory answers are received from the postmasters addressed. Such orders, however, form a part of the cash on hand. Money orders issued at district offices should be recorded in the register of orders issued, and the coupons of the paid orders detached and retained on file. The record of paid money orders at district offices will consist of the paid coupons, which should be filed by quarters first by States alphabetically, and then by the alphabetical sequence of offices within each State, so that they may be readily consulted for the purpose of answering inquiries and certifying to applications for duplicates and warrants. It is very essential that these paid coupons be kept in a careful manner for at least three years, as they constitute the only record of orders paid.

FUNDS FURNISHED TO POSTMASTERS FOR PAYMENT OF MONEY ORDERS

48. How to apply for funds.—Every effort to effect prompt payment of money orders should be made and a postmaster at an office lacking sufficient funds should, if time permits and the check can be cashed or will be accepted by the holder of the orders, apply to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Money Orders, for a special check drawn on the Treasurer of the United States for the required amount. If, however, the money is needed immediately or the check cannot be negotiated the postmaster at a district office should apply to his central accounting office for the amount. If neither method will insure the receipt of funds soon enough, the holder of the orders may be referred to a nearby large office in the manner provided by section (e) of paragraph 19. If there is a frequent lack of funds, a credit on money-order account should be requested in the manner prescribed in the following paragraph.

49. Credit on money-order account against which checks may be drawn.—When the funds on hand at an office are constantly insufficient to pay money orders, the postmaster should apply to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Money Orders, for a credit of a specific amount against which checks may be drawn on the Treasurer of the United States. A supply of checks bound in book form will be furnished the postmaster for use in drawing against such credit. (See in this connection secs. 1501 and 1502, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

50. Transfer of postal and money-order funds.—Funds received in the transaction of money-order business at all third and fourth class offices immediately become postal funds; therefore, the transfer of funds from postal to money-order account or from money-order to postal account applies only to offices of the first and second class. See section 1499 of the Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932. Postmasters at central or direct accounting offices may transfer funds from and to the money-order account as needed.

RESERVES AND SURPLUS MONEY-ORDER FUNDS

51. Increase or reduction of money-order reserve.—The money-order reserve, which is allowed only at direct accounting offices (for district offices see par. 15, p. 69), is fixed at an amount presumed to be sufficient to insure ample funds at peak periods or when unusual demands must be met. If, however, it is found to be insufficient a request for an increase in the amount should be made promptly and if conditions so change as to make the retention of the entire amount unnecessary its reduction should be recommended, such request or recommendation being addressed to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Money Orders.

52. Surplus money-order funds to be remitted daily.—Many postmasters do not remit their surplus money-order funds promptly as required by the regulations, and they are cautioned that failure to do so may result in loss by fire, burglary, or otherwise, of funds for which the postmaster or his bondsmen are responsible.

Congress does not appropriate money for the purpose of paying money orders, and it is necessary that surplus funds be forwarded promptly to depository offices to insure immediate payment of money orders wherever presented. When made entirely by check or checks, remittances of money-order funds should be sent by ordinary (not registered) mail.

If Government paper of any kind, including checks for interest, is cashed from surplus money-order funds in accordance with the permission granted by paragraph 2, section 1409, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, and in the manner prescribed by paragraphs 4 and 5, pages 67 and 68, such paper should be remitted with the remaining surplus money-order funds to the regularly designated depository. A postmaster is not permitted to accumulate such funds for anticipated payments, nor should he draw checks against his money-order credit with the Treasurer of the United States to obtain money for that purpose.

53. List of money-order depository post offices.—Postmasters at first- and second-class offices who have not been otherwise instructed are required to deposit their surplus money-order funds (amounts less than $50 need not be remitted) at certain conveniently located post offices called "depositories." As a rule, a selection is made of that depository from which a certificate of deposit may be received in the shortest time. If it happens that, owing to changes in registry and railroad schedules, a postmaster finds that he may remit more conveniently to a depository other than that designated for his office, he should notify the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Money Orders, and, if advisable, authority to change his depository will be given.

FEES FOR MONEY ORDERS

SCHEDULE NO. 1

54. Fees charged for money orders issued on domestic form.—Payable in the United States, including Hawaii, Puerto Rico, and the United States Virgin Islands, or in Guam and Tutuila (Samoa); also for orders payable in Antigua, Bahamas, Barbados, Bermuda, British Guiana, British Honduras, British Virgin Islands, Canada, Canal Zone, Cuba, Dominica, Grenada, Jamaica, Montserrat, Nevis, Newfoundland, Philippine Islands, St. Kitts, St. Lucia, St. Vincent, Trinidad and Tobago.

For orders from $0.01 to $2.50	6 cents.
For orders from $2.51 to $5.00	8 cents.
For orders from $5.01 to $10.00	11 cents.
For orders from $10.01 to $20.00	13 cents.
For orders from $20.01 to $40.00	15 cents.
For orders from $40.01 to $60.00	18 cents.
For orders from $60.01 to $80.00	20 cents.
For orders from $80.01 to $100.00	22 cents.

55. Fees—Payment by Public Voucher Form 1034.—Money orders may not be issued without the collection of the proper fee, but for certain Government activities postmasters are permitted to accept from duly authorized agents Public Voucher Form 1034 in payment for such fees. When forwarded to the disbursing officer of the proper Government agency, these vouchers are replaced by a check drawn on the Treasurer of the United States, in favor of the postmaster at whose office the money orders were issued. This arrangement is in force with the Farm Credit Administration, the Farm Security Administration, the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation, and the Soil Conservation Service. With the War Department an arrangement is in effect by which the agent finance officer pays the fee in cash and the postmaster signs in duplicate Public Voucher Form 1034 prepared by the finance officer covering the fee. (For the Farm Credit Administration, see the Supplements of August 1932 and August 1933; for the Farm Security Administration, the Supplements of August 1936, May 1937, and January 1938; for the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation, the Supplement of July 1938; for the Soil Conservation Service, the Supplement of February 1939, and for the War Department, the Supplement of June 1937.)

56. Caution—Postmasters at domestic money-order offices are not authorized to issue money orders for payment in foreign countries other than those enumerated in the above schedule No. 1.—When an intending remitter applies at a domestic office for a money order payable in any other foreign country the postmaster should direct him to the nearest international money-order office. Particular care should be taken not to draw orders upon places on the Isthmus of Panama outside the Canal Zone; but for persons residing at Colon, Republic of Panama, orders on domestic form may be drawn on Cristobal, Canal Zone, which adjoins Colon, while for residents of the city of Panama, Republic of Panama, orders on like form may be drawn on the adjoining town of Ancon, Canal Zone.

[1] Amount in figures should be expressed in currencies of both countries.

[2] Orders must not be drawn on China when remittances are intended for payment in Hong Kong, which is a British colony comprising the Island of Hong Kong and the Peninsula of Kowloon.

[3] Honolulu is the exchange office for Hawaii, and Pago Pago for Tutuila (Samoa). Seattle is the exchange office for orders on Japan, issued in Alaska, Idaho, Minnesota, Montana, North Dakota, Oregon, and Washington. Honolulu is the exchange office for Hawaii for certification of orders on or from China, Japan, New Zealand, the States comprising the Commonwealth of Australia, or the British colony of Hong Kong.

[4] In Germany and in the Free City of Danzig payment is made on a card order (Form 6309 or 6309a as the case may be) which must be sent to the exchange office with the original order, advice and coupon. See second paragraph of instructions printed on the international money-order form.

[5] The French Levant consists of the States of Syria, Lebanon, Latakia, and Jebel Druze.

[6] Exchange offices for Mexico: Laredo, Tex., for States east of the Mississippi River; El Paso, for States west of the Mississippi, except certain offices in Texas which have been otherwise instructed.

[7] Money order business temporarily suspended.

62. List of countries and localities reached by indirect exchange.—In the subjoined Table No. 4, and the notes following it, will be found the names of the countries or localities to which money orders may be sent through the intermediary of one of the postal administrations listed in Tables Nos. 2 and 3, and such instructions in the matter as are necessary. (See also pp. 14 to 36 of "International List," Pamphlet XIV.)

NOTE 1.—Amount in figures should be expressed in currencies of both countries.

NOTE 2.—Honolulu is the exchange office for Hawaii, and Pago Pago for Tutuila (Samoa). Seattle is the exchange office for orders on Japan, issued in Alaska, Idaho, Minnesota, Montana, North Dakota, Oregon, and Washington. Honolulu is the exchange office for Hawaii for certification of orders on or from China, Japan, New Zealand, the States comprising the Commonwealth of Australia, or the British Colony of Hong Kong.

NOTE 3.—Order to be handed to remitter to be mailed by him to payee.

NOTE 4.—Order should be marked "canceled" and sent to the exchange office with advice and coupon.

NOTE 5.—Money order business temporarily suspended.

SEMI-DOMESTIC MONEY-ORDER BUSINESS

63. Money-order business with certain countries conducted on the domestic basis.—There are 21 countries with which money-order business is transacted without the service of exchange offices. These countries are listed in Table No. 1. The domestic money-order form is used, and such orders may be issued at any post office in the United States but must be paid in the country drawn on or repaid at the office of issue. The amounts are expressed in dollars and cents only.

64. Before issuing orders tables should be consulted.—Numerous errors are made in drawing domestic money orders on foreign countries when the international money-order form should have been used, and such mistakes cause serious inconvenience to remitters and payees. When a patron applies for a money order payable abroad, the postmaster should first consult Tables Nos. 1, 2, 3, and 4 to ascertain to which of the groups the country belongs. If it be found in Table No. 1, the order should be issued on the domestic form, and delivered to the applicant with instructions to mail it to the payee. Advices must not be sent to any of these countries except St. Vincent. When a money order is drawn for payment in St. Vincent, a separate advice on Form 6006a should be dispatched to the postmaster at the office drawn on by the earliest mail available.

Postmasters are reminded, however, that advices are required from all of the countries named in Table No. 1, except Canada, Canal Zone, Cuba, Jamaica, Newfoundland, and the Philippine Islands. When a money order issued in any of these six countries is paid, the postmaster should detach the coupon, stamp it with the date of payment and file it, in lieu of an advice, with his records of paid orders.

In Philippine money orders the margin is cut to show the maximum in dollars, the amount in cents, if any being disregarded. For example, the margin of a Philippine order for $1.75 would be properly cut at $1, whereas the margin of a United States order for that amount would be correctly cut at $2.

In drawing money orders for payment in the British West Indies, postmasters should always write the name of the colony in which the paying office is situated, as, for instance, St. John, Barbados, B. W. I., or St. Joseph, Trinidad, B. W. I. This is absolutely necessary, as there may be post offices of the same name in two or more of the colonies in the British West Indies upon which money orders may be drawn, and considerable delay and confusion result when only "B. W. I." is written after the name of the paying office.

The Register of Money Order Post Offices contains a complete list of the offices on which money orders may be drawn for payment in the countries named in table No. 1 and it should be consulted before an order payable in any of those countries issued.

65. Money orders not to be drawn on the Republic of Santo Domingo or the Republic of Haiti.—Postmasters should not accept applications for the issue of money orders on the Dominican Republic (Santo Domingo) or the Republic of Haiti, as no arrangements exist for the payment of United States money orders in those countries. Postmasters, however, should not confuse the Dominican Republic (Santo Domingo) with Dominica, West Indies, upon which British colony United States orders may be drawn in accordance with the provisions of Table No. 1.

66. Canadian postal notes not payable in United States.—If any such postal note is presented at any post office in this country, the postmaster should decline to pay it and advise the holder to return it to the sender for redemption or exchange for a money order.

67. Orders payable only at office drawn on.—Money orders issued in any of the countries named in Table No. 1 may be paid only at the office drawn on. Should an order be presented for payment at an office other than that on which it is drawn, the postmaster should forward it to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Money Orders, with request for authority to pay. Postmasters are particularly cautioned that this applies to money orders issued in the Canal Zone which has a separate postal administration.

68. Duplicates of lost or invalid orders.— When application is made for a duplicate of a money order issued or payable in any of the countries named in Table No. 1, postmasters should enter all the particulars on Form 6002 and transmit it directly to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Money Orders—not to the office on which drawn. The signature of the remitter is not necessary when the duplicate is to be paid to the payee. In cases where repayment of an invalid United States order is desired an application for a warrant (Form 6003) should be used.

Duplicates of money orders issued in any of these countries should not be mailed to the payees when received by the paying postmaster but should be held by him with the coupon or advice and the payee notified to call and obtain payment. If the payee does not come to the post office after a lapse of 30 days, the duplicate should be returned to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Money Orders. Upon payment of a duplicate which has a coupon, instead of an advice, the coupon should be detached and retained on file as a record of the transaction, the same as an advice.

69. Invalid advices.—"Invalid advices" of orders issued in countries with which the United States transacts money-order business by use of the domestic form—i. e., advices of orders which have remained unpaid for more than one year from the last day of the month of issue—should be forwarded to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Money Orders, conformably to section 1487 of the Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.

70. Limit on correspondence.—Postmasters are expressly forbidden to correspond officially with the postal administration of Canada or with Canadian postmasters regarding money orders, except when it is necessary to apply for a separate advice or to forward an advice of an order to Canada. Such correspondence may be conducted between the issuing and paying postmasters direct. All other correspondence, however, including inquiries as to payment, should be referred to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Money Orders, in accordance with a request of the department at Ottawa. Inquiries concerning payment of money orders drawn on other countries named in table No. 1, and notices of repayment of original orders may be sent direct to the postmasters drawn on. All other correspondence should be referred to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Money Orders.

INTERNATIONAL BUSINESS—DIRECT EXCHANGE

71. Application must not be filled in by postal employee.—Postmasters and money-order clerks are strictly forbidden to fill in for an intending remitter the application for an international money order (see the instructions printed on the form itself). If the remitter is unable to write, the application should be filled in for him by some person not connected with the post office.

72. Exchange offices.—Where dissimilarity of language and monetary systems necessitate that course, money-order business is transacted with countries abroad through exchange offices. To these offices all advices of issued orders are first sent for verification, and for correction of errors. The particulars of the advices are then entered on descriptive lists which are numbered consecutively. Each entry therein is preceded by two numbers, the serial number of the order and the number assigned by the exchange office, the latter being technically known as the "international number." This expedient facilitates definite identification of any particular remittance referred to in subsequent correspondence or in corrections affecting the accounts.

73. Form of order to use and disposal of component parts.—In the preceding pages are three tables of the countries with which the United States transacts money-order business by direct exchange, and a fourth showing the countries which may be reached "indirectly." The first table includes all countries with which business is conducted on the domestic basis, and instructions concerning it are given in paragraphs 63 to 70 inclusive, page 157. In Table No. 2 are listed the countries in doing business with which the international form is used and the original order is delivered to the remitter. (The postmaster should use the international form, fill out all parts, deliver the receipt and original order to the remitter, and mail the advice and coupon to the proper exchange office.) Table No. 3 gives other countries requiring the use of the international form. In these countries payment is usually effected on orders reissued at their respective exchange offices. (The international form is to be used and only the receipt and coupon portion are to be filled out by the carbon process. The original order, without being filled out in any manner, must be stamped "Canceled." The advice must be filled out plainly and completely with pen and ink, after which the advice, coupon and "Canceled" order are to be forwarded to the proper exchange office. The receipt only is to be handed to the remitter.) In Germany and in the Free City of Danzig payment is made on a card order, Form 6309 or 6309a, as the case may be, which must be fully made out and sent by the issuing postmaster to the New York exchange office with the original order, advice, and coupon. For further information concerning the card order, the postmaster should read the second paragraph of the "Instructions" printed on the international money-order form. In Table No. 4 are included countries to be reached "indirectly", which likewise require the use of the international form. Full instructions for the issue of such orders are given in paragraphs 92 and 93, in the table itself, and in the notes following it.

It is highly important that all employees whose duties include the issue of international money orders should thoroughly familiarize themselves with these tables and the correct form to use in issuing money orders for payment in the countries listed therein. For further information, see the detailed instructions printed in the first 51 pages of departmental Form XIV, List of International Money-Order Offices.

74. Hong Kong, China, a British colony.—Many errors result from the failure of postmasters to understand that Hong Kong, China, is a British colony and not a part of the Republic of China. There is a separate money-order convention between the United States and the Colony of Hong Kong. When, therefore, postmasters receive applications for orders designating as payee a resident of Hong Kong, the order must be drawn as a "Hong Kong" and not as a "Chinese" order.

75. Importance of correct addresses.—The applicant for an international order should be asked to furnish a full and accurate address of the payee on Form 6701, and great care should be used in copying it in the advice. The omission of something seemingly unimportant may result in loss to the issuing postmaster if it causes a wrong payment. The simplest and safest rule for the postmaster's guidance is that the payee's address in the application and advice should be exactly the same as that on the letter conveying the order or notice of its issue to the payee. Remitters should be required to furnish the street address of payees residing in cities.

76. Supplemental advice.—If the address furnished by the applicant is not intelligible to the issuing postmaster the remitter's statement should be obtained in writing on Form 6083 and attached to the advice. This procedure, however, does not absolve the postmaster from copying fully in the advice all details furnished in the remitter's application.

Form 6083 must invariably be used with the advices of all orders payable in the French Levant, Greece, Palestine, and Yugoslavia.

For all orders payable in China, Form 6083 must invariably accompany the advice, and, when practicable, the name and address of Chinese payees shall be entered thereon in Chinese characters.

This form must also be used with the advices of orders payable in or through Japan when the remitter and payee are Japanese or Korean.

77. Transposed advices.—The transposition of advices is a frequent cause of complaint. Errors of that kind, which cause serious losses to the issuing officials, will be avoided if the "application" is numbered before the order is issued, and if before being dispatched to the exchange office the advice and coupon are compared with the "application."

78. Spoiled or "not issued" orders.—An order which has been spoiled in issue or which, for any reason, it is desired not to send may be treated as "Not issued" if all parts of the order are included with the current account. Such an order must not be treated as "Not issued" after either the order, advice, or receipt has passed beyond the control of the issuing postmaster or after the money-order account for the month during which the order was issued has been rendered. If all the component parts of such an order can not be transmitted with the account for the month of issue, repayment must be applied for on Form 6759. Great care is necessary to prevent double payments. (See sec. 1468, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

79. Inquiries concerning payment.—In accordance with section 1472 of the Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, inquiries concerning the payment abroad of international money orders issued in the United States should be addressed on Form 6684 to the exchange office to which the advice was transmitted.

80. Repayment of international money order.—A money order issued in the United States on the international form must not be repaid at the office of issue without specific authority from the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Money Orders. When the remitter of an international money order desires repayment, the postmaster should fill out an application on Form 6759, attach the original order, if in his or the remitter's possession, and forward it to the exchange office to which the advice was sent for certification.

Postmasters who repay international orders without authority from the Department do so at their own risk, even if the original order is in the hands of the remitter. International orders can not be treated in the same manner as domestic. They may be repaid only after consent of the foreign administration has been obtained and the postmaster furnished with an authorization by the Department. (See sec. 1489, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

81. Advices required for international money orders.—If an order originating in any of the countries enumerated in Tables Nos. 2, 3, and 4 is presented for payment, but no advice has been received, application on Form 6752 for an advice should immediately be made to the exchange office in this country to which it should have been certified, and not to the Department. Care should be taken to ascertain whether each international advice received has been duly certified, and, if not, before payment is effected, it should be sent to the proper exchange office in this country, with request that the omission be rectified and the advice returned.

82. Maximum amount.—The maximum amount for which a money order may be drawn by any of the countries named in Tables 2, 3, and 4 is $100, with the exception of Great Britain, Ireland, New Zealand, and the Commonwealth of Australia, which may draw orders for the equivalent of 40 pounds. Bulgaria also permits a money order issued in that country for payment in the United States to be drawn for an amount not exceeding $200.

83. An international money order is payable only at the office designated therein.—The postmaster at an international office must not pay an international money order drawn on an office other than his own, unless he holds the duly certified advice corrected by the exchange office, the Department or the postmaster on which originally drawn. When the correction is made by the postmaster, the advice must show that such action was taken upon specific authority from the exchange office or the Department. Before sending in the paid order as a voucher, the postmaster must write across its face in red ink, "Advice certified to this office."

84. Notice to payee of unclaimed international order.—When an advice of an international money order remains in the unpaid files after 30 days from the date of its receipt, a notice on Form 6706 should be sent to the payee requesting him to apply for payment.

85. Invalid international advices.—Advices of international money orders issued in Lithuania and Malaya which have remained unpaid for six months from the last day of the month of issue become invalid, and should be promptly forwarded at that time to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Money Orders, to be returned to the country of origin.

All other advices of international money orders, however, should be held for a year from the date of issue awaiting application for payment on the part of the payee. If unpaid at the end of that time they, too, should be forwarded to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Money Orders.

86. Duplicates of lost international money orders payable in the United States.—Applications for duplicates of lost orders payable in the United States which originated in any country named in Tables Nos. 2, 3, and 4 should be forwarded on Form 6753 to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Money Orders. When the money order represents a C. O. D. remittance the C. O. D. number must be given on the application for a duplicate.

87. Payment of invalid international orders.—When a money order issued in any country named in tables 2, 3, and 4 is presented for payment after the expiration of the period of validity, it should be forwarded to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Money Orders, with request for authority to pay though invalid. If the advice is in the postmaster's possession, it should accompany the order, together with an explanation as to why it was not sent to the Department promptly upon the expiration of the period of validity. If the advice is not in his possession, it should be so stated.

88. Duplicates of lost international money orders payable abroad.—Duplicates of international money orders issued in the United States are drawn by the country of payment. When the remitter asks for a duplicate order or reports that the original is lost, Form 6684 should be used and the facts in the case should be fully set forth thereon. Postmasters will, however, accept neither Form 6684 nor Form 6759 concerning orders payable in Lithuania unless the remitter has definite information that the payee has not received the money, or that he is dead, has moved, or has refused to accept payment, or unless the remitter has tried unsuccessfully to communicate with the payee, or can state positively that the particulars entered on his original application are erroneous and will result in wrong payment. If payable in Yugoslavia, the inquiry form should be accompanied by the letter from the payee denying payment, if such letter has been received by the remitter. If payable in Great Britain, Ireland, Australia, Cape Verde Islands, Hong Kong, Malaya, New Zealand, or the Union of South Africa, it should be stated whether the order was lost by the remitter or the payee or whether it has gone astray in transit through the mails.

89. Issue of money orders in payment for C. O. D. parcels from foreign countries.—The United States now transacts collect-on-delivery business with Belgium, Colombia, Denmark, Finland, Mexico, Norway, and Sweden, and the agreements with these countries provide that payment of the charges shall be made by postal money order. When a C. O. D. parcel is received from abroad and delivered at an international money-order office, an international money order shall be issued, the advice and coupon forwarded to the proper exchange office, and the receipt attached to the record of delivery of the parcel as evidence that the charges have been properly remitted. As a preliminary to the issue of the money order, an application on Form 6701 must be completed and filed with the money-order records.

At the larger offices these application forms for the issue of the requisite money orders will be filled out by the clerk having charge of the assignment of C. O. D. parcels for delivery, who will turn them over to the money-order clerk or division, together with the amounts collected from the addressees as C. O. D. charges and money-order fee or fees, taking receipt therefor on Form 3815 (C. O. D. receipt). In other respects the same procedure is to be followed as in the remittance of charges collected on domestic C. O. D. articles, except that the international and domestic money-order application blanks will be used as applications for the money orders to be issued instead of the domestic C. O. D. tags.

As the money-order applications are to be made out from the parcels themselves, those applications representing parcels which for any reason are not delivered shall not be destroyed or turned over to the money-order section, but shall be retained by the clerks having charge of the C. O. D. parcels received, in order to provide a record of the name and address of the sender. Across the face of such unused money-order applications may be indorsed a record of the final disposition of the parcel.

When a parcel from abroad is delivered at an office not authorized to transact international money-order business the necessary application for a domestic money order shall be completed and filed with the money-order records, and a domestic money order for the amount of the C. O. D. charges plus the fee for an international money order shall be issued in favor of the postmaster at the proper exchange office, and mailed to him with an application on Form 6001 for the issue of an international money order in favor of the shipper of the parcel. Two money-order fees must be collected therefor; i. e., the fee for the domestic order drawn in favor of the postmaster at the proper exchange office, and also the fee for the issue at the exchange office of an international money order. The total collection must be for the aggregate amount of the C. O. D. charges and the fees for the international and domestic money orders. To determine the proper exchange office, Table No. 3 should be consulted.

When issuing a money order in payment of international C. O. D. charges it is imperative that the name and address of the payee (shipper), the name and address of the remitter (addressee), and the C. O. D. number be legibly entered on the original application and the money-order advice of each international order; also on the application and coupon of domestic orders.

90. Payment of international C. O. D. orders.—At an international money-order office the payment of an international C. O. D. order differs in no way from payment of any other international money order presented there. In the arrangements concluded for the transaction of C. O. D. business with foreign countries, however, it is provided that money orders in payment of the charges on C. O. D. parcels may be drawn on any money-order post office in the United States, and therefore the exchange office may name a domestic office as the office of payment for the international order. Postmasters at domestic offices receiving such international reissued orders should pay them and claim credit therefor under the same conditions that govern the payment of domestic money orders.

The C. O. D. charges on parcels mailed to the countries mentioned in paragraph 89, with the exception of Mexico, are invariably entered in dollars and cents, but Mexican money orders issued in payment of the C. O. D. charges on parcels mailed in the United States represent the actual indorsements (pesos and centavos) placed thereon by the shippers and are converted from Mexican to United States money at the prevailing official money-order exchange rate, fixed by the Mexican Government, which is in effect at the time the money orders are listed to this country. The value of the peso, used in all money-order transactions, is subject to fluctuation, and patrons should be cautioned to base the charges on their parcels upon the current market rate for Mexican national currency. (See par. (e), p. 218. Part II.)

Collect-on-delivery money orders which have not been paid to the payee for any reason shall be subject to the disposition of the administration of the country of payment. An international C. O. D. money order can not be repaid to the remitter, except when the sender of the C. O. D. article specifically authorizes such action and waives all claim to C. O. D. charges or indemnity therefor. When it appears that the C. O. D. service is used in furtherance of a scheme to defraud, payment of the money orders will be withheld, if practicable, and the orders disposed of in accordance with the equities in each case under the rules and regulations of the country of origin of the C. O. D. parcel.

Whenever preliminary investigation of an inquiry in connection with a United States international C. O. D. money order shows that the relative C. O. D. parcel has been delivered, the collection made in accordance with the indorsement thereon and the proceeds turned over to the money-order clerk or division of the delivering office, thus becoming money-order funds, such claim or inquiry together with the postmaster's report should be forwarded to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Money Orders.

When claim is made that an international C. O. D. money order certified to this country by a foreign administration has not been delivered or paid to the payee, the original communication and papers relating thereto should be dispatched promptly to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Money Orders.

91. Postal notes or postal orders.—Postal notes or postal orders issued by Great Britain and various other countries are not negotiable at United States post offices and should not be paid. The orders should be returned by their holders with request that the money be sent to the payees in this country by means of international money orders.

INTERNATIONAL BUSINESS—INDIRECT EXCHANGE

92. Indirect exchange, how effected.—In addition to the countries with which the United States maintains a direct exchange of money orders, there are a number of places and countries with which an "indirect" exchange is carried on, through the intermediary agency of a foreign post-office department. (See Table No. 4.)

93. Indirect orders, how treated.—"Indirect" orders must invariably be drawn on the international form; the fees to be charged are those shown in Schedule No. 2. The order must be drawn on the country which acts as intermediary, i. e., the orders and advices are to be headed "Great Britain," or the "Union of South Africa," not "Arabia," or "Matabeleland," as the case may be.

DOMESTIC REGISTRY, INSURANCE, AND C. O. D. SERVICES, AND RECEIPTS OR CERTIFICATES OF MAILING FOR DOMESTIC ORDINARY MAIL

REGISTRY SYSTEM

(See pp. 184 to 187, of this Guide, relative to domestic registered collect-on-delivery mail)

1. This system provides special safeguards for the transmission of money and other valuable mail to domestic destinations. The per cent of loss of registered mail is very small. The indemnity paid by the department is limited to an amount not exceeding $1,000, but private insurance companies are willing to place additional insurance on registered mail if the sender desires to protect his interests more fully.

ADVANTAGES OF THE SYSTEM

2. Matter may be registered at any post office or station. (See art. 27, par. f, p. 169, of this Guide.)

3. City and village carriers in residential districts register articles which are not cumbersome on account of size, shape, or weight. (See art. 27, par. f, p. 169, of this Guide.)

4. Rural carriers accept mail for registration. (See art. 27, par. f, p. 169, of this Guide.)

5. A receipt is given the sender for each article registered.

6. A receipt showing delivery is furnished the sender if he marks the envelope or wrapper "Return receipt requested," or "Return receipt requested showing address where delivered," when receipt showing this information is requested, and pays the fee prescribed for such receipt.

7. Manifold mailing records are furnished, without charge, to firms or individuals who frequently present three or more articles for registration at one time. Firm delivery records may be used where an addressee frequently receives an average of three or more registered articles at one time. These manifold mailing and delivery sheets furnish a convenient and compact office record of matter registered and registered mail received, and permit of the speedy acceptance of mail for registration and the receipting for registered mail received. (Postmasters should suggest the use of these records to any firms or individuals who register sufficient mail or receive a sufficient number of registered articles to warrant their use.)

8. Provides for payment of limited indemnity.

9. Encourage registration of valuable matter.—Postmasters to advise senders to seal and have small parcels of considerable value registered.—Because of the additional safeguards which are provided for registered mail, by the system of records and receipts and special modes of transmission, postmasters should advise patrons to send, as sealed first-class registered mail, valuable articles of third or fourth class matter, such as packages of currency, sacks of coin, jewelry, precious stones, and articles of similar nature. The use of the insurance service instead of the registry service in such cases enhances the possibility of loss in the mails. There is no question that if proper efforts are made by accepting employees to encourage the registration of articles of considerable value presented for mailing, the patronage of the registry service will be materially increased. The importance of making appropriate inquiry in connection with each article offered for mailing cannot be too highly stressed. In this connection see article 2, page 172, and section 1203, paragraph 4, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932; also see art. 27, pp. 168 and 169, as to sealing of certain second and third class mail intended for registration.

Form 3840 (Placard, notice to public relative to registry, insurance, and C. O. D. services) should be conspicuously displayed at all post offices and post-office stations and branches for the purpose of directing attention of the public to the advantages of the registry, insurance and C. O. D. services.

INDEMNITY UP TO $1,000 PROVIDED FOR THE LOSS, RIFLING, OR DAMAGE OF DOMESTIC REGISTERED MAIL

(See pp. 184 to 187 of this Guide for indemnity and fees for domestic registered C. O. D. mail)

10. (a) For the greater security of valuable mail matter the Postmaster General may establish a uniform system of registration, and as a part of such system he may provide rules under which the senders or owners of any registered matter shall be indemnified for loss, rifling, or damage thereof in the mails, the indemnity to be paid out of the postal revenues, but in no case to exceed $1,000 for any one registered piece, or the actual value thereof when that is less than $1,000, and for which no other compensation or reimbursement to the loser has been made: Provided, That the Postmaster General may in his discretion provide for the payment of indemnity for the actual value of registered mail or insured mail treated as registered mail in excess of $1,000, but not in excess of $10,000, when such mail is not insured with any commercial insurance company or other insuring agency and may fix the fees chargeable for the risks assumed ratably at the rates fixed up to $1,000: Provided further, That the Postmaster General in his discretion may cause to be underwritten or reinsured in whole or in part with any commercial insurance companies any liability or risk assumed by the Post Office Department in connection with the mailing of any particular registered article or articles. (See sec. 1201, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

SEC. 2. The full value of all registered mail or insured mail treated as registered mail shall be declared by the mailer at the time of mailing unless otherwise prescribed by the Postmaster General, and any claim for indemnity in any amount involving such mail, when the full value knowingly and willfully was not stated at the time of mail ing, shall be invalid. All claims for indemnity involving registered mail, or insured mail treated as registered mail, or other insured mail, or collect-on-delivery mail, which is also insured with commercial insurance companies or other insuring agencies, shall be adjusted by the Post Office Department on a pro rata basis as a coinsurer with the commercial insurance companies or other insuring agencies.

Mail matter shall be registered on the application of the party posting the same. The registry fees, which are in addition to the regular postage, and the limits of indemnity therefor within the maximum indemnity provided by law shall be as follows:

For registry indemnity not exceeding $5, 15 cents;
For registry indemnity exceeding $5 but not exceeding $25, 18 cents;
For registry indemnity exceeding $25 but not exceeding $50, 20 cents;
For registry indemnity exceeding $50 but not exceeding $75, 25 cents;
For registry indemnity exceeding $75 but not exceeding $100, 30 cents;
For registry indemnity exceeding $100 but not exceeding $200, 40 cents;
For registry indemnity exceeding $200 but not exceeding $300, 50 cents;
For registry indemnity exceeding $300 but not exceeding $400, 60 cents;
For registry indemnity exceeding $400 but not exceeding $500, 70 cents;
For registry indemnity exceeding $500 but not exceeding $600, 80 cents;
For registry indemnity exceeding $600 but not exceeding $700, 85 cents;
For registry indemnity exceeding $700 but not exceeding $800, 90 cents;
For registry indemnity exceeding $800 but not exceeding $900, 95 cents; and
For registry indemnity exceeding $900 but not exceeding $1,000, $1.

Provided, That for registered mail or insured mail treated as registered mail having a declared value in excess of the maximum indemnity covered by the registry fee paid there shall be charged additional fees as follows: When the declared value exceeds the maximum indemnity covered by the registry fee paid by not more than $50, 1 cent; by more than $50 but not more than $100, 2 cents; by more than $100 but not more than $200, 3 cents; by more than $200 but not more than $400, 4 cents; by more than $400 but not more than $600, 5 cents; by more than $600 but not more than $800, 6 cents; by more than $800 but less than $1,000, 7 cents; and if the excess of the declared value over the maximum indemnity covered by the registry fee paid is $1,000 or more, the additional fees for each $1,000 or part of $1,000 on articles destined to points within the several zones applicable to fourth-class matter shall be as follows:

For local delivery or for delivery within the first zone, 8 cents;
For delivery within the second zone, 9 cents;
For delivery within the third zone, 10 cents;
For delivery within the fourth zone, 11 cents;
For delivery within the fifth or sixth zones, 12 cents;
For delivery within the seventh or eighth zones, 13 cents.

All such fees shall be accounted for in such manner as the Postmaster General shall direct. Mail matter upon the official business of the Post Office Department which requires registering shall be registered free of charge, and pass through the mails free of charge.

SEC. 3. The Postmaster General may make such rules and regulations in accordance with this act as he may consider necessary or advisable. This act shall become effective July 1, 1932. (Act of June 28, 1932.)

(b) Mail matter without intrinsic value for which no indemnity is provided may be registered at the minimum fee of 15 cents.

(c) See secs. 1203, 1205, 1209, 1380 and 1382 (as to registration fees for international registered mail, sec. 2207), Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.

NOTE.—Although the law permits the Postmaster General in his discretion to provide for the payment of indemnity for the actual value of domestic registered mail or insured mail treated as registered mail in excess of $1,000 but not in excess of $10,000, the limit of indemnity payable for such mail will be $1,000 until further notice.

(d) Postmasters and postal employees concerned should become thoroughly familiar with the fees and limits of indemnity covering domestic registered, insured, and C. O. D. mail and the arrangement under which surcharges are to be collected in connection with domestic registered mail or domestic insured mail treated as registered matter. The same limits of indemnity apply to all domestic registered mail under the conditions specified. Reports received by the Department indicate that some postmasters and postal employees are failing to collect surcharges on registered mail at their offices, with the result that the Department is deprived of considerable revenue to which it is entitled. All postmasters and postal employees having occasion to accept mail for registration are cautioned to see that the required surcharges are collected in every instance. In this connection, careful attention is directed to paragraph z of this article and to the notices published on pages 17 and 18 of the March 1934 and pages 20 and 21 of the April 1935 Postal Guide under the caption "Declaration of value and payment of surcharges on registered mail."

(e) Care must be exercised at all times to see that all of the prescribed charges are collected. It is considered desirable that postmasters shall make special inquiry not only at the main office but at all stations, in order that it may be determined whether the Postal Service is being deprived of legal revenue through failure of any postal employees to comply with the law and regulations of the Department bearing on the collection of surcharges. In this connection, the attention of postmasters is invited to the provisions of the law as embodied in sec. 245, Postal Laws and Regulations, to the effect that postmasters shall be charged with, and held accountable for, postal revenues which they have neglected to collect, the same as if they had collectcd them.

(f) Patrons who rate up and affix postage and fees to their registered mail shall be promptly furnished information as to the fees, limits of indemnity, etc.

(g) The amount of registry fee chargeable does not depend upon the value of the contents but upon the amount of indemnity which the sender desires to claim in case of loss, rifling, or damage. The fact that a registered article may contain matter valued in excess of $5 does not make it obligatory upon the sender to pay more registry fee than the minimum fee of 15 cents unless the patron desires to claim a greater indemnity than $5, but patrons should be advised and encouraged to have their valuable mail indemnifiable for its full value within the limit of $1,000. However, the collection of a surcharge in addition to the prescribed registry fee should be made where the declared value of the contents of a registered article is in excess of the maximum indemnity covered by the registry fee paid. (See following pars. h and q.)

(h) In accepting mail for registration, postmasters shall advise the sender as to the amount of registry fee necessary to be paid if the sender desires to have the indemnity cover the full declared value, but not exceeding a maximum indemnity of $1,000. If the sender does not desire to pay such amount of fee as will afford indemnity up to the full value of the article, the excess of the declared value of the article over the maximum amount of indemnity covered by the registry fee paid will be subject to a surcharge in addition to the registry fee. The amount of such surcharge can readily be ascertained by reference to paragraph z, pp. 164 and 165, under the caption, "Examples showing computation of surcharges."

(i) It should be noted that when the excess of the declared value over the maximum amount of indemnity prescribed for the registry fee paid by the sender is $1,000 or more, the surcharge is to be computed not on the total declared value of the registered article, but upon each $1,000 or part of $1,000 of the excess of the declared value over the limit of indemnity covered by the fee paid by the sender, and that the rate of surcharge on each $1,000 or part of $1,000 of such excess varies according to the parcel-post zone in which the destination of the registered matter is located. (See example (z), pp. 164 and 165.)

(j) If the excess of the declared value over the maximum indemnity covered by the registry fee paid is $1,000 or more, the additional fee (surcharge) to be collected is based on values and length of haul of the articles.

(k) Surcharge is to be collected also on insured mail treated as registered mail having a declared value in excess of the maximum indemnity covered by the fee paid. Such insured mail consists of certain mailings made at certain post offices by the Treasury Department and its branches or by Federal Reserve banks or branch Federal Reserve banks under a special arrangement whereby articles are accepted for insurance at prescribed fees, but are accorded registry treatment.

(l) Surcharges will be collected on registered C. O. D. mail under the same conditions as are outlined for the regular registered mail except that in determining the amount of surcharge collectible there shall be taken as a basis the amount by which the declared actual value of the article mailed exceeds the limits of indemnity payable for the fees prescribed for registered C. O. D. mail as set forth on pages 184 to 187.

(m) Nonnegotiable securities or valuable papers which can be duplicated are not subject to a surcharge unless the known or estimated cost of duplication in case of loss will exceed the maximum indemnity provided for the amount of registry fee paid. The declared value of such matter which can be duplicated shall therefore be the known or estimated cost of duplication. The surcharge on negotiable securities is to be based on the amounts by which the market value of the securities on date of mailing exceeds the limit of indemnity payable for the registry fee borne by the registered matter, also on length of haul when the excess of the declared value is $1,000 or more in excess of the maximum indemnity payable. The value to be declared by the sender in connection with negotiable securities is the market value of such securities on the date of mailing. When a registered article contains both matter declared for its full value and matter for which the known or estimated cost of duplication is declared, the surcharge collectible shall be computed on the sum of the value of the matter declared for full value and the amount of the cost of duplication of the other matter. (See the notices published on pages 45 and 46 of the November, 1937 Postal Guide under the caption, "Registry surcharges on United States savings bonds" and page 9 of the September, 1938 Postal Guide under the caption, "Collection of registry surcharges on nonnegotiable securities, valuable papers and documents, including warehouse receipts, bills of lading, etc.")

(n) The Department has ruled, for the present at least, that certificates of stock, regardless of the manner in which they are indorsed, should not be classed as being of such negotiable character as to require the collection of registry surcharges based on the market value of the stock, but should be accepted for registration as nonnegotiable securities which may be duplicated and therefore not subject to a surcharge unless the known or estimated cost of duplication in case of loss will exceed the maximum indemnity provided for the amount of registry fee paid.

(o) Internal-revenue stamps, except documentary internal-revenue stamps, are not subject to registry surcharges. Documentary stamps are subject to registry surcharges based on the face value of the stamps. (See notice published on pp. 19 and 20 of the October 1932 Postal Guide.)

(p) No surcharge shall be collected on registered articles which contain exclusively checks, drafts, or other written or printed matter having no intrinsic value and which can be duplicated without expense or at a nominal cost (not in excess of $5). However, checks, drafts, and other papers which are of such character that their duplication might involve an actual and necessary expense in excess of $5, shall be declared for the known or estimated cost of their duplication and surcharge collected on the amount by which that cost exceeds the maximum amount of indemnity allowable for the registry fee paid.

(q) The law (Act of June 28, 1932) requires that the full value of domestic registered mail or insured mail treated as registered mail shall be declared by the mailer at the time of mailing, unless otherwise prescribed by the Postmaster General, and makes provision for the collection of a surcharge in addition to the prescribed registry fee (or insurance fee, if the article is insured mail treated as registered mail) where the declared value of the contents of a registered article or of an insured article treated as a registered article is in excess of the maximum indemnity covered by the registry fee, or insurance fee in case the article is insured mail treated as registered mail, paid by the sender.

(r) Some patrons seem to be under the impression that if the registered matter is covered by commercial insurance, nominal, rather than the real values of the registered articles may be declared, or that no declaration of value is required, and that no surcharge is collectible in such cases. This understanding of the matter is erroneous.

(s) The requirement that the full value of registered mail or insured mail treated as registered mail shall be declared by the mailer at the time of mailing unless otherwise prescribed by the Postmaster General as herein explained is mandatory, and the Post Office Department cannot waive this requirement nor will it permit or condone any violation or evasion of this requirement of the law. This law will be uniformly administered. Claims for indemnity are invalid when the full value of the article knowingly and willfully was not stated at the time of mailing. (See art. 10, par. (a), pp. 161 and 162, and art. 17, par. (b), p. 166.)

(t) Declaration of value is not required if the article mailed is one entitled to free registration. However, representatives of the executive departments and other Government institutions who are not entitled to free registration under the provisions of section 1211 of the Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, must declare the full value (or the known or estimated cost of duplication in the case of nonnegotiable securities and valuable papers) of the contents of official mail presented by them for registration and pay any required surcharge in addition to the registry fee.

(u) When a postmaster has reason to believe that the full value of a registered article has not been declared as directed by law, he shall require the mailer to furnish additional proof by either exhibiting the contents of the article, by producing a copy of the invoice or letter of transmittal describing the contents, or evidence as to the amount of commercial insurance placed thereon, if any, in order that the true value may be determined, and unless satisfactory evidence of the full value of any article involved (except nonnegotiable securities, etc., as heretofore explained as not subject to surcharge) is produced, the postmaster shall refuse to accept the article for registration, in which event the sender must render the article mailable under the requirements of the law before it is accepted.

(v) When the full value knowingly and willfully is not stated at the time of mailing, the article involved is rendered nonacceptable, or, in other words, unmailable. When this fact is known by any postmaster he shall refuse to accept the matter until the requirement of the law is met by the sender.

(w) If in any case it is noted at the office of address that there has been any failure on the part of the mailing postmaster to collect all of the revenue prescribed, appropriate action shall be taken to collect the deficiency.

(x) When a postmaster at the office of delivery receives registered mail, or insured mail treated as registered mail, of apparent value on which the mailing postmaster has failed to collect proper surcharges, he will take a full description of the article, including names and addresses of sender and addressee, weight of article, and the amount of fee and postage affixed thereto. The article will then be delivered and the delivering postmaster will furnish the mailing postmaster full particulars of the article, sending a copy of his report to the Third Assistant Postmaster General (Division of Registered Mails). The mailing postmaster will collect the amount of surcharges found by him to be due from the sender, but not collected at the time of mailing, make appropriate corrections in his registration records to show that the surcharges were subsequently collected and the amount thereof, and transmit to the Third Assistant Postmaster General (Division of Registered Mails) uncanceled postage stamps representing the amount of surcharges collected subsequent to the mailing of the registered article. If the postmaster at the mailing office is unable to collect the charges due he will report full particulars to the Third Assistant Postmaster General (Division of Registered Mails). (See art. 61, par. (b) p. 179.)

(y) It should be noted that registry surcharges are collectible on registered articles mailed in Hawaii, Puerto Rico, Virgin Islands, and any other possessions or territory of the United States, except that no registry surcharge is collectible on registered articles mailed in the Canal Zone or the Philippine Islands, which have separate postal services.

NOTE.—It is not the purpose of the registry surcharge to provide additional postal indemnity above that carried by the registration fee paid by the sender, but the surcharge is an additional fee prescribed by law for the purpose of obtaining additional revenue in connection with the registered mail service in order to meet partially at least the deficit between the revenues and expenses of that service. In case of doubt as to whether surcharges are required on any particular matter or as to manner of computing surcharges, inquiry should be addressed to the Third Assistant Postmaster General (Division of Registered Mails).

EXAMPLES SHOWING COMPUTATION OF SURCHARGES

(z) If the declared value of the registered article is $10 and the sender pays the minimum registry fee of 15 cents thereon, which provides for indemnity up to $5, the article will be subject to a surcharge based on $5, the excess of the declared value over the indemnity payable for a 15-cent registry fee requiring the payment of a surcharge of 1 cent in addition to the registry fee of 15 cents or a total amount of 16 cents for registration fee and surcharge. If the sender pays a registry fee of 18 cents on an article valued at $10, no surcharge is collectible as the 18-cent registry fee provides indemnity for values ranging from $5.01 to $25.

If a registered article is valued at $1,500 and the sender pays a minimum registry fee of 15 cents thereon, which provides for indemnity up to $5, the article will be subject to a surcharge of 16 cents on $1,495 (8 cents for each $1,000 or part of $1,000 of the excess of the declared value over the indemnity prescribed for the fee paid) if the article is for local delivery or delivery within the first zone, or of 18 cents if for delivery in the second zone, etc.

If the registered article is valued at $1,500 and the sender pays $1 registry fee which provides indemnity up to $1,000, the article will be subject to a surcharge of 5 cents in addition to the postage and registry fee, as in such a case the declared value exceeds the maximum indemnity covered by the fee paid by $500.

If the declared value of the article is $2,000 and the sender pays a registry fee of $1 on the article which provides indemnity up to $1,000, the excess of the declared value over the maximum indemnity covered by the registry fee paid is $1,000, and the article would therefore be subject to a surcharge on the remaining $1,000 of the declared value. The surcharge would be 8 cents if the article was addressed for local delivery or for delivery within the first zone, and 9 cents if addressed for delivery within the second zone, in addition to the postage and the registry fee of $1.

For ready reference on all amounts and combinations see the following table:

NOTE.—If the excess of the declared value over the maximum indemnity covered by the registry fee paid is $1,000 or more, the surcharges for each $1,000 or part of $1,000 of such excess are, as follows:

	Cents
For local delivery or for delivery within the first zone	8
For delivery within the second zone	9
For delivery within the third zone	10
For delivery within the fourth zone	11
For delivery within the fifth or sixth zones	12
For delivery within the seventh or eighth zones	13

11. Indemnity within the prescribed limit (see secs. 1202, 1263, and 1370, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932) will be paid to the rightful claimant in case of the loss, rifling, or damage of domestic registered mail, as follows:

(a) In case of loss or irreparable damage, the market value of the article at the time of loss, or its value on date of mailing, if date of loss can not be ascertained.

(b) In case of partial damage, the amount of the damage, or the actual and necessary cost of repairs.

(c) Actual, direct, and necessary expenses of duplicating valuable papers, or original cost when not duplicated. Indemnity may not be allowed for attorneys' fees incurred in the duplication of valuable papers, bonds, or securities.

12. Whenever a false, fictitious, or fraudulent value is knowingly and willfully stated, the department reserves the right, without any refund of fee, to decline to pay indemnity or to pay such indemnity as may in its discretion be considered equitable in the light of the evidence procured.

13. If no agreement is reached in the case of a conflicting claim, the department reserves the right either to determine who should receive indemnity or to withhold payment until the property right is determined by legal procedure.

14. Claims for indemnity involving domestic registered mail are not favorably considered unless made within one year from the date of mailing, or the delay in filing such claim was unavoidable or not due to the fault of the claimant. (See art. 8, pp. 184 and 185, as to claims for domestic registered C. O. D. mail.)

15. When the sender is incompetent or deceased and has no legal representative, or can not be located, the department reserves the right to pay indemnity to such relative or representative of the sender as may in its judgment be entitled to receive the amount due, or to pay the addressee or owner of the contents of an article, when indemnity is claimed by him under the circumstances outlined, without the consent of the sender.

16. Lost articles recovered shall be surrendered upon the return of the indemnity paid. The claimants must accept the article and reimburse the United States for the full indemnity paid if the article is undamaged, or such pro rata amount as may be deemed equitable by the department if the article is damaged or has depreciated in value, or if the contents are not intact. If the article can not be surrendered and the indemnity refunded within 30 days after notice, the article shall be disposed of as undeliverable dead matter.

17. No indemnity will be paid—

(a) For the loss, rifling, or damage of any registered matter which was not rightfully in the mails, or was not lost, rifled, or damaged while in the custody of the Postal Service, or for which other compensation or reimbursement has been made through the Post Office Department or the Postal Service.

(b) When the sender knowingly and willfully failed to state, when required, at the time of mailing, the full value of a registered article or an insured article treated as registered mail. (See secs. 1203, 1209, par. b, and sec. 1382, par. 3, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

(c) For the loss, rifling, or damage of any registered matter exchanged between post offices in the United States and post offices in possessions of the United States having separate and distinct postal services, except in accordance with such stipulations as may be agreed upon between the postal administrations interested, unless the matter originated in and the weight of evidence indicates that the matter was lost, rifled, or damaged in the Postal Service of the United States. (See arts. 21 and 22, pages 166 and 167 of this Guide, relative to indemnity for registered mail exchanged between post offices in the United States and post offices in the Canal Zone and Philippine Islands).

(d) For the loss, rifling, or damage of a registered article remailed after proper delivery, unless the article was reregistered after delivery and the evidence indicates to the satisfaction of the department that the loss, rifling, or damage occurred in the Postal Service.

(e) For indirect, remote, and unnecessary expenses incident to repairs or duplication of papers, or for any consequential loss.

(f) For the loss, rifling, or damage of any domestic registered article without intrinsic value.

(g) For loss resulting from delay to a registered article.

(h) For injury to registered mail due to insecure or insufficient preparation and wrapping by the sender.

(i) For the loss, rifling, or damage to an article outside the Postal Service, including cases wherein loss, rifling, or damage occurs before acceptance for registration or after proper delivery. (See arts. 21 and 22, pages 166 and 167 of this Guide.)

(j) For the injury or loss of any registered matter upon which postage, registry fee and any required surcharge have not been paid.

167 (k) Indemnity may not be paid for damage to incandescent lamps, radio tubes, and the like, where the glass bulbs are intact (not damaged or broken), nor may indemnity be paid for the damage to articles which are so fragile in their inherent nature as to prevent their safe carriage in the mails regardless of the manner in which packed.

18. Indemnity applications.—Reports of losses and applications for indemnity for domestic registered mail should be made by the public to the postmaster at the office of mailing, or of address, with particulars of registration and a description of the contents of the article, and, in case of partial loss or rifling, with the envelope or wrapper. Claims for damage should show in detail how the article was packed and enveloped or wrapped. The reports are investigated by post-office inspectors as promptly as possible, and claims are acted upon as soon as the investigations develop an actual loss in the Postal Service. In case of domestic mail this requires from one to several months, according to circumstances in each instance. Claims for duplication of valuable papers should be supported with receipted bills for any actual, necessary, and direct expense in connection therewith. All applications for indemnity for domestic registered mail or insured mail treated as registered mail shall show the amount of surcharge, if any, paid on the article involved, in addition to the other required information.

19. Recovery of lost articles.—Offices of mailing and of address shall keep a record of each registered article reported lost, and if the article is found, will immediately notify the chief inspector.

20. Record of registry indemnity claims.—Postmasters at all offices shall keep a record of all indemnity claims filed in connection with domestic registered mail. Such record will include the number of the article, date of mailing, names and addresses of the sender and addressee, names of offices of mailing and address, amount of fee, surcharge if any, postage paid, and amount of indemnity claimed. This record should be searched when necessary in order to avoid duplicate payments of indemnity, also in connection with the recovery of registered articles supposed to have been lost.

21. Canal Zone.—Effective January 1, 1930, Registry indemnity is payable in connection with registered mail exchanged between the United States and the Canal Zone as follows:

(a) The United States postal service pays indemnity in an amount not exceeding $1,000 for any one article, for loss, rifling, or damage of registered articles, mailed at any post office in the United States, or its possessions except post offices in the Philippine Islands, and addressed to post offices in the Canal Zone, or mailed in the Canal Zone addressed to any post office in the United States, except post offices in Alaska, Hawaii, Philippine Islands and all the other island possessions of the United States, when the weight of evidence indicates that the loss, rifling, or damage occurred while the article was in the custody of the postal service of the United States.

(b) The United States postal service pays indemnity in an amount not exceeding $100 for any one article, for loss, rifling, or damage of registered articles mailed in the Canal Zone addressed to any post office in Alaska, Hawaii, and all the island possessions of the United States except the Philippine Islands when the weight of evidence indicates that the loss, rifling, or damage occurred while the article was in the custody of the postal service of the United States.

(c) The Canal Zone postal service agrees to pay indemnity in an amount not exceeding $1,000 for any one article, for the loss, rifling, or damage in its service of registered articles exchanged between post offices in the Canal Zone and post offices in the United States, except post offices in Alaska, Hawaii, Philippine Islands, and all the other island possessions of the United States.

(d) The Canal Zone postal service agrees to pay indemnity in an amount not exceeding $100 for any one article for loss, rifling, or damage in its service of registered articles exchanged between post offices in the Canal Zone and post offices in Alaska, Hawaii, and all the island possessions of the United States except the Philippine Islands.

(e) When indemnity is payable as outlined above, and the responsibility for the loss, rifling, or damage of domestic registered mail exchanged between the United States and the Canal Zone cannot definitely be determined to be that of either postal service after due investigation has been made, the United States postal service and the Canal Zone postal service have agreed to pay the limited indemnity in equal shares. The share of the Canal Zone would not exceed $50 in such a case in connection with registered matter exchanged between the Canal Zone and post offices outside the United States proper, such as those in Alaska and Hawaii or in other island possessions of the United States.

See section 1382, paragraph 6 (c), Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932. Also see article 72, pages 180 and 181 for conditions under which articles may be forwarded to the Canal Zone.

22. Philippine Islands.—(a) Indemnity will be paid for the loss or rifling of, or damage to, registered mail addressed to the Philippine Islands only if such mail originated in the United States and it is evident that the loss, rifling, or damage occurred while the article was in the custody of the Postal Service of the United States. In this event, indemnity is payable in the same amounts and under the same conditions as apply to other domestic registered mail, even though the loss, rifling, or damage may be due to force majeure (causes beyond control).

(b) No indemnity is paid by the United States for the loss or rifling of, or damage to, of registered mail originating in the Philippine Islands, regardless of where the loss, rifling, or damage occurs.

23. More detailed indemnity information to be obtained from postmaster.—More detailed information than that given in articles 10 to 22, pages 161 to 167, concerning the conditions under which domestic indemnity is paid, and the amounts of indemnity, should, in case of doubt, be obtained from the local postmaster.

24. Registry receipts and office record.—(a) The registry receipt issued to the sender and the office record of domestic mail accepted for registration shall bear notations showing, particularly, in addition to other required items, the amount of registry fee and, separately, the declared value, and the amount of surcharge, if any, paid on domestic registered mail or insured mail treated as registered mail. If the registered article has no value or is not valued in excess of $5, the notations, respectively, "No value" or "Not over $5" should be entered on the registration receipt and its counterpart in the space provided for "Declared value." (See sec. 1209, Postal Laws and Regulations, and art. 37, p. 174.) (b) The declared value is not to be entered on the registered article itself. (c) Mail accepted for registration and recorded by the sender on firm-mailing sheets is to be carefully checked for the purpose of ascertaining particularly whether the required postage, fee, and surcharge, if any, have been paid. Any discrepancies should be corrected on the mailing list retained at the post office and the receipt issued to the sender. (d) When the declared value is not stated because the article is one which is entitled to free registration or for other authorized reason, the office record of the article and the receipt issued to the sender shall be marked to show, briefly, that no value was declared and reason for not declaring the value. (e) For instructions concerning additional receipts (certificates of mailing) for domestic registered mail, see p. 234.

25. Statistical records.—(a) Postmasters at first, second, and third class offices will keep such statistical records as will enable them to report promptly at the close of each fiscal year all the statistical information mentioned in art. 75, pp. 181 and 182.

(b) They shall also maintain such statistical record as will enable them to report, when called upon to do so, the total number of registered, and registered C. O. D. articles on which surcharges were collected and the total amount of surcharges collected thereon. At smaller offices these statistics can be kept on some convenient form improvised for the purpose, such as the registry dispatch book, Form 3851, or sheet record of registered matter received for delivery, Form 3867, the most economical form being used for the purpose. If loose sheets are used as an improvised record, the sheets should be consecutively numbered so that all of them will be accounted for. At the larger offices it may be found more practicable to keep the record for surcharges on statistical sheets, Forms 3873 and 3874.

GENERAL PROVISIONS APPLICABLE TO DOMESTIC REGISTERED MAIL

26. Knowledge of domestic registry regulations.—Postal employees who are not familiar with the domestic registered mail service should read the following sections of the Postal Laws and Regulations to obtain a general understanding of treatment of such mail under normal conditions:

(a) Acceptance and dispatch. (Secs. 1202 to 1205, 1209, 1216, 1218, 1222, and 1223, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.) Registrations by rural carrier. (Secs. 1338, 1339, 1342, 1344, 1347, and 1350, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

(b) Handling in transit. (Secs. 1220, 1293, 1295, and 1298, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

(c) At office of delivery. (Secs. 1314, 1320, 1322, 1323 (pars. 1, 2, and 3) and 1324, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.) Delivery by carriers. (Secs. 1354, and 1356 to 1358, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

(d) Forwarding and returning of undeliverable registered mail. (Secs. 805, 1318, and 1327 to 1330, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

(e) Indemnity for loss, rifling, or damage. (Secs. 1203 and 1380 to 1383, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932; also arts. 10 to 22, pp. 161 to 167, and pp. 184 to 187.)

(f) In view of the maximum amount of indemnity ($1,000) which is payable by the department for the loss, rifling, or damage established to have occurred in the postal service for all classes of domestic registered mail, and in view of the large values frequently contained in the registered mails, it is also extremely important that all postmasters and postal employees shall familiarize themselves with and strictly observe the rules and regulations of the department which have been, or may be, prescribed having for their object the greatest protection practicable to all registered mail with the means available. (See arts. 44, 46, and 47, p. 175.)

(g) Particular attention is directed to the following sections of the Postal Laws and Regulations and articles of this Guide:

Preparation for mailing.—Section 1202, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, and articles 35 and 36, pages 172 to 174.

Issuance of registry receipts.—Section 1209, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, and article 37, page 174.

Postmarking and backstamping.—Sections 761, 1216, and 1243, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, and article 40, page 174.

Protection of registered matter.—Sections 703, 1335, and 1369, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, and articles 46 and 47, page 175.

Care in billing and checking registered mail.—Article 44, page 175.

Witnessing of receipt or dispatch.—Sections 1238, 1242, 1261, and 1268, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, and article 45, page 175.

Nonreceipt of registered mail and advising of discrepancies and irregularities.—Sections 1261 to 1263, 1265, 1288, 1289, 1291, 1314, and 1315, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.

Examination as to condition and treatment of bad-order registered matter.—Sections 1294 and 1310 to 1314, Postal Laws and Regulations 1932, and article 55, page 177.

Care in delivering registered mail.—Sections 1323, 1325, 1354, and 1370, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, and articles 56 to 62, inclusive, pages 177 to 179.

(h) Responsibility of postmasters and postal employees for any negligence or disregard of the regulations or instructions of the department in connection with the handling of registered matter and the requirement that fragile matter shall be marked "Fragile." (See secs. 1202, 1263, and 1370, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932; also art 35, pp. 172 and 173, and arts. 46 and 47, p. 175.)

(i) Desirability of patrons registering instead of insuring merchandise parcels of small bulk but of considerable intrinsic value owing to the greater safeguards accorded by the registry service. (See sec. 1203, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, and art. 9, p. .161)

(j) The department wishes to emphasize the importance of carefully examining all registered matter for the purpose of noting its condition at the time of acceptance, receipt, or dispatch, and the necessity of taking any necessary action in connection therewith promptly. See that all matter requiring packing intended for registration is properly packed and wrapped; that sealed articles are securely sealed in every part with mucilage or glue. The use of flimsy envelopes or those which are so constructed as to make rifling easy should be avoided. Carefully note the condition of all articles presented for registration and at the time they are delivered, and, if possible, obtain the wrapper or envelope of any registered article where any shortage of contents is reported by the addressee. Where the packing is involved in the case of damage and there is any question as to the sufficiency of the packing used, the packing and container should be obtained from the addressee upon delivery and held as available evidence in the event a claim is subsequently filed. Accurately record the names and complete addresses of sender and addressee appearing on mail presented for registration. Postmark registered letters twice on the back over the intersection of the flaps at the time the articles are accepted for registration, and when practicable in the presence of the sender. Backstamp registered letters as soon as practicable after they are received at the post office of delivery. Domestic registered mail should not be backstamped at a transit office. See the notice published on page 26 of the December 1936, Postal Guide, under the caption, "Domestic transit mail should not be backstamped." Carefully witness the receipt and dispatch of all registered matter and take prompt action in case of any discrepancies. Strictly observe the regulations governing the delivery of registered mail, especially that which the sender has marked for delivery to addressee only or on his written order.

(k) Supervisory employees should see that the regulations and instructions governing the handling and protection of registered mail are strictly observed.

27. Matter admissible.—(a) Postmasters shall register all mailable first, second, and third class matter for domestic destinations if the required postage in addition to the required registry fee and surcharge, if any, is paid. Mailable domestic parcel-post (fourth-class matter) may also be registered if it is sealed and postage at the first-class rate, in addition to the registry fee, and surcharge, if any, is paid. (See pp. 184 to 187, relative to domestic registered collect-on-delivery mail.

(b) An unsealed domestic parcel containing second- or third-class matter on which postage is prepaid at the first-class rate and which the sender refuses to seal may be accepted for registration only as second- or third-class mail, according to its class, in which case the cover of the parcel, the sender's registration receipt, and the office record shall show the class of matter as accepted.

(c) Under Order No. 9318 of the Postmaster General, dated August 29, 1929, section 1203, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, the Third Assistant Postmaster General may specially authorize any postmaster to decline to accept for registration articles which either singly or collectively are known or presumed to be of large value when the articles are addressed to post offices to which the registered matter can not reasonably be transported without seriously jeopardizing its safety or endangering the lives of the persons handling the mail; or he may authorize any postmaster to accept such matter upon condition that it will not be transmitted over the entire route to office of address, but will be sent to the post office nearest or most accessible to the one addressed to which the matter may be transmitted without undue risk, where it will be held for delivery and notice to call issued to the addressee. (See sec. 1354, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, concerning the holding of registered matter of large value for desk delivery.)

(d) Fourth-class matter for Guam, Hawaii, Philippine Islands, Virgin Islands of the United States, Puerto Rico, and the Canal Zone, may be insured but can not be registered unless sealed and the first-class rate of postage is paid.

NOTE.—The regulations of the Philippine postal service permit of the registration of unsealed fourth-class articles mailed in the Philippine Islands, provided they are securely wrapped for transmission.

(e) Mailable second and third class matter, valued in excess of $100 upon which a registry fee in excess of 30 cents is paid, must be sealed and first-class postage paid thereon.

(f) Mailable fourth-class matter may also be registered if sealed and the first-class postage is paid thereon.

NOTE.—The requirement for the sealing of registered matter of the second and third classes valued in excess of $100 on which a registry fee in excess of 30 cents is paid and the prepayment of letter postage thereon does not prohibit the voluntary sealing of registered matter of the second and third classes valued at $100 or less, prepaid at the first-class rate of postage, nor the sealing subject to postal inspection of third-class matter valued at $100 or less, prepaid at the third-class rate of postage under the provisions of section 581, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932. (See sec. 1203, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, as to fees and limits of indemnity and surcharge and sec. 435, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, as to post-office hours for registry business and secs. 577 and 578, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, as to limit of weight.) Patrons who mail large quantities of matter should be encouraged to seal, subject to postal inspection, under the provisions of section 581, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, any valuable third-class registered mail even though it is insured for only $100 or less.

(g) When mail presented to city, village, or rural carriers or at contract stations or contract branches for registration is of such value that it can not be accepted by carriers or at such stations or branches without unusual risk, the senders shall be requested to present the matter at a classified station, or a classified branch, or at the main office, as designated by the postmaster. When there is reason to believe that because of local conditions mail of large value is being subjected to unusual hazards through being presented for registration at any classified station instead of at the main office, report of the facts in the case should be submitted to the Third Assistant Postmaster General (Division of Registered Mails) for consideration. (See arts. 46 and 47, p. 175.)

28. Mail which should be registered.—(a) Money. (However, money should be sent by postal money orders when they are available. See arts. 3, 4, and 5, p. 143.)

(b) Valuable papers, such as deeds, specifications, etc.

(c) Articles of unusual value.

(d) Articles for which the sender requests a return receipt showing delivery—such articles should be plainly indorsed "Return receipt requested," or "Return receipt requested showing address where delivered," when receipt showing this information is requested, on the address side.

(e) Letters which sender desires delivered to addressee in person—these should be plainly indorsed "Deliver to addressee only" on the address side.

(f) Any articles for which the sender desires indemnity in case of loss, if such indemnity is provided.

29. Airplane registry service.—(a) Mail for dispatch via airplane service shall be accepted for registration upon the prepayment by postage stamps affixed, of the required registration fee, and any surcharge collectible in addition to the airplane postage. (See art. 7, second par., p. 49.) Registered air mail shall be indorsed "Air mail" and be made up and dispatched in accordance with the registry regulations and be given the most expeditious handling consistent with the safeguards required for registered mail. When registered mail for dispatch via airplane originates off the route of the air mail service and justifies the use of inclosing equipment, the face of the paper jacket, or the label of the sack or pouch, shall also be indorsed "Air mail." (See sec. 1223, par. 8, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932; also secs. 511, 1203, par. 5, and 1782, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

(b) The original registration receipts and mailing office registration records of domestic articles accepted for registration for transmission by airplane service must be indorsed "Via air mail," and postmasters should be prepared upon call to report separately the number of domestic registered articles accepted for transmission by airplane service.

(c) All domestic registered mail for dispatch by airplane and on which the airplane rate of postage is paid must be securely sealed against inspection.

(d) It should be noted that both postage and registry fee must be paid on official registered mail sent as air mail except that no registry fee or postage need be paid on important official mail of the Postal Service when its prompt dispatch is deemed necessary and the matter is of such character as to require registration. (See sec. 511, par. 3, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

30. Domestic registered mail involving Alaska.—(a) Restrictions.—From May 1, of each year, until the closing of the open (summer) season, first, second, and third class matter may be registered to any part of Alaska. Domestic third and fourth class (parcel post) matter may be insured (or sent C. O. D. when addressed to money-order post offices) to any part of Alaska. Sealed unregistered matter of any class bearing postage at the first-class rate, in addition to the proper fee, also may be sent C. O. D. to money-order post offices in Alaska. (See arts. 1 and 3, pp. 187 and 188, and art. 12, p. 190.) During the winter months (from about Oct. 1 to May 1) the articles transmissible in mails for offices in Alaska, except for offices on the southern coast and those supplied, by railroads are limited, as stated in the detailed instructions contained in article 25, page 122 of this Guide. Winter restrictions upon mail for interior Alaska become effective October 1, of each year. Article 25, page 122, of this Guide, fully covers the dispatch of mail, articles transmissible, and articles excluded from the mails during the closed season for offices designated "R" under Alaska in the State list of post offices. Postmasters will see to it that all employees concerned fully understand the foregoing instructions and that all articles excluded are not accepted for mailing for transmission to post offices designated "R" during the winter period stated. Inquiries or tracers should not be sent without first allowing a reasonable length of time for transmission, delivery, and response. In this connection, see article 53, page 177, and section 1291, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932; also sections 809, paragraph 8, and 1318, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, concerning notices of undeliverable matter. The steamer carrying mails for Nome, Alaska, and the post offices in the Seward Peninsula, Alaska, served through the Nome office, usually leaves Seattle, Wash., about May 10; therefore all classes of mailable matter for those destinations may be accepted on and after May 1.

(b) Delays.—The senders of registered matter for Alaska, other than letters in their usual and ordinary form, should be informed that such matter is liable to be delayed in transit if the letter mail available for dispatch entirely exhausts the limit of weight of matter which the contractor is required to transport on each trip during the winter season (from about Oct. 1 to May 1.)

(c) Note that the rate of postage on gold coin, gold bullion, and gold dust offered for mailing between any two points in Alaska, or between any point in Alaska and any point in the United States or its possessions, is 2 cents an ounce or fraction thereof, regardless of distance. Such gold coin, gold bullion, or gold dust must be inclosed in sealed packages not exceeding 50 pounds in weight and sent by registered mail. (See art. 47, p. 17, and art. 61, p. 19, and sec. 573, par. 3, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

31. By whom registered.—(a) Application for the registration of mail should be made at a post office, station, branch, or to a carrier. (See, however, art. 10, pp. 161 to 165, of this Guide, as to registration of mail of considerable value.)

(b) Mail intended for registration should never be placed in a street letter box or in the ordinary mail drop; it must be presented for registration and receipt obtained at that time.

32. Registry fees.—(a) The registry fees on domestic registered mail shall be at the rates mentioned in article 10, pp. 161 to 165 of this Guide, and are in addition to the regular postage (and surcharge if any) all of which shall be prepaid by stamps affixed, unless permission has been given the sender to mail the matter under the metered system. (See secs. 1203 and 1380, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, as to domestic registry fees and limits of indemnity.) (See p. 184 as to fees and limits of indemnity in connection with domestic registered collect-on-delivery mail.)

(b) See sections 1205 and 2207, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, as to international registry fees.

(c) Two or more articles when tied or otherwise fastened together, addressed to or intended for the same person, shall not be registered as one unless inclosed in the same envelope or wrapper.

(d) Notations giving information as to the amount of fee paid should not be left on a registered article at the time it is dispatched.

33. Senders' return receipts.—(a) A fee of 3 cents is required to be paid for each return receipt requested at the time of mailing for each domestic registered article, a fee of 5 cents is required to be paid for such receipt requested after mailing, and a fee of 23 cents is required for a return receipt requested at the time of mailing to show the address where the registered article was delivered. When a return receipt is requested showing address at which the article is delivered, the article is to be marked "Return receipt requested showing address where delivered." Note particularly that all requests for return receipts for domestic registered mail which are to show the address where the article is delivered must be made at the time of mailing, and that all fees for return receipts and the fees for registration are in addition to the regular postage. .Furthermore the address where the article is delivered is not to be shown on a return receipt unless the sender has requested such information. No refund of fees paid for any return receipts will be made on articles mailed after June 30, 1932, unless failure to furnish the return receipt or its equivalent is due to fault of the postal service. (See secs. 1202, par. 1, 1218, par. 1 (b), 1322, and 1386, par. 5 (a), Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

(b) The additional charge for the sender's registry return receipt is to be paid by means of postage stamps affixed to the articles when mailed, in close proximity to the indorsement requesting such receipt and separate from other stamps. These stamps should be canceled the same as those in payment of postage, registry fees, and surcharges, if any. When the sender has not affixed the postage stamps in payment of the fee for the return receipt separate from the other postage stamps affixed, the words "Fee paid" should be placed by the accepting postal employee under the indorsement "Return receipt requested" or "Return receipt requested showing address where delivered," so it will be apparent that the required fee has been paid.

(c) When a return receipt is requested at the time of mailing to show the address where a registered article is delivered, both the receipt issued to the sender and the record of the mailing office must show that such a receipt was requested and the amount of fee paid.

(d) The separate and additional charge for senders' return receipts applies to all registered and insured mail regardless of whether it is mailed by the public or by any Government official or any branch of the Government; that is to say, by any executive department at Washington, D. C., including the Post Office Department, or any branch thereof, including post offices. The right to free registration in any case does not carry with it the privilege of obtaining free senders' return receipts for registered mail.

(e) Return receipts for registered mail should be prepared at the offices of mailing. Care must be exercised to see that the return address on return receipts is correctly and completely filled in; also that the registration number is written or stamped as near as practicable to the abbreviation "No." on the return receipt so as to prevent the impression made by the canceling machine from partially obliterating one or more figures of the registration number. Domestic return receipt (Form 3811) will be used when return receipt is requested for registered mail deliverable in the Canal Zone, Guam, Philippine Islands, Puerto Rico, Hawaii, the Virgin Islands of the United States, or on board United States naval vessels. When an article bearing such indorsement is received for registration, the registration record shall be similarly indorsed. The card receipts must be securely fastened at the mailing office to the pieces to which they relate. Return receipts accompanying registered articles which the sender has marked "Deliver to addressee only," or "Deliver to addressee or order," should have the words "Deliver to addressee only" or "Deliver to addressee or order," written or stamped on the return receipt just below the space on the return receipt reserved for the signature of the addressee. Return receipts also shall be appropriately indorsed when the sender has requested a return receipt showing address where a registered article is delivered. These notations on the return receipt will tend to insure the correct delivery of the registered article. Postmasters will see that these receipts are obtained and promptly returned to the senders in every instance wherein they are requested by indorsement upon the article; also in cases where, in the absence of this indorsement, the articles are accompanied with return receipts. The receipts should invariably be obtained, even though the articles are not accompanied with the prescribed form (3811) if the article bears a notation indicating that sender requests a return receipt. Failure to provide return receipts which have been requested is a delinquency which will not be tolerated by the department. Postmasters shall exercise care to see that cancelling machines are properly adjusted so as to prevent postmarking impressions from obliterating or interfering with the registration numbers on senders' return receipts.

(f) When a return receipt is requested subsequent to the time of mailing, it may not be necessary, particularly at the larger offices, to locate the mailing office record for the purpose of indicating thereon the fact that a return receipt was requested after mailing. If note of request for a return receipt after mailing is not made on the original mailing office record it should be made on some convenient record improvised for registered mail, such as the Registry Dispatch Book Form 3851, or sheet Record of Registered Matter Received for Delivery, Form 3867, the most economical form being utilized for the purpose. When loose sheets are used as an improvised record the sheets should be consecutively numbered so that all of them will be accounted for. The only particulars necessary on an improvised record of return receipts requested after mailing will be date of mailing, registration number, and amount of fee paid. This information will make it possible to connect the transaction with the original mailing office record if necessary. It is believed that at offices of the third and fourth classes this data could be made on the original mailing office record rendering an improvised record unnecessary. Extreme care should be used to make the record so that every case of this character may be accounted for in reports to the department.

(g) When a registered article is received for delivery accompanied by a sender's registry return receipt or marked to indicate that such a receipt is desired by the sender, the letter "R" should be placed opposite the entry of the registered article on the delivery record (Form 3850) at the smaller offices and smaller stations and Forms 3849, 3867, or firm delivery sheets (Forms 3883 and 3883–A) at the larger offices and stations.

(h) Care must be exercised to see that a return receipt is attached to the registered article at the time of delivery of the registered article to the carrier if the sender has requested a return receipt. Carriers should have in their possession a limited number of blank return receipts which can be filled out by them in the infrequent instances where they find that a return receipt was requested by the sender but is found to be missing at the time of delivery.

(i) When the postmaster at the office of delivery receives a request from the postmaster at the office of mailing for a return receipt requested after mailing for a registered article, he should endeavor to secure the signature of the addressee or his authorized representative on the return receipt form. If receipt is obtained he should insert the actual date of delivery of the registered article in the space provided therefor. However, the postmark of the delivering office on a return receipt requested after mailing, or a duplicate receipt, should show the date the receipt is mailed. If the addressee declines to sign the return receipt requested after mailing the receipt form should be indorsed to show the actual date of delivery followed by the words "Signature refused. Record shows delivery to (name of person to whom delivered)." The card when completed shall be promptly mailed to the sender of the article.

(j) It should be particularly noted that the addressee is not required to place his address upon the return receipt; but if delivery is effected by a carrier (city, village, or rural) and the sender has requested a return receipt showing where delivery is effected, the carrier is required to place on the return receipt the complete address where delivery is made; that if the sender has requested a return receipt showing address where delivery is made and delivery is made at a post office or station, the delivering employee is to indorse the return receipt "Delivered at post office" or "Delivered at ———————— station," naming the station; and that the address where delivery is made is not to be shown on return receipts requested after mailing.

(k) Ordinarily return receipts are to be returned in the open mails, without cover, direct to the senders of the articles involved. When a domestic registered article is marked to indicate that the sender desired a return receipt but postage stamps in prepayment of the fee required for the return receipt were not affixed to the article, the charge for the return receipt shall be collected from the addressee upon delivery of the article. However, if the addressee is not willing to pay the charge, delivery shall not be delayed, but the return receipt shall be obtained and sent under cover to the postmaster at the office named in the address of the sender and the charge collected upon delivery of the receipt to him. Likewise, when postage stamps in full prepayment of the fee required for a return receipt requested after mailing do not accompany the request, the return receipt shall be obtained and collection of the charge therefor made from the addressee. If the addressee is not willing to pay the charge, the return receipt shall be obtained and sent under cover to the postmaster at the office named in the address of the sender and the charge collected upon delivery of the receipt to him.

(l) The department has received many complaints that senders failed to receive return receipts which were requested and paid for at the time of mailing. Every domestic registered article should be carefully examined before delivery to see whether it bears a request for a return receipt and, if so, that the return receipt is obtained as requested.

(m) When delivery of the article is effected, and the office delivery receipt and a return receipt obtained, the entry of the article on the delivery record will be checked to indicate not only the delivery of the article but also to show that the required return receipt has been obtained. If for any reason a requested return receipt is not obtained at the time of the delivery, action should be taken to obtain the return receipt as soon as practicable which would ordinarily be on the next trip of the carrier.

(n) It is extremely important that all details on the return receipt for a registered article be correctly filled out. A great many complaints indicate that the signature of the addressee is written in the space provided for the signature of the addressee's agent; that the signatures of the addressee and the addressee's agent are reversed; that the receipt is not properly signed, postmarked, and date of delivery shown; that the postmark is sometimes illegible; that the impression made by the canceling machine partially obliterates one or more figures of the registered or insured number as a result of failure to see that the number is written or stamped as near as practicable to the abbreviation "No." on the return receipt.

(o) In cases of complaints of failure to receive return receipts, prompt effort shall be made to obtain the desired receipts, but the instructions published on this subject in the October, 1937, Postal Guide, are hereby modified to provide that such receipts shall be mailed direct to the sender instead of under cover to the postmaster making the report.

(p) Return receipts may be transmitted to sender by air mail provided the sender pays 6 cents for air mail postage in addition to the return receipt fee of 3 cents. (See notice on pages 16 and 17 of the August, 1938, Postal Guide.

34. Free registration of official mail.—(a) Aside from mail on official business of the Post Office Department, that relating to the census, certain matter relating to naturalization, and the few other exceptions mentioned in sections 1211, 1213, 1214, and 2230, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, no mail of any executive department or branch of the Federal Government outside of Washington, D. C., is entitled to free registration, irrespective of whether it is entitled to free postage. Government officers located at Washington, D. C., whose official mail may be registered free there, under the law, may have such mail registered free elsewhere, when they are temporarily away from Washington; but not those officers who are permanently away from that city, or who are engaged in field service for their respective departments. Matter entitled to free registration by officers or employees of the Government temporarily absent from Washington should be indorsed over their signatures with the words "Temporarily absent from Washington, D. C." Free registration is not accorded to the legislative or judicial departments nor any State or other Government or any of its branches. Furthermore free registration applies to such official mail as requires registration. In case of doubt a postmaster should require payment of the fee and any surcharge collectible and report the matter to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Registered Mails, for decision. (See sec. 1203, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, as to fees and limits of indemnity and surcharge, and art. 33, par. (d), p. 170, as to charge for return receipts for official mail; also sec. 1211, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

(b) Particularly note the information published on page 18, of the December, 1933, Guide, under the caption, "Mail Matter Presented for Registration by Field Representatives of Various Government Institutions Not Entitled to Free Registration." Also see notice published on pages 14 and 15 of the February, 1936, Postal Guide, on the subject of free registration of census matter.

(c) Parcels of official mail which are of such a character that under section 618 of the Postal Laws and Regulations they are subject to postage if they weigh more than 4 pounds may be accepted for registration with postage paid thereon at the fourth-class rate, in addition to any required registry fee and registry surcharge, provided they consist of written or printed matter, ordinarily of comparatively little intrinsic value, as, for example, files, records, schedules, reports, books, circulars, and other miscellaneous written or printed matter. Such parcels should be sealed. This arrangement for the acceptance of such official matter at the fourth-class rate of postage does not apply to certificates of stock, bonds, or other valuable securities. (See the notice published on p. 32 of the November, 1935, Postal Guide.)

(d) It will be noted by reference to section 1218 of the Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, that the additional charge for senders' return receipts applies to any domestic registered and insured mail, regardless of whether it is mailed by the public or by a Government institution or a representative thereof in Washington, D. C., or in the field. It will also be noted (see sec. 1203 of the Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932) that the fee of 10 cents for restricted delivery is chargeable on official registered mail only when such mail is not entitled to free registration.

(e) Postal employees must be careful not to register unnecessarily post-office official matter. Apart from registrations required by the Regulations (see especially secs. 111, 155, 821, 1507, and 2230, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932) or by specific instructions, official matter should not be registered unless (1) proof of delivery is essential; (2) it contains inclosures of intrinsic value, such as money or stamped paper; (3) the inclosure is of such importance that its duplication in case of loss would be necessary and entail material expense. Examples of matter which ordinarily do not require registration are checks and drafts when of nonnegotiable character and which can be realized upon only by the payee, and comparatively unimportant papers or correspondence. Free registration is an expense to the service which shall be minimized as much as possible. Postmasters shall report to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Registered Mails, any instances observed by them, when it appears that there is being registered free official mail which apparently does not require registration. Ordinary claims for indemnity or correspondence in connection therewith should not be transmitted from one postmaster to another by official registered mail, but in exceptional cases, where it is deemed necessary to do so, the papers may be sent in that manner. These instructions are not intended to prohibit the use of the official registered mails for the handling of claims for indemnity, but it is desired that postmasters exercise discretion and good judgment in the use of such service in order that the privilege may not be abused.

(f) No indemnity is paid on official matter upon which both postage and fee have not been paid. Official mail on which a registry fee is required is also subject to the payment of surcharge.

35. Preparation for mailing.—Mail for registration must—

(a) Bear the name and address of sender and be legibly addressed. Mail for members of military organizations should show the official designation of the unit and organization to which the addressee belongs. While it is desired that the return address be placed in the upper left corner of the address side of the envelope or wrapper of mail intended for registration, postmasters should not refuse to accept an article simply because the name and address of the sender appears on the back of the article.

(b) Have postage, fee and any surcharge collectible fully prepaid and stamps affixed at time of registration. (Postal employees must carefully examine articles in order to detect and collect any deficiency on registered articles or on matter presented for registration.) (See secs. 515, 613, 1203, and 1211, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

(c) Be securely sealed if sent as first-class matter. (See following art. 36.)

(d) Be inclosed in envelopes or wrappers of sufficient strength to withstand customary treatment in transmission. The "extra quality" 3-cent stamped envelope is especially recommended as a cover for registered mail, particularly for coin, currency, or similar objects. Postmasters must decline to accept articles for registration when inclosed in flimsy envelopes or not wrapped so that they will carry safely with ordinary handling. They will bring to the attention of banks and financial institutions at their offices the necessity of adequately and effectively preparing and wrapping money packages, suggesting that it would be advisable to inclose paper money in canvas sacks closed with lead seals or tied and placed within an outer wrapper, strong enough to protect the inclosure and to withstand handling itself, or that it be inclosed in cloth or linen lined envelopes. Sheets of currency should be made into a compact package. The contents of a package must not be so bulky or ill-fitting that the outer cover will be broken through or cracked by protruding corners or edges. Letters or parcels not prepared in this way must have a piece of cardboard or the like placed on top and underneath of each package of money before being placed in the outside cover; these packages must be wrapped at least three times with a heavy grade of paper and securely sealed with mucilage or glue in addition to wax which, if used, is frequently knocked off or broken in handling.

(e) Domestic letters inclosed in window envelopes and containing matter of intrinsic value should not be registered unless the transparent panel of the envelope constitutes an integral part of the envelope as distinguished from one which has no covering over the opening or has the covering over the opening simply pasted or glued to the envelope. Even though the panel is an integral part of the envelope the letter should not be accepted for registration if the envelope is not strong enough to safely carry the inclosure, or its use results in the nature of the contents being unduly exposed. Letters for domestic destinations inclosed in window envelopes may be accepted for registration even though the cover of the opening is not an integral part of the envelope, if the letter contains nothing of intrinsic value and the envelope is sufficiently strong to carry the inclosure, but no indemnity will be paid for the loss or rifling of registered matter inclosed in such envelopes.

(f) In accepting for registration sealed articles other than letters in their usual and ordinary form (or sealed letters in their usual or ordinary form which apparently contain other than written or printed matter), postmasters should make sufficient inquiry concerning their contents to determine whether the articles are packed and wrapped in such a manner as to insure transmission through the mails without damage. The public should be informed of the importance of indorsing sealed articles for registration "Fragile" when the contents are of a fragile nature. All articles easily breakable, intended for registration must be marked "Fragile." Inquiry should be made of the senders concerning articles not marked "Fragile" to ascertain if they contain fragile matter. When articles containing fragile matter are not marked "Fragile" by the senders they should be so marked by the postal employee accepting them for registration, and if dispatched in a registered jacket, the jacket should be marked "Fragile." The post office record and the registration receipts issued to the senders must also be marked "Fragile." Where damage to contents of a registered article is due to lack of the fragile indorsement indemnity may not be paid. (See sec. 1202, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

(g) In some instances the tags attached to lead-seal sacks containing coin or currency are simply tied to the sack after it has been lead sealed, in such a manner as to permit the string to become untied and the tag lost off. To avoid this, the senders of registered sacks containing coin or currency should be requested to attach securely the lead seal to the neck of the sack in such a way that the tag bearing the name and address of the addressee will be securely attached between the neck and the lead seal, immediately under the lead seal. This can be accomplished by passing the cord through the eyelet of the tag, the cord being drawn taut and the seal compressed while the tag rests flat on the neck of the sack, between the sack and the head of the seal. The sealing of the ends of the cord with wax is not alone a sufficient safeguard, as the wax is liable to become broken. When lead seals equipped with steel pin are used, the pin should not be so long or the neck of the sack gathered together in such a manner as to permit the pin to protrude through the folds of the sack to such an extent that a sharp point will be exposed, resulting possibly in injury to postal employees.

36. Inclosing and sealing of registered mail.—(a) Before accepting letters for registration, the receiving postal employees shall exercise care to see that the article is securely sealed in every part with mucilage or glue and that it is inclosed in a cover of sufficient strength to withstand transmission in the mails. (See art. 35, above.) While the use of wax, paper strips or seals on letter mail is not encouraged, their use will be permitted provided the articles are first securely sealed in every part with mucilage or glue and the sealing devices are affixed in such a manner as not to interfere with the articles being properly postmarked at and over the intersection of the sealing flaps without any wax, paper strips, or seals intervening between the sealing flaps and the postmark. In other words, paper strips, wax seals, or paper seals must not be affixed over the space intended for impressions of the postmarking stamp. (See art. 40, p. 174.) The paper strips or seals must bear the name of the sender, and it is preferred that the sender's address also be shown. The paper seals should be of a distinctive character made of soft, thin paper (preferably transparent and unglazed). However, letter mail which is satisfactorily prepared in every respect except that it may bear plain strips or seals instead of strips or seals bearing in printing or by rubber-stamp impression the name (and preferably the address of the sender) may be accepted for registration after requiring the sender or his representative to write the name of the sender, to agree with the name in the return card, across the paper strip or seal in such a manner that the signature will appear partly on the strip or seal and partly on the envelope, after which an impression of the registry postmarking stamp shall be placed over the signature. (See detailed instructions in this connection on p. 25 of the June 1927 Guide, pp. 24 and 25 of the November 1928 Guide, pp. 25 and 26 of the February 1929 Guide, and p. 19 of the September 1930 Guide.)

(b) Parcels containing merchandise, however, presented for registration may be sealed with paper strips without it being required that the parcels first be sealed with mucilage or glue, provided the paper strips are of such quality and character and are affixed in such a way as to completely and securely seal the parcels. Parcels should not be accepted if the strips are of such quality or character or affixed in such a manner as to result in an insecure sealing of the parcels. The strips need not be of a distinctive character nor bear the name and address of the sender although patrons should be encouraged to use strips which are distinctive or which bear their names and addresses.

(c) If a parcel is sealed only with paper strips instead of being first sealed with mucilage or glue, two, or, if necessary, several impressions of the registry postmarking stamp must be placed on the parcel, regardless of whether the paper strips are distinctive or bear the name and address of the sender. The impressions of the postmarking stamp shall be placed partly on the wrapper and partly on the paper strips and on opposite edges of the strips, when practicable. When under these instructions it is required that impressions of the postmarking stamp be placed partly on the wrapper and partly on the paper strip, articles sealed with cellophane or other glazed paper strips shall not be accepted for registration if the strips cannot be legibly postmarked.

(d) The above ruling regarding the preparation of parcels does not, for the present at least, apply to registered articles containing currency or securities, nor does it apply to envelopes presented for registration. The specific instructions issued from time to time regarding the use of paper strips or paper seals continue to apply to envelopes.

37. Receipt to be given sender at time article is accepted.—Receipt shall be given the sender at the time each article is accepted for registration. The receipt and the office record shall bear notations showing the number of each article, the amount of registry fee paid, the class of postage paid, the full value of the registered article declared by the sender, or the known or estimated cost of duplication in the case of nonnegotiable securities and valuable papers, the amount of surcharge, if any paid, the names and complete addresses of the sender and addressee, the amount of return receipt or special delivery fee, if any paid, the restrictions in delivery, if any, and the fee paid therefor, and the postmark showing date of registration. (See art. 24, p. 167 and sec. 1203, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.) The declared value shall not be entered on the registered article itself. When the quick registration receipt is issued, the office record shall be completed to show required particulars. (See sec. 1209, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.) Registration receipts must be fully and legibly filled out to show plainly all the required particulars including name of post office or station from which issued. When a number of articles are presented for registration and sender is unwilling to wait for the usual receipts, Forms 3805 or 3806, or signed firm mailing sheet, he may be given a temporary bulk receipt, Form 3824. In such cases care must be exercised to see that the usual form of permanent receipt is issued as soon as practicable. (See sec. 1384, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, and p. 234, relative to additional receipts or certificates of mailing for domestic registered mail.)

38. Rates of postage to be designated in records.—The class of each article accepted for registration shall be noted on the registration receipt and on the mailing-office record. (See art. 24, p. 167, of this Guide, and art. 37 above.)

39. Affixing and cancellation of stamps.—Postmasters and postal employees are enjoined to exercise extreme care to see that registered mail (or insured mail treated as registered matter) requiring the affixing of postage stamps in payment of postage, fee, or surcharge, bear the required stamps before dispatch, and that the stamps are effectively canceled or defaced by means of the black canceling ink furnished by the department for that purpose. Care should be exercised not to cause disfigurement of postage stamps having philatelic value. However, only such canceling devices as have been authorized by the department should be used in canceling stamps on registered mail. Mail matter bearing postage stamps defaced with private cancellation marks of various designs is not deemed acceptable for mailing. Failure to effectively cancel stamps on registered mail may result in a loss of considerable revenue to the department and each postmaster is expected to see that carelessness in canceling of postage stamps on registered matter does not prevail at his office. Postmasters should report to the Third Assistant Postmaster General (Division of Registered Mails) any instances noted where stamps on registered matter are not properly canceled or not canceled at all.

40. Postmarking of registered mail.—Postmasters must see that registered articles are invariably postmarked (at the time the article is accepted for registration and in the presence of the sender when practicable) in a legible manner, as required by sections 1216 and 2208, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932. When the envelope in which the sender has inclosed matter intended for registration is constructed in such a manner that an additional impression or impressions of the postmarking stamp would render rifling of the envelope more difficult, such additional impression or impressions should also be placed across the flaps at the ends of the envelope in addition to being placed over the intersection of the upper and lower flaps. An example of such an envelope would be one where the upper flap of the envelope is more quadrangular (four-cornered) than triangular (three-cornered) in shape, having a very small flap on each end. On such an envelope the accepting postal employee will also place an impression of the postmarking stamp over the crossing of the flaps at each end of the envelope in addition to placing the impression of the stamp twice over the intersection of the top and bottom flaps of the envelope. The use of such envelopes for registered mail should be discouraged owing to the fact that they are constructed in such a manner as to render rifling of the contents very easy. (See also secs. 719 and 720, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.) When a combined postmarking and canceling stamp is used on registered letters, the stamp should be applied in such a manner that only the impression of that portion of the stamp which cancels the postage stamps will appear on the address side of the article. As red is a distinctive color used in connection with the Registry Service, it is desired that, where practicable, the red-ink pads be used in connection with the rubber registry stamps. However, black ink should be used in canceling postage stamps. (See art. 39 above.)

41. Numbering and indorsement of registered mail.—Postmasters should give careful consideration to the numbering of registered mail with a view to eliminating prefixes and suffixes in every instance practicable and to restricting the numbers to as few figures as practicable. Numbers should be legibly written and the use of stamped or typed numbers on large mailings of registered mail encouraged. The series of numbers should be commenced anew as frequently as found desirable in order to obtain the use of as few figures as practicable. The words "Registered No." and the registration number should not be placed on registered articles in a haphazard manner and without any uniformity as to the position in which the indicia appears. When practicable this indicia should be placed in the upper left portion of the address side of the article or directly above and parallel with the address. Care should be exercised to see that registered articles bear no numbers other than the registration number or such approved numbers as are permissible which, when used, should be added in such a manner that they will not be confused with the numbers assigned by the Postal Service. In forwarding registered mail all numbers but the one under which an article is forwarded should be crossed out. (See secs. 1207 and 1208, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

42. Equipment for dispatching domestic registered mail.—Postmasters and other postal employees concerned are informed that the following described pouches should be used in dispatching registered mail:

Nos. 2 and 3, ordinary pouches.

43. Defective pouches, sacks, or locks must not be used in dispatching registered mail.—Reports indicate that postal employees frequently use defective equipment in dispatching registered mail. The use of such equipment is likely to result in the loss of registered articles (possibly of considerable value) for which the postal employee using the defective equipment may be held responsible. It is therefore manifestly to the interest of all concerned to examine carefully all pouches, sacks, and locks before use and while being handled in transit, in order to make sure that the equipment is free of defects and in first-class condition. If a pouch or sack received in transit is found to be so worn that the contents are endangered, the dispatch should be reinclosed in another container. It is desired and expected that each postal employee concerned give careful heed to these instructions.

44. Care in billing and checking registered mail.—Postal employees are cautioned to see that cards and manifold bills describing registered matter are correctly and legibly written, and to exercise the greatest care in recording letter, jacket, and lock numbers; that receipts obtained are for the identical articles billed; that matter received, checks up with the card or bill, and that discrepancies are reported for prompt investigation. As close observation as is practicable should be made of the condition of registered matter received and delivered, and appropriate action taken when an article is in bad condition or poorly sealed. (See art. 26, par. (g), p. 168.)

45. Dispatching and witnessing of registered mail.—(a) Postal employees shall be prepared at any time to make affidavits stating that any particular registered piece was properly dispatched, delivered as a hand piece, or received, and its condition. When practicable, two persons shall witness the pouching of the registered mail for dispatch and the locking of the pouch, and also the opening of the incoming pouches, and the removal of the registered matter therefrom, and write their names or initials as evidence thereof in the transit, delivery, or other proper record. This witnessing shall not be perfunctory; nor will failure to witness be excused on the ground merely of inconvenience or other insufficient reason, and a thorough investigation will be made by post-office inspectors whenever this feature of the handling of registered mail may be involved. (See art. 26, pp. 167 and 168, and sec. 1268, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

(b) Registered mail shall not be placed in a pouch, sack, or jacket until the equipment is ready to be locked or sealed, and in dispatching registered with ordinary mail the registered matter shall be placed in the pouch last just before the pouch is locked and delivered to the person authorized to receive it. (See secs. 1238, 1242, 1261, and 1268, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

46. Registered articles known or presumed to contain large values, such as coin, currency, securities, etc., to be made the object of special care, so far as practicable, both at post offices and while in transit.—Such articles, as far as practicable. should be given proper vault or safe protection, handled under the supervision of responsible supervisory officials or employees, and such receipts should be taken, and care exercised in billing and checking as will make it possible to place responsibility in cases of loss or depredation. Such packages should not be handled within the sight of patrons or unauthorized persons, and loose conversation regarding such shipments should be prohibited. At massing points in large offices or large R. P. O.'s, if the ordinary run of registered mail is, in special and necessary cases, transferred by bulk, exception should be made, so far as practicable, to articles apparently of large value and detailed receipt obtained for such mail. Day R. P. O. dispatches of registered mail of large value are preferable to night dispatches, and so far as practicable postmasters should advise the senders of such matter to present it, if possible, in time for inclosure in authorized day R. P. O. dispatches. See the notice published on page 25 of the January, 1937, Postal Guide, under the caption "Protection of Registered Articles Left in Safe Over Night."

47. Reports of instances where it is believed registered mail is not properly protected.—Prompt report should be made to the department, through proper channels, of any instance noted wherein it is believed that registered mail—particularly that known to be of more than nominal value—is not given adequate safeguards either in transit or in post offices. In this connection particular attention is directed to sec. 1203, par. 3 (a), Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.

Postmasters should also carefully note par. 2 of sec. 1354, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, in which it is stated that when there is reason to believe that a registered letter or parcel contains a large sum of money or valuable securities which cannot be delivered by city, village, or rural carrier or by special-delivery messenger without unusual risk, the addressee shall be requested to call for it at the post office. (See art. 27, pp. 168 and 169. Also the notice published on page 33 of the June, 1937, Postal Guide, under the caption, "Protection of Registered Mail.")

48. Iron-lock pouch dispatches.—Division superintendents of the Railway Mail Service will make certain preliminary installations of exceptional dispatches of registered mail in iron-lock pouches, their action in each case to be reported to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Registered Mails, for approval, disapproval, or modification, such installation to remain in force unless formal notice of its modification or revocation is received. Postmasters may continue to communicate direct to the Third Assistant Postmaster General (Division of Registered Mails), their opinions with reference to exceptional dispatches in which their offices are concerned, and are expected to do this when they consider that a dispatch frequently containing valuable mail is unsafe. (See art. 45, p. 175.)

49. Rotary-lock dispatches.—(a) All postmasters and employees of the Railway Mail Service in possession of ordinary rotary-lock keys are authorized to make and to receive dispatches of registered mail in pouches or sacks closed with rotary locks whenever the quantity or bulk of registered mail involved justifies and at least one handling in transit of the mail inclosed is saved thereby, and it is known that the receiving post office or R. P. O. has a rotary-lock key. Five or more pieces of ordinary size or two bulky pieces which will well fill a pouch or sack will justify the use of a sack or pouch closed with a rotary lock. The rotary-lock pouch or sack should in exceptional cases be used for even a less number of registered articles where the matter is of unusual value and it is apparent that its dispatch in a rotary-lock pouch or sack will afford additional protection. Unless a postal employee making up a rotary-lock pouch has knowledge that hand-to-hand delivery of the pouch can be made over the entire route, the pouch as made up should not be so large that it can not be inclosed within a large size outer ordinary mail pouch, should occasion require. All post offices of the first and second classes, railway post offices in full postal cars, railway post offices in the more important apartment car lines, and certain transfer clerks designated in the schedules of the Railway Mail Service, and certain post offices of the third and fourth classes, branch post offices, named stations, and Navy mail clerks are in possession of rotary-lock keys and therefore authorized to make and to receive dispatches of registered mail in pouches and sacks closed with rotary locks. See the list published in the latest August Postal Guide and corrections thereto published in subsequent monthly issues showing post offices of the third and fourth classes, branch post offices, named stations, and Navy mail clerks in possession of rotary-lock keys. Postmasters should preserve the list appearing in that Guide and keep same corrected up to date from information printed in subsequent monthly Postal Guides as issued. If preferred, a complete typewritten list may be prepared, pasted to sheets of cardboard, and subsequently kept corrected to date.

(b) In case of doubt whether any railway post office train is supplied with a rotary-lock key, obtain the necessary information from the local superintendent or chief clerk of the Railway Mail Service. (See secs. 1219, 1220, 1233 to 1241, 1256 to 1267, 1299, and 1373, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.) Any postmaster or employee of the Railway Mail Service who believes that he should be furnished with a rotary-lock key should make application therefor, stating reasons.

(c) Registered matter for distribution from an office to which a pouch or sack is addressed may be included in a dispatch of registered mail when the current registry scheme shows that the delivery of the matter will be advanced thereby, or when the division superintendent, Railway Mail Service, advises that such registered matter may be so inclosed; otherwise, matter inclosed should be restricted to that addressed to the same office as the pouch or sack.

(d) Printed labels will not be furnished for rotary-lock dispatches which are so infrequent as not to justify the printing, although blank cardboard labels will be furnished. Facing slips may be used for labels whenever necessary.

(e) The words "Special delivery" must be added to iron-lock and rotary-lock pouch or sack labels and registered paper jackets containing special-delivery registered mail. (See sec. 1223, par. 8, of the Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, as to air-mail registry dispatches.)

(f) In closing rotary-locked pouches and sacks the shackle or hook of the lock shall be placed in the top of the staple extending downward, rather than attaching the lock from the bottom of the staple upward. The placing of rotary locks on pouches and sacks in this manner will bring the windows of the locks exposing rotary numbers on the top and also bring the fixed numbers of the locks in front of the employee recording or checking the same.

(g) If all registered pouches and sacks are locked in this manner, employees will be able to check the lock numbers quicker than if attached in the opposite manner, and time will be saved in close connections.

(h) The careful attention of all postal employees concerned is directed to the provisions of sec. 1257, par. 2, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, wherein it is stated that when hand-to-hand delivery cannot be made of a rotary lock pouch or sack it shall be enclosed in an iron-lock mail bag, labeled to the proper office; and to sec. 1269, par. 1, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, which is construed to prohibit registered mail being delivered to a mail messenger or other mail carrier who is not a postal employee without first being enclosed in an iron-lock pouch unless the registered matter is too large for enclosure in an iron-lock pouch. Registered articles too large for enclosure in the pouch should be handled in accordance with the provisions of pars. 2 and 3 of sec. 1269, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932. Special instructions have been issued covering the handling of registered matter in the Air Mail Service. The requirements of the regulations as cited above are to be strictly observed.

50. Re-use of penalty envelopes for pouch-bill coupons.—(a) Postmasters and others who dispatch registered mail under coupon bills will save and re-use, until they become unserviceable, the return addressed penalty envelopes in which coupon receipts are returned to them.

(b) To permit this economy, the envelopes should not be sealed or postmarked by the employees or others returning them.

51. Post offices having separate stations for handling transit registered matter.—Council Bluffs, Iowa; St. Louis, Mo., and Seattle, Wash. (See sec. 1299, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

52. Independent branch post offices and stations.—Independent branch post offices and independent stations indicated in the state list of post offices receive and dispatch registered mail direct, and registered jackets, sacks, and pouches containing mail for delivery therefrom must be addressed thereto. The name of the post office to which such branch or station is attached need not appear, except in cases where an independent station is designated by a letter only, when postmasters will add the name of the post office to which the lettered station is attached. If such matter addressed to any independent branch or station is received at the main office or at any other branch office or station, it will be treated as transit matter. Any conditions affecting the designation of a branch post office or station should be reported promptly to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Registered Mails.

53. Inquiries and tracers for domestic registered mail.—(a) Inquiries shall not be sent in connection with domestic registered mail without charge unless the sender has received information as to the nonreceipt of the article after a reasonable time has elapsed, or has, after a reasonable time, made proper efforts to determine whether the article has been received by the addressee, but without result. If the sender desires inquiry sent without compliance with these conditions, he shall be required to pay the 5-cent fee such as is charged for a return receipt requested after mailing. (See p. 21 of the June, 1931, Guide.) Stamps representing the fee shall be affixed to the inquiry and canceled with the postmarking stamp of the office making the inquiry. Record of inquiries for registered mail for which a charge of 5 cents each was made shall be included with the record covering return receipts for registered mail requested after mailing for which a charge of 5 cents each was made. (See art. 33, pp. 170 to 172.)

(b) Postmasters will discontinue sending registry tracers, Form 3836, except in special instances where they may be instructed to do so by the department. See sec. 1291, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, and note that postmasters must restrict their tracing of domestic registered mail to inquiries of the post office of address by means of inquiry Form 1516. Postmasters may, however, send out tracers for the purpose of locating domestic registered articles which have been dispatched without an address or improperly addressed to a post office which does not exist. If the postmaster at the office of address reports that he has no record of having received the registered article, and that the addressee claims its nonreceipt either as ordinary or registered mail, the matter is to be promptly reported to the post-office Inspector in Charge for investigation as a possible loss. (See sec. 813, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.) Prompt attention must be given registry inquiries. (See sec. 440, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.) Patrons should not be permitted to obtain, without cost, information furnished on return receipts for which charge is made, through the subterfuge of making inquiry instead of a request for a return receipt showing signature.

54. Improper treatment of registered mail as ordinary mail.—In opening and working mixed mails postal employees must check and receipt for the registered mail before making disposition of the ordinary mail. Ordinary mail should also be carefully scrutinized to ascertain whether any registered mail has inadvertently been placed therein. (See secs. 1204 and 1314, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

55. Treatment of registered articles received in bad order.—Registered articles in bad order must be marked to that effect by the first postal employee noting such condition. If it is evident that any of their contents are missing, note to that effect should be made on the article and the envelope or wrapper obtained, if possible, for examination in connection with the investigation of the case. If the articles are so slightly damaged that it is improbable that any of the contents could have been lost or removed therefrom, they should be promptly repaired by means of official sealing stamps or reinclosed in a penalty envelope if sealing stamps are not available. Such articles shall be treated in all respects as required by section 1310 of the Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.

DELIVERY OF REGISTERED MAIL

56. (a) Registered mail, the delivery of which has not been restricted by the sender or the addressee, is deliverable, without a written order from the addresse, to any responsible person to whom the addressee's ordinary mail is customarily delivered. (See sec. 1323, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, and the note in par. 1 (e) of that section.) Patrons may obtain from local post offices more detailed information as to the rules governing the delivery of registered mail.

(b) Especial care should be exercised by postmasters to effect proper delivery of registered mail, which may be indefinitely addressed because of the failure of the sender to add a street address or to write the full name of the addressee, or because there may be in the city or town addressed more than one person of the same name. Before domestic registered matter is delivered, based on information obtained as the result of directory service, great care should be exercised to see that the recipients of the articles are the persons for whom they were intended by the senders, and when necessary to secure correct delivery of registered articles which cannot be delivered as addressed, postmasters should communicate with the senders, through the postmasters at the office where the senders are located, when the period prescribed for the retention of the article will permit, for the purpose of obtaining such instructions as will result in the correct disposition of the matter. (See sec. 1318, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

(c) In case of doubt inquiry should be made of the supposed addressee to ascertain from whom the article was expected, and such other inquiries made as may be necessary to determine whether he is the correct addressee. Should doubt then exist, the postmaster must communicate with the mailing postmaster to ascertain for whom the sender intended the article. (See art. 57, p. 178.) Unknown signatures on written orders for the delivery of registered mail must be verified.

(d) It is also noted that losses of registered matter often occur through its having been remailed, after proper delivery, as ordinary mail. This frequently occurs in cases where a registered article is delivered at the proper address after the addressee has left. It is believed that the number of such cases can be reduced and that the interests of the public thereby better safeguarded if the delivering postal employee will, as far as practicable, ascertain whether the addressee is still at the address borne by the article, and, if not, whether a person authorized to receive the article there, under secs. 1323 to 1326, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, is still entitled to receive and to care for mail of the addressee. It should be explained to such person, so far as practicable, that if he accepts the article, it can not be remailed as registered matter without payment of additional registry fee, but that if the addressee's present address is known and a written order for the forwarding of the letter is given by the person authorized to so act for the addressee, under sections 1323 and 1327, paragraph 1, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, without taking the article from the custody of the Postal Service, the article can be forwarded as registered mail without additional fee. If the addressee is no longer at the place of address of a registered article, the carrier should endeavor to determine whether the occupant of the address is still entitled to receive the addressee's registered mail, and to refrain from delivering it if the occupant is not then so entitled.

57. Identification.—(a) Persons applying or inquiring for registered mail, as senders or addressees, or their authorized representatives, will, if unknown, be required to establish their identity satisfactorily before registered mail or information concerning it is given them. (See art. 56, par. (c), p. 177.)

(b) Registered mail shall not be delivered into the custody of the addressee or his authorized representative until proper receipts have been obtained.

58. Registered mail for various organizations and institutions.—(a) Hotels, apartment houses and the like.—If the authorized representative of a responsible hotel, apartment house, or the like, will execute the agreement furnished by the Department, assuming financial responsibility for any loss, rifling, or damage to registered mail which may occur while the mail is in possession of the hotel, apartment house, or the like, and agrees to keep a proper record of such mail, registered mail may be delivered to the person or persons designated to receive such mail even though it is not addressed in care of the institution entering into the agreement, provided delivery has not been restricted by the sender or addressee.

(b) Clubs, fraternities, sororities, and similar institutions.—Written orders should be obtained from proper authorized representatives of such institutions specifying the person or persons to whom mail should be delivered. Although the responsibility of the Postal Service ceases when delivery has been effected to the person authorized to receive the mail, it is considered desirable for such organizations to keep a detailed record of the registered mail received and to obtain receipts when delivery is effected to the addressees.

(c) Registered mail addressed to addressees at Y. M. C. A.'s., Y. W. C. A.'s., Salvation Army shelters, missions, and the like.—Unless delivery of the registered matter has been restricted, registered mail addressed to persons at these institutions is properly deliverable, without written orders from the addressees, to such persons as are authorized by proper authority to receive mail for the places addressed, or, in the absence of such authorization, to any responsible persons who customarily receive the ordinary mail of the institution. If, however, any of the above or like institutions operate a hotel, under the usual interpretation of the term, registered mail shall be handled in accordance with the instructions in paragraph (a) of this article.

59. Registered mail addressed to military camps, posts, or stations, and to Civilian Conservation Corps camps.—(a) Military camps, posts, or stations.—Postmasters receiving registered mail addressed to a member of a military camp, post, or station in the United States or any possession of the United States, will hold the article at the post office or proper post-office station for delivery, and promptly issue a notice to the addressee on Form 3849 However, such mail may be delivered to the mail orderly in any instance where the addressee so directs in a written order filed with the postmaster, providing it does not bear a restrictive endorsement. Navy mail is not affected by these instructions.

(b) Civilian Conservation Corps camps.—Registered mail which does not bear a restrictive endorsement, addressed to persons connected with the Civilian Conservation Corps camps may be delivered, without written orders from the addressees, to the mail orderlies or other responsible persons authorized by the camp commanders, in written instructions filed with the post offices by the commanders, to receive such mail. Any registered mail, the delivery of which has been restricted by the sender or addressee, should be delivered strictly in accordance with the instructions contained in section 1323, paragraphs 4 and 5, of the Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932; also articles 56, 57 and 58, pages 177 and 178.

See the information on this subject published on pages 15 and 16, of the April, 1934, Guide, and section 1323, paragraph 4 (b), Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932. Also carefully note the detailed instructions in this connection appearing in article 33, paragraph (e), pages 170 and 171, and article 72, page 203.

60. Restricted delivery.—(a) The sender may restrict delivery of registered mail, by having the article indorsed on the address side "Deliver to addressee only," or "Deliver to addressee or order," or with words of similar import, upon the payment of the required fee of 10 cents, or, after mailing and before delivery has been effected, by a written order sent through the mailing postmaster. However, in this connection attention is invited to section 1323, par. 4 (b), Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, wherein it is stated that restrictive indorsements will not be observed for certain addressees therein enumerated (other exceptions may be made from time to time) and therefore in such cases the sender should be informed that the payment of an additional fee of 10 cents will not secure delivery of the articles to the addressees in person, but that in accordance with section 1323, par. 4 (b), Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, the mail although restrictively endorsed, will be delivered to representatives of the addressees authorized to receive it. The stamps in payment of this additional fee shall be affixed where practicable in close proximity to the restrictive endorsement on the article. No refund is made of fees paid for this service unless request for refund is made and erroneous delivery of the article or articles was due to some fault of the Postal Service. In this connection, see the notice published on pages 63 and 64, of the August 1934, Postal Guide, under the heading, "Additional charge of 10 cents for effecting delivery of domestic registered, insured, or collect-on-delivery mail, the delivery of which has been restricted by sender or addressee." The addressee may also restrict delivery by giving the postmaster at the delivery office a specific, or standing, written order stating to whom delivery shall be made. The indorsement "Personal" on a registered article does not restrict its delivery to the addressee only. Indorsements restricting delivery should be placed conspicuously upon the cover of the registered article preferably above and near the address. (See art. 33, par. (e), pp. 170 and 171.) The fee of 10 cents for restricted delivery shall not be charged on any official registered mail which under the law is entitled to free registration. The additional fee is chargeable, however, on official registered mail when such mail is not entitled to free registration. (See sec. 1211, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

(b) Many complaints have been received indicating failure of postmasters to comply strictly with the indorsement on registered mail "Deliver to addressee only," or "Deliver to addressee or order," or similar restrictions. In delivering a registered article it should be closely examined to determine whether the sender has restricted delivery. If he has, such instructions should be carefully observed. (Also see art. 33, par. (e), pp. 170 and 171.) All postal employees delivering registered mail should thoroughly familiarize themselves with section 1323, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, and the note following par. 1 (e) of that section.

(c) When registered articles are addressed jointly to two or more persons and delivery has been restricted, the addressees shall be notified to be present to accept delivery together and the receipts obtained shall be signed by all the addressees after which the registered article may be delivered to any one of the several addressees, unless objection to such disposition of the article is made by any of the addressees, in which case delivery shall not be made until the addressees indicate in writing which of their number shall receive the article. If similar articles are so addressed as to indicate that delivery may be made to any one of the addressees, such as "Mr. or Mrs. John Doe," or "John, Henry, or Mary Doe," delivery may be made to any one of the addressees and the receipts shall be signed as if the articles were addressed to the person to whom delivery is effected.

(d) Matter which cannot be delivered as restricted must be returned to the sender indorsed "Cannot deliver as restricted."

61. Delivery Records. Receipts, and Short Paid Articles.—(a) The delivery records of the post office, and the sender's return receipt when required, for registered mail delivered to other than the addressee should show both the name of the addressee and that of the person receipting for the article. Proper receipts must be taken in every instance and the senders' return receipts dated, postmarked to show the actual dates of delivery and otherwise properly completed. (See sec. 1322, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

(b) It has been brought to the attention of the department that there is considerable laxity on the part of postmasters in requiring that mail accepted for registration shall bear stamps in full prepayment of the postage and registry fee at the time of its acceptance, and that there has also been considerable laxity at post offices of address in detecting short payment of postage or fee on registered mail and the rating up for collection of any deficiencies found to exist. Registered articles received for delivery must be carefully examined also for the purpose of detecting and collecting any deficiencies in postage, fees, or surcharges. (See art. 10, par. (x), p. 164.)

62. Delivery by carrier.—(a) City, village, and rural letter carriers deliver registered mail.

(b) Carriers shall endeavor to deliver registered mail, which is proper for delivery by carriers, on the first trip after it is prepared for delivery, unless the addressee has given order to the contrary, and shall make as many efforts each day to deliver such mail as their trips will permit, unless it clearly appears after any trip that delivery by them is impossible. (See sec. 1354, of the Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, as to the retention of registered mail for desk delivery.)

(c) After each unsuccessful trial the carrier shall write in pencil, on the left end or back of the letter or parcel, the reason for nondelivery, and sign it with his initials and number and leave a notice (Form 3849) at the addressee's residence, place of business, or mail box. (See sec. 1357, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

(d) Ordinarily, Form 3849 should be prepared by city, village, and rural carriers and when Form 3849 is used as a notice, the office of origin should be omitted, but the names and addresses of addressees shown. See the notices published on page 30, of the September 1937 Postal Guide, and pages 13 and 14 of the April 1939 Guide.

(e) Registered mail addressed to patrons of rural routes is delivered at the residence of the addressee if the residence is not more than one-half mile from the rural route and if there is a passable road leading to the residence. If the residence or place of business of the addressee is more than one-half mile from a rural route, the carrier is not required to make delivery thereat, but will leave a notice in the rural mail box so that the addressee can be at the box on the next trip or call for the mail at the post office.

(f) On return to post office to which attached, city, village, and rural carriers shall be given receipt on Form 3868 for undelivered registered articles and signed receipts (Form 3849) turned in by the carriers, but the carriers will not be required to sign any office record. The registration numbers of undelivered articles shall be listed on Form 3868 but only the total number of signed receipts (Form 3849) turned in by carriers need be entered thereon. (See sec. 1358, par. 2, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

(g) Star-route carriers.—Registered mail shall not be delivered to a star-route carrier unless the addressee expressly so requests in a written order filed with the postmaster. In cases where such orders are given, the carriers are considered as the representatives of the addressees and the responsibility of the Postal Service ceases when delivery has been made to the carrier by the postmaster and the signature of the carrier obtained.

63. Old records, disposition of.—The records of domestic registered articles shall be preserved as provided for in sec. 101, Postal Laws and Regulations, and art. 40, pages 129 and 130 of this Guide.

NOTE.—Order No. 11018 of the Postmaster General amending sec. 101 of the Postal Laws and Regulations of 1932 requires that report be made to Inspectors in Charge of accumulations of useless papers in post offices that should be disposed of. Records of registered articles other than those listed in the Official Postal Guide must not be reported to Inspectors in Charge for disposition until specific authority therefor has been obtained from the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Registered Mails. (See par. 6, sec. 101, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, as amended.)

SPECIAL ARRANGEMENTS INTENDED TO FACILITATE THE HANDLING OF REGISTERED MAIL, ESPECIALLY AT, OR BETWEEN, THE LARGER OFFICES

64. Original number system of delivering registered mail.—A system of delivering registered mail by an "inward" number which has been in operation for a considerable time at the larger post offices has been superseded at practically all offices by the handling of registered mail for delivery under the original number given at the office of mailing rather than the "inward" number assigned at the office of delivery. Postmasters at offices where the "inward" number system is still being used shall communicate with the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Registered Mails, for detailed information as to the method of handling registered mail under original numbers.

65. Quick registration receipts, Forms 3806 and 3897.—The principal advantage of the quick registration receipt is that it enables the receiving postal employee to issue quickly a registration receipt and saves the time of the sender by enabling him to obtain quickly a receipt for the article registered. The quick receipts also obviate the necessity of using carbon paper. The office record of articles for which the quick receipts, Forms 3806 and 3897, are issued, is kept on the 60-line nonmanifold record known as Form 3807. It is desired that the quick office receipt, Form 3806, in connection with Form 3807, be installed at all post offices where its use would be of advantage to either the public or the post-office employees because of the facility with which the receipt can be issued, and where the conditions are such that delay or inconvenience would be caused either the sender or the postal employee issuing the receipt if the more detailed registration receipt, Form 3805, written up with the use of carbon paper, was used. The carrier's quick receipt, Form 3897, should be used by rural carriers, instead of the carrier's manifold registration book, Form 3896, at any post office where the office record, Form 3807, is used to record post office or carrier registrations.

66. Firm registration records.—These are furnished in bound or loose sheet form and in sizes providing for 5, 15, and 30 entries. They are supplied, without charge, to any firm or individual willing to use them, and who frequently presents an average of three or more articles for registration at one time. One copy of the mailing sheet is kept by the sender and the other is delivered to the post office for use as the office record of the matter. Special authorization is not necessary to use these books. Postmasters shall encourage the use of firm mailing records by patrons who customarily present an average of three or more articles for registration at one time.

67. Manifold firm delivery books.—These are furnished in bound books, Form 3883, 5 line (10 entries), Form 3883-a, 10 line (20 entries). They are authorized, when desired by the addressee, for use at post offices in recording registered mail for firms or individuals that receive an average of three or more registered articles at one time by carrier delivery. Where desk delivery is made, a separate delivery book, Form 3850, or sheet, Form 3867, may be assigned to each firm or individual receiving an average of six or more registered articles at one time, or the manifold firm book may be used without carbon process, unless the addressee insists upon receiving a list of the registered articles delivered. (See the notice on pp. 14 and 15 of the April, 1939 Postal Guide.)

68. Manifold dispatch books, Forms 3851, 3852, 3853, and 3854.—These books are used in listing registered articles when an average of three or more articles are dispatched at one time to the same destination; also in transferring registered mail between registry and mailing clerks at post offices when such clerks occupy separate inclosures or are removed from each other, or for some other reason, receipting for the articles is necessary. These books may be used in duplicate or triplicate, as occasion may require, and their proper use will oftentimes save the reentry of registered articles. The most economical size book should always be used.

69. Jackets or rotary-locked sacks or pouches to be made up when necessary.—Such dispatches must be made up when the quantity, bulk, or value of the mail makes their use advantageous by saving the handling of single registered pieces within post offices or in transit, or in providing additional safeguards for the matter. When postmasters have occasion to dispatch three or more registered articles over a star route they should inclose the registered articles in a registry jacket when the use of the jacket will save the handling and recording of the registered articles as single pieces at one or more intermediate offices on the route through which the registered matter passes in transit. The contents of the registry jackets should be listed on manifold bills (Forms 3851-2-3-4). When not more than five registered articles are enclosed in the jacket the manifold bill book, Form 3851, which provides for entry of five registered articles, should be used as the most economical size of manifold bill book available for the purpose. (See sec. 1242, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.) Jackets containing fragile matter should be marked "Fragile."

70. Numbering of registration receipts in advance of the time they are issued to the senders of the registered articles they describe.—This is found advisable at many offices.

NOTE.—Postmasters at large offices who have occasion to accept for registration, at times, an unusually large number of separate letters, for example, those containing football tickets, should, if necessary, communicate with the Third Assistant Postmaster General (Division of Registered Mails) for information as to abbreviated manner of handling such large mailings, if same have not been received previously. In this connection see the instructions published on page 25 of the September 1936 Postal Guide, under the caption, "Special Handling of Registry Shipments Containing Written or Printed Matter of Comparatively Small Value."

WITHDRAWAL OR RECALL, FORWARDING, AND RETURN TO SENDER

71. Withdrawal or recall before delivery.—When the sender of registered mail desires to reclaim or recall it at any time before delivery, application must be made to the mailing postmaster. After a registration receipt has been issued for a letter or parcel, the article is considered as having been registered and if withdrawn before dispatch no refund of registry fee, restricted delivery fee, or return receipt fee, is ordinarily permissible; therefore such of the postage stamps affixed to the article as are required to pay the registry fee, restricted delivery fee, or return receipt fee should be canceled when a registered article is withdrawn before dispatch and before the stamps had been canceled.

72. Forwarding.—(a) Ordinarily registered mail may be forwarded before it has been once properly delivered without additional charge for registry fee or surcharge, upon the written request of the addressee, of the sender through the mailing postmaster, or of any person to whom the addressee's mail is deliverable—first-class matter without extra charge; other matter, upon prepayment of postage chargeable by law for forwarding.

(b) Domestic registered articles mailed in the United States and originally addressed for delivery at post offices in the United States shall not be forwarded to a foreign country. (See sec. 1327, paragraph 5, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

(c) Domestic registered articles originating in Alaska, Hawaii, Guam, Samoa, Puerto Rico or the Virgin Islands, originally addressed for delivery in the United States shall not be forwarded to the Canal Zone if the stamps borne by any one registered article indicate it was valued at more than $100. Conversely, registered mail originating in the Canal Zone shall not be forwarded from a post office in the United States to Alaska, Hawaii, Guam, Samoa, Puerto Rico or the Virgin Islands, if there is reason to believe that the value exceeds $100.

73. Method of dispatch.—In forwarding or returning registered mail which can not be delivered, all postmasters shall dispatch the mail under the original registration number and the office of origin. (See sec. 1328, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932). Such mail must not be registered in the window registration book, but the required notation should be made on the delivery or transit record and each article recorded and dispatched as other outgoing or transit registered mail. At offices using inward numbers the original number may, if necessary, be noted on such record as may be most advantageous to facilitate connection between inward and original numbers in case of inquiry.

74. Undeliverable.—Undeliverable registered mail of the first class may be returned to sender without additional charge at the expiration of the proper period. Care must be exercised to see that undeliverable registered articles are not returned before the expiration of the period mentioned in the sender's return request, or in the absence of such request, before the expiration of the proper period as stated in paragraph 1, section 1330, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932. Additional postage, but not fee, is required for the return of registered second and third class matter. (See secs. 769, 809, and 1330 to 1333, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

STATISTICS—DOMESTIC REGISTERED, INSURED, AND C. O. D. MAIL

75. (a) The statistics mentioned below will be called for by the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Registered Mails, at the close of the fiscal year ending June 30, 1940. Postmasters at first, second, and third-class offices will keep such records as will enable them to furnish these statistics. Cards on which to report this information will be furnished without requisition about July 1, 1940. Postmasters at offices of the fourth class will not be required, until further notice, to render annual statistical reports on card Form 3848 covering domestic registered, insured and C. O. D. mail. They will, however, maintain such records in connection with each registered, insured, and C. O. D. article as will enable them to furnish, at any time required, such statistical information as has previously been submitted to the department on Form 3848.

(b) Postmasters at first, second, and third-class offices should particularly note that they are required to maintain such statistical records as will permit them to report at the end of each fiscal year as separate items the number of domestic return receipts requested at the time of mailing, the number requested subsequent to mailing, and the number requested at the time of mailing showing address where delivered; also statistics in connection with domestic demurrage charges collected, requests for service on domestic C. O. D. mail not contemplated at the time of mailing, senders' receipts or certificates of mailing for domestic ordinary, registered, insured, and C. O. D. mail total amount of surcharges collected on domestic registered and registered C. O. D. mail, and number of domestic registered, insured, and C. O. D. articles restricted in delivery on each of which an additional fee of 10 cents was paid.

(c) The number of inquiries for domestic registered and insured mail for which a charge of 5 cents each was made shall be combined with the number of return receipts for domestic registered and insured mail requested after mailing for which a charge of 5 cents each was made and recorded as such under the following items 17 and 28.

(d) Statistics covering the payment of indemnity claims by postmasters will be called for on a separate special form.

COLLECT-ON-DELIVERY SERVICE FOR DOMESTIC REGISTERED AND UNREGISTERED SEALED MAIL OF ANY CLASS BEARING POSTAGE AT THE FIRST-CLASS RATE

For general instructions covering insured and C. O. D. mail, see pages 187 to 236, of this Guide.

1. Sealed domestic mail of any class bearing postage at the first-class rate may be sent C. O. D. between money-order offices of the United States and its possessions, but not to or from the Philippine Islands, the Canal Zone, or United States naval vessels, upon payment of the prescribed fees. Such mail may be sent to the United States naval station at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, for delivery through that station. Sealed domestic C. O. D. mail of any class bearing postage at the first-class rate may also be registered upon the application of the sender. (See secs. 1383, 1385, and 1387, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, and art. 11, p. 165, and art. 27, p. 168, of this Guide.) The domestic C. O. D. service is also applicable to third and fourth class parcels unsealed or sealed subject to postal inspection.

2. Except as otherwise prescribed the provisions of the Postal Laws and Regulations and the instructions in the Postal Guides governing C. O. D. service for domestic unregistered third and fourth class mail cover sealed domestic C. O. D. mail of any class bearing postage at the first-class rate. The rules and regulations applicable to other domestic C. O. D. and other domestic registered mail also apply to domestic registered C. O. D. mail unless otherwise stipulated.

3. The C. O. D. fees and limits of indemnity prescribed for C. O. D. mail of the third and fourth classes also apply to domestic C. O. D. mail of any class sealed against postal inspection and prepaid at the first-class rate of postage, except when C. O. D. mail is registered. (See art. 3, p. 188, of this Guide.)

4. The maximum amount of charges collectible on domestic registered C. O. D. mail is $200, regardless of the amount of C. O. D. fee paid, but the maximum amount of indemnity payable for the loss, rifling, or damage of domestic registered C. O. D. mail is $1,000, the limit fixed for other domestic registered mail; and when indemnity in excess of $200 is desired for the loss, rifling, or damage of domestic registered C. O. D. mail, a graduated scale of fees is chargeable, ranging from 60 cents to $1.20.

5. The amounts to be collected upon delivery, not exceeding $200, the limits of indemnity payable covering the amounts collectible, and the fees chargeable therefor in addition to the postage on domestic registered C. O. D. mail, are as follows:

Amounts of C. O. D. charges and limits of indemnity payable up to $200:	C. O. D. fee (including registration)
Not over $10	$0.25
From $10.01 to $50	.30
From $50.01 to $100	.40
From $100.01 to $200	.50

6. When indemnity in excess of $200 is desired for the loss, rifling, or damage of domestic registered C. O. D. mail the following collect-on-delivery fees, which include registration, are chargeable in addition to the postage:

Amount of indemnity desired regardless of amount of C. O. D. charges:	C. O. D. fee (including registration)
For indemnity exceeding $200 and not exceeding $300	$0.60
For indemnity exceeding $300 and not exceeding $400	.70
For indemnity exceeding $400 and not exceeding $500	.80
For indemnity exceeding $500 and not exceeding $600	.90
For indemnity exceeding $600 and not exceeding $700	1.00
For indemnity exceeding $700 and not exceeding $800	1.10
For indemnity exceeding $800 and not exceeding $1,000	1.20

7. The amount of the C. O. D. charges will govern the amount of C. O. D. fee to be paid by the sender. (See art. 3, par. (a), p. 188, of this Guide. Also see sec. 1383, pars. 6, 10, 11, and 13 (a), (b), and (c), Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, as to indemnity, and sec. 1291, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, as to inquiries for registered mail.)

8. Claims for indemnity for the loss, rifling, or damage of domestic registered C. O. D. mail or of alleged failure to receive the C. O. D. charges on such mail should be filed on Form 565, "Application for indemnity for loss, damage, or rifling of registered mail," which should be marked "Collect-on-delivery" or "C. O. D." In addition to the data required to be furnished on Form 565, such of the information called for under items 3, 6, 7, 11, 23, 25 (b), 25 (c), and 29 on Form 3812, "Application for indemnity for loss, rifling, or damage of domestic insured or C. O. D. parcel," as may be applicable should be furnished either on Form 565 or on Form 3812 attached thereto.

9. All indemnity claims covering domestic registered C. O. D. mail are to be adjusted by the Third Assistant Postmaster General (Division of Registered Mails). Claims involving domestic unregistered C. O. D. articles on which the first-class rate of postage has been paid are to be adjusted by postmasters or the department the same as claims involving other domestic unregistered C. O. D. mail.

10. The extension of the C. O. D. service to mail matter of any class prepaid at the first-class rate of postage does not mean that the C. O. D. service is available for use in the collection of debts merely, whether just or unjust. The C. O. D. service for mail matter of any class bearing postage at the first-class rate is intended primarily for the sending of deeds, abstracts of title, insurance policies, bills of lading representing freight shipments, valuable light weight merchandise, etc. It is not permissible to send only bills or statements of indebtedness by registered or unregistered C. O. D. mail, even though the sender may establish that the addressee has agreed to the collection of the amount involved in this manner. However, when a legitimate C. O. D. shipment consisting of merchandise, bill of lading, etc., is being mailed, the balance due on a past or anticipated transaction may be included in the C. O. D. charges, provided the addressee has given his consent in advance to such action and the sender presents evidence to that effect. In order to prevent the C. O. D. service on mail matter bearing postage at the first-class rate from being misused as an agency for the collection of debts, inquiry shall be made of persons presenting such articles to be sent C. O. D. as to the contents and whether the addressee had consented to the shipment being sent as C. O. D. mail except that inquiries of this kind need not be made in connection with C. O. D. shipments presented for mailing by patrons shipping articles properly entitled to be sent C. O. D. as first-class mail and who are known to obtain bona fide orders for such shipments. If upon inquiry it is ascertained that the mailer intends to use the C. O. D. service for the collection of a debt, the matter should not be accepted as C. O. D. mail. (See sec. 1383, par. 7, and sec. 1387, par. 2, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

11. No senders' return receipts will be furnished for domestic registered C. O. D. mail, notwithstanding the fact that return receipts are furnished on request for registered mail not sent C. O. D.

12. All employees accepting domestic registered or unregistered C. O. D. mail bearing postage at the first-class rate shall make the same inquiries as to contents and manner of packing as are required in connection with other domestic C. O. D. mail. Any necessary special indorsements shall be placed on C. O. D. mail. (See art. 10, p. 161, of this Guide, as to declaration of values and collection of surcharges on registered C. O. D. mail.)

13. The seals of domestic registered or unregistered C. O. D. articles on which the first-class rate of postage has been paid should not be broken for the purpose of postal inspection.

14. Rural carriers shall accept domestic unregistered and domestic registered articles bearing postage at the first-class rate to be sent C. O. D. when requested to do so by the senders. City carriers are not required to accept any mail to be sent C. O. D.

15. When firm mailing sheets are not used, the sender's receipt portion of the C. O. D. tag is to be issued to the sender for sealed domestic unregistered C. O. D. mail the same as is done for other domestic unregistered C. O. D. mail.

16. The regulation C. O. D. tag must be filled out by the sender and securely affixed, preferably by means of adhesive tape, to each C. O. D. article (unregistered or registered) sent at the first-class rate. The face side of unregistered C. O. D. articles must bear an impression of the C. O. D. stamp showing the number of the article, the amount due the sender, the money-order fee, and the total amount to be collected. Registered C. O. D. articles must bear on the face side impressions, in close proximity to each other, of both the registry and C. O. D. stamps, which shall show the number of the article, the amount due sender, the money-order fee, and the total amount to be collected.

17. The firm registration sheet and other post-office registration records take the place of the mailing office portion and the sender's receipt coupon of the C. O. D. tag, and therefore those portions of the tag should be detached when used in connection with a domestic registered C. O. D. article.

18. A receipt on a form prescribed for registered mail shall be issued to the sender of domestic registered C. O. D. articles. This receipt and the office registration records covering domestic registered C. O. D. articles must be marked "Collect-on-delivery" or "C. O. D." and show separately the amount of the C. O. D. charges, the C. O. D. fee, the amount (not the class) of postage paid, and amount of special delivery fee, if any, in addition to the other particulars required to be kept of registered mail.

19. Because of the C. O. D. indicia required to be added to the registration receipts issued for domestic registered C. O. D. mail and to the office registration records of such mail, at those offices where firm mailing sheets (Forms 3877, 3881, or 3882) are already used, such sheets should be used instead of the individual registration receipts (Forms 3805 and 3806). Postmasters who do not now use firm mailing sheets should not make requisition for such sheets merely for domestic registered C. O. D. articles unless the quantity of such articles justifies their use, but at offices where firm mailing sheets are already in use such sheets (small Form 3882) may be used in the acceptance of individual domestic registered C. O. D. articles. When the individual receipts (Forms 3805 and 3806) are issued for domestic registered C. O. D. mail the back of such registration receipts should be utilized on which to enter the C. O. D. data required to be kept in connection with the acceptance of domestic registered C. O. D. articles.

20. Each domestic registered C. O. D. article must be given only one original number, which shall be the registration number. Where advisable a separate series of numbers may be assigned for domestic C. O. D. registered articles, and separate registration records may be maintained for such articles. Where the quantity of such mail is limited it may be registered in the same series as is assigned other registered articles. Registered C. O. D. mail must not be recorded or given a number in the series applicable to unregistered C. O. D. mail, but the record of registered C. O. D. articles may be mixed with the record of other registered mail.

21. Each domestic registered and unregistered C. O. D. article in the form of an envelope shall have a C. O. D. tag attached. The C. O. D. tag should be affixed to the face of the envelope if this can be done without detrimentally obscuring any portion of the address or the return card and directions of the sender. If the tag will detrimentally obscure any portion of the address or the return card of the sender, the tag will be affixed to the back of the envelope. When the tag is attached to the back of a domestic registered C. O. D. article in the form of an envelope, only one end of the tag should be attached to the envelope, so that the other end of the tag may be raised for inspection of the registry postmark on the back of the envelope. Because of the necessity of affixing a C. O. D. tag to each C. O. D. article, when envelopes are used for such articles, the envelopes must be of sufficient size to allow adequate space for affixing the tag. For this reason the envelopes used as covers for domestic C. O. D. mail should not be smaller than 4 by 7¾ inches. The original number which will be the registration number on a registered C. O. D. article is required to be placed on each C. O. D. tag and each tag coupon. The delivery office portion and the delivering employee's coupon of the C. O. D. tag attached to registered articles must be conspicuously stamped "Registered."

22. C. O. D. mail not registered should be prepared for dispatch in a manner similar to that prescribed for the dispatch of special-delivery letters not registered, as outlined in sec. 1081, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932. Unregistered C. O. D. letters should be placed together in the dispatch and the bundle or package marked "C. O. D." When domestic C. O. D. letters, ordinary or registered, are dispatched in a bundle of mixed mail the arrangement should be in the following order: (1) Special delivery; (2) registered mail not C. O. D.; (3) registered C. O. D. mail; (4) unregistered C. O. D. mail. (See par. 24, below, of this Guide, as to dispatch of domestic registered C. O. D. mail.)

23. Domestic registered C. O. D. mail shall be billed and recorded under the same particulars as other domestic registered mail not sent C. O. D.

24. Domestic registered C. O. D. articles shall be included with other registered mail and made up for dispatch in the manner outlined for other registered articles not sent C. O. D. (See sec. 1223, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, par. 22, above, concerning the dispatch of registered matter with other mail, and secs. 1233 to 1254, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, concerning the dispatch of registered mail exclusively.)

25. When the quantity or bulk of domestic registered C. O. D. articles is sufficient to warrant the use of a separate pouch, sack, or jacket, the bill should be headed to indicate that the articles described thereon are C. O. D articles.

26. The dispatching records of domestic registered C. O. D. articles need not have the amount of the C. O. D. charges entered therein, but when the entire dispatch is not composed exclusively of C. O. D. mail, the indorsement "C. O. D." should appear opposite the entry of each registered C. O. D. article dispatched with the other registered mail.

27. Upon receipt at destination, domestic unregistered C. O. D. mail bearing postage at the first-class rate shall be treated in the same manner as C. O. D. mail of the third and fourth classes. At first and second class post offices such mail must be immediately turned over to the recording clerk for listing and appropriate disposition. (See art. 96, p. 213, of this Guide.)

28. Domestic registered C. O. D. articles shall be retained and delivered, forwarded or returned, by the registry sections of post offices instead of such articles being turned over to the C. O. D. sections for handling in connection with domestic C. O. D. articles which are not registered. Domestic registered C. O. D. articles will be included with the other registered articles received for delivery at post offices and be handled in accordance with the methods prescribed for handling other registered mail. Care should be exercised, however, to maintain on the office records of domestic registered C. O. D. articles such additional data as is required to be kept in connection with domestic unregistered C. O. D. mail.

29. In opening pouches at offices of address all mail received should be carefully examined in order that C. O. D. mail may be properly segregated and treated as such. All registered mail should be scrutinized in the same manner in checking it in order to note whether any of it is C. O. D. matter. (See art. 84, p. 207, of this Guide.)

30. Notices of the arrival of domestic registered C. O. D. mail are to be issued on the form "Notice of Arrival of Insured or C. O. D. Mail" (Form 3849–b) instead of the form "Notice of Arrival of Registered Mail" (Form 3849) but the Form 3849–b should be conspicuously indorsed "Registered." The C. O. D. form is better adapted than the registry form for registered C. O. D. mail because all the information on the C. O. D. form is applicable to registered C. O. D. mail, whereas part of the information on the registry form is inapplicable and would be misleading.

31. If any domestic registered C. O. D. articles are received mixed with unregistered C. O. D. articles, steps should be immediately taken to place the registered C. O. D. mail under the protection of the registry service.

32. The instructions in arts. 53 and 54, pp. 197 and 198, of this Guide relative to the efforts which are to be made to effect delivery of C. O. D. mail, and the instructions in art. 62, p. 200, and art. 66, p. 201, of this Guide relative to the notification of the sender, are equally applicable to domestic registered C. O. D. mail. (See sec. 1388, par. 4, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, and art. 66, p. 201, of this Guide, relative to the sending of notices to senders of undelivered C. O. D. articles as soon as it is definitely known that the collect-on-delivery articles are undeliverable, but, in any event, within five days after the date of receipt of the articles at the offices of address.)

33. The delivery-office portion of the C. O. D. tag is to be used at all post offices instead of Form 3849 on which to take the receipts of the addressees for domestic registered C. O. D. articles whether delivery is made at the desk or by carrier.

34. Examination of the contents of a domestic registered C. O. D. article before the addressee or his authorized agent has receipted for the article and paid all the charges shall not be permitted. (See art. 86, p. 207, of this Guide.)

35. Form 3868, "Carrier's receipt for undelivered registered mail returned and receipts for registered mail delivered," may be utilized in receipting to carriers for undelivered domestic registered C. O. D. articles returned, and the same form may be used in receipting to carriers for C. O. D. charges turned in for registered mail, any necessary minor changes in the wording on the form being made to cover the receipt of the C. O. D. charges.

36. All employees at first and second class post offices making delivery of domestic registered C. O. D. articles, whether at the main office or at the stations, shall enter daily on the "Consolidated Daily Report to Bookkeeper or Designated Supervisory Official of all C. O. D. Funds Collected" (Form 3814–d) the information called for thereon. The Form 3814–d used for C. O. D. registers should be separate from the Form 3814–d used for other C. O. D. articles, the form being indorsed "Registered." The clerk in the registry section assigning registered C. O. D. articles for delivery by carrier shall not have custody of or access to Form 3814–d. After being properly filled out by all employees effecting delivery of registered C. O. D. mail, such form shall be sent daily to the bookkeeper, if the post office is organized on the 2-division plan, otherwise to such supervisory official as may be designated to receive it, to be checked with the record of C. O. D. money orders issued for registered C. O. D. articles. The daily report of the money-order section of C. O. D. money orders issued should show separately the record of money orders issued for registered and unregistered C. O. D. articles. At third and fourth class offices the C. O. D. charges collected in connection with domestic registered C. O. D. articles should be handled in the same manner as the charges for domestic unregistered C. O. D. articles.

37. At first and second class post offices the registry section shall transfer daily to the money-order section all C. O. D. funds collected for domestic registered C. O. D. articles, together with the receipted C. O. D. tags, and obtain receipt therefor. The procedure prescribed in article 96, par. (g), page 214, shall be followed in the transfer of C. O. D. funds from the registry section to the money-order section, the issuance of money orders and verification of the particulars thereof, the filing of Forms 3815 and the remitters' receipt portions of the money orders.

38. No additional postage is chargeable for forwarding or returning domestic registered or unregistered C. O. D. mail on which the first-class rate of postage was fully prepaid at the time of mailing, but if through inadvertence such mail is accepted not fully prepaid any deficiency in postage or fee should be collected upon delivery. After proper delivery has been made of domestic registered or unregistered C. O. D. mail it can not be forwarded or returned unless remailed anew and upon payment of additional postage.

39. Postmasters at first, second, and third-class offices shall keep such records as will enable them to report promptly at the close of each fiscal year, as separate items, the number of C. O. D. domestic unregistered articles mailed at each of the several fees on which the first-class rate of postage is paid; also the total number of articles sent as registered C. O. D. mail and the total amount of C. O. D. fees collected thereon. (See art. 75, p. 181.)

40. The initial and final records of domestic registered C. O. D. articles are to be held for four years and intermediate records of such mail for two years before being disposed of, the same as is required in the case of other registry records. (See art. 40, p. 129.)

41. Any necessary instructions relative to the conduct of the domestic collect-on-delivery service, involving sealed or unsealed registered or unregistered mail, will be issued by the Third Assistant Postmaster General (Division of Registered Mails).

DOMESTIC INSURED AND C. O. D. MAIL—GENERAL INSTRUCTIONS

(IMPORTANT—A NUMBER OF CHANGES HAVE BEEN INCORPORATED IN THE FOLLOWING INSTRUCTIONS RELATIVE TO DOMESTIC INSURED AND C. O. D. MAIL PRINTED IN THIS GUIDE. ALL POSTMASTERS AND POSTAL EMPLOYEES CONCERNED SHOULD READ AND BECOME THOROUGHLY FAMILIAR WITH THESE INSTRUCTIONS.)

(See p. 234 for instructions regarding senders' receipts or certificates of mailing for domestic ordinary mail of any class and additional receipts or certificates of mailing for domestic ordinary, registered, insured, and collect-on-delivery mail.)

1. Insurance fees, conditions, and indemnity.—(a) Domestic third and fourth class mail on which both postage and fee have been paid by postage stamps affixed thereto (pp. 13 to 26), except as noted in articles 11, 12, and 14, p. 190, may be insured against loss, rifling, or damage in an amount equivalent to its actual value or cost of repairs. The maximum amount for which a single parcel may be insured is $200, but the limit for which a single parcel for the Philippine Islands may be insured is $100. The insurance fees and limits of indemnity are as follows:

Amount of insurance	Insurance fee	Amount of insurance	Insurance fee
From $0.01 to $5	5 cts.	From $50.01 to $100	25 cts.
From $5.01 to $25	10 cts.	From $100.01 to $150	30 cts.
From $25.01 to $50	15 cts.	From $150.01 to $200	35 cts.

(b) First and second class matter shall not be insured but may be registered. Third-class matter may also be registered. Domestic third and fourth class mail may be insured at any post office or station thereof, or by rural carriers, but must not be deposited in or on street mail boxes or in mail drops at post offices. Senders may deposit such mail in but not on rural mail boxes. (See sec. 1385, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

2. Encourage use of insurance service.—(a) It is the duty of each postmaster or other postal employee engaged in the acceptance of parcels presented for mailing to make reasonable and courteous efforts to encourage insurance of every parcel presented. Inquiries of mailers should be worded in such a manner as to prompt an affirmative response. Very favorable results have been secured through the use of the inquiry: "How much insurance?" (See p. 21, October, 1935, Guide, p. 18, April, 1936, Guide, and arts. 4 and 5, p. 143.)

(b) Mailers of parcels which contain small articles of considerable value, such as watches and other articles of jewelry, should be advised of the protective features of the registry service; that indemnity for domestic registered mail is provided up to $1,000, and urged to use that service. (See arts. 9 and 10, p. 161.)

3. C. O. D. fees, conditions, and indemnity.—(a) Domestic third and fourth class mail on which both postage and fee have been paid by postage stamps affixed thereto and sealed domestic unregistered matter of any class bearing postage at the first-class rate, in addition to the proper fee, (except as noted in articles 11, 12, 14, and 15, pp. 190 and 191) may be sent C. O. D.; that is, the price of the article and the charges thereon (including, if desired, the postage and fee prepaid) will be collected from the addressee. The maximum amount collectible on a single C. O. D. parcel is $200. The fees for collections and automatic insurance against loss, rifling or damage in an amount equivalent to the actual value, or the cost of repairs; or against non-receipt of C. O. D. returns, are as follows:

Amounts of C. O. D. charges or amounts of insurance desired	C. O. D. fee	Amounts of C. O. D. charges or amounts of insurance desired	C. O. D. fee
From $0.01 to $5	12 cts.	From $50.01 to $100	32 cts.
From $5.01 to $25	17 cts.	From $100.01 to $150	40 cts.
From $25.01 to $50	22 cts.	From $150.01 to $200	45 cts.

(b) C. O. D. shipments must be based on bona fide orders or agreements. The C. O. D. charges are remitted to sender by means of money order, the money-order fee being paid by the addressee. The sender of each article shall enter on the C. O. D. tag affixed thereto the amount to be remitted, in addition to the other particulars. The department will not assume responsibility for errors made by senders in stating the collection charges; or for any misunderstanding between senders and addressees regarding the price, character, or contents of parcels.

(c) The amount of C. O. D. charges governs the amount of C. O. D. fee to be paid. For example, the sender shall not be allowed to pay a fee of 12 cents when the charges are more than $5 merely because he may be willing to accept indemnity in the amount of $5 or less in the event of loss, rifling, or damage. However, when the C. O. D. charges are less than the value, the sender may pay a higher fee in order to obtain indemnity for the full value within the limit of indemnity allowable for the fee paid. An article on which the remittance is exactly $5, $25, $50, $100, or $150 but on which, because of the money-order fee, the collection from the addressee will be in excess of that amount, will require a 12, 17, 22, 32, or 40 cent fee, respectively. (See sec. 1387, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

See pages 184 to 187 covering collect-on-delivery service for domestic registered and unregistered sealed mail of any class bearing postage at the first-class rate.

4. Certain conditions under which indemnity may not be paid.—Indemnity may not be paid in connection with insured or C. O. D. mail:

(a) If claim is not made within six months from date of mailing of the parcel, unless it is established to the satisfaction of the Third Assistant Postmaster General that the delay was unavoidable and not the fault of the claimant.

(b) In the case of a claim on account of damage, if the sender had been instructed prior to the date of mailing of the parcel relative to proper packing and indorsement and had failed to comply therewith, and it is apparent that the failure to comply with the instructions was the cause, or probable cause, of the damage sustained.

(c) In the case of a claim for indemnity involving damage to an improperly packed parcel or a parcel containing fragile or perishable matter, if the sender failed to inform the accepting employee, upon inquiry, as to the manner of packing or as to the exact contents of the parcel and it is apparent that the improper packing of the parcel or the failure to have it indorsed to indicate the fragile or perishable nature of the contents was the cause, or the probable cause, of the damage sustained.

(d) In the case of the spoiling of matter of a perishable nature, when the parcel could not possibly have reached the addressee in the ordinary course of mails without contents spoiling.

(e) For claims involving consequential losses, other than the actual value of, or the cost of repairs to the article itself, resulting from the nondelivery, wrong delivery, damage, or delay in dispatch, transmission, or delivery of any article.

(f) In the case of a claim for damage due to temperature (natural or artificial) to which the parcel may have been subjected while in the ordinary handling of the mails, except that indemnity may be paid when the evidence indicates that the damage was directly due to the fault of the postal service.

(g) In the case of claims for damage to incandescent lamps, radio tubes, and the like, where the glass bulbs are intact (not damaged or broken) unless it is established to the satisfaction of the Third Assistant Postmaster General that the damage was due to improper handling in the mails. (See notice on p. 66 of the August, 1934, Guide.)

(h) In the case of a claim for damage to articles which are so fragile in their inherent nature as to prevent their safe carriage in the mails, regardless of the manner in which packed.

(i) In the case of claims for indemnity involving damage to partly filled boxes of cigars where the sender failed to provide cushioning material to prevent the contents from jarring and consequent damage.

(j) In the case of claim on account of death of live day-old chicks, honey bees, and harmless live animals, unless it is established to the satisfaction of the Third Assistant Postmaster General that the death thereof is attributable to the fault of the postal service.

(k) In the case of a claim on account of abrasion, scarring, or scraping of suit cases, hand bags, and the like, unless the articles were adequately wrapped or boxed.

5. Return and forwarding postage guarantee.—(a) Except as provided for in arts. 6, 7, and 8 following, each domestic parcel presented for insurance or collection-on-delivery is accepted with the understanding that the sender in each instance guarantees any return or forwarding postage which may be necessary when such parcels become undeliverable. Postmasters must, therefore, refrain from requesting senders of undelivered insured or C. O. D. mail to furnish postage due for the return or forwarding of such mail.

(b) This understood guaranty is a primary condition upon which any domestic parcel may be accepted for insurance or to be sent collect-on-delivery, and if not stated on the parcel it is to be implied in every instance, so that, regardless of whether or not any insured or C. O. D. parcel bears the postage pledge or guaranty, it is to be treated as though the pledge or guaranty were actually on the parcel.

(c) Insured and C. O. D. matter mailed by business concerns using specially printed labels, wrappers, or envelopes should have the return and forwarding postage pledge printed thereon, unless senders do not desire the mail returned or forwarded and have placed specific instructions to that effect on the mail. Any business concern using specially printed labels, wrappers, or envelopes without such indorsement should be instructed to have such indorsement embodied in future supplies of such labels, wrappers, or envelopes. (See arts. 6, 7, and 8, following.)

(d) Any instructions appearing on insured and C. O. D. parcels to the effect that return or forwarding postage is not guaranteed shall be disregarded in every instance and report made to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Registered Mails, unless sender does not desire the parcel returned or forwarded and has placed specific instructions to that effect on the parcel.

(e) When the sender of a returned insured or C. O. D. article refuses to pay the return or forwarding postage, or both, within 10 days from the date it is offered for delivery, the parcel shall be transmitted to the post office to which dead parcel post mail is ordinarily transmitted by the postmaster at the office to which the parcel is returned, with an appropriate statement of the facts in the case. A report shall be made of the failure of the sender to pay the required postage on returned insured and C. O. D. mail to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Registered Mails, but acceptance of further matter bearing such pledge shall not be refused until specific instructions to do so are received from the Department. In each instance of this kind the postmaster at the mailing office shall make appropriate record in his files in the event inquiry or claim for indemnity is made concerning the parcel; and if the office to which the parcel is returned is not the mailing office, the postmaster at the mailing office should be notified to permit this record to be made.

(f) Domestic registered and unregistered C. O. D. mail sealed against inspection and prepaid at the letter rate of postage requires no extra postage for forwarding or return, but any deficiency in postage on such matter will be considered as guaranteed by the sender if not paid by the addressee. (See art. 38, p. 187.)

6. Abandonment of insured or C. O. D. mail.—Senders of insured or C. O. D. mail may direct the ABANDONMENT thereof by placing instructions on the parcels, preferably in print, reading substantially as follows: "Postmaster: DO NOT FORWARD OR RETURN. If not accepted within 20 days treat as ABANDONED. NOTIFY SENDER OF FINAL DISPOSITION." Undeliverable mail of this character will be sent to and disposed of by the post office to which dead parcel post mail is ordinarily transmitted, and the sender thereof will have no claim upon the Department for the contents or value of the mail after it has been stripped for treatment as the property of the United States. (See p. 20, March, 1932, Guide, relative to the charge of 10 cents to be made for requests after mailing to abandon insured or C. O. D. mail in exceptional instances; also, art. 91, par. 8, p. 211, relative to alternative instructions permitting C. O. D. mail to be held for not exceeding 30 days provided the addressee pays demurrage for the full demurrage period in advance.)

7. Perishable matter—Sale or destruction of.—Senders of perishable matter may direct the sale or destruction thereof, if undelivered, by placing instructions on the parcels, preferably in print, reading substantially as follows: "Postmaster: DO NOT FORWARD OR RETURN. If undelivered after ------ days, sell contents to highest bidder and remit proceeds, less commission, to sender. (See sec. 808, P. L. & R.)", or "Postmaster: DO NOT FORWARD OR RETURN. If undelivered after ------ days, DESTROY. NOTIFY SENDER OF FINAL DISPOSITION." The commission chargeable for the sale of undelivered perishable matter is 10 percent of the proceeds, but not less than 15 cents in any instance, the balance being remitted to the sender by money order after deduction of the proper money order fee.

8. Forwarding may be prohibited or limited by senders.—(a) Senders of insured or C. O. D. mail may protect themselves against repeated forwarding of such mail on the requests of addressees, by indorsing the parcels, "DO NOT FORWARD. IF NOT ACCEPTED WITHIN ---- DAYS RETURN TO SENDER," in which event postmasters will ignore the forwarding orders of addressees and return the parcels to the senders at the expiration of the proper retention period, rated up with the amount of postage to be collected on return to senders.

(b) Senders who desire to limit the forwarding of their C. O. D. parcels within reason, will be permitted to place in the return requests on their C. O. D. parcels, in a conspicuous manner, the indorsement "POSTMASTER: DO NOT FORWARD AFTER ------. If not accepted by that date, return to senders." The time during which such C. O. D. parcels may be forwarded will be limited to 30 days from the date of mailing. Therefore, any date which may be inserted in the required instructions on such C. O. D. parcels (preferably by means of rubber dating stamps, pen and ink, typewriter, but not by means of lead pencil) must not contemplate the forwarding of the C. O. D. parcels after a period of 30 days from the dates of mailing.

9. Return receipts and restricted delivery.—(a) Return receipts.—A fee of 3 cents shall be paid for each return receipt requested at the time of mailing for domestic insured mail, a fee of 5 cents shall be paid for such a receipt requested after mailing, and a fee of 23 cents shall be paid for a return receipt requested at the time of mailing to show the address where the insured article was delivered. Note particularly that all requests for return receipts for domestic insured mail which are to show the address where the article is delivered must be made at the time of mailing, and that all fees for return receipts and the fees for insurance are in addition to the regular postage. (See sec. 1386, par. 5, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932. Postal employees also should carefully note the detailed instructions in art. 33, p. 170, relative to the handling of return receipts for domestic registered mail, which are generally applicable to domestic insured mail.) No refund of fees paid for any return receipts will be made unless failure to furnish the return receipt or its equivalent is due to fault of the postal service.

(b) Restricted delivery.—The sender may restrict the delivery of insured or C. O. D. mail by indorsing each such article on the address side "Deliver to addressee only," or "Deliver to addressee or order," or with words of similar import, upon payment of the required fee of 10 cents. No refund is made of the fee paid for this service unless request for refund is made and erroneous delivery of the article or articles was due to some fault of the Postal Service. (See sec. 1386, par. 4, and sec. 1387, par. 1, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932; also, the instructions "Additional charge of 10 cents for effecting delivery of domestic registered, insured, or collect-on-delivery mail, the delivery of which has been restricted by sender or addressee," on pp. 63 and 64, August, 1934, Guide.)

10. Air-mail service applicable to insured and C. O. D. mail.—Insured and C. O. D. parcels may be sent by air-mail service, notwithstanding the parcels are sealed. The limit of weight and size and the rates of postage will be the same as for other mail transmitted by air-mail service.

11. Live day-old chicks, day-old ducks, day-old geese, day-old guinea fowl, day-old turkeys, queen bees and their attendant bees, honey bees, and harmless live animals, mailed under the conditions set forth in amended section 594, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, may be accepted for insurance or collection-on-delivery. Indemnity will be paid on account of the complete or partial loss by death or otherwise of the contents of such shipments, when the evidence shows that the loss by death or otherwise was attributable to fault of the Postal Service, provided that a deduction may be made from the amount otherwise payable to cover what the department may consider a reasonable death rate. However, indemnity is not paid for any outright loss of chicks, etc., which is caused by removal of dead chicks, etc., by postal employees, unless death was attributable to fault of the Postal Service. (See art. 205, p. 230.) Live fowls and live domestic animals are not mailable.

12. Island possessions and territories of the United States.—In addition to domestic destinations, mailable parcels may be insured or sent C. O. D. when they are addressed to Guam; Hawaii; Puerto Rico; Pago Pago, Samoa; and the Virgin Islands of the United States. Parcels may be insured to all post offices in Alaska, or sent C. O. D. when addressed to money order post offices. Parcels may be insured but not sent C. O. D. to the Philippine Islands, the Canal Zone, and United States naval vessels, and officers and enlisted men served through the United States domestic mail service. However, domestic C. O. D. mail may be sent to Guantanamo Bay, Cuba. (See art. 183, par. (d), p. 227, and art. 16, p. 191 below.)

13. Hawaii, Guam, and Pago Pago, Samoa.—(a) Considering the time necessary for the transportation of mail to and from Hawaii, Guam, and Pago Pago, Samoa, inquiries in connection with insured and C. O. D. mail addressed to those possessions should not ordinarily be sent sooner than 60 days from the dates of mailing of insured and C. O. D. mail addressed to Hawaii, and 4 months from the dates of mailing of insured and C. O. D. mail addressed to Guam and Pago Pago, Samoa.

(b) When there is sufficient knowledge to justify the making of inquiries sooner than 60 days from the dates of mailing of insured and C. O. D. parcels addressed for delivery in Hawaii, and sooner than 4 months from the dates of mailing of insured and C. O. D. parcels for delivery in Guam and Pago Pago, Samoa, the inquiries should be indorsed to show the basis for their being made prior to the prescribed period for the information of the postmasters concerned.

(c) When advice has been received by the sender that an insured or C. O. D. parcel was received rifled or damaged, an application for indemnity may be filed forthwith.

(d) Claims for indemnity in connection with insured or C. O. D. parcels mailed at or addressed to Hawaii must be made within six months from the dates of mailing thereof, but because of the special conditions applicable to insured or C. O. D. parcels mailed at or addressed to Guam and Pago Pago, Samoa, the requirement that claims for indemnity be filed within 6 months from the dates of mailing of such parcels has been extended to 10 months.

14. Canal Zone and Philippine Islands (special indemnity provisions applicable thereto).—(a) There is no C. O. D. service between the United States and the Canal Zone or between the United States and the Philippine Islands. (See original notices on these subjects published in the June 1927, and November 1923, Guides.) Any claims for indemnity which may arise in connection with parcels erroneously accepted as C. O. D. mail to the Canal Zone or the Philippine Islands should be sent to the department for attention.

(b) The agreement for the exchange of insured mail with a maximum indemnity of $200 between the Canal Zone and the United States, including all possessions of the United States except the Philippine Islands, contemplates the payment of indemnity by the Canal Zone or the United States according to where the loss, rifling, or damage occurred, and the assumption by the United States of 75 percent of the liability in those cases where responsibility cannot be definitely fixed upon either service.

(c) The maximum indemnity for domestic insured mail addressed to the Philippine Islands is $100 payable by the United States when the evidence shows the loss, rifling, or damage occurred in the Postal Service of the United States as distinguished from that of the Philippine Islands. There is no reciprocal insurance service from the Philippine Islands.

Claims, time limits for filing.—Claims on account of alleged loss of insured mail addressed to the Philippine Islands should not be filed prior to four months from date of mailing. The requirement that claims for indemnity be filed within 6 months from the dates of mailing of the parcels has been extended to 10 months from the dates of mailing of insured parcels addressed to the Philippine Islands.

15. United States naval vessels, no C. O. D. service with.—There is no C. O. D. service to or from United States naval vessels. (See original notice on this subject published in the December, 1927, Guide.) C. O. D. parcels intended for persons connected with naval land establishments or naval receiving ships permanently located at particular points in the United States may be accepted for mailing addressed to the United States post offices where the naval land establishments or receiving ships are located, but delivery of such parcels will be made from the post offices and the C. O. D. charges collected at the time of such delivery. Any claims for indemnity in connection with parcels mailed on or addressed to United States naval vessels erroneously accepted as C. O. D. mail should be sent to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Registered Mails, for adjustment. Insured parcels may be addressed to or mailed on United States naval vessels.

16. C. O. D. service to the United States naval station at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba.—C. O. D. parcels may be sent when addressed for delivery through the United States naval station at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba. Collect-on-delivery parcels may be addressed to the personnel of the Navy on board United States naval vessels located in Cuban waters, but delivery of such parcels will be made only by the Navy mail clerk at the United States naval station at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba. C. O. D. parcels for delivery at the United States naval station at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, must be addressed when accepted for mailing, "United States Naval Station, Guantanamo Bay, Cuba," to prevent their being intercepted in transit and returned to sender as unmailable. Furthermore, when the addressee is located on a United States naval vessel in Cuban waters the name of the vessel on which the addressee is located should appear as a part of the address on such parcels in order that the Navy mail clerk at the naval station at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, will be in a position to notify the addressee to call at the naval station to receive his C. O. D. mail.

17. Return to senders of improperly accepted C. O. D. parcels.—Parcels erroneously accepted as C. O. D. mail to the Canal Zone, Philippine Islands, and United States naval vessels, received in transit, must be conspicuously indorsed "Returned, sent C. O. D. contrary to instructions," and returned to the mailing office. Report these irregularities to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Registered Mails. (See art. 183, par. (d), p. 227.)

18. Correspondence to furnish certain information.—In all correspondence with the department and with other offices concerning insured and C. O. D. parcels, and in all inquiries, tracers, and notices, sent out by postmasters relative thereto, the number, date of mailing, names and addresses of the sender and addressee of the parcel, the shipper's file or invoice number, if any, appearing upon the wrapper, or as much of this information as is available, together with a statement or notation showing whether the article in question was insured or sent C. O. D., shall be given. When using forms where no provision is made for these particulars, they should be written on the margin.

19. Old records, disposition of.—The records of domestic insured and C. O. D. parcels shall be preserved as provided in section 101, Postal Laws and Regulations, and article 40, p. 129, of this Guide. Mailing office records of insured and C. O. D. parcels and delivery office records of insured parcels in connection with which claims have been filed shall be kept for at least two years from the dates the parcels were mailed. Delivery office records of all C. O. D. parcels shall be retained for three years. (See art. 63, p. 200.)

NOTE.—Order No. 11018 of the Postmaster General amending section 101 of the Postal Laws and Regulations of 1932 requires that report be made to Inspectors in Charge of accumulations of useless papers in post offices that should be disposed of. Records of insured or C. O. D. mail other than those listed in the Official Postal Guide must not be reported to Inspectors in Charge for disposition until specific authority therefor has been obtained from the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Registered Mails. (See Par. 6, Sec. 101, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, as amended.)

20. Important instructions involving insured and C. O. D. mail were published in the monthly Postal Guides during the years 1932 to 1939.—Particular attention is directed to the following important notices concerning insured and C. O. D. mail, which are not reprinted in full in this Guide because of lack of space, but full text of which should be well known to all postal employees who handle insured or C. O. D. mail or claims for indemnity in connection therewith:

INSURED AND C. O. D. MAIL AT MAILING OFFICES

(For special instructions applicable to C. O. D. mail at mailing offices, see p. 204)

21. Presentation for mailing.—In order to assure the proper treatment of insured and C. O. D. mail in transit and at offices of address, and to safeguard postal revenues, accepting postal employees must pay special attention to the following requirements:

(a) Addressing.—Each insured or C. O. D. parcel must bear the sender's return card (name and address), preferably in the upper left corner of the parcel, preceded by the word "From." The complete name and address of the sender must appear on every parcel mailed even though the addressee is a widely known business concern. The name and address of the addressee also must be shown on each parcel, preferably in the lower right portion thereof. The names and addresses of the sender and addressee should be filled in with typewriter, pen and ink, rubber stamp, or indelible pencil. The use of ordinary lead pencil should be discouraged. Parcels indefinitely addressed or addressed to fictitious names, or to initials (except adopted trade names of business concerns), or to box or street numbers only, shall not be accepted. This applies to the names and addresses of senders as well as addressees.

(b) Endorsement.--Postal employees should bear in mind that if insured or C. O. D. parcels are not properly indorsed instances may arise where the articles will be delivered as ordinary mail and the Department may be held financially liable for their alleged loss. Therefore, each parcel accepted for insurance or collection-on-delivery must be legibly indorsed with an impression of the regulation "INSURED" or "C. O. D." stamp IMMEDIATELY ABOVE OR JUST TO THE LEFT OF THE NAME AND ADDRESS OF THE ADDRESSEE, unless it has affixed an address label incorporating a reproduction or proportionate enlargement of the regulation stamp. The number of each parcel must be inserted in a legible manner within the space provided for that purpose in the regulation indorsement. Insured parcels must not be indorsed to show the value of their contents.

(c) Postage and fee.—Each parcel accepted for insurance or to be sent C. O. D. must have the charges for postage and insurance or C. O. D. fee, and any other fees for available services specially requested, fully prepaid. All postage stamps affixed to such mail must be effectively canceled. However, care should be exercised not to disfigure postage stamps having a philatelic value. (See sec. 718, par. 1, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

(d) Postmarking.—Insured and C. O. D. mail must be postmarked on the address side to show the name of the post office in full, the name of the State in full or abbreviated, and the DATE OF MAILING. (See sec. 719, par. 1, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

(e) THE DEPARTMENT WILL NOT TOLERATE CARELESSNESS ON THE PART OF EMPLOYEES IN THE INDORSING AND NUMBERING OF INSURED AND C. O. D. PARCELS. A SUPERVISORY EMPLOYEE SHOULD BE DESIGNATED TO MAKE A CHECK AT FREQUENT INTERVALS WITH A VIEW TO DETERMINING WHETHER EACH CLERK ENGAGED IN THE ACCEPTANCE OF INSURED AND C. O. D. MAIL IS STRICTLY OBSERVING THE REQUIREMENTS OF THE DEPARTMENT IN THIS REGARD, AND CORRECTIVE ACTION SHOULD BE TAKEN WHEN WARRANTED. INSTANCES HAVE COME TO ATTENTION OF INDISTINCT INDORSEMENTS, OR INDORSEMENTS WHICH WERE FAR REMOVED FROM THE NAMES AND ADDRESSES OF THE ADDRESSEES. SUPERVISORS SHOULD IMPRESS UPON ACCEPTING EMPLOYEES THE IMPORTANCE OF KEEPING INK PADS IN A CLEAN AND SERVICEABLE CONDITION, AND OF LEGIBLY INDORSING AND NUMBERING EACH INSURED OR C. O. D. PARCEL.

22. Unordered insured or C. O. D. parcels.—Parcels containing matter offered for sale addressed to prospective purchasers who have not ordered or authorized their sending will not be insured or sent C. O. D. Should such matter be received in the Postal Service, indemnity for the loss, rifling, or damage thereof may not be paid. (See arts. 75, 148, and 195, pp. 204, 222, and 228, of this Guide.)

23. Fragile articles.—All articles easily breakable must be marked "Fragile", before being accepted for mailing. (See arts. 28 to 30, p. 193, art. 158, p. 223, of this Guide, sec. 590, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, Circular III and instructions on cover of firm mailing book.)

24. Perishable matter.—All parcels containing matter of perishable nature must be marked "Perishable", before being accepted for mailing. Patrons should be informed of the advantages of prepaying such parcels for special-handling or special-delivery service. (See arts. 28 to 31, pp. 193 to 194, art. 158, p. 223, of this Guide, and sec. 591, pars. 1 and 2, of the Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

25. Butter.—All parcels containing butter must be indorsed "Butter" before being accepted for mailing. (See arts, 28 to 30, p. 193, art. 158, p. 223, of this Guide, sec. 591, par. 2, of the Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

26. Eggs.—Eggs shall be accepted for mailing when packed in crates, boxes, baskets, or other suitable containers, so constructed and in such condition as properly to protect the contents, and such packages are to be transported outside of mail bags. Shipments of eggs in unsuitable or worn-out containers should not be accepted for mailing. Considering the nature of eggs and in order to secure their safe transportation in the mails they should be put up in separate containers without other merchandise. All parcels containing eggs shall be plainly marked "Eggs" before being accepted for mailing. When necessary, they should be marked "This side up." (See arts. 28 to 30, following, and art. 158, p. 223, of this Guide, and sec. 591, par. 3, of the Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

27. Eggs for hatching.—Eggs for hatching shall be accepted for mailing, when each egg is wrapped separately and surrounded with excelsior, wood wool, or other suitable material and packed in a basket, preferably with a handle, or other suitable container. Such parcels shall be labeled "Eggs for hatching." "Keep from heat and cold," "Please handle with care," or other suitable words, before being accepted for mailing and shall be handled outside of mail sacks. (See art. 26, p. 192, and arts. 28 to 30, following, and art. 158, p. 223, of this Guide, and sec. 591, par. 4, of the Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

28. Packing and wrapping.—(a) All parcels must be securely packed and wrapped in order to withstand the ordinary handling to which they will be subjected while in transmission and without injuring the mail bags in which they may be inclosed or the persons handling them. Parcels known to be improperly or insufficiently packed or wrapped shall not be accepted as insured, C. O. D., or ordinary mail. (See arts. 100 to 109, pp. 29 to 32.)

(b) Heavy parcels fastened with gummed tape.—Postmasters and other accepting employees should carefully watch mailings of this kind and require all parcels to be tied with strong twine when in their opinion paper tape is not strong enough for the safe handling of such parcels. The Second Assistant, Division of Railway Mail Service, has directed that all parcels weighing 50 pounds or more shall be dispatched outside of mail bags, and all parcels weighing 30 pounds or more shall be tied or fastened with strong twine or metal straps or wire applied so as to avoid exposed sharp edges or ends. (See notice in August, 1939, Guide.)

29. Accepting postal employees must inquire as to contents and method of packing of insured and C. O. D. parcels.—(a) Postal employees assigned to the acceptance of insured and C. O. D. parcels shall ascertain in each instance what articles the parcels contain, and have the packing described in detail except in the case of those patrons who have been instructed in advance, regarding packing, wrapping, and indorsement. (See art. 30, following.) General statements to the effect that the parcels contain "Merchandise" or do not contain fragile or perishable matter must not be accepted.

(b) The purpose of making these inquiries is to ascertain whether the contents are admissible to the mails as insured or C. O. D. matter, whether the articles described by the mailer require any special indorsement such as "Fragile," "Perishable," etc., and are properly packed for safe transmission in the mails. Postal employees should exercise good judgment and discretion when inquiring as to the contents of parcels so as to avoid embarrassment and aggravation in requiring the enumeration of each commodity or item of merchandise. For instance, if a parcel contains clothing exclusively, it is not necessary to have each individual garment described. If the contents of a parcel consist partly of clothing and partly of other merchandise, the other merchandise should be sufficiently described to permit the accepting employee to determine whether the parcel is properly packed and needs any special indorsement. The instances where questions as to the exact contents of the parcel may be embarrassing or annoying to the mailer are, however, comparatively rare and postal employees should not use this as an excuse for being lax in making inquiries. (See article "Accepting postal employees to inquire as to contents of insured and C. O. D. parcels," p. 20, of the April, 1929, Supplement to the Postal Guide.)

(c) Packing.—Any parcel which is not packed in accordance with the Postal Laws and Regulations, the instructions contained in Circular III, instructions on pages 29 to 32 of this Guide, or other instructions of the department or which is not sufficiently prepared to withstand reasonable handling in transit, must be refused. (See art. 158, p. 223, and art. 209, p. 230, of this Guide.) Unless there is doubt as to the adequacy of the packing, or as to the actual inclosures, parcels need not be opened and examined.

(d) Indorsement.—The question of whether the parcel, if accepted, shall be indorsed is to be determined by the postal employee to whom it is presented, and not left to the discretion of the sender. "Fragile" or "Perishable" parcels must be appropriately indorsed, even though they may be packed most securely. (See art. 209, p. 230, of this Guide.)

(e) Responsibility of postal employees.—Postal employees will be held personally responsible for damage resulting from their failure to observe the foregoing instructions.

30. Patrons to be informed regarding packing and indorsements.—(a) Firms and other patrons customarily mailing insured or C. O. D. parcels in quantities shall be instructed as to adequate packing and proper indorsement. The instructions on the cover page of the firm mailing book as to packing and indorsement of parcels are condensed. Therefore, postmasters shall, if such action has not already been taken. furnish to such patrons copies of latest edition of Circular III. As Circular III does not cover in detail the packing and indorsement of parcels containing liquids, shippers of such parcels also shall be furnished with reprints of the instructions entitled "Preparation, Wrapping, and Packing of Mail Matter", issued by the Second Assistant Postmaster General, which appear on pages 15 to 17 of the May, 1935, Supplement, and in article 106, page 30, of this Guide. These reprints may be obtained from the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Classification, and the Second Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Railway Mail Service, respectively. When necessary or advisable, special instructions shall be issued to shippers of any commodities the packing and indorsement of which are not covered by any specific instructions of the Department.

(b) A list shall be kept of the firms or other patrons who are furnished Circular III, the reprint entitled "Preparation, Wrapping and Packing of Mail Matter", or other special instructions as to packing and indorsement, as well as the dates such instructions are furnished. When parcels are presented by such patrons, inquiry need not be made as to the packing or contents. When firm mailing books are used, senders shall be instructed to make entry of any special indorsements as well as all other required data on both copies of the firm mailing sheets. (See art. 39, p. 195.) Extensive overseas shippers of domestic insured and C. O. D. mail should be advised that parcels requiring overseas transportation must be prepared for mailing in a manner more substantial than ordinarily might be required for delivery within the continental United States. (See p. 22, October, 1937, Guide.)

(c) Indemnity in event of damage to contents will not be paid when the sender has been advised as to the necessity for properly packing and indorsing parcels or received special instructions in regard thereto and has failed to comply with such instructions and it is apparent that the damage was due to improper packing or lack of indorsement.

(d) The packing and indorsement must conform to the instructions contained in Circular III, etc. If the method of packing used by a patron is unsatisfactory and the postmaster is in doubt as to what change therein he should require, a detailed description of the packing should be submitted to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Registered Mails.

31. Special-delivery fees and special-handling charges.—(a) Insured or C. O. D. mail, either third or fourth class, will be given the same expeditious handling and transportation as is accorded first-class matter, and in addition receive immediate delivery at the office of address upon prepayment of a special-delivery fee of 15 cents for parcels weighing not more than 2 pounds, 25 cents for parcels exceeding 2 pounds but not weighing more than 10 pounds, and 35 cents for parcels exceeding 10 pounds in weight.

(b) Insured or C. O. D. parcels of the fourth class will be given special handling upon prepayment of 10 cents for parcels weighing not more than 2 pounds, 15 cents for parcels weighing more than 2 pounds but not exceeding 10 pounds, and 20 cents for parcels weighing more than 10 pounds. Parcels on which this special-handling postage charge is prepaid will receive the most expeditious handling and transportation practicable, but not immediate delivery at the office of address.

32. Patrons to be informed regarding schedule of fees.—Postal employees must acquaint patrons with the schedule of insurance and C. O. D. fees and must insure for the amount desired within the limit fixed ($200).

33. Defective tires.—When parcels containing used, damaged, or defective automobile tires are presented, postal employees will make appropriate notation as to their condition on the mailing office record.

34. Address labels and tags.—(a) It is essential to the proper handling of insured and C. O. D. parcels that any address labels or tags affixed thereto shall conform in arrangement and text to the requirements of the department. (See p. 17, March, 1937, Guide.) Any printed "Insured" or "C. O. D." indorsement must be a facsimile or proportionate enlargement of the official "Insured No. ------" or "C. O. D." indorsement. Specimens of approved address labels recommended by the department for use exclusively on insured or C. O. D. parcels may be obtained from the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Registered Mails.

(b) Return requests.—Senders of insured and C. O. D. parcels should be requested to place definite return requests on all insured and C. O. D. parcels. Instructions in return requests should be clear and unmistakable and should specify the maximum time (which shall not exceed 30 days) that the parcels should be held at offices of address. However, postmasters should urgently recommend to senders, particularly patrons doing a large C. O. D. business, that not more than 10 days be specified in the return request, in order to prevent congestion at post offices. (See art. 62, p. 200, and art. 91, par. 9, p. 211.)

(c) Many extensive users of the domestic insurance and C. O. D. services have provided at their expense approved multiple forms incorporating among the several portions thereof specially printed descriptive receipts. In order to facilitate acceptance, the receipting portions of multiple forms should be arranged so that accepting employees will only be required to sign and postmark two sheets (mailing office record and sender's receipt portion) regardless of the number of articles presented at one time for insurance or to be sent C. O. D.

(d) Accepting postal employees should be instructed to bring to the attention of their supervisors instances where address labels affixed to insured or C. O. D. mail do not conform to the requirements of the department, for corrective attention with the mailers. When in doubt as to whether any address label meets the requirements of the department, samples thereof should be submitted to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Registered Mails.

35. Records to be kept at mailing office.—No books other than firm mailing books and bound stubs of senders' receipts for insured parcels are furnished for recording insured and C. O. D. parcels accepted for mailing, but the mailing office coupons of C. O. D. tags and stubs of insurance receipts supply the necessary record when correctly filled out, properly post-marked, and filed.

36. Statistics.—Postmasters should be prepared, when called upon, to furnish such statistics with reference to domestic insured and C. O. D. mail as are indicated in article 75, page 181, of this Guide.

37. Acceptance for insurance.—(a) When a parcel is accepted for insurance, it should be legibly stamped on the face side with the regulation insurance stamp reading "Insured No." and legibly numbered in the space provided for that purpose by means of pen and ink or indelible pencil, if practicable, rather than with ordinary lead pencil. Numbering machines may be used if available for that purpose, provided a clear impression can be obtained and there is no likelihood of damaging the contents of the parcels. Each such parcel shall be postmarked to show the office and State of origin and the date of mailing. Postmasters who do not have stamps reading "Insured No." should promptly make requisition therefor on the Fourth Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Building Operations and Supplies, Equipment and Supplies Branch. The indorsement "Insured No." must be placed IMMEDIATELY ABOVE OR JUST TO THE LEFT OF THE NAME AND ADDRESS OF THE ADDRESSEE. Where red ink is available, it should be used to make this indorsement. Some mailers of insured parcels use address labels containing facsimile of the regulation "Insured No." stamp, and when insured parcels are prepared in this manner it is not necessary to stamp the parcels with the regulation "Insured No." stamp. Mailers using labels of this kind should be encouraged to have the "Insured No." indorsement printed in red ink. (See art. 21, p. 192.)

(b) When firm-mailing sheets are not used, a coupon receipt must be issued to the sender showing the number of the parcel, the separate amount of insurance fee and postage paid, and the return-receipt fee, restricted-delivery fee, special-delivery fee, or special-handling charge, if any, as well as any special indorsements, such as "Fragile,"

"Perishable," etc., appearing on the wrapper and any restriction in delivery which may be imposed by the sender. This receipt shall be postmarked with the name of the mailing post office and date of acceptance, and shall be signed with the name or initials of the employee accepting the article. The stub of the receipt, to be retained at the mailing office, shall be filled out by the accepting employee and shall show the number of the parcel, date of mailing, insurance fee paid, the amount of postage paid, and the return-receipt fee, restricted-delivery fee, special-delivery fee, or special-handling charge, if any, the name and complete address of the addressee, name or initials of accepting employee, as well as any indorsements or restriction in delivery which may appear upon the face of the parcel. For possible use in the event a claim should arise bearing upon delivery, extreme care must be exercised to show on the mailing office record whether the parcel was actually directed "in care" of some person or institution, etc., or otherwise—in other words, the exact and complete address of the addressee appearing upon the parcel when accepted should be recorded. Great care must be exercised to enter the correct and same fee on the stub as is shown on the receipt given the sender.

(c) Particular attention is invited to the necessity of care in the preparation of the stubs which constitute the mailing office records, as should these be incompletely or incorrectly filled out, the department would be without proper record of a parcel in the event of an alleged loss. Postmasters will see that these records are at all times properly prepared. Laxity in the keeping thereof will not be tolerated. (See arts. 39 and 40, following, relative to firm mailing books and temporary bulk receipts.)

(d) Postmasters at offices having contract stations shall see that the regulations governing the acceptance of parcels for insurance are thoroughly understood and carefully observed thereat.

38. Forms 3816–c and 3816–d, gummed labels for use on certain C. O. D. and insured parcels.—(a) Form 3816–c (for C. O. D. parcels) and Form 3816–d (for insured parcels) perforated gummed labels are intended for use at offices of the first, second, and third classes on insured and C. O. D. parcels on which clear indorsements by means of hand stamps can not be made or which can not be legibly numbered; that is, on soft, fragile, or irregularly shaped or other parcels upon which it is difficult to make a clear impression of the insured or C. O. D. stamp or a complete and legible postmark.

(b) The proper use of these stickers will assure a complete and legible number and postmark, and a clear insured or C. O. D. indorsement on those parcels, the physical characteristics of which preclude their clear indorsement by means of hand stamps and will also render more certain the immediate identification of such parcels during the course of their handling, in order that they may be treated in accordance with the existing instructions. Therefore, the department desires that these stickers be used on insured and C. O. D. parcels of this character. Postal employees should use the utmost care in affixing the stickers to the parcels so that they will not become detached in handling, since the insured parcels would thus lose their identity and the C. O. D. parcels would also be treated as ordinary mail, if the C. O. D. tags also became detached.

(c) Accepting employees should bear in mind that these stickers are not to be used on insured and C. O. D. parcels which present a good surface for indorsing and postmarking.

39. Firm mailing books.—The attention of patrons of the insurance and C. O. D. services who customarily present an average of three or more parcels at one time shall be called to the firm mailing book. Entries are made therein in duplicate by the mailer, thus providing a complete descriptive record for the mailing office and the senders of such articles, and the filling out of mailing office records and sender's receipts for insured and C. O. D. mail is unnecessary. Loose leaves, containing the same matter as the books, are also provided. Special authorization is not necessary to use these books. Postal employees accepting insured and C. O. D. parcels listed on firm mailing books or sheets must require senders to fill in all items applicable to each parcel described the same as when individual receipts are given. A list shall be kept of the firms or other patrons furnished firm mailing books for use in connection with insured and C. O. D. parcels. Postmasters who have patrons desiring firm mailing books should make requisition therefor upon the Fourth Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Building Operations and Supplies, Equipment and Supplies Branch. Further information will be furnished by the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Registered Mails. (See art. 30, p. 193, of this Guide.)

40. Bulk Receipt, Form 3824.—When a number of articles are presented for insurance or collection on delivery and the sender is unwilling to wait for the usual permanent receipt on Forms 3813 or 3816, or the signed firm mailing sheet, the parcels may be accepted by count only, and the sender given a temporary bulk receipt, Form 3824, covering the total number of parcels accepted. In such cases care must be exercised to see that the usual form of permanent receipt is issued as soon as practicable.

41. Numbering of insured and C. O. D. mail.—Postmasters should give careful consideration to the numbering of insured and C. O. D. mail with a view to eliminating prefixes and suffixes in every instance practicable and to restricting the numbers to as few figures as possible. The series of numbers should be commenced anew as frequently as found desirable in order to obtain the use of as few figures as practicable. (See secs. 1207 and 1208, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

42. Return receipts.—The return receipt feature is applicable only to registered and insured mail and must not be extended to ordinary mail of any class. (See p. 18, May, 1933, Guide.) A charge of 3 cents is made for each return receipt requested at the time of mailing for domestic insured mail, 5 cents when requested subsequent to the time of mailing and an additional charge of 20 cents (or a total charge of 23 cents) is made when a return receipt is requested at the time of mailing showing the address where the article was delivered. Postal employees accepting parcels for insurance for which the senders desire return receipts must see that the proper fee is paid in each instance by means of stamps affixed to the articles, in addition to the insurance fee and regular postage, and canceled. The postage stamps in payment of the fee for a return receipt requested at the time of mailing should be affixed to the article in close proximity to the indorsement on the article requesting the return receipt and separate from the other postage stamps used in payment of postage and insurance fee. When the sender has not affixed the postage stamps in payment of the fee for the return receipt separate from the other postage stamps affixed, the words "Fee paid" should be placed by the accepting postal employee under the indorsement "Return receipt requested" or "Return receipt requested showing address where delivered," so it will be apparent that the required fee has been paid. (See sec. 1386, par. 5, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.) Postal employees also should carefully note the detailed instructions in art. 33, p. 170, relative to the handling of return receipts for domestic registered mail, which are generally applicable to domestic insured mail.

43. Use of tags in addressing parcels.—(a) The use of tags for addressing parcels is not desirable in case there is any other means of affixing the necessary address and postage stamps for the reason that it is not permissible to use wire to fasten tags to parcels unless the ends are tucked in, and experience has shown that when string is used the tags are frequently lost off by the string breaking or becoming untied or the tags are torn from the string.

It is realized, however, that on some matter, such as suitcases, hand bags, machinery and machine parts, etc., it is not practicable to place the address and postage stamps either on the wrapper or on the parcel itself, thus necessitating the use of address tags, and in such case the use of a tag is, of course, proper and not objected to, provided the tag is securely attached to the matter so as to withstand the handling to which the parcel is necessarily subjected while in the mails, and provided further that a tag or card bearing the name and address of the sender and that of the addressee is inclosed in the parcel.

(b) It is not necessary that suit cases or hand bags be wrapped or boxed unless the senders desire insurance against abrasion, scarring, or scraping. When suit cases or hand bags are obviously in a damaged or badly worn condition when presented for insurance, postal employees accepting them will examine and make notation as to their condition on the mailing office record.

44. Parcels to remain in custody of postal service.—Insured or C. O. D. parcels should not be handed back to the sender after acceptance and issuance of receipt, to be placed in the ordinary mail drop or delivered by him to another window, but must be held in custody of postal employees for dispatch.

45. Wrappers of parcels to show full information.—Insured and C. O. D. parcels should be carefully examined before dispatch to make sure that the name and address of the sender is plainly indicated on the wrapper; that the wrapper of the parcel bears the impression of the "Insured No " or "C. O. D." stamp as may be proper and the correct parcel number; and in case of C. O. D. mail that the tag is securely attached and the items on the tag correspond with those on the parcel. (See art. 21, p. 192.)

46. Senders must keep record of contents and value of parcels.—Postmasters should advise patrons of the insured and C. O. D. mails, particularly firms, that they must be prepared to state the exact contents and value of each parcel when it becomes necessary to file claims for indemnity on account of the loss, or rifling of, or damage to insured and C. O. D. mail. When such record is not maintained of the contents of insured and C. O. D. parcels, any claims for indemnity in connection therewith may be disallowed.

47. Record to be made by senders of postage and fees paid on insured and C. O. D. parcels.—Firms and other patrons that rate up and affix postage and fees to their articles before presentation for mailing should be instructed to record properly the separate amount of postage and insurance or C. O. D. fee. The return-receipt fee, the special-delivery fee, or the special-handling charge, also should be recorded separately. Postal employees accepting parcels for insurance or collection-on-delivery shall verify the entries made by mailers.

48. Patrons to keep accurate record of C. O. D. remittances and of insured and C. O. D. parcels received by or returned to them.—Postmasters are directed to seek the cooperation of patrons of the insurance and C. O. D. services, particularly firms, with a view to having them keep accurate record of the receipt of money orders covering C. O. D. returns, and of all insured and C. O. D. parcels, including the contents thereof, either addressed to them or originally mailed out by them and returned as undeliverable. Accurate records of the character desired assist in the equitable and prompt adjustment of indemnity claims and save much unnecessary correspondence on the part of patrons, the post offices, and the department. Numerous instances have come to light where patrons have either kept no records whatever or very inaccurate ones, which indicate the necessity for vigorous effort on the part of postmasters.

49. Acceptance of insured and C. O. D. parcels by rural carriers.—Postmasters at all rural delivery offices should appropriately instruct rural carriers of the conditions under which parcels may be accepted for insurance or to be sent C. O. D.; also, that receipts for such parcels must be issued to or left for the mailers at the time of acceptance. Carriers should at all times have in their possession a supply of insurance receipts and C. O. D. tags. (For detailed instructions see secs. 1018 and 1385, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

INSURED AND C. O. D. MAIL AT OFFICES OF ADDRESS

(For special instructions applicable to C. O. D. mail at offices of address, see p. 207)

(See p. 184 covering collect-on-delivery service for domestic registered and unregistered sealed mail of any class bearing postage at the first-class rate).

50. Incoming mail to be examined.—All parcels received for delivery must be carefully scrutinized to see if insured or C. O. D.; to assure the obtaining of the required receipts from addressees; the collection of charges due on C. O. D. parcels; and the observance of any restriction in delivery. Particular care should be exercised to see that sufficient stamps to cover postage and fee have been affixed. Requests for return receipts shall be complied with in every instance. (See art. 73, p. 204.) (For treatment to be accorded parcels received at delivery offices in damaged condition, see art. 57, p. 198.)

51. Collection of deficiencies.—The collection of deficiencies in postage on insured and C. O. D. parcels shall be made in accordance with the instructions applicable to the classes of mail involved.

52. Delivery of insured mail.—(a) Insured mail shall be promptly delivered under the rules and regulations governing the delivery of registered mail. It is not required that carriers shall receipt for insured parcels assigned to them for delivery. When delivery can not be made in person to addressees of insured parcels addressed for delivery at hotels, apartment houses, steamship lines, etc., particular care should be taken to make delivery only to responsible persons duly authorized to receive such mail. (See secs. 1321 to 1326, inc., sec. 1360, and sec. 1385, par. 10, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, also notice entitled "Delivery of insured and C. O. D. mail addressed to guests of hotels, occupants of apartment houses, or the like," in the August, 1932, Postal Guide.) (See also art. 58, par. (c), p. 178, regarding delivery of registered mail to addressees at institutions such as the Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A., Salvation Army Shelters, Missions, and the like, which applies equally to insured mail.)

(b) Receipts to be taken.—Reeeipts will be taken for all insured mail delivered to serve as the post office reeord of delivery. (See arts. 161 and 166, pp. 223 and 224, respectively, of this Guide.) In attempting delivery of insured mail, a city or village carrier should wait only a reasonable time for a response to his ring or knock. If no one then responds he may leave the parcel at the accustomed place provided delivery has not been restricted and a written order has been secured from the addressee to leave insured mail at a specified place. When delivery is made in this manner, the receipt should be filled out and dated and indorsement made that the parcel was "left." However, if the addressee has not filed a written order permitting delivery of his insured mail in this manner, insured mail which can not be personally delivered to the addressee or some responsible person who customarily receives his ordinary mail for him, should be brought back to the post office. (See also art. 55, p. 198, and art. 72, p. 203, of this Guide.)

(c) Forms to be used.—These receipts should be prepared at the office of delivery and for this purpose Form 3849-b (notice of arrival of insured or C. O. D. mail) should be used. At offices of the second, third, and fourth classes using Form 3850 (Record of Transit and Delivered Registered Mail) that form should be used on which to take receipts from addressees when delivery is effected at the post office or station, the word "registered" being changed to "insured."

(d) Receipt to be completely filled out.—Each receipt should bear the original number and the name of the office and State of origin of the parcel, and should be signed for by the addressee or, when delivered to other than the addressee, both names should appear, the name of the addressee first and the name of the person accepting delivery for the addressee immediately thereunder. The date of delivery should appear, preferably placed by the person to whom the parcel is delivered, or when this is not done the postal employee making delivery will insert the date of delivery, and the employee making delivery should also place his name on the receipt. These receipts must be returned promptly to the post office upon completion of each earrier's trip. IMPORTANT! The instruetions entitled "Failure of carriers to obtain receipts upon delivery of domestic insured mail," appearing on page 29, December, 1937, Guide, must be strictly observed at carrier-delivery offices.

(e) Preparation of receipts for insured mail delivered by rural carriers.—The delivery receipt, Form 3849-b, will be prepared by the postmaster at the office of address, or by his clerk prior to the insured parcel being turned over to the rural earrier for delivery. However, the carrier should be furnished with a supply of the forms mentioned and should prepare the receipts in those instances where the fact that parcels are insured has been overlooked by the postmaster or the clerk. If conditions arise during any rush period which are likely to delay the earrier or prevent the clerk promptly to make out such receipts, no objection will be raised to having the rural carrier perform such service or assist in doing so provided his own special duties will permit such action.

(f) Receipts, methods of filing.—At offices of the first class, the receipt forms should be separated and filed according to the last two digits of the numbers given the insured parcels at the post offices of mailing. If the number is omitted or is illegible, inquiry should be made of the mailing office for the eorrect number, Form 3849-c being used for the purpose, but delivery of the parcels shall not be withheld. It is contemplated that two permanent and one temporary files be maintained at offiees of the first class, as follows:

1. Numerical file, by the last two digits of the number of the insured parcel, covering all delivered parcels.

2. Alphabetical file, under names of addressees, covering all insured parcels forwarded to addressees or returned to senders, or for which the numbers of the parcels can not be obtained.

3. Temporary alphabetical file, under names of addressees, covering insured parcels which fail of delivery and are held awaiting delivery. (When the parcels are finally disposed of the receipt forms will be filed in either one of the files referred to immediately above, whichever is proper.)

(g) Receipts, methods of filing.—At second, third, and fourth class offices the receipt forms may be filed alphabetically under the names of the post offices of mailing and when there is more than one receipt for any one post office of mailing they may be arranged numerically by parcel numbers or, if considered preferable, the receipts may be filed alphabetieally under the names of the addressees and when there is more than one receipt for any one addressee, the receipts may be arranged by dates of delivery or by parcel numbers.

(h) Such receipts should be preserved for a period of one year at least, but when claims for indemnity have been instituted, the partieular receipts involved should be kept for a period of at least two years.

(i) Firm delivery.—Where firms or other patrons customarily receive an average of three or more insured parcels at one delivery, Form 3883 or Form 3883a (Firm delivery book) should be used, being modified aceordingly.

(j) Receipts for insured parcels returned and delivered to senders.—Receipts shall be obtained for insured mail returned to senders, in the same manner as required in obtaining receipts for insured mail delivered to addressees. If desired, the receipts for insured mail returned to senders may be kept separate from those obtained for insured mail delivered to addressees. (See art. 65, p. 201, of this Guide.)

53. Directory service.—Before domestic insured or C. O. D. matter is delivered based on information obtained as the result of direetory service great care should be exercised to see that the recipients of the articles are the persons for whom they were intended by the senders, and when necessary to secure correct delivery of insured or C. O. D. articles which can not be delivered as addressed, postmasters should communieate with the senders, through the postmasters at the offices where the senders are located, when the period prescribed for the retention of the mail will permit for the purpose of obtaining such instructions as will result in the correct disposition of the matter.

54. Number of attempts to be made to deliver insured and C. O. D. mail at carrier (city, village, or rural) delivery offices.—(a) At post offices having carrier service, insured and C. O. D. parcels shall be taken out once for delivery (unless the matter is properly held for desk delivery, in which event notice of arrival should be issued to the addressees on Form 3849–b) and if not accepted at that time for any reason, notice on Form 3849–b shall be given by the carrier to, or left for, the addressees that the parcels will be held at the post office. When a C. O. D. parcel is taken out for delivery on the first attempt and is offered for delivery to the addressee or some responsible person for the addressee, but delivery can not be accepted because the amount of charges is not on hand, or the exact amount is not readily available and the carrier can not make change, the person to whom the parcel is tendered should be asked to state the exact date on which delivery will be accepted if the parcel is again brought out. The carrier should make an appropriate and conspicuous notation on the parcel itself for the information of the employee assigning C. O. D. parcels for delivery and the parcel should be again taken out for delivery on the date specified. When insured or C. O. D. mail is not deliverable by carriers, postmasters shall promptly notify the addressees on Form 3849–b of the arrival of the mail, except in those cases where the addressees habitually call for both insured and C. O. D. mail. Such notices are to be postmarked and delivered through the regular channels of the addressees' ordinary mail.

(b) When the sender or addressee requests that a second attempt be made to deliver by carrier (city, village, or rural), a parcel which was unqualifiedly refused on the first attempt, each such request must be accompanied by postage at the local rate. However, postage at the local rate shall not be charged when the addressee or his authorized representative, after having refused the parcel when originally presented for delivery, calls at the post office where the parcel is held and accepts it.

(c) Insured or C. O. D. parcels which have not been unqualifiedly refused will not be taken out for delivery a second time at carrier offices until assurance is given by the addressee or his authorized representative that the parcel will be accepted, and no extra postage charges are to be made for the second attempt to deliver in such cases. However, when the sender requests that such insured or C. O. D. mail be given renewed delivery service by carrier, each such request must be accompanied by postage at the local rate.

(d) Where an insured or C. O. D. parcel which has not been unqualifiedly refused has been taken out twice for delivery by carrier, but not accepted, postage at the local rate must be paid for each subsequent attempt at delivery.

(e) No local rate of postage is to be charged on delivery of C. O. D. mail sealed against inspection and prepaid at the letter rate of postage. Any deficiency in postage at the letter rate should, however, be collected on delivery.

55. Rural and star routes—delivery of insured and C. O. D. parcels.—(a) Rural routes.—When insured and C. O. D. parcels are received for delivery to patrons of rural routes, they must be assigned to the rural carriers and delivery effected in accordance with the regulations governing the delivery of registered mail in so far as they are applicable. The carriers will return any receipts required, the charges collected on C. O. D. parcels, and receipted tags for C. O. D. parcels to the assigning post office for appropriate disposition. Rural carriers shall not be required to make more than one visit to a residence to effect the delivery of an insured or C. O. D. article. Insured and C. O. D. parcels must not be placed in or on rural mail boxes. If the residence is more than one-half mile from a rural route, or there is not a passable road leading to it, the carrier is not required or expected to make delivery thereat. In the latter case the carrier should leave a notice on Form 3849–b in the rural mail box, so that the addressee can be at the box on the next trip or call for the mail at the post office. (See secs. 1360 and 1361, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

(b) Star routes.—Insured and C. O. D. mail shall not be delivered to a star-route carrier unless the addressee expressly so requests in a written order filed at the post office. In the cases where such orders are given, the carriers are considered as the representatives of the addressees and the responsibility of the postal service ceases when delivery has been made to the carrier by the postmaster and the signature of the carrier obtained. In case of C. O. D. mail, delivery should not be made to the star-route carrier until the amount due is paid. (See p. 25, December, 1936, Guide.)

56. Delivery of insured and C. O. D. mail at offices not having carrier service.—(a) Postmasters at offices not having carrier service are expected to use every means practicable, not involving expense to the department, to notify addressees that insured and C. O. D. parcels are on hand for delivery, and arrival notices (Form 3849–b) shall in each case be placed in the general delivery or in the post office box if one is rented by the addressee.

(b) Complaints have reached the department of instances where parcels have been returned to senders without any effort whatever having been made to notify the addressee of the arrival of the parcel. Carelessness of this character brings needless criticism of the service and should be guarded against and avoided.

57. Damaged parcels, delivery of.—(a) Damaged parcels should not be withheld from delivery, but when there is any question as to the sufficiency of the packing, or when the parcels contain fragile matter not appropriately indorsed, the wrapper and packing should be immediately obtained by the postmaster who makes delivery, and held available as evidence in the event claim is subsequently filed.

(b) If addressees refuse damaged parcels, it should be made clear to them that acceptance of the parcels will not prejudice any claim for indemnity that might otherwise be payable, but that, on the other hand, refusal of the articles ordinarily will necessitate the payment by the senders of the same amount of postage required for the original transmission, in order that the senders may determine the extent of damage and file claims; and that the acceptance of parcels makes possible the earlier filing, and hence the earlier adjustment of claims. When addressees absolutely refuse to accept delivery of damaged parcels, postmasters should examine the contents thereof and, if the articles are unquestionably damaged beyond repair and rendered worthless, notify the sender to that effect, and hold the parcel pending instructions from the sender or the filing of claim. If no response is received from the senders within a reasonable length of time from the dates they are notified of the damage, and claims for indemnity are not filed, postmasters at offices of mailing should be requested to ascertain from the senders the disposition to be made of the damaged articles. If the contents are only partially damaged the sender should be notified to that effect and if response is not received the parcel should be returned postage collect at the expiration of the period stated in the return card, or, if no period is stated at the expiration of 30 days. If no response is received from the senders in connection with partially damaged insured or C. O. D. parcels bearing the indorsement to be treated as "abandoned" if not delivered, the parcels should be disposed of in conformity with the requirements of art. 69, p. 202.

(c) Spoiled parcels, delivery of.—When perishable articles are received spoiled, note shall be made of the date and hour of receipt of the parcel for delivery, the actual date and hour of delivery to the addressee, whether the parcel was indorsed "Perishable," and the cause of any delay or improper handling if known, for the information of the paying postmaster or the department, as may be appropriate. If the parcel was not appropriately indorsed, the wrapper thereof should immediately be obtained by the postmaster who makes delivery and held available as evidence in the event claim is subsequently filed. When the parcel does not disclose deterioration at the time of delivery to the addressee and the addressee subsequently makes claim for indemnity, the delivering postmaster should make careful investigation and furnish a detailed statement of the facts for the information of the paying postmaster or the department. (See art. 59, following, and art. 212, p. 231.)

58. Perishable parcels not prepaid for special-delivery service, delivery of.—(a) When an insured or C. O. D. parcel containing perishable matter not prepaid for special delivery service is received at a carrier delivery office, it must be taken out for delivery by carrier on the first regular trip. If the parcel is undelivered because of no response, notice on Form 3820a shall be left for the addressee, and in the case of a C. O. D. parcel the notice shall be indorsed to show the amount of C. O. D. charges due thereon.

(b) Parcels received in any delivery post office on Saturday, or the day before a holiday, after the hour when the parcel-delivery carriers leave the office, or on Sundays or holidays, the contents of which are of such perishable nature that they can not be held over until Monday morning or the day following a holiday, shall be promptly delivered as special-delivery mail even though they do not bear special-delivery postage, receipt taken therefor, and the proper special-delivery fee collected as postage due at the time of delivery. When it will not result in spoiling such delivery may be made by collectors. The messenger or other employee making delivery will leave a slip notice, Form 1544, with the addressee explaining the necessity for the additional postage charge, and asking cooperation in having such matter mailed as special delivery in the future. The sender should be sent a card notice, Form 1543. (See art. 66, p. 41.)

(c) Butter.—When received at the office of address, parcels containing butter shall be regarded as perishable under the conditions as stated in these instructions.

(d) All perishable parcels to be promptly delivered.—The instructions in paragraphs (b) and (c) also apply to small second and to third and fourth class post offices where no delivery service or no parcel-post delivery is maintained, all perishable parcels to be promptly delivered when received as indicated. (For disposition of special-delivery fees and treatment to be accorded such perishable parcels as are refused, see art. 66, p. 41.) (See also following article and art. 212, p. 231.)

59. Undeliverable perishable matter, treatment of.—(a) Insured and C. O. D. parcels containing perishable matter which fail of delivery and bear no request to hold for a specified time should be forwarded to the addressees or returned to the senders without delay, charged with the postage therefor, such postage to be collected on delivery, when there is sufficient time to return the parcels to the senders or forward them to the addressees without the contents spoiling, unless the sender does not desire the parcel returned or forwarded and has placed specific instructions to that effect on the parcel. If there is not sufficient time for such action the contents of the parcels should be treated in accordance with section 808 of the Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.

(b) Perishable parcels bearing the request of the senders that they be held awaiting delivery for a specified period should be held for the full period stated in the return request of the senders, if the condition of the contents will permit, before being returned or otherwise disposed of as set forth in this article. (See art. 58, above.)

(c) Perishable parcels bearing instructions of the sender to sell or destroy, if not accepted by the addressee, should be treated in strict conformity with such instructions. (See art. 7, p. 189.) When the amount realized from the sale of an undelivered insured or C. O. D. parcel containing perishable matter, less a commission of 10 per cent, but in no case less than 15 cents, is remitted to the sender by money order, the name of the postmaster at the office where the matter is sold, and not the name of the addressee, should be shown on the money order as the remitter.

(d) Office record should be made in order to identify the transaction with any related claim which may arise. Claims in such cases will be adjusted through the duly designated paying postmaster or the department, as may be appropriate, on the merits of each claim, and postmasters should see that a full statement of the facts accompanies the claim papers.

60. Postmaster not to act as agent of sender.—Postmasters frequently receive communications requesting them virtually to act as agents of the senders of insured and C. O. D. parcels in dispatching them to new addressees and in attempting to influence the addressees against their wishes to accept delivery or to effect a sale of the contents of the parcels to other persons. Postmasters are not expected nor permitted to act in this manner, in their official capacity, otherwise than is required and allowed by the Postal Laws and Regulations, and instructions emanating from the Department.

61. Return to postal service after delivery.—(a) Postmasters at offices of address, after effecting delivery of insured and C. O. D. parcels, must not permit them to be returned to the post office by the addressees on account of alleged damage or otherwise, unless authorized to do so by the department. After proper delivery has been effected insured or C. O. D. parcels must not be returned to senders or remailed to new addressees except under new insurance or C. O. D. numbers, or by ordinary mail. In such cases postage, and, if insured or C. O. D., a new insurance or C. O. D. fee, must be prepaid.

(b) If the "care" (hotel, apartment house or the like) to which an insured or C. O. D. parcel has been properly delivered will not prepay the necessary postage and the insurance or C. O. D. fee the parcel should be held in the post office of address and the sender requested to furnish postage if he desires the parcel returned or remailed as ordinary mail, or both postage and insurance or C. O. D. fee if he desires the parcel returned or remailed as insured or C. O. D. mail. In the event that the "care" (hotel, apartment house or the like) to which the parcel was properly delivered furnishes only the postage necessary to return or remail the parcel as ordinary mail, the parcel should be held pending receipt of information from the sender as to whether he desires it returned or remailed as insured or C. O. D. mail, and if so the necessary fee must be prepaid. Post-office record should be made of the particulars of the original parcel so as to connect it with the record of the remailed parcel for use in the event inquiry or claim for indemnity is filed and a receipt should be given the "care" (hotel, apartment house or the like) as evidence of the return of the parcel to the postal service. When conditions will permit, it is advisable to have the "care" (hotel, apartment house or the like) make a similar record of its own, which may be done in some instances by the use of firm mailing sheets, in which event the original of this record properly checked at the post office will serve as the post-office record and the copy should be properly receipted and retained by the "care" (hotel, apartment house or the like). (See secs. 1321 to 1326, inc., and sec. 1385, par. 10, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932; also, notice entitled "Delivery of insured and C. O. D. mail addressed to guests of hotels, occupants of apartment houses, or the like," in the August, 1932, Postal Guide.)

(c) Financial loss due to the failure of postal employees to notify the sender of any postage or insurance or C. O. D. fee that may be required to cover the return or remailing of the parcel after proper delivery as insured or C. O. D. mail may result in collection from the postal employee at fault.

62. Retention of insured and C. O. D. mail at offices of address.—(a) The maximum time for which any C. O. D. article may be held is 30 consecutive days without exception (including Sundays and holidays) commencing with the day following the receipt of the article at each office of address. Unless otherwise authorized by the sender, and regardless of requests which may be made to the contrary by the addressee or the sender's representative, each C. O. D. article which fails of delivery must be held for the exact time specified in the sender's instructions thereon, not in excess of 30 days, or for 30 days in the absence of such instructions. If the article is undelivered at the expiration of the proper retention period, it must be rated up with the postage due for its return, in addition to any demurrage which may have accrued thereon, indorsed with the reason for nondelivery, and returned to the sender, or otherwise disposed of in conformity with existing postal requirements. (See arts. 59, p. 199, 63, following, and 68 and 69, pp. 201 and 202.)

(b) Senders may request the return of undelivered insured and C. O. D. parcels earlier than the time specified when the parcels were mailed. Postmasters at offices of delivery should give prompt attention to requests of this kind and shall indorse each such parcel "NOTICE. RETURNED AT SENDER'S REQUEST." Each such request shall be filed as part of the records of the parcels involved as authority for the action taken. (See art. 66, p. 201, and art. 89, p. 208, concerning the sending of notices to senders of undelivered insured and C. O. D. mail.)

(c) Undelivered insured mail is to be retained at offices of address in the same manner as undelivered C. O. D. mail, except that when an insured parcel is actually and unqualifiedly refused and there is no request that the parcel be held a specific period of time, the parcel should be immediately returned to the sender, rated up with the return postage.

(d) In order to avoid justified criticism from senders and addressees, it is incumbent upon postal employees involved to see that each insured and C. O. D. parcel is held for the proper period (not to exceed 30 days under any circumstances).

(e) When insured and C. O. D. parcels are forwarded they are to be held at the offices to which forwarded for the full period stated in senders' return cards. When conditions indicate that this privilege is being abused, make report of the facts to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Registered Mails.

(f) An insured or C. O. D. parcel addressed to a deceased addressee should be indorsed "Deceased" and returned to the sender at once, unless delivery of the parcel can be made to one legally entitled to act for the deceased addressee.

(See art. 91, p. 209, of this Guide for instructions relative to demurrage on C. O. D. parcels which fail of delivery within 20 days from the first attempt to deliver or the first notice of arrival.)

63. Forwarding or return of insured and C. O. D. mail.—(a) Except as provided in articles 6, 7, and 8, p. 189, of this Guide, insured and C. O. D. mail which has not been delivered may be forwarded or returned without payment of an additional insurance or C. O. D. fee. All insured and C. O. D. parcels are accepted with the understanding that the sender guarantees any return or forwarding postage which may be necessary, even though a postage pledge may not be on the parcels. Insured and C. O. D. parcels are to be returned or forwarded rated up with the necessary postage to be collected on delivery. Postmasters at offices of address should not request senders to furnish postage for the return or forwarding of domestic insured and C. O. D. mail. (For detailed information and instructions regarding the requirement that sender guarantees return and forwarding postage for all insured and C. O. D. mail, see art. 5, p. 189, of this Guide.)

(b) In forwarding or returning a C. O. D. parcel, the original tag must be left attached, the parcel and tag appropriately marked to show that the parcel is returned to sender or forwarded, and record must be made of its final disposition. Any precanceled postage stamps affixed thereto must be thoroughly defaced with the canceling stamp. (See art. 30, p. 47.) When undelivered insured and C. O. D. mail is returned to the sender or dispatched to the Division of Dead Letters and Dead Parcel Post, or branch thereof, it should be postmarked to show the name of the office making the return and the date of return. When insured or c. o. d. mail is forwarded or returned to the sender, a record shall be made to show the number of the parcel, the name of the mailing office and date of mailing, the name of the person to whom forwarded, and the office to which the parcel is forwarded or returned, together with the date of such action. When returning undelivered insured or C. O. D. parcels to the senders, the parcels must be indorsed conspicuously to indicate the reason for their nondelivery. (See sec. 810, Postal Laws and Regulations.) At post offices using Form 3849–b exclusively as record of delivery of insured mail, the record of insured mail forwarded or returned should be made on card Form 3540 or Form 3849–b. At offices and stations using Form 3850 (record of transit and delivered registered mail), record of insured parcels forwarded or returned will be made therein. The records of the forwarding and return of insured and C. O. D. mail are to be kept for one year from the date of forwarding or return, after which they may be destroyed in the manner contemplated by section 101 of the Postal Laws and Regulations, except that records in connection with parcels for which claims have been filed shall be preserved two years. (See arts. 19 and 97, pp. 191 and 214, of this Guide.)

64. Conditions under which undeliverable mail may be forwarded to a new address.—(a) Undeliverable insured and C. O. D. mail may be forwarded to a new addressee at some other post office only when the matter itself, when originally deposited for mailing, bears in connection with the sender's return card and pledge to pay the return and forwarding postage a specific request that the matter be forwarded to some particular person designated in such request. The request and return and forwarding postage pledge must appear on the parcel when originally mailed.

(b) Any address labels intended for use on C. O. D. shipments which are to be forwarded to new addresses, if undelivered, should embody a bordered space within which are to be entered the names and addresses of the new addresses, together with instructions specifically directing that the parcels be delivered with or without collection of C. O. D. charges, as may be desired. In this connection, see article 79, page 205, of this Guide, as to the approved arrangement and text of printed matter on address labels of this character.

65. Receipts to be obtained for C. O. D. parcels returned to senders.—(a) Postmasters are informed that receipts shall be obtained for all C. O. D. mail returned to senders, the necessary signatures being obtained upon the tags in the spaces provided for the signatures of the addressees. Such receipts shall be filed alphabetically under the names of the senders, and when more than one receipt is obtained from any one sender, the receipts should be arranged by parcel numbers.

(b) All postal employees concerned should be instructed to exercise proper care to detect those C. O. D. parcels from which the tags have been detached in transit, in order that no C. O. D. parcels may be delivered to senders without the required receipts being obtained.

(c) Duplicate tags should be filled out and the required receipts obtained for any C. O. D. parcels received without tags attached, both at offices of mailing and offices of address.

66. Notices of failure to deliver insured and C. O. D. mail.—(a) The sender of each C. O. D. article shall be notified on Form 3849–d of the inability to make delivery regardless of the cause as soon as it is definitely known that the article is undeliverable but, in any event, within five days after the date of receipt of the article at the office of address. (See art. 89, p. 208.)

(b) Notices of failure to deliver insured mail must be issued on Form 3540 when the addressees unqualifiedly refuse to accept such parcels, except that in the case of an insured parcel not bearing a request that it be held a specific period of time, no notice should be furnished the sender, but the parcel should be promptly returned to the sender, rated up with the return postage. Notice must be issued promptly to the sender in each instance where the addressees of insured parcels are unknown or can not be found at the places to which the parcels are addressed or the parcels are addressed to street addresses or localities that do not exist at the offices of address. The object in sending notice, Form 3540, for refused insured parcels is to permit the senders to make request for a second attempt to deliver and to furnish the additional local rate of postage which is required in every instance where it is desired that a refused insured parcel be again presented for delivery by carrier. The purpose in sending notice in the other instances enumerated is to accord the senders an opportunity to furnish the correct addresses of the addressees and thereby permit delivery of the parcels to be made at the original offices of address or the forwarding of the parcels to other offices where delivery may be effected, or to request the immediate return of the parcels in those instances where the correct addresses of the addressees are not available.

(c) Notices of failure to deliver C. O. D. mail for any reason are also required to be issued to local or near-by agents of the senders when special requests therefor are placed on the C. O. D. parcels when mailed, concerning which see article 90, page 209, of this Guide.

(d) The senders should also be notified when insured and C. O. D. parcels are disposed of as abandoned in accordance with the instructions of the senders appearing on the parcels. (See art. 69, p. 202, of this Guide.)

(See art. 91, p. 209, of this Guide for instructions relative to demurrage on C. O. D. parcels which fail of delivery within 20 days from the first attempt to deliver or the first notice of arrival.)

67. Spoiling of contents of insured or C. O. D. parcels. (See arts. 57 and 59, pp. 198 and 199; also art. 212, p. 231, of this Guide.)

68. Disposal of undeliverable baby chicks.—The following information and instructions apply equally to all shipments of day-old chicks, whether sent as ordinary, insured, or C. O. D. mail.

(a) Information has been received from the Department of Agriculture to the effect that 72 hours from the time of hatching is the maximum time which live day-old chicks reasonably may live without food and water. Section 594, paragraph 2, of the Postal Laws and Regulations, provides that live day-old chicks may be accepted for mailing if they can be delivered to the addressee within 72 hours from the time of hatching. Therefore, shipments of live day-old chicks should not be forwarded or returned when the shipments can not reach their final destination and be delivered within 72 hours from the time the chicks were hatched.

(b) Postmasters should advise shippers of baby chicks to mail their shipments sufficiently early to assure their arrival at the offices of address not later than Saturday morning or the morning of a day preceding a holiday.

(c) It happens at times that orders are received by shippers of live day-old chicks from patrons on rural routes where the number of deliveries are not more than twice or thrice a week and while the chicks might be received at the office of address well within the 72-hour period, if they arrive after the carrier has left the post office the shipment will be delayed in delivery from 24 to over 48 hours at the office of delivery. To avoid instances of this kind, unsatisfactory both to the shippers of the chicks and to the Postal Service, it should be suggested to shippers of live day-old chicks that when they receive orders for shipments of chicks to be delivered on rural routes they ascertain the frequency and days of delivery on the routes involved before making the shipments. This may be accomplished in advertisements by requesting those who order live day-old chicks for delivery on rural routes to specify the days of delivery over those rural routes, and when this information is not furnished with the orders it should be ascertained from the customer or the postmaster before the shipments are made.

(d) Shipments of live day-old chicks that are delayed beyond the 72-hour limit by washouts, snow blockades, wrecks, and the like, should be disposed of by postmasters in accordance with instructions in paragraph (f) of this article. Postal and railway employees are directed to turn into the nearest post office such shipments for proper treatment by the postmaster. Where insured or C. O. D. shipments of live day-old chicks are involved, the provisions of paragraph 7, Section 808 of the Postal Laws and Regulations, relative to notification of postmasters at offices of mailing or of address, etc., should be strictly observed.

(e) If a shipment of live day-old chicks is unqualifiedly refused or it is definitely ascertained that for some other reason delivery can not be made, and such a shipment can be returned to the office of mailing and delivered to the sender within 72 hours from the time the chicks were hatched, such action should be taken. However, it is believed that cases of this kind will be rare.

(f) If a shipment can not be returned to the sender in accordance with the foregoing instructions, it should be sold to the best advantage possible and the amount realized therefrom, less a commission of 10 per cent, but in no case less than 15 cents, transmitted to the sender with a statement of the facts in the case, in accordance with the instructions contained in section 808 of the Postal Laws and Regulations. Postage-due stamps representing the amount retained as a commission for the sale of the articles—that is, 10 per cent of the proceeds, but in no case less than 15 cents—shall be affixed to the parcel or to a tag or sheet of paper attached to the article, canceled and delivered with the matter to the purchaser. Sale should not be made to the addressee except under the conditions set forth in paragraph (g) of this article.

(g) If a shipment of live day-old chicks is received at the office of address and it is not promptly accepted by the addressee, it should be held for delivery until the expiration of the 72-hour period from the time of hatching, if there is a possibility that delivery may be effected within that period. If, at the expiration of the 72-hour period, the shipment has not been accepted, it should be sold and the proceeds disposed of as above stated. Such shipments should not be sold to the original addressee unless paid for in full. If the parcel is sent collect on delivery, the C. O. D. charges plus the money-order fee will show the minimum amount which may be accepted from the addressee, which is the amount that would have been collected from the addressee had the parcel been accepted when originally offered for delivery. If the parcel is sent as ordinary or insured mail and the price is not known to the postmaster, the addressee should not be permitted to buy the chicks after refusing to accept them. When the amount realized from the sale of an undelivered insured or C. O. D. parcel containing baby chicks, less commission, is remitted to the sender by money order, the name of the postmaster at the office where the chicks are sold, and not the name of the addressee, should be shown on the money order as the remitter.

(h) If the instructions herein given are followed, there will be no necessity of telegraphing the senders for instructions as to the disposition to be made of chick shipments, which instructions, even if given, may have to be disregarded. Therefore, telegrams should not be sent to shippers of baby chicks requesting instructions as to disposition.

(i) If the addressee accepts a shipment of live day-old chicks and then, because of finding some of the chicks dead or in bad condition, desires to remail it to the sender, the shipment should not be accepted, as it is the intent of the regulations to provide only for the mailing of live day-old chicks in good condition.

(j) Postmasters and employees are not permitted to certify to the number and condition of baby chicks upon delivery. Shippers and consignees should be so advised when occasion arises.

69. Abandoned parcels—treatment of.—(a) When an insured or C. O. D. article which is not of a perishable nature and which the sender has directed not to be returned cannot be delivered to the original addressee, or in accordance with the sender's alternate instructions, if any, the article shall be held for the full retention period specified in the sender's instructions thereon, at the expiration of which time it shall be indorsed "ABANDONED" and sent to the post office to which dead parcel-post mail is ordinarily transmitted.

(b) Undeliverable perishable matter of this character should be treated in accordance with section 808, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, except that any amount realized from the sale of such matter should not be transmitted to the sender or addressee, but should be sent with a full explanation of the transaction to the post office at the headquarters of the division of the Railway Mail Service in which the matter was detained and included by that office with its regular deposits with the postal cashier as proceeds from the sale of unclaimed merchandise, and accounted for as part of the postal revenue under "miscellaneous receipts."

(c) In order that it may not be necessary for the senders of insured or C. O.D. parcels indorsed to show that the senders do not desire their return to make inquiries of the postmasters at the address offices as to the disposition made of the parcels in those instances where money orders are not received in payment of the charges on C. O. D. parcels or acknowledgments of receipt are not received from the addressees in the case of insured parcels, postmasters at the address offices should notify the senders of the disposition made of the parcels when it becomes necessary to treat them as abandoned. Form 3540 or 3849-d, as may be appropriate, should be used for this purpose.

(d) Insured and C. O. D. parcels of this character usually bear an indorsement reading substantially as follows: "DO NOT FORWARD OR RETURN. If not accepted within 20 days treat as ABANDONED. NOTIFY SENDER OF FINAL DISPOSITION." Despite this indorsement, postmasters at mailing offices have reported the improper return to the senders of such parcels. It has been the practice of the mailing postmaster to immediately return such parcels to the offices of address, inviting attention to the special instructions which call for the treatment of the parcels as abandoned. However, it appears that in certain exceptional cases, the senders have especially requested postmasters at offices of address to return insured or C. O. D. parcels bearing instructions that they be treated as abandoned, if not delivered. To avoid unnecessary work and confusion at offices of mailing, all such insured and C. O. D. parcels should be conspicuously indorsed "NOTICE—RETURNED AT SENDER'S REQUEST."

70. Forwarding to foreign countries prohibited.—Domestic parcel-post packages, including registered, insured, and C. O. D., cannot be forwarded to any foreign country. Domestic insured, but not C. O. D., mail may be forwarded to the Philippine Islands or Canal Zone.

71. Insurance of ordinary parcels for return to senders or forwarding to addressees.—(a) Ordinary domestic third or fourth class parcel-post mail which is undeliverable or refused by the addressee may be insured for return to sender or forwarding to addressee, upon request of the sender or addressee, when the necessary postage and fee are furnished. The usual precautions must be exercised to see that such parcels are properly packed and indorsed.

(b) Such parcels should be insured for the amount stated by the sender or addressee. If insufficient postage and fee are furnished, the parcel should be retained and request made for the additional amount necessary.

(c) Postmasters insuring such parcels should make a careful notation of the contents of each parcel, its condition, and at least an approximate appraisement of its value before returning or forwarding in order to enable the department to assume liability on account of possible loss or damage.

(d) When claims for indemnity are filed covering any such parcels, postmasters concerned should execute the "declaration of mailing postmaster" and in addition, the "declaration of sender," showing the exact contents of each parcel, the approximate value as estimated, and the value originally stated by the sender or addressee, and separately the amount of postage and insurance fee paid. The original sender of the parcel should submit a sworn statement showing the actual value of each article contained in the parcel, and the original sender to whom the insured parcel was returned, or the original addressee to whom the parcel was forwarded should execute the "declaration of addressee," on page 2 of Form 3812.

(e) The department does not encourage the practice of insuring ordinary parcels after they reach the offices of address, and habitual requests for insurance of this character should be reported to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Registered Mails.

72. Delivery of registered, insured, and C. O. D. mail addressed to military camps, posts or stations, and to Civilian Conservation Corps camps.—(a) Military camps, posts or stations.—Postmasters receiving registered, insured, or C. O. D. mail addressed to a member of a military camp, post, or station in the United States or any possession of the United States, will hold the article at the post office or proper post-office station for delivery, and promptly issue a notice to the addressee on Form 3849 or Form 3849-b, as may be appropriate. However, such mail may be delivered to the mail orderly in any instance where the addressee so directs in a written order filed with the postmaster, but none may be so delivered which has been marked by the sender "Deliver to addressee only," or "Deliver to addressee or order," or with words of similar import.

(b) These instructions apply only to registered, insured, and C. O. D. mail addressed to military camps, posts, or stations in the United States or in its possessions, and do not affect mail addressed to persons connected with military organizations or institutions in cities or other places not under military control nor mail addressed to military forces in foreign territory. Neither do the instructions contemplate that special delivery registered, insured, or C. O. D. mail shall be held at the post office and a notice issued when it would otherwise be sent out by special delivery messengers, but they do contemplate that unless the addressee has filed an individual or standing order authorizing delivery of his registered, insured, or C. O. D. mail to the mail orderly, the article is to be held at the post office or station and the delivery notice, Form 3849 or Form 3849–b, as may be appropriate, sent to the addressee by the mail orderly or delivered to the addressee upon application for his mail at the post office or station. (See art. 59, p. 178, and art. 52, p. 196, of this Guide.)

(c) Navy mail is not affected by these instructions.

(d) Civilian Conservation Corps Camps.—Registered and insured mail, the delivery of which has not been restricted by the sender or addressee, addressed to persons connected with the Civilian Conservation Corps camps may be delivered, without written orders from the addressees, to the mail orderlies or other responsible persons authorized to receive such mail by the camp commanders, in written instructions filed with the post offices by the commanders. (See sec. 1323, pars. 4 and 5, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932; also, arts. 56 and 60, pp. 177 and 178, relative to the delivery of registered or insured mail the delivery of which has been restricted by the sender or addressee.)

(e) When a C. O. D. article is received addressed to a person connected with a Civilian Conservation Corps camp, a notice on Form 3849-b shall be issued to the addressee and turned over to the designated mail orderly, or other designated person authorized to receive mail for the camp, for delivery to the addressee. C. O. D. mail shall not be delivered to other than the addressee, unless the addressee expressly so requests in a written order. Where such an order is given the C. O. D. charges must be paid by the person authorized by the addressee to receive his C. O. D. mail. (See the detailed instructions entitled "Delivery of ordinary, registered, insured, and C. O. D. mail to members of Civilian Conservation Corps camps," on pp. 15 and 16, April, 1934, Postal Guide.)

73. Return receipts for insured mail.—(a) All insured parcels shall be carefully examined as soon as received for delivery to see whether they bear requests for return receipts. Delivering employees must be furnished with Forms 3811, instructed to examine each parcel before delivery, and to obtain a return receipt in each instance where the parcel is so indorsed. Return receipts for insured mail must be obtained when requested by the sender, regardless of the manner in which delivery of the parcels is made. If it is noted in any instance that a postmaster has failed to collect the separate and additional fee required for a return receipt, the deficiency shall be collected upon delivery and stamps in payment of the deficiency affixed to the article and canceled. If the addressee is not willing to pay the charge for the return receipt, delivery of the mail should not be delayed because of that fact and the return receipt should be obtained nevertheless and sent under cover to the postmaster at the office named in the address of the sender on the receipt or on the article itself with request that the 3 cents, or 23 cents, as may be proper, be collected from the sender and the return receipt delivered to him, and the amount collected accounted for as postage due. The number of the parcel, name and address of the sender, postmark of delivery office, signature of addressee, and date of delivery, must appear on each receipt, and a separate receipt must be furnished for each parcel for which such receipt is requested. Also, when the article bears a request for a return receipt showing the address where delivered, care should be exercised to see that such requests are complied with. Postmasters will give the matter personal attention with the view to having receipts properly filled out, signed by the person to whom the parcel is delivered, and transmitted to the senders in every instance where requested. All instances of failure to receive a number of return receipts from any particular office indicating that such office is not giving proper attention to this matter shall be reported to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Registered Mails.

(b) Return receipt requested showing address where delivered.—When an insured article received for delivery bears an indorsement reading "Return receipt requested showing address where delivered," a return receipt should be obtained in the usual manner upon delivery of the article and the employee effecting delivery of the article should place on the return receipt the complete address where delivery was made.

(c) Return receipt requested after mailing.—When a request is received from the postmaster at the office of mailing for a return receipt requested after mailing, effort should be made to secure the signature of the addressee or his authorized representative on the return receipt form. If the person to whom the insured parcel was delivered declines to sign a return receipt, the postmaster at the office of delivery should furnish the postmaster at the office of mailing, for delivery to the sender, a statement showing the date of delivery of the insured parcel and the name of the person signing therefor.

(d) (See sec. 1386, par. 5, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932. Postal employees also should carefully note the detailed instructions in art. 33, p. 170, of this Guide, relative to the handling of return receipts for domestic registered mail, which are generally applicable to domestic insured mail.)

C. O. D. MAIL AT MAILING OFFICES

(For general instructions applicable to both insured and C. O. D. mail, see p. 187 of this Guide)

(See p. 184 of this Guide covering collect-on-delivery service for domestic registered and unregistered sealed mail of any class bearing postage at the first-class rate.)

(See art. 91, p. 209, of this Guide for instructions relative to demurrage on C. O. D. parcels which fail of delivery within 20 days from the first attempt to deliver or the first notice of arrival.)

74. Places to which mailable.—C. O. D. articles may be mailed at and addressed to all post offices in the continental United States; Puerto Rico; Guam; Hawaii; Pago Pago, Samoa; the Virgin Islands, and to all money-order post offices in Alaska. C. O. D. matter shall not be sent to the Canal Zone or the Philippine Islands, or to or from United States naval vessels. C. O. D. matter may continue to be sent when addressed for delivery through the United States Naval Station at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba. (See arts. 14, 15, and 16, pp. 190 and 191, of this Guide.) Firms and individuals patronizing the C. O. D. service should be advised accordingly.

75. C. O. D. shipments must be based on bona fide orders or agreements.—(a) Collect-on-delivery shipments by mail shall in all cases be based upon bona fide orders for the contents of the parcels, or in conformity with agreements between the senders and addressees. It is not the purpose of the C. O. D. service to care for other than legitimate shipments. The use of the C. O. D. service as a collection agency is not countenanced, nor may the C. O. D. service be used for the return of merchandise in connection with which any dissatisfaction has arisen, unless the new addressee has consented to such return in advance. The C. O. D. charges on each parcel must have a direct bearing on the contents of the parcel to which they relate. It is not permissible to include the charges on some other article involving a past or anticipated transaction in fixing the charges on any C. O. D. parcel unless the addressee has given his consent to such action in advance. Indemnity may not be paid for matter sent C. O. D. which has not been ordered by the addressee or sent C. O. D. in conformity with an agreement between sender and addressee. (See sec. 1387, par. 2, of the Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, and art. 22, p. 192, art. 148, p. 222, and art. 196, p. 229, of this Guide.)

(b) The abuse of the C. O. D. service by shippers in sending articles collect-on-delivery which have not been ordered or without the consent of the addressees may be construed as an attempt to defraud and as violation of the law. (See art. 100, p. 215, of this Guide.)

76. Exhibitors not to be permitted to send parcels containing moving-picture films to film manufacturers, distributors, or exchanges collect-on-delivery.—Postmasters will not permit exhibitors to send parcels containing moving-picture films (including disks for reproduction of sound synchronized with moving-picture films) to moving-picture film manufacturers, distributors, or exchanges collect-on-delivery. Such parcels may be sent as insured mail, or, if sealed, by first-class registered mail. Parcels containing films presented for mailing collect-on-delivery by moving-picture manufacturers, distributors or exchanges should be accepted as usual.

77. Acceptance.—(a) The necessary particulars on C. O. D. tags should be filled in by senders in a clear, legible manner with typewriter, ink, or indelible pencil. Ordinary lead pencil must not be used. C. O. D. parcels should not be accepted unless the tags are properly filled out. Postal employees accepting C. O. D. parcels shall compare the names and addresses of the senders and addressees as shown on the coupons of the tags with the parcels and see that all particulars, including the amounts to be collected and the money order fees, wherever they appear, are uniform and correct. Street addresses or post office box numbers, where available, of both senders and addressees should be placed on C. O. D. tags as well as on the parcels. The complete addresses of both senders and addressees are desirable in all instances, but need not be required in the case of nationally or widely known business concerns.

(b) Each C. O. D. parcel and C. O. D. tag shall be postmarked, the postmark to show name of post office and State, and the date of mailing. The number of the parcel, the amount to be remitted to sender, the money-order fee, and the total amount to be collected shall be placed on the parcel within the impression of the C. O. D. stamp, which shall be on the face of the parcel. Where red ink is available, it should be used to make the "C. O. D." indorsement. It is particularly important that these parcels be indorsed conspicuously with the regulation C. O. D. stamp IMMEDIATELY ABOVE OR JUST TO THE LEFT OF THE NAME AND ADDRESS OF THE ADDRESSEE. If necessary, C. O. D. gummed label, Form 3816–C should be affixed to the parcels to prevent delivery as ordinary mail in the event that the C. O. D. tags become detached in transit. (See art. 38, p. 195.) Employees who accept C. O. D. parcels for mailing and fail to see that this indorsement is affixed will be held personally responsible if improper delivery results because of their negligence. (See art. 21, p. 192.) A considerable number of mailers of C. O. D. parcels use address labels containing a facsimile of the regulation "C. O. D." stamp or proportionate enlargements thereof, and when C. O. D. parcels are prepared in this manner it is not necessary to stamp the parcels with the regulation "C. O. D." stamp. Mailers using labels of this kind should be encouraged to have the "C. O. D." indorsement printed in red ink.

(c) The sender's receipt and the mailing office record shall show with respect to each C. O. D. article the re, stricted delivery fee, the special-delivery fee, or special-handling charge, if any, as well as any special indorsements such as "Fragile," "Perishable," etc., appearing on the wrapper, in addition to the other particulars.

(d) Postal employees should refuse to accept shipments for dispatch collect-on-delivery if they are indorsed in such manner that the addressees may receive the impression that the contents may be examined before acceptance.

(e) The maximum amount collectible on a single C. O. D. article is $200. When a C. O. D. article calls for a remittance in excess of $100 (the maximum amount for which one money order may be issued) the total amount to be remitted should be entered as one item in the space provided for that purpose on the regulation C. O. D. tag and the total amount of both money-order fees should be entered as one item in the space provided for money-order fee, the aggregate of these items being the total amount to be collected from the addressee upon delivery. For instance: If the C. O. D. charge to be remitted is $150, that amount should be entered as one item in the space provided for that purpose; the first money order issued for $100 for a fee of 22 cents and the second money order issued for $50 for a fee of 18 cents, a total amount of money-order fees of 40 cents which total should be entered in the space provided therefor, the aggregate amount to be collected from the addressee on delivery being $150.40. Extreme care should be exercised to see that the amounts involved both for the money orders and money-order fees are correct. (See arts. 39 and 40, p. 195, of this Guide for information relative to firm mailing books and temporary bulk receipts.)

78. Method of affixing C. O. D. tags to C. O. D. parcels.—(a) It is of the utmost importance that C. O. D. tags be affixed to C. O. D. parcels in such a manner as will prevent their becoming detached before reaching destination, in view of the fact that C. O. D. parcels from which the tags have become detached are apt to lose their identity as C. O. D. mail and be delivered without collection of the C. O. D. charges; consequently it is also to the interest of the mailer that care be exercised in this respect.

(b) It is the desire of the department that postmasters and supervisory employees give this feature careful attention. The action which the department has taken to increase the tensile strength and eyelet pull of the regulation C. O. D. tag, thereby enabling it to furnish a better and more substantial C. O. D. tag to its patrons, at greater expense to the department, is nullified if the tags are affixed to the parcels in such careless manner that they readily become detached.

(c) C. O. D. tags should be attached to parcels by means of strong and durable cord or twine. When C. O . D. parcels are sealed in accordance with paragraph 6, section 581 of the Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, the C. O. D. tags, Form 3816a–S, should be securely affixed to the parcels by means of gummed tape, applied over both ends of each tag. Attention should be given the quality of gummed paper tape used for this purpose, and if it is found that an inferior grade of paper tape is being used, the mailers should be immediately informed that the C. O. D. tags must be more securely affixed to the parcels. It has also come to the attention of the department that various devices are used for affixing C. O. D. tags to parcels. It is requested that all such devices which have not been approved by the department be submitted to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Registered Mails, for examination.

79. Remittance to other than the actual mailer.—1. When it is desired to have a money order in payment of charges on a C. O. D. parcel made payable to other than the actual sender, the name and address of the party to whom the charges are to be remitted must appear in the proper spaces on the face side of the C. O. D. tag, and the name and address of the actual mailer of the parcel must be placed on the reverse side (back) of the delivery office portion of the tag. The name and address of the party to whom the charges are to be paid must be shown as sender on the C. O. D. parcel itself, together with directions as to return, if undeliverable. The necessary instructions on the labels of these parcels must appear on the left side thereof in the following sequence, unless otherwise authorized by the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Registered Mails, and the right side of the labels must be reserved for the name and address of the addressee, postage stamps, and necessary postal indorsements:

(a) The indicia with respect to contents and postal inspection of sealed parcels. (See sec. 581, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

(b) The sender's return card (name and address) preceded by the word "From."

(c) Pledge guaranteeing return and forwarding postage.

(d) If it is desired that undelivered C. O. D. parcels be returned to the person or firm named on the parcels as the sender of record, instructions reading, "Postmaster: If not delivered in ——— days, return to sender." should appear. If such undelivered C. O. D. parcels are to be returned to a person or firm other than the sender of record, instructions should appear reading, "Postmaster: If not delivered in ——— days FORWARD TO" followed immediately thereunder by a bordered spacc incorporating therein the name and complete address of such person or firm, together with instructions "DO NOT DELIVER WITHOUT COLLECTION OF C. O. D. CHARGES" or "DELIVER WITHOUT COLLECTION OF C. O. D. CHARGES" as may be desired.

(e) A facsimile or proportionate enlargement of the official "C. O. D." indorsement.

2. When the sender named on the parcel and tag is known by the postmaster at the office of mailing to be other than the person or firm actually sending the article, the name of the actual mailer must be placed on the mailing office record, in addition to the other data thereon. When firm mailing books are used, notation thereon should be made by the mailers showing their name and address and the name and address of the person (or concern) to whom the charges are to be remitted.

3. Before instituting inquiries or claims for indemnity covering such parcels, it should be definitely ascertained that the charges were not received by, or that the parcels were not returned to, the actual sender or the party to whom the charges were to have been remitted.

80. Alteration or cancellation of charges or delivery to other than addressee.—(a) If the sender directs, the amount originally stated as due him on delivery of a C. O. D. parcel may be increased (not to exceed $200), decreased, or canceled, or the parcel delivered to other than the addressee at the office where it is held. If the increase in the amount of C. O. D. charges requires a higher C. O. D. fee, the request of the sender should be accompanied by postage stamps representing the difference in the amounts of the fees, which stamps should be affixed to the authorization (Form 3818 or letter) for altering the charges on the parcel and canceled, the mailing office records as to C. O. D. fee paid being changed accordingly.

(b) Each request for the alteration or cancellation of the charges on a C. O. D. article, or for the delivery of the article to other than the addressee at the post office where held, must be accompanied with the fee of 10 cents prescribed for this service. (See sec. 1387, par. 12, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.) The fee of 10 cents shall be affixed by means of uncanceled postage stamps to Form 3818 or other communication used to accomplish the purpose desired and canceled by the postmaster at the office of mailing. This fee will not be refunded in the event the Postal Service is unable to comply with the request of the sender, unless such failure to perform the service applied for was due to fault of the Postal Service. The Form 3818 or other communication shall be transmitted to the postmaster at the office where the parcel is held, together with the local rate of postage, if required under the conditions set forth in paragraph (c), following.

(c) It is presumed that in cases where the sender requests the alteration or cancellation of the charges on a C. O. D. parcel, one attempt to deliver has already been made and therefore, in every instance where the parcel was addressed for delivery by carrier (city, village, or rural), the request of the sender must be accompanied with postage at the local rate for the second attempt at delivery. If the sender requests that a C. O. D. parcel be delivered to other than the addressee at the office where it is held, the request should be accompanied with postage at the locat rate, regardless of whether the parcel is to be delivered at the post office or taken out for delivery by carrier.

(d) Directions for the alteration or cancellation of charges or delivery to other than the addressee should not be transmitted direct to the postmaster at the office of address, but should be filed with the postmaster at the office of mailing who will connect the letter of authorization with the coupon covering the parcel on file in his office, and then notify the postmaster at the office of address by Form 3818 or by letter. When postmasters receive information indicating that patrons are transmitting requests of this kind direct to the postmasters at the offices of address, they should advise such patrons of the proper procedure to be followed. (See arts. 93 to 95, pp. 212 and 213.)

81. Alteration of C. O. D. charges upon telegraphic request.—(a) Postmasters are advised that charges on C. O. D. parcels may be increased (not to exceed $200), decreased, or canceled upon telegraphic request from the postmaster at the office of mailing. The telegram must be authorized and paid for by the sender, but sent by and under the name of the mailing postmaster. The telegram must show the number of the parcel, the post office of mailing, the names of the sender and addressee, and the amount of C. O. D. charges involved.

(b) Postmasters who send such telegrams must confirm them immediately with a letter repeating the telegrams as sent. The 10-cent fee should be affixed by means of uncancelled postage stamps to the letter confirming the telegram, the stamps cancelled by the postmaster at the office of mailing, and transmitted to the postmaster at the office of address for filing with the delivery office record. Requests for confirmation should be made if not received promptly, and failure to comply with such requests should be reported to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Registered Mails.

(c) It will be necessary for the sender to prepay the additional postage at the local rate for the second attempt at delivery if delivery by carrier is involved, otherwise the postage at the local rate will be collected from the addressee upon delivery, except in those instances where the telegram is received by the postmaster at the office of address before one attempt at delivery has been made.

(d) If the sender does not desire that the addressee be required to pay the additional postage at the local rate where delivery by carrier is involved, and one attempt at delivery has been made before the receipt of the telegram, he should pay the local rate of postage to the postmaster at the office of mailing. In such cases the telegram should include, in addition to the other essential matter, the following words: "Postage follows." The postage at the local rate should then be sent to the postmaster at the address office, by means of uncanceled postage stamps, with the Form 3818 or letter confirming the telegram. As the parcel ordinarily will have been delivered before the postage at the local rate reaches the address office, the postmaster at that office should, upon receipt of telegram, affix postage stamps to the parcel and cancel the same to cover the charge for the second attempt at delivery, and then, when the postage stamps are received by him from the mailing office with the confirmation of the telegram, he will place the same in his stamp stock to replace the stamps affixed to the parcel involved in the transaction.

(e) If a request to increase the charges on a C. O. D. parcel is made by telegram and the increase requires a higher C. O. D. fee, the request of the sender should be accompanied by postage stamps representing the difference in the amounts of the fees, which stamps should be canceled and affixed to the letter confirming the telegram sent to the postmaster at the office of delivery.

82. C. O. D. tags printed by senders.—Senders may, after obtaining the approval of the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Registered Mails, of a proof submitted for that purpose, print their own C. O. D. tags, provided they are in all respects, including color, substantially like those furnished by the department. These tags may have an extra coupon placed next to the delivery-office portion, on which the senders may indorse their own file or account numbers. The postmaster who makes delivery of the C. O. D. parcel will return such extra coupon with the money order.

83. Contract stations.—In a very large number of cases it has been noted that failure to observe the instructions contained in the preceding articles regarding the insurance and C. O. D. services is chargeable to clerks at contract stations. Postmasters are therefore enjoined to see that proper supervision is given the acceptance of C. O. D. parcels at such stations in order that the clerks thereat may become thoroughly familiar with the instructions.

C. O. D. MAIL AT OFFICES OF ADDRESS

(For general instructions applicable to both insured and C. O. D. mail at offices of address, see p. 196 of this Guide)

(See notice entitled "Mistreatment of Undelivered C. O. D. Parcels at Post Offices of Address," on page 29, May 1937 Guide. Precautions should be exercised to prevent such irregularities at each post office of address.)

(See art. 91, p. 209 of this Guide for instructions relative to demurrage on C. O. D. parcels which fail of delivery within twenty days from the first attempt to deliver or the first notice of arrival.)

84. Incoming mail to be examined.—(a) All parcels received for delivery must be examined to see if any C. O. D. packages from which tags have been detached are among the other mail matter. Tags must be filled out and marked "Duplicate" for all parcels from which the originals have become detached. The fact that tags become detached in transit does not excuse postmasters in permitting addressees to receive C. O. D. mail without receipting for it and paying the C. O. D. charges, as each such parcel is required to be indorsed "C. O. D." with the regulation C. O. D. stamp under the conditions prescribed in paragraph (b), article 77, p. 205. Postal employees will be held personally responsible when loss is sustained because of their failure to observe this instruction.

(b) At post offices of the first and second classes, loose C. O. D. tags which can not be connected with the parcels to which they belong, should be listed on Form 3814-c in the same manner as C. O. D. parcels, except that the entry should show that it is a tag only. Prompt inquiry should be made of the addressee to ascertain whether the parcel was delivered without collection of the C. O. D. charges.

85. Discrepancies in the amount of C. O. D. charges.—When a C. O. D. parcel is received for delivery and the amount of the C. O. D. charges shown on the C. O. D. tag does not conform to the amount as shown on the parcel, delivery of the parcel should not be withheld for the purpose of ascertaining the correct amount of the charges, but attempt should be made to deliver the parcel upon payment of the higher amount. If delivery of the parcel is effected, remittance should be withheld until the correct amount of charges is ascertained from the mailing office. If the correct amount of the C. O. D. charges is found to be less than the amount collected, appropriate refund should be made to the addressee and money order issued for the correct amount. However, if the addressee refuses to accept the parcel and pay the higher amount, the postmaster at the mailing office should be communicated with at once for the purpose of ascertaining the correct amount of the charges, and when this information is obtained the parcel should again be offered for delivery to the addressee. Report of these irregularities should be made to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Registered Mails.

86. Examination of contents prohibited.—Exceptions shall not be made to the requirement of paragraph 8, section 1387, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, prohibiting examination of C. O. D. parcels before delivery because of requests or representations of senders or addressees. This also applies to parcels addressed to postmasters and other postal employees. Any postmaster or other postal employee permitting such examination will be held personally responsible in case of financial loss to senders.

It has been reported to the department that certain firms or individuals advertise to prospective patrons that their merchandise may be sent by mail, C. O. D., with the privilege of examination before acceptance and payment of the C. O. D. charges. Parcels bearing labels containing this misstatement should not be accepted for mailing unless such misstatement is crossed out.

Postmasters are enjoined to report to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Registered Mails, any parcels coming within their notice bearing labels containing this misstatement, furnishing a description of the parcels; and also to report the names of any firms or individuals using such labels or advertising in any newspaper or periodical that the Post Office Department will permit examination of the contents of C. O. D. parcels to be made by the addressees before delivery of the parcels and the payment of C. O. D. charges. If practicable, when making these reports, please furnish a copy of the labels or advertisements and the name and date of the publications in which the advertisements appear.

It should be understood that the instructions prohibiting the examination of the contents of C. O. D. parcels by the addressees before delivery has been effected do not prohibit the postal inspection by postal employees of sealed parcels mailed at the third or fourth-class rates of postage under the provisions of paragraph 6, section 581, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, which provide, among other requirements, that the parcels shall bear the printed indorsement "Postmaster: This parcel may be opened for postal inspection if necessary," or words to that effect.

Postmasters should not break the seals on C. O. D. mail sealed against inspection and prepaid at the first-class rate of postage for the purpose of examining the contents.

87. Delivery.—(a) C. O. D. mail shall be delivered under the rules and regulations governing the delivery of registered mail. (See secs. 1321 to 1326, inclusive, and secs. 1360 and 1361, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.) (See also art. 58, par. c, p. 178, regarding delivery of registered mail to addressees at institutions such as the Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A., Salvation Army Shelters, Missions, and the like, which applies equally to C. O. D. mail.) The C. O. D. tag shall be signed by the addressee or, when delivered to other than the addressee, both names should appear, the name of the addressee first and the signature of the person accepting delivery for the addressee immediately thereunder. The date of delivery should appear in the space provided for that purpose on the back of each C. O. D. tag, preferably placed by the person to whom the parcel is delivered, or when this is not done the postal employee making delivery will insert the date of delivery. The employee effecting delivery must place his name and, if a carrier, his cap or route number, on the receipted tag. The receipted C. O. D. tag shall be properly filed.

(b) Carriers are not required to make change when collecting charges on C. O. D. parcels unless they have the correct change in their possession. Patrons are expected to have the proper amount of money on hand.

88. Issuance of money orders.—(a) Money orders shall be issued and mailed on the same day that C. O. D. parcels are delivered, if possible. If not, they should be issued and mailed without fail on the following business day. Delay in the issuance of money orders after C. O. D. parcels have been delivered will not be tolerated. The name of the sender of the C. O. D. parcel must appear as the payee on money orders issued for C. O. D. parcels, and the name of the addressee (not the name of the postmaster nor the name of the person accepting delivery for addressee) as the remitter of the money order; and such money orders must in each case be mailed in a number 6 penalty envelope addressed to the person named as the sender of the parcel, who is the payee of the order. (See sec. 1387, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, as to method of remittance.) The number of each C. O. D. parcel must be placed in the space provided for that purpose on the money order issued in payment of the charges thereon. If an extra coupon is attached to the C. O. D. tag to be returned to the sender with the money order, it must be inclosed with the remittance. A separate money order must be issued for the charges on each C. O. D. parcel unless the amount is in excess of $100.

(b) Since the maximum amount for which a single domestic money order may be issued is $100, it will be necessary to issue two money orders in payment for each C. O. D. article on which the charges to be remitted are in excess of $100, and to charge a separate fee for each money order issued based upon the amount of each order involved. The first money order must be issued for $100, the maximum amount provided for any one domestic order, and the second money order must be issued for the remaining amount of C. O. D. charges to be remitted. Both money orders issued in payment of any one C. O. D. article should bear the same C. O. D. number of the article on each money order covering the same parcel and should be mailed to the sender in one and the same penalty envelope. The delivery portion of the C. O. D. tag constituting the application for the money orders must show the numbers of both money orders issued in payment for the parcel, thus accounting for all orders in the application file. Care should be taken to see that the correct amount of charges and fees are collected.

(c) In case the money-order fee is incorrectly stated on the C. O. D. tag, the proper fee shall be collected, the fee corrected on the tag, and report of the error made to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Registered Mails. When the amount of C. O. D. charges exceeds $100, delivering employees are cautioned to exercise extreme care to see that the total amount of money-order fees stated is correct, to make any necessary correction, and to collect the correct amount on delivery. Any deficiency involved may have to be collected from the employee failing to collect the correct amount on delivery.

89. Senders to be notified of nondelivery of C. O. D. mail.—(a) The sender of each domestic C. O. D. article shall be notified on Form 3849–d of the inability to make delivery regardless of the cause as soon as it is definitely known that the C. O. D. article is undeliverable, but, in any event, within five days after the date of receipt of the article at the office of address.

(b) The purpose of the notice to the sender of an undelivered C. O. D. article on Form 3849–d is to afford the sender an opportunity of communicating with the addressee in an effort to persuade the addressee to accept delivery of the article within the time specified by the sender in his instructions thereon, or to permit the sender to direct such other disposition of the article as may be proper under existing postal requirements. It is therefore imperative that in the case of an article which is refused, or which is addressed to an addressee who is unknown or cannot be found at the place to which addressed, or which is addressed to a street address or locality that does not exist at the office of address, the required notice shall be issued immediately. In all other instances of nondelivery the required notice to sender on Form 3849–d should be issued as soon as it is definitely ascertained that the article can not be delivered, but in any event within five days from the date of its receipt at the office of address.

Notice to sender on Form 3849–d shall be issued in the event there is sufficient time for the notice to be received by the sender prior to the time the article is due to be returned or otherwise properly disposed of in conformity with existing requirements. Postmasters at offices in Alaska, Hawaii, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands should see to it that these instructions are strictly observed.

(c) The record required to be kept at all money-order post offices of the receipt and disposition of C. O. D. mail received for delivery shall also show the date on which these notices on Form 3849–d are issued.

(d) These instructions do not affect those contained in article 90, following, regarding the notification of local or near-by representatives of any mailer (sender) of C. O. D. parcels except that such C. O. D. parcels remaining undelivered at the expiration of the period stated in the return requests of the senders shall be returned to the senders, without additional notice to them, rated up with the return postage for collection on delivery.

90. Notices concerning undelivered C. O. D. parcels to be sent to local or near-by representatives of certain mailers.—Senders of C. O. D. mail may have notices of nondelivery sent to designated representatives of senders, instead of the senders themselves, provided the following conditions are complied with:

1. The necessary printed instructions on the labels of these parcels must appear on the left side thereof in the following sequence, unless otherwise authorized by the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Registered Mails, and the right side of the labels must be reserved for the name and address of the addressee, postage stamps, and necessary postal indorsements:

(a) The indicia with respect to contents and postal inspection of sealed parcels. (See sec. 581, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

(b) The sender's return card (name and address) preceded by the word "From."

(c) Pledge guaranteeing return and forwarding postage.

(d) Instructions reading "Postmaster: If not delivered in 5 days NOTIFY".

(e) A bordered space within which are to appear the complete name and local or near-by address of the sender's representative to be notified for each undelivered C. O. D. parcel, and instructions reading "DO NOT DELIVER WITHOUT COLLECTION OF C. O. D. CHARGES" or "DELIVER WITHOUT COLLECTION OF C. O. D. CHARGES," one or the other of which must appear within that space.

(f) Instructions reading "If not accepted by addressee or sender's designated representative at the expiration of _____ days from receipt return to sender." The maximum period for which such C. O. D. mail may be held at offices of address must not exceed 30 days. If the mail is not to be subjected to demurrage, the sender must limit the retention of the mail to not exceeding 20 days. If the sender should desire the mail to be held in excess of 20 days, but not exceeding 30 days at the request of the addressee or the sender's designated representative, the instructions on the mail must read "If not accepted by addressee or sender's designated representative at the expiration of 20 days from receipt, return to sender. Parcel may be held for an additional period of _____ days provided demurrage for the full demurrage period is paid in advance." (NOTE.—The total retention period specified, including both the free and demurrage periods, must not exceed 30 days.) (See art. 91, par. 6, p. 211.)

(g) A facsimile or proportionate enlargement of the official "C. O. D." indorsement.

2. When a C. O. D. parcel bearing these instructions is refused, the sender's designated representative shall at once be notified. If undelivered for any other reason, the representative shall be notified not later than 5 days from date of receipt of parcel. Such notices may be given on Form 3849–d or, if the number of parcels justify such action, on sheets of the firm mailing or firm delivery book. Each such parcel must be held for the maximum retention period, not exceeding 30 days, specified in the sender's instructions, regardless of any requests to the contrary which may be made by the addressee or the sender's designated representative.

3. C. O. D. articles bearing instructions reading "DO NOT DELIVER WITHOUT COLLECTION OF C. O. D. CHARGES", must not be delivered either to the addressees or to the senders' designated representatives without collection of C. O. D. charges, unless the senders have issued appropriate authorizations to that effect through the mailing postmasters. If the designated representative of the sender accepts delivery of the parcel at the post office, with or without collection of C. O. D. charges, as may have been authorized in the sender's instructions on the parcel, the local rate of postage shall not be charged, but a charge of 1 cent shall be made for the notice furnished the representative, a 1-cent stamp being affixed to each such parcel and canceled.

4. If the parcel is not accepted by the addressee, or withdrawn by the designated representative of the sender, upon payment of any postage due thereon, in addition to the C. O. D. charges if directed in the sender's instructions on the parcel, it shall be returned to the sender promptly after the expiration of the retention period stated, charged with the postage for its return.

5. When the designated representative requests that a parcel for which he has been duly notified on Form 3849–d be forwarded to him at another post office, such request shall be complied with, the parcel being rated up with the postage for forwarding and a record of such forwarding made.

91. Demurrage charges to be collected on domestic collect-on-delivery mail.—1. Demurrage shall be charged on each domestic registered or unregistered C. O. D. article which the addressee fails to remove from the post office of address within 20 days from the first attempt to deliver or from the date the first notice of arrival is issued; Provided, that no demurrage shall be charged on C. O. D. mail exchanged between the United States proper and Hawaii, Alaska, Puerto Rico, Virgin Islands of the United States, Guam, and Tutuila, Samoa. (See amended sec. 1388, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

Requests of addressees or senders' representatives that C. O. D. articles be prematurely returned, or held beyond the maximum time specified in the senders' return requests, or in excess of 30 days, must be disregarded, and the instructions of the senders strictly observed.

2. C. O. D. mail which is not subject to demurrage.—Collect-on-delivery mail is not subject to demurrage when it bears the instructions of the sender limiting its retention to not exceeding 20 days after the date of its receipt at any post office of address, or when it is exchanged between post offices in the United States proper and post offices in the Territories and island possessions of the United States. Although such C. O. D. mail is not subject to demurrage it should be held for the full retention period contemplated by the sender's instructions, and if undelivered at the expiration of the proper period the mail should be returned or otherwise properly disposed of in conformity with existing postal laws and regulations.

3. C. O. D. mail which is subject to demurrage.—(a) Collect-on-delivery mail not exchanged between the United States proper and Territories and island possessions of the United States is subject to demurrage under the following conditions:

When it bears the sender's return request in excess of 20 days, but not exceeding 30 days.

When it bears no specific return request which is considered to be equivalent of a 30-day return request.

When it bears the alternative instructions of the sender permitting the matter to be held in excess of 20 days at the request of the addressee or the sender's designated representative, provided the addressee or the sender's agent pays demurrage for the full demurrage period in advance

(b) Free retention period.—The free retention period for C. O. D. articles subject to demurrage is the first 20 consecutive days without any exception (including Sundays and holidays) following the date on which the first attempt to deliver is made or the first notice of arrival is issued at the office of address.

For example, if a C. O. D. article with no retention limit specified or bearing a 30-day return request was received at the office of address on July 21, 1939, and was offered for delivery or a notice of arrival was issued on the same date, the free retention period would begin July 22, and would expire on August 10, or 20 consecutive days following the date the article was first offered for delivery to the addressee or the addressee was first notified of its arrival.

(c) Demurrage period.—The demurrage period for C. O. D. articles begins with the day following the expiration of the 20-day free retention period, and ends with the last day C. O. D. articles properly may be held at offices of address.

For example, if a C. O. D. article, with no retention period specified or bearing a 30-day return request, was received at the office of address on July 21, and was offered for delivery or notice of arrival was issued on the same date, the demurrage period would begin on August 11, the day following the expiration of the 20-day free retention period, and end August 20.

In this case the free retention period of 20 days and the demurrage period of 10 days would equal the total retention limit of 30 days any C. O. D. article may be held at any office of address. However, if the C. O. D. article was offered for delivery or notice of arrival was issued on the day following its receipt at the office of address; that is, on July 22, the free retention period of 20 consecutive days would begin July 23, and expire August 11, and the demurrage period would consist of only 9 days, beginning August 12 and ending August 20.

No demurrage will be charged while C. O. D. articles are in transit between post offices.

(d) Amount of demurrage and method of computing.—The amount of demurrage chargeable is 5 cents a day for each day within the demurrage period except Sundays and holidays and the day of delivery. Therefore, the maximum amount of demurrage which may possibly accrue on any C. O. D. article at any one post office is 45 cents.

Example of amount chargeable for full demurrage period.—If a C. O. D. article, with no retention limit specified or bearing a 30-day return request was received at the office of address July 21, and was offered for delivery or notice of arrival was issued on the same date, the maximum time limit of retention, including both the free and demurrage periods, would expire August 20, 1939. If this article remained undelivered August 20, 30 consecutive days following its receipt at the office of address, it would be due to be returned to the sender on the first available dispatch August 21, 1939, rated up with postage due for return and also with the amount of demurrage due, beginning August 11 and ending August 20, in the sum of 40 cents for 8 days, no demurrage charge being made for two Sundays, August 13 and August 20, occurring during the demurrage period.

Example of amount chargeable for less than full retention period.—If the free-retention period on a C. O. D. article expired August 10, 1939, and the article was accepted by the addressee August 18, the demurrage period would begin with August 11 and end with August 18, and the amount of demurrage chargeable after deducting two days, representing Sunday, August 13, and the day of delivery, August 18, would be 30 cents, representing 5 cents a day for six full days.

4. Collection of demurrage.—When a C. O. D. article is delivered to the addressee, any accumulated demurrage charges must be collected from the addressee, in addition to such other charges as may be due. The amount representing demurrage shall be accounted for by means of postage-due stamps affixed to the article and cancelled.

5. Demurrage on forwarded and returned C. O. D articles.—(a) When a C. O. D. article is received at a new office of address it is subject to demurrage under the same conditions as if the article were originally addressed to that office.

(b) Any collect-on-delivery article which is forwarded or returned must be rated up with any postage due for forwarding or return and, in addition thereto, with any demurrage which may have accrued thereon at the office from which forwarded or returned. If the article is forwarded more than once it should be rated up with the demurrage as well as postage which may have accrued thereon at every previous office where held. In forwarding or returning a C. O. D. article, on which demurrage has accrued, it should be indorsed as follows:

Postage due_____cents
Demurrage due_____cents
Total_____cents

(c) When it is obvious that requests of addressees for the forwarding of C. O. D. articles are made solely for the purpose of avoiding the payment of demurrage, a detailed report of each such case should be made to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Registered Mails, for corrective attention.

(d) Responsibility for failure to collect demurrage.—It is incumbent upon postmasters and other postal employees to see that the correct amount of demurrage is collected before delivering C. O. D. mail upon which demurrage has accrued. Postmasters and other postal employees may be held personally responsible for failure to collect any demurrage due on C. O. D. articles.

6. C. O. D. mail bearing senders' alternative instructions.—(a) Senders of C. O. D. mail bearing return requests of 20 days or less may have such mail held a longer period, not to exceed a total of 30 days at any one office, provided the full amount of demurrage which may be involved at any one office is paid by the addressee at each office in advance to the postmaster at the office where the matter is held. Senders who desire to avail themselves of this privilege only occasionally may have such procedure followed by sending separate communications to the postmasters at the offices to which the articles are addressed but those senders who desire to adopt this procedure on all of their C. O. D. mail should be required to embody such desire in their return requests before the matter is originally mailed, and the instructions to accomplish this result should read as follows:

> "If not delivered in 20 days return to senders. Parcel may be held for an additional period of _____ days provided addressee pays demurrage for the full demurrage period in advance." (NOTE.—The total retention period specified, including both the free and demurrage periods, must not exceed 30 days.)

(b) In any instance in which senders desire this privilege extended to the senders' designated representative, the instructions on the C. O. D. mail should be amplified to include the words "or senders' designated representative" after the word "addressee." (See art. 90, par. 1 (f), p. 209.) Delivery of C. O. D. articles bearing these alternative instructions MUST NOT BE MADE to the senders' designated representatives, with or without collection of C. O. D. charges, unless the senders authorize such delivery to be made, either on the C. O. D. articles or by the issuance of appropriate authorizations through the mailing postmasters.

(c) Unless the full amount of demurrage, not exceeding 45 cents, which would be required in such cases is paid in advance, postmasters at offices where such mail is held will return it promptly to the senders after the expiration of the time limit specified by the senders. Partial advance payments of demurrage must not be accepted. Any amount paid in advance in excess of the required demurrage charges should be refunded to the addressees or to the senders' designated representatives, as the case may be, upon delivery of the C. O. D. mail involved. If such mail is not accepted within the full period specified by the senders the total amount of accumulated demurrage should be affixed to the article by means of postage-due stamps and canceled, the article indorsed to show "Demurrage paid" and returned to the sender. Receipts may be issued when desired for the demurrage received in advance and taken for any refunds made. Form 1096 may be used for this purpose.

7. Forwarding of C. O. D. mail may be prohibited by senders.—In the event senders of C. O. D. articles which may be subject to demurrage at the original offices of address because they bear return requests in excess of 20 days, or because they fail to bear specific instructions as to the exact retention period for which they may be held, do not desire such articles forwarded to the addressees at new post offices of address where they might be subject to additional demurrage charges, it will be necessary that such articles bear specific instructions reading, "Postmaster: DO NOT FORWARD. If not accepted by the addressee at the expiration of _____ days, return to sender." (The retention period to be specified in the blank space of the instructions quoted must not exceed 30 days.) In such cases postmasters will ignore forwarding orders of addressees and return the articles to the senders, if not delivered at the expiration of the retention period specified by the senders, rated with any accumulated demurrage and postage due for return.

8. C. O. D. mail bearing instructions of sender to ABANDON if undelivered.—Senders of C. O. D. mail bearing instructions requiring it to be ABANDONED at the expiration of not exceeding 20 days, if not delivered, may avail themselves of the privilege of having such mail held for a period of not exceeding 30 days, provided the demurrage is paid in advance by the addressees or the designated representative of the sender, as outlined in paragraph 6 of these instructions.

9. Address labels on C. O. D. mail.—Some mailers of C. O. D. articles now use address labels bearing return requests in excess of 20 days, but not exceeding 30 days, or fail to specify the exact length of time the articles may be held at offices of address which is considered as equivalent to a retention period of 30 days. If these mailers do not desire C. O. D. articles to be subjected to demurrage under any circumstances, it will be necessary for them to suitably modify their address labels or to obtain new address labels bearing instructions limiting the retention of the articles at offices of address to not exceeding 20 days.

10. Record of demurrage collected on C. O. D. mail.—A record shall be kept showing the total number of C. O. D. articles on which demurrage was collected, and the total amount of demurrage collected. The demurrage charges collected on any C. O. D. article shall be recorded on the back or signature side of the C. O. D. tag covering the article. The number of C. O. D. articles involved and the amounts of demurrage collected should be entered daily, in totals for each day, on the special record adopted for that purpose No special form has been provided by the department for maintaining these statistics, which will be called for by the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Registered Mails, at the close of each fiscal year ending June 30, when other annual statistics are required to be furnished. However, the record in totals may be entered on Forms 3814a or 3814c, or on any other special form which may be decided upon as best suited for that purpose. If loose-leaf sheets are used as improvised records, the sheets must be numbered consecutively, so that all of the sheets may be accounted for.

92. Nursery stock.—(a) C. O. D. parcels containing nursery stock which are not mailed in accordance with the special arrangement outlined in paragraph (b) of this article must be handled in the same manner as other C. O. D. parcels, particular care being taken not to deliver such parcels without collection of the C. O. D. charges unless authorized to do so by the senders. When such parcels are indorsed "Perishable" they should be accorded the treatment outlined in article 59, page 199, of this Guide.

(b) Some firms mailing nursery stock have been authorized to print C. O. D. tags bearing special instructions as to disposition to be made of parcels that fail of immediate delivery. When the mailers do not desire to have the stock, if undeliverable, disposed of in accordance with section 808 of the Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, the senders' instructions appearing on the back of the delivery office portions of the C. O. D. tags should read as follows:

"In the event of addressee refusing to pay the charges for any reason, deliver at once, without collecting the C. O. D. charges. Notify sender at once if this C. O. D. parcel fails of delivery for any reason. If authority for disposition is not furnished at expiration of 20 days, parcel should be destroyed. See sender's coupon for further instructions."

The following instructions appear on the senders' coupon which should be returned to the senders in every instance:

"This coupon should be returned to sender with money order. In the event this parcel is delivered without collecting the C. O. D. charges, or is destroyed after 20 days, such disposition should be checked (X) hereon and this coupon returned to sender in penalty envelope. See senders' instructions on back of delivery office coupon.
☐ Delivered to addressee without collecting C. O. D. charges.

(c) If it is desired to have the parcels treated in accordance with scction 808 of the Postal Laws and Regulations, the senders' instructions appearing on the back of the delivery office portions of the C. O. D. tags should read as follows:

"In the event of addressee refusing to pay the charges for any reason, deliver at once, without collecting the C. O. D. charges. Notify sender at once if this C. O. D. parcel fails of delivery for any reason. If authority for disposition is not furnished at expiration of 20 days, sell contents to highest bidder and remit proceeds, less commission, to senders. (See sec. 808 of the Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.) If sale can not be effected, parcel should be destroyed. See sender's coupon for further instructions."

The following instructions appear on the senders' coupon which should be returned to the senders in every instance:

"This coupon should be returned to sender with money order. In the event this parcel is delivered without collecting the C. O. D. charges, is destroyed after 20 days or is sold, such disposition should be checked (X) hereon and this coupon returned to sender in penalty envelope. See senders' instructions on back of delivery office coupon.
☐ Delivered to addressee without collecting C. O. D. charges.
☐ Destroyed after 20 days.
☐ Sold for $. Remittance, less commission, herewith."

All postmasters are enjoined to see that these C. O. D. parcels are handled strictly in accordance with these instructions. Note particularly that in each instance where a C. O. D. parcel of this kind fails of delivery for any reason, the sender thereof should be notified at once, but the parcel must not be returned to the sender unless the sender so directs.

The object of sending these notices is to enable the senders to communicate with the addressees either direct or through their agents and arrange for the acceptance of the parcels by the addressees or withdrawal of the parcels by the agents to better conserve the contents and render possible sale to some other person to prevent total loss by deterioration while in the Postal Service or destruction after 20 days.

Any postmaster or other postal employee failing to send the required notice on Form 3849-d to the senders may be held personally responsible in case of loss to senders.

When such C. O. D. parcels are presented for delivery and the addressees refuse to pay the charges for any reason, the parcels should immediately be tendered to the addressees without collection of the C. O. D. charges.

In every case where such C. O. D. parcels are delivered without collection of the C. O. D. charges in accordance with the senders' instructions on the back of the C. O. D. tags, the delivering employee should require the addressee to write, immediately above his signature, the words "Delivered without collection of C. O. D. charges."

At present, C. O. D. parcels of this character bear an indorsement reading substantially as follows: "This parcel must not be returned." Despite this indorsement, postmasters at mailing offices have reported the return to the senders of some C. O. D. parcels containing nursery stock. It has been the practice of the mailing postmasters to immediately return such parcels to the offices of address, inviting attention to the special instructions which call for destruction of the stock after 20 days from date of receipt at the office of address. However, it appears that in certain exceptional cases, the senders have especially requested postmasters at offices of address to return certain C. O. D. parcels. To avoid unnecessary work and confusion at offices of mailing, all such C. O. D. parcels should be conspicuously indorsed "NOTICE—NURSERY STOCK RETURNED AT SENDER'S REQUEST."

(See art. 208, p. 230, of this Guide, relative to the payment of indemnity for nursery stock mailed under these instructions; also sec. 808, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, and art. 91, p. 209, of this Guide.)

93. Alteration or cancellation of C. O. D. charges.—(a) C. O. D. parcels may be delivered without collection of C. O. D. charges or upon collection of a greater or less amount than originally stated, upon authority rom the postmaster at office of mailing showing that the change has been requested by the sender. (See sec. 1387, par. 12, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, concerning charge for special service of this character; also see arts. 80 and 81, pp. 206, and 207.)

(b) Postage at the local rate is required to be paid in instances of this kind if delivery by carrier (city, village, or rural) is involved and a previous attempt at delivery has been made. If the authorization from the postmaster at the office of mailing is not accompanied with postage at local rate, the amount should be collected upon delivery and stamps in payment of the deficiency affixed to the parcel and canceled, and the irregularity reported to the Third Assistant Postmaster General (Division of Registered Mails) on Form 3826a or by letter. If the addressee refuses to accept a parcel merely because postage at the local rate is due and has not been furnished by the sender, the parcel may nevertheless be delivered in conformity with the sender's authorization. The postmaster at the office of mailing should then be requested to furnish the required local rate of postage by means of uncanceled postage stamps, upon receipt of which the stamps shall be canceled and affixed to the original authorization from the sender. If the parcel is finally undelivered it should, when returned to the sender, be rated up to include the local rate of postage due thereon in addition to the amount of postage chargeable for return. If a request of this kind is received before one attempt has been made to deliver the parcel involved, the postage at the local rate received for the second attempt at delivery should be returned to the mailing postmaster for delivery to the sender. If a request of this kind is received after a C. O. D. parcel has been forwarded to the original addressee, the request shall be transmitted promptly to the postmaster at the new office of address for appropriate attention. The signature of the addressee shall be obtained on the C. O. D. tag and the authority for change in charges attached to and filed with the delivery office portion of the C. O. D. tag.

94. Alteration or cancellation of C. O. D. charges based upon direct requests of senders.—When a request for change or cancellation of charges is received by a postmaster at office of address direct from the sender the postmaster may, if satisfied of its authenticity, comply with such request and duly notify the postmaster at the mailing office so that the sender may be informed that any similar requests should be filed at the office of mailing. (See arts. 80 and 81, pp. 206 and 297.) Postage at the local rate is required to be paid in instances of this kind if delivery by carrier (city, village, or rural) is involved and a second attempt to deliver is made, as outlined in the preceding article. Delivering postmasters will be held responsible for the genuineness of such requests, and in case of doubt must submit them for verification to the postmasters at mailing offices. The authority for the alteration should be attached to and filed with the delivery office portion of the C. O. D. tag.

95. Delivery to other than addressee.—(a) When a C. O. D. parcel is undelivered to the person to whom addressed, and the sender directs delivery to, and collection of the charges from, another person at the office where it is held, the postmaster shall make such delivery, collecting the original charges or such altered charges as the sender may direct, and make remittance in the usual manner, the authorization to deliver to other than the addressee being filed with the delivery office portion of the C. O. D. tag. (See sec. 1387, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, concerning charge for special service of this character; also see art. 80, p. 206 of this Guide.) Postage at the local rate is required to be paid in all instances of this kind regardless of whether or not the parcel is delivered at the post office or taken out for delivery by carrier; and if the authorization from the postmaster at office of mailing was not accompanied with postage at local rate, the amount should be collected upon delivery and stamps in payment of the deficiency affixed to the parcel and canceled, and the irregularity reported to the Third Assistant Postmaster General (Division of Registered Mails) on Form 3826a or by letter.

(b) Where a C. O. D. parcel is withdrawn by the sender or his designated representative at the office where the parcel is held, postage at the local rate is not to be charged when the sender or his designated representative calls at the post office for the parcel, although such charge is to be made if the parcel is taken out for delivery by carrier. A charge of 1 cent shall be made for each notice actually furnished to the sender regarding the nondelivery of the parcel, which is subsequently withdrawn at the office where held, postage being affixed to the parcel and canceled.

96. Delivery records of C. O. D. parcels at first and second class offices.—(a) When incoming mails are opened, C. O. D. parcels shall be segregated and turned over to an employee who will be designated the "C. O. D. recording clerk," who shall postmark the C. O. D. tags to show the date of receipt of the related parcels, and make the following separations:

1. For the special-delivery section and each station or branch to which parcels are sent for delivery.
2. For each parcel-post carrier assigned to the unit where the recording clerk is located.
3. For the C. O. D. delivery section to which all remaining parcels will be sent.

The recording clerk shall then list in duplicate on Form 3814–c all parcels for the various separations. The original shall constitute the office record of all C. O. D. parcels received for delivery.

At the larger post offices, the recording clerk should be provided with an inclosure, so that adequate protection may be afforded parcels in his custody. Parcels for parcel-post carriers should be assigned for delivery by the recording clerk. At those offices where conditions are such that proper protection cannot be given parcels while in the custody of the recording clerk, parcels for parcel-post carriers should be delivered by the recording clerk to the C. O. D. delivery section for assignment. In such instances, the C. O. D. parcels should be listed in triplicate.

(b) Assignment of C. O. D. parcels to carriers.—Parcels assigned by either the recording clerk or the C. O. D. delivery section for delivery by parcel-post carriers shall be receipted for by the carriers on Form 3814–c, and the duplicate copy shall be given to the carriers. At the end of each trip, the recording clerk, or the C. O. D. delivery section, will receipt to the parcel-post carriers on their copies of Form 3814–c, showing whether the parcels were delivered and charges collected or that the parcels were returned and, in addition, the total number of parcels delivered by each carrier and the total amount of the charges represented thereby. The use of delivering employees' coupons of C. O. D. tags should be dispensed with in connection with such deliveries but will continue to be used for receipting purposes for parcels assigned to foot carriers.

When parcels assigned to parcel-post carriers by the recording clerk fail of delivery and are returned by the carriers, they should be retained by the recording clerk if subsequent attempts at delivery are to be made and adequate facilities are afforded for their protection, but all parcels to be held awaiting call or to be returned or forwarded should be sent by the recording clerk to the C. O. D. delivery section. All C. O. D. parcels transferred to and from the recording clerk and the C. O. D. delivery section shall be listed in duplicate on Form 3814–c.

C. O. D. parcels returned to the original offices of mailing for delivery to the senders shall not be charged to carriers.

(c) C. O. D. delivery section.—The C. O. D. delivery section shall ordinarily consist of the inclosure where parcels are held for window delivery and assignment to carriers. However, where such place is not arranged so that only authorized employees have access to the parcels, they should, when practicable, be handled in the registry section.

The C. O. D. delivery section will handle all parcels for window delivery; parcels for delivery by foot carriers; and those for delivery by parcel-post carriers which are not assigned by the recording clerk.

The employee or employees effecting window delivery of parcels, both at stations and the main office, ordinarily should not have direct access to C. O. D. parcels awaiting delivery. It is intended that, if practicable, a window adjacent to the C. O. D. delivery section shall be used for window delivery.

(d) Stations.—Parcels for stations and branches shall be dispatched by the C. O. D. recording clerk in locked sacks, the duplicate copy of Form 3814-c being inclosed. Outside pieces should be so marked on the list. Upon receipt any discrepancy shall be promptly reported.

At stations and branches where carriers are assigned exclusively to the delivery of parcel post, Form 3814-c may be used if the number of parcels appears to justify; otherwise, delivering employees' coupons of C. O. D. tags should be used as heretofore.

Stations and branches shall forward to other post offices and return to senders undeliverable parcels direct without sending them to the recording clerk or the C. O. D. delivery section.

Parcels accepted for local delivery and those transferred for delivery from one station to another, which, in ordinary course, would not be handled by the recording clerk, should be listed in duplicate, on Form 3814-c, the original to be sent to the recording clerk and the other to accompany the parcels.

(e) Consolidated daily report of C. O. D. funds collected.—All employees at the main office and stations making deliveries of parcels shall enter daily on Form 3814-d the information called for thereon.

C. O. D. recording clerks and employees in the C. O. D. delivery section shall not have custody of or access to Form 3814-d. Such forms shall be sent daily to the bookkeeper, if the office is organized on the two-division plan; otherwise, to a supervisory official designated to receive them, to be checked with the records of C. O. D. money orders issued.

Station examiners shall check the C. O. D. business at the main office and stations in connection with their regular examinations. Frequent examinations shall be made of the business transacted by the recording clerk and the C. O. D. delivery section. At offices not having station examiners, these examinations shall be made by some designated supervisory official.

(f) Delivering employees' coupons of C. O. D. tags.—When delivering employees' coupons are used for charging parcels to carriers, the signature of the carriers should be obtained on the coupon in the space provided for that purpose. These coupons will be surrendered to the carriers upon return of the amounts collected, together with the receipted tags therefor, or the returned parcels. The assigning clerk will receipt on the face or back of the delivering employee's coupon to show the amount delivered to him or that the parcel was turned back without delivery. If collection is made, the delivering employee's coupon should be receipted in the following manner, "JCL $14.64"; if for a parcel returned undelivered, "JCL returned"; and the receipt in each instance should also show the date of the action. Those parcels which have not been delivered will be reissued on the succeeding day, if delivery is assured. The coupons for undelivered parcels should be retained by the carriers until the parcels are again taken out for delivery, and will be given to the employee assigning such parcels when they are again turned over to the carriers, and finally surrendered to the carriers when delivery is effected or they are relieved of the custody of the parcels. These coupons should be filed in numerical order by the delivering employees and retained for a period of 3 years. These coupons are to be considered as the property of the carriers, but should be produced upon request.

(g) Transfer of C. O. D. funds to money-order division.—The recording clerk and the C. O. D. delivery section shall transfer daily to the money-order division all C. O. D. funds, together with the receipted C. O. D. tags, receipt being taken therefor on Form 3815, showing the total sum turned over for the issuance of money orders, and the total number of parcels represented thereby. When the money orders are issued, which shall be the same day, if practicable, they should be turned over, together with the C. O. D. tags, to another employee for verification with the entries on Form 3815 before they are actually mailed. The receipts should be detached from the money orders and attached to the Form 3815 to which they relate, as evidence that money orders have actually been issued for all C. O. D. parcels delivered, and the C. O. D. tags should be filed in the money-order section as applications for the money orders.

97. Delivery records of C. O. D. parcels at third- and fourth-class offices.—At post offices of the third and fourth classes, the C. O. D. tags on all C. O. D. parcels shall be postmarked to show the date of receipt and recorded in book Form 3814-a, as soon as received for delivery. At such offices having rural delivery service, the postmaster shall obtain the receipt of the rural carriers on the delivering employees' coupons for all C. O. D. parcels taken by them on each trip for delivery. These coupons will be surrendered to the carriers upon the return of either the number of parcels signed for or the receipted tags, together with the amounts collected, and each coupon shall be dated and initialed by the postmaster, and inscribed to show the amount of charges received, or that the parcel was returned, as the case may be. The postmaster shall issue and mail the required money orders the same day if practicable, but, under no circumstances, later than the following business day. The receipts detached from such money orders shall be given to the rural carriers as evidence that remittances have actually been made. Such receipts shall be filed by the rural carriers with the delivering employees' coupons, in numerical order, and retained for a period of three years. These coupons and receipts are to be considered as the property of the delivering employees, but should be produced upon request.

98. Forms for recording receipt and disposition of C. O. D. parcels.—(a) At first and second class post offices Form 3814–c shall constitute the post office record of C. O. D. parcels received for delivery, as set forth in article 96, page 213 of this Guide. Card form 3814 may be used, alphabetically arranged according to the names of the addressees for desk and window delivery and also for those C. O. D. parcels which fail of delivery on the first attempt and are held at the post office awaiting delivery. This file ordinarily is termed the "on hand" file of C. O. D. parcels and will serve to locate quickly such C. O. D. parcels as are called for at the post office by the addressees.

(b) At third- and fourth-class post offices book Form 3814–a shall be used for recording all C. O. D. parcels received for delivery, and the entries shall show the dates the C. O. D. articles were received for delivery.

(c) Duplicate C. O. D. tags are not to be filled out as a record of C. O. D. parcels returned or forwarded, as the record made on Form 3814, Form 3814–a, or Form 3814–c will serve this purpose.

(d) Form 3814 or Form 3814–a is not to be used for recording the disposition made of insured parcels. (See art. 63, p. 200, of this Guide.)

99. Treatment of C. O. D. parcels at offices temporarily out of money-order forms.—When a C. O. D. parcel has been delivered at a money-order office temporarily out of money-order forms, the charges shall be remitted direct to the sender by official registered mail on the date of delivery, the inclosure of the money being witnessed. The amount necessary to pay the money-order fee for the C. O. D. charges shall be collected from the addressee and transmitted by means of uncanceled postage stamps to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Registered Mails, with a report of the matter.

100. Parcels not ordered.—Postmasters should not urge addressees to accept C. O. D. parcels which they have not ordered, but should explain to the addressees that the parcels may be accepted and paid for, or refused. If refused, the parcels should be treated as directed by article 62, page 200, of this Guide. (See also sec. 1387, par. 2, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, and arts. 60, p. 199, 75, p. 204, and 196, p. 229, of this Guide.)

101. Name and address of sender unknown.—A C. O. D. parcel received without the name and address of the sender being indicated should be delivered, the charges collected, and the sender's name and address ascertained, if possible, from the addressee. The amount collected should be retained until the name and address of the sender, as given by the addressee, is verified by the postmaster at the mailing office who, if his records do not show the name of the sender, should be requested to obtain a statement from the party specified as the sender, showing that the parcel was mailed by him. Such statement should be forwarded to the postmaster at the office of delivery, who will attach it to the delivery tag. The money order should then be issued and mailed. If it is impossible to obtain the sender's name and address in this manner, instructions should be requested from the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Registered Mails, as to the disposition to be made of the charges collected.

102. Money order not to be repaid.—Except under special instructions from the Department, a money order issued for sum due sender of a C. O. D. parcel should not be repaid to the addressee without the consent of the payee, which may be given either by indorsement in usual form on the money order or by means of a separate written authorization addressed to the issuing postmaster.

103. Unclaimed C. O. D. money order.—(a) If an envelope containing a money order issued in payment of the charges on a C. O. D. parcel is returned unclaimed to the issuing postmaster, the order should be held subject to claim on the part of the payee, or until his whereabouts can be ascertained. Reasonable endeavor should be made at once by the issuing postmaster to secure an address to which the money order again may be mailed. The addressee of the parcel and the postmaster at the office at which the parcel was mailed should be requested to assist in obtaining the sender's correct address, the order and the envelope in which it was mailed being filed with the tag of the parcel. If the payee is not found within 3 years (the period during which C. O. D. tags are preserved at post offices), the order and the tag, with a statement of facts, should be forwarded to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Money Orders.

(b) If an envelope containing a C. O. D. money order is returned to the office of issue indorsed "Fraudulent", "Refused—Out of business", or "Fictitious", the envelop together with the money order shall be transmitted immediately to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Money Orders.

104. Payment of charges from personal funds.—Postmasters should not pay charges on C. O. D. parcels from their personal funds, either to the Department or to patrons, except when expressly directed to do so by the department, or an authorized representative thereof. (See sec. 813, par. 2, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, and art. 110, p. 216 of this Guide.)

105. Application for duplicate money order.—When a money order issued in payment for a C. O. D. parcel has been lost, the issuing postmaster should prepare an application for a duplicate in which is shown the C. O. D. parcel number, certify to it, place an impression of his C. O. D. stamp on the lower left-hand corner thereof, and forward the application to the postmaster drawn on for his certification and transmittal to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Money Orders. It will not be necessary in such case to secure the signature of the payee thereby delaying the issue of the duplicate.

106. Correspondence.—When inquiry is received relative to the disposition made of a C. O. D. parcel or of the returns therefor, the postmaster at the office of address will reply thereto without delay. If he has no record of the parcel, he will communicate with the addressee and ascertain from him whether it was received by ordinary mail, and, if so received, he will collect the charges and make remittance thereof as provided in section 1387, Postal

Laws and Regulations, 1932. If an inquiry is received after a C. O. D. parcel has been forwarded, the inquiry shall be transmitted to the postmaster at the new office of address, for appropriate attention, and the postmaster at the office making the inquiry shall be appropriately advised of its disposition.

INDEMNITY FOR LOST, RIFLED, AND DAMAGED INSURED AND C. O. D. MAIL, AND FAILURE TO RECEIVE REMITTANCES ON C. O. D. MAIL

107. General provisions.—See sections 1382, 1385, and 1389, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, relative to the general features of procedure in presenting claims for indemnity, the conditions under which indemnity is payable, etc. (See also the instructions "Expedite adjustment of claims for indemnity" on p. 24, June 1934, Guide.)

108. Claims not to be refused.—All applications for indemnity shall be accepted for consideration of the merits of each claim, and, when completed, transmitted to the proper paying post office or to the department, as may be appropriate. For disposition of completed claim papers covering insured and C. O. D. parcels, see articles 183 and 184, page 227.

109. Special-discount agreements.—(a) Postmasters should endeavor to have claims for indemnity in connection with insured and C. O. D. mail filed by firms at cost price of the contents or at least at a discount from the selling price to the addressee. As a result of campaigns conducted by postmasters at offices of the first and second classes, many thousand additional firms agreed to accept adjustment of their claims on a special-discount basis, usually at actual cost plus overhead charges. However, a large number of firms agreed to allow "flat" discounts from selling prices, ranging from about 5 to 50 per cent. (See art. 137, p. 221, and art. 187, p. 227; see also art. 144, p. 221.)

(b) Postmasters at first and second class offices should continue their campaigns for additional special-discount agreements but should refrain from the use of words, expressions, or acts which may be construed by firms as an endeavor on the part of postmasters and the department to coerce them to agree to accept adjustment of their claims on a special-discount basis. These special-discount agreements must be voluntary on the part of the firms. However, the aim and purpose of the department, namely, the conservation of public moneys, should be pointed out to the firms; and the cooperation of firms to this end, by entering into agreements to accept adjustment of their claims on a special-discount basis, will be greatly appreciated and will not result in loss to the firms, but on the contrary will cover the actual loss sustained. The original of any agreements obtained should be sent to the Third Assistant Postmaster General (Division of Registered Mails) and a copy thereof to the central accounting office of the office obtaining the agreement.

(c) While no campaigns have been undertaken at offices of the third and fourth classes to secure special-discount agreements, postmasters at such offices having firm patrons should endeavor to secure signed agreements to accept adjustment of their claims at a discount from selling prices to addressees. Detailed information in connection with the special-discount method of adjustment of claims will be furnished any postmaster by the Third Assistant Postmaster General (Division of Registered Mails), on request.

110. Claims not to be adjusted by use of personal funds.—All claims must be adjusted in the regular manner prescribed. Postmasters and other employees will refrain from making adjustments from their personal funds. (See sec. 813, of the Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, and art. 104, p. 215.)

111. Claims to be expedited.—Immediate attention shall be given to claims and to all correspondence received from the department or other postmasters in regard thereto. Any serious irregularity, willful disregard of instructions, repeated failures to respond to correspondence and inquiries, or habitual carelessness and neglect in the execution of claims should be promptly reported to the Third Assistant Postmaster General (Division of Registered Mails), for administrative action.

112. Notification of disposition of claim forms.—(a) If, in any case, the required evidence cannot be obtained within 5 days from the date of receipt of the claim papers, the office transmitting the claim papers shall be advised of the date when it is expected that the evidence will be procured. If the required evidence has not been obtained after the lapse of a reasonable time, not exceeding 20 days, the claim papers should be transmitted to the postmaster at the central accounting office for the State or section in which the parcel was mailed, or to the Department, as the case may be, accompanied by an appropriate statement of the facts in the case.

(b) When claim papers are forwarded to another office or the department, the postmaster will notify the office from which received as to the disposition made thereof, using Form 3819 for the purpose, but postmasters at designated paying offices receiving claims for indemnity for adjustment need not notify postmasters from whom the claim papers were received of the receipt of the claim papers. (See art. 199, p. 229.)

113. Record to be made of first complaint or inquiry.—(a) Any inquiry or complaint, formal or informal (written or oral), made or received at any post office concerning an insured or C. O. D. parcel, regardless of whether mailed from or addressed to that office, is considered as constituting an informal claim for indemnity. (See arts. 135, 163, and 190, pp. 220, 223, and 228, respectively.)

(b) Postmasters at all offices shall keep an appropriate record of such inquiries or complaints. In the event formal claim for indemnity on Form 3812 is filed or received, notation of the date of such complaint or inquiry shall be made on the record of indemnity claims and entered on the application for indemnity.

114. Inquiries and claims for lost insured parcels.—(a) Inquiries shall not be sent in connection with domestic insured mail without charge, unless the sender has received information as to the nonreceipt of the article after a reasonable time has elapsed, or has, after a reasonable time, made proper efforts to determine whether the article has been received by the addressee, but without result. If the sender desires inquiry sent without compliance with these conditions, he should be required to pay the 5-cent fee such as is charged for a return receipt requested after mailing. (See p. 21 of the June, 1931, Postal Guide). Stamps representing the fee shall be affixed to the inquiry and canceled with the postmarking stamp of the office making the inquiry. Patrons should not be permitted to obtain, without cost, information furnished on return receipts, for which charge is made, through the subterfuge of making inquiry instead of a request for a return receipt showing signature. Record of inquiries for insured mail for which a charge of 5 cents each was made shall be included with the record covering return receipts for insured mail requested after mailing for which a charge of 5 cents each was made. See article 9, page 189 of this Guide; also article 13, page 190, of this Guide as to the conditions under which inquiries may be made for insured parcels addressed to Hawaii, Guam, and Pago Pago, Samoa.

(b) When sender has received advice from the addressee that an insured parcel has not been received, or has obtained other evidence reasonably indicating the nonreceipt of the insured parcel, or has paid a fee of 5 cents because the inquiry is not based on information indicating nonreceipt of the parcel by the addressee, inquiry on Form 1516 may be instituted, but if the evidence indicating nonreceipt is dated at least 10 days after the time the insured parcel should have reached the office of address in the ordinary course of mails and been delivered to the addressee, Form 3812 may be started without the necessity of sending an inquiry. Where an inquiry on Form 1516 is in order but not an application for indemnity, the sender if he calls in person at the post office may fill out Form 1510 and his declaration on page 1 of Form 3812 in order to avoid a subsequent trip to the post office. However, in such cases, the Forms 3812 and 1510 should be held at the mailing office pending reply to the inquiry on Form 1516. (See art. 116, below.) The postmaster at office of address should not have page 2 of Form 3812 completed until the lapse of at least 10 days from the date the parcel should have reached the office of address in the ordinary course of mails and been delivered to the addressee.

115. Inquiries and claims for lost C. O. D. parcels, filing of.—When senders or mailing postmasters have received advice from the addressee that the parcel has not been received and the necessary time has elapsed from the date of mailing for the parcel to have reached the office of address and been delivered, tracer on Form 1516 may be instituted; but if the evidence indicating nonreceipt is dated at least 10 days from the time the C. O. D. parcel should have reached the office of address in the ordinary course of mails and been delivered to the addressee, Form 3812 may be started, without the necessity of sending a tracer. (See art. 13, p. 190, as to the conditions under which inquiries may be made for C. O. D. parcels addressed to Hawaii, Guam, and Pago Pago, Samoa; art. 116, below, and also art. 119, p. 218, entitled "Complaints of failure to receive remittances for C.O.D. parcels," concerning inquiries covering C. O. D. mail.)

116. Claims for rifled and damaged insured and C. O. D. parcels.—When complaint is made of rifling of or damage to, an insured or C. O. D. parcel, an application for indemnity may be started forthwith and transmitted to the other office involved for completion, but see the following article relative to institution of claims at offices of address.

117. Starting of Form 3812 at address office.—As sufficient accurate data as to mailing particulars and contents of parcels is seldom available at the address office when claims are first instituted, extreme care should be exercised in starting claims at address offices. When the evidence at hand and the circumstances warrant the institution of a claim at the office of address, the postmaster there will enter in the "Declaration of Postmaster—Mailing Office" the number of the parcel, the date of mailing, the name and address of the sender, and the name and address of the addressee; and at the bottom of that declaration, beneath the space for mailing postmaster's signature, will write the name of the mailing office but will not attempt to fill in any other items, and will not sign the mailing postmaster's certificate. The particulars mentioned must be entered before the declaration of the addressee is executed, as it is absolutely necessary that a description of the parcel shall appear on the form before the questions relating to it are answered. When the declaration of addressee and declaration of postmaster at office of address have been completed, the form must promptly be sent to the postmaster at the office of mailing for completion. However, unless sufficient information as to particulars of mailing of parcel and contents is available, the claim should be started at the office of mailing.

118. Method of handling complaints or claims for indemnity on account of the death of day-old chicks sent as insured or C. O. D. mail.—(a) When a complaint is made on account of the death of day-old chicks, day-old ducks, day-old geese, day-old guinea fowl, day-old turkeys, queen bees and their attendant bees, honey bees, and harmless live animals, sent as insured or C. O. D. mail, the complaint should be referred at once to the chief clerk, Railway Mail Service, of the district in which the post office where complaint is made is located, for investigation to determine, if practicable, whether the parcel involved was mishandled while in transit.

(b) If the complainant desires to file claim for indemnity when making complaint in such cases, Form 3812 should be executed, in so far as the post office where complaint is made is concerned, and transmitted with the report of the matter to the chief clerk, Railway Mail Service, of the district in which is located the post office where the complaint is made. When the investigation is completed by the Railway Mail Service the papers will be returned to the postmaster at the office where complaint was made and at that time, if claim has been filed, the application for indemnity together with the papers showing the result of the investigation made by the Railway Mail Service should be transmitted to the postmaster at the other office involved for completion of the application for indemnity and transmission of all papers in the case to the postmaster at the central accounting office of the State or section in which the parcel involved was mailed, for attention.

(c) If a claim for indemnity is not filed when complaint is made in such cases, the matter should be referred to the chief clerk, Railway Mail Service, of the district in which is located the post office where complaint is made, for investigation, and when a report is received showing the result of the investigation made by the Railway Mail Service the complainant should be informed of the result of the investigation, and if he desires to file claim for indemnity, Form 3812 should be started and transmitted, together with the papers showing the result of the investigation made by the Railway Mail Service, to the postmaster at the other office involved for completion of the evidence and transmission to the postmaster at the central accounting office for the State or section in which the parcel involved was mailed. If, after being advised of the result of the investigation made by the Railway Mail Service in such cases, the complainant does not desire to file a claim for indemnity, the correspondence showing the result of the investigation made by the Railway Mail Service should be filed at the post office where the complaint originated.

119. Complaints of failure to receive remittances for C. O. D. parcels.—When complaint is received of failure to receive remittance on a C. O. D. parcel, the following procedure should be observed:

(a) Ascertain from sender the number of days, if any, specified in the return request on the parcel. If at least 10 days have elapsed, starting with the date following the date of mailing, in addition to the number of days specified in the return request on the parcel, inquiry may be instituted. For example, if the parcel bore a 20-day return request, the first tracer may be sent at the expiration of 30 days from the date of mailing. If no time was specified in the return request on the parcel, inquiry should not be sent until 40 days from date of mailing, as such parcels may be held at offices of address for 30 days. This rule is merely given as a guide to cover the period which should elapse from the date of mailing of a C. O. D. parcel before inquiry concerning failure to receive remittance may be made. It must be borne in mind, however, that this rule for this purpose does not change the fact that the period stated in the return request for any class of mail, including C. O. D. mail, begins from the date of receipt at the offices of delivery. Ordinarily Form 1516 should be used for making inquiry concerning the disposal of a C. O. D. parcel.

(b) It is the desire of the department to permit the sending of inquiries covering C. O. D. parcels after a sufficient time has elapsed from the expiration of the period stated in the return request for a money order to have been received, the parcel returned, or a notice received concerning the parcel. However, the sending of untimely or unnecessary inquiries covering C. O. D. parcels will not be sanctioned, and postmasters are requested to exercise proper precautions to prevent such action. Postmasters should see that patrons who have provided at their own expense special inquiry forms for direct transmittal to destination post offices fully observe the requirements as to the making of inquiries for outstanding C. O. D. mail.

(c) If no response is received to the first inquiry within 15 days from the date it was sent out, a second inquiry should be transmitted to the postmaster at the office of address in a penalty envelope, and the postmaster requested to give the matter immediate attention and to make reply by return mail.

(d) If no response is received within 15 days from the date the second inquiry was mailed, the postmaster at mailing office should communicate with the sender and ascertain whether the parcel has been accounted for in any manner and, if so, request the sender to state the particulars of the money order issued, the date the parcel was returned to sender, or the date notification was received that parcel was on hand undelivered. These reports should be carefully arranged under the names of the offices of address for future reference, together with those replies of similar nature received direct from postmasters to inquiries concerning C. O. D. parcels. Postmasters should request patrons to advise them of any instances of repeated delay of any postmaster to make remittances on C. O. D. parcels. Where records of office of mailing or reports of senders indicate that a particular postmaster has failed either to make remittances or repeatedly delayed making remittances or failed to reply to inquiries regarding a number of C. O. D. parcels, the facts should be reported to the inspector-in-charge of the division in which the office of address is located for attention.

(e) If the parcel has not been accounted for in any manner, page 1 of Form 3812 should be filled out by the mailing postmaster and the sender and transmitted, together with a statement of the facts in the case, to the post-office inspector-in-charge of the division in which the post office of address is located.

(f) At offices of the first-class, the procedure prescribed by the Department in the revised circular letter of July 2, 1923, shall be strictly observed.

120. Card file.—At first and second class offices typewritten record of every claim filed or handled shall be made in triplicate, by carbon process, on Form 3841–P. Such record will include the office claim number, number of the article, date of mailing, names of the sender and addressee and names of offices of mailing and address and other data hereinafter specified. This record should be used for both insured and C. O. D. claims.

FORM 3841–P.

By White, Shaw & Co.,

Addressed to Brown, Mrs. A. B.

At Richmond, Va.

Payee {~~Sender~~ / Addressee} Amount Allowed $27.40

Street address payee No. 1 Main Street.

Payee's claim No. 17.

121. Three files to be maintained.—Three separate files will be maintained—first, a "sender" file, alphabetically, under office of mailing, second, an "addressee" file alphabetically under office of address, and, third, a "follow-up" file. The first two files mentioned will serve to prevent duplicate claims, the one being a check against the other in case a card is misplaced in either. Each action taken or advice received in connection with a claim will be recorded on one of the cards, the "sender" file, unless a supplemental numerical jacket system, or card record system, is used, as is the case at some of the larger offices where it is the practice to make the entries on the jacket or the supplemental card. (See art. 202, p. 229.)

122. Follow up.—(a) The "follow up" file shall be arranged by dates and shall be checked daily for pending claims in connection with which advice of disposition has not been received within the time specified in paragraph (b) following. (See art. 112, p. 216.)

(b) When a postmaster to whom claim papers have been transmitted has failed to advise the disposition made thereof, a reminder shall be sent after the lapse of a reasonable time from the date the claim papers were mailed to the delinquent postmaster, allowing time for the papers to reach the postmaster to whom sent, 5 days for obtaining the necessary evidence, and time for advice to be received of the disposition made of the claim papers. NOT MORE THAN 20 DAYS SHALL BE ALLOWED FOR ADVICE OF DISPOSITION TO BE RECEIVED, except in the case of claims for indemnity involving parcels mailed at or addressed to Naval vessels, Alaska, and island possessions of the United States. (See art. 112, p. 216.)

123. Record at third and fourth class offices.—(a) Postmasters at third and fourth class post offices shall keep an office record on Form 1516, suitably altered for the purpose, in connection with each claim received at their offices.

(b) The office records shall be checked at least once each week against outstanding claims, and when a notice of disposition of a claim is received, the records will be indorsed accordingly and placed in the permanent files of the office. REMINDERS SHALL BE SENT UNDER THE CONDITIONS PRESCRIBED IN PARAGRAPH (b), ARTICLE 122, ABOVE, IN THE EVENT NOTICE OF DISPOSITION (Form 3819) IS NOT RECEIVED WITHIN THE TIME SPECIFIED IN CONNECTION WITH CLAIM PAPERS TRANSMITTED TO ANOTHER POST OFFICE FOR COMPLETION. (See also art. 112, p. 216.)

124. Record of claims filed to be preserved.—The card file record, Form 3841-P, at offices of the first and second classes and Form 1516 at offices of the third and fourth classes, required to be kept of every indemnity claim filed must be preserved until authorization for their destruction is received from the department.

125. Duplicate claims.—Under no circumstance should a duplicate application for indemnity be executed unless it is clearly established by inquiry at the office or offices concerned that the original has been lost or destroyed. In the latter event, a duplicate Form 3812 may be started, marked "Duplicate," and showing last-known disposition of original form and date of such action and each postmaster handling the claim will indorse his previous card record accordingly. The installation and proper maintenance of the sender and addressee file herein outlined at first and second class offices and a suitable record on improvised Form 1516 at offices of the third and fourth classes will prevent duplicate claims.

126. Recoveries.—When a postmaster is notified by the payee of a claim that the related parcel supposed to have been lost has been received, or obtains such information from any other source, he will notify the paying postmaster or the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Registered Mails, as may be appropriate, outlining the facts and giving the details of mailing. (See art. 201, p. 229, relative to the action to be taken by paying postmasters in such cases).

127. Irreparably damaged articles involved in claims for indemnity.—Postmasters must not dispose of alleged irreparably damaged articles involved in claims for indemnity covering insured and C. O. D. parcels where there is any doubt as to actual value until claims therefor have been adjusted. (See art. 200, p. 229.)

128. Damaged or spoiled articles.—See articles 57, page 198; 163, page 223; 209, page 230; and article 212, page 231.

129. Affidavits taken without charge.—Senders or addressees of insured or C. O. D. parcels, covering which claims for indemnity have been filed, should be informed that any statements in connection with the claims may be sworn to before an authorized representative of the post office without charge. As far as possible statements in connection with claims for indemnity should be obtained by the superintendent or clerk in charge of the branch or station nearest to the place of business or residence of the person from whom the statement is desired. Where affidavits are sworn to before notaries public, justices of the peace, etc., postmasters must see that their seals are affixed, or when such an officer has no seal that a certificate of a clerk of a court of record, certifying as to his authority to administer oaths, is attached.

130. Affidavits—when postmasters are senders or addressees.—Postmasters who are senders or addressees of insured or C. O. D. parcels for which claims for indemnity have been filed should execute their affidavits before their assistants, or such other employees of their offices as may be designated by them for the purpose. (See art. 129, above.)

131. Affidavits executed before rural carrier.—Affidavits of senders, addressees, or others may be executed before rural carriers, provided the affiant does not live more than one-half mile from the carrier's route, in those cases where delay would otherwise be experienced because of the distance at which the affiant resides from the post office.

132. Affidavits by telephone.—In exceptional cases the declaration may be signed and sent to the post office, acknowledgment of the statements made therein being made by telephone, provided the postmaster makes a certification to that effect and adds to his statement that because of unusual circumstances it is impracticable for the affiant to appear personally.

EXECUTION OF "STATEMENT OF POSTMASTER AT OFFICE OF MAILING" AND "DECLARATION OF SENDER" ON FORM 3812

(See arts. 183 to 244, pp. 227 to 234, for special instructions to designated paying offices in connection with the adjustment of insurance and C. O. D. claims)

133. Mailing office.—When a claim for indemnity is presented, forthwith cause the completion of page 1 of Form 3812. Use the utmost care to see that each question thereon is fully and legibly answered. Each application should be carefully examined after having been filled out by and prior to the departure from the post office of the sender or other interested party, to make sure that all questions thereon have been completely and correctly answered, and that any required supporting evidence has been obtained. (See p. 24, June 1934 Guide.)

134. Character of claim to be shown on Form 3812.—When claims for indemnity are filed covering insured or C. O. D. parcels, postmasters are directed to see that the senders state in answer to question 10, page 1 of Form 3812, whether the claim is on account of the total loss (disappearance), rifling, or damage.

135. Statement of mailing postmaster.—(a) Show the parcel number correctly and on the proper line indicate whether it was insured or C. O. D.

(b) Fee.—Enter the correct amount of fee paid.—This entry should show the insurance or C. O. D. fee only, and should not include postage. If the entry shows an insufficient fee (as, for instance, a 5-cent fee on a C. O. D. parcel) a signed, postmarked explanation should be attached to the form, verifying the entry, stating the cause of such charge, and what remedial measures have been taken to prevent a recurrence.

(c) Postage.—Show separately the amount of postage paid exclusive of insurance or C. O. D. fee and any special-delivery fee or special-handling or return-receipt charge that may have been paid. If postage was not fully prepaid, an explanation shall be furnished.

(d) Special delivery, special handling and return receipt.—If sent "special delivery" or "special handling" enter amount of fee in item 3. If a return receipt was requested, appropriate entry to that effect should be made immediately above item 3.

(e) Date.—Give the correct date of mailing, including the year.

(f) First complaint.—Indicate the date, including the year, of the first complaint regarding the parcel, whether oral or written.

In every case where inquiry concerning an insured or C. O. D. parcel or formal claim for indemnity is not made within six months from the date of mailing, an explanation by the sender, giving any known reasons for the delay, should accompany the application.

Any inquiry or complaint, formal or informal (written or oral), made or received at any post office concerning an insured or C. O. D. parcel, regardless of whether mailed from or addressed to that office, is considered as constituting an informal claim for indemnity, and a notation of the date of such complaint or inquiry shall be made on the record of indemnity claims and entered on the application for indemnity. Such record should be made on the date the complaint or inquiry is made or received. (See art. 190, p. 228, and art. 235, p. 233, of this Guide.)

(g) C. O. D. charges.—Enter the correct amount due sender if parcel was sent C. O. D.

(h) Indorsement.—Show whether any special indorsement, such as "Fragile", "Fragile, Liquid", "Fragile, Liquid, This Side Up", "Perishable", "Eggs", etc., appeared on the parcel; and if so, what it was.

(i) Sender's address.—Enter the name and address of the sender of record correctly and completely. If an insured parcel, such information should be obtained from the claimant at the time claim is filed.

(j) Addressee's address.—Enter the name and address of the addressee correctly and completely as it appears upon the records. The address given should be that to which the parcel was dispatched and not that to which an addressee may have removed after a parcel was mailed. If the mail was addressed in care of any person, firm, hotel, etc., that fact should be shown, in addition to the complete name and address of the "care."

(k) Report on Form 1510.—The name of the city and State at which the inspector in charge, to whom report has been made in the event claim involves loss or rifling, is located shall be entered in the space provided therefor, under item 9 of the mailing postmaster's certificate.

(l) Signature, postmaster's certificate.—The postmaster's certificate shall either be signed in person, or, if signed by a designated representative of the postmaster, the postmaster's name should be followed by the handwritten initials or signature of the designated employee. The name of the post office and State shall be entered in the appropriate spaces beneath the signature of the postmaster.

(m) Postmark.—Postmark certificate clearly to show date on which signed.

(n) Perishable.—Where the claim is for spoiled or decayed perishable articles the postmaster should state as near as practicable the date and hour the parcel was accepted for mailing; also the date and hour of dispatch; the time ordinarily required for the article to reach the office of address; and the cause of any delay or improper handling known to him.

136. Declaration of sender.—(a) The description of contents of a parcel when mailed must show separately the number and detailed description of each particular kind of article contained in the parcel so that the actual value may be determined. It should be stated whether the articles were new or whether used or worn. The separate (unit) claimed value of each article should also be stated, together with the date or approximate date of purchase, and due allowance should be made for depreciation on account of use and wear when the contents of the parcel were not new or a statement made explaining why depreciation can not be allowed. For instance, 7 linen handkerchiefs (purchased Jan. 15, 1938), 50 cents each—$3.50; less depreciation—50 cents; net value, $3. In every instance possible where the sender is not a business concern the statement of values should be supported by receipted bills, cash sales slips, invoices, or a statement of the seller. If these are not available and the description of the articles given by the sender is such as to create doubt as to the value claimed by him, he should be required to make a supplemental affidavit showing whether the amounts claimed were in fact paid for the articles. If possible the sender should furnish the name and address of the person or firm from whom the articles were purchased or, if gifts, the name and address of the donor. If the person or firm from whom the articles were purchased, or the donor, resides at another office, the claim papers should be forwarded to the postmaster at that office for the purpose of obtaining the needed evidence, after which the claim papers should be forwarded to the postmaster at the office of address for completion. When the sender is a business concern, comply with article 137 and 144 below.

(b) Owner.—If the article was owned at the time of mailing by someone other than the sender or addressee, the name and address of the owner shall be shown immediately beneath the description of the contents. If the owner resides at the mailing office, obtain his signature in the space provided therefor. If the owner resides at other than the office of mailing or address, the papers should be forwarded to the office where the owner is located to obtain his declaration, and the postmaster at that office should subsequently send the papers to the office of address.

137. Special-discount claims.—(a) If the sender is a firm which has agreed to accept adjustment of claims on a special-discount basis, it should in addition to showing the selling price of the contents of the parcel also state the amount claimed in accordance with the agreement entered into with the department.

(b) In order to make it reasonably certain that adjustments by the central accounting offices will be made on the basis of special-discount terms, the postmasters at offices where special-discount firms are located will in connection with claims filed by such firms attach to each Form 3812 a separate memorandum reading: "The amount claimed in this case, in accordance with a special discount agreement with the Post Office Department, is $———," and will fill in the figures representing the amount of the firm's claim. (See art. 109, p. 216, and art. 187, p. 227, of this Guide.) (See also art. 144, below.)

138. Discrepancy between value and C. O. D. charges to be explained.—When there is a discrepancy between the amount of the C. O. D. charges called for on the parcel and the value of the contents, the sender should make appropriate statement showing what the difference represents.

139. Deposit by the addressee—Amount thereof to be shown.—When a deposit was made in advance by the addressee direct with the sender on the contents of the parcel, the amount of such deposit should be shown, and the sender should state whether the deposit has been refunded to the addressee or the shipment duplicated and the amount applied on the duplicate shipment. If the sender is claiming indemnity for the amount of his equity, the value less the deposit, he should so state. These claims arise particularly with C. O. D. parcels mailed by mail-order tailoring companies. (See arts. 228 and 229, p. 232 of this Guide.)

140. Failure to receive full returns, claims for.—When claim for indemnity is filed on account of failure of sender to receive full amount of charges shown on the mailing office record, sender should state that fact, and the postmaster at the mailing office should show whether the figures on the C. O. D. tag and within the C. O. D. indicia on the parcel were entered by the sender or the accepting postal employee. (See art. 171, p. 225, of this Guide.)

141. Homemade articles.—If the article was not purchased by the sender, the manner in which the valuation placed upon it by him must be shown. If the article was homemade, a full description thereof should be furnished by the sender. However, if the amount claimed is fair and reasonable and in accordance with the value of similar articles, the sender need not be required to submit an itemized statement showing the material used, time, etc. In every instance where the amount claimed appears to be excessive and more than the value of similar articles, the sender should be required to itemize and describe in a sworn statement the material used, quantity, price, the actual (or at least the approximate) number of hours of labor expended thereon, and the amount claimed for labor per hour. In no case shall the amount allowed for labor exceed that paid for similar work in the locality of the office of mailing, nor should the total value claimed on account of the labor charge bring the total claimed value for the article to an amount in excess of the ordinary commercial selling price of a similar article. If similar articles had been previously sold by the sender, he should state the price realized therefor. If the article contained in the parcel was being sold to the addressee, the sender should so state, naming the price to have been received.

142. Postage.—The items of postage (exclusive of insurance or C. O. D. fee), special-delivery fee, special-handling charge and return receipt fee may be included in the amount of indemnity claimed. See article 222, page 232, relative to the conditions under which these items are allowable. Some extensive mailers include postage and the insurance or C. O. D. fees in the value of goods sold by them, fixing the selling price so as to include such items. Other concerns determine the cost and selling price of goods to be mailed and include postage and insurance or C. O. D. fees separately in the cost of the merchandise to the addressee. Postmasters are expected to become familiar with the practice of mailers at their respective offices and they should see that indemnity is not claimed for postage a second time in any manner. This subject was covered in detail in a notice appearing on page 12 of the January, 1925, Postal Guide. (See also art. 223, p. 232.)

143. Sentimental values, gifts, family heirlooms, antiques, etc.—If the article was a gift or a family heirloom, a sworn statement must be furnished describing it in the most minute detail possible, and showing the basis of valuation, that is, exactly why the value is fixed at the amount claimed. If a gift, the statement must also show the date the article was presented, the name of the donor, and his present address. If ever appraised by a reliable dealer in similar articles, or by an expert in the craft to which it relates, the name and address of such person, his qualifications (i. e., whether a dealer, a professional appraiser, an expert in the particular craft involved, etc.), the date of appraisal and the amount in which appraised should be stated. Claims for sentimental values arising from the associations of articles are not allowable. The value of an article as an antique may be claimed if it is shown clearly that the value stated is not in excess of the ordinary market value for similar antiques.

144. Goods sold, discounts, or cost.—Where the sender is a business concern, indorsement under item 10 of Form 3812 must be made to show that fact. Whenever possible, copies of invoices, bills or sales slips should be furnished. If it is impracticable to furnish them the answer to item 10 should show further that the values claimed are the "selling price to customer," "cost to sender," or "value, less discounts allowed." In each case, the sender's statement shall show definitely the amount that is being claimed. (See art. 109, p. 216, and art. 186, p. 227, of this Guide.)

145. Watches.—The description of watches must show the size, style (hunting or open-face), kind of case—i. e., whether silver, gold, gold-filled, gold-plated, etc., karat, if solid gold, name of works and number of jewels; also whether the watch was being sent for repairs or adjustment, and if so, the nature and estimated cost of such repairs or adjustment, date of original purchase of the watch, and price paid therefor. (See art. 219, p. 231.)

146. Jewelry.—Jewelry should be minutely described, showing the kind of each article, metal of which made (karat, if gold), size, relative purity, and number of each kind of stones therein; also whether being sent for repairs; and if so, nature and estimated cost of such repairs, date of original purchase, and price paid.

147. Articles in need of repairs.—If the sender was mailing the article to be repaired, a statement must be furnished describing exactly what repairs were needed, and, if known, the cost thereof.

148. Unordered insured or C. O. D. parcels.—Indemnity may not be paid for the loss, or rifling of, or damage to insured or C. O. D. parcels containing matter offered for sale and addressed to prospective purchasers who have not ordered same or authorized their sending. When the postmaster at the office of mailing is aware that an insured or C. O. D. parcel for which claim has been filed, contained matter that was not ordered by the addressee, or sent on authorization from the addressee, an appropriate statement to that effect should be attached to the claim papers. (See art. 22, p. 192, art. 75, p. 204, art. 100, p. 215, and art. 195, p. 228, of this Guide.)

149. Articles repaired by sender.—When the contents of the parcel were the property of the addressee and the sender had performed service thereon, such as repairs, laundering, etc., the sender should show the amount of his charges for the work performed by him, exclusive of postage and fee, and whether the work restored the article to a serviceable condition less than its original value which should be stated, or to its original value, or actually enhanced its value over that which it originally possessed when new. The sender should also state in answer to item 12 whether he desires that the full value be paid to him, or whether he is claiming only his charges, the difference between such amount and the actual value to be paid to the addressee in adjusting the claim. (See art. 230, p. 233, of this Guide.)

150. Joint indemnity.—Where the evidence in any particular case suggests that indemnity is correctly claimed by or payable to a second party interested in a claim, paying postmasters will endeavor to obtain such evidence as will permit the adjustment of the claim to the satisfaction of all interested parties. Where the evidence warrants such action, the indemnity payable may be divided between any interested parties, provided, however, the total indemnity to be paid in a particular case does not exceed the limit fixed by law for the insurance or C. O. D. fee paid or the value of the article (or articles) involved as shown by the evidence introduced.

151. Packing or wrapping.—In claims for damage, the description of packing or wrapping should be in such detail as to enable the department, or the paying postmaster, to determine whether reasonable care and effort were exercised by the sender so to prepare the parcel for mailing as to assure its safe transmission in the mails. Where the container used was made of pasteboard, it should be stated whether it was made of heavy corrugated pasteboard or its equivalent, heavy ordinary pasteboard or its equivalent, or merely light pasteboard. Where cushioning material was used, the statement should show in a general way the kind, quantity, and manner in which the cushioning material was used, especially in the case of shipments containing matter of fragile nature. (See art. 158, p. 223, of this Guide.)

152. Payee.—"To whom should indemnity be paid." In accordance with section 1382, paragraph 1, of the Postal Laws and Regulations, indemnity in connection with the loss, or rifling of, or damage to insured or C. O. D. mail is payable to the rightful claimant. Indemnity may be paid to the sender, the addressee, or to the owner of the parcel, to a repairman, or to a private insurance company under certain conditions, concerning which see article 191, page 228. Extreme care must be exercised to have the name and complete address of the person to whom indemnity is to be paid indicated clearly and legibly. (See art. 179, p. 226, of this Guide.)

153. Signature of sender.—(a) The declaration of sender must be legibly signed in person by the one whose name appeared on the parcel as the sender and must agree with the name of the sender as given in the declaration of postmaster, mailing office. If illegible or likely to be misread because of failure, for instance, to distinguish between "n's" and "u's" and "a's" and "o's", etc., the postmaster shall either print or typewrite the correct initials and spelling of the name immediately below the signature.

(b) If the sender can not write and executes his declaration by making his mark, a witness must sign on the line provided therefor on the lower left side of page 1 of Form 3812; and such witness should affix his complete address. The sender's name should be printed or typewritten.

(c) If the sender is a business concern, the name of the concern should be entered on the line reserved for signature of sender, followed by the name of the representative executing the form, as:

"John Doe Merchandise Co.,
by Richard Roe, Treas."

154. Address of sender.—The address given must be that of the sender of record. When a representative of a business concern signs an application for indemnity, as above indicated, the address of the company or firm, and not that of the representative, must be entered.

155. Jurat of sender.—(a) If the sender's declaration is sworn to before a postmaster or postal employee, the office at which executed and the date of execution (month, day, and year) must be clearly entered in the spaces provided therefor, and the signature of the one administering the oath affixed, his official capacity being stated, as "Postmaster," "Clerk, specially designated by the postmaster," etc. The jurat must be postmarked, and the date of the postmark must correspond with the date of the execution of the declaration as shown in the jurat. (See art. 182, p. 226, of this Guide.)

(b) If the sender's declaration is sworn to before a notary, justice of the peace, or other officer authorized to administer oaths, his official seal must be affixed. If he has no seal, a certificate should be obtained from the clerk of a court of record showing that he is authorized to administer oaths. If the claim is for $10 or less, the postmaster's written certification that he knows the official to be so authorized will be accepted. Claimants should be advised that it is unnecessary to execute claims before public officers other than duly authorized postal employees and that a fee is not charged for such service.

156. Supplemental declarations of sender and mailing office, covering parcel returned.—If the claim is on account of the loss or rifling of, or damage to, a parcel on its return to sender, a "Declaration of addressee" and "Declaration of postmaster—Office of address" should be executed by sender and mailing postmaster, respectively, except that in cases involving the rifling of, or damage to, insured mail, the supplemental declaration of mailing postmaster need not be filled out.

157. Record of returned C. O. D. parcels to be searched in all claims for alleged loss of C. O. D. parcels.—In all claims for indemnity involving the alleged loss of C. O. D. parcels, the mailing offices should carefully search their records of returned C. O. D. parcels for possible record of the return of the parcels. This search is to be made even though the postmasters at the offices of address reported no record of the receipt of the parcels at their offices. Where the mailing offices are also central accounting offices, this search need not be made until the claims are returned from the other offices involved for adjustment.

158. Improperly packed or not indorsed.—If the claim is for damage to an article which was not properly packed to withstand ordinary handling, Forms 3846 and 3846½ should be prepared and accompany Form 3812. This action also should be taken if the claim is for damage to an article listed as fragile in article 107, page 31, of this Guide, the cover pages of firm mailing books, or Circular III, or to a fragile article not listed, or to a parcel which contained perishable matter or eggs and the records of the mailing office do not show that the parcel was marked "Fragile," "Perishable," "Eggs," etc. When improper packing is involved, the forms should be suitably modified for the purpose. (See art. 29, p. 193, art. 151, p. 222, and art. 211, p. 231.) It is desirable that neither the sender nor accepting postal employee be made acquainted with the character of answers the other has made.

159. Duplication of damaged or rifled articles.—If the sender makes claim for the cost of duplicating irreparably damaged articles or rifled articles, representing a part of the contents of an insured or C. O. D. parcel he should state the cost of duplicating the irreparably damaged or rifled article or articles, including separately the postage (but not the insurance fee) or other transportation charges if claimed. (See art. 224, p. 232.)

160. Catalogues.—When practicable, postmasters should avail themselves of the information contained in catalogues and descriptive price lists of merchandise and other articles of trade. These will prove of great assistance in determining the correctness of amounts claimed. (See art. 220, p. 231.)

161. Form 3812 returned without declaration of addressee in claim covering insured mail.—In insured claims where the papers are returned by the office of address with the information that the declaration of addressee can not be obtained, it is the duty of the sender to prove that loss, rifling, or damage was sustained, and the mailing postmaster should ascertain whether the sender can furnish a communication from the addressee showing the nonreceipt of the parcel dated a reasonable time after the parcel should have been delivered in the ordinary course of mails, or a communication from the addressee showing the extent of rifling or damage sustained, or any other acceptable evidence of loss, rifling or damage. If such evidence is furnished, it should be attached to Form 3812 and forwarded, together with related papers, to the appropriate paying office or to the department as may be required. (See arts. 52, 166, 194, and 214, pp. 196, 224, 228, and 231, respectively.)

EXECUTION OF "STATEMENT OF POSTMASTER AT OFFICE OF ADDRESS" AND "DECLARATION OF ADDRESSEE" ON FORM 3812

162. Office of address.—Upon the receipt of claim Form 3812 from another office, record thereof shall be made immediately before taking any other action. (See art. 120, p. 218.) Each application should be carefully examined after having been filled out by and prior to the departure from the post office of the addressee or other interested party, to make sure that all questions thereon have been completely and correctly answered, and that any required supporting evidence has been obtained. When the required evidence cannot be obtained promptly, the procedure outlined in art. 112, par. (a), p. 216, should be observed.

163. Statement of postmaster, office of address.—(a) In all loss cases involving insured mail and in all claims involving C. O. D. parcels the postmaster should fully fill out the declaration of postmaster, office of address. The statement of postmaster at office of address need not be executed in claims involving the damage to, or rifling of, insured parcels, except the item which calls for the date on which the first complaint was made involving the parcel in question when formal claim was not made within six months from the date of mailing. In claims on account of the alleged loss of insured parcels, it shall show clearly whether the parcel has been delivered to addressee, returned to sender, forwarded to the addressee at another office, or transmitted for disposition as undeliverable matter. If record of delivery is had, the postmaster shall show when and to whom delivery was made and need not obtain the declaration of addressee.

(b) First complaint.—Indicate the date, including the year, of the first complaint relative to the parcel, either oral or written. (See art. 190, p. 228.)

In every case where inquiry concerning an insured or C. O. D. parcel or formal claim for indemnity is not made within six months from the date of mailing of the parcel an explanation by the addressee, giving any known reasons for the delay, should accompany the application.

Any inquiry or complaint, formal or informal (written or oral), made or received at a post office concerning an insured or C. O. D. parcel, whether mailed from or addressed to that office is considered as constituting an informal claim for indemnity, and a notation of the date of such complaint or inquiry shall be made on the record of indemnity claims and entered on the application for indemnity. Such record should be made on the date the complaint or inquiry is made or received.

(c) Record of, if C. O. D.—If the parcel for which claim is made was C. O. D., the postmaster's statement must show in addition to the particulars outlined in the two preceding paragraphs, whether the article was received in his office, and if received, the particulars of disposition. If it is shown that delivery was made, the number, date, and amount of the money order by which remittance was made shall be stated. The declaration of the addressee shall also be obtained and Form 3812 transmitted to the department or to the postmaster at the central accounting office of the office of mailing as may be required, for attention.

(d) Signature, postmaster's certificate.—The postmaster's certificate shall either be signed in person or, if signed by a designated representative of the postmaster, the postmaster's name should be followed by the handwritten initials or signature of the designated employee. The name of the post office and State shall be entered in the appropriate spaces beneath the signature of the postmaster.

(e) Postmark.—Postmark certificate clearly to show the date on which signed.

(f) Record of, if special delivery.—If the parcel was sent as special-delivery mail, the special-delivery records of the office of address must be carefully searched for possible record of delivery. If delivered, show to whom and the date.

(g) Wrapper to be held.—Obtain and hold the wrapper and packing of any parcel received damaged when there is any question as to the sufficiency of the packing or when the parcel contained either fragile or perishable matter but was not appropriately indorsed. (See art. 57, p. 198, of this Guide.)

(h) Information as to indorsement.—When a claim is for damage to a fragile article or for spoiling of a perishable article, and the statement of the mailing postmaster indicates that the parcel was not indorsed, but it is ascertained that the parcel was actually indorsed, a statement to that effect should be attached to the claim papers for the information of the paying postmaster.

164. Declaration of addressee.—(a) If the claim is for loss, the answers to items Nos. 25, 29, and 30 must be made in such manner as to show clearly that the parcel was not received by the person to whom addressed, and the addressee must not be permitted to complete the claim until at least 10 days after the lapse of time ordinarily required for transmission and delivery of the parcel in question.

(b) Money order issued—No loss sustained.—Declaration of addressee must be obtained.

165. Addressee of an insured or C. O. D. parcel involved in claim on account of loss, rifling, or damage not at office of address.—When the claim for indemnity is for the loss of an insured or C. O. D. parcel, and the addressee can not be located at the office of address and his forwarding address is known, the papers should be transmitted to the postmaster at the known address for the purpose of obtaining the declaration of the addressee and transmission of all papers to the central accounting office of the office of mailing. When the addressee can not be located at the office of address and his present whereabouts are unknown, the claim papers should be forwarded to the postmaster at the office of mailing, with request that sender furnish the present address of the addressee. If the sender can not furnish the present address of the addressee, the postmaster at the mailing office will forward all papers with that information to the postmaster at the central accounting office of the office of mailing. If the addressee's present address is obtained, the claim papers will be transmitted to the postmaster at the address obtained for the necessary statement from the addressee, after which the papers will be sent to the central accounting office of the office of mailing for adjustment. In cases involving rifling of, or damage to, insured or C. O. D. parcels where the addressee's declaration can not be obtained, the sender should be requested to submit any communication received from the addressee reporting the rifling or damage, or any other evidence in his possession substantiating the claim, and the communication or other evidence submitted should be attached to the claim papers and transmitted to the proper paying postmaster for review. (See art. 214, p. 231, art. 236, p. 233 and art. 237, p. 234 of this Guide.

166. Methods of obtaining declaration of addressee.—Postmasters shall exert every effort to secure the declaration of addressee. If addressee fails to call in response to the first notice within five days an additional notice should be sent. If addressee does not respond to such notices, an employee may be designated to call upon addressee, and any allowance for street-car fare thus expended will be granted by the office of the First Assistant Postmaster General. If impracticable for a clerk to call, the carrier serving addressee with mail may be designated to obtain the declaration, provided such action may be taken without unduly delaying carrier in the performance of his regular duties.

167. Declaration of addressee of insured parcel not obtainable.—In claims involving insured mail, when it is impossible to obtain addressee's declaration after proper attempts or where the addressee is deceased, the claim papers should be transmitted to the postmaster at the office of mailing, with a statement showing why declaration can not be procured, requesting that sender furnish evidence of loss, as outlined in article 161, page 223, of this Guide. (Also see arts. 52, 194, and 214, pp. 196, 228, and 231, respectively, of this Guide.)

168. Care.—In a claim for loss of an insured parcel addressed "in care of" a person, firm, apartment house, hotel, club, lodging house, or the like, or even though the parcel may not have actually been addressed "in care of" the declaration of the person or persons who would ordinarily receive the parcel for the addressee, certifying as to whether the parcel was or was not received, should be obtained, in addition to the declaration of the actual addressee.

169. Contents property of addressee—Value to be shown.—When all or a portion of the contents are the property of the addressee, and the sender had repaired or performed work on such articles, the addressee should show the original purchase price, date of purchase, and the amount allowed for depreciation as of the date of mailing.

170. Delivery without collection.—When a claim for indemnity is received involving a C. O. D. parcel which has been delivered without collection of the charges, the postmaster at the office of address shall make every possible effort to collect the charges plus appropriate money-order fee from the addressee, and if successful, should make remittance in the regular manner to the sender. The claim papers in such cases should be transmitted to the postmaster at the central accounting office of the State or section in which the parcel was mailed, with appropriate statement. If collection can not be made from the addressee after proper effort has been made, transmit all papers to the postmaster at the central accounting office of the office of mailing, with a statement of the facts in the case.

171. Addressee claims parcel received and paid for, but no record.—When a claim for indemnity is received involving the nonreceipt of the charges by sender and the records of the office of address fail to show record of the parcel, but the addressee states that the parcel was received and charges paid to delivering postal employee, a statement should be obtained from the addressee to the effect that charges were paid, and all papers should be transmitted to the postmaster at the central accounting office of the office of mailing for adjustment.

172. Shortage in amount of remittance.—When a claim involves a shortage in the amount of remittance received by sender, the postmaster at the office of address shall endeavor to collect the difference from the addressee plus the money-order fee for the amount involved, explaining the reason for the collection. If collected, the amount should be transmitted by a second money order to the sender in the usual manner, with an explanatory statement. If the addressee pays the difference in the C. O. D. charges but refuses to pay the fee for the additional money order, the additional C. O. D. charges collected should be sent by official registered mail to the sender, inclosure of the money being witnessed, with an appropriate statement showing what the amount represents. The claim papers should be transmitted to the postmaster at the central accounting office of the office of mailing showing the action taken. If no amount can be collected from the addressee, the postmaster at the office of address will attach the delivery office portion of the C. O. D. tag to the claim papers and forward them to the postmaster at the central accounting office of the office of mailing for adjustment. (See art. 140, p. 221, and art. 234, p. 233, of this Guide.)

173. Rifling, extent of.—In a rifling case the answers to items 26 and 27 must be made in such manner as to indicate clearly the extent of loss so that the proper amount of indemnity can be determined. For instance, if a parcel contained a shipment of 12 dozen pairs of hose, each of a different kind and price, and arrived at destination short 1 dozen pairs of hose, the statement of the addressee should indicate separately the kind and the price of the missing articles, as "1 dozen pairs hose, stock No. 777, at $12 per dozen, total $12, missing from parcel." If the missing articles were of several kinds and prices, the number of each kind and separate unit price thereof with total value of missing articles should be shown.

174. Damage, extent of.—(a) In damage claims the answers to items 26 and 28 should specify definitely the kind and price of the damaged articles, and the answer to question 26 should also show the condition of the parcel when received.

(b) Repairs to be authorized by claimant.—Repairs to a damaged article should not be authorized by the postmaster unless the claimant has agreed in writing to such procedure. If the claimant wishes, instead of having repairs made, he may be permitted to file a statement showing that he desires to accept the amount of estimated cost of repairs and keep the damaged article, under which circumstances the damaged article may be delivered to him, and his statement should be included with the other papers when they are forwarded to the paying postmaster or to the department for adjustment of the claim.

(c) Extent of damage in doubt.—In case irreparable damage or partial damage is claimed, and doubt exists as to the extent of the damage, the addressee should be required to bring the damaged article to the post office for examination in order that the postmaster may determine whether the claim is justified. If necessary, the postmaster should secure the advice of one or more reliable repair men in order to determine definitely whether the article can or can not be satisfactorily repaired and, when repairable, to obtain the most reasonable estimate and proceed with repairs, if agreeable to claimant.

(d) Repairs, cost of.—If any damaged article is repairable and the sender or addressee has secured a reliable estimate of the cost of repairs, such repairs should be authorized, if reasonable, provided the cost thereof is less than the actual market value at the time of mailing of the article damaged and does not exceed the limit allowable for the fee paid on the parcel. When the repairs are completed, the sender or addressee should obtain a receipted bill from the repair man which should be attached to the claim papers, for forwarding to the paying postmaster or the department as may be appropriate. The same course should be followed where the sender or addressee had repairs made before consulting the postmaster.

(e) Certain articles usually repairable.—Vacuum bottles, casseroles, umbrellas, and other articles consisting of two or more parts are usually repairable and when practicable postmasters should take steps to have repairs made.

175. Salvage values.—Frequently irreparably damaged articles possess considerable salvage value, and postmasters should endeavor to secure reasonable allowances for them from claimants, thereby reducing amounts of claims accordingly, as very often the amounts saved the Postal Service in that manner will far exceed the amounts realized by the dead parcel post branches from the sale of such matter. Care should also be exercised to see that allowances fair to the Postal Service are made by claimants in claims involving partial damage, as it frequently happens that undamaged parts or portions of articles are of more than nominal value. Claims come to the attention of the department where indemnity in full has been paid and articles are sent to dead parcel post branches, where examination shows that comparatively slight damage was sustained. Had postmasters made examination of the articles involved in these claims and brought the matter properly to the attention of the senders or the addressees, the partially damaged articles would doubtless have been accepted and claim filed only for the actual damage sustained. (See art. 200, p. 229.)

176. Partial damage, not repairable at office where article is held.—(a) If the article is repairable but there are no facilities available at the office where held for effecting repairs, and in the best judgment of the postmaster at that office the cost of preparing, transporting the article to the nearest large office for repairs, etc., would be greater than the possible amount saved, the postmaster should ascertain from the sender or addressee the amount which he will allow if permitted to retain the article. Such statement, together with Form 3812 and related papers, should be forwarded to the paying postmaster or the department, as may be appropriate.

(b) If in the best judgment of the postmaster at the office where a partially damaged article is held a material saving to the Postal Service could be effected in such a case, he will ascertain from the payee whether it will be satisfactory to have the article forwarded for estimate of repairs, and whether he desires repairs made and indemnity paid to repairman, or a cash settlement covering the cost of repairs, as ascertained. If agreeable to the payee, the postmaster at the office where the article is held will transmit the damaged article by official registered mail, provided that the insurance or C. O. D. fee was sufficient to cover the full value of the article, after packing and wrapping it most securely to prevent further damage, to the postmaster at the nearest large office where repairs can be made. If a fee sufficient to cover the full value of the article was not paid by the sender, the postmaster at the office where the article is held will advise the sender or addressee that if the article is sent by official registered mail the indemnity will be restricted to the limit fixed by law for the original fee paid and suggest to the sender or addressee that he pay sufficient insurance fee and postage to send the partially damaged article by insured mail and claim indemnity for the insurance fee and postage as a part of the cost of repairs. The fee should be sufficient to cover the value of the article plus the transportation charges. The postmaster to whom sent should be instructed to submit the article to a reliable repairman and ascertain the cost of repairs, and whether the article will thereby be restored to as good a condition as at the time of mailing. If the article can be repaired and restored to as good a condition as at the time of mailing for an amount less than the value of the article, and within the limit for the insurance or C. O. D. fee paid, the postmaster will either have repairs made and bill therefor submitted or merely secure an estimate of the repairs, whichever the claimant desires. If there should be any doubt as to whether the article can be satisfactorily repaired for an amount less than the value of the article and within the limit for the insurance or C. O. D. fee paid, the postmaster at the office where the article is held will send a statement fully descriptive of the article and showing the nature of the damage to the postmaster where the repairman is located and request him to ascertain from the repairman whether, in his opinion, the article can be restored to as good a condition as at the time of mailing for an amount less than the value of the article and within the limit for the insurance or C. O. D. fee paid and to advise him accordingly. If the article is repaired, the postmaster will have the repairman securely pack and send the article by insured mail to the postmaster by whom delivery of the article will be made for delivery to the person designated by the claimant to receive it, the repairman prepaying the postage and fee and including such amounts in his bill of repairs if he so desires. Sufficient insurance fee should be paid to cover the actual value of the repaired articles and not merely to cover the cost of repairs. In this connection postmasters at offices where articles are repaired in accordance with the foregoing instructions will request the person or firm making the repairs to transmit the repaired articles by insured parcel post whenever the size and weight thereof will permit their acceptance. If the article is not repaired, the postmaster will securely pack it (endorsing the parcel "Fragile," etc., if necessary) and forward it, by official registered mail, in accordance with directions of the claimant. The bill or estimate will be transmitted to the paying postmaster or the department, as may be appropriate.

177. Spoiling.—(See art. 58, p. 199, and art. 212, p. 231, of this Guide.)

178. Perishable matter undeliverable, sale of.—(See sec. 808, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, and art. 59, p. 199, of this Guide.)

179. Conflicting claims.—If the addressee names as payee a person or firm other than the one named by the sender in answer to item 12 of Form 3812, the addressee should be required to submit a written statement showing the reasons for his action. (See art. 152, p. 222, of this Guide.)

180. Signature of addressee.—(a) The declaration of addressee must be legibly signed in person by the one whose name appeared on the parcel as the addressee and must agree with the name of the addressee given in the declaration of postmaster, mailing office. If illegible or likely to be misread because of failure, for instance, to distinguish between "n's" and "u's" and "a's" and "o's," etc., the postmaster shall either print or typewrite the correct initials and spelling of the name immediately below the signature.

(b) If the addressee can not write, and executes his declaration by making his mark, a witness must sign on the line provided therefor on the lower left side of page two of Form 3812; and such witness should affix his complete address. The addressee's name should be printed or typewritten.

(c) If the addressee is a business concern, the name of the concern should be entered on the line reserved for signature of addressee, followed by the name of the representative executing the form, as:

"John Doe Merchandise Co.,
by Richard Roe, Treas."

181. Address of addressee.—The address given must be that of the addressee of record. When a representative of a business concern signs an application for indemnity, as above indicated, the address of the concern and not that of the representative, must be entered.

182. Jurat of addressee.—(a) If the addressee's declaration is sworn to before a postmaster or postal employee, the office at which executed and the date of execution (month, day, and year) must be clearly entered in the spaces provided therefor, and the signature of the one administering the oath affixed, his official capacity being stated, as "Postmaster," "Clerk, specially designated by the postmaster," etc. The jurat shall be postmarked, and the date of the postmark shall correspond with the date of the execution of the declaration as shown in the jurat.

(b) If the addressee's declaration is sworn to before a notary, justice of the peace, or other officer authorized to administer oaths, his official seal must be affixed. If he has no seal, a certificate should be obtained from the clerk of a court of record showing that he is authorized to administer oaths. If the claim is for $10 or less, the postmaster's written certification that he knows the official to be so authorized will be accepted. Claimants should be advised that it is unnecessary to execute claims before public officials other than duly authorized postal employees and that a fee is not charged for such service by the post office. (See art. 155, p. 222, of this Guide.)

DESIGNATED PAYING POSTMASTERS

183. Disposition of insurance and C. O. D. claims—whether to be paid by department or postmasters.—(a) Claims for indemnity involving the loss or rifling of, or damage to, insured and C. O. D. parcels mailed on and after July 1, 1937, will be sent to and adjusted by the postmasters at the central accounting offices of the States or sections in which the parcels were mailed, except as otherwise specified herein.

(b) Claims for indemnity involving the loss or rifling of, or damage to, domestic registered collect-on-delivery mail will be adjusted by the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Registered Mails. (See sec. 1383, par. 12, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

(c) As the appropriations from which indemnity is payable covering domestic insured and C. O. D. parcels mailed prior to July 1, 1937, have lapsed and such indemnity claims may not be paid until a deficiency appropriation covering such claims is made by Congress, postmasters at all offices completing claim papers involving insured and C. O. D. parcels mailed during the fiscal year 1937 or prior will forward such claim papers to the postmasters at the appropriate central accounting offices, who will make appropriate record of such claims and will transmit them direct to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Registered Mails, for adjustment. Postmasters who pay indemnity claims chargeable to lapsed appropriations will have such claims eliminated from their accounts.

(d) Claims for indemnity covering insured mail addressed to the Philippine Islands or exchanged with Canal Zone, U. S. naval vessels (except receiving ships permanently located at continental ports), and officers and enlisted men located abroad but served through the United States domestic mails, and for both insured and C. O. D. mail exchanged with the United States Naval Station at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, Guam, Tutuila, Manua, and other islands of the Samoan group, shall be transmitted to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Registered Mails, for adjustment, regardless of the dates of mailing. Postmasters should not adjust claims for indemnity in connection with insured and C. O. D. parcels exchanged with foreign countries. (See art. 14, p. 190, of this Guide.)

184. All central accounting offices are designated as paying offices.—(a) Postmasters at all offices are requested to exercise extreme care to see that completed claims for indemnity involving insured and C. O. D. parcels are transmitted to the postmasters at the appropriate central accounting offices of the States or sections in which the parcels were mailed, or to the department, as the case may be, for adjustment. See article 183 above relative to the lapsing of the appropriations from which indemnity is payable covering domestic insured and C. O. D. parcels mailed during the fiscal year 1937 and prior years and the transmission of such claims for indemnity to the Third Assistant Postmaster General. A list of the central accounting offices and the territory tributary thereto will be found on pages 55 to 58 of this Guide.

(b) Alaska.—Claims involving both insured and C. O. D. parcels mailed at post offices in Alaska shall upon completion be forwarded to the postmaster at Seattle, Wash.

(c) Hawaii.—Claims for indemnity involving parcels mailed at or addressed to post offices in Hawaii upon completion should be sent to the postmaster at Honolulu, if the payee is located in Hawaii; but if the payee is located elsewhere in the United States, the claim papers should be transmitted to the postmaster at San Francisco, Calif.

(d) Puerto Rico.—Claims for indemnity involving parcels mailed at or addressed to post offices in Puerto Rico upon completion should be sent to the postmaster at San Juan, Puerto Rico, if payment is to be made in Puerto Rico. If payment is to be made elsewhere in the United States, claim papers should be sent to the postmaster at New York, N. Y.

(e) Virgin Islands.—Claims for indemnity involving parcels mailed at or addressed to post offices in the Virgin Islands, upon completion, should be sent to the postmaster at San Juan, P. R., if the payees are located in the Virgin Islands or Puerto Rico, but if payment is to be made elsewhere in the United States, the claims for indemnity should be transmitted to the postmaster at New York, N. Y.

(f) Washington, D. C.—Claims for indemnity involving parcels mailed at Washington, D. C., upon completion should be sent to the postmaster at Washington, D. C.

185. Claims to be paid for actual loss.—Claims for indemnity involving loss or rifling of, or damage to, insured or C. O. D. parcels will be paid for the actual amount of loss, rifling, or damage sustained within the limits allowable for the fees paid, and not necessarily for the limits of indemnity prescribed for the fees paid regardless of the value of the articles lost, rifled, or damaged.

186. Discounts.—When a trade discount has been allowed the addressee by sender, such discount should be deducted. Likewise when a time discount has been allowed and payment of indemnity is made before the expiration of the time limit specified in the discount, such time discount should be deducted. When a cash discount has been allowed, the cash discount will not be deducted unless the evidence clearly shows that the sender also allows the Postal Service the amount of such cash discount. (See art. 144, p. 221, of this Guide.)

187. Special discount claims—Care in adjustment of.—(a) Particular care should be taken to see that indemnity in connection with claims filed by firms which have agreed to accept adjustment on a special-discount basis, is paid in accordance with the terms of their agreements and not on the figures representing the selling price. Failure on the part of postmasters to comply with article 109, page 216, of this Guide, should be called to the attention of the postmasters at fault. However, continued failure to observe the article mentioned should be reported to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Registered Mails. (See also art. 137, p. 221, of this Guide.)

(b) Where claims are received showing that firms have agreed to accept adjustment on a special-discount basis and the central accounting office has not received a copy of the agreement signed by the sender or information from the department in connection therewith, the postmasters at the offices where such firms are located should be requested to furnish the desired copies and also to furnish the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Registered Mails, with the original agreements if the originals have not been so sent.

188. Claims to be scrutinized.—Paying postmasters are cautioned to scrutinize carefully each claim Form 3812, to see that all necessary answers to questions are made, and if the descriptions evidencing values and extent of loss, rifling, and damage are clear and complete they will issue check in payment.

189. Excessive payment.—In the event of payment in excess of the amount properly allowable, the amount of excess payment will be disallowed by the General Accounting Office.

190. Six months' limit.—If a claim for indemnity is received and the evidence shows that it was not filed within six months from the date of mailing, and no explanation is submitted showing the cause of delay in filing the claim, the postmaster at the office where the claimant is located should be requested to have the claimant submit a statement showing why the claim was not filed within six months from the date of mailing. If such a claim is returned and no excuses are offered for delay in the filing thereof, it should be disallowed. If any excuse for delay in filing the claim is submitted the claim should be sent to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Registered Mails, for decision. (See arts. 113, 135, 163, and 235, pp. 216, 220, 223, and 233, of this Guide, and sec. 1389, par. 6 (a), of the Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

191. Commercial insurance claims.—(a) "All claims for indemnity involving * * * insured mail, or collect-on-delivery mail, which is also insured with commercial insurance companies or other insuring agencies, shall be adjusted by the Post Office Department on a pro rata basis as a coinsurer with the commercial insurance companies or other insuring agencies." (Act of June 28, 1932, effective July 1, 1932.) (See sec. 1382, par. 2, Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932.)

(b) The above information is promulgated more particularly for the guidance of postmasters at central accounting offices in the adjustment of claims covering domestic insured and C. O. D. mail. Under the law all claims for indemnity covering domestic insured and C. O. D. parcels will be adjusted strictly on a pro rata basis. For instance, if a claim is received on account of the loss of an insured or C. O. D. parcel which contained articles valued at $100 and the parcel was insured for $100 by a commercial insurance company or other insuring agency and by the Post Office Department for $50, a total insurance of $150, the liability of the Post Office Department would be limited to $33.33, one-third of the value of the articles. Claims for rifling of, or damage to, domestic insured and C. O. D. parcels will be adjusted on the same basis.

(c) Some commercial insurance companies claim that their policies limit their liability for loss of mail matter to the value in excess of that covered by postal insurance. Postmasters should submit such claims, furnishing, if practicable, the terms of the insurance policies involved, to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Registered Mails, for decision, as well as any other claims for domestic insured or C. O. D. parcels covered by commercial insurance in which any doubt arises as to the procedure to be followed, the proper amount payable, the proper payee, etc.

192. Protests.—When the paying postmaster receives a protest against the amount allowed in a particular claim which has been paid, the following procedure will be complied with:

(a) If the papers in the claim have not been transmitted to the Bureau of Accounts, Post Office Department, the paying postmaster may consider the protest on its merits in connection with the facts indicated in the papers upon which adjustment was originally made. When payment of an additional amount is justifiable, a second check should be issued for the additional amount. All papers in the claim, including Form 3812 and any supplemental papers, must of course be transmitted to the Bureau of Accounts. If the postmaster is unable to satisfy the claimant as to the correctness of the amount allowed, the claim papers may be submitted to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Registered Mails, together with detailed statements of both claimant and postmaster.

(b) When protest is received in a claim in which the papers have been sent to the Bureau of Accounts the letter of protest should be acknowledged promptly and transmitted to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Registered Mails, with such comment as may be deemed appropriate, and a statement showing the claim number of the paying office, the amount of indemnity originally paid, the name of the payee, the month in which reported to the Bureau of Accounts, and the sheet and column numbers on the schedule of payments. The papers will then be obtained from the General Accounting Office for review, and appropriate instructions will be issued to the paying postmaster by the Third Assistant Postmaster General.

(c) When protest is received in any claim which has been disapproved, the postmaster will transmit the protest, together with all papers in the claim to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Registered Mails, advising the claimant of such action. (See art. 243, p. 234, of this Guide.)

193. Duplication or replacement through postmaster.—When a postmaster is in a position to duplicate or replace at a material saving a lost, rifled, or damaged article; that is, the duplicate article or replacement may be obtained at a lesser cost than would otherwise be paid out in indemnity, such duplication or replacement should be made: Provided, The claimant is willing that the claim be so adjusted: And provided further, The postmaster is certain that the duplicate article or replacement will be entirely satisfactory to the claimant. If and when an article is duplicated or replaced the article should be adequately packed and appropriately indorsed if an indorsement is required and sent by insured mail by the person or firm by whom duplication or replacement is made to the postmaster at the office where the person who is to receive it is located for delivery to that person. The person or firm by whom the article is duplicated or replaced may include the insurance fee and postage in the bill as a part of the cost of duplication or replacement. (See art. 224, p. 232.)

194. Failure of sender to receive return receipt, or payment, insufficient evidence.—The failure of a sender to receive a return receipt requested for an insured parcel, or to receive payment from the addressee for the goods contained in an insured parcel, shall not be considered as evidence of loss of the parcel where it is impossible to obtain the declaration of the addressee. (See art. 161, p. 223, and art. 214, p. 231, of this Guide.)

195. Unordered insured parcels—Indemnity may not be paid therefor.—Indemnity may not be paid for the loss or rifling of or damage to matter offered for sale contained in insured parcels addressed to prospective purchasers who have not ordered same or authorized their sending, which are accepted in the Postal Service contrary to the provisions of section 1386, paragraph 3, of the Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932. Claims for indemnity involving the question as to whether the contents of insured parcels were ordered by or sent in accordance with the authorization of the addressees, shall be transmitted to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Registered Mails, for attention. (See arts. 22, 75, 100, and 196, pp. 192, 204, 215, and 229, respectively, of this Guide.)

196. Unordered C. O. D. parcels—Indemnity may not be paid therefor.—Indemnity may not be paid for the loss or rifling of, or damage to, the contents of C. O. D. parcels which have not been ordered by the addressees or sent in conformity with agreements between senders and addressees. Claims for indemnity involving the question as to whether the contents of C. O. D. shipments were ordered by the addressees or sent in conformity with agreements between senders and addressees, should be sent to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Registered Mails, for attention. (See art. 22, p. 192, art. 75, p. 204, art. 148, p. 222, and art. 195, p. 228, of this Guide.)

197. Claimants to be advised of approval for amounts less than claimed or disapproval.—Particular care should be exercised to see that claims are paid in the proper amounts. In every instance where the claim is not allowed for the amount claimed, or the claim is disallowed, the claimant should be appropriately advised with the reason or reasons for the amount allowed or the rejection of the claim. (See art. 192, p. 228.)

198. Disapproval—Filing of claim papers.—When a claim involving an insured or C. O. D. parcel is disapproved for any reason, all the papers connected with the claim should be carefully filed by the postmaster at the proper paying office for future reference.

199. Notice of payment or disapproval to offices involved not required.—Paying postmasters are not required to notify the postmaster at the office of mailing or the postmaster at the office of address of the payment or disapproval of claims for indemnity. Postmasters at offices of mailing will close their records on receipt of notice from postmasters at offices of address that the claim papers have been sent to the proper paying office, and postmasters at offices of address will close their records when the claim papers are sent to the proper paying office. Postmasters should refrain from asking paying postmasters to furnish the disposition made of claim papers unless inquiry regarding the status of the claim is made by the claimant or other interested party.

200. Disposition of irreparably damaged articles for which indemnity is paid.—(a) When approving a claim for indemnity on account of irreparable damage to an article possessing probable salvage value, for which a claimant is to be paid the full value, the paying postmaster will request the postmaster at the office where the article is held to transmit it for disposition, together with a statement of the facts in the case showing that the article is now the property of the United States, to the postmaster at the office where he ordinarily sends undeliverable fourth-class mail. The registry service should not ordinarily be used to transmit such articles to the appropriate dead parcel post branch. The registry service should be used only in those exceptional cases in which, in the judgment of the postmaster, the safeguards of the registry service should be accorded the damaged articles. Postmasters paying claims of this character will in each instance attach a memorandum to the claim papers when they are sent to the Bureau of Accounts, Post Office Department, showing that the irreparably damaged article has been disposed of as the property of the United States. Provision is made on the reverse side of the latest edition of Form 3812 for statement of paying postmaster as to disposition made of such articles. (See art. 127, p. 219, of this Guide.)

(b) Report has been made that dead parcel post branches frequently receive articles for which claims for indemnity have been filed and paid, which possess no salvage value, such as broken chinaware, glassware, and totally damaged pictures, trays, etc., and that such articles are frequently sent by registered mail. All such articles, which are totally damaged and obviously possess no salvage value, should be disposed of as waste, appropriate record being made of the disposition. Judgment should be exercised in the disposition of irreparably damaged articles for which indemnity is paid in full, and where any doubt arises, the articles should be transmitted to the appropriate dead parcel post branch.

201. Recovery of an insured or C. O. D. parcel for which indemnity has been paid.—The paying postmaster will recover the amount paid and charge himself with such amount in the spaces provided for that purpose on Form 3841–R, "Summary of Payments," sending therewith all correspondence in the case, together with a description of the article. (See art. 126, p. 219.)

202. Three files to be maintained.—Three separate files will be maintained—first, a "sender" file, arranged alphabetically under offices of mailing; second, an "addressee" file, arranged alphabetically under offices of address; and, third, a "follow-up" file. The first two files mentioned will serve as final records and prevent payment of duplicate claims, the one being a check against the other in case a card is misplaced in either. Each action taken or advice received in connection with a claim will be recorded on one of the cards, the "sender" file. When a claim is paid, this card will be indorsed with the amount, name of payee, and date of payment. (See art. 120, p. 218.).

203. Abnormal number of claims.—The sender and addressee file will serve to point out any undue accumulation of claims of loss, rifling, or damage from any particular person, firm, or office. Where any abnormal accumulation is indicated involving loss or rifling, the facts should be reported to the inspector in charge of the division in which the person, firm, or office is located for investigation. The necessity for promptly filing the reports called for in the previous sentence can not be too strongly emphasized. No hard and fast rules can be laid down as to the number of claims that must accumulate on one claimant before he should be reported to the inspector in charge for investigation in order to determine whether the claims are fraudulent. This is a matter that will have to be decided between the various postmasters and their employees engaged in the preparation or payment of indemnity claims. Information reaching the Department indicates that these reports are frequently not made until after claimants have filed and received payment of numerous fraudulent claims, indicating that this feature is not receiving the attention it should. Clerks charged with filing index cards Form 3841–P are the employees who should be particularly cautioned to watch for claimants whose claims appear too numerous, taking into consideration, of course, the number of parcels mailed by them. An abnormal number of damage claims may indicate that the sender is not packing his parcels properly, and the postmaster should take due corrective action. Instances of an undue number of claims based upon damage bearing on a particular post office or route should be made the subject of written report to the superintendent of the proper division of Railway Mail Service for investigation and preventive measures. Such reports should include details as to the number of parcels damaged, origin, dates of mailing, nature of contents, method of packing, and character and extent of damage to each. Special report will not be made of cases other than those which appear to be out of the ordinary as distinguished from minor instances of damage liable to occur in the mails. Payments will be made in the usual manner without delay. When reporting the filing of an apparently abnormal number of claims for indemnity involving the loss or rifling of, or damage to, insured or C. O. D. parcels mailed by a particular individual or firm, the total number of parcels mailed by such individual or firm during a given period should be ascertained, if practicable, and indicated in the report. Copies of postmasters' reports of the character mentioned in this article made to inspectors in charge and superintendents of the various divisions of the Railway Mail Service shall be furnished the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Registered Mails.

204. Financial losses—made-to-order and seasonable goods.—Financial losses resulting to claimants in consequence of the nondelivery, wrong delivery, or delay in dispatch, transmission, delivery, or return of, or damage to, an article, as distinguished from cases where the contents of a parcel have been totally or partly lost or damaged, are consequential in their nature and claims therefor are not allowable. However, there are some articles, such as made-to-order garments, seasonable goods, eyeglasses made from an oculist's prescription, keys made for special purposes, etc., that may actually depreciate in value if unduly delayed. Postmasters at designated paying offices will transmit all claims for indemnity of this character to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Registered Mails, for attention.

205. Claims for indemnity involving live day-old chicks.—Indemnity is payable on account of the outright loss of the whole or part of the contents of insured or C. O. D. shipments of live day-old chicks or in case of death when the evidence shows that death is attributable to the fault of the Postal Service. However, a deduction may be made from the amount otherwise payable to cover what the department may consider a reasonable death rate. The department has considered 5 per cent to be a reasonable deduction, the deduction to be made from the contents of the parcel at the time of mailing. For example, if claim is instituted on account of the loss of an insured or C. O. D. parcel which contained 100 baby chicks at the time of mailing, a deduction of 5 per cent should be made and indemnity paid for the value of only 95 chicks. Claims for indemnity on account of the death of live day-old chicks sent as insured or C. O. D. mail should be referred to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Registered Mails, for attention. It sometimes happens that day-old chicks die in transit and the bodies are removed by postal employees, notation to that effect being made on the parcel. In every claim involving alleged rifling of such shipments, postmasters at paying offices will ascertain whether or not the parcel bore evidence showing that the bodies of dead chicks were removed by postal employees, and if such is the case the claim papers should be referred to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Registered Mails, for attention. (See sec. 1389, par. 7, of the Postal Laws and Regulations, 1932, and art. 11, p. 190, and art. 118, p. 217.)

206. Eggs for hatching.—When eggs for hatching are properly packed and indorsed as prescribed by section 591, paragraph 4, of the Postal Laws and Regulations, indemnity is payable on account of the loss, rifling, or breakage thereof. When claims are made in connection with eggs for hatching received in a cracked or smeared condition, or on account of failure of eggs to hatch as the result of alleged mistreatment in the Postal Service, the claim papers shall, upon completion, be transmitted to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Registered Mails, for appropriate attention.

207. "Care," insured parcel received by.—When the person, firm, or institution in whose care a supposedly lost insured parcel was addressed, or a person to whom the addressee's mail was customarily delivered, acknowledges receipt of the parcel, the claim will ordinarily be disapproved and the claimant advised that the matter is not one for adjustment by the Post Office Department. In case of doubt as to whether an insured parcel addressed in care of another was correctly delivered, the claim papers should be sent to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Registered Mails, for attention. (See art. 167, p. 224.)

208. Nursery stock.—Claims for indemnity involving C. O. D. parcels containing nursery stock mailed in accordance with article 92, page 211, which cover outright loss, rifling, or physical damage (not due to deterioration) should be adjusted by paying postmasters in the regular manner. Other claims for indemnity arising in connection with such C. O. D. parcels, upon completion, shall be transmitted by the appropriate paying postmasters to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Registered Mails, for adjustment.

209. Improperly packed or not indorsed.—(a) Except as provided in paragraph (c) following, claims may not be approved in connection with parcels which contained eggs, or fragile and easily breakable articles damaged in transit, or parcels which contained perishable articles spoiled before delivery, not stamped or indorsed "Fragile," "Eggs," or "Perishable," when the sender, after proper inquiry by the accepting postal employee, failed to disclose the true contents or made misleading general statements indicating that the contents of the parcels were not fragile or perishable. (See art. 158, p. 223.)

(b) Failure of shippers who have received instructions to properly pack or appropriately indorse parcels—claims to be denied.—Indemnity should not be paid for parcels containing articles received in damaged condition, which were mailed by firms or other patrons customarily mailing a quantity of parcels, where such parties failed to affix the proper indorsement, or properly pack the parcel for mailing, after they had been furnished Circular III, instructions entitled "Preparation, Wrapping and Packing of Mail Matter" issued by the Second Assistant Postmaster General, and appearing on pages 15 to 17, May, 1935, Supplement, or other specific instructions, where it is apparent that the failure to comply with the instructions mentioned was the cause, or probable cause, of the damage sustained. (See arts. 23 to 30, pp. 192 to 194, and art. 128, p. 219.)

(c) Failure to indorse not direct cause of damage or spoiling.—If a paying postmaster is satisfied in any case that the failure to indorse a parcel was not the direct or immediate cause of its damage or spoiling, he should make such investigation as will determine definitely the merits of the claim and if justifiable may pay.

(d) Reports to be made to department of certain paid claims involving damage and spoiling.—Postmasters at paying offices will report to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Registered Mails, all claims paid by them on account of damage to insured or C. O. D. mail when such damage was caused, or probably caused, by failure of the accepting clerk to see that a parcel was correctly packed, wrapped, addressed, or indorsed to show fragile or perishable nature of contents, instead of bringing such cases to the attention of their respective inspectors in charge. Such reports shall be made on Form 3846–b. The name of the office (including State) making the report (3846–b) must be shown in every instance.

210. Claims for loss of liquid inclosed in unsecured friction-top cans and for damage to other matter inclosed with liquid.—(a) Claims for indemnity on account of the loss of liquid inclosed in unsecured friction-top cans and for damage to other matter inclosed with liquid will not be paid unless it is established to the satisfaction of the Third Assistant Postmaster General that such loss or damage was due to the fault of the Postal Service. (See art. 106, p. 30.)

(b) All such claims should be transmitted to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Registered Mails, for attention.

(c) The same procedure will be followed in connection with similar claims involving powders, pastes, salves, etc.

211. Misrepresentation regarding packing or contents at time of acceptance.—Claims for indemnity involving damage should not be paid where the packing was inadequate and the sender deliberately or otherwise misrepresented the description of the packing or the contents. (See art. 158, p. 223.)

212. Spoiling.—Perishable parcels meeting all requirements of the regulations as to indorsement and packing, the contents of which are found to be spoiled upon delivery, are indemnifiable if they spoiled as a result of not less than 24 hours' delay beyond the time ordinarily required for transmission to the addressee due to the fault of the Postal Service. Claims for indemnity involving deterioration or spoiling of special-delivery or special-handling parcels as a result of less than 24 hours' delay beyond the time ordinarily required for transmission and delivery should be sent to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Registered Mails. (See art. 57, p. 198.)

213. Freezing, melting, etc.—Indemnity is not ordinarily paid on account of the freezing or melting of the contents of insured or C. O. D. mail, nor for any spoiling or deterioration directly due to the degrees of temperature to which such matter may have been subjected while in the custody of the Postal Service. However, any claims for indemnity of this character in which the evidence indicates that the spoiling or deterioration was due to the fault of the Postal Service should be referred to the Third Assistant Postmaster General (Division of Registered Mails), for attention.

214. Addressee's declaration not obtained in insurance claims.—Ordinarily postmasters are not authorized to pay indemnity claims on account of the alleged loss, or rifling of, or damage to insured parcels, when the declaration of the addressee has not been obtained. However, if the evidence in a claim shows that proper efforts have been made to obtain the declaration of addressee but without result, the postmaster at the designated paying office may accept as equivalent evidence of loss, rifling, or damage a communication from the addressee reporting the loss, rifling, or damage, but when loss is involved the communication must be dated a reasonable time after the parcel should have been delivered in the ordinary course of mails. If such equivalent evidence can not be promptly submitted, the Form 3812 and related papers should be transmitted to the Third Assistant Postmaster General (Division of Registered Mails) for attention. (See arts. 52, 161, 166, and 194, pp. 196, 223, 224, and 228, respectively, of this Guide.)

215. Damage before dispatch.—The proper adjusting office is authorized to adjust claims resulting from damage to insured and C. O. D. parcels which become so damaged before dispatch as to require withdrawal from the mails and restoration to the sender, without reference of the claim papers to the postmaster at the office of address.

216. Homemade article.—(See art. 141, p. 221, of this Guide.)

217. Perishable matter, undeliverable, sale of.—(See art. 59, p. 199, and art. 68, p. 201.)

218. Evidence to be complete.—The evidence of value and extent of loss, rifling, or damage is of the utmost importance. Before approving claims, paying postmasters must assure themselves by careful scrutiny of all papers that the evidence meets the requirements of these instructions, the Postal Laws and Regulations, and Postal Guides, whether the amounts claimed are just and reasonable, and the fees paid cover such values. When doubt exists as to the correctness of amounts claimed, the postmaster should call upon one or more reliable dealers for counsel. (See art. 220 following.)

219. Watches.—In consideration of claims involving watches, particularly used watches, and the determination of the amount of indemnity to be paid, the paying postmaster will, when necessary, consult reliable jewelers and be guided by the information obtained. (See art. 193, p. 228.) If and when it is considered advisable the papers covering such claims should be sent to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Registered Mails, for attention.

220. Values, precedent file of.—Postmasters should obtain, whenever practicable, catalogues, booklets, etc., which show price lists of standard articles, such as watches, jewelry, furs, firearms, machine parts, automobile accessories, etc. Information obtained from time to time from local dealers should also be recorded. Such information will serve as a guide in enabling paying offices to determine whether the values claimed are reasonable, and frequently will permit adjustment of claims without the necessity of returning the claim papers to other offices involved for additional information substantiating the values claimed. (See art. 160, p. 223, of this Guide.)

221. Depreciation and repairs.—Deductions from the market values at the time of mailing will be made:

(a) For the estimated cost of any repairs that an article needed at the time it was mailed.

(b) For the amount of depreciation from market value at the time of mailing in the case of an article which had depreciated in value on account of use or wear previous to being mailed.

(c) For both needed repairs and depreciation on account of use and wear when a used article needed repairing and had depreciated on account of use and wear previous to being mailed.

222. Claims for postage and sales tax, when allowable.—(a) Postage.—Claims for indemnity for postage paid on lost parcels, or on parcels the contents of which were totally damaged or entirely missing, will be allowed, in addition to the proved claimed value of the article or articles: Provided, That the combined amount does not exceed the total amount payable for the fee paid on the parcel at the time of mailing. Indemnity will not be paid for postage if not claimed. If the amount claimed for postage exceeds that stated in the declaration of the mailing office, claim for postage should be allowed in the amount stated in the declaration of the mailing office. Claim for special-delivery fee, the special-handling charge, or the fee paid for a return receipt may also be allowed in cases of outright loss (disappearance of the parcels). The insurance or C. O. D. fees must not be included. (See art. 142, p. 221, of this Guide.)

(b) Sales tax—In connection with claims for indemnity involving insured and C. O. D. parcels.—Claims for indemnity for sales tax on merchandise contained in lost insured parcels should be allowed within the limit of indemnity payable for the insurance fee received at the time of mailing, but should not be allowed in adjusting claims for indemnity on account of the loss of C. O. D. parcels. In procuring evidence in indemnity claims involving insured and C. O. D. parcels, postmasters should inform claimants of this ruling in order that claims may be simplified by having the sales tax on lost C. O. D. parcels eliminated by them from the amounts claimed. When sales tax is claimed on missing or damaged articles sent as insured or C. O. D. mail or there is doubt as to the amount allowable in any claim involving sales tax, the Form 3812 and related papers should be transmitted to the Third Assistant Postmaster General (Division of Registered Mails) for attention. Claimants should be further advised that they may take up with the proper State official the matter of recovering the State sales taxes paid by them on the contents of C. O. D. parcels.

223. Money-order fee—its relation to value in certain cases.—Where senders deduct from the usual sale price of an article sent C. O. D. an amount equivalent to the money-order fee involved so that the addressee will not have to pay an amount in excess of the sale price of the goods involved at the office of mailing, the sale price to the particular addressee will be considered as the actual value. Money-order fees paid incident to remitting on C. O. D. parcels are paid for the issuance of the money order and, therefore, are no part of the market value of the merchandise involved. See article appearing on page 12 of the January, 1925, Postal Guide under the heading "Money-order fees on delivered C. O. D. mail." (See art. 142, p. 221.)

224. Transportation charges on articles duplicated or repaired.—(a) Where an insured or C. O. D. parcel is received with a part of the articles therein irreparably damaged or rifled, or partial damage has been sustained, the actual and necessary transportation charges involved in making a duplicate shipment of the irreparably damaged or rifled article or articles or in transporting the partially damaged article or articles to be repaired and after repairs have been made may be allowed; provided that the total amount allowed does not exceed that covered by the fee paid. The amount of insurance fee or fees involved in transporting partially damaged articles for repairs and after repairs have been made, when claimed, may be allowed as a part of the cost of repairs, and, when claimed, such item or items should be listed separately and included in the bill for repairs. The amount of insurance fee involved in duplicating irreparably damaged or rifled articles is not allowable, except where a special discount has been made from the selling price to addressee and the total amount claimed does not exceed that which would otherwise be payable. (See art. 159, p. 223.)

(b) If the article is so constructed that it becomes necessary to return it to the sender, or to send it to some other person or firm for the purpose of having it restored to good condition, the charges for transporting the article for that purpose and after necessary repairs have been made, including the insurance fee or fees, may be allowed as a part of the indemnity, when claimed.

(c) If the lost or damaged article or articles contained in the parcel were a part of a set, and replacement is made in order to restore the set to as good a condition as at the time of mailing, claim for both the postage and insurance fee paid on the article or articles replaced may be allowed.

(d) If an article is replaced by a person or firm other than the sender at a saving to the Department, claim for both postage and insurance fee may be allowed.

225. Fraudulent claims.—Postmasters at designated paying offices will transmit claims involving insured and C. O. D. mail thought to be of false or fraudulent nature, together with all papers and a full statement of the facts, without action, to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Registered Mails.

226. Duplicate payments.—Postmasters who make duplicate payments on which recovery can not be made must necessarily be held responsible and the amounts will be charged back in their postal account.

227. Payment to be expedited.—The purpose of these instructions is to expedite the payment of indemnity claims. Paying postmasters, therefore, should not delay payments by returning claim papers to other offices on account of trivial omissions which do not affect the validity of the claims. In such cases payment should be made and proper notice of the omission sent to the postmaster at fault.

228. Agent's commission.—The amount of agent's commission, as distinguished from the amount of deposit by the addressee on the contents of the parcel, included as a part of the charges on the C. O. D. parcel, usually involved in shipments by mail-order companies (tailoring companies and the like) is not allowable. (See art. 229, below.)

229. Deposit by addressee on contents of parcel.—(a) When a deposit has been made in advance by the addressee with the sender on the contents of a parcel, and the declaration of addressee has been obtained, the amount of such deposit should not be deducted. However, in claims for indemnity of this kind, where the addressee can not be located, and the sender has not made adjustment with the addressee for the amount of deposit, either by refunding the amount or making a duplicate shipment, the amount of deposit should be deducted. Claims of this character should not be paid until it has been definitely ascertained from the senders through the mailing postmasters that adjustment has not been made with the addressees for the amount of deposit paid.

(b) When a deposit has been made by the addressee with an agent of the sender, which amount is not transmitted to the sender but accrues to the agent of the sender as his commission for obtaining the order, the amount of such deposit should not be allowed to sender. In instances of this kind, when the original shipment is lost and a duplicate shipment is not made, and the addressee claims the amount of his deposit, such claims should be adjusted by allowing the addressee the amount of his deposit and the sender the difference between the selling price to addressee and the amount of deposit paid by the addressee to, and retained by, the sender's agent. Before paying claims of this kind, however, effort should be made to have the addressees accept duplicate shipments in which event, of course, the amount of addressee's deposit should not be allowed to either the sender or addressee. (See art. 139, p. 221, and art. 236, p. 233.)

(c) When a deposit has been made by the addressee direct to the sender and the original shipment is lost, and a duplicate shipment is not made, and the addressee claims the amount of his deposit which has not been refunded, such claim should be adjusted by allowing the addressee the amount of his deposit, and the sender the difference between the total amount of indemnity allowable and the amount of deposit paid by the addressee.

230. Articles repaired by senders.—When the contents of a parcel are the property of the addressee and had been repaired, cleaned, or laundered, etc., by the senders, care must be exercised not to allow indemnity in excess of the actual value of the contents of the parcel at the time of mailing. Indemnity is not payable for the value of the contents plus the cost of the services performed by senders, unless by reason of such services the contents were actually enhanced in value. Claims of this kind must show whether the sender is claiming indemnity only for the cost of his services, the difference between such amount and the actual value of the contents to be paid to the addressee, or whether the sender is claiming the full amount allowable, settlement having been made by him with the addressee. For example, the contents of the parcel consisted of a gold watch, which had been repaired by sender at a cost of $7.50. The value of the watch in repaired condition when mailed was $35. In the event of loss, indemnity would be payable in the sum of $35; and if the sender was claiming only the amount of his repair work, the addressee would be entitled to $27.50, representing the value of the watch when originally mailed by him to the sender for repairs. (See art. 149, p. 222.)

231. Value, not C. O. D. charges, payable in claims involving loss, rifling, or damage.—Frequently the amount of C. O. D. charges called for on a parcel is greater or less than the actual value of the contents. In case of the loss or rifling of, or damage to, such shipments, the senders are entitled to the actual value of the contents of the lost article or of such portion as was rifled or damaged within the limit fixed for the fee paid, instead of the amount of the C. O. D. charges.

232. Money order issued, no loss sustained.—When the claim papers show that a money order was issued for the correct amount in payment of the charges on a C. O. D. parcel and no loss was sustained, the sender should be advised of the particulars of the money order, the case closed, and the papers filed. (See art. 163 (c), p. 224, of this Guide.)

233. Money order lost.—When the claim papers indicate that the money order has not been received by the sender, the postmaster at the office where the parcel was mailed should be requested to execute an application for a duplicate money order on the regular form provided for that purpose. (See art. 105, p. 215, of this Guide.)

234. Shortage in remittance.—When a claim for indemnity involves failure of sender to receive full amount of charges, and the postmaster at the office of address collected and remitted the amount of charges shown, the sender having entered a wrong amount on the C. O. D. tag, the claim should be disapproved and the sender so advised. If the postmaster at the office of address collected the proper amount of charges as called for on the parcel, but through error entered an erroneous amount on the money order, the matter should be referred to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Money Orders, for adjustment. (See art. 171, p. 225, of this Guide, and sec. 1387, Postal Laws and Regulations.)

235. Delivery without collection.—When a claim involves a C. O. D. parcel which has been delivered without collection of the charges, and the postmaster at the office of address is unable to make collection from the addressee, or the parcel was delivered and the addressee states the charges were paid to the delivering postal employee but the postmaster at office of address has no record of payment, the claim should be approved for the amount of C. O. D charges, regardless of the value. In such cases a memorandum should be attached to the claim papers when sent to the Bureau of Accounts, Post Office Department, either at the end of the month or the end of the quarter (see article following), that after audit of the claim the claim papers be referred to the Chief Inspector of the department for investigation. Provision has been made on the reverse side of the later editions of Form 3812 for requesting that the claim papers be referred to the Chief Inspector after audit in cases of this kind. Claims for indemnity of this character should be paid, whether or not they are instituted within six months from the dates of mailing of the parcels. (See art. 190, p. 228, of this Guide.)

236. Failure to obtain declaration of addressee in loss claims involving C. O. D. parcels.—When the "Declaration of addressee" has not been executed in a claim for a lost C. O. D. parcel, and the postmaster at the office of address has no record of its receipt and has reported he can not locate the addressee and the addressee's present address is unknown, and the sender is unable to furnish his present address, the claim for indemnity should be treated as one involving loss and approved for the value of the contents, plus postage if claimed, and a memorandum attached to the claim papers when sent to the Bureau of Accounts, Post Office Department, to the effect that the "Declaration of addressee" is waived in accordance with section 275, Postal Laws and Regulations, citing this article number of this Guide as authority therefor. Provision has been made on the reverse side of the later editions of Form 3812 for the waiving of the "Declaration of addressee" in such cases. (See art. 161, p. 223, and art. 229, p. 232 of this Guide.)

237. Failure to obtain declaration of addressee in rifling and damage claims involving C. O. D. parcels.—When the declaration of addressee can not be obtained in a claim involving alleged rifling of, or damage to, the contents of a C. O. D. parcel, and the sender submits a communication from the addressee showing the amount of rifling or damage sustained, such evidence may be accepted and the claim approved, a memorandum attached to the claim papers when submitted to the Bureau of Accounts, Post Office Department, waiving the "Declaration of addressee," as outlined in article 236, p. 233. (See also art. 172, p. 225, of this Guide.)

238. Wrong delivery of insured or C. O. D. mail.—When claims for indemnity are received indicating that the related insured or C. O. D. parcels had been delivered in violation of existing postal requirements, the claim papers should be transmitted to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Registered Mails, for appropriate attention.

239. Method of payment.—Payment of insurance and C. O. D. indemnity claims will be made by means of checks drawn on the Treasurer of the United States. As no provision has been made on such checks for the insertion of the particulars of the insured or C. O. D. parcels involved, it will be necessary in certain cases to transmit with the checks identification slips, Form 3841–T, showing the names and addresses of addressees or names and addresses of senders, as the case may be, in order to enable the payees properly to credit the amounts. Form 3841–T need only be used in those cases where claimants have filed a number of claims and have not assigned claim numbers thereto. Where claimants have assigned numbers to their indemnity claims, no identification slips are necessary but such claim numbers should be entered in the lower left corner of the checks in the space provided for that purpose. It is not considered necessary to send identification slips in those cases where claimants have but one claim for indemnity pending.

240. Credit, method of claiming.—Paying postmasters will take credit for disbursements on account of indemnity in their postal account. Form 3812 and all other papers in the claim must accompany the account to the Bureau of Accounts, Post Office Department, in support of the disbursements indicated. Special detailed instructions on this subject have been issued by the Third Assistant Postmaster General to each postmaster authorized to pay indemnity claims. See article 242, below, relative to the requirement that central-accounting offices forward monthly all paid claims to the Bureau of Accounts, Post Office Department.

241. Undeliverable and outstanding checks, procedure.—When a check drawn on the Treasurer of the United States is returned to a disbursing postmaster because it is undeliverable, every effort should be made to locate the payee by inquiry of the postmasters at the offices of mailing and address of the article covered by the claim for which the check was issued. If delivery can not be effected within three full months after the last day of the month of issue, the check should be transmitted to the General Accounting Office, Claims Division, Liabilities Section, for safe-keeping. Treasury checks returned for the reason that no payment is due, error in amount or name of payee, etc., during the month in which drawn and before sending to the Bureau of Accounts, Post Office Department the "Monthly statement of depository checking account," Form 1855, and the "Abstract of payments," Form 3841–S, should be marked "Void," no credit being taken therefor, if returned to the postmaster in any succeeding month and after Forms 1855 and 3841–S have been sent to the Bureau of Accounts, Post Office Department, the check should be marked "Canceled," listed on Form 1855 under the head of "Canceled checks," and entered on Form 3841–R in the "Schedule of refundments." Void, canceled, and spoiled checks should be forwarded to the Bureau of Accounts, Post Office Department, with the "Monthly statement of depository checking account," Form 1855.

242. Monthly reports to the Bureau of Accounts, Post Office Department.—On the first day of each month postmasters at central-accounting offices will forward all papers in claims paid by them to the Bureau of Accounts, Post Office Department, accompanied by a "Schedule of payments." Each claim paid shall be made the subject of a separate entry in the schedule of payments, and the entries shall be made in numerical sequence according to the claim numbers of the paying offices by fiscal years to permit correct charges against proper appropriations. The date of mailing of each parcel will determine the fiscal year in which payment must be listed. To illustrate, claims involving insured parcels mailed during the fiscal year 1938 (July 1, 1937, to June 30, 1938), will be entered separately under the heading "Indemnities, domestic mail, 1938, insured," and claims involving C. O. D. parcels mailed during the fiscal year 1938 will be entered separately from the insured claims under the heading "Indemnities, domestic mail, 1938, C. O. D." These schedules of payments shall be listed in "The schedule of vouchers" on the quarterly postal account, giving the name of the month and the total amount of indemnity paid each month. These schedules shall be forwarded promptly at the close of each month. The schedule for the last month of the quarter should not be held to be forwarded with the other papers pertaining to the quarterly account.

243. Monthly reports to Third Assistant Postmaster General.—The postmaster at each central-accounting office, at the close of each month, will forward a report on Form 3848–T (which is furnished without requisition) to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Registered Mails, furnishing certain information concerning the receipt and disposition of claims for indemnity for insured and C. O. D. articles called for on the form.

244. When in doubt, ask department.—When in reasonable doubt as to the procedure to be followed in connection with the treatment of either insurance or C. O. D. claims, the matter should be submitted, together with all evidence, to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Registered Mails, for instructions. (See art. 192, p. 228, of this Guide.)

SENDERS RECEIPTS OR CERTIFICATES OF MAILING FOR DOMESTIC ORDINARY MAIL OF ANY CLASS AND ADDITIONAL RECEIPTS OR CERTIFICATES OF MAILING FOR DOMESTIC ORDINARY, REGISTERED, INSURED, AND COLLECT-ON-DELIVERY MAIL

1. (a) Upon request and the payment of 1 cent for each receipt or certificate of mailing furnished for each piece of mail described the postmaster at the office of mailing shall furnish a receipt or certificate of mailing to the sender of domestic ordinary mail of any class.

(b) Upon request, the postmaster at the office of mailing shall furnish to the sender of any domestic ordinary, registered, insured, or collect-on-delivery mail, as many additional receipts or certificates of mailing for the same article as may be desired, upon payment of 1 cent for each additional receipt or certificate furnished for each piece of mail described. No charge other than the prescribed registration, insurance, or collect-on-delivery fees shall be made for the original receipts issued for domestic registered, insured, or collect-on-delivery mail.

(c) Uncanceled postage stamps to cover the charge for certificates of mailing shall be affixed to the certificates and legibly canceled by the postmark to show the date of mailing.

2. The original receipts issued for domestic registered, insured, and collect-on-delivery mail establish the registration, insurance, or the acceptance of mail to be sent collect-on-delivery and the regular registry, insurance and collect-on-delivery fees collected also provide for indemnity in case of loss or rifling of, or damage to, such mail. The additional charge of 1 cent for each additional receipt issued as a certificate of mailing only, covering registered, insured, and collect-on-delivery mail, is the same as is charged for each certificate of mailing covering domestic ordinary mail of any class.

3. The following illustrations are cited to show the proper charges to be collected for receipts issued as certificates of mailing for domestic ordinary, registered, insured, and collect-on-delivery articles:

(a) If a sender presents 10 ordinary articles with request for two certificates of mailing for each article and the articles are listed on firm mailing sheets, 10 cents should be charged for the 10 entries on the original firm mailing sheet and 10 cents for the 10 entries on the duplicate sheet.

(b) If a sender presents 10 articles for registration, insurance, or to be sent collect-on-delivery and requests one additional receipt as a certificate of mailing for each article and the articles are listed on firm mailing sheets, the charge for the original receipt is included in the prescribed registration, insurance, or collect-on-delivery fees but in addition thereto 10 cents should be charged for the 10 entries on the duplicate sheet. If the sender requests two additional certificates of mailing for each of the articles listed, the charge would be 20 cents for the 20 entries.

4. The forms to be used in issuing certificates of mailing are (a) Form 3817 when only an average of less than 3 pieces of mail of any kind are involved and the senders do not already use firm mailing books; and (b) firm mailing books, Forms 3882-A (5 entries), 3877-A (15 entries), and 3881-A (30 entries) when senders use firm mailing books. When such books are already in use by the sender, they may be used in issuing certificates of mailing even though less than three articles may be involved at one time.

5. When senders request certificates of mailing with sufficient frequency for an average of three or more pieces of mail at one time they may be furnished firm mailing books for the purpose.

6. Certificates of mailing whether issued on Form 3817 or firm mailing sheets are to be filled out by the senders and presented with the mail at the post office. Accepting postal employees must check the address particulars (names and addresses of senders and addressees) on the articles and the receipts to see that such particulars correspond.

7. When firm mailing books are used in issuing certificates of mailing covering any kind of domestic mail (ordinary, registered, insured, or collect-on-delivery) and one or more additional certificates of mailing for each article listed at the same mailing is requested, as many copies of the firm mailing sheets as may be necessary to accomplish this purpose at one writing should be used, but when additional receipts or certificates of mailing are desired for less than the total number of articles listed on the firm mailing sheets a separate firm mailing sheet should be used for those articles which are less in number than the total entered on the original receipts. To illustrate: If a firm mailing sheet contains 10 entries representing 10 articles and additional receipts are desired for the entire 10 entries, additional copies of the firm mailing sheet containing the original write-up may be made by the senders with one writing to meet the demand; but if a firm mailing sheet contains 10 entries representing 10 articles and additional certificates of mailing are desired for less than the entire number a separate firm mailing sheet should be used for the lesser number of articles.

8. The only entries necessary to be made on Form 3817 or on firm mailing sheets issued as certificates of mailing for ordinary, registered, insured, or collect-on-delivery mail are the name of sender, the name and address of the addressee, and the number of the article if registered, insured, or sent collect on delivery. Of course, when certificates of mailing are requested for all of the entries on firm mailing sheets covering registered, insured, and collect-on-delivery mail being written at one time all of the receipts or certificates should cover what is required on the original receipt covering the registration, insurance, or acceptance of the collect-on-delivery matter for mailing.

9. Uncanceled postage stamps to cover the charge for the certificates of mailing shall be affixed to the certificates and canceled by the postmark of the mailing office. Signatures or initials of accepting employees are not required on Form 3817, nor on firm mailing sheets when used only for certificates of mailing, the postmark affixed to the forms showing the genuineness of the certificates, but this does not prohibit the appearance of signatures on additional receipts issued as certificates of mailing in connection with domestic registered, insured or C. O. D. mail, when the original receipts and additional copies are signed by carbon process at the same time.

10. When certificates of mailing are desired by patrons residing on rural routes the articles should be delivered to the rural carrier, payment being made at that time at the rate of 1 cent for each article for which a receipt is desired, in addition to the postage. The carrier will obtain receipts at the post office to which he is attached, affix stamps, cancel them by postmark, and deliver the receipts to the senders on his next trip.

11. Postmasters shall keep such records as will enable them to report promptly at the close of each fiscal year, the number of receipts or certificates of mailing requested for domestic ordinary mail of any class and the number of additional receipts or certificates of mailing requested for domestic ordinary, registered, insured, and collect-on-delivery mail. (For other information in regard to furnishing statistics see art. 75, p. 181 of this Guide.)

12. The usual record of original acceptance of registered, insured, and collect-on-delivery mail at offices of mailing shall continue to be kept but no additional copies of the firm mailing sheets or Form 3817 are to be made for the sole purpose of keeping an office record of certificates of mailing or of any additional certificates of mailing issued for ordinary, registered, insured, or collect-on-delivery mail.

13. The record of the number of certificates of mailing issued for ordinary, registered, insured, and C. O. D. mail may be kept on some convenient form improvised for the purpose, such as the registry dispatch book Form 3851 or sheet record of registered matter received for delivery, Form 3867, the most economical form being used for the purpose. If loose sheets are used as an improvised record, the sheets should be consecutively numbered so that all of them will be accounted for.

STATE LIST

POST OFFICES, BRANCH POST OFFICES, AND STATIONS

JUNE 1, 1939

(For subsequent changes see Monthly Supplements.)

* Do not issue money orders.
† International money order offices.
° Postal savings depositories.
§ Summer offices.
‖ Winter offices.
x Classified station or branch.

The office numbers preceding the names of post offices must be used in all correspondence with the General Accounting Office and the Post Office Department, and on all vouchers, statements, and accounts.

The unit numbers, used in parcel-post business, follow the names of the counties. A branch office or a station is in the same unit as the main office. The space following the unit number is provided for the insertion of the zone number.

Postal savings deposits are received only at the post offices, branches, and stations that are authorized to transact postal-savings business. Withdrawals must be made at the post office, branch, or station at which the depositor maintains his account.

All branches and stations, except those indicated, issue and pay money orders, register letters and parcels, and sell postal supplies. Lettered and named stations, in addition, receive, deliver, and dispatch mail matter.

Money order service is available at all post offices except those in Alaska indicated by an asterisk and at all branches and stations except those indicated by an asterisk.

Money orders shall be drawn on the main post office or branch office, but not on stations thereof.

Independent stations, indicated thus (Ind.), receive and dispatch registered mail in the same manner as post offices, and are the only stations to which postmasters address registered package jackets.

ALASKA

(Do not abbreviate)

(8th Zone rate applies to all offices)

The figure 1, 2, 3, or 4, after name of office, indicates the Judicial Division in which the office is located; the numbers following indicate parallel and meridian, respectively, leading to the approximate location of office.

R indicates mail restricted during winter months.

 indicates non-money-order office.

See "Alaska" in Index.
